It is a source of gratitude to be able to chronicle the fact that this source has been found, and that by a rare combination of peptonized beef, hops and malt and called Hopionic, the vital forces of life can not only be sustained but restored. The importance of this discovery can not be too greatly emphasized and the effects its introduction is having upon the community is most gratifying in the extreme. If men and women take in energy and ambition in the future they do so with the realization that it might be avoided.

The tonic and alterative properties of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are too well known to require the specious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of the marvelous cures effected by this preparation are to-day living in every city and hamlet of the land.

Seventeen bushels of wheat is the product from one grain of seed in three years on a Dakota farm.

It is worth remembering that nobody enjoys the nicest surroundings if in bad health. There are miserable [illegible] the grave, to whom a bottle of Parker's Tonic would do more good than all the doctors and medicines they have ever used.

In Portugal elections are held on Sunday in the churches and the ballot-box stands between two saints.

You are not old, yet your hair is getting thin. Your friends remark it, your wife regrets it. Parker's Hair Balsam will stop this waste, save your hair and restore the original gloss and color. Exceptionally clean, prevents dandruff, a perfect dressing.

Neuralgic paroxysms are often of extreme violence, and brought on by the slightest provocation, such as a draught of cool air. The skin is swollen and inflamed, and even after the attack has abated feels stiff and tender. On the first intimation of such an attack rub with Salvation Oil. 25 cents.

Hay Fever.

For several years I have suffered greatly from periodical returns of hay fever. At the suggestion of Covert & Clippever, druggists, I obtained Ely's Cream Balm and used a portion of it during a severe attack. I can cheerfully testify as to the immediate and permanent relief obtained by its use. I heartily recommend it to those suffering from this or kindred complaints. —Rev. H. A. Smith, Clinton, Wis.

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Gives Relief at once and Cures
COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
HAY FEVER.
Not a liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from Injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.
ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH ROSE-COLD HAY-FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

AGENTS WANTED. Our new edition of Bellows's Bible, with 35 colored illustrations, is on sight. Apply at once. DETROIT BIBLE PRESS PUBLISHING CO., Detroit, Mich.

DE LAND & CO'S
CAP SHEAF
SALERATUS
SODA
For Baking Purposes.
Best in the World

A PROFLIGATE KING.

HOW KALAKAUA, OF THE SANDWICH ISLANDS, IS BEARING HIMSELF.

Picked Up Out of the Gutter and Placed [illegible]

Given Up to Vice—A Liberal Income.

[illegible] Kalakaua, the king of the Hawaiian Islands, [illegible] Honolulu, Sandwich Islands, [illegible] a Washington [illegible] to look after the interests of his own [illegible] playing his battle in [illegible] He is a [illegible] and with [illegible] Queen Emma, [illegible] Kalakaua [illegible] legally down at the [illegible] Queen Emma, who [illegible] to the throne, [illegible] which [illegible] business [illegible] demand. The nerves become shattered and [illegible] hot, regain their former tone. The [illegible] in the system [illegible] exhausted, and the first thing we know we hear of a sudden [illegible] and the sickness or death of some one we had supposed was in perfect health. If some means could be found to avert these troubles it would be a great benefaction to the world.

It is a source of gratitude to be able to chronicle the fact that this source has been found, and that by a rare combination of peptonized beef, hops and malt and called Hopionic, the vital forces of life can not only be sustained but restored. The importance of this discovery can not be too greatly emphasized and the effects its introduction is having upon the community is most gratifying in the extreme. If men and women take in energy and ambition in the future they do so with the realization that it might be avoided.

IS LIBERALLY PROVIDED FOR.

The king has been liberally provided for, as well as most of his family, yet he is always in straits for cash. He is given $50,000 every two years for the privy purse, $20,000 a year for palace expenses, $16,000 for the queen and a like sum for Mrs. John Dominis, the king's sister and the wife of the governor of Oahu and Maui, the governor himself receiving $7,200. Another sister of the king, Mrs. Archie Cleghorn, receives $12,000 and her daughter $5,000. In addition to these generous allowances—for it must be remembered that the annual expenses of a native are not more than $50, as he lives mainly on poi and raw fish—the king was allowed $18,000 by the legislature for the palace stables. This sum he used to build a private stable, which he stocked with horses and ten hacks, which he hired out to be run in opposition to the regular carriage companies in Honolulu. Besides all these sources of revenue the king receives a yearly rental of not less than $100,000 from the crown lands, which comprise some of the best sugar estates on the islands. The opposition party in the legislature has tried for several years to compel the king to disclose the exact sum which he receives from these crown lands, but without success.

With all this money Kalakaua is perennially in debt. When he took the famous trip around the world he brought in a bill for $22,503, which was paid with some grumbling by the legislature. When the coronation was projected an allowance of $10,000 was made, with the provision that, if this sum was exceeded, it should come out of the king's privy purse. The lavish coronation ceremonies cost over $40,000, and the sum had to be paid, as the privy purse was empty and the king himself so deeply in debt that, for the credit of the kingdom, the legislature voted him $20,000 to satisfy the most pressing of his creditors. What becomes of the large sums received by Kalakaua is a mystery which no one has yet solved. He has no more idea of the value of money than had Ludwig of Bavaria. He has few expensive tastes, but he has one strong passion which, freely indulged, drains him of all his coin. This is gambling. The Hawaiians are as fond of all games of chance as the North American Indian, and and the king is said to be no mean hand at our great national game of poker.—Honolulu Letter.

Indian Reservation in Nicaragua.

The Mosquito reservation of Nicaragua takes its name from the Mosquito Indians, to whom it belongs. It stretches for nearly 200 miles along the coast of Nicaragua, and extends back to the mountains. It is watered by numerous majestic rivers, and its front abounds in fine harbors. The chief of the Mosquitoes is its hereditary president, and he governs with the assistance of a vice president, a chief justice, an attorney general and a council elected by the people. The independency of the country is guaranteed by Nicaragua, Great Britain and Austria. It is the only country on earth where there are no taxes. Not a dollar of taxation is levied on either real or personal property, and the only vestige of the burden worst is escaped nowhere else is a poll tax of $2 upon every man who votes as a citizen. Chicago Herald.

Absent-Minded Man at Prayers.

The most absent-minded man in the world has been found, and he lives in Buffalo. He tells the story himself as follows: "You know I am not awfully religious, but when a child I was taught to say my prayers at night. I am glad to say I have stuck to it ever since, and generally manage to put in a few anyhow nearly every time I go to bed. A short time ago I went to my room as usual smoking a cigar, and continued right along puffing while I was undressing. Just before getting into bed I knelt down as usual, and when through, suddenly discovered that I had been taking my smoke as comfortable as you please while offering up my devotions. It struck me as being a little off color."—Buffalo Courier.

A Fair Start in Business.

Some years ago I took into my store as salesman a bright, smart, intelligent, fairly educated young man of 21. After he had been with me two weeks I one day said to him "Alfred how long do you think it will take you to learn the business?" He answered "I think I can learn it thoroughly in about three months." Some time afterward I said to him "You have been in my store four years, and surely now you ought to go into a better field. You have had every opportunity, much of my assistance, and have done well. What do you think now?" He replied "I have a fair start."—Boston Post and Shoe Record.

Parnell's Present Personal Appearance.

Mr. Parnell now wears his brown beard full, bushy and curling. Buttoned from the waist a long-skirted black frock coat

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE
The Cream of Tartar used in DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER is the purest and strongest. Free from Ammonia, free from Lime, free from Alum. [illegible] recommended its use in every family.
Prof. R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M.D., LL.D., Professor of Chemistry, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York.
Prof. [illegible]
Prof. [illegible]
Prof. [illegible]

Tecumseh Herald

A Large and Enthusiastic Gathering—An Excellent Ticket Placed in Nomination.

[illegible]

[illegible] Tecumseh [illegible] Grand Rapids [illegible] Alabama [illegible] Eaton [illegible] Hardinge, Bayonet [illegible] E. Frazer, Pontiac [illegible] Ishpeming.

THE TICKET.

Governor—Samuel Dickie, of Albion.

Lieut. Gov.—Charles Mosher, of Mosherville.

Secretary of state—John Evans, of Fenton.

State Treasurer—A. C. Fischer, Detroit.

Auditor general—S. B. Williams, Saginaw.

Attorney general—J. R. Laing, Flint.

Commissioner of the state land office—Marion H. Walker, Grand Rapids.

Superintendent of public instruction—David Beemis, Manistee.

Member state board of education—O. E. Dowling, Ishpeming.

OFFICERS OF LENAWEE CO. ATTENTION!

On Thursday, Aug. 12, the supervisors, ex supervisors, county officers and ex county officers, of Lenawee County, will hold a reunion at my hotel, at Devil's Lake, and I hereby extend a hearty invitation to the public to be present on that day. My grounds and boats will be free to the public during the entire day, and I want everybody to come and have the best kind of a time. Remember there will be no charge for the use of the grounds for picnic purposes. The propriety of organizing a picnic society will also be considered on this occasion.

JOHN BRAZEE.

Card of Thanks.

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our recent affliction, and to those who furnished the flowers, we desire to express our most heartfelt thanks.

CHAS. SHALER AND FAMILY.

One among the many eminent church dignitaries who have given their public endorsement to the wonderful efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil, in case of rheumatism and other painful ailments, is the Rt. Rev. Bishop Gilmour, Cleveland, O.

DIED.

[illegible]

MARRIED.

[illegible]

LETTER LIST

Tecumseh.

Remaining unclaimed for in the Post office at Tecumseh, Aug. 6, 1888.

Hamilton, Sarah — Tripp, Alma
Gleason, Fred — Walbridge, Charles

Persons calling for letters in the above list will please say "advertised."

C. A. STACY, P. M.

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

[illegible]

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

[illegible]

LOOK AT THIS!

We will send a READY FOTOGRAPHER To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.

Takes photos of anything and anybody at any time and any place. Agents wanted. Address READY FOTOGRAPHER, 20 Spring St., Chicago, Ill.

[illegible]

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR

[illegible]

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR

[illegible]

THE STAR,
26 and 28 North William St., New York.

N. W. AYER & SON
ADVERTISING AGENTS
TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA
(Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.)
Receive Advertisements for this Paper.
ESTIMATES for NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING at Lowest Open Rates.
Hand Book for Stamp for AYER & SON'S MANUAL FREE

COME TO US

FOR YOUR

CLOTHING.

Our stock is large and complete with a wide range of styles and prices. We have made great efforts to obtain the best styles and qualities, and have marked them at a very small margin above cost.

Our Low Prices will Please You.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS.

Consult Your Own Interests

THE MOST

DECIDED-:-BARGAINS

In All Grades of Suits.

LEARN MY PRICES

By Comparison.

Light Colored Suits at Great Bargains. I mean just what I say and will sell my entire stock at 20 per cent. below my regular prices.

These goods have not been marked by fictitious figures put upon them, but are selling at just what I state. Don't miss the opportunity but call on me for your CLOTHING and be convinced that this is no humbug.

GEORGE HEESEN.

O. B. DeWOLF, President. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and, Gen'l Mgr

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Request that you get their prices on

HARD COAL!

Before putting in your orders for your winter's supply.

Office, Mill and Yards on Shawnee St., near L. S. & M. S. Depot,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

TELEPHONE.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the trade sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

THE STAR

A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration,

Published in the City of New York,

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,
Editor and Proprietor.

Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.

A clean, pure, bright and interesting FAMILY PAPER.

It contains the latest news down to the hour of going to press.

Agricultural,
Market,
Fashion,
Household,
Political,
Financial and Commercial,
Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

[illegible] trained journalists [illegible] Correspondents [illegible]

THE DAILY STAR,

[illegible] Send for circular.

Edwin Alden & Bro.

[illegible] Cincinnati, New York.

Advertising Agents.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

HOUSE FOR SALE.—On Split st. in Brown ville. Enquire of CAROLINE COLE.

FOR SALE.—A good large Farm Horse right

FOR SALE OR RENT.

NOTICE.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The firm of ALVA PARKER & BABCOCK, Adrian, Mich., is dissolved by mutual consent. A. L. BABCOCK will continue the business at the old stand, and will pay all claims against the firm and collect all debts due the late firm. ALVA PARKER. A. L. BABCOCK.

MEETINGS, CONVENTIONS, ETC.

Aug. 7th, Saturday—Democratic township caucus of Tecumseh.

Aug. 11th, Wednesday—Farmer's big picnic at Devil's Lake.

Aug. 12th, Thursday—Supervisors' reunion at Devil's Lake.

Aug. 12th, Thursday—Peoples' Union Picnic at Brazee's Landing, Devils Lake.

Aug. 13th, Friday—Tecumseh Union S. S. Picnic at Devils Lake.

Aug. 14th, Saturday—Democratic County Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 16th, Monday—Republican County Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 17th, Tuesday—Greenback State Convention, at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 18th, Wednesday—Democratic State Convention at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 19th, Thursday—Republican Congressional Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 19, Thursday, to Aug. 21, Saturday—G. A. R. Encampment at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Aug. 25th, Wednesday, Democratic Congressional Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 25th, Wednesday—Republican State Convention at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 31st, Tuesday, to Sept. 3d, Friday—G. A. R. Encampment at Hillsdale.

THE POSTOFFICE CHANGE.

Judge Stacy received his commission as postmaster last Thursday. During Friday and Saturday the arrangements were perfected with Postmaster Rosacrans for the change, the formal transfer of the office was made on Saturday evening after the close of business hours, and the new administration assumed public control upon the opening of the office on Monday morning. Libbie Robinson, the principal assistant, will retain the same position filled by her under Mr. Rosacrans. Bert Waring will vacate his place, having entered the employ of C. A. Slayton. Edgar L. Ide will take Bert's place. Miss Louisa Stacy will also take a clerkship in the office.

In this connection it is but justice to Ex-postmaster Rosacrans to state that he retires from Uncle Sam's employ with an excellent record. He has been a faithful, painstaking, popular and efficient postmaster. He has made many improvements during his incumbency of the office, and in fact, has conducted the same with such efficiency that his successor will find it a difficult task to improve upon it. Bert Waring's pleasant face will be seen no longer at the window, much to the regret of his many friends.

As to the fitness of the new incumbent it would be unbecoming in us to speak. This much, however, we can say: It will be the Judge's ambition and endeavor to conduct the office on strictly business principles, to give satisfaction to the entire community, and to enroll himself as a creditable successor in the long line of worthy postmasters with which Tecumseh has been favored during the past 40 years.

Prof. Ramsdell attended the meeting of the school inspectors held at Adrian last Tuesday, and Prof. H. C. Wilson was selected as county examiner for the coming three years. He has made a very successful officer and his selection for his own successor was a wise one.

The news came in yesterday evening's papers that Samuel J. Tilden died at 9:45 in the forenoon at his home in New York. As we go to press this morning, we have no time for an extended notice this week. The full particulars of his death have not yet been received. Telegrams of condolence were sent to the family yesterday by President Cleveland and Gov. Hill.

Dr. House has made an arrangement with the Geneva Optical Co. of Geneva N. Y., to act for them in the sale of their spectacles. He has a case of samples and a tester which cost over $100. With these he can test one's eyes and order exactly what is wanted. It is a new plan and is said to be a very perfect one for furnishing spectacles. We shall have a more perfect description of it hereafter.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD.

TECUMSEH, MICH., AUG. 5, 1886.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Harry Snell was home over Sunday.

Postmaster Jenkins of Franklin was in town last Tuesday.

Best prints 16c a yard next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Co. K has decided to attend the encampment at Fort Wayne, on the 19th.

The reunion of the 4th Michigan Cavalry will be held at Owosso, on the 12th of August.

Miss Myrta Adams entertained a pleasant party of lady friends last Thursday afternoon.

David Carson started for Wichita, Kansas, yesterday, where he will remain for some time.

A party of seven young ladies and gentlemen, drove over from Clinton last Sunday to take the excursion train for Devils Lake.

Wm. Smith lost a G. A. R. badge last Tuesday. The finder would confer a favor by returning the same to him or at this office.

Mr. Brazee of Devils Lake, was in town last Monday, posting the bills for the big picnic which will be held at his grove on the 12th inst.

We have a sample of oats in our office raised on Burdick Burch's farm south of the village, which are five feet high and of extra quality.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren VanAntwerp, of Deerfield, passed three days very pleasantly from Friday until Monday among their acquaintances in Tecumseh.

The date of the Democratic Congressional Convention for this district has been changed from Aug 18th, to Aug 25th. It will be held at Adrian on the 25th.

Ten of Tecumseh's young ladies are rusticating at Sand Lake this week.

[illegible] supply of "Black Jack" in consequence.

John F. Murray, of Detroit, was in town last Monday, on business. His stay was short but he found plenty of old friends to shake hands with, just the same.

The Farmer's Picnic at Wamplers Lake, will come off on the 13th, inst. instead of the 11th, as stated last week. Knapp's band of this village will furnish music on the occasion.

The invitations are out for the Supervisors reunion at Brazee's Landing, Devils Lake, on the 12th of August. A large attendance and grand time are confidently expected.

Postmaster Santus, of Ridgeway, was in town last Monday. We regret to see that Jay is getting aristocratic since he became one of Uncle Sam's officials. He rode up instead of footing it.

Mrs. R. P. Bacon died yesterday at New Bedford, Mass. Her remains will be brought to Tecumseh for burial, and will arrive on Saturday. Prof. Joseph Esterbrook will preach the funeral sermon.

Edgar L. Ide, takes the position in the postoffice vacated by Bert Waring. Edgar has had experience in the postoffice before and will undoubtedly fill the place satisfactorily to the new postmaster and also to the public.

The President has signed the oleomargarine bill. A strong and dignified message was transmitted to Congress giving his reasons therefor. It should be read and pondered by every farmer in the land.

In remitting his subscription to the HERALD, Dr. J. M. Boyd, of Madison, Wis., says: "I look with pleasure for the HERALD each week, and find a great deal of interest in it, although I have not lived in Tecumseh for almost 15 years."

Ten young ladies of Tecumseh, all smart and handsome are rusticating at Sand Lake this week. Query: why didn't the young ladies go last week, or why didn't the young men who went last week delay their going until this week?

George L. Graves, of Milwaukee, spent two or three days in town last week. Business summoned him here and hence his visiting calls were shortened somewhat. In fact he is generally bothered to accept all the kind invitations he receives during a brief stay at the old home.

Mrs. Nancy Gillett of Somerfield, Monroe Co. died on Friday July 30th, of paralysis at the age of 76 years. She was for many years a resident of the township of Tecumseh. The remains were taken to Big Rapids on Saturday last for burial. The funeral services will be held two weeks from Saturday.

The matter of mutilated coins coins with holes punched through them has received the official attention of the treasury department, and the lawful value of such coins has been established as follows: Double Eagles, $5; silver dollars, 75c; half dollars, 35c; quarter dollars, 15c; dimes, 5c. Parties handling coins might be saved considerable annoyance and some cleat cash, by cutting this item out and pasting it in their hats.

idly.

Will Suffin of Quincy, was in town this week.

Mrs. Bennett of Clinton, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Dr. North is spending the [illegible] at Devils Lake.

Miss Nettie Worley returned home [illegible] week.

H. M. Temple is expected home this week from New York state.

Mrs. Geo. Robson of Memphis, Tenn., is in Tecumseh.

Miss Hattie Wade started Tuesday for Chicago to visit her sister.

Next Saturday is print and Ginghamdav at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Frank Bartles, of Coldwater, arrived in town Tuesday for a few days stay.

Mrs. W. Peters, of Blissfield, was visiting friends in Tecumseh this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pet[illegible], of Adrian, have gone to Cheboygan for a few days.

Mrs. Gus. VanDemark, of Clinton, was visiting friends in town the first of the week.

Lewis Herning, of Fowlerville, is in town this week shaking hands with his old friends.

Miss Annie Carroll and Miss Mamie Garey, of Norwalk, Ohio, are visiting friends in town this week.

Fred. Wood had the misfortune to lose his little boy last Monday. The child died from cholera infantum.

Mrs. Al. Lawrence started for Grand Lake, near Presque Isle, last Saturday, where she will recreate for a few weeks.

Deputy Marshall Jordan gathered in a "bewildered" man from Clinton last Monday night. He was released in the morning.

Newberry Satterthwaite started on his annual vacation last Tuesday around the great lakes. Frank Van Wyck, of Adrian, [illegible] in his absence.

John Mulholland, who has been working in the cooper shop at Comfort's mill for the past 14 years, has secured a job in Jackson, and left for that place yesterday. He has moved his family into the village.

Mrs. W. A. Whitney and daughter Myrtelle, of Hudson, were in the city yesterday. Miss Whitney has been engaged to teach in the B. high school. She and her mother will reside here, having rented rooms in Mrs. Spofford's house.

A thunder shower passed over the village last Sunday about noon accompanied with quite a severe blow. A good many fences were blown down and some shade trees damaged. The blow did not last over five minutes and the shower was a light one.

The first of a series of races will be held at Bills' race track, Saturday, Aug. 7, at which time some of the best horses in the county will be present and take part in the sport. There will be three classes: Three minute, pacing and free for all. Hunter barred with suitable prizes. Race called at 2 P. M. Admission 25c. No charge for teams. C. D. Bills will have charge of the sport.

At the regular meeting of Tecumseh Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., the following officers were installed for the coming term:

N. G.—Rev. J. M. Getchell.
V. G.—Fred. Herning.
Sec.—E. Hodges.
P. S.—Thos. Cummins.
Treas.—Ed. Williamson.
W.—John Hibbard.
C.—John J. Orr.
O. G.—Wm. Gray.
I. G.—Geo. Hanford.
R. S. N. G.—S. C. Stacy.
L. S. N. G.—J. W. Wooden.
R. S. V. G.—Geo. Williamson.
L. S. V. G.—Jas. Query.
R. S. S.—Lou. Chapman.
L. S. S.—Robert Plank.

Mr. Nelson Burroughs and family of Cherokee, Iowa, have been spending a few days with his father, Mr. Noah Burroughs, of this village, and his visit was made the occasion of a family reunion which was held at Lake Maniton last Thursday. Invitations were extended to all the collateral branches of the family, and friends were present from Adrian, Tecumseh, Napoleon, Jackson and Springville. When the company was all seated at the picnic tables a count revealed that eighty two relatives were present. The day was passed most pleasantly by all, and the occasion will long be remembered by those who participated.

The long looked for Sunday School picnic to Devil's Lake will take place Friday, Aug. 13th. C. A. Slayton and Dr. House paid a visit to the lake last Tuesday and perfected arrangements for the picnic, and a pleasant time is assured everyone who attends. Treadwell's grove will be headquarters for the excursion, although arrangements have been made with Allen's hotel to furnish meals for 35c, to those who do not wish to take a lunch along. The regular train will carry the picnickers to and from the lake, extra coaches being attached for that purpose, and plenty of room will be had. The fare for the round trip is placed at 75c. Everyone is invited.

Monday on business.

Washtenaw County has twenty-nine publications within its borders.

[illegible] lasts only ten days longer. SUTTON, FAIRFIELD & Co.

[illegible] at Bagley's Hall in Brooklyn, on Thursday evening of next week Aug. 12th. [illegible]

Rev. W. H. Babbitt exchange from Rome 5th to Vacation. Prof. D. S. Snyders of Adrian College will occupy his pulpit at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning.

Mr. Chas. R. Lucas, one of the oldest engineers on the L. S. & M. S. R. R., died suddenly at his residence in Adrian, Monday morning, Aug. 2d. Rev. J. M. Getchell, of Tecumseh, officiates at the funeral which takes place to-day at 2 P. M.

Universalist church next Sunday, Rev. [illegible] subject will be "The True Estimate of Usefulness." Text, Matthew xx 26, 27, 28. At 7:30 in the evening discourse in answer to the question, "If Universalism is true why Preach it?" Text, John 1:46.

Should a farmer in driving thro' the country meet a person riding a bicycle and find that his horses are liable to be frightened at the machine, he can, by raising his right hand three times, cause the rider to dismount. If those who read this will remember it, it might save them some trouble and a possible runaway, in case such a meeting might occur.

At the racing matinee held at Adrian last Saturday afternoon the free for all-race was won by Otis Whelan, of Franklin; Bingo, owned by W. A. Cairns, of Tecumseh, taking second money, and Birdie G., C. D. Bills, owner, Tecumseh, the third prize. In the three-minute race Kittie K., S. Kuney, owner, took first. The bicycle race was won by Bert Hedges, of Adrian, there being five starters.

It is a pleasure to listen to music on a piano executed by one who thoroughly understands her position. Such is Miss Belle Barlow of Ridgeway, who is fully up to the times in her profession of music. Miss Barlow makes regular trips to Dundee each Friday to attend to her pupils, and parents wishing to place their children under a competent instructor should consult Miss Barlow before deciding.—Dundee Reporter.

The Hudson Post is asked to correct the impression that no ladies can join the Women's relief corps except soldiers' wives and widows. All patriotic ladies over sixteen years of age in good social standing are eligible, and the more good women the order contains the better for the community in which it exists. These remarks are applicable to Adrian as well as Hudson, or any other place.—Adrian Press.

Lewis Mosher came very near being the victim of a serious accident Tuesday afternoon. The men employed at Smiley's hardware store were hauling some bunches of tin up stairs at the rear of the building. One of the bundles had been drawn up and just as it was swinging on to the floor slipped from its fastening and fell to the ground, smashing a one and one-half inch plank to splinters and barely missing the head and shoulders of Mr. M., as he was in the act of springing from the exact spot where the tin struck. Lewis seems to think it was not much of a "happenstance" after all, but we venture to say money would not tempt him to repeat the trick.—Addison Courier.

The People's Union Picnic of Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson counties to be held at Stony Grove, Brazee's landing, at the north end of Devils Lake, August 12th, 1886. At the conclusion of the festivities of the reunion of the supervisors and county officers of Lenawee county, will be present of the season. There will be vocal and instrumental music and good speakers for the occasion. No entrance fee and table room free to all. Save your money and come out on that occasion with your wives and children and enjoy the great event of this and coming years. Loss Parsons, Pres., Woodstock; Alonzo Rickard, Vice-Pres., Wheatland; John H. Underwood, Sec., Addison; Cornelius Knapp, Treas., Rome.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows holds its next session in the city of Boston, Mass., commencing Monday, September 20th. It is expected that this session will be the greatest gathering of Odd Fellows ever held since the establishment of the Order. No pains or expense is being spared by the Odd Fellows and citizens of Boston to make this meeting the grandest affair ever known to any Fraternity, they having already raised over $100,000 with which to entertain their guests, and every Odd Fellow, especially those from Western States, will be most heartily welcomed. Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk railway to carry Odd Fellows and their families from Chicago to Boston and return for the low fare of $13.00, tickets good until Oct. 2.

Sunday School picnic.

Marshal Stevens collected over $1,000 of village taxes in July.

[illegible] friends in town.

Miss May Robertson of Hillsdale is visiting relatives in Tecumseh.

The picnic season is having large gains [illegible]

Mr. Harry Warrington is canvassing Tecumseh for the next edition of the Michigan State Gazetteer.

The Angerbauer Array has purchased a wonderfully [illegible] S. W. Jewett's [illegible] Drs. One of our boys exclaims:

We are in receipt of an interesting letter from the Sun Flowers from Illinois, but it is crowded out until next week.

Mrs. J. C. Schroder was taken quite seriously ill last week, but thanks to the timely aid of Dr. North she is now on the gain.

Rev. [illegible] Getchell attended the Washtenaw Farmers' picnic, which was held at Wampiers, Lake, Wednesday, Aug. 4.

The Democratic township caucus of Tecumseh will be held next Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Delegates will be chosen to the County convention of the 14th.

Richard C. Moore, a former resident of Tecumseh died at Aurelius, N. Y., on the 29th of July. His remains were brought here for interment, and deposited in our cemetery.

M. F. Conklin has taken the agency for the Perkins wind mill in this vicinity, and will furnish wind if necessary. Those in need of such an article should call upon him.

Mr. C. J. Moore, of Winthrop, Minn., is in town this week, having come upon a sad errand, to receive the remains of his father for burial. The duty was performed last Tuesday.

PROHIBITION THAT PROHIBITS.

EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—One of our citizens on his way to the Golden Gate, made a short stop in one of the river towns of Iowa, and saw what he calls "the practical working of prohibition which does not prohibit." (See letter published in last week's HERALD.)

In reply to that, will you please print the following article from the Union Signal of July 29, the official organ of the National W. C. T. U.

and oblige,

PROHIBITIONIST.

The National Teachers' Association received a most impressive object lesson in prohibition by meeting in Topeka, Kansas. A leading member of the association told us that during their nine days' stay in that Western capital, he and other teachers from various parts of the country, made it their business to go through all the highways and byways of the city to see if prohibition did prohibit. Nowhere did they find the slightest evidence of liquor selling; the testimony borne in open convention and ratified by that great body of intelligent men and women was, that they had not so much as had the smell of alcoholic liquors while within the limits of Kansas. They interviewed scores of teachers from all parts of the state, and received from them the unvarying testimony that in only two cities in Kansas are there open dives.

President Baldwin, of the Texas State Normal School, told us that the association was profoundly impressed by this object lesson, and the hundreds of teachers, however skeptical they may have been when they came, returned to their homes thoroughly convinced that prohibition does prohibit. He said: "The question in the association is no longer, 'Shall we teach scientific temperance in public schools?' but, 'How best to teach it?' A strong endorsement of such teaching was passed enthusiastically, there being but one dissenting vote and the council devoted three hours to discussing the best methods of teaching temperance.

In addition to this, Mrs. Foster made one of her most powerful pleas in favor of it, holding the vast audience spell bound for an hour and a half. At the close of her address, a professor of the Kansas Agricultural College gave practical illustrations of temperance teaching adapted to various grades.

Any of our friends intending to visit New York, will be pleased to learn that their well known favorite stopping place, Fuller's Hotel, is ready to receive them. The house has been in the hands of skilled workmen for months, and is completely renovated. Every bedroom has been newly papered, and all furniture is new, and of cherry or Mahogany, while handsome French plate looking glasses adorn the walls in every part of the house. The general living room is one of the largest and handsomest in the city, and is with the private dining rooms elaborately furnished. All the sleeping rooms have electric call bells and for morning guests, without the old fashioned kicking on the door, and ample ventilation. One of the new proprietors, Mr. F. W. Cottrell, was for several years manager and part owner and still owns one fourth of the Grafton Hotel, Baltimore and is the son of the late and far famed Robert B. Cottrell, of the Astor House. The well known Chef, Edward Mehl, has charge of the culinary department. The head waiter is Herara, late of the famous Cranston Hotel, West Point, and Brignoli, of Marinelli, New York, has charge of the Cafe Room.

SIX DAYS IN VACATION.

It was a very jolly noisy set of boys that started for a week's encamping in Mr. Putnam's cottage at Sand Lake a [illegible] ing rain storm. Their ardor did not seem much dampened by the prior downpour, and with they [illegible] Franklin Center and the rain stopped they cheered and sang as long as [illegible] for their tents, and to [illegible] supplies with a sort of [illegible] and shouted about [illegible] work. After that the [illegible] supplies, selected [illegible] and for a time passed a need [illegible]

One prominent feature of the [illegible] was the balance. Two [illegible] by a swarm of boys arrayed in various nondescript articles of clothing which they dignified with the name of bathing suits, issued thickly from the cottage and then rushed wildly down to the beach. Here they all [illegible] pushed or paddled into the lake. When they reached a place where the water was about shoulder deep, they would begin to jump from the boat in all directions. The boat would generally be upset, then they would climb upon it, roll over it, dive from it, get under it, and perform all sorts of antics until enough got upon it to sink it. Then it would be raised and the performance repeated. Two hours was often spent in the water each day.

The night was reserved for most of the practical jokes that were played. One night about two o'clock a bunch of fire crackers went off in the large front room, from which all the bedrooms opened. The boys all rushed out and a keen search was made for the perpetrator of the outrage. The search proved fruitless however, and no clue was ever discovered to the villain's identity. Another time what sounded like large stones, rolled over the roof and right over the heads of the sleepers, but the miscreant escaped this time also.

Friday evening the boys wound up with a grand dance. A staid, and as yet unsuspected citizen, who was staying next door, came over to call off for them. The worthy cook mounted a chair and whistled, the "ladies' man" metamorphosed half of the boys into ladies and the fun began. After an hour's exhausting exercise of this kind all took lemonade and then resumed the fantastic toe, we can't say "light," however until eleven. The people at Wells', a mile distant declared that they could plainly distinguish the stentorian tones of the caller and the tread of the dancers.

Saturday evening the boys reached home, somewhat tired, but thoroughly satisfied with their week of boisterous fun.

Stegeman, our popular Photographer, is doing as good a business as ever. Any one visiting him at his gallery will find him waiting on his customers and wheeling his camera with the agility of a school boy, and almost everybody is satisfied with the work that has been done at his place. His photographs are represented in nearly every album throughout the country.

—Big reductions in all lines of dry goods. All wash goods at cost at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—I am receiving daily by express Fresh White Fish, Mackinaw Trout and dressed Cat Fish. You can get them every day in the week at U. S. express office.

H. L.

—Good Ginghams 4c a yard next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Dr. B. F. Snyder invites all persons in need of dental work to give him a call. He keeps in line with all improvements and his customers naturally depend on first class work at reasonable rates. Give him a call.

—Best Gingham 5c a yard next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—Ice Cream Crackers.

Remember, you can buy [illegible] of C. A. Slayton.

—Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, Sherbet and Lemonade at Kiewert's.

You can buy a Singer Sewing Machine of a well [illegible] cheaper of A. Spencer.

—Ice Cream by the quart or gallon at Kiewert's.

Pork, Sausages and Sunday dinner. What you want some thing nice and proper for Wednesday and Sunday go to Hoag Bros. White Front, clean, fresh and the spot exactly.

—I have lately bought a new [illegible] instrument and am prepared to sell one or two outfits to [illegible] photographing at a very low figure. I will give full instructions to [illegible] door photographing as well as anyone free of charge to the purchaser of an instrument. F. H. Stegeman.

—Largest stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices.

C. A. SLAYTON.

The only cough mixture relied on by people that consumption operates or narcotics is Red Star Cough Cure. Price twenty-five cents.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD,
Issued Every Thursday Morning
BY S. STACY.

[illegible]

The Detroit Tribune suggests that the [illegible] can't lick the seat to Mexico.

[illegible]

H. G. P. Warner, of Ridgeway, has been appointed a member of the Prohibition State Central Committee.

[illegible]

Will the Democrats and Greenbackers pull together this fall and compliate their strongest men? If so they will stand an excellent chance for winning.

A Texas paper proclaims the downfall of the cowboy, bids him farewell and adds: "May you never be forced to herd sheep, edit a newspaper, or go on stage, as some of the rest of us have to do to make an honest living."

Our Washington correspondent is taking a vacation and hence we shall have no letter from the capital for the next two or three weeks. Let us give him a rest for a few days and his letters will be all the more interesting on his return.

The Ann Arbor Argus says: "Mrs. Grover Cleveland may pass through Ann Arbor this fall en route to Jackson with her bride to visit his wife's relatives. At least an irresponsible correspondent claims to have obtained this information from Mrs. Folsom, who is now visiting in Jackson."

The Kalamazoo Herald thinks that if Lord of Nebraska gave Cobb of Indiana, more lung in one minute than the Hoosier congressman had exhausted before in the 37 years of his life. But Laird could not have accomplished so much if Cobb had been born without a nose.

The change in the ownership of the Detroit Tribune comes round almost as regularly as the new moon. New managers took the helm last Sunday. Jas. H. Stone and Jas. W. Hine will be manager and chief editor respectively. They are both good newspaper men and well posted in Michigan politics. Let us hope that they may be more successful than their predecessors in giving the Republicans of the State a creditable organ.

In a letter lately written by Mr. Cleveland in relation to the boycott on Elliott's beer, he expressed his views thus in regard to boycotting in general: "You are somewhat in error when you say I oppose the boycott altogether. I oppose it for the same reason that I oppose a club. I regard it as a good weapon to be wielded by [illegible] when necessary, and then effectually. If it was being used on everything and consequently it was necessary to call a halt."

This view of the President's late order is one which the masses of the people will undoubtedly coincide with. One of the loudest complaints the democrats made against the Republicans during the years of absolute power, was that federal officers interfered with and in many instances controlled the political primaries and conventions of their party, and used the influence of their offices to keep themselves in power. It is, therefore, rather strange that Mr. Cleveland's order forbidding office holders interfering with conventions should meet with universal indorsement. Democrats do not want to see their party [illegible] by the [illegible].

The Philadelphia Times says: "Prohibition State Conventions were held yesterday in the states of Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin, each of which complete state tickets were put in nomination. This indicates that the Prohibitionists are acting in pretty unanimously of the opinion that the temperance cause has been left to the tender mercies of the old parties long enough. Several other states have Prohibition tickets in the field already and those that have not will name the necessary candidates before the election. Every voter in the United States who thinks the sale and use of intoxicants ought to be suppressed is going to have a chance this year to vote for candidates of his way of thinking."

A GAME TWO CAN PLAY AT.

The following from the New York Times, of July 28th, is mighty interesting reading for dairymen, and shows that they have got to sink all party [illegible] and [illegible] their friends the same way Jewett, Swift and Armour do. [illegible] dairymen [illegible] play it, and [illegible] country where the majority rules, and that the people would not want to [illegible] butter and the products of honest labor when set to fight dell oleomargarine, [illegible] decided [illegible]:

Boston, July 27. It has just looked [illegible] to the democratic [illegible] State Association. The English Massachusetts dairy interest has recently developed in Republican ranks, and from a most peculiar cause. Shortly after the passage of the House bill imposing a tax upon oleomargarine, for which Congressman Allen voted, Edwin C. Swift, of the firm of Jewett & Swift, heavy dealers in tea and pork in this city, New York, and Chicago, came [illegible] and held a long consultation with his partner, the Hon. Francis Jewett, and [illegible] Republicans. The upshot of the interviews was a determination to do anything to beat Allen. The Hon. Frederic T. Greenhalge, a prominent Republican ex-Mayor of Lowell, and several times a Representative to the General Court, was approached, and urged to contest the nomination with Mr. Allen. Mr. Greenhalge took the matter under advisement, and a week elapsed before he gave his answer. Meanwhile a rumor of what was being done had gained circulation, and Mr. Greenhalge was deluged with letters from leading Republicans throughout the State, urging him to decline to run against Mr. Allen. Among those who did so were Gov. Robinson, Lieut. Gov. Ames, the Hon. John D. Long, Senators Hoar and Dawes and many other prominent Republicans.

Learning that this influence was being brought to bear upon Mr. Greenhalge, and that it was probable that he would yield to it, Messrs. Jewett and Swift and their confederates offered as an inducement that the extra expense of the campaign would be borne by a committee composed of manufacturers and dealers, headed by Phil. Armour, of Chicago, the most extensive pork packer and oleomargarine manufacturer in the world. It is understood that all efforts to persuade Mr. Greenhalge to contest the nomination proved futile, but the oleo men have not abandoned their intention of defeating the Congressman opposed to their interests. It is authoritatively reported to be the intention of the disgruntled Republican West men, reinforced by a large number of Republicans to whom Allen's Congressional record has not proved satisfactory, to try and compass the nomination and election of some Democrat who is outspoken against oleomargarine taxation. The movement of the oleo men is regarded as more than a local one, as it is declared that strenuous efforts are to be made to bring about the defeat of every Congressman who voted in favor of the taxation.—American Dairyman, of July 29th.

THE QUESTION OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Of the [illegible] votes cast in 1884 for David Preston for governor, by prohibitionists are that 18,000 came from the republican party. The political problem of the coming campaign is where will those 18,000 voters throw their strength, whether there severance from their former political affiliations is permanent or temporary. The cause of their departure needs no prolonged search for. It was because the republican party promised to submit the question of the legal prohibition of the liquor traffic to a vote of the people, and failed to do so.

In persistence in what these men consider to be a violation of pledged faith, the way to bring them back to the party. The Times does not think so. The republican party claimed to favor the submission of this question, [illegible] redeem its pledge.

Some of the republican papers of the state claim that the people are well enough satisfied with the present liquor law, and urge letting the troublesome question of prohibition alone. We believe a majority of the people of the state are satisfied with the present law, but the pledge of the republican party in regard to submission is still unredeemed, and the strength of the prohibition party in the state is a standing menace to republican success. The Times believes the pledge to submit the question of prohibition should be reaffirmed in the coming state convention, and that if the power to redeem it is vouchsafed to the party in the fall elections, the pledge should be promptly redeemed. [illegible] prohibition party will grow [illegible] pretending to ignore [illegible]

[illegible] Adrian Times [illegible] ordinary significance. It is a direct confession that the [illegible] of the prohibition leaders against the republican party of Michigan are true. The republican party in convention assembled, pledged itself to submit the question of legal prohibition to a vote of the people. The Republican majority in the legislature failed to redeem this pledge. In the same breath with its confession the Times seeks to avoid the real issue by urging the Republican party to repeal the former pledge before the election. What would the Times advise after the election? If consistent with its former record, it would advocate a license law. The pledge to submit would be extending the olive branch before election day. What power would the prohibitionists have to compel the redemption of this pledge after election? Will the prohibitionists permit "Truthful James" to play it upon them again?

POLITICAL POINTERS.

How would Henry W. Stevens of Tecumseh fill the bill as a candidate for sheriff on the Republican county ticket?

[illegible] Sheriff Wadsworth and County Clerk Doty will have a walk over both in their [illegible] sheriff on the Republican ticket, but he will [illegible] to the [illegible] treasurer [illegible] Wadsworth [illegible] and Gregory. Washtenaw [illegible]

This [illegible] to be gained [illegible] that Shoemaker and Berry will head the democratic state ticket. These names would make a strong team. And by the way, for a good third, add Capt. Manley of Ann Arbor for Secretary of State.

Rumor has it that Capt. C. R. Miller has pocketed the Lenawee and Hillsdale congressional nomination. If that be true he will [illegible] have 11 votes in the convention. Monroe and Washtenaw have only 34.

The Ann Arbor Argus has the following cordial endorsement of Capt. Manly for Secretary of State. We believe the democrats of this county will [illegible] the motion heartily. Capt. Manly would be an excellent candidate for that position and he would add strength to the ticket.

Homer E. Decker of Rome is very favorably mentioned in many parts of the county as a suitable candidate for Register of Deeds on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Decker stands high where he is known and would doubtless make a strong candidate. He is holding out for the nomination but his friends are urging him for the place.

The impression seems to prevail through the idea that the constitutional greenback plank adopted at Lansing will disrupt the party. It is argued that with one idea the organization has strength, but the moment it begins to widen, disintegration will set in. By the way, it is reported that a prohibition paper will soon be started in Jackson.—Jackson Patriot.

The Blissfield Advance says: A Palmyra citizen, whose business carries him over a good portion of the country, was heard to say the other day in speaking of the Republican congressional situation: "I find that four-fifths of the Republicans in the county think the proper man to nominate is Capt. Allen. They seem to believe that it is due him and that, if given another trial, he will carry the district by a good majority."

In this section just now all eyes are turned to Congress, the gathering of the county and congressional conventions emphasizing this feeling. We think a large number of our people have reached the conclusion that in Capt. Charles R. Miller is found a man who would most worthily fill the place in case of his being chosen by the people, a man who could be superior to the small chaffing of politics, one who has the requisite grasp of mind, the requisite familiarity with public affairs, the requisite reading and culture to make a representative in congress of whom the district might be proud. He is a careful business man, a man of affairs, a close student of men and of national politics, and knowing the man as we do we feel that no mistake would be made if the choice of the district would fall on him, we fearlessly urge his nomination.—Adrian Times.

It behooves the democrats and greenbackers to put up a strong ticket this fall, one not only strong in men, but one which will stand well with the people. Washtenaw has long been a strong democratic stronghold. If the democracy are enthused, many democratic voters could be here brought out, which would swell the vote [illegible] only for the state [illegible] Congress [illegible] the nomination of [illegible] Manly as Secretary of State. Personally an honorable man, and one against whom not a word can be said, a man fully capable of filling the office, he possesses peculiar elements of political strength. He was a gallant soldier during the war and he stands well with the soldiers among whom he possesses a wide acquaintance throughout the State. He has been prominent in various soldier's organizations and the enthusiasm with which he is often greeted, when his comrades in arms assemble together testifies to his popularity. His army sleeve appeals eloquently for the conferring of political honors upon this gallant son of the democracy. To nominate him would indicate that the democracy delights to honor the defenders of a nation's honor. It would silence the mouths of our detractors who talk to us of disloyalty. Washtenaw has we believe, this year no candidate for Governor of Lieutenant Governor; what say our sister counties to Capt. Manly for Secretary of State?

THE PROBATE COURT.

Business transacted at the probate court for the week ending, July 27, 1886:

Estate of George Tillman, deceased; bond filed; letters of administration issued; order appointing appraisers.

Estate of Nathaniel S. Wheeler, deceased; petition for allowance of administrator's final account; hearing August [illegible]

Estate of [illegible] deceased; petition for [illegible] of executor's final account; [illegible]

Estate of Hugh H. Miller, deceased; will proved and probated; bond $[illegible]; [illegible] letters of executorship issued.

Estate of Baldwin Webster, deceased; petition for allowance of administrator's final account; hearing August [illegible]

Estate of George W. Jordan, deceased; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of John W. Piper, deceased; petition for probate of will; hearing August 16.

Estate of Albert Southworth, deceased; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of Charles J. Brewer, deceased; affidavits of publishing and posting commissioners' notices; commissioners' oath and report.

Estate of James McCollis, deceased; petition for appointment of administrator; hearing August 27.

Estate of Wm. McCollis, an incompetent person; affidavit of service of notice of order of hearing and testimony taken and filed; order appointing guardian; bond $7,000.

Estate of Bertha M. Bryan, et al., minors; affidavit of publication; license to sell real estate; oath before sale.

Estate of Ann Foster, deceased; administrator's final account allowed; receipt of widow filed; discharge.

Estate of John H. Slater, deceased; affidavit of publication; will, proof and probate; bond filed; letters testamentary issued; order appointing appraisers in commissioners.

Estate of Calvin H. Hagaman, deceased; affidavit of publication; will, proof and probate; bond $[illegible]

Estate of Erastus N. Nichols, deceased; order of continuance until August 6, at nine o'clock a. m.

In the matter of Emma Brink, convicted before Justice Hulett of larceny, and sentenced to the state industrial home for girls until 21 years of age; [illegible] notice and commitment approved by judge of probate.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Following are the real estate transfers in this county, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the week ending June 17, 1886:

CAMBRIDGE.

Dyer Hubbard to Mary D. Brainard. Land on sec. 13. $1,132.

HUDSON.

George E. Ryan to H. G. Colton. Land in village. $550.

Wesley Evans to William Elliott. Land on sec. 6. $4,000.

Purify your blood, tone up the system, and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicine or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at

C. A. Wright & Co.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall St. N. Y.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

The frame is composed of cast iron and steel with steel [illegible] The top has a [illegible] which enters the burner and begins the vaporization of gasoline which enters the burner as vapor and burns with a blue flame. [illegible] the burner [illegible] the burner [illegible] the burner

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, regulating, toning and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Sore Mouth.

RAYNHAM, MASS., Aug. 12, 1878.

C. I. HOOD & CO., Gentlemen— I have had ringworm humor and salt rheum so badly that my body was covered with raw sores; so, also, my head and face. I have had any number of doctors in the last seven years, and spent the money of a fortune for them. One day my mother was in the city and purchased one of your books, and in reading it found a couple of testimonials to cures from the use of your Sarsaparilla and Olive Ointment. I felt, hoped to life, that would do me good. I had seen many things advertised that never did me any good. I have now taken two bottles and one large one of Sarsaparilla, and use three boxes of Ointment. I now call myself entirely well. Nothing can be seen of the humor but the dim red marks where the sores healed. I shall take two bottles more, as I feel it my duty to do so, to make a perfect cure.

I am gratefully yours,
EDGAR F. WHITMAN.

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gents—Please send me by express two bottles Hood's SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook books for distribution. Your preparation has worked wonders in the case of my wife, who has been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one-half teaspoonful at a dose, and has not been so well for five years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now entirely free from those severe headaches. She hasn't taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is lent to do some others some good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly,
HOMER B. NASH.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Is sold by all druggists. Price $1, or six large bottles for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

☞ Use HOOD'S TOOTH-POWDER.

SPRING DANGERS.

The dangers of this season are simply appalling. The system has been racked up to meet the severity of Winter and the warm weather coming on opens the pores and renders diseases both possible and probable. The great source of all Spring disorders is to be found in the blood which is almost always out of order in the spring. Men, women and children must take something to something. Blood-poisoning is so common and is becoming so dangerous it is necessary to exercise much more caution than ever before. The breaking out which is so frequent is in every case the result of impure blood, and usually a result of rheumatism. Rheumatism cripples and does not break out. What occurs of it often it attacks some vital organ, usually the heart, and sudden death or lingering suffering are the results. These are absolute facts and serious ones too.

For the above and other complaints in all its forms, as well as on blood disorders, and the functional derangements that cause them, Hubbard's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla is strongly recommended alike by the medical faculty and intelligent citizens, where it has once been introduced. Acting simultaneously on the blood and the organs of digestion, it gives perfect health to the sick, and renewed vigor and strength to the debilitated. Being purely a vegetable preparation, it exerts a peculiarly curious effect on the digestive organs, but adds them in the best condition of their duties and braces the nervous system. Many have suffered and been cured by their friends who did not know the real cause of their disease. Dyspepsia was a common name for it. Not understanding the way fairly, they broke out with fearful eruptions, scrofula developed and the system became a prey to the most alarming diseases. Large things are spoken of our knowledge, but we know of no remedy, they claim for it, but what we know they do claim for it, and we know it to be a positive cure for Spring Complaints, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Boils, Pimples, Blotches, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Female Weakness, Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Kidney Complaints. Being purely a vegetable preparation, it exerts a peculiarly curious effect on the digestive organs, but adds them in the best condition of their duties and braces the nervous system.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS

The Curfew Bell

The Perfumery Trade.

Roman Remains in London.

The Model Farm.

Magnetic Storms

After the Sunday Dinner.

Teacher's Stories

A Rare Talent.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

THE CASSADY, AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS

Quincy, New Boston, Vision, Hackney.

Quincy, Superior, Monitor, Roller,

GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages, and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

Grand Central.

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN SHELBY.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

HENRY McCLURE, Shelby, Mich.

Detroit Paper.

CITY EVENING JOURNAL

TO ADVERTISE JUDICIOUSLY CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

EXCURSIONISTS

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.,

DETROIT, MICH.

THE OPTICAL DEPARTMENT

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

COLUMBIA BICYCLES

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

597 Wash

FREE PRESS

The Weekly DETROIT FREE PRESS

and The Household.

The Largest, Best and Cheapest of Weeklies.

Ten Pages of Reading Matter in Infinite Variety.

The Free Press is the Leading and Representative Paper of Michigan.

THE GREAT

ONE DOLLAR $1. PER YEAR. $1.

E PLURIBUS UNUM 1883

FAMILY NEWSPAPER

SPECIAL BOOK OFFER.

Every One His Own Lawyer $1.50

World's Cyclopedia 1.50

Popular History of the Civil War 1.50

Lives of Our Presidents 1.50

What Every One Should Know. A 1.50

Everybody's Paint Book; or, How to Do Your Own Painting and Decorating 1.50

Allibone's Webster's Dictionary and Dictionary of Electricity 1.50

DAILY FREE PRESS, $7.00 a Year.

DAILY, Three a week, $3.50

The Free Press Co., Detroit, Mich.

FREE PRESS ADVERTISERS

LORD & THOMAS.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 42. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 12, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1858

DRESS

GOODS

MARKED DOWN!

We have Marked Down to very low prices a large line of

Handsome

DRESS

Goods!

They Will Sell Quick.

CALL AND SEE THEM.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!
STRAW HATS!
Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!
ALPACA COATS!
Seer-Sucker coats and Vests!

SUMMER GOODS!

Of all discriptions at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

DON'T FAIL TO

Take advantage of our great Reduction Sale.

IT WILL PAY YOU.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Plowing was hindered very much by the rain.

Farmers are very busy plowing.

The men on the begun the brick work on the school house Monday.

The carpenters began the frame work in the Waring block Saturday, and are pushing it with a will this week.

Mrs. Susan Clark is improving the appearance of her residence with a coat of paint.

Mr. John Palmer, and Mrs. W. H. Arner were on the sick list last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William McNeil of Dundee, spent Monday with their aunt, Mrs. John Arner and family.

Mrs. G. W. and Master Clarence Jackson of Hillsdale, formerly of this place, are visiting relatives and friends at present.

Russell Williams of Perrysburg, O., sojournes with relatives and friends in the village and vicinity for a few days.

Henry Smith and Miss Nellie McMahon of Manchester, called on friends in the place Sunday afternoon.

Misses May McElroy and Mattie Consaul of Adrian, are the guests of Mrs. Chas. Gove this week, and are calling on friends in the village.

The funeral services of Mr. Silas Austin, who died at his daughter's, Mrs. Horace Wescott, Tecumseh, was held at the church Monday afternoon. He was [illegible] years ship, and was 83 years old at the time of his death.

Miss Alta Sedan of Dundee, has been spending several days as the guest of Miss Marcia Kelley.

The choirister wishes all the members of the choir to meet as often as possible. The choir will meet every Saturday evening as soon as the Eastern train comes, as the organist comes from her class at Dundee at that time.

Pudey has a sunflower growing at the corner of his shop, with a hundred blossoms on it, and wants to know who can beat it for a dry season.

Wm. Larkin, who has been working for James Lane at Holloway during the past summer, moved back to his old home Monday.

The boys on the West side of the village played those on the East side a game of ball last Saturday resulting in a victory for the west side. The score stood 8 to 16. Samuel Rappleye of Philadelphia, Pa., acted as umpire.

Some of the citizens have hinted very strongly of late, that the boys who indulge so frequently in a game of Pedro, had better let up on it, or a complaint will be made and some of them arrested. As the old hotel and school ground are somewhat conspicuous we hope a word in time will save the boys a shameful appearance.

MACON MUSIC.

The Baptist Quarterly meeting last Saturday and Sunday was well attended.

Sunday School concert next Sabbath evening at the M. E. Church.

Mrs. Smith of Washington, Macomb Co., and Mrs. McDonnell of Toronto, Canada, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Maggie Davis.

John Winchell and family who have been visiting friends, returned home Monday morning.

Fred Sabin of North Adams, and Maud Howell have been engaged to teach the Fall term of school.

Mrs. J. A. DeSpelder is recovering from an attack of inflammation of the stomach.

Mrs. Sylvanus Travis has a sister visiting her, from California, who she has not seen for thirty-eight years.

Allie and Ella Camburn, Maud Howell, and Robt. Mills are visiting friends in Douglas, Allegan county.

Rev. E. W. Borden will occupy the pulpit at the Dutch Reform church next Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Niblack, and Mrs. E. H. Osgood spent last Saturday and Sunday with friends in Manchester.

Frank Thomas, Mike Hendershot and Jack Kosly have gone to Minnesota.

Quarterly meeting at the M. E. church two weeks from next Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Barnes of Battle Creek, visited friends and relatives last week.

Miss Addie Howard of Flint is visiting at Frank O Dell's.

It is the "duck of a bonnet" that makes a young girl's head swim.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

[illegible]

[illegible] Tecumseh, Aug. 9.

[illegible]

W. Walker and family, of Morenci visited at A. Harlow's and other relatives last week.

R. A. Talmadge, went to Adrian Tuesday on business.

Oats and hay are all secured and farmers have started the plow.

A party of pleasure seekers from Ft. Wayne, are stopping at the Lotel, and for a change hired Brazee's hack to take them to Prospect hill. On going up into the observatory they met with a warm reception, as they disturbed the peace and quiet of a hornet's nest in the tower. They beat a hasty retreat but some of the ladies were stung several times. The gentlemen were well with intense excitement and scampered down on the outside leaving the ladies to fight their own battles.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The State Teachers' Institute for Lenawee county will be held at Adrian, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., Monday, August 23, and closing at 4 P. M., Friday, August 27. Mr. A. F. Curtiss, Adrian, lecture committee.

The value of the instruction received at these Institutes is being very generally recognized by teachers and school officers. As a rule, it has been the experience of County examiners and other examining officers, that the most successful teachers are those who have availed themselves of the normal instruction offered by these local Institutes.

The daily sessions of the Institutes for this year will, as heretofore, be devoted exclusively to topics of special interest to teachers, presented by persons of extended practical experience as teachers, and who have made a special study of Institute work. The evening lectures will be of a popular character.

The institute law allows teachers, whose schools are in session at the time appointed for the County Institute, held under the direction of the State Superintendent, to close their schools during the continuance of such Institute without forfeiting their wages for as many half days as they are in attendance at the Institute. This provision of law, and the fact that there will be no tuition or enrollment fee exacted, should insure the attendance of every teacher in the county who possesses the true professional spirit.

Full particulars in regard to board, etc., may be obtained upon application to the local committee.

A QUERY.

Editor. In a letter from one of the "Excursionists," in your paper of July 30th, Santa Fe is referred to as being "The Oldest American City." In Ridpath's History of the United States, page 68, speaking of St Augustine, we read, "On the 8th day of the same month, Sept. Phillip II was proclaimed Monarch of all North America' a solemn mass was said by the priests, and there, in the sight of forest and sky, and sea, the foundation stones of the oldest town in the United States were put in their place." This was seventeen years before the foundation of Santa Fe by Antonio De Espego, and forty two years before the settlement of Jamestown."

Which is correct?

MRS. DR. FERGUSON.

Tecumseh, Aug. 9.

[illegible]

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

The twenty first annual meeting of this pioneer temperance publication society lately held in New York, shows a gratifying increase in work accomplished and results achieved. It has now, our different temperance tracts upon its catalogue. During the year seven new books, fifteen pamphlets and sixty six tracts have been added to its list, making eighty-eight new publications and a total of 1,174 now on its catalogue.

Besides its work as a publishing house, it does extensive missionary work, this consists in part as follows.

1. The work among the freedmen of the South, in sending missionaries and literature to ministers, churches, educational institutions, etc.

2. The work in Congress for a National Commission of Inquiry into the results of the liquor traffic, and to look after other national temperance interests at the capital of the Nation.

3. To hold conferences, conventions, missionaries, Sabbath evening services, and other gatherings and meetings in different parts of the country.

4. To endeavor to introduce temperance text books into the public schools of the Nation.

5. To scatter literature in prisons, hospitals, penitentiaries, shops, jails, and in other needy localities.

6. To send a specially prepared volume upon the various phases of the temperance question to the pastor of every colored church in the South.

A little over $10,000 has been expended during the year to carry on this missionary work, and judiciously expended.

The total receipts of the Publication Department during the year were $52,953.76. Total number of pages printed during the year 34,605,950. And all these leaves are for the healing of the Nation."

Dr. Cuyler is re elected president, J. N. Stearns, secretary, and Mr. William D. Porter, treasurer. Its vice presidents represent the entire country, and its board of managers comprise some of the best men in the country. Mr. Stearns, its efficient publishing agent, returns from Florida, where he went in the winter in search of health, so far improved as to resume his labors, which it seems no one else can do as well as he. Rev. G. M. Mead, special missionary of the society among the freedmen, returned from his fourth winter spent in the South, doing missionary work, addressing schools, educational institutions, churches, conferences everywhere greeted with large audiences and everywhere doing much good.

We are glad to note that this pioneer temperance publication society starts on the first year of its majority better equipped for service and with more gratifying prospects than ever before.

WHAT PROHIBITION AIMS AT.

The true object aimed at by prohibition and supporters of prohibitory laws, was thus pertinently delineated by Rev. Herrick Johnson of Chicago said he: "Prohibition aims at a thing, not at a man. It would smite a traffic, not a personal indulgence, and more grog shops, not invade homes. See how this works in other matters. A mob is a bad thing. Prohibition says, 'Repress it.' But to repress it, it may be necessary to seize private property and destroy life, nevertheless, the mob is what prohibition is after, not life and the property. A conflagration is a bad thing. Prohibition says, 'Stop it.' But to stop it may require seizure and destruction of property in the path of the fire; nevertheless, the fire is what prohibition is after, not the property. A contagious disease is a bad thing. Prohibition says, 'Fence it in; the house must be quarantined.' But that's an interference with personal liberty, nevertheless, the contagion is what prohibition is after, not personal liberty. So the saloon is a bad thing. Prohibition says, 'Abolish it.' But to abolish it, it may be necessary to interfere with some private drinking usages; nevertheless, the saloon is what prohibition is after, not the private usage.

Can interference with personal liberty be pleaded as against the repression of the mob. No. Can the plea of individual right of property bar the effort to stamp out a conflagration? No. Can the right to go in and out of our houses at pleasure be urged as against the restraints of quarantine? No. Neither can a private drinking usage constitute a good reason for opposing a prohibitory liquor law. If the law smites the usage in smiting the saloon, it does so only incidentally. Good citizenship will willingly bear an incidental evil for the sake of an essential and universal good. Life, in the end, will be more secured if we repress the mob. Property, in the end, will have better securities if we put out the fire. Personal liberty, in the end, will have complete safeguards if we stamp out the contagion. So, every interest of society and the individual, in the end, will be better shielded if once we say, determinedly and effectually, 'The saloon must go.'"

Temperance Outlook.

[illegible]

Time Thursday evening April 8th A. D. 30.

Place, an upper room in Jerusalem.

Two more days had elapsed, spent chiefly in retirement, and probably at Bethany. Leaving the temple, two days before Jesus had prophesied its destruction, and on His way to Bethany He had foretold the doom of the city as He beheld it in all its glory from the Mount of Olives.

It was now Thursday and the disciples having made preparation for the celebration of the Passover supper in an upper room in Jerusalem, we find Jesus and His disciples gathered there.

There had been more or less strife for some time past amongst the disciples as to questions of priority, there being an evident desire on the part of some to have chief places in the Messianic Kingdom which they believed would soon be established.

This feeling was manifest when they gathered in the upper room.

They had no servants to remove their sandals and wash their feet on entering, according to the custom of the country, and it was obviously the duty of one of the disciples to perform this menial duty for the others.

They disputed about this, however, as they did about who should have the best places at the table, nearest the Master.

Thus they reclined on their cushions at the table with feet unwashed. Jesus took advantage of the opportunity to teach them a lesson in humility which they would not soon forget.

He rose from His couch, divested Himself of His outer garments, took a towel, basin and water and proceeded to wash the feet of His disciples.

Peter objected to this, in his impetuous way, but when he found that it was necessary for Christ's purpose, he said, "Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head." The answer is important. "Jesus saith to him, He that is washed bathed needeth not save to wash his feet but is clean every whit, and ye are clean, but not all."

He meant that he who had been to the bath, only needed to wash his feet on returning to the house, to cleanse them of the dust gathered up by the way.

The Greek word louo from loos, translated "wash" in the old version, is "bathed" in the Rev. Ver., thus giving it its proper meaning.

The Greek word apsaithai, from nipto, is translated "wash" his feet in both versions, and simply means to wash the feet or hands.

But this symbolical act typified the cleansing from sin, and hence, He said, "Ye are clean, but not all," thus referring to Judas, who should betray Him.

The main lesson taught is humility. The disciples contended for honor, preferment and place. Christ performed the office of a servant for them and thus showed them that true humility was more in harmony with the principles of His new Kingdom. "For I have given you an example," He says.

Let us follow that example, not in letter, but in spirit, so that we may have a "part with" Him.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Humble yourself before God.

2. Let your life reflect the humility exemplified in Christ's life.

3. Be content to work for Jesus in the humblest sphere, if necessary.

4. Let the love of Christ constrain you to heartfelt and sincere devotion to Him and His work.

Cutting's Former Wife in Milwaukee.

This item is clipped from the Chicago Herald. This Cutting is a relative of the Cuttings who now reside in Clinton.

MILWAUKEE, July 31.—Shortly after the arrest of Editor S. K. Cutting at Paso del Norte it was stated that a former wife of his lived here. She was found today in the person of Mrs. Everetts. She and her son, Willie Cutting, twenty years old, live with her widowed mother, Mrs. Haskin, formerly of Toledo. The lady stated that Cutting hails from Clinton, Mich., where he became a typesetter. Twenty years ago, after he had deserted from the rebel army, he came to Toledo, where he married Miss Haskin. The union proved an unhappy one. Not being desirous of supporting him, Mrs. Haskin showed him the door and he disappeared. Somewhere out West he procured a divorce from his wife, who afterward married happily.

Prof. Wrothe, Brooklyn Board of Health, says Red Star Cough Cure is free from opiates, and highly efficacious. Twenty five cents.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN'S DEATH

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

J. S. KINNEY

Is on hand for Spring Trade with a very fine stock of goods in the BEST OF

FURNITURE

PARLOR,

Group Suites, Chamber Suites,

Couches, Sofas, Easy Chairs, &c. In fact everything found in a first-class furniture store.

UNDERTAKING.

In all branches guaranteed. None employed but competent man that thoroughly understand their profession.

Give us a call and satisfy yourselves of these facts. Orders attended to promptly night or day.

HELLO! NEIGHBOR!

Where did you buy that Fine, Well Made Furniture? It is the best I ever saw as to make and finish!

NEIGHBOR: Why, I bought this lot of

Wm. McCowen,

The Reliable and Honest

FURNITURE MAN!

Who does not sell soft wood for walnut.

BEWARE!

In Undertaking We would respectfully say that We solicit no business on the street, nor do We sell Elm Caskets or Coffins for Walnut. We are the only experienced Funeral Directors and Embalmers in this section.

WM. McCOWEN.

N. B. BRADLEY, & SON, S. Bay City. H. C. WASON & CO. Toledo, O.

The Tecumseh Lumber Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors,

BLINDS & MOULDINGS

E. C. ROGERS.

MANAGER.

Toledo Business College

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS of CHILDREN it is unequaled.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

MOST PERFECT MADE

Prepared with strict regard to Purity, Strength, and Healthfulness. Dr Price's Baking Powder contains neither Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Dr. Price's Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, etc., flavor deliciously.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., Chicago and St. Louis.

GARLAND STOVES AND RANGES

HINTS FOR HOT WEATHER.

Dress and Drink During the Warm Season—Beware of Iced Water.

Cleanliness is next to godliness, and in this hot weather, when you are overcome mentally and physically

[illegible]

Always carry an umbrella. If it rains, there you are, don't you know, and if the sun comes down and you are fortunate enough to be out in it, protect what head you have with intervening shade. How many sunstrokes have been saved in any particular case by the intervention of my parachutic friend it would be difficult to determine. Drinking is a matter of habit. Some drink tea, some coffee, some water, some lemonade, some beer, some sarsaparilla, some whisky and champagne. I am always surprised when I see a man fill his stomach the first thing in the morning with a glass of iced water. The ordinary stomach is tired anyhow, and when yawning, listless it wakes up to the rest of the system, it feels like stretching and resting, holding its hands for a little more sleep and a little more slumber, just the same as the rest of us feel.

What, then, must be its surprise to have thrust into it, through no agency of its own, it the unwilling receptacle, a torrent of its deadliest enemy, iced water. Having swallowed a glass of iced water the ordinary idiot thrusts into the same stomach his oatmeal, his berries, his beef steak and potatoes and his hot roll, and wonders that he feels heavy.

What ought to be taken?

Well, if you must do anything, sip a tumbler of boiling water. The languid stomach is then surprised by a friendly shoulder at its wheel. The hot water soon makes friends with the gastric juice, and by the time you are ready to thrust the meal, and the steak and the rest of it into your soft, the stomach stands like a base ball catcher on the field with hands outstretched ready for the coming.—Joe. Howard in Boston Globe.

Gospel of God's Pure Air.

Our laboring men, who are cleanly clad on the Sabbath, take their wives and little ones to the islands, or go into the country to a grove, to get God's pure air, or in far better need to be rebuked by a gospel that preaches a kind, loving Father than they would to be deprived of such blessings through church influence. We advise our clerical friends to let street people's comfort alone. We attend church every Sabbath, and wish our readers would do the same. It is a great benefit to listen to hear things new and old out of God's holy word, but pure air, and the smell of trees, flowers, and grass, is as sential to comfort as mental food.—Portland (Me.) Express.

Production of Water-Marked Papers.

A Berlin paper-maker's engineer has invented a new process for the production of water-marked papers by such means that the water lines are produced after the paper has been printed or calendered. The design or device to be produced is drawn on fine paper, and is pasted on to card board, say of one inch in thickness. The design or device is then cut out and pasted on to a stout card board, and covered with a thin sheet of paper. If, then, the plate or relievo thus produced is passed through a calendar, together with the paper to be marked, the desired effect will be produced. The relief or plate may be used a great number of times.—Foreign Letter.

Exquisite Fruit of Guatemala.

In Guatemala the alligator pear is the most highly prized of all their fruits, and tastes somewhat like an exquisite pear and cantelope combined. Plums grow in endless quantities upon trees without leaves, the red fruit sticking on the bare wood as if pinned on. Oranges, citrons and limes bear all the year. The guava, from which a rich jelly is made in the West Indies, grow wild. There is a tree which bears a vegetable egg in great profusion, the substitute for hen fruit being about the size of the genuine article and answering the same purpose in many forms of cookery.—Chicago Herald.

Hardiness of Forest Tree Seedlings.

Observations have been made at the Ohio agricultural experiment station on the hardiness of young forest tree seedlings after seven winters. Seedlings of green ash and yellow locust escaped without any loss. 1 per cent. of scarlet maple and of black ash was killed, 5 per cent. of red oak, 6 per cent. of white ash and wild cherry, 7 per cent. of maple sugar, 8 per cent. of catalpa, 33 per cent. of cucumber tree, 50 per cent. of basswood, 57 per cent. of chestnut, and 81 per cent. of white oak seedlings were killed by severe winter.—Chicago Times.

New Portrait of Queen Victoria.

Queen Victoria will celebrate the jubilee year of her reign by having a new impression of the coinage and of the postage stamps made. The present portrait on the current coins and stamps represents her majesty as she looked forty years ago, and she desires a change made to a true likeness now.—Boston Transcript.

A teacher of music at Hampton institute has ascertained that Indians have a remarkable aptitude for music.

NEW THINGS MADE OLD

ONE OF THE FINE ARTS OF MODERN CIVILIZATION.

[illegible]

Furniture [illegible]

[illegible]

Regulate

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested perfectly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than a month, I was cured.—Samuel D. Wildy, Albany, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills in my family, and to have them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Dagboro, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, fearing I would be unable to stop the disease became and worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Essing, Rockbridge, Va.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

NOW IS THE TIME

TO USE

JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA

FOR

LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA,

AND FOR

PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

It has been in use for 25 years and has proved to be the best preparation in the Market for Sick Headache, Pain in the Side or Back, Liver Complaint, Pimples on the Face, Dyspepsia, Piles, and all Diseases that arise from a disordered Liver or impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six for five dollars. Sample bottles 50 cts. free on receipt of price.

W. JOHNSTON & CO.,
Detroit, Mich.

☞ When you have tried all the Sarsaprillas, and have been disappointed, try Johnston's.

TO MACKINAC.

SUMMER TOURS.

Palace Steamers. Low Rates.
Four Trips per Week Between

DETROIT, MACKINAC ISLAND

St. Ignace, Cheboygan, Alpena, Harrisville, Ossuda, Sand Beach, Port Huron, St. Clair, Oakland House, Marine City.

EVERY WEEK DAY BETWEEN

DETROIT AND CLEVELAND.

Special Sunday Trips during July and August.

OUR ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS Rates and Excursion Tickets will be furnished by your Ticket Agent, or address

C. D. WHITCOMB, Gen'l Pass. Agt.,
Detroit & Cleveland Steam Nav. Co.,
DETROIT, MICH.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS!

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
That Aches in Small of Back...
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
Weary, Aching Bones.
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
Dyspepsia.

Dyspepsia.

GENTS:—I feel it my duty to say respecting Burdock Blood Bitters that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach trouble and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My wife was afflicted in much the same way. We read of your Bitters in the papers and made up our minds that we would try them. The result is we are cured. I have gained in flesh and can now do a good day's work. I believed my kidney troubles as well. We both wish you, the tanks of oil, Godspeed.

JOSEPH LANDON,
Chelsea, Vt.

ENAWEE CARRIAGE FACTORY

F. R. HALEY,
Proprietor of
MANUFACTURER OF

Carriages, Buggies,

SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, &c.

CAPITOL LUMBER WAGONS.

Two Seat Spring and Skeleton Wagons.

LAKE SUPERIOR TRANSIT COMPANY.

The Great Duluth Route.

[illegible]

FRENCH'S HOTEL!

City Hall Square, NEW YORK.

Opposite City Hall in the Post-office.

This hotel is one of the finest in the appointments and furniture, and is conducted on the European plan.

Rooms [illegible] per day. All railroads, with Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. Affiliates of cars pass the door. Most convenient hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Baggage checks, cards, and Bunch coupons [illegible] with all the facilities at moderate prices.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

STATE of Michigan, County of Lenawee, ss. In the matter of the estate of Bertha M. Bryan and Edna J. Bryan, Minors.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an order of license granted to the undersigned, guardian of said minors, by the Judge of Probate for the County of Lenawee, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1886, there will be sold at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the dwelling house on the premises hereinafter described, in the township of Raisin, county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, on Monday, the 27th day of September, A. D. 1886, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, subject to the dower right of Mary C. Bryan, widow of Edwin J. Bryan, deceased, the right, title and interest of said minors in and to the following described real estate, to wit: The south half of the south east quarter of section thirty, in the township of Raisin, county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, known and described as the north half of the east half of the south east quarter of section thirty, township six south, of range four east, containing seventy-five acres, more or less.

MARY C. BRYAN,
Guardian.

Dated Aug. 3, 1886. 31w3

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

IN the matter of the estate of Timothy Deal, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a license granted to the undersigned, administrator of the estate of said deceased, by the Hon. Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate for the county of Lenawee, on the 12th day of February, A. D. 1886, I will sell at public vendue to the highest bidder at the premises hereinafter described, in the County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, on Thursday, the 8th day of July, A. D. 1886, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, the following described real estate, to wit:

All that certain tract or parcel of land situated in the village of Tecumseh, county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, commencing at a stake standing in the west side line of Mill street in said village, at the northeast corner of the house formerly occupied by George W. Kingsley, and in the year 1881, thence fronting south eleven degrees and twenty minutes east twenty rods, thence south twenty-five degrees and forty minutes west twenty rods, thence south twenty-one degrees and forty minutes west twenty rods, thence south twenty-one degrees and forty minutes west twenty rods, thence south twenty-one

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., AUG 12 1886

ST. CATHARINES, ONT.

[illegible] up his shoes after he had returned from [illegible] days absence and asked where [illegible] had been while he was gone. He first [illegible] and looked for an answer but he had been doing nothing. He then asked [illegible] Zeke. This is the origination of the following at present, [illegible] and [illegible] very like [illegible] at St. Catharines, Ont. A very cool place by the way in which to follow such a business. But let me explain this last remark lest it be misunderstood. St. Catherines is a very pleasant town of some 10,000, on the Welland Canal, 3 miles from its northern terminus, Port Dalhousie. The depot of the Grand Trunk R. R. is about one mile south of the town. The old Welland R. R. has a depot in [illegible] 10 miles from Niagara Falls by the Grand Trunk, and a new railroad is about to be commenced, to run from the Suspension bridge Niagara, through St. Catharines to Hamilton and Toronto. Though close to the states this place is decidedly English in its characteristics. [illegible] fast late, eat their meals deliberately, close their stores at six P. M. and do not fret or worry. The residences are pleasant, being largely of brick and stone. There is a good Court House, a fine new Postoffice building and fine church buildings to the number of 12 or 15 adorn the place. The worshipers in these churches, whether Episcopalians, Romans, Catholics, Baptists, Methodists or Presbyterians appear to be on terms of unusual friendliness with each other. The streets are well shaded, vines clamber over the trunk, porches or [illegible] sides of the houses. There are many broad lawns, exquisitely kept, considerable shrubbery and flowers are everywhere. A prominent feature of the place is its large and well kept hotels, of which there are a number, besides smaller ones. The Norton House where I am stopping is not a hotel, but a delightful homelike resting place, with good table and commodius, well furnished rooms. Its guests are so handsomely treated that they like to stay long and come again. The house has permanent boarders the year round, from the place, and some guests from abroad in the summer months. A larger and finer house would doubtless, under the present admirable management of the Norton family, be well filled. St. Catharines has a mineral spring which has proved a very Bethesda for persons afflicted with Rheumatism. Some years ago a fine Sanitarium was erected by Dr. Mack, a gentleman well honored in his profession. That building, spacious and cheery, is still open, though Dr. Mack has passed away, and is under the management of Dr. Crumb. Dr. Mack before he died established here also a hospital, and in connection with it a training school for nurses. The graduates of this school are sought for far and near. They receive a two years training at the end of which they pass an examination and receive their diplomas. The nurses are all women who prove better nurses than men. One of my pleasant experiences here is a visit to this hospital and training school made the other day. As I gazed at the fine portrait of Dr. Mack hanging in the reception room, I thought how blessed the memory of the man who has spent his life in doing good to others. St. Catharines has had its boom and its reaction and is now waiting for better times. A little more life in its business, and a few improvements would make it a delightful place to live. Already it has its churches, its refined society, its efficient fire department, its excellent supply of water, its hotels etc. Business is now on a very solid basis. There is a large amount of wealth here. The reputation of banks and business men is excellent. Considerable is done and little said about it. Large manufactories are here whose owners live in St Catharines. Two steamers each week, the Persia and the [illegible] sail for Montreal loaded with flour, the product of mills in the town. These boys also accommodate also for tourists and travelers at very reasonable rates. The people complain of their treatment by the Grand Trunk R. R. which charges them enormously for freights. As for example, from 50 to 75 cents for carrying a ton of coal from the Niagara suspension bridge, a distance of 11 miles. The new R. R. may relieve this difficulty. But I must close, for you will weary of my epistle. There have been summers I am told, when the hotels held 1000 summer guests. To-day not one fifth that number are here. Yet I think the few here enjoy themselves. We have quiet enough without stupidity. We meet pleasant people. Obstreperous young America does not seem to be here. I hear no profanity in the streets. Ask a boy a question as you meet him and you will get a "respectful reply, per[illegible]" If he does not understand your question he will invite a restatement of it by an inquiring, "Beg pardon?" Yesterday was spent at Niagara Falls viewing the sublimities of the location and keeping at bay the pressing [illegible] and watching the streams [illegible] rushing to the [illegible] to get weary and long to return to this our quiet resting place. [illegible] their guests by rail and [illegible] to Port Dalhousie and thence by steamer [illegible] to Toronto, returning the same day by daylight. That trip remains to be taken. Thus [illegible] have just returned from an [illegible] miles from town. In that sacred spot this only very quiet.

Yours Truly,

W. H. B.

CAMP ALGER.

Program of the Third Annual Encampment of the Southeastern Mich. G. A. R. Association.

The association comprises the counties of Monroe, Lenawee, Hillsdale, Branch, Jackson and Washtenaw. The encampment will be at Adrian, Aug. 31st to September 3d.

FIRST AND SECOND DAYS.

Reception of Grand Army Posts, Veterans, W. R. Corps and Sons of Veterans, and assignment to quarters and reunions of regiments, companies and batteries with camp fires in the evening.

THIRD DAY.

Grand Military parade by the Grand Army Posts, Militia, Sons of Veterans, Cavalry, Artillery and Uniformed Civil Societies, to be reviewed by Gov. R. A. Alger, Dept. Commander John Northwood and visiting soldiers of distinction, to be followed in the afternoon with an address by J. C. Burrows, M. C., and speeches by Gen. John A. Logan, Gov. Alger, Gen. I. R. Sherwood, of Toledo, Ohio, Gov. Foraker, Gov. Blair, Dept. Commander Northwood, Gen. Cutcheon, Hon. Don. M. Dickinson, Hon. James O'Donnell, Col. Shoemaker and others, with a grand camp fire in the evening.

FOURTH DAY.

Grand prize drill and band contest, by the Posts and Bands within the limits of the Association. Addresses by prominent Comrades and awarding of prizes. Generals Logan and Sheridan have been invited and are expected to be present. Tents furnished free to all soldiers, posts, camps, corps and Military organizations. Dress parades, guard mounting and artillery salutes each day. Music furnished by the Channel City band. Half fare on all railroads.

COL. O. A. JAYNES, President.

Past Dept. Commander of Mich. G. A. R.

LIEUT. GEO. F. SMITH, Secretary.

G. A. R. SOCIAL.

The regular monthly social of Beers Post G. A. R., was held last Friday evening in their hall over Spark's music store. Was a large attendance of both members and visitors, and a very interesting program was presented, as follows:

Quartette, "Tenting Tonight"—Messrs. Eccles, Root and Stevens.

Select Reading, Dutch idea of Politics—Mr. Martin.

Song, Michigan, My Home—Wm. Delamater.

Select Reading, Forming a 4th of July Committee—Mrs. J. M. Getchell.

Recitation by Miss Wescott.

Song, Peanut Boy—Wm. Delamater.

Jehiel Davidson told how he fell in love—when he was on earth the first time.

Song—was called for but not being present, Rev. Getchell was introduced and gave a few remarks in his usual happy style. Suddenly he stopped, saying "I see an editor," which brought out editor Field in a little surprise speech.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, free to all.

It was a fine old fashioned social at which everybody—including the children—were made happy. The G. A. R's can "take the cake" on socials.

A Buffalo dispatch announces the death of Rollin Gregg, the well known homœopathic physician, author of valuable medical treatises, and president of the International Hahnemann Association. Rollin Gregg was born on a farm in Lenawee county, Michigan, 57 years ago. His early days were like those of every farmer's son. His career is but another illustration of what a sturdy, brainy country boy can do for himself in the world. From the log school house in the pioneer village to the front ranks in an honored and useful profession. Dr. Gregg's ancestors were of the old Granite State and good democratic stock. He married well in Buffalo and leaves a fine family. Miss Ida, his daughter, had just returned from a visit at the White House, Miss Folsom having been her intimate girl friend.

The relatives and friends of Dr. Gregg in Southern Michigan and in this city will read of his death with sincere regret.

The above is clipped from the Toledo Bee. The father of Rollin Gregg lived in Canandaigua, in this county for many years in an early day. He afterwards moved to Adrian and died there some eight or ten years since.

Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain, as an anodyne has no equal in the market. It is without doubt the best liniment. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

THE TURF.

The races at Point Stark on Wednesday drew out a fair crowd of admirers of horseflesh and the afternoon's entertainment was greatly appreciated. The weather was fine as was also the track, which was not as large as that of several weeks ago, the number of "dusters" being [illegible] the uniform was on hand and in [illegible] of their best speed. [illegible] Among the some horses were [illegible] as before, with the exception of the two pacers of Dr. Chase's, Madam and Wilkes, Taylor Boy of Franklin, The Judge stood [illegible] Henry Kaiser, Cambridge. There was considerable rivalry between Bell Cairnes, Bingo and Tipton Boy, and it was a close contest between the two. Bingo is undoubtedly the most honest and fastest trotter of the two, but his opponent has the advantage of being a great gainer when he "breaks" and he was sure to break when on the other side of the track behind the corn which grew inside the track and almost hid the horses from view. Consequently passed Bingo at a run.

The three minute race was called at about 3 o'clock and four horses started. Betty Stark, owned by Henry Ferguson of Rome, Harmon's Texas Jim, of Saline, Kelley's Fannie K., of Milan, and Kinney's Kitty K., of Madison. Betty Stark had the pole and took the lead but was passed by Texas Jim, and the half mile was passed with Jim first, Kittie K. second, Betty Stark third and Fannie K. last, which order was kept to the finish. In the second heat Fannie K. was drawn, and Texas Jim had an easy time, coming in about a length ahead of Kittie K. with Stark almost distanced. Texas Jim broke at the start on the third heat and Betty Stark took the lead but was passed by Kittie K., who came in about half a length ahead of Jim, which gave her the heat and Jim two heats. In the final heat Kittie K. had the pole, but was passed at the half-stretch by Jim who kept the lead and won the race, thus carrying off the first prize which was a fine new single harness. Kittie K. and Stark each secured a blanket. Below is the score:

Betty Stark	3 3 3 3
Texas Jim	1 1 2 1
Fannie K.	4 0 0 0
Kittie K.	2 2 1 2

There was two starters in the pacing race—Myrtle A. and Little Wonder, owned by Dr. Alverson of Adrian, and a very pretty little race was the result. Little Wonder took the race, winning two straight heats.

The free for all class proved to be the most exciting race of the afternoon. It had three starters—Cairnes' Bingo, Whelan's Tipton Boy and Bills' Birdie G. Bingo took the pole and kept the lead until about a rod from the finish, when Tipton Boy, who was following close, suddenly broke into a run and passed him coming in about a nose ahead, but the heat was given Bingo, as it was a trotting instead of running race. In the second heat Bingo and Tipton Boy kept about tie until around behind the corn, when Tipton Boy broke and passed Bingo on a run and took the heat, winning by about four lengths. The third heat also was won by Tipton Boy, which gave him the race, with Bingo second. Birdie G. acted badly, and although gifted with good action, and other great there qualities, it seemed to be an off afternoon for her. Tipton Boy is considerably older than Bingo, and has more staying qualities, and will undoubtedly make a record. No time was given on any of the heats.

C. D. Bills' Hunter gave a fine exhibition, making a mile in 228, and Chan. has reason to be proud of his "flyer." Below is the free for all score:

Bingo	1 2 2
Tipton Boy	2 1 1
Birdie G.	3 3 3

OBITUARY.

Richard C. Moore was born at Hemstead Conn., April 3d 1820. He came West to seek his fortune at the age of twenty-one years and in 1841 he settled in Tecumseh, and embarked in the dry goods trade with Chas. L. Hewitt, the firm name being Hewitt & Moore. Afterwards the firm changed to Moore & Selfridge, and finally Mr. Moore assumed control of the entire business. In 1862 he purchased Geo. W. Ketcham's stock of dry goods and carpets and carried on the business until 1874, when he closed out his stock and moved to Brooklyn N. Y. He then became connected with the firm of Vernham & Hoy, of N. Y. city, and continued with them until his death. On the 5th of July last he went to Aurelius, N. Y. to visit his cousin Mrs. C. L. Chatham, and while there he was stricken with paralysis. He sustained one stroke on the 25th of July and a second on Thursday evening the 29th which terminated fatally. His right side was totally paralyzed and he partially lost power of articulation although his mind seemed unclouded till the last.

On Tuesday Aug. 3d his remains arrived in Tecumseh, where his son C. J. Moore awaited them, and they found their final resting place in our beautiful evergreen cemetery.

He was united in marriage to Nancy L. Hewitt in May, 1845, by whom he had one child, C. J. Moore. She died on the 29th day of March 1847. He was afterwards married again and had one daughter, Lillie A. by a subsequent marriage. These two children survive him. Chas. J. Moore [illegible] daughter, Lillie [illegible] resides at Minneapolis. Their old time Tecumseh friends will deeply sympathize with them in their affliction.

During thirty years, which were [illegible] deceased was a resident and business man of Tecumseh. He accumulated a fair competency in business and established the reputation of being an upright, square dealing, business man. He had hosts of friends among the older residents of Tecumseh and vicinity who will learn of his demise with sincere regret.

DIED.

[illegible] Mrs. [illegible] New Hudson, Mich., Mrs. [illegible] of late village widow of late [illegible] years [illegible]

LETTER LIST.

Tecumseh,

Remaining uncalled for in the Postoffice at Tecumseh, Aug. 10, 1886.

Adams, Chas. R. — Adams, Margaret
Galloway, Robert — Lathe, Leonore E., M.D.

Persons calling for letters in the above list will please say "advertised."

A. STACY, P. M.

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

Apples, ₱ barrel	75 @	1 00
Apples, dried ₱ ₱	10 @	03
Butter, ₱ ₱	10 @	12½
Barley, ₱ bushel	50 @	60
Beans, ₱ bushel	40 @	90
Buckwheat, ₱ bushel	50 @	60
Buckwheat flour, ₱ hundred	3 00 @	3 00
Beef—dressed, ₱ hundred	4 00 @	5 00
Beef Hides	6 @	8
Calf Skins, ₱ ₱	8 @	9
Corn in ear	18 @	20
Corn, shelled	@	45
Clover Seed	@	5
Chickens—dressed	@	8
Eggs, ₱ dozen	@	10
Flour, ₱ barrel	5 00 @	5 75
Hogs—dressed, ₱ cwt	4 00 @	4 50
Hogs—live, ₱ cwt	3 50 @	3 75
Hay, ₱ ton	8 00 @	10 00
Honey, ₱ lb	8 @	14
Ham, ₱ lb	@	10
Lard, ₱ lb	@	7
Oats, ₱ bushel	30 @	35
Onions, ₱ bushel	@	45
Potatoes, ₱ bushel	40 @	50
Salt, ₱ barrel	1 25 @	1 25
Sheepskins	10 @	40
Timothy Seed, ₱ bushel	@	2 25
Turkeys—dressed, ₱ lb	@	8
Wood, ₱ cord	3 00 @	4 00
Wheat, White, ₱ bushel	@	71
Wheat, Red, ₱ bushel	@	71
Wool	26 @	28

ESTATE OF JAMES OSBURN.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, held at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 11th day of August, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of James Osburn, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Charles E. Osburn and Stephen Osburn, executors of the last will and testament of said deceased, alleging that they are now ready to render their third annual account as such executors and praying for the allowance of their final account, and such other and further order and decree as to the Court shall seem proper.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 6th day of September next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A True Copy.

Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

THE STAR

A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration,

Published in the City of New York.

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,

Editor and Proprietor.

Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.

A clean, pure, bright and interesting FAMILY PAPER.

It contains the latest news, down to the hour of going to press.

Agricultural, Market, Fashion, Household, Political, Financial and Commercial, Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

Departments, all under the direction of trained journalists of the highest ability. Its sixteen pages will be found crowded with good things from beginning to end.

Original stories by distinguished American and foreign writers of fiction.

THE DAILY STAR,

The DAILY STAR contains all the news of the day in an attractive form. Its special correspondence by cable from London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Dublin is a commendable feature.

At Washington, Albany, and other news centers, the ablest correspondence is specially retained by the THE STAR, furnish the DAILY STAR with telegraphic.

Its literary features are unsurpassed.

The Financial and Market Reviews are unusually full and complete.

Special terms and extraordinary inducements to agents and canvassers.

Send for circulars.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR TO SUBSCRIBERS, FREE OF POSTAGE in the United States and Canada, outside the limits of New York City:

Per year	$1 25
Clubs of Ten	10 00
Clubs of Fifteen (and one extra to organizer)	15 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR TO SUBSCRIBERS:

Every day for one year (including Sunday)	$7 00
Daily, without Sunday, one year	6 00
Every day, six months	3 50
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3 00

Address, THE STAR,
26 and 28 North William St., New York.

N. W. AYER & SON
ADVERTISING AGENTS
TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA
(Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.)
Receive Advertisements for this Paper.
ESTIMATES for MINIMUM ADVERTISING FREE
Send 10c. in Stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder
You can safely place your best horse in them—not under control. Sent C.O.D. on receipt of price. Agents wanted. Sample by mail, 25c. Circulars free.
L. F. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

COME TO US
FOR YOUR
CLOTHING.

Our stock is large and complete with a wide range of styles and prices. We have made great efforts to obtain the best styles and qualities, and have marked them at a very small margin above cost.

Our Low Prices will Please You.

KIES BROS.,
ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

O. B. DeWOLF, President. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Request that you get their prices on

HARD COAL!

Before putting in your orders for your winter's supply.

Office, Mill and Yards on Shawnee St., near L. S. & M. S. Depot,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

TELEPHONE.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

The Frame is composed entirely of wrought iron and stoved with oven underneath, the top holds the automatic electric principal of lighting, which after the generating burner has been started enables you to handle and have the balance of the burners ready for immediate use by simply turning their respective valves.

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

GARLAND STOVES AND RANGES

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HOUSE FOR SALE.—On Mill st. in Brown ville. Enquire of CAROLINE COLE.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The partnership heretofore existing between Geo. W. Clark and Ambrose B. Clark is this day dissolved. GEORGE W. CLARK. AMBROSE B. CLARK.

NOTICE.—George W. Clark is authorized to collect all outstanding accounts and settle the business of the late firm. AMBROSE B. CLARK.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A [illegible] J. V. KENEY'S STORE.

NOTICE.—[illegible] W. C. BRODFENB.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.—The Democratic electors for the township of Tecumseh are requested to meet at their respective places of [illegible] on Saturday, August 14th, at 4 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the county convention to be held at the city of Adrian, August 16th, and for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the state and congressional conventions. BY ORDER TOWNSHIP COM.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The firm of Parker & Babcock this day dissolves partnership by mutual consent. L. A. Babcock withdraws from the firm and Alva Parker remains in the old store and carries on the business, and pays all claims and collects all debts due the late firm of Parker & Babcock. ALVA PARKER. Britton, July 14, 1886. L. A. BABCOCK.

PROHIBITION COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Prohibition county and representative convention for Lenawee county will meet at the opera house, Adrian, Aug. 24th, at 10 o'clock, A.M., to nominate full county and legislative tickets. Each township and ward will be entitled to six delegates and the same number of alternates. Prompt attendance at 10 o'clock is necessary, as part of the work of the convention must be done before noon, the congressional convention being called for the same day and place at two o'clock, P.M. Prof. Sam'l Dickie, candidate for governor, will give an address in the afternoon.

G. P. WARING, Chairman Co. Com.
P. B. CHASE, Secretary " "

THE PROHIBITION CONVENTION for the second congressional district, consisting of Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties, will meet at the opera house in Adrian, Tuesday, Aug. 24, at 2 o'clock P.M., to place in nomination a candidate for Congress. Basis of representation the same as for state conventions, or five for each representative district.

G. P. WARING, Chairman Cong. Com.
Dated, Ridgeway, Aug. 4, 86.

MEETINGS, CONVENTIONS, ETC.

Aug. 13th, Friday—Tecumseh Union S. S. Picnic at Devils Lake.

Aug. 14th, Saturday—Tecumseh Republican Town Caucus.

Aug. 14th, Saturday—Democratic County Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 16th, Monday—Republican County Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 17th, Tuesday—Greenback State Convention, at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 17th, Tuesday—Prohibition County Convention at Hillsdale.

Aug. 18th, Wednesday—Democratic State Convention at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 19th, Thursday—Republican Congressional Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 19, Thursday, to Aug. 21, Saturday—G. A. R. Encampment at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Aug. 24th, Tuesday—Prohibition Congressional and County Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 25th, Wednesday, Democratic Congressional Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 25th, Wednesday—Republican State Convention at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 31st, Tuesday, to Sept. 3d, Friday—G. A. R. Encampment at Hillsdale.

Ex-Supervisors Alf James and C. A. Stacy went to Devils Lake this morning to attend the reunion.

Mrs. Milo Dobe, nee Jennie Anthony, arrived home yesterday from Auburn, Ind., to visit her many friends.

Mrs. Lucius Lilley and Mrs. Blanchard returned this morning from a week's visit at Beardsell's Landing.

E. W. Frease of Clinton, was in town this morning. He will attend the reunion of Supervisors at Devils Lake, to day.

Mrs. L. G. North and Asa Stevens went to Adrian last Monday, and while there were the guests of Miss May Henderson at "Honor Cottage," Reform School.

Mr. Wells, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a nephew of the late Mrs. R. P. Bacon, was in town early in the week, having come out to attend to the arrangements for the funeral.

Spencer Lester went to St. Louis, Mich., last week to attend the ordination of his brother, S. C. Lester, to work as a minister of the gospel in the Baptist faith. He passed the examination finely.

About one hundred passengers from this vicinity, who went to the picnic at Beardsell's yesterday got fast on a sand bar coming across the lake to take the return train and were left over night.

A large crowd was present at the milk-maid social at Wm. Bayden's spacious lawn last evening, and an enjoyable time was the result. Knapp's band discoursed music for the occasion, appearing in their nob by new uniforms. We understand the net receipts were $12.

There was a big crowd at the Farmer's picnic yesterday at Beardsell's Landing. The editor of the HERALD went up on the morning train, expecting to return in the evening. The last we heard from him he was endeavoring to pray the "City of Hudson" off a sand bar in the middle of Devil's Lake. He will probably put in an appearance before Sunday, as he has conscientious scruples about breaking the Sabbath.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., AUG. 12, 1886.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

[illegible] up several picnic parties.

M. P. Brown made a trip to Ann Arbor last week on business.

Several Tecumseh people took in the excursion to Devils Lake last Sunday.

[illegible] for Lansing, to reside with William and Anna Blood.

We take pleasure in inserting this week an interesting vacation letter from Rev. W. H. Rabbitt.

The Misses Dena and Hannah Heesen spent a day or two at Devils Lake the fore part of the week.

The Timothy Deuel property was sold last week at administrator's sale. Geo. Smith was the purchaser.

The State Teachers' Institute for Monroe County will be held at Dundee, commencing Aug. 16th, next Monday.

Miss Mamie Crowell of Cleveland, is at Mr. Bresie's. She will spend the winter at Decatur Ill., at her uncle's, William Bresie's.

The HERALD force spent a portion of their time cleaning house last week. Mr. D. Holmes put on the finishing touches with his paint brush and the entire office looks as good as new.

Mr. Custer is enjoying his visit at Lt. Elliott Gray's first rate. He says it will take only two days to go home to Monroe to vote and he can then return and finish his visit.

Mrs. Gen. Geo. Custer of Monroe, was the guest, last Sabbath, of Lt. Elliott Gray. She returned Monday morning. She had a most delightful visit, but Mr. Gray's family regretted that she could not have prolonged her stay a few days.

At the Tecumseh Democratic caucus held last Saturday, the following delegates were chosen to attend the Democratic County convention on the 14th.: D. McNair, Geo. A. Kies, J. F. N. Bowen, Alf. James, Fred. B. Wood, Abe. Hanford.

Prof. J. R. Miller and family are spending about two weeks with friends in Ridgeway and Tecumseh. Prof. Miller has been engaged for his eighth year as principal of the Constantine schools. The Tecumseh graduates are succeeding wherever they go.

The Universalist Sabbath School picnic being postponed on account of the weather, will be held Wednesday, Aug. 18th, in Adams grove. The church and its friends are cordially invited. Should it rain that day it will be held the first pleasant day following. BELLE WOODEN, Sec.

This clipping from the Ionia Evening Mail shows that Lavern Wheeler is at his old tricks, viz. making good landscape views.

A full set of photographs, artist's size, has been taken of the churches and public buildings of Ionia by Mr. L. F. Wheeler. They are by far the finest negatives we have seen, and the only complete set yet taken of those buildings.

A most bewitching picture is being brought out, entitled "Little Sweethearts." Probably no picture in any part of the world has ever met with such an outburst of applause. It is being brought out by Graham & Millar, Art Publishers, 146 Centre Street, New York. Everybody is sure to want one. They want good agents. Here is a chance to make lots of money. Boys and girls during summer vacation can make a little pile. It isn't often we recommend anything, but "Little Sweethearts" is praised by the best people in the land.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring. Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, then to multiply it by two, then add 5, then multiply it by 50 then add her age, then subtract 365, then add 115, then ask her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures at the right will denote her age, and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, the amount is 822; she is 22 years old, and was born in the eighth month (Aug.) Try it.

Next Saturday afternoon, Aug. 14, will be held the second of a series of speed contests at Adrian. Following is the program. First race will be called at 1:30 P. M.

Three minute trotting race—First, $16; second, $12; third, $8; fourth, $4.

Free-for-all pacing—First, $20; second, $10; third, $6; fourth, $4.

Free-for-all trotting—First, $30; second, $20; third, $15; fourth, $10.

Best three in five, mile heats. Any entrance fee of ten per cent. of each purse will be charged, amount to be deposited at time of making entry. Five to enter, three to go. The track is in fine condition and fine sport may be expected. The awards will be paid in full. Admission, 25 cents; no charge for teams. For entry or further particulars, appy to E. L. Mills, Adrian, Mich.

Fred Landgraf of Adrian, was in town Monday.

[illegible] is visiting her mother and friends.

J. P. Slayton has returned from Ypsilanti with health very much improved.

Arrangements are taken up at Morenci to be held on the fair grounds.

John Heesen has his steamboat completed and will try it this week on the red mill pond.

The Republicans of Tecumseh will hold their township caucus next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

Misses Ella Covington and Hattie Bates were the guests of Miss Grace [illegible] of Adrian, last week.

E. S. Clarkson of Detroit, was visiting his father's family and other Macon friends the first of the week.

Geo. Pardington is enjoying his visit in Tecumseh very much, and expects to remain here about one week longer.

The new boiler for the creamery arrived last Monday and has been put in position. John W. Cook built the arch and did the mason work.

Morris Conklin, of Elmwood, Ill., is spending a week or two with his Tecumseh friends. This is his first visit since he moved out there, about eighteen months ago.

The Lenawee County Pioneer Society will hold a meeting at Grange hall in Macon early in September. The exact date will be soon fixed upon and a program arranged.

Rev. J. M. Getchell, by special invitation, will preach in the M. E. church at Raisin Valley on the topic, "What we believe," on Sabbath afternoon, Aug. 23d, at three o'clock.

Geo. Miles, editor of the Clinton Local, has been spending a few days at his old home in Petoskey. During his absence C. D. Keyes manipulated the editorial pencil to good acceptance.

Workmen have been engaged this week in putting a vibrating telephone of the Lamont patent, connecting Dr. Steinhoff's dentist office with his residence. It will prove a great convenience.

Hugh Richards of Jackson, was in town Monday and Tuesday. He came down chiefly to visit his brother John in Raisin. Mr. Richards is always welcomed by his old acquaintances here.

Wm. Delamater, an old Tecumseh boy, is spending a few days with his brother-in-law, Geo. Spafford. Will has served in the British army and been nearly all over the world in the past thirty years.

We are indebted to Mr. N. Gowdy for an opportunity to examine the Thomsonville Press, published at his old home in Connecticut. It is a first class country newspaper, well edited, and possessing a fine advertising patronage.

Program of Commencement week at the Agricultural College: Sunday, Aug. 15, 3 P. M., Baccalaureate address by President Willits. Tuesday, Aug. 17, 8 P. M., Lecture, Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden. Wednesday, Aug. 18, 10 A. M., Commencement exercises. Wednesday, Aug. 18, 8 to 10 P. M., President's reception.

R. H. Folwell, of Minnesota, brother-in-law to Prof. Hammond, with his wife, have been the guests of Prof. Hammond for a few days. Yesterday they all set out for White Pigeon to be gone about two weeks. The ladies went by railroad and the gentlemen will drive through with the Professor's horse and buggy.

The official calls for the Prohibition County and Congressional conventions appear among our special notices. Both conventions will be held at Adrian on the 24th, and Prof. Samuel Dickie, their candidate for Governor, will deliver an address in the afternoon. It is intended to make this the opening gun of the campaign.

Mr. J. S. Kinney has rented the old Agricultural Works building and will immediately utilize a portion of it for the manufacture of his new spring bed and for a repair shop. He has some notion also, of fixing over the lower story and moving his retail store therein. He has rented the third story to Goodrich & Tansley for their cigar box factory.

John Tansley has bought C. A. Slayton's interest in the cigar box business and the new firm of Goodrich & Tansley have rented the third floor of the old Agricultural Works in which to carry on their business. They will have lots of room there and ought to be able to work up a fine business. We wish the new firm abundant success.

A railroad and steamboat excursion will be given over the Wabash road next Saturday, Aug. 14th. The steamer Milton D. Ward, will convey passengers to Keweenaw Island, where they will have seven hours for fishing and rowing. Below is the time table and rates of fare.

LEAVES	A. M.	ROUND TRIP
Adrian	6:50	$2.00
Raisin Center	7:00	1.90
Holloway	7:05	1.65
Britton	7:20	1.50
Cones	7:30	1.45
Milan	7:40	1.35

Al. Heesen is spending the week at Bay City.

Frank Swick is clerking in Rawson's confectionary store.

A Knights of Labor assembly has been organized at Ingersoll.

Geo. Van Tyne attended a soldier's reunion at Coldwater last Tuesday.

F. L. Nixon, of Adrian, was the guest of H. M. Temple last Monday.

Mrs. Wm. M. Wright and family of Erie, Pa., are guests of A. W. Slayton.

A. H. Briggs, probate register of Adrian, was in town last Saturday.

Congressman Ellsworth returned home from Washington on Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Lambert, of Adrian, have returned from a ten days' visit to Traverse City.

We learn that Sam James is the father of a boy baby and congratulations are in order.

I. P. Keyser started last Tuesday for a trip up North. He expects to be gone about two weeks.

Wm. Hayden is repairing the mill dams this week and consequently the pond has been allowed to run dry.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Holmes went to Cambridge last Monday to visit their daughter who lives near Dewey lake.

President D. S. Stephens of Adrian will preach in the Presbyterian church of this place next Sabbath, morning and evening.

E. L. Mills, secretary of the Lenawee Co. agricultural society, was in town Saturday, and took in the sport at Bills' track.

The Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co. have shipped a car load of interior butternut finishings for a fine residence in Jackson.

Six Toledo bicyclers got off the excursion train last Sunday. One of them manipulated a tricycle. They rode over to Adrian.

Once again Mrs. M. A. Freeman would respectfully call the attention of those indebted to her to call and settle their accounts at an early day.

The man with a trained bear exhibited on the streets last Monday. Brain performed many fantastic tricks and showed himself fully equal to his master in intelligence.

Nathan Morse, who had the misfortune to break his wrist one day last week, is on the mend, and is able to be out again, but he is compelled to carry his left arm in a sling.

Dr. W. M. Case, of Marengo, Mich., an old Cambridge boy, spent last week with relatives near his old home. He was called home by the dangerous condition of his brother-in-law, Wm. A. Beebe.

Jas. A. Curry has purchased his partner's interest in the barber business, and will hereafter run the shop alone. He will keep the same quarters and be prepared to serve his customers as promptly as usual.

H. M. Temple returned last Monday from a trip to Chautauqua, cattaraugus, Niagara and other points in Western New York. He feels much invigorated by his trip and resumes his duties in the office prepared to sell more coal and lumber than ever.

The funeral of Mrs. R. P. Bacon was held at the Presbyterian church last Saturday. Prof. Joseph Estabrook, an old personal friend of the deceased, was present to preach the funeral discourse, and the services were quite largely attended by the older residents.

Co. C. have decided to attend the encampment at Fort Wayne, Ind., The boys will leave here on Friday afternoon Aug. 20th, and return on the following Monday. This will be probably the largest encampment held in the West this season, except the National G. A. R. encampment now in session at Kansas City.

A superstitious subscriber, who found a spider in his paper, wants to know if it is considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was merely looking over the columns of the paper to see what merchant was not advertising, so that it could spin its web across his store door and be free from disturbance. Hudson Gazette.

The new creamery building is located at the foot of Pottawatamie St., two blocks east of Maumee street. It is near the M. & O. depot and is in a very convenient location. The building is being rapidly pushed forward and will be finished by the first of September. The Ohio & Mich. Coal and Mfg. Co. furnished the lumber and finished stuff.

A Hudson sportsman puts it this way. When you get your boat anchored and your line cast, and the fish begin to gather about the bait, along comes one of those wheezing, snorting lake fiends with a scream of whistle and sound of gong, and if you get a fish within a mile of you after it has churned the water, you're a good one. And when a steamboat is of threatening to run you down, some massive sailboat is splashing about filling every fish in the lake within terror.

THE SAN FRANCISCO TOURISTS.

COOLIDGE, KAN., July 26.

[illegible] bothered with many stops, caused by washouts and we are now twenty four hours behind schedule time. We arrived in Kansas City in the forenoon of Monday and [illegible] obtained there nearly four hours. We did not go down into the city however, for fear of losing the train. At this point we met the ohio delegation in eight Pullman coaches with [illegible] having over 100 on board and were met by the 5th Ohio band with 27 pieces. This is a superior band and gave a grand concert. Here there was a grand rush for tickets, as all tickets must be secured here and the regular rate [illegible] I failed to secure just the ticket I wished, and so did the best I could under the circumstances. From San Francisco I shall return to Ogden, thence by the Denver & Rio Grande R. R. to Denver and thence to Kansas City. I then shall pay fare from the latter place to Amalia and from thence to Chicago via. the Rock Island route. At Kansas City we were met by a delegation of ladies from Topeka inviting us to a reception in that city, and upon our arrival there we were treated to an excellent dinner in a big tent. It was announced that we would remain here until midnight, and hence we availed ourselves of the opportunity to look over the city. Twenty years ago Topeka was a small western village. To day it has 30,000 inhabitants. Many of the buildings are very substantial ones, and the streets are wide. All the avenues and main streets are 120 feet wide and the others are 100 feet in width. The ordinary residence streets are as wide as Chicago St. in Tecumseh. Most of the streets have two rows of shade trees on each side of the drive-way, and when the trees are fully grown it will be a beautiful city. Fine buildings are going up very rapidly, and the city is having a marvellous growth. The two wings of the State Capitol are now finished and the foundation laid of the central part. It will be a fine public building when completed but will not compare however with the Michigan state capitol. The Ohio delegation arrived shortly after ours and were entertained in the same hospitable manner. We all stayed until midnight and a big camp fire was held in the tent. As I was very tired, I turned in at nine P. M. and the first word I heard the next morning was, "Breakfast at Florence."

Thanks to a little forethought we laid in a fine supply of fresh provisions at Topeka. Mr. Hosmer's sister, by our request had forwarded a supply from Tecumseh and it was all ready for us. That is the way to travel and live well on such a trip, especially in such rushing times. It reminds one of the Centennial rushes in 1876.

Corn is the chief crop here. It looks well and oats also are fine. Winter wheat is raised of a fair quality. A farmer showed me some samples of some to day. The average yield is from 25 to 30 bushels per acre and prices range from 35 to 45 cents per bushel. Most of the houses are small frame structures and but few farms have any barns. To day we have seen a few sod houses and dug-outs.

This is the Sabbath. Past Chaplain in Chief Shanefelt is with us, whom you will remember as the person whom Beer's Post turned out to hear preach at the Baptist church in Tecumseh about a year ago. About ten A. M. he came in accompanied by a few singers and suggested religious services. The noise of the train would prevent the delivery of a regular discourse, but they sang the hymn "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Then the Chaplain read the 23d and 27th psalms, and delivered a beautiful and appropriate prayer. We then sang "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "The Star spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs.

For a Sunday lunch in our car we had two water melons as big as bushel baskets. We were detained at Great Bend about an hour and while there two Frenchmen came along with trained bears and gave us quite a Sunday exhibition.

We arrived at Dodge City at 1 P. M. and remained there until ten in the evening. This is a town of nearly 900 with a large floating population, and is growing very rapidly. Quite a number of brick stores are now being built that would be an honor to Tecumseh, with galvanized iron cornice and cut stone trimmings. They are erecting a school building to cost $10,000 and have one, nearly as good, completed. Very prolific of children you see for the size of the town. Although it is Sunday in a Prohibition state, the boys tell me they have no trouble to find plenty of beer. The only trouble is it costs fifty cents a bottle.

This is a great country for Drug Stores. We see them in abundance all through the state. In front of one, I yesterday counted 7 cases containing bottles, such as I often see in Tecumseh going into our saloons. The absence of saloons to be make drug stores a necessity. They reap the profits of the traffic and are exempted from the taxes imposed upon the saloons.

During the night we moved on and at daylight we arrived at Coolidge where we made a brief halt. There [illegible] over the practice to hold claims we are told. Here we first saw the prairie dog, wild cactus and sage brush. Our train is now twenty four hours behind [illegible] we should reach San Francisco Sunday evening or Monday morning, but that is too far ahead to count on with any certainty.

W. H.

Legoy Blood, of Lansing, is spending a few days in town.

Dan Cunningham is fishing in the lakes at Devils Lake this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Merritt are visiting relatives at Big Rapids this week.

Miss Leona Russell, of Toledo, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Viola Zeisel.

Floyd Hostwick expects to start his new barber shop in the Bardwell store tomorrow.

Rev. F. Adkins will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church next Sabbath morning.

PUT-IN-BAY EXCURSION.

The Michigan and Ohio railroad will run another cheap excursion to Put-in-Bay on Tuesday, Aug. 24th, and we give the schedule of prices and time table below:

LEAVE	A.M.	ROUND TRIP
Battle Creek	5:00	$1.75
Ceresco	5:10	1.75
Marshall	5:34	1.65
Wilders	5:44	1.65
Eckford	5:54	1.65
Homer	6:05	1.55
Pulaski	6:30	1.50
Hanover	6:42	1.45
Moscow	6:53	1.45
Jerome	7:03	1.40
Adrian	7:22	1.35
Devils Lake	7:31	1.35
Onsted	7:46	1.25
Tipton	8:00	1.25
Tecumseh	8:18	1.20
Ridgeway	8:28	1.20
Britton	8:33	1.15
Clarksville	8:48	1.15

Arrive at Toledo at 10:00 A. M.

The train will leave the passengers at the dock where a steamer will convey them to the island. Returning the boat will reach Toledo at 8 P. M. and the train will leave immediately after, giving excursionists two hours at the beautiful Island. This will be a rare chance to visit that famous resort and everyone should take advantage of it.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

VILLAGE OF TECUMSEH,
COUNCIL ROOM, Aug. 2, 1886.

Regular Session. Present, The President, Messrs. Ames, Cook, Heck, and James.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The Marshal reported the collection during the month of July of the sum of $1030.05, less two per cent reduction, of the taxes for current year. Also the service of two health notices, and trimming of shade trees, with a total of 19 days labor. There have been seven persons confined in the lock-up. Accepted and filed.

NEW BUSINESS.

The following claims were presented and on motion referred to the finance committee:

H. W. Stevens, Marshal, $23.90; Robt. McGill, labor, $12.00; J. L. Waldo, labor, $3.00; A. James, bill rend. $7.66; Milan Sage, bill rend. $98.62; Ohio and Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co., bill rend. $71.15.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The finance committee reported favorably upon above bills as referred. Accepted and adopted and orders directed drawn for the several amounts.

On motion Council then adjourned.

A. JAMES, Recorder, pro tem.

If you wish any painting, graining or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh. D. H. HOLMES.

I am receiving daily by express Fresh White Fish, Mackinaw Trout and dressed Cat Fish. You can get them every day in the week at the M. S. express office. H. L. JONES.

Dr. G. F. Sayer invites all persons in need of dental work to give him a call. He keeps in line with all improvements and his customers can rely upon first class work at reasonable rates. Give him a call.

Ice Cream at Rawson's. 6

Remember, you can buy Cigars for one dollar cash of C. A. Slayton.

Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, Sherbet and Lemonade at Rawson's.

You can buy a fine single or display harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Slayton's.

Ice Cream by the quart or gallon at Rawson's.

FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS.—When you want something extra nice and choice for a wedding or Sunday dinners, call Heck Bros. White Front Hair. It will hit the spot exactly.

Large stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices. C. A. SLAYTON.

After the most exhaustive practical tests in hospitals and elsewhere, the gold medal and certificate of highest merit were awarded to St. Jacobs Oil, as the best pain-curing remedy, at the Paris International Exhibition.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS

PRUDE WOOD

C. A. MAC

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

HOTELS.

CENTRAL HOTEL, ADRIAN, MICH.

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Dealer in High Class Thoroughbred Poultry. Eggs Fresh and Pure. Send for Illustrated Circular Free

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium are now aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Double Chloride Cure is now administered to patients at home, without suffering, and that the so-called "Opium Cures" contain not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and are [illegible] while rapidly reducing the morphine taken down to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business and others who have had doses administered by the so-called "Opium Cures" sent free on receipt of stamp. Address, The Keeley Institute, [illegible] Mich.

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
DWIGHT, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS!
Cured in from three to five days.

ZOA-PHORA.

—WOMAN'S FRIEND.

GIRLS! Healthy, perfect development and loveliness of form. Over-worked Women, Exhausted Mothers, and Invalids prolapsed.

Cures pain and weakness, promotes cheerfulness, increases the vital forces, prevents premature decay, prolongs life, and brings joy and happiness to the home circle. Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of price, $1.00 per bottle. Circulars free.

Sold by druggists. Address, ZOA-PHORA MEDICINE CO., 123 Main Street, Kalamazoo, Mich.

N. B.—Letters marked "Private" are seen only by our Private Secretary and consulting Physician.

H. O. COLMAN, Private Secretary.

W. W. MARSH,

Proprietor of

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL.

DR. WYNYARD'S PATIENT.

Dr. Wynyard was a world-renowned practitioner [illegible] He had selected [illegible] National Hotel as the [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr. Burton was [illegible] Mrs. Burton [illegible]

Dr. Wynyard, who knew something of the world, was not [illegible] but he was amused [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Burton as the carriage [illegible]

"I am quite content with the arrangement you seaford suggests," interposed Mrs. Burton [illegible]

"Why, [illegible] was nothing more to be said, and Dr. Wynyard was [illegible] had spoken to her afterward, that [illegible] recollection of her [illegible] the doctor in a manner that [illegible] other.

Within a week from this episode Mr. Burton died. The doctor was not present at the death, but he had been with the patient [illegible] before and was summoned immediately afterward. There was no [illegible] of the poor fellow had died of his last attack. The doctor gave the necessary [illegible] and rendered the will [illegible] was [illegible] he could to arrange for the funeral. Mrs. Burton bore her affliction with great composure, having evidently steeled herself for the ordeal. She followed her husband to the grave, she and the doctor being the only mourners. She accounted for this by explaining that what relations, but [illegible] and were jealous of [illegible] station, residing in the country.

The day after Mr. Burton was buried Dr. Wynyard escorted the widow to the office of his friend, James Seaford, who [illegible] this gentleman the doctor had led over the will of the dead man in accordance with his request, and having formally introduced the lawyer to his new client, he left Mrs. Burton and Mr. Seaford together.

[illegible]

"I wish I had thought to ask him," said Dr. Wynyard, "he must be a brother of a lady I once knew. I never saw such an extraordinary resemblance in my life—form, voice, eyes, and manner. I could not at first think what made his features appear so familiar to me. But I've just recognized whom he reminds me of."

Oddly enough Dr. Wynyard was destined to be reminded of Mrs. Burton the first thing on his arrival in England, just as she had been brought to his mind on the last thing before he left America. On the day he reached his home his wife informed him that his friend, Mr. Seaford, the lawyer, had been making particular inquiries as to the date of his return, and that same evening the lawyer came.

"Come to dinner you, old fellow, immediately upon your return, but some very queer facts have come to light concerning poor Mrs. Burton and introduced to me as Mrs. Burton," said the lawyer.

"What is the matter?" inquired Dr. Wynyard, with natural curiosity.

"I had a visit while you were away from two brothers of the late Mr. Burton," said Mr. Seaford. "They have never heard of his death until recently, and had come up from Northallam. They found his will at the probate office, and as my name was upon it, they came to me."

"What about?" asked the doctor.

"Well, in the first place, they disputed the signature," said the lawyer. "You pointed out that you had witnessed it, and that the signature of a sick man frequently differs from his ordinary handwriting."

"I saw him sign it," said the doctor, unhesitatingly.

"Quite so," said then they took a more serious objection. They declare their brother was a widower."

"So he may have been once. For all I know Mrs. Mrs. Burton was his second wife. I dare say she was."

"So I suggested," said Mr. Seaford, "and I produced her marriage certificate, which I happened to have among my papers. It was the certificate she handed me herself."

"Well?"

"Well, the brothers swear that Clara Newcombe, the person named in the certificate, and who was married to their [illegible] and they have since furnished me with a certificate of her death. Here are both certificates. You can inspect them."

"It is singular, certainly," said the doctor, scrutinizing the documents, "but you know what women are [illegible]"

"I understand there was no mistake," said the lawyer, [illegible]

"The brothers say so," replied his friend. "[illegible] Like enough it is [illegible] you. Good heavens! It is—it is Mr. Ambrose Tucker!" cried Dr. Wynyard, more and more astonished.

"Who on earth is he?"

"Mrs. Burton," said the doctor as the truth flashed upon his startled understanding. "I see it all. Scoundrel Ambrose Tucker, the man I met in New York, and Mrs. Burton are the same person. He disguised himself as a woman."

"[illegible] that he was Burton, isn't he?" at last gasped the lawyer quickly.

"If this is Burton," said Dr. Wynyard, emphatically as he pointed to the photograph, "I saw him the other day in New York. What is more, I can convince you that the supposed Mrs. Burton was the same person."

"Then who was the deceased?"

The two heads started at one another [illegible] for some moments, and then the lawyer suddenly rose from his seat.

"Wynyard, there has been a barefaced swindle," he said impressively. "It was evidently a plot concocted by this man Burton to get possession of his own insurance money. Do you remember the legacy in the will to Charlotte Emilia?"

"Yes. Who was she?"

"The wife of John Emilia, and I'll guarantee that it was John Emilia who personated Burton," said Mr. Seaford, excitedly. "When the woman came up to town to receive her legacy I was struck by her manner."—London Truth.

Ancient Poison-Mongers of Italy.

The fact is that a single dose of crude arsenic or arsenious acid proves fatal only under very exceptional circumstances. Two hundred years ago the poison-mongers of southern Italy would take formal contracts to remove obnoxious individuals by a specified time, but their Aqua Tofana was a highly concentrated decoction of universized arsenic, producing, in repeated doses, an effect resembling the symptoms of a hectic fever, and Buffalo and note would now always be apt to save the patient even in the last stage of his decline.—Dr. Felix L. Oswald.

Useful Arms in Peaceful Times.

The governor of Algeria has discovered a use for standing armies in time of peace. The greater part of the grain crop, he reports, has just been saved by turning the soldiers loose on the insects and destroying locusts. Nearly three cubic meters of locusts' eggs and 1,700 cubic meters of crickets were destroyed. The troops were employed for this purpose, and the report, regarded as a work of [illegible] nature, is said commentary on the use of the army, especially for work.—New York World.

Extension of the Rain Belt.

Professor Angström, by a careful test, that prairie soil, which had been broken up by plowing, contained, immediately after rain, nine times as much moisture as adjoining unbroken soil, and this seems to explain the extension of the rain belt westward. Let such broken up soil become covered with shrubs and trees, and annually mulched by their falling leaves, and it will continue absorbent and retentive of moisture without losing any of its substance and its fertility.—Chicago Times.

In Lieu of Lath and Plaster.

A Pittsburg house-builder in the construction of his edifices, uses matched flooring in lieu of laths and plaster for the sides and ceilings of the rooms. On this collich cloth is glued, and upon that wall-paper is pasted. He says that it is better and cheaper than plaster, and cold weather does not hinder work.—Chicago Times.

Not Afraid of the Prince.

The boys on the New York wharves recognize Prince Augusto of Brazil whenever he comes ashore from the Brazilian warship, and ask him for cigar stubs just as if he was an everyday citizen. The prince usually complies by tossing a package of cigarettes into the crowd.—Boston Transcript.

Decrease of English Church Revenues.

Church revenues have fallen off very greatly in England, according to London reports. A decrease of over $150,000 is reported in one case, and $50,000 in another within the period specified.—Chicago Herald.

Cost of a Perfect War Ship.

An English naval architect, in a recent lecture before the Royal Naval college, stated that a war ship, to be even approximately perfect, should weigh about 25,000 tons, and cost at least $10,000,000.

Paul Hayne once described a cyclone, which he viewed from the windows of his cottage, as "the unclassified blasphemies of hell."

IMMUNITY from ANNOYANCE

Made only of the finest and best quality of Glass for withstanding heat.

Every good thing is Counterfeited, and consumers are CAUTIONED against IMITATIONS of these Chimneys made of VERY POOR GLASS. See that the exact label is on each chimney as above. The Pearl Top is always clear and bright Glass.

Manufactured ONLY by

GEO. A. MACBETH & CO.

Pittsburgh Lamp Glass Works.

FOR SALE BY DEALERS.

DR. CLARKE

NO. PEELI (ESTABLISHED 1871.) Mc. III STREET.

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON still treating with the greatest SKILL AND SUCCESS all PRIVATE, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN and all persons who by their own acts of imprudence or folly at any period of life have brought upon themselves the evil effects following closely upon the heels of transgression of the laws of nature, should consult the celebrated Dr. Clarke at once. Remember! Nervous diseases such as nervous dread or debility and loss of nerve power, treated scientifically by new methods with never failing success. It makes no difference what you have taken or who has failed to cure you.

The terrible poisons of Syphilis and all bad blood and skin diseases, completely eradicated without mercury. Remember that this one horrible disease, if neglected or improperly treated, curses the present and coming generations.

All unnatural discharges cured promptly without hindrance to business. No experiments. Both sexes consult confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken.

Sufferers from any chronic disease write History and Symptoms of your case—plainly. Cures effected which others have failed to cure.

Inclose two stamps for celebrated works on Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases. You have over sixty symptomatology by which to state your own case. Consultation, personally or by letter, free. Consult the old Doctor. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private. You see no one but the Doctor. Before confiding your case consult DR. CLARKE. A friend in letter or call may save future suffering and shame and add golden years to life. Medicine sent everywhere secure from exposure. Hours, 8 to 8; Sundays, 9 to 12. Address,

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

DR. SANFORD'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

It is constantly effecting the most wonderful cures, while the unparalleled testimony with which it meets stamps it at once as the greatest medicine of the age for outward application.

The most incredulous are astonished, and the most skeptical are compelled to believe in the power of this great remedy.

WHAT IT CURES.

All Sores, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Sore Throat, Inflammation, Piles, Inflammation of Lungs, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Affection of the Spine, Erysipelas, Nervous Irritation, and all disorders attended with Inflammation.

It never fails to restore the diseased functions of the skin and expel the poison from the blood. By the application of this ointment pain is quickly subdued, and the parts affected are speedily restored to a healthy condition.

Over 40 Years.

This ointment has been used by the people throughout the United States, and our confidence in its qualities is such that we have no space here to enumerate a tithe of the testimonials of cures which have been made public by the grateful. Every family should have a box of this ointment. Those who have never used this invaluable remedy should do so at once. Those who have used it need no urging to induce them to freely state their experience with it to inquiring friends. If but one in a thousand would do this we should be perfectly satisfied with the result. Full directions for use will be found on pamphlet around each bottle.

Price, 25 cents per box, containing 12 ounces, or 3 boxes for $1.00. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

If your druggist does not happen to have it handy, he can easily obtain a supply of it for you from his wholesale jobber, or you can order direct of us, and less trouble.

D. RANSOM, SON & CO., Proprietors,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

K. B.

KING OF THE BLOOD

The Most Thorough Purifier of the Blood Yet Discovered.

Cures all Humors, from a common blotch to the worst Scrofula.

It purifies the Blood.
It invigorates the Liver.
It regulates the Bowels.
It strengthens the Nerves.

It gives vivacity in place of lassitude, cheerfulness in place of gloom, and robust vigor in place of debility.

Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Disordered Liver, Constipation, Nervous Affections, General Debility, Heartburn, the numerous diseases and discomforts caused by impure blood are speedily conquered by this wonderful compound, the chief of modern medical discoveries—King of the Blood.

Its name is its best description, as it is a royal disposer of the diseases of ill health and vanquishes them as a king does his foes.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, TUMORS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES, and all NOXIOUS DISCHARGES.

It cures CONSUMPTION in early stages. It has frequently cured it when in advanced.

It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the surgeon's knife.

It cures DROPSY, either in or partial.

It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASE.

It relieves in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.

It eradicates the effects of Venereal Disease and Mercurial Poisons, and establishes a sound constitution.

Many testimonials, much further information and full directions in "King, Will be found in the pamphlet entitled, "King of the Blood," in which each bottle is wrapped.

Price $1 per bottle, containing 12 ounces, or 6 doses. Sold by druggists or sent by express on receipt of price.

D. RANSOM, SON & CO., Proprietors,
BUFFALO N. Y.

N. W. AYER & SON
ADVERTISING AGENTS
TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA
Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.
Receive Advertisements for the Paper
ESTIMATES FOR NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING FREE at Lowest Cash Rates
Send 10c. in stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL

ARE BY FAR THE MOST POPULAR CORSETS EVER INTRODUCED.

CORALINE is superior to whalebone. Cannot be broken. Is used in no goods except those made by Warner Bros.

$10.00 REWARD

For Sale by all Leading Merchants.

WARNER BROS., 359 & 361 Wabash Ave. CHICAGO.

PATENTS!

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

[illegible] Patents taken out by us are brought before the public by a notice given free of charge in the Scientific American. We do not charge any fee till the patent is secured. We advise inventors to consult us. We make no charge for our opinion on patentability. We have no agents in Washington. Our office is the oldest and best known in America. Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, O. A. SNOW & CO., Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D.C.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

THE MARY WOODWARD'S NEW TREATMENT for the diseases of women discovered by that distinguished English Physician and Nurse, and has recently spread over the entire inside of the civilized world. Ladies can now be treated successfully at their own homes, through the mail, with perfect success for one dollar. Month's treatment will be sent free to any lady suffering from any of these diseases, who sends her address and 4c. in stamps to cover postage and mailing. THE NEW TREATMENT will positively cure all forms of female disease and the time from one to three weeks is sufficient to effect a permanent cure. It is put up in plain wrapper with full instructions for self treatment. Only one trial treatment will be sent to one address. Regular price $1.00. Address,

GREEN REMEDY CO., Palmyra, N.Y.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

ADVERTISERS of others who wish to examine papers to obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St. the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

RED STAR

TRADE MARK.

COUGH CURE

SAFE SURE PROMPT. 25 Cts.

ST JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK.

THE GREAT

GERMAN REMEDY

For Pain Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc., etc. PRICE FIFTY CENTS. AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 115. Mail.	No. 117. Express	No. 149 Accom
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	4 15 P.M.
Napoleon	6 44 "	2 35 "	5 00 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 41 "	5 15 "
Manchester	7 02 "	3 00 "	5 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	6 28 "
Tecumseh	7 35 "	3 26 "	6 42 "
Adrian	8 08 "	4 12 "	7 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	6 40 "	.....
Toledo	9 25 "	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 148. Accom.
Detroit	8 50 A.M.	6 15 P.M.	.....
Toledo	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Adrian	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 45 A.M.
Tecumseh	12 01 P.M.	9 34 "	7 10 "
Clinton	12 19 "	9 44 "	8 16 "
Manchester	12 36 "	10 02 "	9 00 "
Norvell	12 40 "	10 18 "	9 25 "
Napoleon	12 49 "	10 27 "	9 55 "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 50 "	10 45 "

☞ Trains run New Standard of 90th Meridian Time

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, TICKET AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE BRITTON:
*Atlantic Express, limited	4 35 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
*Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 24 "
*New York Limited Express	10 31 P.M.
Way Freight	8 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

*St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35 A.M.
*Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Adrian Accommodation	6 18 "
*Pacific Express, Limited	10 07 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

☞ Limited express trains stop only for R. R. passing at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Parlor or Sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. 2 solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest. Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. H. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.
W. H. BURNHAM, Agent, Adrian.
F. CHANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD,

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT July 11, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 5 Pass.	No. 3 Pass.	Central Time. STATIONS.	GOING WEST. No. 2 Pass.	No. 4 Pass.	No. 6
A. M.	P. M.		A. M.	P. M.
11 55	6 45	A...Toledo...L	8 05	4 15
10 10	5 55	Dundee	9 00	5 55
.....	.....	Clarksville	.....	.....
10 00	5 26	Britton	9 26	6 30
9 55	5 20	Ridgeway	9 32	6 35
9 41	5 08	Tecumseh	9 44	6 47
9 5	4 50	Tipton	10 02	7 05
9 10	4 31	Onsted	10 17	7 23
8 52	4 17	Devils Lake	10 31	7 38
8 40	4 05	Addison	10 45	7 50
8 20	3 41	Jerome	11 05	8 11
8 10	3 35	Moscow	11 15	8 21
7 56	3 22	Hanover	11 27	8 31
7 42	3 09	Pulaski	11 40	8 40
7 34	3 02	Homer	11 46	8 45
7 01	2 28	Eckford	12 20	9 50
	2 18	Wilkes
6 40	2 09	Marshall	12 30	9 50
6 25	1 55	Ceresco	12 55	10 05
	1-30	A Battle Crk L	1 25	10 30
6 00	1 10	.....	1 40	P. M.
A. M.	12 41	Augusta	2 08
	12 34	Yorkville	2 15
	12 27	Richland	2 25
	12 05	Doster	2 45
	11 43	Montcalm	3 08
	11 30	Fisk	3 20
	11 25	Kellogg	3 26
	11 10	A...Allegan...L	3 40
	10 10	Holland	5 00
	9 50	Grand Rapids	6 35
	9 32	Grand Haven	5 5
	9 17	Ferrysburg	5 30
	8 10	Muskegon	7 40
	5 50	Pentwater	10 10
A. M.			P. M.

Train No. 2 has a Through Coach daily except Sunday, leaving Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater. A Sleeping Coach leaves the above points via C. & W. M. Railway, each day, except Sunday, arriving in Toledo on Train No. 4 at 6 45 P.M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo—With all Railroads diverging. At Dundee—With T., A. A. & N. M. At Britton—With Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific. At Tecumseh—With L. S. & M. S. At Clinton—With L. S. & M. S. At Hanover—With L. S. & M. S. At Hillsdale—With L. S. & M. S., Air Line Division, and All Line Division of the Mich. Central. At Marshall—With M. C. R. R. At Battle Creek—With Chicago & Grand Trunk, and M. C. R. R. At Moncalm—With Grand Rapids & Indiana. At Allegan—With Chicago & West Mich. and L. S. & M. S.

All Trains daily except Sunday.

GEO. L. BRADBURY, General Receiver.
H. C. PARKER, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
H. F. MATTHEWS, Northwestern Agent, Muskegon, Mich.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

Your lines are where you put them—not under horses' feet. One Agent sold 12 doz. in 6 days; one dealer sold 6 doz. in 15 days. Samples worth $1.50 FREE. Write for terms.

S. L. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

PIANOS ORGANS

The demand for the improved MASON & HAMLIN Pianos is now so large that a second addition to the factory has become imperative. Do not require one-quarter cash, taking as Pianos on the prevailing system of payments, $22 to $500. For Cash, Easy Payments, or Rent.

Consult Catalogue, free.

Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co., NEW YORK, BOSTON, CHICAGO.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Most Excellent.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville Tenn., writes: "My family and ... excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial bottle free at Wright's.

The pickle season is now fully upon us.—Water melons and cucumbers are in the market.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

Visitors to Niagara Falls are more numerous this season than for a number of years before. The hackmen are reaping a harvest.

Those who believe that nature will work off a cough or cold should understand that this is done at the expense of the constitution. Each time this weakness the system, and we all know that the termination of this dangerous practice is a consumptive's grave. Don't take the chances, when a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure will safely and promptly cure any recent cough, cold or throat or lung trouble. Buy the dollar bottle for chronic cases or family use. Sold by Dr. Geo. Ferguson.

It is the "duck of a bonnet" that makes a young girl's head swim.

You will notice how quickly a thoroughly successful article is imitated, and also that the imitations are without merit, as they are, gotten up by unscrupulous parties. Beware of imitations of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. The genuine is sold by Dr. Geo. Ferguson, and promptly cures dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles pimples, ague and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirit headache, or diseases of the kidneys, stomach and liver. Price 50 cents.

"Are you married?" "No." "That's a pity. I was just going to ask you how your wife was."

WOULD YOU BELIEVE it? We are daily guaranteeing Kemp's Sarsaparilla to the people for cleansing the blood and giving a new lease of life. Price $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall.

A Western man has a cyclone cellar which he retires to when his wife commences housecleaning.

TO NIGHT AND tomorrow night, and at all times call on us for Kemp's Pile Suppositories. The new treatment for Piles. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall.

When a miner has been eaten by a grizzly the Western people speak of him as being admitted to the b'ar.

TO ALL MEMBERS of society: Kemp's Balsam will cure your distressing cough. We guarantee it. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

Another Chicago man has invented an aerial machine. People will take desperate chances to get away from Chicago.

THE GUARANTEED remedy, Kemp's Balsam, for the Throat and Lungs. It never fails to cure Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

The conductor said to a young lady: "Miss, your fare." "Well, if I am," she replied, "I don't want any of your impertinence."

A Common Conversation.

"Why do you not look me in the face?" "Because your breath is bad. If you would use Trix you would be much more companionable."

Tradesmen in Madagascar who give short weight are sent to prison for a year. In this country they go to a watering place every summer.

"I'll attend to it soon." Don't cheat yourself in that way. Your hair is growing thinner, dryer and more lifeless every day. Save it and restore its original color, softness and gloss by using Parker's Hair Balsam while you may.

AYER'S HONEY ... 25, 50 ... $1
IRON'S SULPHUR SOAP ...
CORN REMOVER ...
HAIR & WHISKER DYE ...
POND'S TOOTHACHE DROPS ...
DEAN'S RHEUMATIC PILLS ...

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever, are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fifty ninety per cent have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

A TERRIBLE LOSS.

What the Sudden Breaking Down of So Many Men and Women Mean.

A Prominent Physician's Views.

The writer ... view with one of the leading physicians of Kansas City, where some facts came to light which are both startling and valuable. The conversation had turned upon overwork and the strain which constantly falls on the shoulders of men and women of this generation, as it was ... that many of our best men and women are suddenly breaking down, labor seems to be becoming unfitted, and women and mothers less healthy and vigorous than formerly. The fearful strain of business, the shock due to the breaking down of the body, which demands stimulants, than to any other known cause. Men, women and children are growing weaker under some mysterious influence which demands attention. I have tried to ascertain what this influence may be, and I am satisfied that it is due to a lack of sustaining force for the nervous energy and exhaustion which business and society constantly demand. The nerves become shattered and do not regain their former tone. The albumen in the system becomes largely exhausted, and the first thing we know we hear of a sudden giving way, and the sickness or death of some one we had supposed was in perfect health. If some ... troubles it would be a great benefaction to the world."

It is a source of gratitude to be able to chronicle the fact that this source has been found, and that by a rare combination of peptonized beef, hops and malt and called Hop-tonic, the vital forces of life can not only be sustained but restored. The importance of this discovery cannot be too greatly emphasized, and the effect its introduction is having upon the community is most gratifying in the extreme. Men and women lack in energy and ambition in the future they do so with the realization that it might be avoided.

We Caution All Against Them.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head—has induced many adventurers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market, in order to trade upon the reputation of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in highest commendation of it. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price 50 cents.

Coming home at two A. M., he found his wife dressed in deep black, and inquired the reason. "mourning for my late husband," she replied.

The Terrible Drain

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabeling it to entirely overcome diseases.

A land speculator, in describing a lake on an estate, says: "It is so clear and so deep that, by looking into it, you can see them gold digging in Australia."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is designed for those who need a medicine to purify their blood. No other preparation so well meets this want. It increases the appetite and rejuvenates the whole system. Its record, for forty years, is one of constant triumph over diseases.

"Ah, John," she said, just before marriage, "I fear I'm not worthy of you. You are such a good man." "Never mind, Martha! I'll change all that after the wedding."

Parker's Tonic kept in a home is a sentinel to keep sickness out. Used discreetly, it keeps the blood pure, and the stomach, liver and kidneys in working order. Coughs and colds vanish before it. It builds up the health. No wise mother will be without it.

An insane tramp invaded a Tenderloin dram house the other day and informed the mistress of the place that he had a divine commission to clean house for her. He dusted.

A crying baby is a nuisance to the whole neighborhood and the parents should be forced to keep Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup handy. Price 25 cents.

The boys in a St. Louis high school, being asked to name the five greatest journalists in the United States, headed their lists almost unanimously with the name of a local baseball reporter.

DELAND & CO'S

CAP SHEAF SALERATUS SODA

For Baking Purposes. Best in the World

ONE YEAR AGO.

One year ago we sat where tall trees made
Above our heads a sympathetic shade;
The world was all ... the summer, round us every where.

We saw the blue sky through the green leaves;

That happy day ... lay beyond compared,
One year ago.

We saw each other's souls with joy afraid,
Almost away to do as duty bade
O love! the sweet, and knowledge that we shard
Has made all days since then, more dear and fair,
Though silence on our lips her finger laid,
One year ago.

—Carlotta Perry in Hubbard's Magazine.

Curiosities of Confederate Stationery.

Confederate stationery was a thing no less unique and characteristic than the other products of the time. The writing paper, of a dingy salmon color, rough and furzy, was ruled with heavy, glaring blue lines doubtless on the principle that the plainness of the landmarks should be in proportion to the difficulty of the way. But with this paper, such as it was, at $10 a quire, and envelopes in proportion, it was resorted to only after every available bit of paper, every page of old account books, whether already written on one side or not, and even the fly leaves of printed volumes, had been ferreted out and exhausted. Envelopes were made of scraps of wall paper and from the pictorial pages of old books—the white side out—stuck together in some cases with the gum that exudes from peach trees.

Ink had almost as many substitutes as coffee, and with nearly as great a variety of results. Sumac berries, pokeberries, "oak balls," and green persimmons set with rusty nails were oftenest used in concocting the fluids with which we blotted paper. We found that black gum roots made fair corks. One of the very few things, if not the sole thing, that could be achieved with a dime was to post a letter. The ten-cent stamps, which were small and blue, bore a profile to all appearance a compromise between those of the rival presidents.—The Atlantic.

The Duke of Newcastle's Fish.

Some extensive alterations having been undertaken at Clumber park, the magnificent country seat of the duke of Newcastle, it was resolved to drain the great lake in the grounds, and for this purpose the fish were all taken or driven into the adjoining dams that usually regulate the water supply. The lake was deepened and the fish have now been carefully restored to their old quarters. About 12,000 pike were put back and several thousand carp and eels. Many of the pike were very large, some of them weighing forty pounds. There were shoals of tench and perch, and the carp were also of immense size. Clumber lake had not been disturbed for 200 years, so it is probable that many of the pike and carp have attained a patriarchal age. The biggest fish were carried by the keepers in their arms, and those under thirty pounds were conveyed in tanks. Some magnificent specimens were presented by the duke to the principal aquariums of the United Kingdom.

Progress of Theosophy in London.

Theosophy is one of the latest intellectual fads of London, and has caused much commotion there among the curious and speculative, who are continually seeking for novelties of creed. It has apparently taken great hold of the leisurely and fashionable classes on the other side, and is awakening considerable interest here. The head lodge of the society is at Adyar, Madras, and the noted Madame Blavatsky, now traveling in Germany, is regarded as the front of the peculiar movement. Just at present Boston is, according to her time-honored custom, in active sympathy with the pervading craze.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Perpetuating the German Stocking.

Now, in a somewhat analogous manner, in a German stocking preserved by its thrifty owner to a venerable old age. When the foot, after careful mending, is irretrievably gone, a new one is knit on the upper part, and when this in its turn becomes superannuated a new leg is joined to the foot. This operation being several times repeated, the article in question enjoys an immortality of stockinghood, although, like the frame which it helps to cover, its substance is perpetually renewed.—Berlin Cor. New York Sun.

The Theory of Sun Spots Doubted.

Rev. F. Howlett, of the London Astronomical society, has contributed long entertained doubts concerning the correctness of the generally accepted theory that sun spots are depressions in the solar surface. Though himself an observer of the sun for many years, neither he nor friends requested to verify his results have been able to see any spot as a notch when at the sun's edge.—Arkansaw Traveler.

The Origin of "Two fo One."

"Two to one" is a term applied to the pawnbroker's sign of three balls, so called because it is supposed by calculating humorists to be two to one against the redemption of a pledged article, a result borne out almost invariably by the experience of those doing business with my uncle.—Globe-Democrat.

Largest Library in the World.

The largest library is the Bibliotheque National, in Paris, founded by Louis XIV. It contains 1,800,000 volumes, 300,000 pamphlets, 175,000 manuscripts, 300,000 maps and charts, and 200,000 coins and medals. The collections and engravings exceed 1,500,000, contained in some 10,000 volumes.—Exch.

The latest hobby of the sultan of Turkey is the care of the soldiers wounded in the recent skirmishes on the Greek frontier. He not only has built a separate hospital for them and provided a physician for each soldier, but has ordered that every man in them be promoted and photographed in the new uniform.—New York Post.

A Way to Sleep Well.

Onions inhaled cause sleep, rest and repose. The spent on his march and the exhausted iron worker get great strength from eating the onion. Tie a fresh onion around the neck and let one smell it to make its odor the breath, and you will sound sleep from its mighty inhalation.—Cor. New York Sun.

The Poison of the Stings.

Eighteen bees, twenty-two wasps, or thirty-eight bumbaby honey bees contain enough poison to kill an adult.

The walls of Babylon were 350 feet high.

WHAT WILL CONVINCE

any one of the wonderful curative properties contained in HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, if the remarkable ... effected by it, can not be impressed upon your mind that the preparation is proven fact? Thousands are using it and all declare that

WILL CONVINCE

... that you cannot, and yourself chief sufferer, if you do not get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and resolve, planted firmly in your mind, that this medicine has the right stuff in it to do what is claimed for it, and that if the machinery of your body is not in perfect order, it will be made so by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

From the Registrar of Deeds for Middlesex County, Northern District.

LOWELL, MASS.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's SARSAPARILLA. My health has been such that for some years past I have been obliged to take a tonic of some kind in the spring, and have never found anything that hit my wants as your Sarsaparilla. It takes up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over. Respectfully yours,

J. F. THOMPSON.

One of our prominent business men said to us the other day: "In the spring my wife got all run down and could not eat anything; passing your store I saw a pile of Hood's SARSAPARILLA in the window, and I got a bottle. After she had been taking it a week she had a rousing appetite, and it did her everything. She took three bottles, and it was the best three dollars I ever invested."

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all druggists. Price $1 a bottle, or six bottles for $5. C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Wright & Co.,

Wall Paper AND Decorations.

C. A. Wright & Co.

JAS. H. POTTER,

Manufacturer of all kinds of

FURNITURE!

Order work a specialty. Turning done to order.

GOLD fields are scarce, but those who write to Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, full information about work which they can do, and live at home, that will pay them from $5 to $25 per day. Some have earned over $50 in a day. Either sex, young or old. Capital not required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of snug little fortunes. All is new.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold in Tecumseh by C. A. WRIGHT & CO.

KALARIA (GOOD AIR)

The most subtle, dangerous and least understood disease of the present day is Malaria. It is drawn into the system by every breath, just as Cholera is, and has become a National Evil. Thousands of deaths called by other names are in reality the result of Malaria.

KALARIA FOR CURES IT

It has been used by one of the clergy of Ames for 20 years with never-failing success. JOHN B. COUCH, the celebrated temperance lecturer, recommends it enthusiastically. For sale by all druggists, or sent post-paid on receipt of $1.00.

Wilmot Castle & Co. ROCHESTER, N. Y.

MALARIA (BAD AIR)

ELY'S CREAM BALM Gives Relief at once and Cures COLD IN HEAD CATARRH HAY FEVER.

Not a liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

AGENTS WANTED ...

THE STAR

A Newspaper supporting the Principles

Published in the City of New York,

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER, Editor and Proprietor.

Daily, Sunday and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.

A clean, pure, bright and interesting FAMILY PAPER.

It contains the latest news down to the hour of going to press.

Agricultural, Market, Fashion, Household, Political, Financial and Commercial, Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

Departments, all under the direction of trained journalists of the highest ability. Its sixteen pages will be found crowded with good things from beginning to end.

Original stories by distinguished American and foreign writers of fiction.

THE DAILY STAR,

The DAILY STAR contains all the news of the day in an attractive form. Its special correspondence by cable from London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Dublin is a commendable feature.

At Washington, Albany and other news centers, the ablest correspondents, specially retained by the THE STAR, furnish the latest news by telegraph.

Its literary features are unsurpassed.

The Financial and Market Reviews are unusually full and complete.

Special terms and extraordinary inducements to agents and canvassers. Send for circulars.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR TO SUBSCRIBERS, FREE OF POSTAGE in the United States and Canada, outside the limits of New York City:

Per year	$1 25
Club of Ten	10 00
Club of Fifteen (and one extra to organizer)	15 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR TO SUBSCRIBERS:

Every day for one year (including Sunday)	$7 00
Daily, without Sunday, one year	6 00
Every day, six months	3 50
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3 00

Address, THE STAR, 26 and 28 North William St., New York.

THE POPULAR RAILWAY

OF THE CENTRAL STATES.

ONLY LINE

Reaching by direct routes all the following large cities:

ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO, DETROIT, INDIANAPOLIS, FORT WAYNE, LAFAYETTE, TOLEDO, HANNIBAL, KEOKUK, SPRINGFIELD, QUINCY, PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, ST. JOSEPH, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA, OTTUMWA,

Embracing the Principal Points of the SIX Great States of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, with Branch Lines or Close Connections to other cities not mentioned above.

THROUGH SLEEPING CAR LINES

Between St. Louis, New York and Boston, via Niagara Falls; Chicago and New York, via Detroit and Niagara Falls; St. Louis and St. Paul and Minneapolis; St. Louis and Chicago; St. Louis and Kansas City; St. Louis and St. Joseph; St. Louis and Council Bluffs and Omaha; St. Louis and Des Moines; St. Louis and Toledo; St. Louis and Detroit; Chicago and Kansas City; Kansas City and Des Moines; Detroit and Indianapolis.

THE BEST ROUTE

Via Detroit or Toledo, to all parts of the EAST; via Detroit, Chicago, Ottumwa or Des Moines, to all parts of the NORTH; via Indianapolis, St. Louis or Kansas City, to all parts of the SOUTH; via Kansas City, St. Joseph or Omaha, to all parts of the WEST.

NO LINE CAN EQUAL THE OUR SERVICE ON THE

GREAT WABASH ROUTE

It includes Handsome New Coaches, Elegant FREE Reclining Chair Cars, the Best Equipped Dining Cars on the Continent, the Finest and Fastest Palace Sleepers, and Sleeping Cars of Superior Design and Elegance. Also Direct Line to Niagara Falls and N. Y. Main Line. Palace Cars and Elegant Wagner Sleeping Cars.

EVERYONE WHO TRAVELS ... should determine to take a portion of his journey over the WABASH ST. LOUIS & PACIFIC RY. Any Coupon Ticket Agent in the United States or Canada will sell tickets via this route, and give all desired information. WABASH

For Maps, Time Tables, etc., write to

F. CHANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent, ST. LOUIS, MO.

LOOK AT THIS!

We will send a READY FOTOGRAPHER To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.

Takes pictures on anything and everything, at any time and everywhere. Agents wanted. Address READY FOTOGRAPHER, 28 Hall St., Portland, Me.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

Simple in its application, yet effectual. This disease has hitherto been regarded as incurable. It can be cured more easily than any other form of catarrh, yet it will take less time to do it. This treatment is based on a new theory of the disease, and is thorough and persistent, and does not irritate. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, for $1. Circulars free. Address

HAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

CLINTON PAGE.

CLINTON MICH.

CATCHING A MONKEY.

SUMMER DAYS.

PARIS LIGHT AND COLOR.

The Half Theatrical Life of the Frenchman—The Champs Elysees at Night.

Character Cures of Africa.

Phenomenal Lightness in Italy.

The Cigar Ring in America.

Character in Clothes.

Illiteracy in Portugal.

Composite Photography.

Naples' Macaroni.

Pictures of the Jetty Man.

Miss Braddon, the Novelist.

Tricks of the Cigar Trade.

Poisoning from Ice Cream.

He Proposes to Fend Shotguns.

Why They Boil Locomotives.

Agric'tural Imolement DEPOT

C. A. SLAYTON

CULTIVATORS

GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair. Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

Grand Central.

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE.

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

Detroit Paper.

EXCURSIONISTS

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

THE OPTICAL DEPARTMENT

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

B. FSTEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

COLUMBIA BICYCLES

W. H. HAYDEN & CO.

THE POPE MFG. CO.

FREE PRESS

Detroit Weekly Free Press

and The Household.

The Largest, Best and Cheapest of Weeklies.

Each issue is a complete encyclopedia of information, containing Weekly Reports from all State and Foreign Capitals, Weekly Reports of Trade and Industry, Weekly Agricultural Matter, Editorials, Miscellaneous Selections, Stories, Sketches, Poetry, and a Household supplement for the ladies.

The Free Press is the Leading and Representative Paper of Michigan.

THE GREAT

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

FAMILY NEWSPAPER

That it is generally regarded as the most definite and comprehensive of Weeklies is shown by the fact that it has by far the largest circulation of any paper published in Michigan. No well regulated family will be without it. Price, only ONE DOLLAR a year.

SPECIAL BOOK OFFER.—

We will send The Weekly Free Press for one year and any one of the books named, postage paid, on receipt of amount quoted.

Every One His Own Lawyer	$1.00
World's Cyclopedia (Illus.)	1.00
Popular History of the Civil War (Illus.)	1.00
The Lives of Our Presidents (Illus.)	1.00
What Every One Should Know (A Medical Family Book)	1.50
Everybody's Pocket Book; or, How to do Your Own Painting and Decorating	1.50
Allison's Webster's Dictionary and Dictionary of Electricity	1.50

DAILY FREE PRESS, $7.00 a Year.
DAILY, 8 times a week, $5.00

SUBSCRIBE NOW—DON'T DELAY.

Premium or prices for clubs. Send for Premium List and Sample copy. Local Agents wanted.

The Free Press Co., Detroit, Mich.

FREE PRESS

THIS PAPER

N. W. AYER & SON

DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL

THE ONLY AFTERNOON PAPER

Associated Press DISPATCHES.

THE EVENING JOURNAL

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL

TO ADVERTISE JUDICIOUSLY CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 13. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, AUG 19, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1859

50

Pieces New

DRESS GOODS!

RECEIVED

TO-DAY!

AT

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

HOSIERY DAY!

NEXT

'SATURDAY.'

BARGAINS!

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!
STRAW HATS!
Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!
ALPACA COATS!
Seer-Sucker coats and Vests!
SUMMER GOODS!
Of all discriptions, at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

W. B. Linn drew 50 dozen oats at one load—who can beat it.

The union school for Salina & Helen's store began Monday.

G. F. Wieting took to Adrian Saturday.

A. W. Lawton and family drove over to Adrian Saturday, and spent the day.

Dr. R. H. Nelson and T. H. and F. J. Temple attended the Republican county convention at Adrian, Monday.

Saturday afternoon the kids of Britton played the kids here a game of ball, the kids up the creek being victorious. The score stood 5 to 33.

Samuel Helin went to Detroit Saturday on business.

The young married people of the place enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the home of Dr. D. W. Loree, Tuesday evening of last week with Mrs. Alfred Lucking and husband. Mrs. Lucking was an old schoolmate of most of them.

Nearly seventy took the train here for Devils Lake Wednesday, to attend the farmers picnic, the most of them got left and had to stay until the next morning.

Upwards of 40 attended the Supervisor's re union at Devils Lake Thursday, and report a pleasant time.

Several of the young people from here attended the union picnic at Devils Lake, given by the Tecumseh sunday schools, Friday, and enjoyed a fine time.

W. P. Cadmus went to Paw Paw Saturday to visit friends, returning Tuesday in company with his wife, son and father.

W. E. Barrett, who has been traveling with a pavillion theatrical troupe for the past few months, came home Monday evening sick, and at present is under the doctor's care.

There will be no services next Sunday evening at the M. E. church.

The fourth and last quarterly meeting for the present conference year will be held a week from next Saturday evening and Sunday. The presiding Elder is expected to preach on Saturday evening.

A. L. Arner of Raisin, was a guest of Prof. H. C. Wilson Sunday at the home of W. R. Wilson.

Mrs. Hannah Wilson of Clinton, mother of W. R. Wilson, is spending a few days at Mr. Wilson's at present.

E. J. Colier and wife, of Adrian, spent the Sabbath at Mrs. Colier's, mother of Mrs. Louis Miller.

Prof. E. A. Wilson returned to Vassar Wednesday. He will superintend the school there the ensuing year. Next week this Professor will conduct the teacher's institute at Midland.

Chas. Clark of Elkhart, Ind., is home for a few days to assist in settling up the accounts of the firm of G. W. Clark & Son, who have dissolved partnership, and wishes to see all who are in debt to them, in the next 10 days.

Lillie Clark of Summit Park, spent Saturday at the home of Mrs. Daniel Linn.

Lizzie Anderson of Sparta, Mich. was the guest of Ida Arner Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Dudley Macham of Tecumseh, called on relatives and friends in the village Saturday.

Rhema Underwood of Britton, spent the Sabbath with Nellie Ensor.

Lettie Smith and Nellie Hewson of Tecumseh, while engaged in a horse truck race, also called on Lettie Arner Monday afternoon.

Mrs. John Jackson and Mrs. Clark Ellis of Pittsfield corners, visited Mrs. Jas. Smith last week Wednesday.

Harry Hopper, was off on duty, last week with an old horse and wagon going back load of with cake ingredients and ass feeding young. He reports business good and times dour island.

Roger Ensor, of Mason, Ingham Co. and a resident of this place called on friends here Saturday and Sunday, having attended the Supervisor's reunion at Devils Lake. Mr. Ensor served as supervisor of this town several terms years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Hollister, camp meeting is being held in the grove south east of the village and will continue one week.

Alley Lee is erecting the frame on the Jackson residence, Dardie Linn doing the carpenter work.

As everybody was enjoying a little recreation of late, we took it upon ourselves to go to Paw Paw, and on Thursday morning about 4 o'clock we hitched up Dan Dandy to a commodious wagon, and in company with Russell Williams of Perrysburg, Ida Pockington of Ridgeway, May McElroy, Mattie Consant and Florence Pockington and Ollie Lake (love birds) who were well supplied with cushions of a superior order, started for Muskon Lake, arriving in good season and after selecting our boats, enjoyed a fine day fishing, not forgetting to supply the inner man several times with chicken, lemonade, cake, pie, etc. The day was one of the finest we ever spent at the lake, and all enjoyed the occasion very much. As the sun was sinking in the far west, Mr. Wells the proprietor of the Adams Hotel, gave us a ride in his sail boat across the lake, for which we all join in returning a vote of thanks for his generous hospitality. As the shades of night began to settle over all we took our departure, enjoying a drive by moonlight, with the hopes that at some future time we all may meet again and renew a pleasant pastime.

The Prohibition caucus of this township to elect delegates to county and representative conventions, to be held at Adrian the 24th, will be held at Exelby Hall, Britton, next Saturday day evening. All who favor the cause of Prohibition are invited to attend. The meeting will be opened by short addresses from Rev. E. W. Borden, Justus Lowe, Dr. D. W. Loree and others.

Our school board has secured the services of Mr. & Mrs. J. A. Moyer of Sameria, for the coming year. They are experienced teachers and are highly recommended, where they have taught heretofore.

Those of our locality who think of attending school outside of their own district should consult our school board before making definite arrangements.

RIDGEWAY, Aug. 17.

MR. EDITOR:—I noticed in the "Ridgeway Rambles" of your last week's issue, an item furnished by some of the "Citizens," advising the boys to "let up" on playing Pedro in certain parts of the town. I would like to ask those citizens if the boys are violating the law. If not, where would you have them play. Even in cold, wintry days, when, at the boys would conceal themselves in a lonely old barn, or other private place. They would be exposed through the pulpit, and now through the papers. Although cards are played in the most popular houses, in our land, I do not uphold it, but nature gave these boys, as to you and me, an affection for pastime and amusement, that they should not be deprived of. Would it be better to stop them playing Pedro, and have them take a few minutes ride to some place where they will pay from twenty fifty cents a game, and get all the liquor they can drink? "Think wisely and act accordingly."

MAGIC MUSIC.

Miss Rachel Marshall is visiting at John Sage's.

Isaac Beach has returned to visiting friends and relatives.

Master Ralph Smith is on the sick list this week.

John Kellogg and Mr. Hartsway of Morenci, visited friends Sunday.

Henry Miller put up a new wind mill this week.

Miss Lottie Avery of Tecumseh, has been spending a few days with her friend, Carrie Chadwick.

The female prayer meeting will meet at the home of Mrs. Ida Nichols, on Friday afternoon of this week. All are invited to be present.

Addie Crittenden, Hattie Smith and Maude Howell, attended the examination of Adrian last Saturday.

Hattie Smith has been engaged to teach the Fairgrove district in the Miller district, and Addie Crittenden in the Osborne district.

Mrs. Jasper Crittenden is shaking hands with her old friends this week.

Miss Parker of Adrian, is visiting her parents.

Mrs. Rogers, of Hudson is spending a few days visiting friends.

The September number of Demorest's MAGAZINE is regular with its interesting and instructive reading. Among the articles worthy of note are "Thirty years in Journalism," by Jenny June; "The Work of the Sun Power in the Universe," by Mr. Jan Finnegan; "Best Friends in a Pinch," by Madame La Fayette; "Her Heart's Idol," and "Her Home," and "A Night Ride," by Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickinson; "Old Wives Fables," by Mrs. Emma Dunlap; "Suggestions of the popular Music," by Mr. Wm. Mason; "Fire from Insulator," by Mr. Thos. Dispatch; "Storm Music," by Mr. Thos. Dispatch.

"I was all run down and Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the medicine I needed," writes hundreds of people. Take it now.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

By Rev. Peter S. Rossiter, D.D.

LESSON. August 29.

WEANING TO HIS DAY AND DEATH. John 13. 21-38. Golden Text: 1 Cor. 10. 12.

Time and place same as last lesson. This lesson contains one of the most impressive and thrilling scenes in the history of the disciples.

They were gathered round the table partaking of the Passover supper, when Jesus told them that one of their number would betray Him.

To some this must have been a great surprise, and it is no wonder that the fervent and earnest Peter should desire to know who the traitor was.

He beckons across the table to John the beloved disciple, "that he should ask who it should be."

John asked the Master and was told that it was the one to whom He would give the sop, when He had dipped it. "And when He had dipped the sop, He gave it to Judas Iscariot."

Then Jesus told him to do his work quickly. Judas went out into the darkness of the night to prepare for that terrible betrayal which stands without a parallel in history.

Judas was warned by Christ, and yet he fell. After some remarks our Lord gave his new commandment. "That ye love one another, as I have loved you, that you also love one another."

It was at this point that the impetuous Peter, referring to a previous remark of Christ's, "Whither I go ye can not come," asked Him whither He went.

When assured that he could not then follow his master, he broke out with the vehement assertion, "I will lay down my life for Thy sake."

Observe the answer of Jesus, who read his heart. "Will thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, the cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied Me thrice."

Here was a solemn and impressive warning for Peter, and it seems to have affected him so much that he did not enter into any further conversation during the meal.

Peter fell, but by the grace of God he was able to rise again.

We have here the contrast between the two characters.

In each case the fall was gradual. In the case of Judas it was complete, in that of Peter it was only partial.

The name of Judas has passed down through the ages a synonym for traitor and all that is despicable in such a character.

But the name of Peter is honored and his renewed Christian life, so noble and grand, is beloved by the church of God in every land.

What our Lord did for Judas was of no avail; he went on to his destruction and tragic death.

But one look from the Master cured of the heart of Peter, and he came back a better and truer man.

LESSON HINTS.

1. God is compassionate warning us.
2. It is well for us if we accept the warnings of God.
3. Do not be over confident of our own powers.
4. Learn to trust only in God by Jesus.

ONE HUNDRED ODDS.

Station Agent Ketchum sold six eight tickets to Devils Lake last Thursday.

A young lady has come to board in the family of Hannah Reed. She was one day old Monday.

A. J. Monaghan, who is canvassing in Ohio, is spending a few days at his Tribune. Any looks as if Ohio agent was idle.

While Dr. Ross and wife were returning from the foregoing [illegible] Bogey was run into and badly wrecked. Fortunately neither were hurt.

The next social of the Ladies Missionary Society of this place will be held at the home of Mrs. Archer May, well, Aug. 27.

Norris J. Magey was kicked by a young colt and just come to by Monday night. The colt kicked with both feet, two striking him on the nose and the other on the chest.

Born, Aug. 8th, to Mrs. S. B. Lee, of Cambridge, a daughter. Mother and child are doing well.

Adrian News is celebrating its eighty year this week. About [illegible] passed and he received a fine [illegible] cloth as a gift from the [illegible].

MODERN ADVICE SERVE.

[illegible] Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

DARE TO SAY NO.

"No." Clear, sharp, and ringing, with an emphasis which could not fail to arrest attention.

"I don't often hear such a negative as that," remarked a gentleman, who stood watching the sports of the boys and girls on a holiday.

"It is not often any one hears it. The boy who uttered it can say 'yes' too, quite as emphatically. He is a newcomer here—an orphan, who lives with his uncle about two miles off. He walks in every morning, bringing his lunch, and walks back at night. He works enough to pay his board, and does more toward running his uncle's farm than the old man does himself. He is the coarsest dressed scholar in school and the greatest favorite. Everybody knows just what to expect of him."

"Quite a character. I should like to see him. Boys of such sturdy make-up are getting to be scarce, while the world never had more need of them than now."

"All that is true; and if you wish to see Ned, come this way."

They moved on a few steps, paused by an open grate near which the group of lads were discussing some exciting question.

"It is in Spain, and I won't have anything to do with it. When I say no, I mean it."

"Well, any way, you needn't speak so loud and tell everybody about it," was responded impatiently to this declaration.

"I'm willing everybody should hear what I've got to say about it. I won't take anything that don't belong to me, and I won't drink cider any way."

"Such a fuss about a little fun! It's just what we might have expected. You never go in for fun."

"I never go in for doing wrong. I told you no, to begin with. And you're the ones to blame if there's [illegible] any fuss."

"Ned Dunlap, I should like to see you a minute."

"Yes, sir." And the boy removed his hat as he passed through the gate, and waited to hear what Mr. Palmer might say to him.

"Has your uncle any sweet apples to sell?"

"No, sir. He had some, but he has sold them. I've got two bushels, that were my share for picking. Should you like to buy them, sir?"

"Yes, if we can agree upon the price. Do you know just how much they are worth?"

"Yes, sir."

"All right then. I will call for them, and you can call at my house for the pay."

This short interview afforded the younger an opportunity to observe Ned Dunlap closely. The boy's face was dark at his mother's and although [illegible] knew [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE TURRET DOOR.

[illegible] and still evening to- [illegible] summer, when in the [illegible] quiet and solitary [illegible] the cathedrals which [illegible] served in the striking of the hour. They chimed the evening hymn.

Very shallow, yet a strange thought struck me, causing me to raise my eyes toward the ceiling of my cell. In thy present po- [illegible] of light discernible far up through the interspaces between the roof and the wall, but the spot I was buried in dark [illegible] and [illegible] of my mind [illegible] the school [illegible] my mind. [illegible] was [illegible] the door I had pushed it, and [illegible] unexpectedly upon me as I [illegible] forward projected me into the [illegible] behind me.

[illegible] and the total darkness in which I found myself astonished, alarmed and confused me. But at first I felt no positive alarm. I attempted at once to push open the door, but to my surprise it did not yield. I pushed hard, harder yet—I exerted all my strength, but the door remained immovable.

At last, finding all my efforts useless, I endeavored to attract the attention of those outside. I raised my voice and called loudly for assistance at the same time beating a vigorous tattoo with my stick against the door. I then paused and listened, in the expectation of being speedily relieved. But to my surprise and chagrin, the minutes passed and there was no response.

With a vague terror at heart I renewed my endeavors. I raised a clamor that should [illegible] the echoes of the building. But still no voice replied from outside my prison, and I released the fastening of the door. Gradually the conviction forced itself upon my mind that I had delayed too long. While I had been trying to force open the door by my own efforts, the party of visitors had left the cathedral, either without observing my absence, or perhaps supposing that I had left before them. The verger had locked up the building and departed. There was none within hearing to assist me.

My consternation at this discovery may be imagined. The idea that I was fated to pass the night in this dark and narrow place, in the [illegible] which I perhaps could not [illegible] Again, again did yet again I hurled myself against the wooden barrier, with [illegible] despair. Not until I had exhausted every effort in my power, [illegible] the [illegible] of hope [illegible] my mind. [illegible] I gave up the attempt to force a [illegible] and [illegible] the exertion more [illegible] the [illegible] my [illegible] again at [illegible] the [illegible] and the total darkness in which I found myself astonished, alarmed and confused me. But at first I felt no positive alarm. I attempted at once to push open the door, but to my surprise it did not yield. I pushed hard, harder yet—I exerted all my strength, but the door remained immovable.

At last, finding all my efforts useless, I endeavored to attract the attention of those outside. I raised my voice and called loudly for assistance at the same time beating a vigorous tattoo with my stick against the door. I then paused and listened, in the expectation of being speedily relieved. But to my surprise and chagrin, the minutes passed and there was no response.

With a vague terror at heart I renewed my endeavors. I raised a clamor that should [illegible] the echoes of the building. But still no voice replied from outside my prison, and I released the fastening of the door. Gradually the conviction forced itself upon my mind that I had delayed too long. While I had been trying to force open the door by my own efforts, the party of visitors had left the cathedral, either without observing my absence, or perhaps supposing that I had left before them. The verger had locked up the building and departed. There was none within hearing to assist me.

My consternation at this discovery may be imagined. The idea that I was fated to pass the night in this dark and narrow place, in the [illegible] which I perhaps could not [illegible] Again, again did yet again I hurled myself against the wooden barrier, with [illegible] despair. Not until I had exhausted every effort in my power, [illegible] the [illegible] of hope [illegible] my mind. [illegible] I gave up the attempt to force a [illegible] and [illegible] the exertion more [illegible] the [illegible] my [illegible] again at [illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible] upon the [illegible] hours [illegible] more than [illegible] The [illegible] of those who have [illegible] face to face with [illegible] death [illegible] upon the [illegible] hours of [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible]

RED STAR

CATARRH CURE

SURE PROMPT 25 Cts.

ST. JACOBS OIL

GERMAN REMEDY

For Pain. Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc., etc. PRICE FIFTY CENTS. EVERYWHERE AND DEALERS

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 113. Mail.	No. 117. Express	No. 149 Accom
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 15 P.M
Napoleon	6 41 "	2 35 "	2 00 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 15 "
Manchester	7 12 "	3 00 "	2 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	3 38 "
Tecumseh	7 25 "	3 26 "	4 02 "
Adrian	8 08 "	4 12 "	5 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	6 40 "	.....
Toledo	9 25 "	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 148. Accom.
Detroit	8 50 A.M.	6 15 P.M.	.....
Toledo	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Adrian	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 35 A.M
Tecumseh	12 01 P.M.	9 34 "	7 10 "
Clinton	12 11 "	9 47 "	8 10 "
Manchester	12 26 "	10 02 "	9 00 "
Norvell	12 40 "	10 18 "	10 25 "
Napoleon	12 49 "	10 27 "	9 55 "
Jackson	1 00 "	10 50 "	10 15 "

Trains run on New Standard or 90th Meridian Time.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, TICKET AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE BRITTON:

Atlantic Express, limited	4 35 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	6 28 "
New York Limited Express	10 31 P.M.
Day Freight	8 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Toledo Accommodation	6 35 "
Night Express, Detroit	6 07 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossings at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular route may receive conjunction at Adrian and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through sleepers to New York. Solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points West and Northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Sleeper, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. HEARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich. W. H. BURNHAM, Agent, Adrian.

F. CHANDLER, General Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT July 11, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 3 Pass A. M.	No. 1 Pass P. M.	Central Time: STATIONS.	GOING WEST. No. 2 Pass A. M.	No. 6 Pass P. M.
11 55	6 45	A...Toledo...L	8 05	4 15
10 40	5 55	Dundee	9 00	5 55
.....	.....	Clarksville	.....	.....
10 00	5 26	Britton	9 26	6 30
9 55	5 20	Ridgeway	9 32	6 37
9 44	5 08	Tecumseh	9 44	6 47
9 25	4 50	Tipton	10 02	7 07
9 10	4 41	Onsted	10 17	7 23
8 52	4 17	Devils Lake	10 31	7 40
8 40	4 05	Addison	10 45	7 50
8 20	3 44	Jerome	11 05	8 11
8 10	3 35	Moscow	11 15	8 21
7 56	3 22	Hanover	11 27	8 34
7 42	3 09	Pulaski	11 40	8 49
7 16	2 44	Homer	12 05	9 15
7 01	2 28	Eckford	12 20	9 30
.....	2 18	Winders	.....	.....
6 40	2 00	Marshall	12 40	9 50
6 25	1 55	Ceresco	12 55	10 06
.....	1 35	A Battle Crk L	1 20	10 30
6 00	1 10		A 10	P. M.
A. M.		Augusta	2 06
	12 34	Yorkville	2 17
	12 27	Richland	2 25
	12 05	Doster	2 45
	11 43	Monteith	3 08
	11 32	Fisk	3 20
	11 25	Kellogg	3 26
	11 10	A Allegan L	3 40
	10 10	Holland	5 40
	9 to	Grand Rapids	6 35
	9 22	Grand Haven	6 55
	9 17	Ferrysburg	6 30
	8 40	Muskegon	7 10
	5 50	Pentwater	10 10
	A. M.	A	P. M.

Train No. 2 has a Through Coach daily except Sundays, for Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater. Also a through coach leaves the above points via. C. & W. M. Railway each day, except Sunday, arriving in Toledo on Train No. 1 at 6 45 P.M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo—With all Railroads diverging. At Dundee—With T., A. A. & N. M. At Britton—With Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific. At Tecumseh—With L. S. & M. S. At Jerome—With L. S. & M. S. At Hanover—With L. S. & M. S. At Homer—With L. S. & M. S. Lansing Division, and All Line Division of the Mich. Central. At Marshall—With M. C. R. R. At Battle Creek—With Chicago & Grand Trunk and M. C. R. R. At Monteith—With Grand Rapids & Indiana. At Allegan—With Chicago & West Mich. and L. S. & M. S.

All Trains daily except Sunday.

GEO. L. BRADBURY, General Agent. H. C. PARKER, Gen'l. Pass. Agent.

H. C. MATTHEWS, Northwestern Agent, Muskegon, Mich.

PIANOS ORGANS

Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co.,

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It not only gave him instant relief, but alleviated the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board schooner. Free Trial Bottle of this standard remedy at

C. A. Wright & Co.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Cosmetine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

Visitors to Niagara Falls are more numerous this season than for a number of years before. The hackmen are reaping a harvest.

Those who believe that nature will work off a cough or cold should understand that this is done at the expense of the constitution. Each time this weakness the system, and we all know that the termination of this dangerous practice is a consumptive's grave. Don't take the chances, when a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure will safely and promply cure any recent cough, cold or throat or lung trouble. Buy the dollar bottle for chronic cases or family use. Sold by Dr. Geo. Ferguson.

The picnic season is now fully upon us.—Water melons and cucumbers are in the market.

You will notice how quickly a thoroughly successful article is imitated, and also that the imitations are without merit, as they are gotten up by unscrupulous parties. Beware of imitations of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. The genuine is sold by Dr. Geo. Ferguson, and promptly cures dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles pimples, ague and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirit headache, or diseases of the kidneys, stomach and liver. Price 50 cents.

"Are you married?" "No." "That's a pity. I was just going to ask you how your wife was."

FOR 25 CENTS get Kemp's Liver Pills for Torpid Liver, for Constipation, for the Complexion. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

A Western man has a cyclone cellar which he retires to when his wife commences housecleaning.

WE ARE POSITIVE that Kemp's Sarsaparilla will cleanse and purify the blood and tone up the system. We have the confidence to guarantee it. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

When a miner has been eaten by a grizzly the Western people speak of him as having admitted to the bar.

"I TRIED Everything, without relief, but Kemp's Pile Suppositories cured me. So writes A. G. Rose, New London, Conn. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

Another Chicago man has invented an aerial machine. People will take desperate chances to get away from Chicago.

THE HOMELIEST MAN in Tecumseh as well as the handsomest and others call at our store and get free, a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It cures acute and chronic coughs. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by Baker & Halldruggist.

The conductor said to a young lady: "Miss, your fare." "Well, if I am," she replied, "I don't want any of your impertinence.

A Common Conversation.

"Why do you not look me in the face?" "Because your breath is bad. If you would use Trix you would be much more companionable."

Tradesmen in Madagascar who give short weight are sent to prison for a year. In this country they go to a watering place every summer.

"I'll attend to it soon." Don't cheat yourself in that way. Your hair is growing thinner, dryer and more lifeless every day. Save it and restore its original color, softness and gloss by using Parker's Hair Balsam while you may.

BALE'S HONEY is the best Cough Cure, 25, 50c., $1.
GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP heals and beautifies, 25c.
GERMAN CORN REMOVER kills Corns & Bunions, 25c.
GILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE—Black & Brown, 50c.
PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS cure in 1 Minute, 25c.
DEAN'S RHEUMATIC PILLS are a sure cure. 50c

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever, are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

A TERRIBLE LOSS.

What the Sudden Breaking Down of So Many Men and Women Mean.

A Prominent Physician's Views.

The writer had a most interesting interview with one of the leading physicians of Boston a few days since, when some facts came to light bearing startling and valuable. The conversation had turned upon overwork and the strain which comes upon the nervous system and [illegible] the terrible results which follow.

The doctor said: "It is a sad fact that men of business are suddenly breaking down, laboring men are becoming unstrung, and wives and mothers lose health and vigorous than formerly. The baneful evils of drunkenness are due here to the breaking down of the body with demands stimulants, than to any other known cause. Men, women and children are growing weaker under some mysterious influence which demands action. I have tried to ascertain what this influence may be, and I am satisfied that it is due to a lack of sustaining force for the nervous energy and exhaustion which business and society constantly demand. The nerves become shattered and do not regain their former tone. The stomach in the system becomes largely exhausted, and the first thing we know we hear of a sudden giving way, and the sickness or death of some one we had supposed was in perfect health. If some means could be found to avert these troubles it would be a great benefaction to the world."

It is a source of gratitude to be able to chronicle the fact that this source has been found, and that by a rare combination of peptonized beef, hops and malt and called Hoptonic, the vital forces of life can not only be sustained but restored. The importance of this discovery cannot be too greatly emphasized, and the effect its introduction is having upon the community is most gratifying in the extreme. To men and women lack in energy and ambition in the future they do so with the realization that it might be avoided.

Cocaine, Iodoform or Mercurials in any form in the treatment of catarrh or hay fever should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases, where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price, fifty cents.

In Portugal elections are held on Sunday in the churches and the ballot-box stands between two saints.

Mr. G. E. Reardon, Baltimore, Md., Commissioner of Deeds for all the States, suffered for a long time with rheumatism, which yielded promptly to St. Jacobs Oil.

Diphtheria is frequently the result of a neglected sore throat, which can be cured by a single bottle of Red Star Cough Cure. Price, twenty five cents a bottle.

Formerly physicians confounded rheumatism with gout; but they are now known to be distinct diseases. Rheumatism attacks every age, gout only adults. But whether you may have to cope with the one or the other, Salvation Oil will be found equally efficacious. It is the same price, twenty-five cents a bottle.

"I was all run down, and Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the medicine I needed." writes hundreds of people. Take it now.

How many bald heads you see. Work, worry, disease, dissipation. These do it. Parker's Hair Balsam stops falling hair and restores gloss and youthful color. Exceptionally clean, elegant, a perfect dressing, not greasy. Prevents dandruff.

Seventeen bushels of wheat is the product from one grain of seed in three years on a Dakota farm.

The Terrible Drain

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome diseases.

Children cry for it, but they stop crying at once, after they have taken a single dose, as Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup cures all the pains our little ones are subject to. Price 25 cents a bottle.

You can't work to much purpose unless you are well, but you can build up your health and strength with Parker's Tonic, and work will then become easy. It sets the lungs, liver and kidneys in working order. Coughs and colds vanish before it. Take it in time.

DeLAND & CO'S

CAP SHEAF SALERATUS SODA

For Baking Purposes. Best in the World

CATCHING A MONKEY.

A BABOON ESCAPES FROM A CIRCUS IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Trying to Capture the Runaway—An Old Arab Expert Undertakes the Job—His Novel and Successful Methods of Operation.

During a recent railway accident in a pass of the Sierra Morena a valuable monkey escaped from the cars of Barnum's [illegible] circus. The train was [illegible] and the cars were [illegible] on the rocky mountain slope. It was a crippled baboon, chained at one paw, and, as the wreck of the engine involved a delay of several hours, half a hundred persons led by the circus men and the employes of the Spanish railroad, planned the search. But only made matters worse, for the best attempt to capture the fugitive resulted in a breakneck chase, in which the native of the Abyssinian highlands easily distanced the swiftest pursuers. They had caught a sight of him in a pile of loose boulders, searching for insects with the gravity of a professional naturalist, and managed to approach him within fifteen steps when he thought it was time to beat a retreat, but at so leisurely a gait that a young mountaineer conceived the fatuous idea of trying to run him down.

Seeing that his pursuer was in earnest, the fourhander, too, mended his pace—so much so, indeed, that his would be captors found it impossible to keep even in sight of him, and returned after having stampeded him nearly a mile down the steep mountain side. The Brentano folks had already given him up for lost, when an old Arab, the trainer of the camel team, demanded an interview with the managers, and induced them to intrust him with one of the easy monkeys of the circus menagerie. After chucking the youngster into a sack and filling his pockets with dried fruit, he started down hill without explaining his plan of procedure but with the promise that he would be back an hour after dark. Messengers had been dispatched to the next telegraph station, and the travelers were grouped around camp-fires and caboose stoves when a series of cheers at one of the outdoor bivouacs announced a welcome arrival with such emphasis that some of the passengers made a rush for their sachels.

HIS MODUS OPERANDI.

It was the Arab, leading the old baboon, who in his turn had charged himself with the care of the youngster, every now and then snatching him up in his arms or flinging him over the obstacles of the path. The three night-walkers at once became the center of the bivouac circle, and the biped proceeded to explain his modus operandi. With his leather strap he had tied the youngster to a thorn bush of the lower mountain slope, near a point where the footprints of the young mountaineer indicated the terminus of the recent steeple-chase. Then, bidding him good-bye, he commenced the ascent of the cliff as if he intended to leave him to his fates. As he expected, the young monkey, after a desperate attempt to tear his fetters and follow him, began to screech out his signal of distress. He was a native of eastern Hindostan, but monkeys use a cosmopolitan language, and in less than fifteen minutes the distant relative of the chained baboon babe in the woods peeped around the cliff, and, seeing the coast clear, at once made up to the screeching brat and hugged him as if he was trying to silence him by a process of suffocation.

All that while the Arab was hiding behind a tree, biding his time till twilight had pretty well advanced, when he quickly approached the thorn bush and, without the least opposition on the part of the senor fourhander, removed the strap from the neck of the youngster and transferred it to that of his companion, who seemed not only ready, but anxious, to return to the shelter of his boarding house on wheels. Monkeys, explained the Arab, are the most gregarious creatures on earth, and the prospect of having to pass the night in a solitary bush-camp had reconciled the runaway to the restraints of social life in a circus cage.—Dr. Felix L. Oswald.

Character in Clothes.

Students of human nature have found exponents of character in the way a man wears his hair, curls his mustache, ties his cravat, buttons his coat, bags his trousers at the knees, and wears off the sides of his shoes, and to some of these lovers of the curious there is little about a man, his features, form, and clothes, his voice, manner, and gait, that does not stand out as an exponent of some peculiar phase of his character.

The phrenologist no longer has a monopoly in character reading. The hatter has entered the lists against him and will read a man's character by the outline showing the shape of the head, and the shoemaker comes next to tell what kind of a man is his patron by the curve of the instep, the knots and bunions, or by the manner in which the soles of old shoes are worn. The tailor, the furnisher, and clothes cleaner also have their peculiar methods of reading character, and the mind reader has but little advantage over all these, when they combine to tell a man what he is and what he thinks. The detective may have studied character all his life, and he will never discover traits which are as an open book to any one of these people.—Inter Ocean.

He Proposes to Lend Shotguns.

A sanguine young man in New York has started what seems to be a new line of business. He has a lot of shot guns, single and double barreled, that he proposes to lend, for a consideration, by the day, week, month, or year. He reasons that in a population so large as that of New York there must be a great many people who would like to go hunting if they only had guns. But they cannot afford to make permanent investments in the purchase of guns so he steps in and supplies a long felt want. As yet no guns have been lent by the young man, but he expects to have many persons calling around for the Autumn shooting. [illegible] guns worth from $12 to $50 each [illegible]

Why They Bolt Locomotives.

[illegible]

[illegible] population of the [illegible] increased from 81,450 to [illegible]

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works through the blood, and invigorating all the functions of the body.

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum.

[illegible]

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

[illegible] HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA and a few Cook Books [illegible] been troubled with sick headache and biliousness for years. She only took one bottle of Sarsaparilla at a dose, and has not been so well for years as now. She found that within a week after taking it she felt very much better, and is now quite free from those severe headaches. She has not taken any of any account since last spring, and what little she had is not to do so much good, and we must have it in the house.

Yours truly, [illegible]

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Is sold by all druggists. Price $1, or six bottles for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Use Hood's Tooth-Powder.

C. A. Wright & Co.,

Wall Paper AND Decorations.

C. A. Wright & Co.

JAS. H. POTTER.

FURNITURE!

GOLD fields are scarce but there are other chances [illegible] Portland Maine [illegible] full information about these profitable and [illegible] them from $5 to $25 [illegible] are absolutely sure of snug little fortunes.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by druggists.

THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

KALARIA

GOOD AIR

as Cholera is, and has become a National Evil. Thousands of deaths called by other names are in reality the result of Malaria. KALARIA CURES IT! It has been used by one of the ablest lending physicians for 20 years and is a never-failing success. JOHN B. GOUGH the celebrated temperance reformer, recommends it enthusiastically. For sale by all druggists or sent post-paid on receipt of $1.00.

FOR

Wilmot Castle & Co. ROCHESTER, N. Y.

MALARIA

BAD AIR

ELY'S CREAM BALM Gives Relief to Sore and Cures COLD IN HEAD CATARRH HAY FEVER. Not a Liquid Snuff or Powder. Free from Injurious Drugs and Offensive Odors.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH ROSE-COLD HAY-FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE PRICE 50 CENTS ELY BRO'S OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A. EASY TO USE

HAY-FEVER

A particle applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

AGENTS WANTED. [illegible]

THE STAR

A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration,

Published in the City of New York.

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,

Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.

A clean, pure, bright and interesting FAMILY PAPER.

It provides the latest news down to the time of going to press.

Agricultural, Market, Financial, Household, Political, Financial and Commercial, Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

Department all under the direction of trained journalists of the highest ability. Its sixteen pages will be found crowded with good things from beginning to end.

Original stories by distinguished American and foreign writers of fiction.

THE DAILY STAR,

The DAILY STAR contains all the news of the day in an attractive form. Its special correspondence by cable from London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Rome is a considerable feature.

At Washington, Albany, and other news centers, the ablest correspondents, specially retained by the THE STAR, furnish the latest news by telegraph.

Its literary features are unsurpassed.

The Financial and Market Reviews are unusually full and complete.

Special terms and extraordinary inducements to agents and canvassers.

Send for circulars.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR TO SUBSCRIBERS, FREE OF POSTAGE IN the United States and Canada, outside the limits of New York City:

One year	$1 00
Clubs of Ten	10 00
Clubs of Fifteen (and one extra to organizer)	15 00

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR TO SUBSCRIBERS:

Every day for one year (including Sunday)	$7 60
Daily, without Sunday, one year	6 00
Every day, six months	3 50
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3 00

Address, THE STAR, 26 and 28 North William St., New York.

THE POPULAR RAILWAY

ONLY LINE

ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO, DETROIT, INDIANAPOLIS, FORT WAYNE, LAFAYETTE, TOLEDO, FARMINGTON, KEOKUK, SPRINGFIELD, QUINCY, PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, ST. JOSEPH, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA, OTTUMWA.

THROUGH EFFECTIVE CAR LINES

Between St. Louis, New York and Boston via Niagara Falls; Chicago and New York, via Detroit; Chicago and St. Louis and St. Paul and Minneapolis; Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City; Chicago, St. Louis and Des Moines; St. Louis and Des Moines; St. Louis and Council Bluffs; St. Louis and Kansas City; Kansas City and Des Moines; Kansas City and Council Bluffs.

THE BEST ROUTE

Via Detroit or Toledo, to all parts of the EAST; via Detroit, Chicago, Ottumwa or Des Moines, to all parts of the NORTH; via Indianapolis, St. Louis or Kansas City, to all parts of the SOUTH; via Kansas City, St. Joseph or Omaha, to all parts of the WEST.

NO LINE CAN EQUAL THE CAR SERVICE OF THE

GREAT WABASH ROUTE

It includes Handsome New Coaches, Luxurious FREE Reclining Chair Cars, the Best Equipped Dining Cars on the Continent, the latest and most Elegant Pullman Buffet and Sleeping Cars, the Finest and Newest Hotel Boilerplate Cars and Palace Woodin Sleeping Cars.

EVERYONE WHO TRAVELS should determine before starting to make a portion of his journey, or all if possible, over the WABASH, ST. LOUIS & PACIFIC RY. Any Coupon Ticket Agent in the United States or Canada will sell you tickets via the WABASH and give all desired information.

For Maps, Time Tables, etc., write to

F. CHANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent, ST. LOUIS, MO.

LOOK AT THIS!

We will send a READY FOTOGRAPHER To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.

Takes pictures of anything and anybody at any time and at any place. Agents wanted. Address READY FOTOGRAPHER, 24 State St., Chicago, Ill.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

HAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

COME TO US

FOR YOUR

CLOTHING.

Our Stock is large and complete with a wide range of styles, which we can sell you great bargains and have introduced from a very small margin above cost.

Our Low Prices will Please You.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

O. B. DeWOLF, President. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Request that you get their prices on

HARD COAL!

Before putting in your orders for your winter's supply.

Office, Mill and Yards on Shawnee St., near L. S. & M. S. Depot,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

TELEPHONE.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact I will be pleasing to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Lightead Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

[illegible] TECUMSEH, MICH., AUG. 19, 1886

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

[illegible] Friday.

Frank Sheffer of Dundee, was in town Monday.

Miss Amy Henderson, of Adrian, was home over Sunday.

[illegible] of Tecumseh, [illegible] to Lenawee on Monday last.

[illegible] town.

Miss Annie Hayden, of Jackson, is the guest of her uncle, Wm. Hayden, this week.

Mrs. A. W. Mills went to Franklin Saturday for a short visit with friends in that town.

F. Z. Miller, of Belton, Bell Co., Texas, was in the village last week visiting friends.

Misses Mamie Stevens and Katie Brenner, of Detroit, are the guests of the Misses Hayden.

[illegible] Hayden, of Tecumseh, is one of the jurors drawn for the September term of the Circuit Court.

Miss Allie Warren, left for Detroit last Monday morning where she has obtained a position in a millinery store.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hayden of Milan went to Sand Lake last Saturday for a few days sojourn at the Hayden cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baird, of Dayton Ohio, have been spending a few days in Tecumseh as the guest of Mrs. E. B. Wood.

Miss Jewett, of Saline, is the guest of Mrs. Jno. J. Ott and the two are spending the week at Brazee's Landing, Devils Lake.

We acknowledge the receipt of a ticket to the Michigan State Fair which opens at Jackson, on Monday, September 13th.

The axle of Lew Mudget's thresher engine broke in Franklin last Friday and overturned the boiler, also damaging some of the fixtures.

Geo. Hollister is bragging about his big tomatoes. He brought some to market the other day, one of which weighed 2 lbs. 2½ ounces.

Frico A. Monaghan, who has been attending a session of the Normal School at Ann Arbor, has finished the course and returned last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Blosser, of Manchester, were visiting in town the first of the week. The Herald received a pleasant call from them.

Mrs. H. E. Hunt went to Battle Creek last Saturday to visit the family of Wm. R. Wooden and other friends. She expects to remain for three weeks.

Knapp's Band furnished the music for the Farmer's picnic at Wampee Lake, on Friday last. There was a large crowd in attendance and their music gave the best of satisfaction.

The delegates from Tecumseh to the Republican County Convention last Monday were A. D. Hall, Albert Waring, H. W. Stevens, M. E. Conklin, J. B. Shultz, H. C. Conklin.

An extra examination for the benefit of the teachers of Lenawee County will be held at Adrian, Aug. 28th, at the close of the institute beginning Aug. 23d.

Misses Helen Sheldon and Mary Herring started for Hudson, Beagle county, Dakota, last Tuesday afternoon. Miss Herring expects to make that place her future home.

The celebrated actor, Mr. Francis Lindoe, supported by an excellent comedy company will appear at the Opera House some time between the 23d of August and 4th of September.

The Union Temperance meeting which was to have been held in the Opera House next Sunday evening, has been postponed until a later date, of which due notice will be given in the papers.

The Prohibitionists of Macon will hold their Caucus at the Grange hall Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, Aug. 28th, to appoint delegates to the county and district conventions to be held at Adrian, Aug. 24th.

We are indebted to A. W. Mills for late copies of the San Francisco papers, containing the proceedings of the National G. A. R. encampment. Another interesting communication from his pen will appear in this week's HERALD.

M. L. Root received notice last Friday of his appointment to a mail route in Kansas and was ordered to report at Cheyenne for duty. M. L. has had a good training for such a position. We wish him the best of success in this new field of labor, and we believe he will do so.

Mr. C. P. Potter son of Rev. T. G. Potter, enjoyed a visit of three days at his father's from Sunday until Wednesday. He is connected with the advertising department of the Detroit Free Press, and has a responsible and lucrative position. We were glad to form his acquaintance.

J. S. Kinney will move his stock [illegible] this week.

Frank Hall of Adrian college is at home.

Mrs. B. F. R[illegible] is spending the week at the lakes.

Chas. Lewis has a new delivery wagon. He is double[illegible].

Next Saturday will be bonety day [illegible]

[illegible] Monday last [illegible] town.

[illegible] Saturday [illegible] the Council rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Pelton were at Detroit the first of the week visiting friends.

Rev. Frank Adkins will be home this week and supply his pulpit next Sunday.

Jas. Curry has secured another first-class barber, and his three chairs are now full.

Dr. J. B. Haynes and family, of Dundee, were visiting friends in town Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jones spent a couple of days at Lake Manitou the first of the week.

Mrs. A. L. Mills and daughter, and Mrs. E. V. DePuy, are visiting friends at Britton to day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brewer are spending the week at Bay View and other northern Michigan resorts.

Grant Gardinghouse will start today for Bath, New York, where he goes for the improvement of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Baird and sister were summoned to their home last Tuesday, by the death of Mr. Baird's elder sister.

The Universalist Sunday School had a very pleasant day's recreation and picnic yesterday at Adam's grove, east of the Globe Mill.

Co. C. will leave for the Fort Wayne encampment on the early Lake Shore train to morrow morning. They expect to have a fine time.

C. H. Fairfield accompanied by his father, Rev. Fairfield, leave today for a week's trip up to Mackinac and other north Michigan resorts.

Jas. Dunnigan has taken a partner in the dray business in the person of Geo. Gibson, of Clinton. "Geo." is a buster and the two will make a strong team in the business.

Thos. H. Masker, of Spartaville, arrived home last Friday from an extensive trip through southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois. He enjoyed himself during the time, and passed through a section of very fine country.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church, Tecumseh, will be held on the 28th and 29th of August. Services on Saturday at 2:30 P. M. Love feast. Sunday at 9 A. M. Rev. T. J. Joslin, Presiding Elder, will preach on Sunday evening.

Edgar L. Lee passed his twenty first birthday last Sunday, and in honor of the event his father and mother presented him with an elegant gold watch, as an gift which he will esteem very highly, not only for its intrinsic worth, but also for its associations.

Mat Root got home yesterday, having made one run between Cleveland and Chicago. His regular trip will be on a letter car, between these two cities. He will commence duty on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, and will be on duty eight days and off eight days, and so on.

The Big Rapids Current says that Mr. E. B. Mercer's name is favorably mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for sheriff of Mecosta Co. Mr. Mercer served as deputy sheriff during his residency here to good acceptance, and we believe he has the elements in him for an excellent sheriff.

A basket grove meeting will be held by the Universalist churches of Manchester and Tecumseh in Bertlott's grove, on Sunday, Aug. 29th. Services at 11 A. M. and 2 P. M. Admitted. The grove is a little west of Clinton and north of the old Chicago turnpike. Northwest from the Clinton Woolen mill.

"Having Salt in Ourselves." Subject of sermon for Sunday morning at 10:30, at the Universalist church. Text, Mark 9:50. In the evening at 7:30 by request, "Universalism and Orthodoxy." Their place of God, Christ, Evil, The Fall, Regeneration, Death, Resurrection, Judgment, Heaven and Hell, side by side. Text, 1 Cor. 15:19.

Another business change took place in our village last Tuesday, in which C. P. Sparks sold his stock of musical instruments, sewing machines, etc., to Mr. Mark Russell, formerly superintendent of the Clinton woolen mills. Mr. Russell is an experienced music teacher, and understands the business thoroughly. He will immediately make a large addition to the present stock, and push the business and we bespeak for him success in this new venture.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., Aug. 1st, 1886.

We are waiting here for an extra engine to join us up the mountain [illegible] the miles I will jot down a few notes. I [illegible] yesterday morning [illegible] We arrived at Los Angeles about 10 P. M. Thursday, where we had a grand reception waiting for us. Friday we spent in sightseeing [illegible] of the R. R. [illegible]

[illegible] Charley Davis, formerly of Tecumseh, came and introduced himself and proposed to take us for a ride. We gladly accepted, and he drove us over a large portion of the city and gave us much valuable information. It is a live growing city of 40,000 inhabitants and more than booming. The climate is delightful the year round. While the mercury averages about 100 degrees during the day, there is always a fine ocean breeze, and I did not feel the heat as much as I often do in Tecumseh. This valley certainly approaches nearer to Paradise than any place I ever visited. All that any man can ask for is here provided. All the semi tropical fruits grow in abundance and are very cheap. It is the first place I have seen that I would exchange for Michigan. If I were young and could dispose of my property to advantage, I should be willing to move out here and take my chances. They have good schools, good church privileges, good society and provisions of all kinds are cheap. One can get a good meal for fifteen cents, but "two bits" (twenty cents) is the regular price. Substantial brick and granite business blocks are building and many of the private residences and grounds are elegant. About noon I found Charley Butrick, a brother of Riley Butrick, who lives opposite Joe Keeney's in Franklin. He was an old school mate of mine. He said I was the second of his old neighbors he had seen since he came West sixteen years ago. Until four years ago he spent most of his time in Arizona, at silver mining. He is engaged at Los Angeles in the real estate business and is doing well. Bowen, Davis and I went and took dinner with him. He has a nice wife and a very pleasant home. In his garden we saw growing, side by side, oranges, lemons, bananas, figs, apricots, limes, castor beans, peaches and plums. Limes sell on the market high, and are much used in place of lemons. Davis keeps a double team and surrey and we all drove out to Pasadena, [illegible] distant. Ten years ago Pasadena was a blazing ranch worth $25 per acre. Now it is [illegible] worth $2,000 an acre and over. We expect to go to San Bernardino and Riverside and then drive back through beautiful Bear Valley and fine strawberry country. We arrived here last night. The Grand Central Hotel is now building and promises to be one of the finest hotels in the country. It is a magnificent building and will have all the modern improvements. It will be named "The Raymond." While passing through this building I met a man who introduced himself as George Pulbeam, formerly of Ridgeway. He says: "I have been in this county 16 years. My friends in Michigan probably think me dead, as I have never written home and they know nothing of me, where I am or what I do. I am a stair builder by trade and have charge of the carpenter work in this building, and built the Mrs. Crocker mansion, the finest residence in Los Angeles." The stairs and other work I examined showed that Mr. Pilbeam is master of his trade. The inside finish is mostly of the beautiful California red wood. It finishes in elegantly. This wood is used almost exclusively for R. R. ties, fence posts, etc., as it lasts almost as long as Michigan cedar. The square timber used here is Oregon pitch pine. They get it cheap and of almost any length. Huge sticks fifty and sixty feet long are not uncommon. Redwood lumber sells for $20 to $25 per m. It is entirely free from knots and splits straight and easily. With a few thousand dollars capital, I can hardly imagine a better place in which to live and make money than here. Real estate business is the greatest catch as it increases in value every day. We wanted to visit the extensive ostrich farm about eight miles away and the ranches, but had no time. Last week a field of 3,000 acres of wheat caught fire from a railroad locomotive and was all burned. It was fully insured. All crops here are insured.

We should have been in San Francisco yesterday (Saturday) but will not get there until to morrow afternoon. Early ones are numerous and seem to be unmanageable but we are bound to make the best of it and have a good time. Last evening I saw Will Wilson, formerly of Tecumseh. When he reached here he had but $5. He has been hard at work ever since for a home during the two years he has been here and has some money ahead. Carpenters get $3.50 to $4 a day and can work the year round. He has not lost an hour by rain since April last. Masons get $5.00 per day and [illegible] greatly interfere with the common white laborer. The Chinamen are [illegible] faithful workers and [illegible] the best of [illegible]

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

[illegible] Council met in the Council room, Tecumseh, Mich., Aug. 2nd, 1886. Present, President Shaw and Trustees Davis, Conklin, Kiser and Shultz. Absent, Trustees Kiser and Shultz. Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

[illegible] Resolved, That the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh do hereby require that a new sidewalk be constructed along that portion of the North line of Pottawatamie street in this village, which lies along and adjoining the South line of that parcel of land situate in the Village of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, [illegible] viz., The South half of lot number eight of block number [illegible] of Hogg's addition to said village. Said walk to be four feet in width of sound pine plank 1½ inches thick, and not exceeding six inches in width, laid lengthwise and well spiked down on sound burr or white oak stringers 2 in. by [illegible] inches in size and placed not more than two feet apart and double at joints in the planking, under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and to be completed within twenty days from personal service upon the owner or occupant of said above described land of a copy of this resolution and in case of any default in the construction and completion of said walk as herein directed, the Street Commissioner is hereby ordered to construct said walk, and payment therefor shall be required of the owner of said above described land, and the expense thereof assessed and levied upon said land in the same manner as other taxes.

Resolved, That the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh do hereby require that a new sidewalk be constructed along that portion of the West line of Onondaga street in this village, which lies along and adjoining the East line of that parcel of land situate in the Village of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, known and described as follows, viz: Bounded North by an alley, East by Oneida street, South by Pottawatamie street, West by lands of Forrestall. Said walk to be four feet in width, of sound pine plank 1½ inches thick, and not exceeding six inches in width, laid lengthwise and well spiked down on sound burr or white oak stringers 2 in. by 4 in. in size, and placed not more than two feet apart and double at joints in the planking, under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and to be completed within twenty days from personal service upon the owner or occupant of said above described land of a copy of this resolution, and in case of any default in the construction and completion of said walk as herein directed, the Street Commissioner is hereby ordered to construct said walk, and payment therefor shall be required of the owner of said above described land, and the expense thereof assessed and levied upon said land in the same manner as other taxes.

The finance committee reported favorably upon the above claims referred. Accepted and adopted, and orders drawn.

On motion Council then adjourned.

[illegible] B. Wood, Recorder.

[illegible] Regular Session. Present [illegible] Minutes of proceedings meetings read and approved.

[illegible] The Marshal reported the service of sidewalk notice upon Lewis Alt and that owing to other interests of in no decisions passed at last meeting the signal not yet be found.

Street Commissioner reported [illegible] labor for month of July. Compensation [illegible] worked [illegible]

[illegible]

The following bills were presented and referred to finance committee: [illegible] Tuesday, hay, [illegible] Thursday, hay, [illegible] Dodge Love, Depot, [illegible] Mill, [illegible] M. I. Wilson, $2.05. And the following for labor: Jas. O'Brien, $2.50. A. Packard, $2.50. C. Albaugh, living prices, $1.

Claim of Jas. Glasgow for damages received [illegible] from a defective sidewalk [illegible] referred to street committee for investigation.

[illegible] Council then adjourned.

[illegible]

SOT LIKE FLASHES

[illegible] was a delegate to the Republican County convention last Monday.

We can bring to wire and make note withstanding Edison's new scheme.

Mary will attend school at Hanover this fall. We shall miss her merry chirk.

There is a ranger circulating among the fraternity that W. Y. contemplates going into the millinery business.

D. E. will go to Detroit to morrow to see the Detroit base ballists up to down the Gardeners from Chicago. He is an enthusiastic champion of Detroit sturdy but will probably come home a sadder and a wiser man in baseball.

Rye's seems to be quite a favorite on the line just at present. Better call an executive session and have him disqualified. To some less even such a course may seem pretty rough on Rye's, Rats.

Latest news from W. D. [illegible] is well and happy, and enjoys the magnificent scenery and glorious climate of California exceedingly.

Query. Does C. [illegible] study telegraphy or medicine? Advice Dr.

The H. Y. string was connected with the C. T. line a few days ago but it will not be all permanent. It runs cause a little confusion in regard to "calls," as some of the H. Y. people are furnished with the same "calls" as operators on the C. T. line.

The happy smiles of X. Y. and S. will be, among other good things served at the Valley Seminary reunion to morrow. They will assist in the distribution of delicacies.

W. G. was considerably agitated a few nights ago by the very bellicose attitude of a certain brother who had broken in [illegible] and shooted [illegible]

Prof. Edison's new theory if practical promises to work great changes in the present condition of things. Prof. Edison says that the earth is full of electric currents running in different directions, and that the exact course of a current can be successfully determined. In process of wires and poles would be of value and nothing but the base summer and sey essential to the business. If the scheme proves successful it will be of great benefit to the people as it must necessarily lessen the expense all around.

PUT-IN-BAY EXCURSION.

The Michigan and Ohio railroad will run another cheap excursion to Put-in-Bay on Tuesday, Aug. 24th, and we give the schedule of prices and time table below:

Stations	Ex.	Round trip rate
Battle Creek	7.00	[illegible]
Cereso	7.10	[illegible]
Marshall	7.24	[illegible]
Walters	7.41	1.05
Ashford	7.54	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pinckney	[illegible]	[illegible]
Stockbridge	[illegible]	[illegible]
Munith	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chelsea	[illegible]	[illegible]
Grass Lake	[illegible]	[illegible]
Brooklyn	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pinckney	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hamburg	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pleasant Lake	[illegible]	[illegible]
Manchester	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bridgewater	[illegible]	[illegible]
Britton	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tecumseh	[illegible]	[illegible]
Arrive at Toledo	[illegible]	[illegible]

The train will leave the passenger depot at the dock where a stranger was seen [illegible] them to the Island. Returning the boat will reach Toledo at [illegible] and the train will leave immediately after. A very enjoyable time may be spent on the beautiful Island. This will be a cheap trip to Put-in-Bay that family men and everyone should take advantage of.

[illegible]

[illegible] Harness very cheap at C. A. Seaton's.

[illegible] Wanted, some thing extraordinary cheap for good dress and Sunday clothes, go to Herb's White Lodge Rooms. It will fit the spot exactly.

Large stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices.

C. A. SEATON.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[illegible] PROHIBITION COUNTY CONVENTION [illegible] Prohibition County Convention will be held in the opera house, Adrian, Aug. 24th, at 10 o'clock, A.M., to nominate for county and legislative tickets. Each township and ward will be entitled to six delegates, each State Senatorial District, Prompt attendance at 10 o'clock is desired, as part of the work of the convention has to be done before noon, the Congressional Convention being called for the same day and place but at two o'clock P.M. Prof. Sara Dickie, candidate for governor, will give an address in the afternoon.

[illegible] P. B. CHASE, Secretary.

THE PROHIBITION CONVENTION for the second congressional district, consisting of Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties, will meet at the opera house in Adrian, Tuesday, Aug. 24, at 2 o'clock, P.M., to place in nomination a candidate for congress. Basis of representation the same as for state conventions, or five for each representative district.

[illegible] B. WARING, Chairman Comty Com.
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1, 86.

MEETINGS, CONVENTIONS, ETC.

Aug. 19th, Thursday—Republican Congressional Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 19, Thursday to Aug. 26, Saturday—G. A. R. Encampment at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Aug. 24th, Tuesday—Prohibition Congressional and County Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 25th, Wednesday, Democratic Congressional Convention at Adrian.

Aug. 25th, Wednesday—Republican State Convention at Grand Rapids.

Aug. 31st, Tuesday, to Sept. 3d, Friday—51st A. R. Encampment at Hillsdale.

Aug. 23, 27, Monday to Friday—State Teacher's Institute at Adrian.

Sept. 2d, Thursday—County Pioneer Meeting at Macon Grange Hall.

Sept. 6-11, Monday to Saturday—Tri State Fair at Toledo.

Sept. 13-17, Monday to Friday—Mich. State Fair at Jackson.

Sept. 21-24, Tuesday to Friday—Lenawee County Fair at Adrian.

[illegible] Stainbley was in town yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Fairfield of Vineland, was in town last Friday.

Miss Nina Martin left for Toledo on last Friday for a visit.

Next Saturday is Hosiery day at Sutton, Fairfield and Co.

J. C. Clough has bought a 30 acre farm, 2½ miles southwest of Hartford.

Miss Gertie Van Camp, of Detroit, is visiting friends in Adrian and Tecumseh.

Wilson Lee, of Onsted, was in town Monday and favored the HERALD with a call.

Mrs. A. D. Lawrence expects to return home from Grand Lake to day with the Adrian party.

Capt. E. P. Allen went to Adrian yesterday presumably to be on hand during the convention to day.

Every one that wears stockings can save money by buying them next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Frank Hall, formerly of Tecumseh, who now lives at Decatur, Ill., is spending a few days with his old Tecumseh friends. During his boyhood Frank's father lived in the house just west of Mr. Lucius Lilley's, on Chicago street.

The union Sunday School picnic, which went from Tecumseh to Devils Lake, last Friday, was largely attended. Seven coaches were filled. The picnickers made their headquarters at Treadwell's landing, and a delightful day was passed by all.

An excursion train will run over the Wabash to Detroit to morrow for the benefit of all who wish to witness the Detroit vs. Chicago league game which will be called at exercise, promptly at 4 o'clock P. M. The train will leave Britton at 8 o'clock A. M. Fare for the round trip $1.25.

H. C. Wason, of Toledo, was in town yesterday. We understand he is here for the purpose of disposing the Tecumseh Lumber Co. property to the C. & M. Coal and Mfg. Co. and close up the business. This will be a valuable addition to the latter company's stock and they will be in better shape than ever to do business.

Jas. Glasgow and wife attended a family reunion at Lake Manitou yesterday. Members of the Neeley and Coxin families on this county, and several relatives from Philadelphia were in attendance. 100 guests sat down to dinner. The company had a most pleasant time and feel under obligations to Mr. Putnam for his kind attention.

J. S. Kinney will move his stock [illegible] this week.

Frank Hall of Adrian college is at home.

Mrs. B. F. R[illegible] is spending the week at the lakes.

Chas. Lewis has a new delivery wagon. He is double[illegible]

Next Saturday will be bonety day [illegible]

[illegible] Monday last [illegible] town.

[illegible] Saturday [illegible] the Council rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Pelton were at Detroit the first of the week visiting friends.

Rev. Frank Adkins will be home this week and supply his pulpit next Sunday.

Jas. Curry has secured another first-class barber, and his three chairs are now full.

Dr. J. B. Haynes and family, of Dundee, were visiting friends in town Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jones spent a couple of days at Lake Manitou the first of the week.

Mrs. A. L. Mills and daughter, and Mrs. E. V. DePuy, are visiting friends at Britton to day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brewer are spending the week at Bay View and other northern Michigan resorts.

Grant Gardinghouse will start today for Bath, New York, where he goes for the improvement of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Baird and sister were summoned to their home last Tuesday, by the death of Mr. Baird's elder sister.

The Universalist Sunday School had a very pleasant day's recreation and picnic yesterday at Adam's grove, east of the Globe Mill.

Co. C. will leave for the Fort Wayne encampment on the early Lake Shore train to morrow morning. They expect to have a fine time.

C. H. Fairfield accompanied by his father, Rev. Fairfield, leave today for a week's trip up to Mackinac and other north Michigan resorts.

Jas. Dunnigan has taken a partner in the dray business in the person of Geo. Gibson, of Clinton. "Geo." is a buster and the two will make a strong team in the business.

Thos. H. Masker, of Spartaville, arrived home last Friday from an extensive trip through southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois. He enjoyed himself during the time, and passed through a section of very fine country.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church, Tecumseh, will be held on the 28th and 29th of August. Services on Saturday at 2:30 P. M. Love feast. Sunday at 9 A. M. Rev. T. J. Joslin, Presiding Elder, will preach on Sunday evening.

Edgar L. Lee passed his twenty first birthday last Sunday, and in honor of the event his father and mother presented him with an elegant gold watch, as an gift which he will esteem very highly, not only for its intrinsic worth, but also for its associations.

Mat Root got home yesterday, having made one run between Cleveland and Chicago. His regular trip will be on a letter car, between these two cities. He will commence duty on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, and will be on duty eight days and off eight days, and so on.

The Big Rapids Current says that Mr. E. B. Mercer's name is favorably mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for sheriff of Mecosta Co. Mr. Mercer served as deputy sheriff during his residency here to good acceptance, and we believe he has the elements in him for an excellent sheriff.

A basket grove meeting will be held by the Universalist churches of Manchester and Tecumseh in Bertlott's grove, on Sunday, Aug. 29th. Services at 11 A. M. and 2 P. M. Admitted. The grove is a little west of Clinton and north of the old Chicago turnpike. Northwest from the Clinton Woolen mill.

"Having Salt in Ourselves." Subject of sermon for Sunday morning at 10:30, at the Universalist church. Text, Mark 9:50. In the evening at 7:30 by request, "Universalism and Orthodoxy." Their place of God, Christ, Evil, The Fall, Regeneration, Death, Resurrection, Judgment, Heaven and Hell, side by side. Text, 1 Cor. 15:19.

Another business change took place in our village last Tuesday, in which C. P. Sparks sold his stock of musical instruments, sewing machines, etc., to Mr. Mark Russell, formerly superintendent of the Clinton woolen mills. Mr. Russell is an experienced music teacher, and understands the business thoroughly. He will immediately make a large addition to the present stock, and push the business and we bespeak for him success in this new venture.

BY S. C. STACY

PEOPLES UNION PICNIC

Brace Up.

Young, old, and middle aged, all experience the wonderfully beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young children, suffering from sore eyes, sore ears, scald head, or with any scrofulous taint, become healthy and strong by the use of this medicine. Six bottles, $5.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

O. B. DeWOLF, S. W. TEMPLE

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Request that you get their prices on

HARD COAL!

Before putting in your orders for your winter supply.

Office, Mill and Yards on Shawnee St., near L. S. & M. S. Depot,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

TELEPHONE.

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

J. S. KINNEY

Is on hand for Spring Trade with a very fine stock of goods in the BEST OF

FURNITURE

PARLOR,

Group Suites, Chamber Suites,

Couches, Sofas, Easy Chairs, &c. In fact everything found in a first-class furniture store.

UNDERTAKING.

In all branches guaranteed. None employed but competent man that thoroughly understand their profession.

Give us a call and convince yourselves of these facts. Orders attended to promptly night or day.

N. B. BRADLEY & SONS, Bay City. H. C. WASON & CO., Toledo, O.

The Tecumseh Lumber Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors,

BLINDS & MOULDINGS

E. C. ROGERS, MANAGER.

Select Business College

MOST PERFECT MADE

Prepared with strict regard to Purity, Strength, and Healthfulness. Dr. Price's Baking Powder contains no Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Dr. Price's Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, etc., flavor deliciously.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., Chicago and St. Louis.

SPRING DANGERS.

The dangers of this season are simply appalling. The system has been racked up to meet the severity of Winter and the warm weather coming on opens the pores and, invites diseases both possible and probable. The great source of all Spring diseases is to be found in the blood which is almost always out of order in the spring. Men, women and children must take something to do something. Blood poisoning is so common and is becoming so dangerous it is necessary to exercise much more caution than ever before. The breaking out which is so frequent is not very often the result of impure blood, and usually a result of rheumatism. But suppose this impurity does not break out? What becomes of it? Often it attacks some vital organ, usually the heart, and sudden death or lingering suffering are the results. These are absolute facts and serious ones too.

For the treatment and cure of rheumatism in all its forms, as well as all blood diseases, and the functional derangements that cause them, Rheumatic Syrup is strongly recommended alike by the medical faculty and by prominent citizens, while it has never been surpassed. Acting immediately on the blood and its organs it removes at once the cause of the disease. Nothing better can be used in the spring of the year as a purifier, as it does not only cleanse the system, but it leaves the system in a healthy condition. Its action is gentle and yet sure. Its preparation does not injuriously effect on the digestive organs, but adds them in the performance of their duties and braces the nervous system.

Men have suffered, died and been mourned by their friends who did not know the real cause of their death. Women have passed away and their friends [illegible] understood why. Little children have broken out with fearful [illegible] and died and the cause [illegible]. These things [illegible] knowledge. [illegible] ready, they [illegible] hope they [illegible]

DAUGHY'S COLUMN.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching.

HISCOX & CO., New York.

5,000 AGENTS Wanted for the New Work.
CLADSTONE-PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE,

By the right Hon. Hon. J. R. O'Connor, M. P. for Tyrone, and R. M. McWade, Esq., endorsed by Hon. C. S. Parnell. A thrilling story of Irish oppression and the unlawful struggle for home rule that is rocking the British Empire to its center; also biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work, from high authority, of absorbing interest, fully illustrated, and in immense demand. 16th Ap. is quickly to Hubbard Pub. Co., 131 Monroe St., Grand Rapids, Mich.

QUICK AS A WINK.

We offer active men and women the greatest chance of their lives to make money rapidly with our new business of "Quick Photography." Easily learned, requires no experience and very small capital. Profits are 300 to 500 per cent., as what costs 5 cents, sells for $1 to $8, and Daily Profits will run from $5 to $25. Can be worked in connection with other business with immense success, and runs a long issue with most anything. The apparatus is always ready, light to carry, and is traveling about, visiting the farmer in the field, the mechanic in the shop, the horse-owner in driving, or you will in nine times out of ten get an order to make a picture of them just as they are—of the baby, the horse, cow, or the favorite pet of any one, or a group of the whole family, or of the old homestead. Anyone who is good workman and an artist and please all your patrons, will be a source of pleasant and honorable employment. In connection with the Photo business you can run a Magic Lantern entertainment with our Powerful Radiant Magic Lantern and Views, advertising it during the day, and easily adding $10 to $25 a day to your income, as no one are doing this. This is easy to learn and very pleasant. We supply all that is needed, all kinds of chemicals, lenses, frames, etc., and we instruct you in the business, so that you can be successful. If you have an active, desire to better yourself and family, see your way clear to make money fairly, set some thing of the world, acquire a good start in life, you can do it by taking our advice and sending for particulars. Address

A. WORLD MANUFACTURING CO., 5 Beekman St., New York. P. O. Box 2875.

Poultry, Game, Butter, Eggs.

Having the pleasure of opening the new store, I am prepared to handle poultry, game, butter, eggs, etc., to the best advantage. Shipping coops furnished free. Refer to any business house in Detroit. Reference, Detroit National Bank. Consignments solicited. Market reports and stencils furnished on application.

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, Mich.

TO ADVERTISE and meet with success in the purchase of new papers and a correct knowledge of what is required to secure such advertising JUDICIOUSLY and as cheaply as is consistent with honest dealing, CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS, NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

ONE YEAR AGO.

One year ago we sat where tall trees made
Above our heads a sympathetic shade
[illegible] warm was the air in bloom, the very air
Pulsed with the [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible]

We saw the blue sky through the green arcades,
The [illegible] breezes sang out an [illegible]
That happy day, the day beyond compare
[illegible]

We saw each other's souls, with joy
[illegible]
[illegible] hand
Has made all days since then more dear and fair.
Though silence [illegible] the lips that linger laid,
One year ago.

—Carlotta Perry in Brooklyn Magazine.

Comfortable clothing was a thing unknown, unique and characteristic then to the other products of the time. The writing paper, of a dingy salmon color, rough and furzy, was ruled with heavy, glaring blue lines doubtless on the principle that the plainness of the instruments should be in proportion to the difficulty of the way. But with this paper, such as it was, at hand, envelopes in proportion. It was resorted to only after every available bit of paper, every page of old account books, whether already written on one side or not, and even the fly leaves of printed volumes, had been ferreted out and exhausted. Envelopes were made of scraps of wall paper and from the pictorial pages of old books—the white side out—stuck together in some cases with the gum that exudes from peach trees.

Ink had almost as many substitutes as coffee, and with nearly as great a variety of results. Sumac berries, pokeberries, "oak balls," and green persimmons set with rusty nails were oftenest used in concocting the fluids with which we blotted paper. We found that black gum roots made fair corks. One of the very few things, if not the sole thing, that could be achieved with a dime was to post a letter. The ten-cent stamps, which were small and blue, bore a profile to all appearance a compromise between those of the rival presidents.—The Atlantic.

The Duke of Newcastle's Fish.

Some extensive alterations having been undertaken at Clumber park, the magnificent country seat of the duke of Newcastle, it was resolved to drain the great lake in the grounds, and for this purpose the fish were all taken or driven into the adjoining dams that usually regulate the water supply. The lake was deepened and the fish have now been carefully restored to their old quarters. About 12,000 pike were put back and several thousand carp and eels. Many of the pike were very large, some of them weighing forty pounds. There were shoals of tench and perch, and the carp were also of immense size. Clumber lake had not been disturbed for 200 years, so it is probable that many of the pike and carp have attained a patriarchal age. The biggest fish were carried by the keepers in their arms, and those under thirty pounds were conveyed in tanks. Some magnificent specimens were presented by the duke to the principal aquariums of the United Kingdom.

Progress of Theosophy in London.

Theosophy is one of the latest intellectual fads of London, and has caused much commotion there among the curious and speculative, who are continually seeking for novelties of creed. It has apparently taken great hold of the leisurely and fashionable classes on the other side, and is awakening considerable interest here. The head lodge of the society is at Adyar, Madras, and the noted Madame Blavatsky, now traveling in Germany, is regarded as the front of the peculiar movement. Just at present Boston is, according to her time-honored custom, in active sympathy with the pervading craze.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Perpetuating the German Stocking.

Now, in a somewhat analogous manner, is a German stocking preserved by its thrifty owner to a venerable old age. When the foot, after careful mending, is irretrievably gone, a new one is knit on the upper part, and when this in its turn becomes superannuated a new leg is joined to the foot. This operation being several times repeated the article in question enjoys an immortality of stocking-hood although like the frame which it helps to cover, its substance is entirely renewed.—Berlin Cor. New York Sun.

The Theory of Sun Spots Doubted.

Rev. F. Hovlett, of the London Astronomical society, has confirmed long entertained doubts concerning the correctness of the generally accepted theory that sun spots are depressions in the solar surface. Though himself an observer of the sun for many year, neither he nor friends perceived by his results have been able to see any spot on a notch worn at the sun's edge.—Arkansaw Traveler.

The Origin of "Two to One."

"Two to one" is a term applied to the pawnbroker's sign of three balls. So called because it is supposed by calculating humorists to be two to one against the redemption of a pledged article—a result borne out almost invariably by the experience of those doing business with "my uncle."—Globe-Democrat.

Largest Library in the World.

The largest library is the Bibliotheque National, in Paris, founded by Louis XIV. It contains 4,400,000 volumes, 900,000 pamphlets, 175,000 manuscripts, 500,000 maps and charts, and 150,000 coins and medals. The collections and engravings exceed 1,300,000, contained in some 40,000 volumes.—Exchange.

The latest hobby of the sultan of Turkey is the care of the soldiers wounded in the recent skirmishes on the Greek frontier. He not only has built a separate hospital for them and provided a physician for each soldier, but has ordered that every man of them be photographed and photographed in the new uniform.—New York Post.

A Way to Sleep Well.

Obtain but one hour's sleep in and repose. The soul is born of matter and the exhausted frame will wake refreshed, strengthened and invigorated. Then fresh from conquest of the sleep-god you may take up the battle of life as a giant refreshed and strengthened from the "mighty Intoxicant."—Cor. New York Sun.

The Poison of Bee Stings.

Eighteen bumblebees, twenty-five wasps, or thirty-eight honey bees are certain to kill a strong person to kill an adult.

The walls of Babylon were 350 feet

HINTS FOR HOT WEATHER.

Dress and Drink During the Warm Season—Beware of Iced Water.

[illegible] ness also in the [illegible] We are welcome mentally and physically, the very best thing to bring you back to a normal status is cold water, plenty of it, fresh linen and a continuous care for the [illegible] as well as the proprieties. A [illegible] and the mighty years ago it saw fit to a cold spring or a pump. I start right in the morning, strength permitting, and THAT the battle is won. It is difficult to insist to drink [illegible] water, as we [illegible] but it seems to me that the quantum of drinking should be regulated by appetite, thirst, your health and surroundings. If for instance you [illegible] a [illegible] of [illegible] perspiration, [illegible] to drink [illegible] the day overtakes you, [illegible] is the only way. I have for many years found it best to wear the most cool drinks and [illegible]

I begin at the [illegible] of underwear the description. I have for years found that silk is the coolest, heaviest and gauze for summer. Many of you suffer with your feet in this weather. The hot pavements kill her [illegible]. Well, that is your own fault. I wear in summer exactly as I do in winter, not quite so heavy, cork soled shoes. The consequence is that the rain never penetrates nor does the heat affect me.

[illegible] are attained by the wearing of cork soled shoes. It is a mistake, also, to go in days like those with the fashionable high-cut vest. Your waistcoat is your warmest garment. It hugs you closer than a brother. Lay it off and you catch cold in your stomach or bowels, and then, if you are built as I am, hades begins and heaven is a long way off. A vest for such weather as this should have three buttons only, and be very low cut, exposing a well-laundered, well-built shirt, which not only looks well, but is cool, inviting to the eye and comfortable to the body.

Always carry an umbreda. If it rains there you are, don't you know, and if the sun comes down and you are idiotic enough to be out in it, protect what head you have with intervening shade. How many sunstrokes have been saved in my particular case by the intervention of my parachutic friend it would be difficult to determine. Drinking is a matter of habit. Some drink tea, some coffee, some water, some lemonade, some beer, some claret, some whisky and champagne. I am always surprised when I see a man fill his stomach the first thing in the morning with a glass of iced water. The ordinary stomach is tired anyhow, and when yawning, listless, it wakes with the rest of the system, it feels like stretching and resting, folding its hands for a little more sleep and a little more slumber, just the same as the rest of us feel.

What, then, must be its surprise to have thrust into it, through the agency of its own, it the unwilling receptacle, a torrent of its deadliest enemy, iced water. Having swallowed a glass of iced water the ordinary idiot thrusts into the same stomach his oatmeal, his berries, his beef steak and potatoes and his hot roll, and wonders that he feels heavy.

What ought to be taken?

Well, if you must do anything, sip a tumbler of boiling water. The languid stomach is then surprised by a friendly shoulder at its wheel. The hot water soon makes friends with the gastric juice, and by the time you are ready to thrust the meal, and the steak and the rest of it into yourself, the stomach stands like a base ball catcher on the field with hands outstretched ready for the coming.—Joe Howard in Boston Globe.

Gospel of God's Pure Air.

Our laboring men, who are cleanly clad on the Sabbath, take their wives and little ones to the islands, or go into the country to a grove, to get God's pure air, are in far better mood to be reached by a gospel that preaches a kind, loving Father than they would to be deprived of all such blessings through church influence. We advise our clerical friends to let other people's comfort alone. We attend church every Sabbath, and wish our readers would do the same. It is a great benefit to them to hear things new and old out of God's holy word; but pure air, and the smell of trees, flowers, and grass, are as essential to comfort as mental food.—Portland (Me.) Express.

Production of Water-Marked Papers.

A Berlin papermaker's engineer has invented a new process for the production of water-marked paper by such means that the water lines like produced after the paper has been prepared, or calendered. The design or device to be produced is drawn on thin paper and pasted on to card board say of one inch in thickness. The design or device is then cut out and pasted on to a stout card board, and covered with a thin sheet of paper. If, then, the pane or relief thus produced is passed through a calendar, together with the paper, to be marked, the desired effect will be produced. The relief or pane may be used a great number of times.—Foreign Letter.

Exquisite Fruit of Guatemala.

In Guatemala the alligator pear is the most highly prized of all their fruits, and tastes somewhat like an exquisite pear and cantaloupe combined. Plums grow in endless quantities upon trees without leaves, the red fruit sticking on the bare wood as if pinned on. Oranges, lemons and limes bear all the year. The guava, from which a rich jelly is made in the West Indies, grow wild. There is a tree which bears a vegetable egg in great profusion, the substitute for hen fruit being about the size of the genuine article and answering the same purpose in many forms of cookery.—Chicago Herald.

Hardiness of Forest Tree Seedlings.

Observations have been made at the Ohio experimental experiment station on the hardiness of young forest tree seedlings after severe winters. Seedlings of [illegible] and yellow locust escaped without injury, [illegible] per cent. of scarlet maple and [illegible] per cent. of white ash and white [illegible] per cent. of [illegible] per cent. of [illegible] per cent. of

CLINTON PAGE.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

MARRIED

SPECIAL NOTICE

SCOTT'S
EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda.
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

THE STAR
A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration,
Published in the City of New York,
WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,
Editor and Proprietor.
Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.
THE WEEKLY STAR,
A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.
A clean, pure, bright and interesting
FAMILY PAPER.
Agricultural,
Market,
Fashion,
Household,
Political,
Financial and Commercial,
Poetical, Humorous and Editorial
THE DAILY STAR,
TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR
TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR
THE STAR,
26 and 28 North William St., New York.

ADVERTISE
CONSULT LORD & THOMAS
NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holders
FREE. Write Factory
E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

Agric'ltural Implement DEPOT.
C. A. SLAYTON
SOUTH BEND
BURGE
WARD
GALE
OLIVER
PLOWS
THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.
Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow
CULTIVATORS
Buckeye, Superior, Monitor, Roller
GRAIN DRILLS
KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER
Studebaker, Jackson and Thor
WAGONS.
GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.
Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed and Field Seeds.
Grand Central.
You can always find at the
Grand Central Supply
STORE
HENRY McCLURE
The Largest and Best Selected Stock of
Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.
IN TECUMSEH.
Teas a Specialty!
Canned Fruits of all Kinds.
Detroit Paper!
DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL
AFTERNOON PAPER
FREE PRESS AND Press
JOURNAL
JOURNAL'S
JOURNAL'S
JOURNAL
EXCURSIONISTS
And Visitors to Detroit!
WRIGHT, KAY & CO
DIAMONDS, WATCHES,
THE OPTICAL DEPARTMENT
WRIGHT, KAY & CO.,
B. EPSTEINHOFF'S
Dental Rooms.
FOR EXTRACTING.
OLIVER BICYCLES
FREE PRESS
The Weekly Free Press and The Household.
The Largest, Best and Cheapest of Weeklies.
THE GREAT
ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
SPECIAL BOOK OFFER.
Every One His Own Lawyer
Worldly Cyclopedia
Popular History of the Civil War
The Uses of Our Presidents
What Every One Should Know
Everybody's Paint Book; or, How to do Your Own Painting and Decorating
Webster's Dictionary and Dictionary of Electricity
DAILY FREE PRESS, $7.00 a Year.
DAILY, without Sunday, $5.50 "
The Free Press Co., Detroit, Mich.
FREE PRESS
ADVERTISE
LORD & THOMAS.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII. NO. 14. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, AUG 26, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1860

100 PIECES
HANDSOME
New Fall Dress Goods!

ALSO, A LARGE LINE OF

Elegant FANCY Velvets,

COME AND SEE THEM.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Loaded, Loaded, Loaded.

Every Department Loaded and New Goods arriving Daily. In order to make room for the New Goods, we will continue to sell All Summer Goods at prices that cannot fail to move them at once.

"SATURDAY"

We will offer the remainder of our Fancy Embroiderieed Dress Robes at less than actual cost to manufacture.

Call Early and Avoid the Rush.

AT

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!
STRAW HATS!
Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!
ALPACA COATS!
Seer-Sucker coats and Vests!

SUMMER GOODS!

Of all discriptions at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

TEMPLE, Mc CLURE & CO.,

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

A heavy rain storm passed over this section Saturday night.

[illegible] of the prohibitionists attended the county convention at Adrian Tuesday.

Mrs. Samuel Helm has a hen that hatched 18 chickens from 18 eggs, and wishes to know who can beat it.

Will Clack is filling the position of clerk in the store of G. W. Clark at present.

W. B. Arner and Fannie Schwab visited her sisters, Mrs. Walter Hacket and Mrs. Wm. Randolph, of Monroe, from Saturday until Monday.

Wm. Beavers had his barn burn Saturday night. It is supposed to have been set a fire by lightning.

Mrs. Mary Arner, is with her brother, Darius Heath, of Hastings, who is very sick, and his recovery is very doubtful.

Prof. Z. C. Spencer, of Battle Creek, Secretary of the Battle Creek school furniture manufactory, called on the officers of the district to show their self adjustible desk for the new school house.

W. E. Barrett, having improved from his sickness left Monday to join the pavilion theatrical troupe at Concord.

Rollo Fox, of Dundee, was the guest of Miss Marcia Kelly over Sunday.

Cora Hanson, of Milan, visited Miss Lou. Arner Wednesday.

Mrs. Gertie Rutherford and daughter Lulu, of Bolckon, Mo., are the guests of W. H. Arner and wife.

T. H. Montgomery and wife and H. Montgomery and wife, spent Wednesday at Devil's lake.

The last quarterly meeting for the present conference year will be held next Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

In the Christian church at Britton, Friday evening, Sept. 3d, there will be a chicken-pie social in the interest of the church and society. Britton Cornet Band will be present to entertain, and all are cordially invited to attend. BY ORDER COM.

The M. E. Sunday school has completed arrangements with the M. & O. R. R. for a cheap excursion to Devil's lake, Wednesday, Sept. 1st, for a basket picnic and boat ride. Tickets for the round trip 40 cts., also reduced rates on boat accommodations. A special invitation is extended to all the surrounding Sunday schools, as well as the public in general, to join in a day of pleasure and recreation. The agent A. J. Sutton, desires to know Monday, morning the number intending to go, that enough coaches to accommodate can be procured. The train leaves Ridgeway at 9.32 A. M. arriving at the lake at 10.34 A. M. The returning train leaves the lake at 4.17 P. M. arriving home at 5.20 standard time.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS.

Camp meeting brought the needed rain.

Corn is doing well considering.

Farmer's are plowing for wheat, but there will be less acreage than in previous years, as it costs more than it comes to.

The tile yard is well supplied with all sizes of tile, another kiln just burned.

Gertie Hand has been very sick with quinsy for the past two weeks, but is now better.

Mrs. Sarah Easlick has returned from visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sarah A. Grady, of Caro. Mrs. Grady came with her, and will make a brief stay.

Alta and Vernie Peck, of Summerfield, were the guests of A. Easlick's young people, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, taking in the camp meeting.

It has been remarkably healthy this summer.

John W. Sherman took the 10 P. M. train Monday for Seneca Falls, in response to a telegram announcing the death of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Beers.

We had the pleasure of participating in a picnic surprise birthday social at John C. Mills, Thursday, the 19th inst., where about 150 friends, neighbors and acquaintances passed a very pleasant afternoon. The occasion was intervened by excellent music from Miss Belle Barlow, of Ridgeway, and others on the piano, and martial music by the Macon band. An artist from Adrian took the necessary pictures. The table was of course loaded with good things among which were 17 kinds of cake. Mr. Mills' residence and surroundings are one of the finest in the township, and the family are enjoying all of its comforts.

Alva Easlick would add in regard to the tile drain from Devil's lake to Tecumseh, that the joints should be cemented to prevent the intrusion of sand, lest, as gravelly editors are not always available, brother are they always more [illegible] and [illegible].

Yes we were at the big farmers picnic. The first person we met after landing on the north side of the lake was the editor of the HERALD, who remarked that the train had gone, and that there was something very mysterious about the boat always getting stuck on the return trip. Next morning on descending from our room (haymow in hotel barn) we found him pacing the east piazza. Says he, "we are not alone in this," says I, there were sixteen ladies in that tent across the way all night. Is that so? says he, why did'nt you let me know it, I had to lay on the floor. Just then Alva Lewis approached and says, why, So we they would have killed you. He began to sing, "To die to die," when the breakfast bell rang and he disappeared.

At a meeting held at Grange Hall, Aug. 25, 1886, the following persons were chosen for the various committees to attend the pioneer meeting to be held at Grange hall, Macon, at 10 A. M. Sept. 2d.

Ex. Com.—George Howell, Grandville Mills, Mrs. J. C. Mills.

Com on Reception—C. V. Skinner and wife, James Hatch and wife.

Table Com.—J. F. Gilmore and wife, Grandville Mills and wife, Wm. Morgan and wife, James Clarkson and wife, Grand Whiting and wife, Edward Osgood and wife, L. S. Cook and wife, Daniel Bailey and wife, Simon Gould and wife, J. W. Osborn and wife.

Com. on Invitation—Dr. Geo. Howell, James Boyce and Nelson Miller.

Resolved that a general table be set for all who come.

J. F. GILMORE, Sec.

SPRINGVILLE SNUFF.

Tomatoes 50 cts. per bu.

C. E. Jessup represented the republicans of Cambridge at Grand Rapids, on Wednesday last.

Eugene Groger was called to Grand Rapids last week. His father, C. C. Groger is very sick.

A. J. Monagin has closed his labors with the heathens of Ohio and is home to quiet the pains of the afflicted of Cambridge and adjacent towns. Try a bottle of pain killer.

While Dr. Ross and his wife were returning from the farmers' picnic their buggy was run into and badly wrecked. Fortunately neither were hurt.—Onsted Odds.

Neither the Dr. nor his wife, suppose they mean; still the buggy might have been so badly wrecked that it could not be hurt.

It looks as though Onsted was getting the bulge on us sure. Two fresh arrivals chronicled last week, while we were unable to report one.

ONSTED ODDS.

School commences in district number five next Monday.

Mrs. Lizzie Greenleaf is quite sick.

William Onsted spent several days in Tecumseh last week.

Mrs. C. Derby, of Richland, has been visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Florence Secor went to Tecumseh last Saturday to visit friends.

F. D. Avery is at Adrian this week attending the Teacher's Institute.

The Onsted Good Templar's are to have a basket picnic at the head of Devil's Lake, on Saturday of this week. A free invitation is given to any who wish to attend.

The Magazine of Art.

The illustrations in the September number of The Magazine of Art would make a beautiful little album by themselves. The number opens with a suggestive paper on "Art in Australia," by R. A. Stevenson, which is practically an essay on all colonial art, its aims and limitations and successes. W. J. Henderson writes of "Some New York Theatres, giving descriptions, with illustrations, of the Casino, the Lyceum, and the Madison Square theatres, the three which exhibit most the quaintness and beauty of recent theatrical architecture. "The Picture Gallery at Dorchester House," which he thinks deserves to be known much better than it is. A very entertaining contribution on the subject of "Female Headgear," by Richard Heath, teaches resignation to the present high, but comparatively low, bonnets and hats that intercept our view at the theatre, with vivid presentment, literary and pictorial, of the extraordinary head dresses of the eighteenth century. Cassell & Company, Limited, New York. $3.50 a year in advance.

If you desire to possess a beautiful complexion take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and purifies the blood, and removes blotches and pimples, making the skin smooth and clear, and giving it a bright and healthy appearance. Take it this month.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a committee of the W. C. T. U.

A GLORIOUS RESURRECTION.

The present Prohibition movement is the most promising and certainly the greatest epoch in the history of our country.

It does not require much of a prophet's vision to see the bright glimpses of the coming revolution that is so soon to sweep this curse of all curses, the liquor traffic, into the deep gulf of annihilation, and this revolution will do more to clarify and elevate the moral tone of the people and dignify our civilization than all other influences of a human character combined. This new departure that is now so certain to culminate into a grand uprising has taken most of the politicians by surprise. This radical and dignified crusade for a righteous modification of statute law to prohibit the liquor traffic has been the result of the defiant character of the rum sellers, and their arrogant demands for concession and legal claims to respectability. The people are now determined, and their determination is taking a very active form.

Prohibition has become the rallying cry for young men and old men both of whom are forming into Prohibition Clubs all over the land. In N.Y., New Jersey, and all the New England States, and all over the West the people are hurrying forward with zeal and enthusiasm. The South are combined, and in every section of the country Prohibitionists have their representatives in compete political organizations.

The church is taking an active political interest, and the atmosphere is full of Prohibition everywhere. We now feel some of the inspiration that was prevalent when the grand old party first developed into life and activity for the destruction of slavery. The lightning flashes of truth and the thunder of an awakened conscience are hurried along on a flood-tide of a heroic enthusiasm. This cyclone of moral revolution has developed with a rapidity that has astonished every body, and that the Prohibition party will be triumphant in the near future, is as certain as the tides ebb and flow, nothing can now stay its onward progress. The fiat of the people is: "The saloon must go."—Demorest's Monthly.

TAKE CARE OF THE BOYS.

Yes, fathers and mothers, it is your boys that need your most thoughtful care. It seems to be instinctive with parents to shield their girls from the sight or the sound of sinful things. What mother would rest if, when evening comes, her little daughter were at large in the street, frequenting the village store, or hanging about the door of a drinking saloon. How many times is the son, only a ten-year-old, away from the sight and sound of the mother at nightfall, breathing in a worse malaria than that from stagnant pools, from the rude talk of older boys, or of coarse vulgar men?

Out grow it, will they? Do they? Now and then a boy poisoned in childhood by vicious associates does live down the poison, and comes out a clean, pure man; but look over any community in search of the young men, without guile, whose souls and bodies are clean, and are they the rule or the exception? Scrutinize the sisters of these same young men and do you expect to find the spotless among the rule or the exception. It is the curse of the world that its boys are cherished less sacredly than its girls, that they whose temptations to physical vices are strongest, have the least done to fortify them against evil.

Do not say that because of the difference in their natures, boys and girls cannot be trained by the same standard of morality. It is a base libel upon manhood, fostered so long in the world that it has come almost to be believed. If boys have greater temptations, so have they stronger powers, were they only cultivated. But too often they are wholly neglected. Do not trust to the future to bring your boys out right, for it will almost certainly bring them out scarred. Neither trust to their being above temptation, for the infants of angels and archangels would, in their infancy, be subject to temptation. Know always where they are, and what are their inmost thoughts, and this not by prying, tyrannical oversight of their movements, but by such a loving, yearning interest for their well-being that they love to open their souls to you. Some day these boys of yours will be seeking out mates, and you expect them to bring you spotless, high minded girls. In receiving them how can you think it honorable to give less in return than spotless, high minded boys?

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

Conducted by Rev. E. H. Chapin.

LESSON XI.

JESUS COMFORTS HIS DISCIPLES. John 14:1-14. Read John 13:31-38. Sept. 12, 1886.

Time and Place—same as last lesson.

We are still in the upper room at Jerusalem. The scene becomes more touching and affecting. Christ sees His speedy arrest and crucifixion, with clear vision; the disciples have a vague apprehension of coming disaster.

They have just heard the warnings given to Judas and Peter, and in the presence of approaching sorrow they were naturally depressed. Jesus comes to their relief.

He says, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in Me." Oh, how sweetly these beautiful words have come to the burdened hearts of humanity in all ages, as his people have learnt to lay their sorrows upon Him who was "acquainted with grief, and who never yet turned away the anxious sufferer."

He gives to His disciples, and thro' them to the world, comfort through believing in Him, and also through the knowledge of a home beyond this life.

He assures them that in His Father's house there is room for all His followers.

There are "many mansions" prepared for His people, and He tells them He will come again by His resurrection, the descent of the Spirit, His abiding in our hearts quickening us into the higher life, by His second advent, by all these He promises to come again and gather His children home.

Then He tells them that He is "the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father but by me." Men have tried at different periods of the world's history to find a way for themselves.

They have professed to find it in this or that plan; but Christ says distinctly "No man cometh unto the Father but by me."

Having thus given them comfort through believing in Him, and from the fact of a heavenly home being provided for them; having declared Himself to be the only true and living Way by which this home can be reached, He proceeds to assure them that, thus believing, they shall do the works that He did, and greater works than these shall "they" do.

And He promises to grant their prayers offered in His name, that the Father may be glorified in the Son."

What sweet and enabling consolation all this was to the anxious hearts of the disciples, and how magnificent the have the words already been verified.

On the day of Pentecost more people were converted than in all of Christ's ministry. "Greater works than these shall ye do," said Jesus. And the work has already gone forward until, in 1880, there were four hundred million people under Christian governments.

And ever since that memorable night the words of our lesson have been a heritage of comfort and peace to the followers of Jesus.

LESSON TEACHINGS.

1. What a Friend we have in Jesus.
2. There is a home for us in Heaven, if we trust in Jesus who is the Way.
3. There is work to do for Jesus.
4. Pray in the name of Jesus.

The Carpet Pests.

The Lockport Union gives the following method for getting rid of the latest household pest, the carpet bug:

Place salt sprinkled in the edge of the carpet and under the mopboard, it is said will drive the bugs away. If the bugs have become numerous sprinkle the carpet all over with salt, and after letting it remain a short time, sweep it off, and it is claimed the bugs will either die or quit the premises. If this fails to have the desired effect, take up the carpet and sprinkle both sides with salt; let it remain awhile, and then whip it out the same as you would dust. Before replacing the carpet on the floor, sprinkle salt in every crack and crevice, and the bugs will not again visit that locality.

To which the Geneva Gazette adds the following: A lady of this village corroborates the good results thus spoken of by sprinkling salt on carpets a practice she has pursued for years for purifying them, and without reference to the pests. She says she has never found a carpet bug in the house. A remedy so simple, so easily applied and absolutely harmless to carpets and household furniture is worth a trial.

The combination, and process in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla are peculiar to this medicine, and unknown to others.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD,

Issued Every Thursday Morning

H. S. STACY

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

ADVERTISING RATES

DEMOCRATS AND GREENBACKERS

The Two State Conventions Held Last Week

A Fusion Ticket Placed in Nomination

CAPT. EDWARD P. ALLEN

Will Lead the Republicans in the Second Congressional District

The Republican Congressional Convention for this district was held at Adrian on Thursday last. A full delegation in the district was present. Hon. [illegible] was chosen President of the Convention and made a stirring address which elicited much applause. The usual committees were appointed and the convention proceeded to ballot for a candidate. The following is the result as [illegible]

Hillsdale	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lenawee	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Monroe	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Washtenaw	[illegible]	—	—
	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Lenawee then gave C. M. Crowell [illegible]

A further ballot was then taken with the following results:

	Allen	Spalding
Hillsdale	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lenawee	[illegible]	[illegible]
Monroe	[illegible]	[illegible]
Washtenaw	[illegible]	[illegible]
	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible] Capt. E. P. Allen was [illegible]

[illegible] Capt. Allen [illegible] and very popular in the West [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Yates of [illegible]

[illegible] Treasurer—Wm. [illegible]

[illegible] Washtenaw [illegible]

[illegible] Monroe [illegible]

[illegible] Lenawee [illegible]

[illegible] Hillsdale [illegible]

[illegible] Wm. Derbyshire, of Ro[illegible] James M. D. Trebble [illegible]

[illegible] committees were left in the hands of the chairman.

THE RESOLUTIONS

We, the representatives of the [illegible] party of Lenawee county in convention assembled, [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] in the [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

MOST PERFECT MADE

Prepared with strict regard to Purity, Strength, and Healthfulness. Dr. Price's Baking Powder contains neither Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Dr. Price's Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, etc., flavor delicately.

FRANK DAVIS POWDER CO., Chicago and St. Louis.

NOON.

bed
Convolvulus, musk mallow, poppies, spread
The triumph of the sunshine overhead heat.

It tingles on the hedgerows. The young wheat
Sleeps warm in golden verdure, at my feet

The pale sweet grasses of the hayfield drink,
The bees hum, as the bees of honey think,
Such the deep lesson of the day. In three
Of all that beauty by the light defined,
Some there may perchance, stirred by the mind
Perhaps the sorrowfulness and the blind
—Matthew Field in The Spectator.

SPRING DANGERS

[illegible]

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and humor.

HISCOX & CO., New York.

500 AGENTS Wanted for the New Work,
GLADSTONE-PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE,

[illegible] Also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from fresh manuscript, [illegible] Apply quickly to H. L. Muldon, 111 Monroe St., Grand Rapids, Mich.

QUICK AS A WINK.

[illegible] Daily Profits will run from $5 to $8. [illegible] Write at once for Circulars, Terms, etc. [illegible] Chicago, Ill.

TO ADVERTISE [illegible] JUDICIOUSLY CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

PIANOS ORGANS

[illegible] Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co., NEW YORK; BOSTON; CHICAGO.

A Floating Beer Keg.

Enterprise in every conceivable form is to be met in this city. Oftentimes the smaller the business involved the greater the originality displayed in conducting it. One of the most successful adventurers in trade is a man who runs a saloon on the Harlem river. I speak advisedly when I say on the river, for his saloon is a boat. It is hardly bigger than a shell, and not so large as an ordinary row boat. It is propelled by steam, the engine for this purpose being a miniature contrivance that looks as if it might be put into the pocket and carried off with ease. But it makes the boat go, and pretty fast, too. The proprietor is his own business crew, steersman, bartender, and assistant. He wears an apron, just like any other tapster, and sits in front of his engine with a beer keg propped on some ice before him. Half a dozen mugs are at his feet, and with this outfit he steams about the river, now in New York county, now in Westchester, for the dividing line runs through the stream.

His great day is Sunday, when hundreds of people go rowing. Dry goods clerks and bookkeepers, whose arms are about as large as a chair leg, and whose wind is in proportion, go up and hire a skiff or a shell and paddle about for hours. They get dreadfully tired and thirsty, and in the hour of need up comes the floating beer keg to relieve them. The dealer washes his glass in the river and rushes about from one oarsman or boating party to another, and on a fair day disposes thus of from seven to nine barrels of beer. Week days his trade is, of course, not so large, but it is still profitable.—New York Cor. Chicago Herald.

The Little Astors at Newport.

When one sees the little Astors in Newport out walking with their nurses, she sighs to think what jolly, happy times they are missing. No dirt pies, no playing store with bits of broken crockery for goods, and pins for money; no doll's houses down in the orchard, with the kitten for an improvised baby and infant frogs kept under a purloined glass tumbler, to be fed every five minutes with leaves and berries—no, none of these primitive and childish pastimes for the little millionaires, arrayed in ravishing costumes that render them as lovely as an artist's dream.

Let us hope these chef d'œuvres of dressmaking, these ideal baby chalices, are occasionally dad, sable, and then clothed in sensible gingham and holland, the pretty creatures take a good, whole-some play in Newport dirt. It is said such is the case early in the morning, modeling on the plan of physical education followed by most of the young people in Newport, as elsewhere. But, somehow, the casual visitor never meets with a dirty faced son or daughter of wealth, and though this phase of childhood is considered objectionable from a take point of view, it would be a pleasant variation to the the perpetual en fete appearance of its most tender and over-elaborated society.—Boston Herald.

A Surprising Case.

Dickens has been much criticised for his apparent acceptance of the fact of human spontaneous combustion, but Sir W. Gull lately testified to a surprising case before the committee of the house of lords on intemperance. A large, bloated man, who was suffering from difficulty of breathing and great distension of the venous system, died at Guy's hospital. At the post mortem of the following day there was no sign of decomposition, and the body was believed to be distended with gas. "When punctures were made into the skin," said Sir William, "and a lighted match applied, the gas which escaped burned with the ordinary blue of carburetted hydrogen. As many as a dozen of these small flames were burning at the same time."—Medical Journal.

Natural Gas Interferes.

The Pittsburg observers say that the natural gas interferes more with their telescopic operations than smoke ever did; the heat so agitates the atmosphere.—Boston Transcript.

THE MUSIC OF THE FLUTE.

A Plea for the Instrument.

"There is no doubt about it," said William Bingham, the celebrated flute player, [illegible]

[illegible] gone out of style. Worse than that, it has become an object of ridicule. The boys now pluck the flute for autograph books, and [illegible] "Miss Nancy," and the [illegible] pastime. The verse [illegible] the flute, and [illegible] the boy [illegible] the flute [illegible] Bingham. Think of it!

[illegible] with its soft, sweet musical tones, [illegible] and looks [illegible] lowering tones, indeed! Well, I don't want to be a prejudice to the young man who is playing the cornet. The banjo isn't quite so bad, but what noise there is in its funk a-funk-a, funk-a-funk, I don't know.

Mr. Bingham spoke with the warmth of a partisan. He [illegible] to [illegible] nothing [illegible] he has kept making flutes more [illegible] when it was [illegible] to play the flute [illegible] the four-keyed flutes were called. These were the days when professional flute players were numerous and excellent. The old music lodge makes German flutes [illegible] in his little shop he still makes Boehm flutes, apparently quite as skillfully as he ever did.

"It is just possible," he continued, "that the Boehm flute has something to do with the decrease in the popularity of the flute, although it is almost treason to say so. The Boehm is a perfect instrument, in an [illegible] sense, but it is very much more expensive, costing all the way from $150 upward. It is also more complicated in its mechanism, although much easier to play, and therefore more liable to get out of order. And here comes the point I want to make. An amateur buys a Boehm flute, and enjoys it. About the time he has it well in hand it gets out of order. A mere trifle perhaps. The maker could fix it in a minute. But the owner tinkers with it, gets it worse, takes it to the first music store he sees; they tell him they'll have it fixed; they send it to some flute tinker, and the result is, too often, the flute is spoiled. Now, had the owner sent it at once to the maker, even from a distance, his flute would have come back better than ever. And so it comes about, that you will find, in not a few homes, Boehm flutes that cost a good sum lying dried up and useless, all for want of a little care.

"It is now the fashion to revive old styles. Why doesn't some one revive flute playing? There is no instrument more perfectly fitted for the parlor. Accompanied by the piano, or the harp, or guitar, or even the banjo it is very pleasing. There is much excellent music arranged for the flute and piano, and when you take two flutes and piano, each well played, then you have music indeed!

Europeans in Persia.

Numerous Europeans have visited the Persian capital lately, probably attracted by possible pompications. Then a sewing machine company has set up a depot, with many machines. The company presented a magnificent plated machine to the shah, but as a seamstress works here for 5 pence a day and feeds herself, sewing machines are not perhaps much wanted as yet. Many civilians and commercial men have passed through, but as there is no real way to recover debts in Persia, these latter will mostly have their labor for their pains. Consuls, not Armenian or Persian agents, are what the English merchants want, and they are not gratified, consequently, trade with Persia, from England at least, is not large.

On the other hand, a Russian or German trader finds no difficulty; his debts are recovered. The German minister has certainly protected his subjects to some purpose, and portraits of the German emperor and family, Bismarck, Moltke, etc., are seen everywhere. Even their statues are getting plentiful. Nearly every match box has the Prussian eagle on it. In fact, in the race for trade the Germans are running the Russians hard. A young French woman [illegible] piano lessons. The Nasr-ud-Sultaneh, the king's favorite son, also has his polonaise. The case of the Jews in Persia, too, seems likely to be bettered. A Jewish dentist has arrived, a physician, and a chemist. Dr. Allen, also an Jew, is now professor of medicine at the royal college.—Cor. Pall Mall Gazette.

The Dodge of a Sick Man.

"You've been sick, I see, I see!"

"A little—yes—"

"Don't be alarmed. I am not going to advise you to take anything [illegible]

"That's you.

"I've been sick myself and I know how it is. People are awfully good and kind and sympathetic, but they always will recommend you to take some new medicine."

"Oh, they mean well."

"When I was ill I let after a dozen [illegible] came up and suggested that I should try homœopathy or something else. I just purred a [illegible] on him and said: 'The very stuff I am taking.' He then considered [illegible] Although he was generally a little disappointed to meet so fatally [illegible] and got his ads when I got out.

"Lend me your bottle."

Things to Take Along.

It is told in Washington that after a certain senator, noted for his abstemiousness, came to Philadelphia for a short visit this morning and was [illegible] "Things to take along: One pair of socks, one shirt, two collars, one pair of cuffs, one wife."—New York Sun.

Madagascar has granted an English company a charter to establish a royal bank, with power to issue notes to the amount of [illegible] The bank will have a capital of [illegible] francs [illegible]

The first New York city nursery contained [illegible] The nursery of [illegible] Lee Phillips has 318 [illegible]

"Avoid the Way of the Georgia" is an [illegible] editorial [illegible] on the "Good Air Line."

For Toilet Use.

Ayer's Hair Vigor is [illegible] and [illegible] of all hair preparations.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

The use of Ayer's Hair Vigor [illegible] Ayer's Hair Vigor. [illegible] Foss, Manchester, N.H.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, [illegible]

PERFECT SAFETY, [illegible] Ayer's Pills [illegible] Hoadley, and Ayer's Cathartic [illegible] Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills, [illegible] all Dealers in Medicine.

NOW IS THE TIME
TO USE
JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA
FOR LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA,
AND FOR
PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

It has been in use for 26 years and has proved to be the best preparation in the Market for Sick Headache, Pain in the Side or Back, Liver Complaint, Pimples on the Face, Dyspepsia, Piles, and all Diseases that arise from a disordered Liver or impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggist at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six for five dollars. Sample bottles 50 cts. free on receipt of price.

W. JOHNSTON & CO.,
Detroit, Mich.

☞ When you have tried all the Sarsaparillas, and have been disappointed, try Johnston's.

TO MACKINAC.

SUMMER TOURS.

Palace Steamers. Low Rates.
Four Trips per Week Between
DETROIT, MACKINAC ISLAND
[illegible]
DETROIT AND CLEVELAND.
[illegible]
OUR ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS [illegible]
C. D. WHITCOMB, Genl Pass. Agt., Detroit & Cleveland Steam Nav. Co., DETROIT, MICH.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS!

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
Lost Appetite or Sick Headache
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
Weary, Aching Bones.
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
Dyspepsia.

DYSPEPSIA. [illegible] I feel it my duty to say regarding Burdock Blood Bitters, that it is the best medicine I ever took. I suffered two or three years from stomach troubles and dyspepsia as well as from liver and kidney complaint. I was not able to attend to my business. My food was [illegible] I read of your [illegible] and made up my mind to try it. The result [illegible] I believed my [illegible] JOSEPH LANDON, Chelsea, Vt.

LENAWEE CARRIAGE FACTORY
J. R. HIATT & CO.
Adrian, Mich.
MANUFACTURERS OF CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, CUTTINGS, &c.
SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, &c.
Sole agents for the
CAPITOL LUMBER WAGONS
Truck Bolsters and Skeleton Wagons.
[illegible] MICHIGAN.

LAKE SUPERIOR TRANSIT COMPANY
The Great Northern Route.
[illegible] Leaves Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 8 P. M. Full connections [illegible] Mackinaw, Marquette, Ontonagon, Houghton, Hancock, Portage Lake, Ashland, Bayfield, Superior, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Winnipeg, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Victoria, Vancouver, Yokohama, Hong Kong, Manila, Calcutta, Bombay, Liverpool, Hamburg, Bremen, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre, Paris, London, Glasgow, Dublin, Queenstown, Cork, Belfast, Boulogne, Christiania, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Gothenburg, Malmo, Helsingborg

COME TO US

FOR YOUR

CLOTHING.

Our stock is large and complete with a wide range of styles and prices. We have made great efforts to obtain the best styles and qualities, and have marked them at a very small margin above cost.

Our Low Prices will Please You.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Large[illegible] Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

[illegible] at the lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, [illegible]

ADVERTISING

[illegible] for THIS PAPER which is kept on file with

LORD & THOMAS,

Advertising Agents, Chicago, [illegible]

DE LAND & CO'S

SALERATUS SODA

For Baking Purposes.

Best in the World

FREE PRESS

The Weekly Detroit Free Press

and The Household.

THE GREAT

FAMILY NEWSPAPER

That it is generally regarded as the most desirable and meritorious of Weeklies is shown by the fact that it has by far the largest circulation of any paper published in Michigan. No well regulated family can be without it. Price, only ONE DOLLAR a year.

SPECIAL BOOK OFFER.

We will send The Weekly Free Press for one year, and any one of the Books named, postage paid, on receipt of amount quoted.

Every One His Own Lawyer	$1.50
World's Cyclopedia [illegible]	1.50
Popular History of the Civil War (illus)	1.50
The Lives of Our Presidents (illus)	1.50
What Every One Should Know. A [illegible]	1.50
Everybody's Paint Book; or, How to Be Your Own Painting and Decorating	1.50
Allibone's Webster's Dictionary and Dictionary of Literature	1.50

DAILY FREE PRESS, $7.00 a Year.
DAILY, 3 times a week, 3.50 "

SUBSCRIBE NOW—DON'T DELAY.

Free Specimen for stamp. Send for Premium List and Sample Copy. Local agents wanted.

The Free Press Co., Detroit, Mich.

FREE PRESS

N.W.AYER & SON

ADVERTISING AGENTS

TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA

[illegible] Agents [illegible]

ESTIMATES [illegible] FREE

[illegible] NEWSPAPER MANUAL

A Live Detroit Paper!

THE DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL

[illegible] PAPER [illegible] AND [illegible] THE FIRST DAY

Associated Press.

DISPATCHES.

THE EVENING JOURNAL [illegible] STATE [illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S [illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S LOCAL NEWS is Fresh and Accurate. Its [illegible] Department. Complete [illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL [illegible] INTEREST TO LADIES.

THE EVENING JOURNAL is [illegible] at 10 Cents per Week, [illegible] at the rate of $5.00 per Year, [illegible] prepaid.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ROOMS TO RENT.—Pleasant rooms to rent at the corner of Van Buren and Chicago streets. Inquire of MRS. YAWGER.

[illegible] Monday night.

Now is the proper seeding time for fall delivering.

District manager, John W. Mason was in town yesterday.

James Cummins of Toledo spent one Sunday in town.

Salmon Crane returned from St. Louis last Saturday.

Oscar Heck filled the Baptist pulpit at Quincy on Sunday last.

Claude Vonthine returned from a visit to Au Sable, Monday.

New Fancy Velvets beautiful goods just rec'd—call and see them.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

John Smith & Son of Clinton have an extended announcement on the Clinton page this week which will repay careful perusal.

Mrs. P. R. Adams, who has been spending a week among acquaintance at Grand Rapids and Battle Creek, returned home last Tuesday.

W. A. Burlingame started for Cadillac Tuesday evening, accompanied by Florence and Roy, who will attend school there the coming year.

The Young Peoples' society of the Baptist church will hold a Peach and cream social at the chapel, Thursday evening, Sept. 2nd. All are cordially invited.

A. W. Mills returned yesterday from his San Francisco trip. Capt. Lawrence and S. P. Hosmer arrived this morning, and the other members of the party are expected within a week.

Rev. I. A. Eberhart, a former pastor of the Tecumseh Universalist Church, accompanied by his wife, has been spending a few days with old friends here and at Adrian. He now resides at Chicago Lawn, Ill.

Knapp's Band is booked for Putnam's, Sand Lake, next Tuesday, also next Saturday and Sunday. A German picnic will be held on Tuesday, and Knapp's band will furnish music for the occasion.

Dr. O. Q. Jones of this village received the nomination of Coroner on the prohibition county ticket. The Doctor stands high in his profession and the nomination is a most creditable one to the party.

At the Democratic Congressional Convention held at Adrian yesterday, L. H. Salsbury was nominated for Congress. He received the votes of Lenawee, Hillsdale and Monroe counties. We go to press too early to give the full proceedings this week. It is a strong and wise nomination.

Rev. F. Adkins has returned from his vacation travels and will occupy his pulpit at the Baptist Church next Sabbath. He spent most of the time at Charlevoix and enjoyed his vacation wonderfully well. He returns much invigorated and prepared to enlist in an active fall campaign for the church.

On Sept. 6th the schools of this village will open for the fall term. Examinations for admission will be held in the Superintendent's office, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 2, 3 and 4. All students who have to be examined should be present on one of the above named days. Members of the High school should present themselves for classification on those days. Respectfully,

D. A. HAMMOND.

George Sisson's house, located half a mile east of Grange Hall was burned last Tuesday night about ten o'clock. The fire originated from an ash barrel in the wood house. The house was a total loss but most of the contents were saved. He has an insurance of $1000 in the farmer's mutual. Mr. Sisson was quite seriously burned in his efforts to save the house. He has moved his household effects into Stephen Hunter's house across the road.

Co. C returned home from the Ft. Wayne encampment last Tuesday morning, and all in good health. The boys had a very pleasant time and were well satisfied with their treatment with the exception of the culinary department, which was conceded by all to be somewhat "rank." The company, as usual, did themselves credit, and the Fort Wayne papers made special mention of their soldierly appearance and good behavior. Seven Michigan companies were present besides the G. A. R. Posts.

At the prohibition county convention, our townsman Mr. Milo Brown, was unanimously nominated for representative in the first legislative district. It was a case of the office seeking the man, as the nomination was not only unsought by him, but was a surprise. It was none the less worthily bestowed however. Mr. Brown has conducted a photograph gallery in Tecumseh for several years, and by his industry, energy and square dealing has built up a trade second to none of its character in the entire county. He is admirably qualified, both by natural aptitude and acquired training, to fill a legislative chair with credit to himself and honor to his constituents.

TECUMSEH, MICH., AUG. 26, 1886.

[illegible] Monday.

Wm. Bresie, of Decatur, Ill., left for home last Saturday.

F. C. Stoodle of Detroit spent last Sunday at N. M. Sutton's.

If you want to save money, buy your fall supply of Dry Goods now, at Sutton, Fairfield & Co.'s.

Work is progressing finely upon the foundation of Oscar Palmer's new dwelling house.

There will be a special communication of Tecumseh Lodge F. & A. M. tomorrow evening.

L. T. Bawden and J. L. Webber, of Lake Linden, U. S. were visiting friends in town the first of the week.

Ellis Walker, of Brooklyn, a former student in our schools, was visiting friends in town the fore part of the week.

A bright story of down-east Yankee life is published in the September Harper's from the pen of Julia D. Whiting.

Miss Eunice Davidson is still at Chautauqua and will remain until the season closes. She is delighted with her visit there.

Lyster Dewey, of the State Agricultural College was in town the fore part of the week. The college year began last Tuesday.

Leroy Dibble of Alba is spending a week among his friends in Franklin and Tecumseh. He is now engaged in trade at Alba, is making money and has three children.

Rev. E. B. Sutton, State lecturer for the Michigan state temperance alliance, delivered a red hot temperance address on the corner of Chicago and R. R. street Monday evening to a large crowd.

Professor Richard T. Ely, the best of our conservative political economists, extends his "Social Studies" in the next Harper's by a thorough consideration of the Reform of Railway Abuses.

The annual catalogue for the current year of the Michigan Agricultural College is at hand, and makes a good showing for that institution. Lenawee county students are becoming quite numerous there.

Harry Hanford, of Detroit, was taking a week's vacation last week, among his relatives and friends in Franklin and Tecumseh. Harry is enjoying excellent health and likes his situation there first rate.

Mr. Rogers, manager of the Tecumseh Lumber Co. will be at the old office for a few days to settle accounts and collect bills. The stock has been transferred to the O. & M. Coal & Mfg. Co., and the latter company have taken possession.

The third of the series of speed trials will take place at Adrian next Saturday afternoon, Aug. 28, and some interesting races may be looked for. There will be four classes—three year old colt race, three minute class, free for all trotting and running race.

A Third ward lady left $25 in the pocket of a summer dress which she had washed. After a day or two she remembered her cash deposit, hunted up the dress, and found that it had been washed, dried and sprinkled for ironing, but to her great joy, the money was still intact in the pocket.—Adrian Times.

L. F. Wheeler is still busy taking views, stereoscopic and photographic, of the city and vicinity. A large number will be taken and they will probably be placed on sale at some future time if proper encouragement be given. The pictures are exquisitely made. He has placed a water color painting of a river scene on exhibition at Smith & Smith's—a very pretty thing.—Ionia Standard.

Good housekeeping, published every other week at Holyoke, Mass., branch office at 239 Broadway, New York, is to publish a series of practical papers having reference to the personal care of the sick and the care of the sick room. These papers are six in number, and will be printed in the following order: 1st Premonitions of Illness, 2d, Food and Feeding in sickness, 3d, Food and feeding in convalescence, 4th, preparation and administration of medicine, 5th, nursing in surgical cases, 6th, nursing in nervous diseases. These are the productions of a trained nurse, and will be most valuable contributions to the practical medical literature of the day.

Tecumseh was well represented at the Free Methodist Camp meeting near Britton last Sunday, and the rain did'nt seem to have the usual effect on the attendance, as could be seen by the number of teams wending their way toward the rising sun. The exercises were of unusual interest and passed off very quietly, and the Tecumseh part of the congregation returned that evening with the exception of one of our prominent young grocery clerks, who, we are told, found it impossible to tear himself away from the good influence of the meeting, and concluded to remain until the next day. Our informant was not certain as to his having the "power," but we are in hopes that the seed sown that day will bring forth good results.

I. G. Rawson went to Adrian, Tuesday.

I. M. Mooney of Elkhart, Ind. was here Sunday.

Harry Quine of Toledo, is visiting friends in town this week.

Fred Swoyer of Charlotte was visiting his friends in town last Friday.

Van Fox and Fred. Bowerman of Adrian, were in town last Monday.

Dr. Pike has started for Harbor Springs last Friday on his annual vacation.

The rain of last Saturday and Sunday did an immense amount of good.

Bargains of every description await the visitors at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co. will close out their Emb. Dress Robes at less than cost Saturday.

Quite a number of our loyal sports took in the Detroit vs. Chicago base ball game last Friday.

D. McNair has been at West Point during the past week visiting his son Will, at that place.

We have just opened a large assortment of New Fall Dry Goods—shall be pleased to show them.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Mrs Seth Bullock and children started for Chicago last Monday, and were accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Eccles of this village.

In regard to baggage, Jas. Glasgow remarked to a HERALD reporter that on Aug. 11, he handled 63 pieces, on the 17th 46 and 18th 58 pieces. Nothing small about those figures or the trunks either, Jim says.

Don't fail to attend the opera house Monday evening and hear the celebrated actor, Francis Labadie, supported by a first-class company in that remarkable romance, "Monte Cristo." Admission has been placed at the low figures of 25 and 35 cts.

The next regular meeting of the Myrtle Club will be held at the residence of Mrs. Nay in Brownville, on Thursday evening, September 2nd. Where a literary programme will be carried out. All are cordially invited.

ELLA WOODEN, Sec'y.

Douglas and Wheeler Kislingbury, of Detroit, sons of the celebrated explorer, who perished with the Greeley expedition near the North pole, were in town last week. They came to visit their cousins, Mrs. S. Bullock's children, at J. C. Eccles'.

The Universalist churches of Manchester and Tecumseh will hold a Basket Grove Meeting next Sunday, Aug. 29th., in Bartlett's grove near Clinton. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Afternoon at 2 o'clock. All invited. Come and bring your Hymn Books having the following hymns in them: "Come Thou Almighty King," Italian Hymn, "Thou Unoriginate divine, encircling all," Mapoah, "Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove," Cambridge, "Bethoth O God, exalted high," Old Hundred, "The Morning light is breaking," Webb, "Nearer, my God to thee," Bethany.

The grove is a little west of the Clinton Woolen Mills, and north of the Chicago turnpike.

C. T. LINE FLASHES.

There are 85 operators on the C. T. Line.

M. B. is visiting friends in Raisin this week.

Rates seems to have fallen into "inocuous desuetude."

Q. is sojourning at Petoskey where he went to escape hay fever.

The weather report has been somewhat irregular of late.

Miss Nettie Asken of Ohio, has been the guest of N. A. during the past week.

E. R. was a delegate to the Prohibition County Convention at Adrian last Thursday.

There are 127,103 miles of telegraph lines in United States not including the C. T. division.

K. Y. is a delegate to the Republican State Convention at Grand Rapids this week.

S. Its has removed his office from the brick yard and now has head quarters at his residence.

A small party of clerks went to the residence of A. A. last Friday and passed a merry evening.

R. T. has accepted the position of master of the M. & O. Railroad. In behalf of C. T. line patrons we offer our congratulations.

M. A. Y., C. S., P., C., H., C. and P. H. attended Prohibition meeting at Ridgeway last Sunday, but whether the service left any very tenacious impression on their poor minds is to be seen.

S. contemplates entering a good [illegible] at Ypsilanti for the fall and winter. We hope he will find the "[illegible]." He has many friends along the line who will sincerely regret his departure.

Some of the ladies on the C. T. line are [illegible] into remarkably successful operators. A few of them are already capable of taking charge of an office in case of sickness or other casualties.

What has become of Q. N. Tele[illegible] is he has been very quiet of late, probably on account of the rush of business. When the sweetest water melon, the mellifluous onion and the deadly cucumber shall have been gathered into the garner we may expect to hear from him oftener.

Mr. Editor.—There are bees and bees, humble bees and honey bees, drone bees and working bees, a bee in the bonnet and a bee in the hive, but the last mentioned that I shall write of. Not long since the powers that be in the Seventh Month Reformed Church, in a moment of [illegible] decided that the parsonage of the village of Tecumseh, and have Snake of Lord Princes, Dwelling and other Lady Lords to dwell therein, should be thoroughly painted. Accordingly the necessary material was procured of a certain Sage who understands how to mix paint. There being on the ground the next thing was to put them under cover for laying in place along the course of the proposed ditch, they would hastily carry off the superfluous water.

It was decided to have a "bee," the other kind of bee, on Wednesday, Aug. 11. And this was not to be any of your one sided affairs, for the ladies were to assemble in force at the parsonage, and provide dinner for the men. It was in fact to be a double bee.

The eventful day came, ushered in by the dismal croaking of Lord Bullfrog, and the agitated running hither and thither of Lady Snake, whose peaceful domicile were to be so cruelly disturbed.

The Knight of the Mad Tower, with slow and painful step ascended Bindforemost his castle stairs, and gazed in mute sorrow upon the mouldering skeleton beneath, musing meanwhile upon the sad changes of life. And as he thus sat in pensive mood, a mocking voice called out from a neighboring tree top, "Te whit! te whit! te whit! "too bad! too bad! too bad!"

The stately cat tails nodded to the caressing breeze, and whispered "You shall kiss our tops no more, a cruel fate has said that we must die." While thus dismay filled the hearts of these simple children of the meadow, within the parsonage the dominie was bustling about, making ready for his guests, and his heart too went pit a pat, as he realized that the critical eyes of the ladies were to inspect his housekeeping arrangements.

One by one the men appeared on the scene, armed for the fray with spade and shovel, but another fate in the shape of three or four threshing machines operating in the neighborhood, with their insatiable demand for men as well as wheat, diminished greatly the number of able bodied helpers who gathered to the work.

Indeed the "bees" did not assume alarming proportions till the afternoon of the forenoon three bumble bees nests were discovered. Then it was bee against bee. When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war. For a time after this interesting discovery, there were lively operations, but not in the line of ditch digging. The opposition bee was finally conquered and the work went bravely forward. The ladies, said the relators, with a few exceptions, not to have heard the dinner bell, but bell, potatoes and johnny-cake, backed up by strong coffee, cold meat, bread and butter, pies &c., furnished a different for a king. Two beautiful bouquets, a present from Mrs. Nature, adorned the table.

The wife of Eder Baker presided with dignity at the coffee pot. Mrs. Foote served the pie, while Mrs. Yates exercised a sort of general supervision over the table, taking care especially that her better half and Betty to eat.

Dinner was still in progress when a sharp buzz announced the arrival of a fresh swarm. A troop of ladies entered, basket laden, arrived just in time to do the dishes, and to get supper.

And now the bee began in good earnest. Such a humming as proceeded from the parsonage was seldom heard, such a working work as went forward on the spot. At supper time the ladies had all gone to the [illegible] the high they won't let put the dishes best water glasses on the table, because, they might get broken, and the men work in [illegible] view. For [illegible] at bed time. It was [illegible] morning that the work was well [illegible] gain, yet [illegible]

When the bees [illegible] Mayflower [illegible] necessary a second [illegible] for the dining [illegible] last meal cream.

[illegible]

CHAS. S. [illegible]

[illegible] Saturday in Ridgeway on Railroad street.

H. [illegible] attended the Republican state convention at Grand Rapids [illegible]

The Tecumseh township Republican caucus will be held at the Council Rooms to-morrow Friday evening [illegible]

John Dewey launched his new shooting boat on the Brownville pond last week. She is a little beauty and runs [illegible]

The Michigan State Horticultural Society [illegible] prepared to [illegible] the publication of a volume [illegible] Agricultural College, in the [illegible] with the progress of these interests, and [illegible] presents.

It is also the purpose to [illegible] space to a record of early [illegible] pioneers, giving as full an account as practicable of the origin, progress and present condition of these interests in each county, with their adaptation to such pursuits, as indicated by location, soils and climate.

We, therefore, strongly urge that any and all persons possessed of information of this character, or of the facilities for collecting it, will lend their efforts to the work of supplying the needful information by responding to the subjoined inquiries, and forwarding the same to the undersigned, at an early date.

1. When, where and by whom was the first settlement made in your county?

2. Was it made for agricultural, lumbering, or other purposes?

3. When, where, for what purpose, and by whom were the first fruit trees planted?

4. Have any fruit plantations been made in your county for commercial purposes, and if so, by whom?

5. Have fruit plantations generally proved successful, and what is their present condition?

6. Where are the fruits usually marketed, and how transported?

7. Have any nurseries been established in your county, when, and by whom, and are they still in existence?

8. If discontinued, why?

9. Give a full account of any old fruit or other trees, planted prior to the settlement of the country by French traders, Indians or others.

10. Are there any notable plantations or preserved groves of trees, for cemeteries, parks, or other ornamental purposes, whether public or private?

11. Mention, generally, any romantic or interesting circumstances, within your knowledge, pertaining to the horticultural history of the State, or any section of the same.

We appeal to all to lend effective aid to this object; and, in so doing, to assist in putting the earlier history of their own section into authentic and permanent form.

Any and all persons supplying information in aid of this object will be entitled to receive a copy of the volume containing the proposed History when published.

Address all communications to T. T. Lyon, President, South Haven, Van Buren Co. Michigan.

"What has become of our village fire department?" We should think it would be the out for practice at least once a week and thus give the new second engineer a chance to become acquainted with his duties, as in the absence of the first engineer now the engine would be almost useless. Wake up boys.

The Prohibition Club holds a meeting next Tuesday eve. Aug. 31st, in Reform Club Hall. Ladies and friends of Temperance invited. A good speaker expected.

Call and see Mark Russell's successor to G. P. Sparks, new stock of Pianos and Musical Merchandise, Tecumseh, Mich.

Call and see Mark Russell's successor to G. P. Sparks, new stock of Pianos and Musical Merchandise, Tecumseh, Mich.

Call and see Mark Russell's successor to G. P. Sparks, new stock of Pianos and Musical Merchandise, Tecumseh, Mich.

Mr. Steger is missing good [illegible] in his gallery at [illegible] depositing his sky light and will have a dressing room especially for ladies. His rooms are closed [illegible] but will reopen next Sa[illegible] with a new scenery and accessories.

[illegible] any painting [illegible] work [illegible] Frames reasonable. Call [illegible] Eder & Baker or C. A. Wright [illegible]

A very fine regular [illegible] has been got for 25 cts a [illegible] Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

A good school hose for [illegible] for 8 cts per pair well worth [illegible] next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Remember you can buy [illegible] for cash of C. A. S[illegible]

You can buy a fine single [illegible] Harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Stayton's.

FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS—When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Hess Bro's. White Foam flour. It will fill the spot exactly.

Large stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices.

C. A. STAYTON.

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

M. L. IRELE,
TICA. MICHIGAN.

WITHOUT SUFFERING
OPIUM.

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.

DRUNKENNESS!

ZOA-PHORA.

WOMAN'S FRIEND.

ZOA-PHORA MEDICINE CO.

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL

IMMUNITY from ANNOYANCE

Made only of the finest and best quality of Glass for withstanding heat.

Every good thing is Counterfeited, and consumers are CAUTIONED against IMITATIONS of these Chimneys made of VERY POOR GLASS. See that the exact label is on each chimney as above. The Pearl Top is always clear and bright Glass.

Manufactured ONLY by
GEO. A. MACBETH & CO.
Pittsburgh Lead Glass Works.
FOR SALE BY DRUGGISTS.

DR. CLARKE

NO FEE!! UNTIL BETTER | ESTABLISHED 1851. DETROIT, MICH | Merrill Block.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON
SKILL AND SUCCESS

PRIVATE, NERVOUS & CHRONIC DISEASES
YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

Remember! Nervous debility and loss of nerve power treated scientifically by new method.

The terrible poisons of Syphilis in all bad blood and skin diseases. Remember that no one terrible disease, if neglected or improperly treated, curses the present and coming generations.

All unnatural diseases cured promptly and confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken.

Sufferers from any chronic disease. History and symptoms of your case — free. Cases pronounced incurable have been treated successfully.

Thousands two cents for celebrated works on Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases, Exhaustive Symptomatology, free. Consult your own case. Consultation free. Call on or address old Doctor. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private. You can treat by mail. Address DR. CLARKE.

Hours 9 to 8 daily, 7 to 8 evenings, Sundays 10 to 12 only. Avoid exposure. Home treatment.

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

DR. A. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 40 Years.

Ladies in the Home
D. A. SNOW & CO., Prop'rs
Buffalo, New York.

WARNER BROS'

ARE BY FAR THE MOST POPULAR CORSETS EVER INTRODUCED.

CORALINE is superior to whalebone. Cannot be broken. Is flexible and easy to the wearer. Is used in no goods except those made by Warner Bros.

$10.00 REWARD

For Sale by all Leading Merchants.
WARNER BROS., 359 & 361 Wabash Ave. CHICAGO.

PATENTS!

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

K. B.
KING OF THE BLOOD.

The Most Thorough Purifier of the Blood Yet Discovered.

D. A. SNOW & CO.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

N. W. AYER & SON
ADVERTISING AGENTS
TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA
Cor. Chestnut and Eighth sts.
Receive Advertisements for all Newspapers.
ESTIMATES for NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING at Lowest Cash Rates FREE.
Send 10c. in stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder
Your name here you put them on and under horses feet. One Agent sold 18 in 3 days and another sold 9 dz in 5 days. Samples worth $2 FREE. Write for terms.
E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

RED STAR

TRADE MARK.

COUGH CURE

A Prompt Cure. Free from Opiates, Emetics and Poison.

SAFE. SURE. PROMPT. 25 Cts.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO. BALTIMORE, MD.

ST. JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK

THE GREAT

GERMAN REMEDY

For Pain Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc. etc. PRICE, FIFTY CENTS. AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO. BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 115. Mail.	No. 117. Express.	No. 149 Accom.
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 25 P.M.
Napoleon	6 44 "	2 25 "	2 00 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 15 "
Manchester	7 02 "	3 00 "	2 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	3 38 "
Tecumseh	7 25 "	3 26 "	4 02 "
Adrian	8 08 "	4 12 "	5 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	6 40 "	.....
Toledo	9 25 "	5 45 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 148. Accom.
Detroit	8 50 A.M.	6 15 P.M.	.....
Toledo	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Adrian	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 45 A.M.
Tecumseh	12 01 P.M.	9 34 "	7 10 "
Clinton	12 10 "	9 44 "	8 10 "
Manchester	12 26 "	10 02 "	9 00 "
Norvell	12 40 "	10 18 "	9 35 "
Napoleon	12 49 "	10 27 "	9 55 "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 50 "	10 45 "

Trains run New Standard of 90th Meridian Time

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, TICKET AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE BRITTON:

Toledo Express, limited ..... 1 [illegible] A.M.
Detroit Accommodation ..... 8 00 "
Toledo Express and Boston Express ..... 9 24 "
New York Limited Express ..... 9 57 P.M.
Night Express ..... 8 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville ..... 10 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express ..... 3 [illegible] P.M.
Adrian Accommodation ..... 6 [illegible] "
Night Express, limited ..... 1 [illegible] A.M.

Trains marked "a" run daily, all others daily except Sunday.

Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the Lenawee Junction route will find it to their advantage to take the train leaving Adrian at 6 00 p.m. and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through sleepers to New York. Solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and Great Southwest. Best Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest novelties of Chair Cars, Sleepers and Dining Cars on all through trains.

J. H. AMSTRONG, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Toledo, Ohio. W. H. BRINKLEY, Agent, Adrian.

C. M. HEND, Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT JAN. 11, 1885.

Short Line and through coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

EAST. Central Time				GOING WEST. Central Time
No. 3 Pass.	No. 5 Pass.		STATIONS.	No. 2 Pass.	No. 4 Pass.
A.M.	P.M.			A.M.	P.M.
11 [illegible]	6 15	A.	Toledo	1 [illegible]	4 [illegible]
12 [illegible]	6 [illegible]	N.	Junction	9 [illegible]	3 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Britton	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Deerfield	[illegible]	[illegible]
10 [illegible]	6 [illegible]		Blissfield	9 50	3 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Ridgeway	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	5 [illegible]		Tecumseh	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Clinton	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Macon	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 10	4 [illegible]		Onsted	10 [illegible]	2 [illegible]
8 52	4 [illegible]		Devils Lake	10 [illegible]	2 [illegible]
[illegible]	4 [illegible]		Addison	10 [illegible]	2 [illegible]
[illegible]	4 [illegible]		Jasper	10 [illegible]	2 [illegible]
8 10	3 [illegible]		Manchester	11 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
7 [illegible]	3 [illegible]		Hanover	11 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Parkers	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	2 [illegible]		Horner	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Pulaski	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Wolcottville	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Rome	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Kendallville	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Ligonier	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Wolcott	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Kouts	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Valparaiso	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Kankakee	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Bonfield	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Manteno	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Wilmington	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Braidwood	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Gardner	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Dwyer	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Joliet	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]		Junction	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	A.	Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]	P.

Pullman Palace Sleepers on night trains between Toledo and Chicago.

Parlor Cars on day trains between Toledo and Kankakee.

Passengers for points beyond Toledo on the Michigan Division can secure through tickets and have their baggage checked to destination at the ticket office, Union Depot, Toledo.

Passengers for points beyond Chicago on the Michigan Division can secure through tickets and have their baggage checked to destination at the ticket office, Union Depot, Toledo.

Passengers from points beyond Chicago on the Michigan Division can secure through tickets and have their baggage checked to destination at the ticket office, Union Depot, Toledo.

Passengers from points beyond Toledo on the Michigan Division can secure through tickets and have their baggage checked to destination at the ticket office, Union Depot, Toledo.

Through Sleeping Car Lines

[illegible]

CURE FOR THE DEAF

[illegible] FREE. [illegible]

[illegible] EAVES

MANILLA ROOFING!

[illegible] W. B. EVES & Son, Detroit, Mich.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.

Trial Bottle of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at

C. A. Wright & Co.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

Visitors to Niagara Falls are more numerous this season than for a number of years before. The hackmen are reaping a harvest.

Those who believe that nature will work off a cough or cold should understand that this is done at the expense of the constitution. Each time this weakness the system, and we all know that the termination of this dangerous practice is a consumptive's grave. Don't take the chances, when a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure will safely and promptly cure any recent cough, cold or throat or lung trouble. Buy the dollar bottle for chronic cases or family use. Sold by Dr. Geo. Ferguson.

The picnic season is now fully upon us.—Water melons and cucumbers are in the market.

You will notice how quickly a thoroughly successful article is imitated, and also that the imitations are without merit, as they are gotten up by unscrupulous parties. Beware of imitations of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. The genuine is sold by Dr. Geo. Ferguson, and promptly cures dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles, pimples, ague and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirit headache, or diseases of the kidneys, stomach and liver. Price 50 cents.

"Are you married?" "No." "Tha.' a pity. I was just going to ask you how your wife was."

FOR 25 CENTS get Kemp's Liver Pills for Torpid Liver, for Constipation, for the Complexion. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

A Western man has a cyclone cellar which he retires to when his wife commences housecleaning.

WE ARE POSITIVE that Kemp's Sarsaparilla will cleanse and purify the blood and tone up the system. We have the confidence to guarantee it. Price $1 00 per bottle. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

When a miner has been eaten by a grizzly the Western people speak of him as being admitted to the bar.

"I TRIED Everything, without relief, but Kemp's Pile Suppositories cured me. So writes A. G. Rose, New London, Conn. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

Another Chicago man has invented an aerial machine. People will take desperate chances to get away from Chicago.

THE HOMELIEST MAN in Tecumseh as well as the handsomest and others call at our store and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It cures acute and chronic coughs. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

A Common Conversation.

"Why do you look me in the face?" "Because your breath is bad. If you would use Pix you would be much more comfortable."

Hallo! Hallo! Don't cheat yourself in this way. Your hair is growing thinner and more lifeless every day. Restore it to its original color, softness and gloss by using Parker's Hair Balsam while you may.

Formerly physicians recommended rheumatism with [illegible] they are now trying to [illegible] it. Rheumatism is as easy now as gout only [illegible]. But whether you may [illegible] Dr. Sylvester Oil will [illegible] equally well in both. It [illegible] in time.

A TERRIBLE LOSS.

What the Sudden Breaking Down of [illegible] Means.

A Prominent Physician's Views.

The writer had a most interesting interview with one of the leading physicians of Boston a few days since, when some facts came to light which are both startling and valuable. The conversation had turned upon overwork and the strain which comes upon the American men and women of the present day, as well as the terrible evils which follow.

The doctor said: "It is a fact that men of business are suddenly breaking down, laboring men are becoming debilitated, and wives and mothers less healthy and vigorous than formerly. The fearful evils of drunkenness are due more to the breaking down of the body, which demands stimulants, than to any other known cause. Men, women and children are growing weaker under some mysterious influence which demands attention. I have tried to ascertain what this influence may be, and I am satisfied that it is due to a lack of sustaining force for the nervous energy and exhaustion which business and society constantly demand. The nerves become shattered and do not regain their former tone. The albumen in the system becomes largely exhausted, and the first thing we know we hear of a sudden giving way, and the sickness or death of some one we had supposed was in perfect health. If some means could be found to avert these troubles it would be a great benefaction to the world."

It is a source of gratitude to be able to chronicle the fact that this source has been found, and that by a rare combination of peptonized beef, hops and malt and called Hoptonic, the vital forces of life can not only be sustained but restored. The importance of this discovery can not be too greatly emphasized, and the effect its introduction is having upon the community is most gratifying in the extreme. If men and women lack in energy and ambition in the future they do so with the realization that it might be avoided.

Cocaine, Iodoform or Mercurials in any form in the treatment of catarrh or hay fever should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases, where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price fifty cents.

In Portugal elections are held on Sunday in the churches and the Ballot-box stands between two saints.

The virtues of St. Jacobs Oil, as proclaimed by millions of restored sufferers, should induce everyone to supply his household with this great specific. It conquers pain.

Seventeen bushels of wheat is the product from one grain of seed in three years in a Dakota farm.

"It is as harmless as it is effective," is what is said of Red Star Cough Cure by Dr. S. K. Cox, D. D., Analytical Chemist, Washington, D. C. Price, twenty-five cents.

Traders in Madagascar who give short weight are sent to prison for a year. In this country they go to a watering place every summer.

"Why sit doubled up like an old man, my boy! what's the matter? Take the good the gods provide thee, and send twenty-five cents around the corner for a bottle of Salvation Oil and you'll ride your Bicycle to-morrow."

The Terrible Drain

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome diseases.

A pleasant and cheerful room is essential to the health of the baby and the mother. Use Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Price 25 cents.

The conductor said to a young lady: "Miss, your fare." "What if I am," she replied, "I don't want any of your impertinence."

You can't work to much purpose unless you are well. But you can be both well and healthy and strong with Parker's Tonic. It cures the liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, and imparts new life and vigor to the system. Price $1 in stamps.

DOWN BY THE SEA.

LYING IN AMBUSH TO CATCH A MAN-EATING SHARK.

Baiting the Hook and Waiting for the Game—The Monster on a Tour of Inspection—Caught at Last—A Ferocious Fish.

We dropped down from Beach haven to the inlet, a distance of nine miles, one morning in a sat boat to anchor a man-eater. At the inlet is a factory where menhaden are received from the fishermen to be made into oil and fertilizer, and the man-eater comes in from the sea to pick up such stray fish as may fall overboard during the process of unloading. The boat was anchored in about fourteen feet of water, with a hard sandy bottom, and put out a shark hook at the end of a hundred feet of inch rope. The hook was about the same size as those you see in butcher stalls to hang "quarters" on, but was barbed like a regular fish hook. The bait used was three sea trout, weighing about twelve ounce each. A float capable of sustaining a man in the water was made fast so that the hook remained about six feet below the surface, and when all was ready the gray-haired and and bronzed faced old fisherman sat down and said:

"Now, then, everybody keep quiet. When a shark is out at sea he will scarcely move for a boat headed full at him. He feels at home, and is defiant. But when a shark comes prowling into a bay like this he is a cat in a strange garret. He is looking for traps and pitfalls, and is suspicious and alarmed. A knock of your foot against the boat can be heard for a long way under water, and will frighten our game away."

The three of us sat in the stern sheets of the boat, which was anchored with an anchor weighing twenty-four pounds, and the peak of the sail was lowered. There was a light breeze rustling the waters, and masses of kelp were driven by on the young flood tide. Each of us scanned the water in a different direction, and half an hour had passed when the fisherman raised his arm and whispered:

A SUSPICIOUS MAN-EATER.

"Hist! There's our game!"

A hundred feet away the dorsal fin of a shark was cutting the water and showing well above the surface. Its movements were erratic, showing that the man-eater was looking for his breakfast. He ran down to within fifty feet of our bait and then stopped dead still. He saw it, but something raised his suspicion. For three long minutes the black fin, sticking up in the morning sun like a fool, did not move one inch. Then it moved backwards, and the shark made a half circle to take a look at the boat. He came within six feet of the stern and we had a plain view at him for a moment, but the movement of a foot on the bottom of the boat sent him away like a flash. He ran for deep water, but after taking fifteen or twenty minutes to reflect, he again showed up in the neighborhood of the baited hook.

For about ten minutes longer that black fin moved here and there on a scent. Then of a sudden it sank from our sight. There was a gleam of white in the water and the buoy was pulled under with a jerk which made the spray fly. We had hitched the rope was hauled taut with a zip and at the other end the man eater sprang half his length out of the water and fell with a great splash. Then he made one complete circle, dragging the boat stern first with him. There was no question as to his size or ferocity, as we soon discovered when he pulled the yacht stern first a distance of forty feet, her anchor all the time being in the sand. Finding this too hard work he went to the bottom to rest, and then we began to haul in on him. He came willingly enough for about twenty feet, and then he made a rush which threw the three of us in a heap, and carried out all the rope we had gained. He was caught fast, though, but he wasn't our next yet. We spit on our hands and took hold again, carefully securing whatever we gained, and though he fought fiercely and to come to the stern of the boat. He had swallowed the hook, and we judge from size the three feet of chain and worry at it like a dog shaking a rat.

A SUSPICIOUS FISH.

Talk about wickedness in the face of a wild beast! If you ought to have looked down upon that shark. His eyes had the gleam of an infuriated bulldog, and his wicked mouth seemed to water for meat. [illegible] of the water to shut [illegible] enough product for six or seven families with a house. When the family [illegible] a [illegible] spare [illegible]

[illegible]

PURE BLOOD

IS THE ABSOLUTE NECESSITY OF HEALTH.

THE marvelous results of Hood's Sarsaparilla upon all humors and low conditions of the blood (as proven by the cures recorded) prove it the best BLOOD MEDICINE. Upon such evidence the success of this article at home, where it is known by every family, in the whole length and breadth of the land, where it has been tried, it is at the same time, that it eradicates scrofula, vitalizes and enriches the blood, thereby restoring and renovating the whole system. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures biliousness. A peculiar point in Hood's Sarsaparilla is that it builds up and strengthens the system, while it eradicates disease, and as nature's great assistant proves itself invaluable as a protection from diseases that originate in changes of the seasons, of climate and of life.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

SCROFULA.

135 HOWARD STREET, LOWELL, MASS., Jan. 13.

MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—I have used HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA in my family for scrofulous humor with wonderful success, and am happy to tell you that it is the best medicine we ever used. I do sincerely advise any one who is troubled with scrofula to give this valuable remedy a trial, and assure them they will not be disappointed. Very truly yours, (Cobden Shuttle Co.) C. C. PICKERING.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA is sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Wright & Co.,

Wall Paper AND Decorations.

C. A. Wright & Co.

JAS. H. POTTER.

Manufacturer of all kinds of

FURNITURE!

[illegible]

GOLD

[illegible]

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by [illegible] Perfectly safe and effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

KALARIA FOR MALARIA

GOOD AIR. BAD AIR.

The most subtle and treacherous form of least understood disease of the present day is Malaria. It is drawn into the system in every breath you take. Everywhere it is known as Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Malarial Fever, Bilious Fever, Intermittent Fever, Remittent Fever, Malarial Cholera, Malarial Dysentery, Malarial Neuralgia, Malarial Headache, Malarial Nausea, Malarial Nervous Prostration, Malarial Blindness, Malarial Deafness, Malarial Paralysis, Malarial Lockjaw, Malarial Convulsions, Malarial Lunacy, Malarial Death. Its victims are legion. Its victims are everywhere. Its victims are everywhere. Its victims are everywhere

CLINTON MICH AUG

HOMELESS CHILDREN

SHOULD THEY BE PERMANENTLY SHELTERED IN ASYLUMS?

Or Should They at Once be Placed in Families—One of the Evils of Charity—Interesting Statistics.

ONE OF THE FINE ARTS OF MODERN CIVILIZATION

Stock in Trade of the French Truqueur—Furniture That Shows Traits from the Middle Ages, Renaissance, Louis XIV, Infantry—Illustrated.

ANNOUNCEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.

Having decided to go out of business we offer our ENTIRE STOCK of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, Rubbers, Hats and Caps, Ready Made Overalls and Pants.

White and Colored Shirts, Laundried and Unlaundried and Flannel Shirts at N. Y. cost.

Special Sale of Dress Goods

At 10c, 15c, 20c and 25c per yd. Less than one half original cost.

Special Sale

Of White Nansooks, Satin Stripes and Checks, Victoria Lawn, Batiste and other summer dress goods, Parasols and Straw Hats at 10 per cent. less than N. Y. cost.

SPECIAL SALE of Black and Colored Buntings, all wool at 15c and 20c. All wool lace Buntings, 25c. Cost 40c.

Our line of Black and Colored Cashmeres, Flannel Dress Goods, Jamestown Alpacas, Drap de Almas, and other dress goods. Table Linens, Towelings, White Marseilles quilts, Hosiery, Kid, Cotton and Silk Gloves, Hamburgs, Embroideries, Laces, Edges, Curtainetts, Wool Broche, Paisley and Persian Shawls, Jersey Jackets, Ladies' and Gent's Underwear, Cardigan Jackets, is complete and all AI in quality.

Just received the best line of Men's and Boys' White Shirts—laundried and unlaundried, and tasty Flannel Shirts, all at cost.

Ladies' Misses', and Children's Shoes, Men's and Boys' Boots and fine Shoes, of a late purchase, and the latest styles.

Men's and Boy's Wool and Fur Hats, Fur and Scotch Caps, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, etc. This sale is bona fide and every article will be sold as advertised.

No goods taken back after being cut. Butter and eggs taken at a cash value in exchange for goods.

TERMS CASH UNLESS OTHERWISE ARRANGED.

After a continued business career of over 30 years in Clinton, the breaking up of the associations and relations between us and our many friends and customers is to us a matter of deep regret, and we assure you that we fully appreciate the patronage you have so long extended to us, and for which we take this opportunity to thank you.

JNO. SMITH & SON.,

CLINTON, MICH.

Agric'ltur'l Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

SOUTH BEND, BURCH, WIARD, GALE, OLIVER.

PLOWS. Walkers.

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS Elwood, New Robbins, Albion, Buckeye.

Buckeye, Superior, Monitor, Roller. GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

EXCURSIONISTS

And Visitors to Detroit!

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.,

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, PRECIOUS STONES, CHAINS AND CHARMS, FINE JEWELRY, UNIQUE ORNAMENTS ETC. ETC. ETC.

THE OPTICAL DEPARTMENT

WRIGHT, KAY & CO., 140 Woodward Ave DETROIT

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt., TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG CO. 597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON MASS. 12 WARREN ST. NEW YORK. 291 W. BANDOLPH ST. CHICAGO.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

HE LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

TO ADVERTISE to meet with success, one must know something of the business of newspapers, and a great deal about it. To achieve such results as these, one must know how to use the mediums. CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO ILLINOIS. JUDICIOUSLY

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 15. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, SEP. 2, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1861

A NEW WHIRL!

AT

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

-500-

NEW CLOAKS

Placed on sale MONDAY.

Also an entire new assortment of Dress Goods and FANCY VELVET.

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Lath, Blinds,
Shingles, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

S. W, TEMPLE, Gen. Mgr.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Loaded, Loaded, Loaded.

Every Department Loaded and New Goods arriving Daily. In order to make room for the New Goods, we will continue to sell All Summer Goods at prices that cannot fail to move them at once.

"SATURDAY"

Will Sell Bleached & Brown Cottons at less than actual cost to manufacture.

Call Early and Avoid the Rush.

AT

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!
STRAW HATS!
Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!
ALPACA COATS!
Seer-Sucker coats and Vests!

SUMMER GOODS!

Of all discriptions at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Mercury got to the front for several days last week.

The masons have the walls of the new school house ready for the upper joice.

Montie Florence has a hen that hatched 20 chickens from 21 eggs at one sitting. Who comes next.

Martin Palmer left for Flat Rock Tuesday, where he has engaged to superintend the school there the ensuing year. We extend our best wishes for his success

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cadmus and Rhoba A ner spent the sabbath with friends at Milan.

Geo. Arner, agent at Wilders and Libbie Emmonds visited George's old home from Saturday until Monday.

Mr. M. A Barrett went to Ypsilanti Tuesday on business.

Allie McNeal, of Milan, visited her aunt, Mrs John Arner and family, several days last week.

The boys from Cone came up to our village Saturday and played our boys a game of base ball, skinning them up the back badly. The score stood 13 to 21 in favor of Cone. Samuel Rapplye did the umpiring. We would say to those of our boys who take the defeat so at heart, that they must expect to meet with disaster, and to brace up and try it again After a defeat is what gave the Detroits such a wide reputation.

The annual school meeting of school district No. 1, fractional, of the townships of Ridgewey and Macon, for the election of school district officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before it, will be held at Cottage Hall on Monday the 6th day of September, 1886, at 7 o'clock P M.

G. P. WARING, Director.

All things are open unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. Be sure your sins will find you out. The wicked fleeth when no man pursueth, (but some are caught too). Revenge is mine, I will repay saith the lord. May it not stop yet.

ALFRED RICHARD.

MACON MUSIC.

The hottest day of the season last Saturday.

A heavy rain storm passed over this section Sunday afternoon.

Spencer Camburn who has been sick for three weeks died at his home Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Hamilton Dennis and daughter Mamie, of Topeka, Kansas, who have been visiting at Hannah Pennington's a week, returned to their home Wednesday.

Elva Richart started for Orange City, Iowa, Thursday morning, where she has been engaged to teach the coming year.

Allie and Ella Camburn, who have been visiting four weeks with friends at Douglas, Battle Creek, and Springport, returned home Saturday.

Sarah Ayres and Ida Taylor came down to attend the quarterly meeting last Sunday, and are spending the week at Mrs. Nancy Atens.

Issac Pennington is repairing his house, which will make a fine improvement.

Mr. Merrick, of Spring Prairie, Wisconsin, who has been visiting friends a week, started for home yesterday in company with his daughter May, who has been spending the summer with her aunt, Mrs. Edmund Hand.

Thursday, Aug. 19, about sixty friends and relatives of Mrs. Mary Biddle, gave her a pleasant surprise to celebrate her 70th birthday. Mrs. Rachel Howell, in behalf of her children, presented her with a set of solid silver tea spoons. May she live to enjoy many more such gatherings.

Dr. Geo. Howell and family are moving this week. We are very sorry to lose them but our loss will be Tecumseh's gain.

If reports are true we are to have Dr. Morden with us in a few days.

W. C Barns and wife, of Fairport, N. Y., are visiting friends and relatives here.

Why suffer the miseries of Dyspepsia when Hood's Sarsaparilla will give sure relief? Druggists sell Hood's Cure Dyspepsia.

The Great Blood Purifier.

While sin and the world of the flesh must be crucified and the blood purified by spiritual means, for purifying and vitalizing the blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found the most efficacious preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome diseases.

SPRINGVILLE SNUFF.

School meeting next Monday night.

School commenced last Monday. Cynthia Monaghan teacher.

Miss Vanza Brighton is under the doctor's care at the present writing.

Agnes and Alice Duwan of Jackson, have been making their relatives and many friends a visit the past week.

Wolf Creek will play Olsted boys a game of ball to-day.

John B. Smith and family, of Charlotte, have been making short calls on friends here the past week. John takes in the soldier's reunion at Hillsdale and therefore shortens his visit somewhat.

The township clerk is in receipt of bills to exceed $40 for sheep killed by dogs recently. Think we better get up a shooting match at the Junction.

C. H. Dewey—assignee of T. H. Mosher—sold the farm of 40 acres across the road from J. Kerr's residence to James Brainard, for $1407, and the lot joining the T. H. Mosher homestead on the east, to Robert Sherrard, for $32. He also closed out the remnant of the store stock, consisting of safe, empty oil barrels &c.

C. T. LINE FLASHES.

Ground wires should be used only in case of necessity.

Nineteen operators will take their school books under their arms Monday morning.

Ella Odell, of Seneca Falls, N. Y., is visiting B. V., this week.

A key was left open, nearly all the afternoon, one day last week, causing much inconvenience.

A. X. will attend school at the Valley this fall.

H. J. goes to Texas this week with a car load of sheep, shipped by J. R. Keeney.

Members should be careful about closing key when through using the.

F. H. took in the picnic at Devil's lake yesterday. He is enthusiastic on picnics and does not calculate to miss very many of them.

B. R. was nominated to represent this district in the state legislature by the cold water advocates in convention assembled, at Adrian, last week Tuesday.

Quite a breezy interview took place a few nights ago, the question of the "right of way" being the inciting cause. Two members had possession of the line when a certain brother "broke in" and claimed the line on a "point of order." The point was not acknowledged by the opposition as they were undoubtedly right in the controversy.

A letter from X. D., received by a member of the C. T. Line, dated Sacramento, Aug. 18, stated that he just arrived there from Napa City. He grows ecstatic in describing the beautiful and romantic scenery surrounding Napa City, and declared that his palate was tickled with some of the most delicious fruit that ever grew. He was somewhat disappointed with Sacramento city, as it did not prove to be so fine a city as he had anticipated seeing. It is very dirty and contained but few buildings worthy of note. X. D. visited the Capitol and heard some of the California statesmen air their eloquence on the irrigation question then agitating the legislatures composing the state legislature. He afterward climbed to the top of the Capitol dome—nearly four hundred feet—and took a bird-eye view of the city. Another letter received a few days later, informs us that he is in Virginia city. He took a stroll up the mountain and leaving the city from a point two thousand feet above it. Went in the mines and was towered half he began to think he would land in China, but finally stopped at 3200 feet and where it was nearest the temperature of the place Beelzebub says does not exist too much like for our stripes. X. D. is quite well pleased with and says secret is to all.

I am very especially yours, [illegible]

[illegible]

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

Combines the two most valuable remedies for Consumption, Scrofula, and Wasting Diseases. It is palatable as Milk. Strengthens the feeble, stops the wasting of the body. It is prepared in a pleasant form and prescribed universally by Physicians. Take no other.

Tradesmen in Madagascar will give a slight weight one foot to poison for a year. In the country they go to a watering place every summer.

Dyspepsia, or the stomach, liver and kidneys, can be cured by getting the blood in a healthy condition by taking the vital fluid of life, namely, Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the safest, most powerful, and most highly concentrated alterative available to the public.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

By Rev. Geo. B. Hargreaves.

Lesson 10. September 5.

JESUS THE TRUE VINE.

John 15. 1-16. Golden Text, John 15. 5. Time, Thursday evening, April 6th. Place, an upper room in Jerusalem.

The lesson is a continuation of that memorable scene in the upper room at Jerusalem, when Christ took leave of His disciples. The little company had risen to go, but Jesus seemed anxious to say more to them before He took His final departure, and so He spoke to them as they stood around Him. His illustration was at once beautiful and appropriate. Probably the House in which they were staying overlooked a vineyard, and the vines could be seen in the moonlight. It was now ten or eleven o'clock at night. Pointing to the vines, it may be, Jesus tells His disciples that in them they see a good illustration of Himself and His disciples. They were all familiar with the vine and its cultivation, and could readily appreciate the force of the simile. The vine is the life of the branches, from whence they draw their sustenance and strength. As the branches live so they are able to bear good fruit, but if they are cut off from the vine they soon wither and die and are cast out of the vineyard to be burned. Christ is the true vine. His disciples are the branches. Each follower and each church is a branch. If we live in Him and He in us we shall bring forth fruit. If we forsake Christ we shall cease to have spiritual life, and will soon wither and die out to be burned. The true believer and follower of Christ is a living branch of a living vine. Although Jesus was about to die, He speaks of Himself as living, and going to live and give life forever. He is still the living vine, and those who follow Him constantly receive life from Him. We live in Him by faith and love and earnest deeds and holy lives. As a vinedresser gives careful attention to the vines under his charge, so our Father constantly cares for us. The vinedresser prunes and cultures and trains the vines so as to make them produce the largest quantity of the best fruit. So our Father is pruning us, removing things not in harmony with Him, training us in many ways, preparing us according to His own purposes, so that we may be able to bring forth large quantities of the best fruits.

This must have been very gratifying to the disciples at that time. In the shadow of the coming crucifix on they had the Divine assurance that their Master would ever live in them and give them living aid and strength, as certainly as the branches drew life and nourishment from the vine down there in the garden. And then they had the further satisfaction of knowing that their Heavenly Father would watch over them and care for them with even greater thoughtfulness than the vinedresser would tend his vines.

Comforting as this must have been to the disciples, it is much more so to us. In the midst of an unbelieving generation, with atheism and scepticism on all sides, it is a blessed thought that we are living in Christ, and He is living in us. Every day and every hour we may draw life from Him, and every day and hour the Divine Father is tenderly watching over us and carefully training us up according to His own wisdom.

[illegible]

1. Christ is the true vine. Beware of false ones.

2. True life is found only in this vine.

3. To be cut off from [illegible]

4. So live in it that [illegible]

[illegible]

The Queen, owned by Geo. Tripp, sailed by Chas. Thompson of Detroit, was the second starter. The "Pearl" sailed by Clarence Wells, made the third start, passing the "Queen" at [illegible] time around time 1 hour 11 min. and 40 sec. The "Queen" finished in 1 hour 16 min and 1 sec. The "Princess" sailed by Arthur Howell, made the fourth start but withdrew on account of a broken rudder. After the race, Will Dewey sailed the "Stella" over the course in 47 minutes.

The first prize, silver goblet, was awarded to Hurlbut. The second, a silver napkin ring, to Clarence Wells.

DEATH OF DR. O. P. LAYARD.

Dr. O. P. Layard died at his home in Raisin township, at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the advanced age of 77 years. Dr. Layard, in his prime, ranked as one of the ablest men of his time, and he amassed a considerable fortune in the practice of his profession alone. Graduating from Williams college, Connecticut, the institution in which Congressman Eldredge acquired his medical diploma, cotemporaneously with the late Dr. Spaulding, of this city, and from Hamilton college, N. Y., he settled at Trenton, N. Y., and later at Columbus, Ga., where he resided the better part of twenty years, practicing medicine and dentistry. Just before the opening of the war, being a union man, he came north with the comfortable sum of $150 000 to represent his earnings. He first went to New York city and then to Morristown, N. Y., where he was an officer and share holder in a national bank. The cashier of the institution took an indefinite trip to Canada, accompanied by $30 000 of the bank funds, and the doctor, who was a heavy sufferer, came to Milan, Ohio, in 1852, and commenced building vessels for the lake grain trade. With his partner he put afloat the Idaho, the M. Stalker and the Gideon Wells, and reaped from them a magnificent profit for a number of years. With the decline of rates, and rise of competition this business began to lose him money, and in 1874 he quit it. He did not sell his last vessel, however, until the last great flood in Toledo, when the Wells was carried out of the Maumee river by ice, and he sold her. Some years ago he purchased 200 acres of land in Raisin, and he has since resided there, forming a large acquaintance through this part of Michigan. His death was the result of a wasting of the vital forces, which brought on paralysis and mortification of the lower extremities. His suffering has been intense, and he never left his bed during the last five months of his life, a physician being in daily attendance.

Dr. Layard, after his return to the north, did not continue his medical practice, but turned the weight of his attention to literature and music. He was a close student, an accomplished linguist, and a fine musical performer. He published several pieces of music in Boston, which were warmly received in the highest circles.

The funeral was conducted at 2 30 o'clock this afternoon, at the Valley church, and was largely attended.

To the Boys and Girls of Lenawee County

The officers of the agricultural society have been [illegible] that one of the most interesting exhibits ever made in our county fair was that of the boys and girls department last year. [illegible] fact that that department [illegible] to be held in a [illegible] How many are [illegible] If you choose [illegible] get the premium [illegible] and make your choice. Remember, you may enter articles not included in the list that are worthy [illegible] ages 15 years. The articles [illegible] own workmanship. The articles must be made in the year [illegible] premiums be conferred. Let [illegible] the record that none of mamma's cookies or pappa's cucumbers get into the old jug. [illegible] desire to call your observation and memory as well [illegible] your good (often still). Bring your [illegible] cookies, soft eggs, [illegible] neatly arranged and good, [illegible] with a well written record of [illegible] Will try to help you in the study [illegible] nature we wish to beautify [illegible] and hope some of you will bring grasses of your own collection, or plants that you have cared for. Let us see what Lenawee boys and girls can do.

MRS D. A DOWIE,
ARTHUR MANCHESTER,
Supts. boys and girls department.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
Issued Every Thursday Morning
BY C. STACY

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

A Large and Enthusiastic Gathering Synopsis of the Platform Which Was Adopted and the Ticket Nominated

THE PROBATE COURT.

Following is the record of business transacted at the probate court for the week ending Aug. 23, 1884.

Estate of Ruth S. B. White, deceased; bond filed; letters of administration issued; order appointing appraisers.

Estate of John Tunison, deceased; receipt of heirs filed.

Estate of Jeremiah C. Smith, deceased; petition for license to sell real estate; hearing September 20.

Estate of Francis A. Whipple, deceased; bond filed; letters of administration issued; order appointing appraisers and commissioners.

Estate of Leo D. Woodward, et al, minors; bond filed; letters of guardianship issued.

Estate of Frederick J. Holderman, et al, minors; petition for license to sell real estate; hearing September 20.

Estate of James McCrindle, deceased; affidavit of publication; administrator's bond filed; letters issued; order appointing appraisers.

Estate of George W. Perry, sr., deceased; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of John Dings, deceased; order of continuance until September 13, at ten o'clock A. M.

Estate of Themkins D. Jermain, minor; bond filed; letters of guardianship issued.

Estate of Baldwin Webster, deceased; affidavit of publication; administrator's final account; assignment; distribution; discharge.

Estate of Elmer Acker, minor; release of guardian filed; order of discharge.

Estate of Joseph Slater, deceased; order of continuance until August 27 at 10 o'clock A. M.

Estate of Mary Ann Bodley, deceased; petition for license to sell real estate; hearing September 27.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Following are the real estate transfers in this county, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the week ending Aug. 23, 1884.

RIDGEWAY.

[illegible]

Patrick H. Cambell to Chas. Hess, [illegible]

TIONS—Continued.

[illegible]

Vilmont Niagara Falls at there [illegible] years before. The [illegible] are reaping a harvest.

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my line are invited to the moving. Come and see my stock and price goods. Look at my prices. Small amount of money. Look at my prices and out goes the furniture. Over 12 years in business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.—Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prepared and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

THE STAR

A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration,

Published in the City of New York.

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,

Editor and Proprietor.

Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, Issued every Wednesday.

A clean, pure, bright and interesting

FAMILY PAPER.

It contains the latest news, down to the hour of going to press.

Agricultural, Market, Fashion, Household, Political, Financial and Commercial, Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

Departments all under the direction of trained Journalists of the highest ability. Its editorials are quoted and followed with good things from the principal press.

Contains stories by distinguished American and foreign writers of fiction.

THE DAILY STAR,

[illegible]

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR [illegible]

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR [illegible]

THE STAR,

26 and 28 North William St., New York.

N. W. AYER & SON

ADVERTISING AGENTS

TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA

Cor. Chestnut and Fourth Sts.

Receive Advertisements on behalf of Newspaper Proprietors at Lowest Cash Rates.

ESTIMATES FREE

Send 10c. in stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL

J. S. KINNEY

Is on hand for Spring Trade with a very fine stock of goods in the BEST OF

FURNITURE

PARLOR,

Group Suites, Chamber Suites,

Couches, Sofas, Easy Chairs, &c. In fact everything found in a first-class furniture store.

UNDERTAKING.

In all branches guaranteed. None employed but a competent man that thoroughly understands their profession.

Give us a call and convince yourselves of these facts. Orders attended promptly night or day.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Railroad Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Tolchard Business College

MOST PERFECT MADE

Prepared with strict regard to Purity, Strength, and Wholesomeness. Dr. Price's Baking Powder contains neither Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Dr. Price's Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, etc., flavor deliciously.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., Chicago and St. Louis.

KISSES

I strove to make a desert of thy mouth,
To gather all its treasure in an hour.
But laughing Love forbade the cruel drouth
[illegible]
[illegible] dole.
Still fondly in [illegible] the [illegible]
Drew sighing up the [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] sips,
So drank I of their beauty, till my soul
Quickened with all desire, and burned to my Burst and [illegible]. And we lingered side
Thus sucking from the hours till all the day
Was [illegible] and the dark [illegible]
[illegible]
Prophesying of another day's delight.
—Geo. Walt Mesarvey.

One of Martin Luther's Rings.

Prof. Adolf Seeman, the son of the late Baron Seeman, the conjurer, and himself a magician of no small note, is in the city. Among the property inherited by him from his father is a curious gold ring which he constantly wears upon his finger. It was purchased by the late baron many years ago in Sweden at the sale of the household and personal effects of an old countess who lived with a female servant alone in her castle. She had no relatives, and no one save these two women had ever entered the castle within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The ring eventually passed into the hands of young Seeman, who remained in ignorance of its origin or value until about a year ago. While in Texas at that time he received a copy of The Gartenblatte, the German monthly, which contained a wood cut of his ring, the original of which, the paper said, was in the possession of a German countess. It was spoken of as the wedding ring of Martin Luther, and the article remarked that the great reformer had had two rings, duplicates of each other, made for his wedding. One of these he gave to his wife and the other he wore himself. "Where," asked the paper, "is the second ring?" Overjoyed at the news Seeman wrote to Germany and was immediately offered a large sum of money for his treasure, which, however, he determined to keep.

The ring in question is curious enough to attract attention anywhere. It is fully half an inch, wide at the top, and much wider than the ordinary ring at the bottom. A fine ruby surmounts the crests and divides the designs. The ring is pierced by interstices which divide the various emblems upon it. One side of the ruby thus outlined is a perfect representation of the crucifixion. On the left of the cross is a scourge; on the right the head of a Roman soldier. On each side of these designs, forming the outer edges, are two spears. Below the cross are the three nails which were driven into the Lord, and below these are the three dice with which the lots were cast for his clothing, and above them (of the Savior, plainly visible, is the inscription: "I N R I." On the other side of the ruby is the representation of a pillar from the temple, the ladder which was placed against the cross, the rope with which He was bound, a sword and the hammer with which the nails were driven in. All these designs are perfectly visible to the naked eye, and are executed with wonderful delicacy and natural effect. There is no doubt of the genuiness of the ring and Professor Seeman certainly has a valuable and interesting relic of the great reformer.—Chicago News.

Scarcity of Labor in Brazil.

Beyond the abolition of slavery looms up in Brazil the question of labor. There can be but one solution of the problem, and that is immigration. How attractive this is now absorbing the minds of the statesmen. The labor of the liberated slaves and their descendants will never be sufficient for the needs of the country. They are by nature the most lazy and worthless laborers in the world and have a disposition to leave the plantations and flock to the cities of the sea coast. They do just work enough to keep themselves alive and as long as they can get rum and cassada are happy.

One great drawback to immigration to Brazil is the bad reputation for health which the country has in Europe. The northern seaport towns are undeniably unhealthy, but in the south of the empire and in the interior the climate is as healthful as could be wished. Still, the horror with which yellow fever is regarded and the difficulty of making immigrants understand the vast size of the country and its consequent variety of climates, render the work of attracting them here difficult. The Argentines owe their great prosperity to the constant flow of immigration which is flowing to their shores, and the Brazilians can hope for a parallel only in some opportunity or scheme of a nature to divert immigrants from Rio to Buenos Ayres.—New York Tribune.

Military Men at Hotels.

We have a good many military men among our transient guests who sign for with the military titles before their names, such as "Col. John Smith," and other guests frequently submit the practice when they see the names so signed. A general idea seems to prevail that any man who puts "Col." before his name is either vain or foolish, and most people at once concede that one who writes his name that way is an "Arkansas colonel" who never saw a battle in his life and never even belonged to a regiment. Officers frequently write "U. S. A." after their names, but nobody finds fault with that. It is merely convenient for there are several army men who come regularly and look over the register for product officers, and when they find them they at once take it upon themselves to show them all possible attention. But "U. S. A." might properly be written after the name of a private and that seems to be insufficient also. The best to sign would probably be the official style, "John Smith, Col. U. S. A." Hotel Clerk in Globe-Democrat.

Envy of the Dyspeptic.

The other day a little colored boy stopped in front of a grocery, and, after wistfully eyeing a pyramid of sardine boxes marked "only 8 cents," invested in a box. Going to the edge of the pavement, he opened the box and ate the sardines as fast as he could cram them into his mouth and then drank the oil remaining in the box. This did not satisfy him and he invested in another box of sardines, gulping them down with a gusto. Then he purchased a huge cucumber pickle, which he ate hastily, and to crown it all he bought a pint of peanuts and ate them for dessert. A gentleman who stood near watching the boy taking in food said: "Great Scott! if I had a stomach like that I would give $1,000."—Chicago Herald.

INTELLIGENCE OF THE APES.

Anecdotes of Monkeys—Gorillas and Orangs—A Degree of Reason.

The great man-like apes as well as many of the inferior [illegible] [illegible] higher than that, I expect be the days or [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Tecumseh Herald

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL AND DAIRY CONVENTION.

Rooms of the AMERICAN [illegible]

[illegible]

A reporter of the HERALD started out last week for a tramp through the townships of Tecumseh for the double purpose of [illegible] patrons and picking up a little news.

Striking in at the southeast corner of the town the first call was at John Turnbull's. Mr. Turnbull has a fine lot of cattle [illegible] and has had quite a number of [illegible] this season.

Mr. Magee has a [illegible] with [illegible] acres of wheat [illegible]

[illegible] dealer [illegible] a specialty of supplying these [illegible] with the beautiful [illegible] and [illegible].

[illegible] Congress has passed a bill regulating and taxing [illegible] has approved [illegible] and signed by a majority [illegible] message [illegible] It is the greatest and most important [illegible] ever enacted for Agriculture and [illegible] dealing with the consumer of [illegible] product from grass [illegible] an important article of food.

[illegible] to defeat legislation that [illegible] only for farmers [illegible] of every [illegible] gagements [illegible] and venality were [illegible] before the consumers with a [illegible] and to interpret it against the interests of a majority of the people [illegible] save the fraud from destruction, but they were baffled [illegible]. The great overshadowing power of the farmers has been asserted for the first time with [illegible] and [illegible] be asserted [illegible] in the future.

Prosperity [illegible] Return to the Nation [illegible] industry, as Congress [illegible] so long from [illegible] the country may take heart since the rights and interests of the farmers have [illegible] at last through [illegible] from the great [illegible].

The Farmer [illegible]

Your [illegible] has [illegible] been with [illegible] Congress [illegible] has been with [illegible] Congress has passed [illegible] regulating and taxing [illegible] has approved [illegible] and signed by a majority [illegible] message [illegible] It is the greatest and most important [illegible] ever enacted for Agriculture and [illegible] dealing with the consumer of [illegible] product from grass [illegible] an important article of food.

[illegible] to defeat legislation that [illegible] only for farmers [illegible] of every [illegible] gagements [illegible] and venality were [illegible] before the consumers with a [illegible] and to interpret it against the interests of a majority of the people [illegible] save the fraud from destruction, but they were baffled [illegible]. The great overshadowing power of the farmers has been asserted for the first time with [illegible] and [illegible] be asserted [illegible] in the future.

Prosperity [illegible] Return to the Nation [illegible] industry, as Congress [illegible] so long from [illegible] the country may take heart since the rights and interests of the farmers have [illegible] at last through [illegible] from the great [illegible].

The Farmer [illegible]

Your [illegible] has [illegible] been with [illegible] ... [illegible] Congress [illegible] ... [illegible] and [illegible] ... [illegible] Congress has passed [illegible] ... [illegible] and [illegible] ... [illegible] has approved [illegible] and signed by a majority [illegible] message [illegible] It is the greatest and most important [illegible] ever enacted for Agriculture and [illegible] dealing with the consumer of [illegible] product from grass [illegible] an important article of food.

[illegible] to defeat legislation that [illegible] only for farmers [illegible] of every [illegible] gagements [illegible] and venality were [illegible] before the consumers with a [illegible] and to interpret it against the interests of a majority of the people [illegible] save the fraud from destruction, but they were baffled [illegible]. The great overshadowing power of the farmers has been asserted for the first time with [illegible] and [illegible] be asserted [illegible] in the future.

Prosperity [illegible] Return to the Nation [illegible] industry, as Congress [illegible] so long from [illegible] the country may take heart since the rights and interests of the farmers have [illegible] at last through [illegible] from the great [illegible].

The Farmer [illegible]

Your [illegible] has [illegible] been with [illegible] ... [illegible] Congress

SHORT NOTICES.

LOST.—On Tuesday, Aug. 31st, on the turnpike, east of Franklin Center, a buffing leather. The finder will be rewarded by leaving at the Herald office.

LOST.—Out of a buggy between the Railroad and Ottawa st., in Tecumseh village, on Tuesday, Aug. 31st, a Book entitled "Japan and its Inhabitants." Finder will please return to Herald office. GEO. HENDERSON.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.—The Democrats of Tecumseh are requested to meet in caucus next Monday afternoon, sept. 6th, at five o'clock, to elect delegates to the coming Congressional, and county Conventions.
BY ORDER TOWN COM.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The undersigned having sold their entire stock of lumber, lath, shingles, &c., to the Ogle & Mitchell Coal & Mfg Co., would respectfully thank their former patrons for past favors and recommend the Company to transfer their patronage to the above named company.
THE TECUMSEH LUMBER CO.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The partnership heretofore existing between George W. Clark and Ambrose B. Clark is this day dissolved. GEORGE W. CLARK,
AMBROSE B. CLARK.
Ridgeway, Aug. 7, '86.

NOTICE.—George W. Clark is authorized to collect all outstanding accounts and settle all indebtedness of the late firm
AMBROSE B. CLARK.
Ridgeway, Aug. 7, '86.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A fine brick house and barn, and 4 acres of land, will be sold at a bargain. Within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire at
S. KINNEY'S STORE,
Tecumseh, Mich.

DO YOU WANT!

Do you want to keep posted on the campaign? For local news, take the HERALD. For state news take the Detroit Tribune or the Detroit Free Press according to your politics.

Do you want the HERALD and Detroit Weekly Free Press? If so, send fifty cents to this office, and in return you will receive both papers for four months.

Do you want the HERALD and Detroit Weekly Tribune? If so, send fifty cents to this office and in return you will receive both papers for four months.

These unprecedented offers will hold good only during the month of September. Now is the time to subscribe.

MEETINGS, CONVENTIONS, ETC.

Sept. 6, Monday—Republican County Convention at Adrian.

Sept. 1, Wednesday—Ridgeway S. S. Picnic excursion to Devils Lake.

Sept. 9th, Thursday—Democratic County Convention at Adrian.

Sept. 23, Thursday—County Pioneer Meeting at Macon Grange Hall.

Sept. 6-11, Monday to Saturday—Tri-State Fair at Toledo.

Sept. 13-17, Monday to Friday—Mich. State Fair at Jackson.

Sept. 21-24, Tuesday to Friday—Lenawee County Fair at Adrian.

Kies Bros. have a new card in to-day's paper.

Democratic township caucus next Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. C. Patterson started this morning for Cleveland, O., for a few week's visit with J. D. Robbin's family.

During the night Tuesday, slight earthquake shocks visited various portions of the West and South, of which yesterdays morning papers contained an account. Both railroad and telegraphic communications were cut off from Charleston, S. C., and fears were entertained that an awful calamity might have befallen that city. The evening papers proved these forebodings to be true. Nine shocks passed over that city between eight P. M., Tuesday and Wednesday morning. It was the most terrible calamity of the kind ever visited upon this country. The papers of to-day will give a full account of the calamity.

THE MILAN MASTODON.

The Evening News has the following particulars about the mastodon skeleton that has been recently exhumed near Milan: The News correspondent has interviewed the bones of the mastodon dug up near here one week ago. The measures are as follows: One part of tusk, broken, 52 inches long; 14 inches in circumference, former 40 inches. Two bones of hind leg 54 inches. Short ribs, laid out from segment of vertebra, 46 inches apart, 54 inches long. Spine of a dorsal vertebra 12 inches long; a tooth, 12½ inches across top, 3½ inches wide, 7 inches deep. Many parts of the skeleton were lacking. The lower jaw is partially gone so that anything like accurate measurements could not be made. There are numerous small bones, but not in a very good state of preservation. The skeleton was apparently wedged in between two tamarack logs. The names of the finders are Tom Clancy, Bm Bird, Burt Moore and John Mosher. They say they have been offered $200 for it, but wish to exhibit it for a while before selling.

The Great Toledo Fair.

The great Tri-State Fair at Toledo, occurs Sept. 6th to 11th. Premiums and purses amount to $20,000. In addition to the exhibition of live stock, etc., there will be a dog show; the wonderful panorama; "Battle of Gettysburg," the marvelous horse, "Prince Imperial" with a mane 10½ feet long, and countless other attractions, including the races. The railroads carry passengers to the fair at half rates.

... of Hudson, was in town over Sunday.

The report reaches us that R. G. A. R. encampment at Hillsdale is a success.

Mat Blosser, editor of the Manchester Enterprise, gave us a call last Tuesday.

An effort is making to secure Fred Douglass to lecture at the Morenci fair this fall.

O. Z. Williamson is rushing the ice business now. Car load shipments are a weekly occurrence with him.

The premium list of the Monroe Co. Fair is at hand. The Monroe fair will be held this year, Sept. 21, 22 and 23.

The new West branch school building is nearly completed, and will be ready for occupancy some time next week.

It will be a hot race for Congress in this district. The three candidates are now in the field and they are all strong men.

Rev. W. H. Babbitt returned from his vacation trip on Tuesday, having enjoyed the same very much. He will occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

The West Michigan fair will be held at Grand Rapids from Sept. 20th to 24th, inclusive. We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary ticket.

A little Hudson boy thinks he knows why cooper Graham went through the Niagara rapids in a barrel. "It was to advertise his business!"—Gazette.

A letter from Frank Bumann at Sorento, Florida, says: We cannot get along without the HERALD. We are all well and having plenty of warm weather.

Two brothers by the name of Taylor are running against each other for Governor of Tennessee. They are bound to keep the office in the family, at all events.

New and startling evidence has been obtained in the Crouch case, which the Jackson officers think will unravel the mystery. Its character is only partially disclosed as yet.

Mr. Arnold Bargess, of Hillsdale, paid $1800 in gold for a setter dog in England, and a few months later refused $2500 for the same. It is a high-toned dog.—Hudson Post.

Our townsman, John H. Osborn will take the field as a prohibition stumper. He opens the campaign at the United Brethren church in Hudson to-morrow evening, Sept. 3d.

The Rev. G. Mott Williams, Rector of Holy Trinity church, Detroit, and General Diocesan Missionary Agent for the Diocese of Michigan, will preach the sermon in St. Peter's church, Tecumseh, next Sunday morning.

A new line has been opened between Grand Rapids and East Saginaw, over the Grand Rapids and Indiana, Det., Lansing and Northern and Saginaw Valley railroads. It makes a very direct line from the chief western city to the Saginaw Valley. Two solid trains are run each way daily.

Mrs. Harry Tansley has been visiting friends in Cleveland for the past two weeks. Next Saturday Mr. Tansley will go down there for a ten days sojourn. It will be the first vacation he has taken in eight years, and he thinks he is entitled to a short respite. Mrs. Tansley will return with him.

Wm. Kyle did a nice little job Tuesday moving a heavy safe from Judge Stacy's law office in the second story of the HERALD office building, over to the post office. The safe was let down through a trap door from the second story to the lower floor, by means of a rope and tackle and windlass. It took overhalf a day to "get things ready" but the safe went down in about ten minutes. Mr. Kyle is the "boss" on heavy work of this kind.

A lady correspondent of the Rochester Democrat, who claims to have had a large experience with carpet bugs, takes no stock in any of the many nostrums that have been prescribed for their extermination. She says that the only sure cure is to burn up the old carpets, buy new ones, roll them up carefully in canvass, and lay them on the parlor table, put the table legs in jugs of water, sit down, fold your hands, and wait patiently for the time when the enterprising creature takes Horace Greeley's advice and goes west."—Adrian Times. Our housekeeper read this, held up both hands and said: Amen.

On the 28th inst., P. M., as Wm. Dunn was plowing with a three horse team, on the farm of Chester Van Doren in Franklin, the horses became frightened at lightening or thunder, and ran away. Mr. Dunn was knocked down and severely bruised. One line having broken left the horses free. When he recovered and rubbed the sand from his eyes, he found one horse—the middle one—dead, only a few rods away. No bruises or marks of injury were visible except a slight scratch on the hip. Apparently it had dropped dead without a struggle, not even its feet being drawn up.

Monday evening.

Dr. Catlin is making extensive repairs on his residence.

of the heaviest of the season.

Jas. D. Walker, of Brooklyn, was in town last Tuesday on business.

Miss Clara Cark, of Dundee, is visiting friends in town this week.

A prohibition club of 30 members was organized last week at Clayton.

Adamson Bros. and don't forget them when you buy your school books.

Miss Effie Brown began the fall term in the Update district last Monday.

Miss Mary Wilson, of Ann Arbor was visiting friends in town last Monday.

Miss Sara Entwesle, of Dundee, is visiting Mrs. Maggie Beamish this week.

Vernor Crane, of St. Louis, Mo., spent last Sunday with his parents in town.

Remember the peaches and cream at the Baptist church to-night. 15 cents a dish.

Postmaster Rhoades, of Blissfield, talks of building a new postoffice of his own.

The latest local improvement is a fine new sidewalk east of the Lilley House Block.

Several members of our G. A. R. Post are attending the Hillsdale encampment this week.

The frame work of D. W. Clark's new house is all in place and work is progressing rapidly.

E. W. Leach and wife, of Detroit, spent Sunday in town as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Osborn.

O. P. Bills is now whiling away the hay-fever season at his cottage on Harbor Point near Petoskey.

There is a good opening on the West side at Blissfield for an energetic dry goods merchant.

The Republicans will hold their county convention next Monday and the Democrats theirs next Thursday.

Vet. Erskine, of Battle Creek, came down Tuesday morning on the M. & O. and returned on the night train.

Dundee parties are negotiating for the purchase of B. J. Collier's steam yacht, with which to cruise on the Raisin river.

Nathaniel Huntington and daughter of Holt, and Mrs. Henry Huntington, of Jackson, are visiting at Abner Wilson's this week.

Congressman Eldredge was in town last Tuesday for two or three hours. He came across the country and found it a delightful drive.

Having sold our business in Tecumseh, we have placed our accounts with J. H. Smith, and ask all indebted to us to call and settle. Office over Heesen's Clothing store.
TECUMSEH LUMBER CO.

Only one school trustee will be elected this year, in place of Dr. North, whose term expires. The Doctor has been an efficient officer and we should be glad to see him chosen as his own successor.

C. S. Crane and family, of St. Louis are visiting among Tecumseh friends this week. Charley is prospering in his present location. He holds a good desk in the general passenger office of the Wabash road.

Frank Avery, of Onsted, the nominee on the Prohibition ticket for county clerk, is one of the most respected citizens of Cambridge, and a very successful school teacher. He is well qualfied for the place and ought to make a good run.

Mrs. Wm. A. Whitney and daughter Myrtelle, arrived in town Monday, preparatory to fitting up rooms for occupancy in Mrs. Spofford's house. Miss Whitney is to take charge of the B. High School during the coming year.

John McKinney, of Indianapolis, was in town the first of the week, as the guest of A. W. Mills. He came out to visit relatives and friends and also to attend the G. A. R. encampment at Hillsdale, where he went on Tuesday morning.

Among the names mentioned for County treasurer on the Democratic ticket is that of Ex-supervisor Coonrod L. Lowe, of Ridgeway. Mr. Lowe has seen considerable service on the board of supervisor's and is well qualified for the position. He is a man well known and very popular in the northeastern towns of the county. We believe he would be a strong candidate. He would certainly make an excellent official in case he was elected.

The recent sale by the band association of the instruments of the old Adrian band to parties in Tecumseh, may make trouble. Some of the old band boys, who are interested in the organization of a new band, contemplate attaching the horns. They claim that the instruments were never the property of the band association, but in reality they belonged to the Knights Templar, who held them in trust and that they were never legally transferred. Matters seem to be considerably complicated, enough to make a fat morsel for the lawyers.—Adrian Record.

Mrs. John Werner went to Ypsilanti last Saturday.

Adamson Bros. are special agents.

Big Cotton Sale next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

W. Crawford took a trip to Toledo and Monroe the first of the week.

Cloak opening at W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's on Monday next.

Miss Nellie Rue of Battle Creek is visiting Mrs. Dr. Fisher this week.

J. Cooper and wife, of Chicago, visited in town the fore part of the week.

Five hundred new cloaks opened Monday next at W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

The Largest Stock of Clothing ever brought to Tecumseh, at Adamson Bros.

Mrs. Horace Weller has been seriously ill during the last week, but is now improving.

Louis Hardenburg has accepted a position in the office of the O. & M. Coal & Mfg Co.

The Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg Co. have a new announcement in this week's HERALD.

"Rats"—seven of them were captured in one trap in Fred Hernings meat market last night.

Philip DePay of Reading, is spending a few days with Frank Depuy of Macon and Jeniel Davidson.

Robt. Stretch arrived in town yesterday for a three days visit at home. It is rather a long stay for him.

John Clough and family start for Battle Creek this morning, where they expect to make their future home.

H. B. S out expects to start to morrow for the Iowa state fair at Des Moines, where he will exhibit a Brewer tile machine.

Rev. Levi Chase, of Raisin, will address the Prohibition club of Tecumseh at their regular meeting, next Tuesday evening, Sept. 7th, in Reform Club Hall. Everybody invited.

"Religious Conviction," will be the subject of the morning sermon at 10:30 at the Universalist church next Sunday. "Eden how Kept and how Lost" for the evening at 7:30. Sunday school after the morning service. All invited.

Prof. Joseph Estabrook, the nominee on the republican ticket for superintendent of public instruction, was principal of the Tecumseh schools away back in the forties. He has many old friends in this vicinity who will be glad to cast a ballot for him.

The ladies of the M. E. church will hold a public meeting in the interest of the Home and Foreign missionary societies, on Sunday evening, September 5, 1886. A program consisting of essays, recitations, songs etc., will be carried out. A general invitation is given.

"Monte Cristo" was presented to a small audience last Monday evening by the Labadie combination. Francis Labadie is a rising young artist and played the leading part in a very clever manner, and if he ever returns to our village should be accorded a much larger house. His support was fairly good.

The grove meeting in Bartlett's grove near Clinton last Sunday, was largely attended, and both services were listened to by interested congregations. The afternoon meeting was adjourned rather suddenly by a thunder shower, and many people from a distance must have got wet down before arriving home.

The Franklin and Tecumseh Farmers Club will meet at the residence of Abner Wilson on Thursday afternoon and evening, Sept. 9th, 1886. A picnic supper will be furnished by the ladies of the club at 5 o'clock. A volunteer program will be presented. All members are cordially invited. By order of Com.

Mrs. Bryant's French class will meet to organize, on Wednesday, Sept. 8th, at 3 o'clock P. M., at the residence of Mr. E. Tindall. All ladies who are interested even if they do not intend joining the class are cordially invited to that meeting. Mrs. Bryant has room also for a few more pupils in her kindergarten school.

The members of Knapp's band need not have any uneasiness over the report that certain Adrian parties intend to attach their instruments and uniforms. They bought the same in good faith and paid for them. If any Adrian parties are wronged they should look to the courts for redress. Knapp's band are backed up by responsible men who will see that their rights are fully protected.

The Kalamazoo Herald says: "M. P. Brown, of Lenawee county, brother of the noted republican speaker, Mrs Hazlett, known to many Kalamazoo people, is running for the legislature on the prohibition ticket. Mrs. Hazlett's attention is called to this singular conduct of her brother." The Brown family is quite numerous and respectable, that is true, but not all the Brown's are relatives. But neither of the above have any occasion to disown the other, if they were relatives, for they both reflect honor upon the family name.

... Tuesday.

A. Stevens is engaged in taking the school census.

... ed the examinations at Adrian on Saturday last.

Miss Smallridge of Detroit, is the guest of Wm. Smallridge and family this week.

The Adrian races were postponed on Saturday for two weeks on account of a heavy shower.

The creamery building is rapidly approaching completion and will soon be ready for business.

Several members of Beers Post started for Hillsdale last Tuesday to attend the encampment.

The Industrial Home for girls now has 191 inmates. 200 is the full number that can be accommodated.

Bud Conklin is in Columbus, O., this week attending the State fair with one of H. Brewer & Co's tile machines.

E. C. Rogers has secured a position in H. E. Anderson's grocery store. We understand Mr. Tremain will work in the new creamery.

It rained last Sunday afternoon—A good many people who attended the grove meeting near Clinton had a realizing sense of that fact.

Henry Heesen started for Chicago last Thursday afternoon, with one of Brewer's tile machines, which he will put on exhibition at the great exposition in that city.

Frank Bird has exchanged his saloon property in this village for the farm owned by Munson Henry, near Blissfield, and will in the future be a tiller of the soil. Mr Henry will continue in the saloon business here.

Mr. A. Sigler, who is a connoisseur of small fruits, says the grape crop this year in this vicinity will be the most abundant in many years. He has himself just marketed a thousand.—Adrian Times.

Examinations for admission to the High School begin to-day and continue through Friday and Saturday. All students who expect to enter for the fall term should, if possible, come in for examination on those days. Old students and members of the High school are also requested to come in and get their classification on those days. Examinations will be held in the Supt's office. The fall term begins next Monday, Sept. 6th.

J. H. Osborn, of Tecumseh, will address the people on the "Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic" on the following dates in September.
Tuesday, 7th—Macon Grange Hall.
Wednesday, 8th—Raisin Little Hope.
Thursday, 9th—Britton's.
Friday, 10th—Deerfield.
Saturday, 11th—Palmyra.
Monday, 13th—Franklin.
Tuesday, 14th—Knights S. H., Adrian.
Wednesday, 15th—Dundee.
Thursday, 16th—Onsted.
Friday, 17th—Addison.
Saturday, 18th—Rollin.

Bert McNair this morning received a notification of his appointment to a $1200 clerkship in the Treasury Department at Washington. He was requested to telegraph his acceptance and report for duty at once. Bert has been reading law for the past six months in C. A. Stacy's office and the Judge gives him credit for being one of the best students he ever had. We extend our hand for a hearty shake. The McNair boys are in luck this year.

C. M. Cone, of the Adrian Press, writes us that there is not the least iota of truth in the statement, started by the Harbor Springs Independent, that he (one) was recently married. He states that it was manufactured out of whole cloth, for the sole purpose of "getting even" with the Press for "roasting" the Independent editor who, by the way, is also a bachelor on account of his frequent courting trips to Adrian. He states that his heart is as whole as ever, but mournfully adds: "No, indeed, but I wish I could marry a wealthy young widow." Now if there are any such in these parts we would heartily recommend the genial bachelor to their careful consideration. Mr. Cone will be found to be all wool and a yard wide. He is a gentleman and a scholar, and the young widow, old maid or young maiden who captures him will find a prize worth its weight in gold. No charge for this advertisement. Charlie.—Clinton Local.

The Teachers Institute.

The teachers' institute for this county, which has been in session since Monday, closed to-day at noon. The institute has been a gratifying success, the enrollment reaching 150, while the daily attendance averaged about 90 or 95. The instruction was confined to the common school branches, and it was very thorough. A fine interest was manifested throughout by the teachers present, and very full and copious notes were taken, giving them outlines which will guide them during the next year's work, and which will prove a source of fruitful study during that time. The evening lectures also received marked attention, and they were appreciated as they deserved to be. Both teachers and lecturers express much satisfaction at the result of their week's work.—Adrian Times.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Aug. 21st, '86.

MR. EDITOR.—In a former edition of your paper I noticed a correspondent from the Conference county referring to the prohibitory laws of Kansas as not prohibiting. Your correspondent says that he made it his business as soon as he entered the state to see if prohibition did prohibit, and thinks at Davenport, which all know was river town and where it is almost impossible to enforce any law, he saw that which led him to believe that prohibition did not prohibit, but instead of finding it so, it was a very notorious fact that would not say a saloon in the state. At Topeka where we were detained several hours we took occasion to take around the city, and failed to see the worst saloon, or saloon building except one on which the word had been printed over and a legitimate business name after it. In Dodge City, which is a favorite town of the state and at which we were detained some time, the same investigation was made, but no open saloon was found nor in the whole state. This fact your correspondent failed to mention. No doubt if he had searched the jails and prisons he would have found men who had broken the law in regard to murder and theft, yet he would not have decided against such if he had.

In contrast to the above, in all the other states through which we passed to the Pacific coast, the first thing that greeted the eye at every station was saloon. No time need be spent in looking for it. Your correspondent also fails to speak of the newly erected gallows we saw in Gallatin Mo. on which a man was hung the day before for murder, and does not mention the fact that the law in that state against murder is frequently broken. Now would he in his own good judgment decide against such a law.

God hasten the time when our own dear state of Michigan may have a law that will so effectually prohibit the sale of that which kills both soul and body as does the law of Kansas.
CALIFORNIA PETE.

OUR COUNTY FAIR.

Over Nine Hundred First Class Premiums Offered.

The agricultural society are moving in the right direction, and it is safe to predict that the coming fair will be a great success. The largest first premium is forty dollars, and the smallest is twenty five cents; the latter being offered on a pair of wristlets knitted by a little girl. The total number of first premiums is nine hundred and seventy-two—largest second, third and fourth is twenty-five, fifteen and ten dollars, respectively. Many premiums revert to the society because of no exhibit, yet they will willingly pay them for worthy articles. Competition is open to all who will carry them off. The new art hall and many other improvements furnish ample room for all. Excursion rates are secured on all railroads.

Three box pleats in the front of skirts are often seen. The present tendency is toward increasing fullness.

Round yoke bodices and the "milkmaid," overdress with deep revers draped high are worn by young girls.

—Mark Russell sells everything pertaining to music.

—Those Saturday Sales at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's are becoming noted.

—Mark Russell sells the "White."

—Something everybody needs, a bolt of cotton at 4¾ per yard, worth 6½c. Get one at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's, next Saturday.

—Mark Russell sells Banjos, Guitars, etc.

—All Cottons at less than manufacturer's prices, next Saturday at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—Mark Russell takes Pianos and Organs.

—Mr. Steger is making great improvements in his Gallery at present. He is resetting his sky-light, and will have a dressing room especially for ladies. His rooms are closed for a few days, but will reopen next Saturday with new scenery and accessories.

—Mark Russell has two Tricycles to sell cheap.

—If you wish any painting, graining or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker's Hall or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

—Remember you can buy 4 pounds for one dollar cash, of C. A. Slayton.

—You can buy a fine single or Road Harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Slaytons.

—FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Heck Bro's White Foam flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

—Large stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices.
C. A. SLAYTON.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS

PHYSICIANS

HOTELS

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

M. L. ERICKSON,
UTICA, MICHIGAN.

WITHOUT SUFFERING
OPIUM.

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
Dwight, Ills.

DRUNKENNESS!

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

WINDEROOPANS

ZOA-PHORA
WOMAN'S FRIEND

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

GIVE US A CALL.

LOOK AT THIS!
We will send a
READY FOTOGRAPHER
FOR 25 CENTS.

ADVERTISERS
LORD & THOMAS.

THE TEUTONIC BANQUET.

"Yes, Herr Baron, I am married, and happily married, and I love my wife. No, no, let me explain. I married myself to a Parisienne, and the happy heart, and I immediately

"Well, Herr Baron, I married a Parisian and Parisian women, as you know, are always the worst of their kind. The first weeks of her stay here all went on smoothly. When I had finally got down to my last 500 francs I gave them to the girl and said, 'My dear Valentine, the best you can do now is to return to Paris.' But she refused indignantly, saying that she would never leave me. Yet I was obliged to leave her, so, for worse, for 'I was penniless.' It was then that I passed a season in the desert Italian [illegible]. While there I received a letter from Valentine in which she gave me the politest dismissal of love and married Monsieur Schmuggler, with that good Hauptberger, whose offer, she said, she had accepted only for my sake! As soon as they were married, she added, she would procure me a suitable position in the brewery, of which her bridegroom was head clerk, and then I could live happy ever and ever, emphasizing the words with three dashes. As you may imagine, I respectfully declined this [illegible] and have never seen Mr. Schmuggerberger since."

"Prosit! eat in peace," I exclaimed, raising my glass. "But to return to your own affairs. Is it possible that you have got used to this business?"

"My dear fellow, honestly and truly, yes! Behold the decay of a great character. This business is not so bad after all. I am excellently paid, and in the two years during which I have worn this mask of 'Ernest' this is the name I bear in the profession, I have saved a good deal of money."

"So you are content with your lot?" I said.

"Content? no; I take things as they are, without making them worse."

"Well, my dear Waldheim, I am heartily glad to have met you," I said, rising and shaking him by the hand. "I hope to see you again soon. Now it is late, time for both of us to go to sleep."

We took leave of one another like old friends, with mutual promises to meet often.

Some three weeks after our first meeting, however, I was sent on newspaper business to South Carolina, and remained there over three months. When I returned the "Bear Baron" had left H. Gorrs's little wirthschaft, and had gone whither, no one knew.

A year passed without my hearing anything of Waldheim. A few days ago I caught site by chance of a copy of the Saturday Review, in which I noticed the announcement of the opening of a new "fashionable" in that fashionable watering-place. After the usual horrides of the [illegible] promises the [illegible] advantages of a [illegible] on earth. I read the following words:

"The management, M. Ernest, will devote all his energies and extensive experience in hotel keeping to the direction of the new and vast establishment."

There was no mistake possible, this must be the "Bear Baron." I [illegible] the proprietor, and [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] Kurhaus, [illegible] the most [illegible] of the [illegible] of Europe. [illegible] Waldheim [illegible] on the [illegible] marshes of the [illegible] of Europe, some of whose [illegible] remembers one of whom [illegible] though [illegible] the management of the [illegible] "Ernest" [illegible] Remarks." Times.

Location Located by Kodak.

Dangerous at the Beach.

It is a pretty story which is being [illegible] about the Alex. One round from [illegible] of her [illegible] guns proffered such [illegible] that it was considered prudent to order every one out of the turret before the guns were fired again. A second round was then fired, when Lord Alcester [illegible] that the guns had better be [illegible] discharged again. After this it is [illegible] of little consequence whether it be true or not that the A rines were all forced to be "cracked." It is clear that the vessel is useless either as a fighting machine or a sea-going ship. Possibly she might be of some use as a coal hulk or a dredger; then, neither as coal hulk nor dredger ought to cost thousands upon thousands of pounds.—London Truth.

It is a great point of wisdom to little amounts as to discover knowledge.—Seldom.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Is sold by all druggists. Price $1, or six bottles for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Use Hood's Tooth-Powder.

IMMUNITY from ANNOYANCE

"PEARL TOP" LAMP CHIMNEY

Pat. Oct. 30th, 1883.

Made only of the finest and best quality of Glass, for withstanding heat.

Every good thing is Counterfeited, and Consumers are CAUTIONED against IMITATIONS of these Chimneys made of VERY POOR GLASS. See that the exact label is on each chimney as above. The Pearl Top is always clear and bright Chimney.

Manufactured ONLY by
GEO. A. MACBETH & CO.
Pittsburgh Lead Glass Works.
FOR SALE BY DEALERS.

SPRAGUE'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 40 Years.

dealers in medicine.
D. RANSOM, SON & CO., Props.
Buffalo, New York.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

DR. CLARKE

NO FEE!! ESTABLISHED 1851. No. 1

The Regular, Old Established
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON
SKILL AND SUCCESS
ALL
PRIVATE, NERVOUS, CHRONIC DISEASES
YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

Remember! Nervous diseases, debility, and loss of nerve power. It makes no difference what you have been or who has failed to cure you.

For the terrible poisons of Syphilis and all bad blood and skin diseases, complete cure guaranteed. Remember that this is a horrible disease, if neglected or improperly treated curses the present and coming generation.

All unnatural discharges cured promptly without hindrance to business. No expense. Both sexes consult confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken.

If you suffer from any chronic disease, send History and Symptoms of your case—page. Cases treated which others have failed to cure.

Enclose stamps for celebrated works on Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases. You have the exhaustive symptomatic logy by mail, or your own case. Absolute free. Consult the old Doctor. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private. You see the Age for the Doctor. Enclosing your case consult DR. CLARKE, Detroit. Hours 9 to 8. Sundays, 9 to 12. Address,

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.,
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

GRAYER CORSETS

ARE BY FAR THE MOST POPULAR CORSETS EVER INTRODUCED.

CORALINE is superior to whalebone, cannot be broken, is durable and easy to the wearer. It is used in no goods except those made by Warner Bros.

$10.00 REWARD

For Sale by all Leading Merchants.
WARNER BROS., NEW YORK and CHICAGO.

K. B.
KING OF THE BLOOD

The Most Thorough Purifier of Blood Ever Discovered

PATENTS!

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

C. A. SNOW & CO.,
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D.C.

RED STAR

COUGH CURE

25 Cts

OIL

GERMAN RHEUMATIC REMEDY For Pain

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 135 Mail.	No. 117 Express.	No. 103 Accom.
Buffalo	8 25 A.M.	6 10 P.M.	12 P.M.
N. Tonawanda	8 41 "	6 25 "	2 00 "
Niagara Falls	9 00 "	6 40 "	2 20 "
Suspension Bridge	9 07 "	6 46 "	2 30 "
Clifton	9 17 "	6 56 "	2 42 "
Niagara	9 25 "	7 04 "	2 52 "
Lewiston	9 38 "	7 17 "	3 05 "
Tuscarora	10 20 "	8 00 "	.....
Toronto	1 25 P.M.	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 136 Mail.	No. 118 Express.	No. 104 Accom.
Toronto	9 A.M.	9 A.M.	7 A.M.
Tuscarora	12 40 P.M.	8 35 P.M.	12 10 P.M.
Lewiston	12 54 "	8 51 "	2 10 "
Niagara	1 04 "	9 01 "	2 21 "
Clifton	1 13 "	9 11 "	2 31 "
Suspension Bridge	1 20 "	9 18 "	2 40 "
N. Tonawanda	1 36 "	9 33 "	2 55 "
Buffalo	1 50 "	9 50 "	3 15 "

Connections made at Lewiston with Cars for Queenston, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Youngstown, Lockport, Oswego, Rochester, Albany and points East. Also at Suspension Bridge with Cars for Lockport, Rochester, Oswego, Syracuse, Albany and points East. Also at Buffalo with Cars for Dunkirk, Jamestown, Salamanca, Bradford, Oil City, Corry, Meadville, Erie, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore and points East. Also at Suspension Bridge with Cars for Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Dunkirk, Salamanca, Bradford, Oil City, Corry, Meadville, Erie, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore and points East.

Through Cars between Buffalo and Toronto on Nos. 135 and 136 only.

Through Cars between Buffalo and Toronto on Nos. 117 and 118 only.

Through Cars between Suspension Bridge and Toronto on Nos. 103 and 104 only.

Ticket Offices, 26 Exchange Street, and at Suspension Bridge, where best routes to all points in the United States are given.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, Ticket Agent.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE DETROIT.

Atlantic Express, Daily	4 15 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
New York Fast Express	9 21 "
New York Limited Express	11 51 P.M.
Night Freight	3 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville

New New St. Louis Limited Express	2 10 P.M.
Indian Accommodation	6 48 "
Chicago Express, Limited	9 07 "

Trains marked "ar" daily, all others daily except Sundays.

Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Bolton.

To much passengers destined to points in the Indian Wabash make excellent connections at Detroit, and from the East at Toledo, for points West and Northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

East Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. B. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.

F. H. SNDELER, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT July 11, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Manistee Mich.

GOING EAST. — Central Time.

No. 5 Pass.	No. 3 Pass.	No. 1	STATIONS.	No. 2 Pass.	No. 4 Pass.	No. 6
A. M.	P. M.			A. M.	P. M.
11 55	6 15	A.	Toledo	L. 8 05	4 15
10 40	5 55		Dundee	9 00	5 55
			Clarkston
10 00	5 26		Britton	9 26	6 30
9 45	5 20		Ridgeway	9 32	6 35
9 31	5 08		Tecumseh	9 44	6 47
9 25	4 56		Tipton	10 02	7 05
9 10	4 31		Onsted	10 17	7 29
8 52	4 17		Devils Lake	10 31	7 45
8 40	4 05		Addison	10 45	7 50
8 20	3 41		Jerome	11 05	8 11
8 10	3 35		Moscow	11 15	8 21
7 56	3 22		Hanover	11 25	8 34
7 42	3 09		Pulaski	11 40	8 49
7 16	2 41		Homer	12 05	9 15
7 01	2 28		Eckford	12 20	9 30
	2 18		Albion
6 40	2 00		Marshall	2 40	9 50
6 25	1 55		Ceresco	12 55	10 05
	1 35		A Battle Crk L.	1 20	10 30
6 00	1 00			1 10	P. M.
A. M.	12 44		Augusta	2 06
	12 31		Yorkville	2 17
	12 27		Richland	2 22
	12 16		Doster	2 28
	11 43		Montclib	3 00
	11 32		Fisk	3 [illegible]
	11 25		Kellogg	3 20
	11 10		A. Allegan	L. 3 40
	10 10		Holland	5 10
	9 00		Grand Rapids	6 35
	9 35		Grand Haven	7 [illegible]
	9 [illegible]		Muskegon	8 [illegible]

Train No. 5 has Through Coach Detroit to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Manistee. Also a Through Sleeping Car Detroit to Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Manistee each day except Sunday, arriving at Grand Rapids at 2 45 a.m.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo with Lines of connecting R. R. Direct with R. A. A. & N. M. at Morenci with L. S. & M. S. R. R. at Hudson with L. E. & M. R. R. at Adrian with L. S. & M. S. at Ypsilanti with Ann Arbor R. R. at Wayne with L. S. & M. S. Leaving Hudson, and Air Line division at the Junction, with Chicago & Atlantic Div. at Marion with C. & W. M. R. R. at Baldwin with Chicago & Atlantic Div. and C. & W. M. R. R. at Grand Rapids with Grand Rapids & Indiana R. R. at Allegan with Chicago & West Mich. R. R. at Muskegon with Lake Shore & West Mich. R. R.

All Trains run by Chicago time.

Office, 1 Brady St.

H. J. MATTHEWS, Northern Pass. Agt.

PIANOS-ORGANS

The demand for the improved MASON & HAMLIN PIANOS is now so large that a second factory in Boston has become necessary. Do not confound these instruments with those of inferior quality, which are made to resemble our styles. Catalogue, Illustrated Catalogue, Circulars, etc., free. Address

Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co.,
NEW YORK: BOSTON: CHICAGO.

CURE FOR THE DEAF

[illegible] FREE. [illegible]

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Active, Pushing and Reliable.

Always on the lookout to carry in stock the purest and best goods and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable with and enterprising merchants, and shrewd men, are popular drugs, the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Colds and Coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of throat, lungs, or chest, and in order to introduce the article we will give a trial bottle free. Call on C. A. Wright & Co.

Wright's Cough Syrup and Oil Emulsion combined with Hypophosphites, cures Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Diseases. Price 25 cents.

The best salve in the world is Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which is guaranteed to cure Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

In General Debility, Emaciation, Consumption and Wasting

Is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite for food, strengthens the nervous system and builds up the body. It is prepared in a palatable form and prescribed universally by Physicians. Take no other.

A huge derrick-pole fell and severely injured the foot of mechanical engineer E. R. Hoyt at the New Orleans Exposition, and after only three applications of St. Jacobs Oil, all the swelling and pain disappeared.

Opinion of a Leading Editor.

A most all the diseases that afflicted us from infancy to old age have their origin in a disordered liver. A really good liver medicine is the first important in the whole range of pharmacy. We believe Simmons Liver Regulator to be the best among them all. We pin our faith upon the Regulator, and if we could persuade every reader who is in ill health to buy it, we would willingly vouch for the benefit each would receive.—Ed. Cincinnati Gazette.

[illegible] HONEY [illegible] 25, 50c., 1[illegible]
[illegible] SULPHUR SOAP [illegible] 25c.
[illegible] CORN REMOVER [illegible] 25c.
[illegible] HAIR & WHISKER DYE [illegible] 50c.
[illegible] TOOTHACHE DROPS [illegible] 25c.
[illegible] RHEUMATIC PILLS [illegible]

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever. A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the mucus membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever, are cured in from one to three applications made at home, at a cost of two dollars. Pamphlets containing the proofs of these statements, with a treatise on the nature and cure of these diseases, will be sent free on receipt of stamp by Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who will send a pamphlet containing the new treatment free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

A FAR OCTOBER

A [illegible] in Lessons [illegible]

Opinion of Mercurial or Mercurials in any form in the treatment of catarrh is that they never cure, but on the contrary they reduce the system and disorganize. Catarrhozone is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril by the agreeable process. Price fifty cents.

In Portland [illegible] are held on Sunday in the churches and [illegible] held in X stands between two saloons.

The most astonishingly beneficial results have followed the use of Red Star Cough Cure by those affected with throat and lung troubles. Price twenty-five cents.

Seventeen bushels of wheat is the product from one grain of wheat for three years on a Dakota farm.

Disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys, can be cured by restoring the blood to a healthy condition, through the vitalizing and cleansing action of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the safest, most powerful, and most thoroughly concentrated alterative extractable to the public.

Why suffer the tortures of biliousness when Hood's Sarsaparilla will give sure relief? Sold by all druggists. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Tradesmen in Madagascar who give short weight are sent to prison for a year. In this country they go to a watering place every summer.

"Will it do no harm?" This is the question often asked, and the answer is, "It can not," for Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is an innocent remedy, absolutely contains neither Opium, Morphia, or anything injurious. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Mesdames of the "great and glorious West" continue to adorn their persons with birds, so fertile is the country in all resources.

"Neither rhyme nor reason can express how much I value a cure I've found for my weak ankle," she said. "What can it be?" "Fancy a woman never having heard of Salvation Oil at twenty-five cents a bottle."

The conductor said to a young lady: "Miss, your fare." "Well, if I am," she replied, "I don't want any of your impertinence."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

POETS OF GERMANY

WHAT A CONTRIBUTOR SAYS OF THEIR BEAUTY AND ATTRACTIVENESS.

[illegible]

In this country a woman at the time [illegible] frequently [illegible] husband [illegible] children [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] the

CLINTON MICH. SEPT 2 189

The funeral of Mrs. Roy is being

Dan Kimball returned home from Detroit last Monday.

Frances Matthews expects to start for Lake Superior Monday.

George Rowland, of Tecumseh, is spending a few weeks with friends here.

Mrs. W. J. Clinton, of Maple Valley, is visiting Mrs. Dr. Morris this week.

Mrs. Grewe returned home last Friday after a few weeks visit at Grass Lake.

Dr. Martin Wood, of Detroit, was here two or three days of this week visiting friends.

H. M. Sage returned to Rochester Monday, after a few days visit here.

Miss Frank Sayers and sister, of Ann Arbor, visited friends in this village Wednesday.

Mr. James Cate and Mrs. Jennie Wilson, of Brooklyn, visited in the village last Wednesday.

Mrs. Mrs. W. Y. Dean returned to her home in Ann Arbor last Wednesday after a few days visit here.

Mrs. Frank Mills returned to her home in Ann Arbor last Wednesday after a few days visit here.

Mrs. Mrs. Mrs.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII. NO 15. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 9, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1862

A NEW WHIRL!

AT

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

-500-

NEW CLOAKS

Placed on sale MONDAY.

Also an entire new assortment of Dress Goods and FANCY VELVET.

Incorporated March 31. 1886.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Lath, Blinds,
Shingles, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

S. W. TEMPLE, Gen. Mgr.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

DON'T GET EXCITED.

Our Elegant Line of CLOAKS

IS ON THE ROAD!

And will be open for inspection NEXT WEEK. Our assortment of Leading Styles at Popular prices will be second to none.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!
STRAW HATS!
Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!
ALPACA COATS!
Seer-Sucker coats and Vests!

SUMMER GOODS!

Of all discriptions at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

BIDDLEVILLE RIPPLES.

Monday, Sept. 6.

Shade frost was visitor here the last week.

The patrons are busy this week at the sawmills, and the roads are in good condition.

The ladies are improving the appearance of the Parsonage with a fresh coat of paint, and a new walk from the street to the house.

The Waring block and Hemans store are booming right lively, and will soon be ready to occupy.

M. M. Fiorance, Chas. Gove, Chas. Pocklington and David Harrison, besides several children, have been sadly down hearted the Doctor's score. Summer is earmark the cause.

Agent A. J. Sutton is the possessor of a Lion [illegible] this week. The capacity of carrying three very timely.

Rev. W. J. Clack went to Fort Rock last week Wednesday to attend late at Ionia.

Mrs. C. A. Sharp and son Ira, spent a few days at father Sharp's last week.

Hanch Mead and Anna Dilley of South Macon, passed second year in the Tecumseh high school at the examination, which speaks well for the Public Schools.

Dean Lorenz, Ida Figgins and Jos. VanVleet began school at Tecumseh Monday.

Ida Pocklington visited friends near Adrian last week.

Mrs. Ayr Smith, visited friends at Hillsdale last week several days.

Allie Armer spent Sunday at Mrs. Will Keeley's, Jr.

Nellie and Hattie Conklin of Tecumseh spent Saturday at Mrs. B. B. Morley's.

Mattie Graves of Cambridge, was the guest of Loana Davidson last week.

Jack Frost's visit last week reminds us that fall is here, and that Sunday evening recreations on the front gate must soon come to a stop and the parlor sought for as a refuge.

Some attended the Toledo fair this week, others will go to Jackson next week to the State fair, but everybody will attend the County fair at Adrian Sept. 21 to 24.

Covert Miller who is in the music business at East Saginaw, is visiting his old home at present.

Burt and Fred McNair of Tecumseh, spent a few hours with their grandparents Saturday.

Will Allen and Lou Sindlinger called on Hattie P. Mason of Saline, Sunday afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. R. P. Bush of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be sorry to learn that Mr. Bush and Ella Hall have returned from their European trip, leaving Mrs. Bush and Wootie in Paris with Irving, who is quite sick. Their yacht which they made the voyage over there in, left for home some time ago and has not been heard of for over 20 days.

Mrs. Byron Givets of Ithaca, Mich., visited Mrs. Ella Morley from Friday until Sunday. She will leave for a visit with her parents in Kansas in a few days.

The ladies church social will open their series of festivals and entertainments after their summer vacation, with a peach and cream festival in the lecture room of the church, next Friday evening. Supper 15cts; extra dishes of peaches, 10cts. The ladies are requested to furnish the necessary refreshments. By order of Com.

The ladies church social will give a public Literary at Cottage Hall, Sep. 29th. A program is being prepared with special care. Full particulars will be given next week.

Mrs. Sarah Rappleye received a letter from her sister, Mrs. Ellen Burch of Oneida, Dakota, that gives an account of their loss in the recent prairie fire that passed over that section. They lost all their hay, 40 or 50 tons, all the straw, hay rake, etc. She was at home alone as the fire reached there, and being used to the ways of western life, acted wisely. As she saw the fire approaching she took the horse from the stable and tied it to the wagon, then picketed the cow out in the green woods near by which saved her life. Then began loading their household effects in the wagon ready to run away for protection. Their buildings were saved however as soon as Mr. Burch came from Oneida with the other horse, which he run all the way home, but fortunately their loss was slight compared with their neighbors.

The Sunday school excursion to Devils Lake last week Wednesday was a grand success notwithstanding the never ceasing underhanded workings and false reports of "a certain few whose practices call for a more christian spirit. The Burton Corner Band was on hand and furnished some music [illegible] the day at the lake. When [illegible] hot pressure. When [illegible] arrived at the lake, the steamer Bessie V. was at the landing, and soon went sailing over the waves for [illegible]. After landing dinner was served in the grove. During the afternoon the steamer Bessie V. gave the excursionists a ride around the lake, landing them in time for the return train. It was remarked by nearly all present that it was one of the finest days they ever enjoyed at any lake, as it was neither too hot nor cool, and the weather was just splendid. The band rendered some very fine music during the day, which added much to the pleasure of the occasion. In behalf of the excursionists, we would return a vote of thanks to Mr. Alson for his kind courtesy, and for the use of his steamer, and to the Captain of Bessie V. for his gentlemanly conduct. Also to the members of the band for their willing and efficient music during the day. Agent Sutton joins with the committee in extending their many thanks to the officers of district number five for closing their school during the day. Also to the friends from Dundee, Macon, and Britton, who spent the day with us, and hope that in the future all may join in a day of festivity and recreation in a manner that will unite the east with the west, north with the south, in bonds of friendship.

All those who have an interest in the fallen sheds at the church, and all those who desire to rent or build new sheds, are requested to meet in the basement of the church this week Saturday evening, to decide what course to pursue in relation to the matter. By order of Com.

Rev. John H. Pierce, of the Mich. conference, will preach at Ridgeway M. E. church, Sunday, Sep. 12 at 10 A. M. Many years have passed since he preached in Tecumseh and Adrian circuits. He is now venerable with age, more than fifty years having been devoted by him to the traveling ministry, as pastor of circuits, and stations, and Presiding Elders.

SPRINGVILLE SNUFF.

C. D. Smith, Joseph and William Clayson will take in Toledo fair this week.

Farmers are very busy, these warm days preparatory to sowing wheat. There will be a larger acreage than ever in this township.

The picnic and dance at Wells' Sand Lake, last Saturday was well attended.

There was a large crowd at Onsted to the opening of the new hotel and to witness the ball game between Onsted and Wolf Creek. The latter were defeated 7 to 5. It was a good game.

It is'nt always best to be in a hurry, so says Walter Furgerson. He hastily left his engine with team attached last Saturday, to assist with the seperator, and before he could return the team had his engine upside down in creek. They got out next A. M. without any very serious breaks.

At school meeting Monday night, they voted to dig a well, set out shade trees, etc. Evergreens were spoken of but maples were decided on. John Hand was elected Moderator.

Knapp's Band failed to make their appearance at Putnam's last Sunday as billed, but Hunt's full orchestra was present and discoursed some as fine music as we ever listened to.

MACON MUSIC.

There will be no preaching at the M. E. church next Sabbath afternoon.

Andrew Howell and wife of Adrian, called on friends last Thursday and Friday.

David Camburn of Springport, came here last Wednesday to attend the funeral of his brother Spencer Camburn, and is visiting friends.

Archie Davis, who has been sick two weeks, is better.

Rev. J. A. DeSpelder and family of Orange City, Iowa, who have been visiting friends this summer left Saturday for Holland, where they will visit his parents; and then return to their home.

Dr. Charles Howell of Alpena, called on friends four days last week and this.

Thos. Quarton and two sons, Bertie and Fred, of Birmingham, Oakland Co., came out Sunday and called on old friends the latter part of the week.

Sunday school concert at the M. E. church next Sabbath evening.

The local stores are doing a rushing business this week.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Contributed for the W. C. T. U.

WE REAP AS WE SOW.

Not many years ago there came to a Holiday in the village in one of our western States, a gentleman who introduced a drinking business. For a time he presented all the qualities of a good citizen, and his heart seemed bound up in his little family of his motherless children. He seemed to live for them, and no task was too hard for him to perform if thereby he could add to their comfort and pleasure. They were indeed bright, interesting little ones, and soon the sympathies of the good citizens were enlisted in behalf of the bereaved husband and he was taken into their hearts and homes as a true gentleman.

But ere long it became apparent that some one was dealing out death in the form of intoxicating liquor, and the boys of the community were frequent in such dealing and expulsion. The citizens had never suffered a saloon to remain within the limits of their town, and upon investigation, the minds of many were convinced that it was no other than their esteemed friend, the druggist, who was thus abusing the confidence he had won. No evidence would stand in court could be obtained, and when accused, Mr. Harmon always assumed an air of injured innocence. However, this did not make the truth any the less apparent, and such a state of affairs was not to be allowed without an effort to stop it. At length a friend remonstrated seriously, and as Mr. Harmon was not yet so lost to honor that he could absolutely deny that the charge was true, he answered evasively and at last said impatiently, "Well, you ought not to be too rough on a fellow, remember I have a family to support and my profits are small."

"But," said his friend, "we have children too, and their souls are at stake. If you persist in supplying your children in luxuries of life at the expense of the spiritual welfare of your neighbor's children, you will be brought to judgment sooner or later. Remember that with whatsoever measure you mete, it shall be measured to you again, and you may live to reap a harvest of sorrow and heartache such as you are sowing for others."

Mr. Harmon dismissed the subject and matters continued as before, and though repeated efforts were made, to bring him to justice they were of no avail.

In the meantime his children grew up and were his pride and consolation. In particular was he fond of his eldest, a daughter, upon whose young shoulders had been thrown the cares and responsibilities of a mother. When upon her death bed, their mother had said to the young girl, "Children, always obey Minnie and you will be on the right side." Well and faithfully had she performed her work, and now she was a woman whose modesty and sweet disposition made her a favorite with all. As my readers all know, such rare gems are not left to garnish the lives of parents in their declining years, for most men prefer modesty, and worth to mere show. Minnie was woed and won by one whom she considered in every way worthy of her sincere affection. He was intelligent, industrious, noble and sincere in his regard for her, and Minnie was greatly distressed when her father disapproved her choice. He would give no reason for pronouncing him unworthy, and reluctantly consented to their marriage when his daughter plead their cause. The silent, pre-occupied air which he wore from that time, she attributed to his grief at losing his daughter, and sought to console him with the thought that their home would be in the city, only a few miles distant, and they would see her often.

No bride was ever led to the altar by one whose heart throbbed with truer affection or manlier purpose, and few had brighter prospects. But ah! He was not yet aware that he was a slave. They removed to their new home and for a time their cup of happiness seemed full, but slowly there dawned upon the mind of the young wife a horrible truth. The one she thought so pure, sometimes came home with a taint of liquor upon his breath, and though he took her ignorant of the fact she was daily hating her alcohol and seeking by smiles and every means she could devise, to draw him away from the dangerous shore to which he drifted. Her efforts were fruitless, and at last she could not conceal her knowledge from him any longer, and then she reasoned and pleaded with him for the sake of all he held dear, to touch not, taste not, handle not.

[illegible] and then [illegible] and [illegible] was [illegible] for [illegible] that he was [illegible] than his wife. As is usually the case with men of this organization his downward career was rapid and before many months had passed he reached home one night to his sad faced wife and when the tears fell from her eyes at sight of him in that condition he abused her with vile epithets, and led by the demon within him, rushed to the cradle where their innocent babe lay, seized it and slung it across the room. The screams of his wife sobered the half frantic man and brought a crowd of spectators to the scene. Mr. Harmon was summoned immediately, and poor Hugh quietly surrendered to the officers, but begged to remain and see whether it was life or death with his child.

In a few hours, a man whose face was white with anger and excitement pushed his way through the crowd, and stopping before the grief stricken young man, who was vainly trying to fondle his babe back to life, said [illegible] the sound of Mr. Harmon's voice, though rose quietly, faced him steadily and said with bitter sarcasm: "My work! My work! Yes, I am, perhaps, a murderer, but before Heaven, you are no accomplice. You know that I was crazed with drink and you supplied me with the first that ever passed my lips and sold it to me till the appetite was formed, little dreaming that your sin would find you out. You secretly sold the deadly stuff from selfish motives, caring not whose children perished so your own were safe, and the blow you thus dealt at the homes of your neighbors has been made to rebound upon your own. My life is a wreck, and I will receive just punishment at the hands of the law for my share in the crime, while you go free; but the only revenge that I crave is that every cent you receive from the traffic hereafter, may prove a curse to you." With that he signed and kissed his babe, and then the white lips of his insensible wife and was led away.

The morning light gazed upon a ruined home, a murdered infant, a raving mother and a hopeless criminal behind prison bars. Truly a family broken up, a life destroyed, a mind dethroned and a character branded with infamy and disgrace, and this the seed sown in the garden of one young life.

As Mr. Harmon sadly paces the floor, almost constantly for days he remembers the warning given him years ago and says, "Truly I am reaping as I have sown. If money could undo the mischief I had done I would give my last penny. A bitter, bitter lesson, but I have learned it well. [illegible] M. E. H."

ONSTED ODDS.

Wm. Onsted returned Monday from a visit to Mills lake.

The number of pupils in Dist. No. 5 is sixty-one.

Miss Sarah Fairness, of Chicago is visiting her friends in this vicinity.

A little girl is living in the family of your correspondent. She will be a year old Sept. 2, 1887.

A Missionary concert will be held at the church on Sunday evening, Sept. nineteenth.

Mrs. Mary Spencer of Charlotte, was visiting among her many friends here last week.

Will Bryan and Will Moody of Adrian, visited Onsted Lodge of Good Templars last Saturday evening.

Several of our young people are going away to school this fall. Walter Wimple goes to Tecumseh, Alma Howes and Lena Read to Raisin Valley Seminary, and Addie Daniels to Jackson.

At the school meeting in Dist. No. 5 Monday night, George Shugars was elected Moderator. S. G. Aten furnished the wood at $1.22 per cord.

Wolf Creek and Onsted base ball clubs played a game here last Thursday. The game was the best ever played on these grounds and resulted in favor of Onsted. The score was 7 to 5.

Peter Long opened his saloon to the public last Thursday, and a dance was held in the upper part of the building in the evening. Your correspondent did not attend either, but it is reported that a large amount of liquor was consumed. It was certainly a sad sight to see a number of men, and several boys in the streets of our usually quiet village, who were evidently under the influence of liquor.

The Terrible Drain

When a cachexia has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and invigorating effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved unsurpassed and unrivaled by any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and gives new life and vigor unto every fibre and nerve of the body, conquering it to entire exemption from diseases.

Pennyroyal pills are not as popular as last season.

Beware of all mercurial compounds. Breath Prunes, Trix are the only safe, sure and pleasant aromatics in the market.

Closing Out Sale!

I Propose to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 22d.

In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers, And as many new ones as may favor me with Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

The Appetite

IMPROVED

BY USING

Ayer's Pills.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

AND IS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA, ANÆMIA, CONGHS AND COLDS, WASTING DISEASES AND CHRONIC DISEASES, AND WHERE THERE IS LOSS OF FLESH.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.—Take no advice from ignorant people when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO

Wolcott, Temple & Co.

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Select Business College

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

DESTROYS THE POISON OF CATARRH. HAZELTINE & PERKINS DRUG CO., SOLE PROPS., DETROIT, MICH.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

HAIR BALSAM

AGENTS Wanted for the New Work,
GLADSTONE-PARNELL AND GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE,

QUICK AS A WINK.

WORLD MANUFACTURING CO.
41 Park Row, New York. P. O. Box, 3824.

NOW IS THE TIME
TO USE
JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA
FOR LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA,
AND FOR
PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

It has been in use for 26 years and has proved to be the best preparation in the Market for Sick Headache, Pain in the Side or Back, Liver Complaint, Pimples on the Face, Dyspepsia, Piles, and all Diseases that arise from a disordered Liver or impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Winter-green, and other well known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable and cannot hurt the most delicate institution. It is one of the best medicines ever for regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six for five dollars. Sample bottles 25 cts. free on receipt of price.

W. JOHNSTON & CO.,
Detroit, Mich.

When you have tried all the Sarsaparillas, and have been disappointed, try Johnston's.

DELAND & CO'S
CAPITOL SHEAF
SALERATUS
SODA
For Baking Purposes.
Best in the World

LENAWEE CARRIAGE FACTORY
J. R. HALEY,
Proprietor.
MANUFACTURER OF Carriages, Buggies,
SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, &c.
SOLE AGENT for the
CAPITOL LUMBER WAGONS
Track Sulkies and Skeleton Wagons
NO. 10 EAGAN

LOOK AT THIS!
We will send a
READY FOTOGRAPHER
To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.
For sale by all Newsdealers everywhere. Agents wanted. Address
N. W. Ayer & Son's Newspaper Advertising Agency, 30 State St., Chicago, Ill.

THIS PAPER
N. W. AYER & SON.

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

THE DISAPPEARANCE.

CHAPTER I.

ED, Lady Lydiard sat meditating by the hearth, with three letters lying open on her lap. Time had discolored the paper and had turned the ink to a brownish line. The letters were all addressed in the same person—"The Right Hon. Lord Lydiard"—and were all signed in the same way—"Your affectionate cousin, James Tollumbige." Judged by these specimens of his correspondence, Mr. Tollumbige must have possessed one great merit as a letter writer—the merit of brevity. He will worry nobody's patience, if he is allowed to have a hearing. Let him, therefore, be permitted in his own lighthouse way, to speak for himself.

First letter. "My statement, as your lordship will see, shall be short and to the point. I am doing very well as a portrait painter in this country, and I had a wife and children to consider. Under these circumstances, if I had been left to decide for myself, I should certainly have waited until I had saved a little money before I ventured on the serious expense of taking a house and studio at the west end of London. Your lordship, I possibly decided, otherwise. I am on the experiment without warning. And here I am, unknown and unemployed, a helpless artist, lost in London, with a sick wife and hungry children and bankruptcy staring me in the face. On whose shoulders does this dreadful responsibility rest? On your lordship's!"

Second letter. "After a week's delay, you favor me, my lord, with a curt reply. I can be equally curt on my side. I indignantly deny that I ever gave your lordship a name as a means of recommendation to sitters without your permission. Some enemy has slandered us. I claim, as my right, to know the name of that enemy."

Third and last letter. "Another week has passed, and not a word of answer has reached me from your lordship. It matters little. I have employed the interval in making inquiries, and I have at last discovered the hostile influence which has stopped you from me. I have been, I am assured, unfortunate enough to alienate Lady Lydiard from my interests. I do not imagine, and the all-powerful influence of this noble lady is now leveled against me, that anything I can do will induce you to do the act of kindness I ask. I can only appeal to your sense of justice. If I succeed in right my way upward, my lord, as other men have done before me, I may yet come with a the throng of suppliers waiting at the door of the Lydiard mansion, and bring me the lately expressed wishes of her ladyship's regret. I refer you, my lord Lydiard, to that day."

Having read Mr. Tollumbige's formidable letters, Lady Lydiard's meditations took a new direction. She rose, took the letters in her hands to tear them up, put them back, and threw them back into the cabinet drawer in which she had discovered them among other papers that had not been arranged since Lord Lydiard's death.

"Shameless!" said her ladyship, thinking of Mr. Tollumbige. "Have I, or any of my family, ever made a friend of this man? I never even heard his name before. What can he do next?"

She looked as she put that question to herself at an open newspaper thrown on the table. The paper was the organ of the unemployed artist. Mr. Tollumbige, it appeared, is, it is said, to the late well known connoisseur, Lord Lydiard. In the next section of the writer of the obituary notice deplored the destitute condition of Mrs. Tollumbige and her children, "thrown helpless on the mercy of the world." Lady Lydiard stood by the table, with her eyes on those lines, and saw for the plently the direction in which they pointed—the direction of her check book.

Turning toward the fireplace, she rang the bell. "I can do nothing in this matter," she thought to herself, "until I know whether the report about Mrs. Tollumbige and her family is to be depended on. Has Moody come back?" she asked, when the servant appeared at the door. "Moody, girls, tell her ladyship" [illegible] Lady Lydiard [illegible] widow [illegible] gave her a [illegible] question of [illegible] favorite [illegible] been [illegible] that morning. She opened [illegible] instance, which [illegible] long [illegible] [illegible] A [illegible] the curtain [illegible] the corridor [illegible]

A [illegible] was short and fat and [illegible] French [illegible] younger than her age [illegible] Her complexion was [illegible] with well [illegible] [illegible] Add to this [illegible] dressed in [illegible] Lady Lydiard [illegible] easily [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] degree [illegible] of her dress [illegible] Lord Lydiard [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

"KIES BROS."

We have Opened this Week.

Fall & Winter Woolens

In our Custom Department.

Prices Never So Low.
Stock Never So Large.
The Widest Range for Selection.
The Latest Styles to Choose from.

Inspect our stock. No trouble to show goods. Come right along.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

WE Have

ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

Your lines are where you put them—not under horse's feet. One Agent sold 106 in 6 days. One sold 86 in 3 days. Samples worth $1.50 FREE. Write for terms.

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.

WANTED.

Parties who want to keep posted on the Tecumseh, Ann Arbor and Toledo news, take the Herald. The state news from the Detroit Tribune or the Free Press, or the Center, according to your politics.

Do you want the HERALD and the Weekly Free Press? If so, send fifty cents to this office and in return you will receive both papers for four months.

Do you want the HERALD and the Weekly Tribune? If so, send fifty cents to this office and in return you will receive both papers for four months.

Do you want the HERALD and The Center? If so, send fifty cents to this office and in return you will receive both papers for four months.

These unprecedented offers will hold good only during the month of September. Now is the time to subscribe.

THE SECOND 50c EXCURSION.

On Sept. 18th, Agents of the Mich. & Ohio Railroad, at all stations will sell round trip tickets, good on regular trains of that day, to Toledo, Ohio, good returning Sept. 20th, at 50 cents for the round trip, giving all the greatest opportunity ever offered to visit Toledo and the summer resorts of Lake Erie. Passengers can take their choice of the following daily Steamboat excursions from Toledo. To Put-in-Bay, Lake Erie's most famous resort. The elegant steamer Chas. Gibson or White makes daily trips. Fare round trip 75cts. Through tickets to Put-in-Bay and return may be had of agent at $1.50. To Point Place, the cool and fashionable resort for Toledo people. The fast new steel steamer Ottawa makes four trips daily. Fare round trip 50 cents. To Presque Isle, the most beautiful Island in Michigan. The side wheel steamer Evening Star makes several trips each day. Fare round trip 50 cents. To Detroit, the City of the Straits." Steamer Lake makes daily trips. Fare for round trip 75 cents. Tickets to Lake Erie will carry passengers to the Sunday excursion train. Leave Tecumseh 9:00 A. M., arrive at Lake at noon. Leave Lake at 6:00 P. M., running through to Tecumseh.

Passengers will have ample time at the Toledo resorts, to see Toledo, the Glass City.

The steamer Westenhaven will make a round trip to Point Pelee, with the excursion train. Fare for round trip 50 cents. Tickets good only on excursion train.

The low rate is expected only on the excursion trains.

BIRTHDAY REUNION.

There met at the residence of Wm. Gould, son-in-law of the widow Douglass, in Ann Arbor, on Sept. 5th, to the number of sixty and upwards, children, grandchildren, and from other relatives, neighbors and friends, to celebrate the 84th anniversary of Mrs. Douglass' birthday. Many pleasant memories were revived, many congratulations spoken, and many good wishes expressed. The occasion was one long to be remembered by those who were present. The following was the programme:

Music, Mr. Wm. Gould.

Reading, Mrs. Wm. Gould.

PURE BLOOD

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

SCROFULA.

IMMUNITY from ANNOYANCE

"PEARL TOP" LAMP CHIMNEY

Made only of the finest and best tempered glass for withstanding heat.

MANUFACTURED BY
GEO. A. MACBETH & CO.
Pittsburgh Lamp Chimney Works.
FOR SALE BY DEALERS.

DR. CLARKE

NO FEE!! ESTABLISHED 1851 Merrill Block DETROIT, MICH.

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON is still treating with the greatest SKILL AND SUCCESS ALL PRIVATE, NERVOUS CHRONIC DISEASES YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

WARNER BRO'S

$10.00 REWARD

DR. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 100 Years.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

K. B

KING OF THE BLOOD

PATENTS!

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

NEW YORK CITY TECUMSEH

MICHIGAN.

DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

DRUNKENNESS!

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

10 Spruce St. New York
1029 Ledger Building Philadelphia

The Greatest Tonic and Appetizer Ever Produced

Compounded from Roots, Herbs and Barks.

No Poisons nor Opiates Used.

A Sure Cure for all Kidney and Liver Complaints, and a Positive Proof Against Bright's Disease.

A Remarkable Cure which is Awakening Great Interest in and about Jackson.

A Wonderful Occurrence.

HIBBARD'S RHEUMATIC SYRUP

AND Rheumatic Plasters.

A Specific for the Blood

AND

A Regulator of the Liver and Kidneys.

There is no Remedy known that equals this "NATURE'S SPECIFIC" for Removing Blotches and Brown Spots and all Skin Eruptions from the Face, thereby Beautifying the Complexion, Giving a Bright and Clear Expression to the Eye.

IT CURES RHEUMATISM.
IT CURES
Scrofula and Salt Rheum.

IT CURES
Malaria and Headache.
IT CURES
All Blood Diseases.

BILIOUSNESS

RED STAR CURE

25 Cts

ST. JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY

For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Stings of Insects, Etc. PRICE FIFTY CENTS. At Druggists. THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 106 Mail.	No. 116 Express.	No. 148 Accom.
Toledo	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 15 P.M.
Elmore	6 41 "	2 26 "	1 40 "
Woodville	6 52 "	2 37 "	2 15 "
Gibsons	7 02 "	2 46 "	2 50 "
Rockwell	7 17 "	3 00 "	3 40 "
Fremont	7 25 "	3 20 "	4 00 "
Clyde	8 08 "	4 05 "	5 05 "
Tiffin	8 25 "	4 20 "
Republic	8 40 "	4 35 "
Carrothers	8 47 "	4 42 "
Fostoria	9 00 "	4 55 "	6 15 "

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 105 Mail.	No. 115 Express.	No. 145 Accom.
Fostoria	6 50 A.M.	2 05 P.M.
Carrothers	7 03 "	2 18 "
Republic	7 10 "	2 25 "
Tiffin	7 25 "	2 40 "
Clyde	7 45 "	3 00 "	9 15 A.M.
Fremont	8 20 "	3 35 "	9 50 "
Rockwell	8 28 "	3 43 "	10 00 "
Gibsons	8 37 "	3 52 "	10 10 "
Woodville	8 47 "	4 02 "	10 25 "
Elmore	8 58 "	4 13 "	10 40 "
Toledo	9 15 "	4 30 "	11 15 "

Connections at Toledo with Michigan Central for Detroit and points East; with Wabash for points West; with Lake Shore for points East and West; with Ann Arbor for points North and Northwest.

Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars on Express Trains between Toledo and Detroit.

Time Standard of 90th Meridian.

STATION NOTES.

Tickets for sale at Union Depot Ticket Office, Toledo, Ohio, and at Depot, Fremont, Ohio.

N. S. MATTHEWS, Ticket Agent.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Trains Leave Toledo.

STATIONS.

Detroit Express Leaves Toledo at 7 00 A.M. Arrives at Detroit 11 00 A.M.

Detroit Express Leaves Toledo at 3 00 P.M. Arrives at Detroit 7 00 P.M.

Detroit Express Leaves Toledo at 11 00 P.M. Arrives at Detroit 3 00 A.M.

Toledo Express Leaves Toledo at 4 00 P.M. Arrives at Toledo 10 00 A.M.

Toledo Express Leaves Toledo at 7 00 P.M. Arrives at Toledo 10 00 A.M.

Toledo Express Leaves Toledo at 11 00 P.M. Arrives at Toledo 4 00 P.M.

Toledo Express Leaves Toledo at 11 00 P.M. Arrives at Toledo 7 00 P.M.

Toledo Express Leaves Toledo at 11 00 P.M. Arrives at Toledo 11

Grand Central.

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

BETTER THAN BEST.

Thos. Bradford Co.

PORTABLE MILLS.

C. L. Gill, Jr. Mgr.
27 Gibson Bldg.
P. O. Box 56.
CINCINNATI, O.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

THE STAR

A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration.

Published in the City of New York.

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,

Editor and Proprietor.

Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.

A clean, pure, bright and interesting

FAMILY PAPER.

It contains the latest news down to the hour of going to press.

Agricultural,
Market,
Fashion,
Household,
Political,
Financial and Commercial,
Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

Departments, all under the direction of trained journalists of the highest ability. Its sixteen pages will be found crowded with good things from beginning to end.

Original stories by distinguished American and foreign writers of fiction.

THE DAILY STAR,

The Daily Star contains all the news of the day in an attractive form. Its special correspondence by cable from London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Dublin is a commendable feature.

At Washington, Albany, and other news centers, the most competent correspondence specially retained by the The Star furnishes the latest news by telegraph.

Its Dramatic features are unsurpassed.

The Financial and Market Reviews are unusually full and complete.

Special terms and extraordinary inducements to agents and canvassers.

Send for circulars.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR to Subscribers, FREE of postage in the United States and Canada, except for the town of New York City.

Per year	$1.25
Club of Ten	10.00
Clubs of Fifteen and one extra to organizer	15.00

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR to Subscribers:

Every day (including Sunday)	$7.00
Daily without Sunday, per year	6.00
Every day, six months	3.50
Daily without Sunday, six months	3.00

Address, THE STAR,
26 and 28 North William St., New York.

WHITMAN'S NEW PATENT REBOUND PLUNGER PERPETUAL

GUARANTEED SUPERIOR TO ANY LEVER PRESS NOW MADE.

Best Lever Premium at N. Y. State Fair in 1885, 1886 and 1887, including the Gold Medal and two Silver Medals, for Fairbanks' Scales, also World's Fair at New Orleans, and Louisiana State Fair. The Plunger is powerful and durable, is made perpendicularly by the only Steel Plunger Machines. Lever is strong and protected, three times as strong as any other press. Sold direct to Agents. Also Horse Powers, Feed Mills, Shellers, Wood Saws, etc.

WHITMAN AGRIC'L CO., St. Louis, Mo.

COLUMBIA BICYCLES TRICYCLES

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.
TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

140 Woodward Avenue.

LAND O' CAMPUS MARTIUS

Opposite CITY HALL, DETROIT, MICH.

50 Cents

WILL DO IT.

DO WHAT

PAY FOR THE TWO.

Best Newspapers published in the State of Michigan.

FOR 4 Months.

On receipt of the above amount we will send

THE HERALD

AND

THE WEEKLY

DETROIT FREE PRESS

Two PAPERS

FOR THE PRICE OF ONE

TO ADVERTISE JUDICIOUSLY

CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

SEXUAL Weakness & Lost Manhood, quick and permanently cured. Send for book mailed FREE to all adults. Address Hewlin Medical Co., Buffalo, N.Y., U.S.A.

MARRIED.

LETTER LIST

BETTER THAN BEST.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS.

A Queer Set of People.

Largest Castings in the World.

Dudes Among the Crow.

Fate of the Great Eastern.

Eucalyptus in Steam Boilers.

Suggestion to Davis Nature.

Probably Getting Better.

Is Often Dangerous Even Then.

Harness of Spanish Harness Leather.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO. 17. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1863

COME and SEE

The Largest and Best Assortment of

CLOAKS

AND DRESS GOODS!

We have ever shown. Do not fail to see our winter UNDERWEAR and SKIRTS.

Ask to see our Gent's Night Shirt at 75c.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

Grand CLOAK OPENING

Next Saturday.

Special Inducements to Early Buyers!

Every Cloak a Leader.

LATEST STYLES AND LOWEST PRICES.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

O. B. DeWOLF, President — H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. — S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Lath, Blinds,
Shingles, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!
STRAW HATS!
Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!
ALPACA COATS!
Seer Sucker coats and Vests!

SUMMER GOODS!

Of all discriptions at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

FAMILY REUNION.

Thursday Night 9th. was a fine day as the last shine in all its beauty yet places were found where the cool wind fanned the sweltering brow appreciated by those who came together for looking that family reunion. A table with [illegible] was bountifully spread, and fully surrounded, while all socially and pleasantly partook of the rich repast, under the spreading branches of the great elms on the green sward within a portion of the Prairie as found upon that noted farm of Elder George Price, situated in the Township of Ridgeway, Lenawee Co., Mich., and on the road known as the Plank Road, running from Tecumseh, east, to Monroe City, eight and a half miles from the former and eighteen from the latter. Elder Price, a Welchman, came from Wales to Michigan 33 years ago with his first wife, then living and a sister of Mr. Jones, who resides in Tecumseh, who, with his wife, a son and daughter, each married, with their companions, also, a son and daughter with each, giving to Mr. Jones two grandchildren in this gathering. While Elder Price lost his first wife soon after coming to America, yet, under the gloom that thus so heavily overshadows a home, out of which a wife and a mother was taken by death, leaving a father with five motherless girls so young, when a mother's watchful care is most needed. Yet in the present wife of Elder Price, there was certainly found a mother to the motherless children and a companion unto a father left a widower. In this second marriage union there is an only son, who for some years has tilled the farm with success so that this son, added by the father through industry, is becoming a successful agriculturist and stock grader, as much so as any in the town of Ridgeway. On their farm of 160 acres that was purchased by Elder Price 30 years ago, when the query of many was, "why did Mr. Price buy there where he did, land that in the spring and fall was mostly under water?" As observed by Mr. Jones while speaking of thirty years ago, said he remembered well that one Henderson, Price and himself came down from Tecumseh to see this farm. He wouldn't tell how they got down, nor what the roads were like, but he remembered there was mud. He also knew that as they walked out over the place Mr. Price picked up a stick and ran it down into the ground all of three feet, and pulling it up examining the soil remarked, "this is the land for me to grow crops when your land upon the openings will not grow beats, meaning in the old country, a poor worthless grass that grew there." It is indeed a wonderful change upon such soil, to find that after years of draining and good management in farming that that land once looked upon as worthless, produces 30 and 40 bushels of wheat per acre. And not only wheat, but corn oats and grass in as great proportions are grown on this prairie land to-day. But thirty years ago and now leaves a marked change throug all those years of toil in subduing the soil, as seen in the tremulous hand and bent form of the worn out man of 67 years to-day and the powerful athletic Welshman of thirty years ago. But to-day, as for eight years past, Mr. and Mrs. Price are nicely situated in their somewhat retired but pleasant home in Tecumseh, as pleasant a town of 2700 inhabitants as there is in any State. Here they reside, and have with them two daughters unmarried, also two grand daughters, whose mother died some years since, who was a daughter of Mrs. Price by a former husband. After dinner by direction of Elder Price his daughters sang and prayer was offered by the pastor, when Mr. Price addressed the company as all there were of the family on this occasion, saying he thanked God that he was permitted to enjoy the day and opportunity to speak a few words. On serving I came within 80 of having a farm in another place and not buying this one where I now stand. Some people thought I was a fool when I bought this farm, but I believe God directed me in answer to prayer as I believe he always does. When I came to America and reached Brother Jones in Tecumseh, I had only eight cents left, but I did not even stop to rest an hour after my coming here. God had given me these 4 dollars, only they were in better shape than they are to-day, and I went to work. And children, we make no mistake in serving God, and I want you to know I found it, and I want you to serve God, and know that I could never find another place as well as I am happier. As my mother and his child ren never to come short of this service of God, and to live in it in every way, then Rev. A. Lee, formerly from pastor Judge Wright, when the son, Mr. Elder Price, of Mr. Jones, spoke words expressive of his appreciation of parents, and a desire to be dutiful kindly towards his sisters, whether that they might always remember the words of their father. Soon after while all partook of candies, peanuts and lemonade, in order to serve among the older, with the children swinging and amusements in running playing, etc., was happily enjoyed. The hour came when a company composed of parents, grand parents, children, grand children, five daughters, one son, fourteen grandchildren, with Thomas Price, an only brother of Elder George Price, who came three years ago to America, when Mr. Price visited the old home in Wales. Separation was now the order, and this union formally separates and each one returns to the home from whence they came, which, in this there is a lesson to remind all of the time that is coming when that last family reunion will be attended this side of the grave. Yet mourn not even though we knew we had attended the last on earth, if only that we are found in the service of God, then are we going home to die no more.

JAMES WRIGHT.

Balch, Mich., Sept. 7th, 1886.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Fine weather for fitting wheat ground.

Some farmers have commenced cutting corn.

Quite a number went to Adrian Sunday to attend the services of the conference.

Several from the village went to Tecumseh Sunday afternoon to hear Rev. E. B. Sutton speak on temperance and hear Mrs. A. Smith of Adrian, the vocalist, sing.

In addition to those on the sick list last week add C. P. Waring. Owen is very sick and Mrs. Martha Osgood and Lois Smith.

Among the names that appear in the Belmont Times, of Dakota, of Sept. 4th, in the list of candidates for Congress, is that of A. O. Crozier of Michigan, for the second district.

W. H. and Geo. D. Arner, and Postmaster Santus attended the Democratic county convention at Adrian, Thursday.

Several went to Britton Thursday night or last week to hear A. O. Crozier and John Osborn speak for prohibition.

A. O. Crozier was the guest of G. P. Waring last week Thursday night.

Master Earl Kilpatrick of Fowlerville is calling on friends here.

Fred Aten of Tecumseh spent Sunday with his brother Frank.

Mrs. J. F. Temple and Mrs. Chas. Foats left Thursday for a few weeks visit with relatives and friends in Lodi, New York state.

Nellie Freer closed her four months school in the Knittin district last Friday.

Mrs. Mary Arner and Ambrose Arner are under the Doctor's care with the hay fever and are quite bad.

Sept. 7th. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Potter, a 11 pound boy.

It is rumored that Orange buds are making an appearance on west street and that ere long the fall blossom may be seen.

Miss Ella Miller a graduate in music at Adrian College in the class of '85, under the instructions of Prof. Rupp, left for Harper, Kansas, Tuesday, where she will teach music if the prospects are encouraging. We, with her many friends, wish her every success.

The pulpit was filled Sunday by Rev. J. H. Pierce in the morning and in the evening by Rev. E. W. Francis, former pastor. His many friends were glad to hear him once more and shake his hand with a grip of friendship.

The attendance at the preach and evangelistic festival Friday evening was very small, but [illegible] to hold [illegible] expenses.

As several are engaged in preparing the petition for the [illegible] to be [illegible] to Sept. 25th, we have not [illegible] anything definite, and [illegible] fully prepared by next week.

The monster wolves [illegible] of the sheep [illegible] Sat. Eve. [illegible]

The Dodge [illegible] of Ridgeway will meet at Cottage Hall, Monday evening, Sept. 20th, at 2 o'clock p. m. [illegible] temperance work.

[illegible] condition of the Herald [illegible] from Rev. [illegible] of Decatur to an article sent to the Herald [illegible] Alfred Lawton [illegible] of Mr. [illegible] stating [illegible] was not intentional but [illegible] known, owing to the copying the wrong word was sent. Although I am not an educated old scholar of the Bible I plead in extenuation for its sacredness and would not misrepresent its meanings or quotations any sooner than my friend Mr. Dutton. As for the quotations, I can't say. They appear in print as they were sent to me and only hold myself responsible for the word "Revenge," which I can't account for only to the copying before sending. Respectfully,

J. B. ARNER.

Alfred Lawton, a young man about 20 years of age, only son of Mrs. A. in Pueblo of this place, left his home at Ridgeway, Michigan, about a week ago, accompanied by his wife and two children, to come to Camden, where he expected to make his home. At Tonawanda he was taken seriously ill with a bowel difficulty, and a physician summoned. Temporary relief was attained and he reached Camden last Thursday evening, hardly able to ride to the house. In spite of all that medical skill and careful nursing could do, he died at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The sorely afflicted widow, our sister and mother have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. The remains were to be buried in Michigan, but owing to their condition it was found necessary to bury here. Advertiser and Gazette, N. Y.

ONSTED ODDS.

Music every concert at the Exchange Saturday evenings.

Frank Jenkins of Tipton was in town Monday.

Mrs. [illegible] is visiting at the home of her parents in Ridgeway.

Chestal & Weingardner are putting up large quantities of apple butter.

Charles Worden lost his cleaning out brother of the place. He is quite [illegible] a hard case named Joe Jackson Snow.

Charles Bentley's show was well attended here last Friday evening. It is said to be the best show that has ever been here.

Frank Adams of Hudson and Miss Cora Sayer of this place were married last week Wednesday. We wish them their many friends in giving them success and happiness.

The ball game played here last Saturday between Norvell and Onsted resulted was won by the visiting nine. At the close of the game the players were invited by Parmele to an excellent supper which had [illegible] by a number of others.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. B. Hines, one of our prominent young business men, was married to Miss Carrie, daughter of Fred Ammon of Brooklyn. The bride is well and favorably known here and we join with the many friends of the young couple in wishing them a long and happy life.

MACON MUSIC

Rev. L. W. Fritz of Vassar was on friends Sunday and occupied the pulpit at the M. E. Church in the afternoon.

Lewis Cauburn, John Hoover, Blanch Mills and Ella Cauburn will attend school at Ypsilanti this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frost of Ohio visited at John Frost's last week.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. Thos. Bethe Wednesday, Sept. 22d.

Fred Kinney is repairing his house.

Boyd Sage entertained a number of friends at his home last Saturday.

Friday, Sept. 17th, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] friends of Germantown will celebrate their pleasant surprise to celebrate their sixth birthday. [illegible]

HOLLOWAY HAPPENINGS

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Closing Out Sale!

I Propose to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 2nd.

In order to give my business I shall after that be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers. And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

GARLAND STOVES AND RANGES

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

SCROFULA

Humors,

Erysipelas,

Canker, and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

GREAT MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of R. R. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Select Business Colleges

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

HAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., SOLE WHOLESALE AGENTS, DETROIT, MICH.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

MICHIGAN FARMERS

HENRY L. STAPLES, Richmond, Va.

CURE FOR THE DEAF

Are you CONSUMPTIVE.

PARKER'S TONIC

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

DAUCHY & CO.,

37 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N. Y.

Established 1867.

ALL FOR 24 CENTS.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

MORTGAGE SALE.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHITMAN'S NEW PATENT REBOUND PLUNGER PERPETUAL

GUARANTEED SUPERIOR to any LEVER PRESS NOW MADE.

WHITMAN AGRICL CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN. THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., SEPTEMBER 1886

MY LADY'S MONEY

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

PART THE FIRST.

THE DISAPPEARANCE.

CHAPTER IV.

[illegible]

"Are you Mr. Hardyman?"

[illegible]

CHAPTER V.

[illegible]

"Are you Mr. Hardyman?"

[illegible]

"Isabel! Isabel!" cried her ladyship, "what are you about?"

Isabel ran to the door of the boudoir and threw it open. "Go in, sir! Pray go in" she said.

"Without you?" Hardyman asked.

"I will follow you, sir. I have something to do for her ladyship first."

She still held the door open, and pointed entreatingly to the passage which led to the boudoir. "I shall be blamed, sir," she said, "if you don't go in."

This statement of the case left Hardyman no alternative. He presented himself to Lady Lydiard without another moment of delay.

Having closed the drawing room door on him, Isabel waited a little, absorbed in her own thoughts.

She was now perfectly well aware of the effect which she had produced on Hardyman. Her vanity, it is not to be denied, was flattered by his admiration—he was so grand and so tall, and he had such fine large eyes. The girl looked prettier than ever as she stood with her head down and her color heightened, toying to herself. A clock on the mantelpiece striking the half hour roused her. She cast one look at the glass as she passed it, and went to the table at which Lady Lydiard had been writing.

Meeting Mr. Moosly in attendance to be ready to do battle upon Tommy, had not forgotten the interests of his mistress. He reminded her ladyship that she had left her letter with a blank note inclosed in it unsealed. "Already!" in the dog, Lady Lydiard answered. "Isabel is doing nothing. Let Isabel see it." "Shall Mr. Hardyman in here?" she continued, turning to Isabel, "and then seal it at the table." "And when you have sealed it," put in Mr. Moosly, "put it back on the table. I will take charge of it when Mr. Hardyman has done with me."

Such were the special instructions which now detained Isabel in the drawing room. She folded and closed and sealed the open envelope, without feeling curiosity enough even to look at the address. Mr. Hardyman was the uppermost subject in her thoughts. Leaving the sealed letter on the table she returned to the fireplace and stood for a moment, charming face attractively in the looking glass. The time passed, and Isabel's reflections were still the subject of Isabel's contemplation. "He must see many beautiful ladies," she thought, veering backward and forward between pride and humility. "I wonder what he says to me!"

The clock struck the hour. Almost at the same moment the boudoir door opened and Mr. Moosly, relieved at last from attendance, entered the drawing room.

"Well," said Isabel eagerly, "what does Mr. Hardyman say? Does he think he can win Tommy?"

Moosly answered a little coldly and stiffly. His dark, deeply set eyes rested on Isabel with an uneasy look.

"Mr. Hardyman seems to understand dogs," he said. "He drilled the dog's eyelid and looked at his eyes, and then he told us the bath was useless."

"Go on," said Isabel, impatiently. "He did something, I suppose, besides telling you that the bath was useless."

He took a knife out of his pocket, with a [illegible] it."

Isabel clasped her hands with a faint cry of horror. "Oh, Mr. Moosly, did he hurt Tommy?"

"Hurt dog?" Moosly repeated indignant at the interest which she felt in the animal and the indifference which she exhibited towards the man who had prescribed by himself. "Hurt dog, indeed! Mr. Hardyman kill the brute."

"Sir!" Isabel interrupted, with flashing eyes. "I know some people, Mr. Moosly, who really deserve to be called by that horrid word. If you can't say Tommy when you speak of him in my presence, be so good as to say 'the dog.'"

Moosly nodded with the words possible grace. "Oh, very well." Mr. Hardyman killed the dog, and brought him to his senses directly. I am charged to tell you—" He stopped as if the message which he was in duty bound to deliver was in the last degree distasteful to him.

"Well, what more? You charged to tell me?"

"I was to say that Mr. Hardyman will give you instructions how to treat the dog in the future."

Isabel dismissed to the door angry [illegible]

[illegible]

Having [illegible] proof in affirmative [illegible] Isabel [illegible] the fear that she would really have him [illegible] roughly by the arm.

"You are always trying to get away from me," he said. "I wish I knew how to make you like me, Isabel."

"I don't allow you to call me Isabel," she retorted, struggling to free herself from his hold. "Let go of my arm. You hurt me."

Moosly dropped her arm with a bitter sigh. "I don't know how to deal with you," he said, simply. "Have some pity on me."

If the steward had known anything of women at Isabel's age, he would never have appealed to her mercy in those plain terms and at that inopportune moment. "Pity you?" she repeated contemptuously. "Is that all you have to say to me after hurting my arm? What a bear you are!" She shrugged her shoulders and put her hands coquettishly into the pockets of her apron. That was how she pipes him! His face turned paler and paler as he writhed under it.

"For God's sake don't turn everything I say to you into ridicule," he cried. "You know I love you with all my heart and soul. Again and again I have asked you to be my wife and you laugh at me as if it was a joke. I have not deserved to be treated in that cruel way. It maddens me—I can't endure it!"

"Do not touch me—I warn you!"

Isabel looked down at the floor and frowned (they were in the last room of the range which the girl's fancy had chosen for her ladyship's use). She would hardly have been [illegible] Moosly if he had spoken in [illegible]. She was partly startled, partly puzzled by the strange emotion which she [illegible] "Mr. Moosly," she said, "why can't you talk of something else? What can it be friends? Excuse me for mentioning it," she went on, looking up at him with a saucy smile, "you are old enough to be my father."

Moosly heard such a [illegible] it, he answered, huskily. "For there is something in my [illegible] I am [illegible] good [illegible] before now I would devote my whole life to make you happy. There isn't a wish you could form which I wouldn't try to grant to-day. You mustn't look at me by years. My youth has not been wasted in a dissipated life. I am [illegible] a younger man. Suppose he heard [illegible] unworthy of you when [illegible] years. I have lived [illegible] very [illegible] Isabel, [illegible] Dear me, [illegible]

He [illegible] to appeal to her in these simple words. He had taken the right way at last to produce an impression on her. She really felt [illegible] All that was [illegible] and tender in her nature began to rise in her and take his part. Unhappily, he felt [illegible] at [illegible] and [illegible] give her [illegible] [illegible] interpreted, [illegible] "[illegible] that [illegible] for a moment to gather composure enough to speak to him. "Ah," he [illegible] bitterly turning away on his side "you [illegible] to my heart."

She instantly resented those unjust words. At that moment they wounded her to the quick.

"You know best," she said. "I have no doubt you are right. Remember, I am [illegible] however, though I have my [illegible] I have [illegible] on [illegible] you Mr. Moosly. I have [illegible] you and [illegible] I should [illegible] your friend. Understand that for the future, if you please. There are plenty of [illegible] who will be glad to marry you. I have no doubt. You will always have my best wishes for your welfare. (Sobs) [illegible] morning. Her ladyship will wonder what has become of me. Be so kind as to let me pass."

Forced by the passion that consumed him Moosly [illegible] kept his place between Isabel and the door. The [illegible] suppose either what [illegible] in his mind at this moment. The interview now turned its way outward [illegible] at last.

"[illegible] Mr. Moosly [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Remember you can buy Paints for one dollar cash of C. A. Slayton.

If you want any painting, graining or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Inquire of Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

You can buy a fine single or double Harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Slayton's.

Mark Russel sells the White and Standard Sewing Machines.

LETTER LIST

Tecumseh,

Remaining unclaimed in the Tecumseh at Tecumseh, Sept. 19, 1885.

[illegible]

A. STEVENS, P. M.

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

[illegible]

The Detroit Paper

[illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL

"KIES BROS."

We have Opened this Week

Our Stock of

Fall & Winter Woolens

In our Custom Department.

Prices Never So Low.
Stock Never So Large.
The Widest Range for Selection.
The Latest Styles to Choose from.

Inspect our stock. No trouble to show goods. Come right along.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

Merchant Tailoring

We have one of the Finest Stocks of Cloths IN THE COUNTY.

Our Cotton is as good as there is in the state. If you want an elegant fitting suit in correct style, try

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD.

We also make a specialty of custom made ready made

CLOTHING,

Almost equal to merchant tailoring. [illegible] Almost fitting garments in [illegible] ready to wear. If you want a better suit than you can find at your home trading place, we have it. Our stock is three times larger than any store in the county. [illegible] and the lowest prices in Southern Michigan.

PLAIN FIGURES. ONE PRICE.

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD,

ADRIAN, MICH.

WE Have ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

J. S. GILMAN,

The Oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James block and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

Infact everything pertaining to the Harness sold, cheap as cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.

Wolcott, Temple & Co.

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

[illegible] and energetic men to [illegible] adapted to this climate. Big pay and easily learned. To successful men we will give steady work and a good salary the year round. Full [illegible] required. Apply for terms and [illegible]
L. L. MAY & Co., Nurserymen, St. Paul, Minn.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The undersigned have sold their entire stock of [illegible] to Mr. Chas. A. Mack, who will continue the business at the old stand. We take pleasure in recommending him to the [illegible] patronage of the public.
THE M. YERKES MERC. CO.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A [illegible] farm, [illegible] Kalamazoo county, Mich. [illegible] MINNESS STORE.

[illegible]

By Frazer Bellair.

[illegible] Tecumseh one evening last week, [illegible] Mr. M. P. [illegible] on the "Crisp Pioneer" [illegible] read the following extract

In a speech in Detroit a while ago, Green, prohibition candidate for congress, said that Robert E. Frazier "used to stump for prohibition." This is a lie out of whole cloth.

Mr Brown flushed up a little, laid down the paper and remarked: "What can the Times expect to gain by this kind of misrepresentation? I presume one half the voters in Tecumseh have heard Bob Frazer talk prohibition. The fact is, he is the very man who converted me.

He addressed a temperance meeting here at the Opera House in Tecumseh, on Sunday evening, April 3rd, 1881. I was present at that meeting and his speech so impressed me that I went to the polls on the following day, Monday, 4th, and voted my first prohibition ticket. Mr. Frazer has fallen from grace since then, but I am still one in the faith."

Sam James was in town Sunday.

Will Suttin was in town last Friday.

Grand opening of Cloaks next Saturday, at Sutton, Fairchild & Co's.

C. H. Fairchild has gone to New York to buy a full stock of goods for his firm.

Save money, by buying your winter cloak now, of Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Next Saturday is Cloak day, at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

John Ed McCollum, the people's clothier of Clinton, has a card in to-days HERALD. Mr. McCollum has the reputation of keeping one of the best stocks of clothing in the county.

Rev. J. M. Getchell was called to Norvel, Tuesday afternoon, to attend the funeral of a Mrs. Burton, which was held in the Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney were relatives.

As the long fair train was pulling out from the Chicago st. crossing yesterday morning, an Adrian man who had got off of the train when it stopped, attempted to get aboard again, and in doing so his foot slipped and he was thrown under the train. He was pulled out just as the wheels touched him, without any injury.

We have received a copy of the proceedings of the 19th annual meeting of the Michigan Press Association held at Coldwater June 1st and 2d. It contains the speeches and papers in full and list of members, besides a brief description of the excursion to Niagara Falls. It makes a neat little pamphlet, and one the members will read with interest.

DAN SHEET'S MONITOR for October comes to us full to overflowing with good things.

No lady should be without this household guide, for while it gives the latest styles, it tells how to make them, and gives the readers posted right up with the times. It teaches how to select women and make it beautiful by instructing the hands, as well as the mind and heart. Every man who loves his home should see to it that his wife, mother, daughter or sister is supplied with this progressive magazine, which combines the complete sciences and besides the magazine itself, which is all that could be desired, a coupon is found in every issue, which, if filling the holder best of other coupons, entitles to that number free of any price. A subscriber may thus get paid back to fifty times the amount of subscription price. Send 15 cents for new prospectus and sample copy.

DIED.

MR. Wright Sallee was born in Mass., Nov. 15, 1810 and died at Owosso, Mich., Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1888, at 11 a. m. At the time of his death was 76 years of age. His death has been expected for some time, being of organic debility. Mr. Sallee has lived in Tecumseh, Clinton and Adrian for many years. His funeral occurred on Friday forenoon, Sept. 7, at the residence of L. Aiken, who married his daughter. The services were conducted by Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright, assisted by Elder Lamson of the Congregational church. Interment in Oak Grove.

"The Standard" is a complete [illegible] Sewing Machines, [illegible] agency of Mark Russell's.

Mark Russell sells every thing pertaining to music and sewing machines. Call on him.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

This has been a beautiful week for the state fair.

Mrs. Geo. Kies has been quite ill for the past week.

J. W. Wooden is having a new sidewalk in front of his residence.

C. V. Hicks of Oceola Mich., spent last Sunday with friends in Tecumseh.

Mr. Sheldon's house on the Jewell place has been painted and looks much better.

Jay Mitchell is painting a house for the Lockwood heirs on Kilbourn street.

Martin Lind of Clinton, passed through town last Saturday.

Street commissioner Jordan is at work this week repairing the big water tank.

The HERALD is prepared to print election slips on short notice and at reasonable rates.

The Banker Rothchild stock will be well represented at the County fair next week.

Miner & Son are making extensive repairs on a house for A. W. Slayton on Maiden Lane.

Mrs. J. W. Buckner & Mrs. Augusta Brooks of Clinton, visited at Wm. H. Mather's on Tuesday last.

Mrs. E. R. Smith of Clinton, and Mrs. Bush of Peabody, Kas., called on friends in Tecumseh Tuesday.

Palmer C. Temple, who has been to work during the summer at Bay City, is home again to stay.

O. C. Craft of Summit City, Grand Traverse Co., was in town Monday, and favored the HERALD with a call.

J. P. Slayton yesterday handed in a basket of fine grapes that were raised in his own garden. There were four varieties.

Henry Smith is always making improvements. He has just treated the exterior of the paper mill to a new coat of paint.

Dr. L. Barnes started Monday morning, Sept. 13, for Cincinnati to attend a course of lectures at the medical college, where he graduated in 1860.

We have received the premium list of the Brooklyn fair which will be held at Brooklyn Oct. 6, 7, & 8. Among the officers we notice several residents of Lenawee county.

Rev. Mr. Lucas of Greeley Col. filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church last Sunday morning, and Rev. R. S. Pardington, a former pastor, greeted his old parishioners in the evening.

Rev & Mrs. R. S. Pardington spent three days with their Tecumseh friends the fore part of the week. Mr. Pardington does not seem to have aged a particle since his residence among us, and he fully sustains his reputation of being one of the ablest pulpit orators in M. E. Church.

Thanks to Nat Erskine of Allegan co. for a basket of fine peaches grown on his fruit farm. Unfortunately however it was misdirected and before the consignee was found out, the contents had gone the way of all perishable fruit. Another basket will make it all right.

The nomination of W. J. Pawson of Franklin for treasurer on the fusion county ticket gives the best of satisfaction in Franklin and wherever Mr. Pawson is known. He is one of the most highly respected citizens of that town, and was one of the pioneer cream gatherers at the first inception of the movement. Both personally and politically the nomination is a wise one.

The Burlington Hawkeye, is now printed on a Cox Duplex Press. This press is made at Battle Creek under a new patent. The press in the Hawkeye office is the second one that has been manufactured. It is said to be fully equal to the Bullock & Scott perfecting presses and is sold at greatly reduced figures. Battle Creek has reason to be proud of this new industry.

We made a short business trip to Hillsdale Monday and while there drop in to see Sam Shepard the Burlington. While there we met a veteran, and three days [illegible] Pioneers. We did not get the name of the veteran, but he was a good specimen of a pioneer. He said he had lived in Hillsdale county over forty years, and was one of the first settlers of the county. He said he was a native of Massachusetts, and was 76 years old. He said he was in good health and could walk a mile without much fatigue. He said he was a Democrat from the time he was old enough to vote, and was a Democrat yet. We asked him if he was not a Mugwump, and he said he was not, he was a Democrat. We asked him if he was not a Cleveland Democrat, and he said he was not, he was a Democrat. We asked him if he was not a Democrat who was going to vote for Cleveland, and he said he was not, he was a Democrat who was going to vote for Cleveland. We asked him if he was not a Democrat who was going to vote for Cleveland and who was a Democrat, and he said he was not, he was a Democrat who was going to vote for Cleveland and who was a Democrat who was going to vote for Cleveland. We asked him if he was not a Democrat who was going to vote for Cleveland and who

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS

PHYSICIANS

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

HOTELS

M. L. RICE,

MICHIGAN.

DEPOT.

A. SLAYTON

GRAIN DRILLS

BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons

Grain, Flour, Feed and Field Seeds

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

not one particle of opium, or of its preparations.

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,

DRUNKENNESS!

W. W. MARSH,

Street Meat Market!

ADVERTISERS

learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

A SEA-SIDE EPISODE.

Parting the Hair in the Middle.

Everything Bagged Edge.

THE WONDER

Is the thing universally talked of.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all druggists. Price $1, or six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO. Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

IMMUNITY from ANNOYANCE

"PEARL TOP" LAMP CHIMNEY

Made only of the finest and best quality of Glass for withstanding heat.

Every good thing is Counterfeited, and consumers are CAUTIONED against IMITATIONS of these Chimneys, made of VERY POOR GLASS. See that the exact label is on each chimney as above. The Pearl Top is always clear and bright Glass.

Manufactured ONLY by

GEO. A. MACBETH & CO.

Pittsburgh Lead Glass Works.

FOR SALE BY DEALERS.

DR. A. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 40 Years.

DR. TRASK'S SON & CO. Proprs., Buffalo, New York.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

DR. F. D. CLARKE

NO FEE!! UNTIL BETTER | ESTABLISHED 1851. DETROIT, MICH | Merrill Block.

SKILL AND SUCCESS

ALL PRIVATE, NERVOUS, CHRONIC DISEASES

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

Remember Nervous debility

the terrible poisons of Syphilis and all bad blood and skin diseases, complete eradication without mercury. Remember that no other horrible disease, if neglected or improperly treated, curses the present and coming generations.

All unnatural discharges cured promptly without the danger to health. No experiments. Both sexes consult confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken.

suffering from any chronic disease. History and Symptoms of your case. Cases declined which others have failed to cure.

Send two stamps for celebrated works on Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases. They have exhaustive symptomatology, treatment of your own case. Consultation, personally or by letter, free. Consult the old Doctor. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private. You can be cured at home. Private medicine sent everywhere, secure from exposure. Hours, 9 to 5; Sundays, 10 to 12. Address,

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.

MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

WARNER BRO'S

ARE BY FAR THE MOST POPULAR CORSETS EVER INTRODUCED.

CORALINE

$10.00 REWARD

For Sale by all Leading Merchants.

WARNER BROS., CHICAGO.

K. B

KING OF THE BLOOD

The Most Thorough Purifier of the Blood Yet Discovered.

PATENTS!

Caveats, Trade Marks, and Copyrights

ARKE

AND SUCCESS

NERVOUS AND DISEASES

DLE-AGED MEN

POPULAR COR-ODUCED.

B

HE BLOOD

Purifier of the scovered. common Scrofula.

NTS!

BEE STAR SALVE

25 Cts.

ST. JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Sprains, Swellings, Stiff Joints, Lame Back, Muscular Pains, Contracted Cords, Stiffness, Soreness, Numbness, Tingling, Burning, Pain in the Side or Chest, Pain in the Bowels, Kidneys, Liver, Lungs, Heart, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Hysteria, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Pleurisy, Diphtheria, Croup, Cramps, Spasms, Sore Throat, Quinsy, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites

ALASKAN CHIEF CITY.

MORAL AND MATERIAL PROGRESS.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

McCOLLUM

Has just received a new lot for Fall and Winter trade, and is selling suits at from $5 to $20.

Boys' Suits in all styles $2, $3, $4 and $5.

OVERCOATS in every quality, size, price and color.

Heavy and warm pants.

A large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, fine flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. McCOLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.
TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.
12 WARREN ST. BRANCH
NEW YORK

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

140 Woodward Avenue.

LANDING CAMPUS MARTIUS Opposite CITY HALL.

DETROIT, MICH.

LOOK AT THIS!

We will send a

HEADY FOTOGRAPHER

To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.

Takes pictures of anything and everybody, at any time and anywhere. Agents wanted. Address Ready Fotographer, 51 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

—OF—

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

Anything in this line can be bought at the lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Clinton St., Tecumseh, Mich.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & BAILEY'S

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

NO LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

SEXUAL

Heaton Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

Yields as the horse may put them out of horse reach, give Agents 3 times in half the time of 1 by its sides. Samples worth $1 FREE. Write for terms.

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII—NO 18. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 23, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1864

COME and SEE

The Largest and Best Assortment of

CLOAKS

AND DRESS GOODS!

We have ever shown. Do not fail to see our winter UNDERWEAR and SKIRTS.

Ask to see our Gent's Night Shirt at 75c.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

Grand CLOAK OPENING

Next Saturday.

Special Inducements to Early Buyers!

Every Cloak a Leader.

LATEST STYLES AND LOWEST PRICES.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

O. B. DeWOLF, President. H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Summer Cassimeres!

Light Weight Cassimere Suits!

STRAW HATS!

Light colored Fur and Wool Hats!

ALPACA COATS!

Seer-Sucker coats and Vests!

SUMMER GOODS!

Of all discriptions at CLOSING PRICES.

STRONG & McNAIR.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Seeding and corn cutting is the most important occupation of the farmers at present.

A good many in the village got up and dressed Saturday night when the storm came, fearing there was a cyclone coming and they would not be there to see it.

D. W. Logee gave a very interesting talk at Cottage Hall, Monday evening. The Doctor is in earnest in the work.

Mrs. M. A. Barrett has several washing machines on hand, left by her father at his death, which she will sell. She will manufacture them and keep a supply on hand.

The bell for the new school house was placed in its final resting place Monday.

Agent Frank Allen and wife spent a few days at their old home last week. We join with the many friends of Agt. Allen in extending our best wishes for his success as agent at Tecumseh.

G. P. Waring went to Adrian Wednesday to attend the Fair and do Prohibition work.

Harry Smith, our tinner, spent Thursday at Adrian on business.

The kids of Tecumseh played the village kids a friendly game of ball Saturday, and got left. The score stood 10 to 23 in favor of the village kids.

James Reynolds and son, of Lasell, Monroe county, visited his daughter, Mrs. F. J. Temple, Thursday. He disposed of a load of very fine grapes for 2½ cents per pound.

Mrs. Gertie Rutherford and daughter Lulu, who have been visiting W. H. Arner and family for several weeks, left for their homes at Bolcow, Missouri, last week Wednesday.

Aiden Michan, who is a warden in the Kalamazoo insane asylum, is the guest of G. P. Waring and calling on friends.

G. P. Sparks and Mark Russell his successor in the music business at Tecumseh, were in the village Saturday on business.

Rev. Jessie Kilpatrick called on friends here last week on his way home from conference.

Lou Arner is visiting friends at Manchester this week.

Mrs. John Lewes of Dundee, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Cheever.

Mrs. Fred Exeby and daughter, recently from England, and a niece of the late Francisco Coats, is visiting Mrs. Francis Coats of the village.

John Temple attended the State fair at Jackson last week, and when he started for home he got on a Fort Wayne train, supposing he was aboard for Tecumseh. As Mrs. Temple is east on a visit it is the probable cause of his mind wandering.

T. H. & F. H. Temple went to Toledo Monday on business returning Tuesday.

Mrs. W. J. Clack and her mother, Mrs. Watling of Dundee, left on the 7.00 train Tuesday evening for Chicago to visit relatives.

W. H. Arner went to Hudson Wednesday to see his sister, Mrs. Bailey, whose health is very poorly.

The law suit between Wm. Beardsell plaintiff, and Christopher Pocklington defendant, was held at justice W. H. Arner's office, Thursday. City Attorney Helm of Adrian appeared for the plaintiff and Webb Frazier of Tecumseh for the defence. A judgment of $12.50 and costs in favor of the plaintiff was rendered by the court.

Joseph Pennington of Manon, spent Thursday of last week with his daughter, Mrs Dan Allen. His acquaintances here will be pleased to learn that he has recovered from the severe attack of inflammation of the lungs which he suffered with for three months.

Robbing the United States Treasury department at the Postoffice last Saturday, by four little boys aged respectfully from 6 to 20 years, is the latest sensation. As postmaster Santus went after a pitcher of water, one of the little boys slipped in and took 65cts. of change that was in a drawer behind the office. He divided the spoil with his companions and one of them gave his to Mr. Santus and told of the robbery. The boy that committed the theft spent his at S. P. Smith's grocery. A visit to the father of the boy made it satisfactory with the postmaster, however.

The ladies of the church social having gone to quite an expense in repairing and painting the parsonage, have prepared a very interesting programme which they will present to the public at Cottage Hall, Wednesday evening, Sept. 29th, for the purpose of raising means to meet the necessary expense. The following is the program.

Music—Anthem.
Declamation—Guy Davidson.
Reading—Mrs Frank Pocklington.
Song—Juveniles.
Recitation—Lucia Switzer.
Reading—F. J. Temple.
Duett—Misses Flora Squires and Lou Sutton.
Declamation—Peter Swick.
Reading—Mrs. Henry Williams.
Song—Juveniles.
Recitation—Lottie Arner.
Reading—T. H. Temple.
Solo—J. D. Arner.
Recitation—Rose Easlick.
Essay—Mrs. W. R. Wilson.
Recitation—"Grandma's Golden Wedding."
Trio—Mrs. Clara Houseman, Misses Ida Arner, Belle Barlow.
Dialogue—"Wind Fall"—time 30 minutes. Characters:
Cyrus Goodwin.....W. E. Barrett
Septimus Goodwin.....J. D. Arner
Arthur Mansfield.....
Frank Watson.....A. R. Arner
Mrs. Marcy.....Lou Smith
Clara Marcy.....Allie Arner
John—a waiter.....Will Allen
Ladies Quartette—Moonlight on the Lake.
Tableaux.

Admission for all 10cts. Doors open at 7:00; exercises begin at 7:30, sharp.

By order of Com.

ONSTED ODDS.

Onsted and Wemple are buying apples.

Charles Wooden went to Buffalo Saturday.

M. Reed and S. Morey represented Cambridge Republicans at Clayton last Saturday.

J. E. Gibbs and Bliss Lee were among those who went to Toledo Saturday.

Mrs. Lane has returned from her trip to the north part of the state.

Mrs. Wemple, who lives near Cleveland, Ohio, visited her son, M. P. Wemple, last week.

Last Thursday forenoon while Mrs. Luzerne Darling was alone in her house, two tramps, who evidently thought the house was unoccupied, attempted to break in and succeeded in smashing in a window; when Mrs. Darling coming down stairs frightened the fellows away. Such chaps should be caught and put behind the bars.

J. H. Osborn of Tecumseh, spoke at Grange Hall, Thursday the 16th inst., Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the audience was small. Mr. Osborn discussed the political issues of the day in a very candid manner. We regret that the lecture could not have been heard by every voter in the township.

A. P. Kimball is getting ready to build a house on the lots owned by Mrs. Stoddard. He has had a well dug getting ten feet of water in a nineteen foot well, and J. & F. Snow will commence the cellar wall soon.

John Reynolds makes trips to this place twice a week with his meat wagon. He often carries two kinds of meat now, and says that when the weather becomes cooler, he will carry one or two more, making his wagon a market on wheels.

In the Onsted correspondence of the Adrian Times of the 17th inst. appears the following: "There is a man in this vicinity whose dignity is of too much importance to allow the stars and stripes to fly in front of a public building when it is attached to a hickory tree on his side of the road, that stands at least eight feet in the highway, and on the 24 day of Sept. A D 1886, he deliberately tore it, own saying it was an insult to him. The flag in question was a battle flag, we are told, one that men fought and died under, down in Dixie." As the above lacks the important feature of telling the whole truth and is evidently intended to cast base insinuations against a much respected citizen of this village, we ask the privilege of stating the facts as they are. The man referred to is Mr. W. Leaf, against whose character we can say aught. He is a man as much respect for the dear as any man in America. The monument of the PURITAN but lately put up, is used as a saloon and it was the day of the opening of this saloon that the flag was suspended from a wire stretched from the building to the tree. Mr. Leaf, being a temperance man, did not relish the idea of being forced to assist in the celebration by furnishing a tree for such purposes.

He called on the man who put the wire up to be fastened to and requested that it be removed, saying that he would furnish a flag to raise it on such occasions. His request was not being complied with, Mr. Leaf with the permission of the owner of the building removed the flag.

Fred Lund is going to run a steamboat.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

THE DESTINY OF PROHIBITION.

AN EXTRACT FROM THE SPEECH OF HON. CHAS. S. WOLFE.

The Prohibition Party has a vital, comprehensive, all pervading, a transcendant issue—the total and universal Prohibition of the rum traffic. It has a righteous cause—the suppression of that dreadful curse, intemperance. It has a grand and glorious mission—the physical, mental, and moral improvement of the citizens and the development of patriotism, virtue, and statesmanship in the nation.

But Prohibition laws will not of themselves prohibit any more than license laws will of themselves prevent illegal or unlicensed traffic, or than anti-discrimination laws or constitutional provisions will of themselves prevent discrimination. We must [illegible] able pure, and fearless judges [illegible] them, when enacted, in [illegible] and in their letter. We [illegible] capable, vigilant, courageous, [illegible] ful officers to bring to trial and punish all violators of them.

This necessarily brings the subject into politics. The saloon is, and always has been, in politics as a very ugly and very potent factor. Prohibition must be there also, as an equally powerful, if not a more potential, force.

How, then, can Prohibitionists exert their political power most effectively, in securing the election of such men as they want? Can they best do it through the agency of the Republican and Democratic parties, or through a third party, organized upon the distinctive issue of Prohibition?

The trouble with the old party leaders and many of the members also, is that they cannot rid their minds of the delusion that somehow or other the party has a sort of a proprietorship over every one who ever belonged to it; that it is highly reprehensible for any such an one to dare to think of working out the political rights and interests of the citizens or to attempt to dissuade others so to do, through any other political channel. It is a great misfortune for the cause of Prohibition and every other good cause, as well as for the great cause of popular government, that so many good, intelligent, and patriotic members of both the great political parties without questioning seem to acknowledge the solidity of the claim. They seem to have a lingering notion that any who have left the party have only gone temporarily, impelled by some ebullition of passion or disappointment, or to secure some trifling or transitory gain. They cannot realize that Prohibitionists, disheartened and disgusted it may be by the persistent greed, arrogance, and corruption of party leaders, and the disposition of the party masses to sustain and even vindicate them therein, can have gone, not only never to return themselves, but also to use all the power of logic and persuasion with which they may be endowed to convince those who still remain that it is their duty to follow them. They would not, if they could detach a single man until the path of duty is clear to him. They would, however, beseechingly implore those who still remain not to allow partisan pride to blind their eyes to the light of truth, nor partisan bitterness to check the free and genial flow of patriotic impulse in their hearts.

With these conditions fixed we move forward in joyful confidence that the day is not distant—nearer than some will believe—when the forces of King Alcohol and the entire Prohibition army, no longer interrupted in confusion, shall meet in deadly conflict and victory be won.

Alcohol leaves its impress on body, mind, [illegible] and soul. It enters home, business, social, political, yea, and religious life. It not only spans our continent but it girdles the globe. It reaches from time to eternity. Its home is in the deepest and blackest abyss of hell. God illumined Heaven lies beyond his reach.

Strictly the issue which Prohibition makes with a power so universal and permeating must be a broad and a [illegible] one. This issue the Prohibitionists make as a citizen in the [illegible] of the citizens, and in harmony [illegible] every other instrumentality that [illegible] the suppression of intemperance.

The church of Christ dare not shun [illegible] duty. It dare not refuse to [illegible] the principle of its holy religion [illegible] responsible duties of citizenship. It dare not tarry. No tried [illegible] delay. The urgency is [illegible] Christ's waiting [illegible] all the way across the broad [illegible] of the republic.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

By Rev. Fred B. Hammond.

Lesson IV. September 26.

QUARTERLY REVIEW.

Lesson 1. Jesus and the Blind Man. John 1. 1-17. Golden Text, John 9, 25. Jesus met a man who had been blind from his birth, and restored his sight. The event caused a great commotion amongst the chief priests and rulers, and the man was called in to testify. He proclaimed Christ, in whom he afterwards fully believed.

Lesson 2. Jesus the good shepherd. John 10, 1-18. Golden Text, John 10, 11. A crowd had gathered round Jesus as He talked with the man whose sight had been restored. Jesus tells them the story of the shepherd, and makes it a beautiful illustration of Himself and His work. He also refers to the coming crucifixion, declaring that He lays His life down voluntarily for His sheep.

Lesson 3. The death of Lazarus. John 11, 1-16. Golden Text, 11, 11. Christ had returned to Bethabara to escape the fierce hostility of the Jews, and while there messengers inform Him that His friend Lazarus is sick. He sends them back, but waits two days before He announces to His disciples His intention to go to Bethany.

Lesson 4. The resurrection of Lazarus. John 11, 20-27, and 39-44. Golden Text, John 11, 25. Lazarus had been buried according to the custom of the country, and the family still mourning when Jesus returns to Bethany. In the presence of sorrowing sisters and their friends He raises Lazarus from the dead.

Lesson 5. Jesus honored. John 12, 1-16. Golden Text, John 12, 13. Christ is again in the Bethany home and while at supper Mary anoints Him with costly ointment. The next day He goes to Jerusalem, and at Bethphage He takes His first and last ride, on a young ass. As He passes into Jerusalem the people wave palm branches and shout "Hosanna."

Lesson 6. Gentiles seeking Jesus. John 12, 20-36. Golden Text, John 12, 32. While teaching in the Temple some Greeks request Him to give them audience. They could not go into the court of the women where He was, and so He went to them, and taught them Divine truth. By His death He promises to draw all men unto Himself.

Lesson 7. Jesus teaching humility. John 13, 1-17. Golden Text, John 13, 17. The Master with His disciples was in an upper room at Jerusalem whither they had gone to celebrate the Passover supper. The disciples had sat down to the table without the washing of feet. Christ teaches them humility by performing this service for them.

Lesson 8. Warning to Judas and Peter. John 13, 21-28. Golden Text, 1 Cor., 10, 12. The little company was now at supper when Christ announced that one of their number should betray Him. He warns Judas, who then went out to do his work. Afterwards He warned Peter that He should fall. The two warnings were very solemn and impressive.

Lesson 9. Jesus comforting His disciples. John 14, 1-14. Golden Text, John 14, 1. In this lesson Jesus comforts His disciples and gives them the assurance of eternal rest in the mansions prepared for His servants above.

Lesson 10. Jesus the true vine. John 15, 1-16. Golden Text, John 15, 5. We have here an illustration of the relation of Christ to His people in the vine and its branches. As the branches are a part of the vine and draw life from it, so we are one with Christ and live in Him and He in us.

Lesson 11. The mission of the Spirit. John 16, 5-20. Golden Text, John 16, 13. The disciples have left the table and are standing round Jesus, when He tells them of His near departure from them and promises to send the Comforter who would give them needed help.

Lesson 12. Jesus interceding. John 17, 1-3, 11, 21. Golden Text, Heb. 7, 25. The scene in the upper room closes with an earnest and beautiful prayer by Christ for Himself, for His disciples, and for all His true followers in all ages. This prayer appropriately closes the lessons of the quarter.

The Terrible Drain

When scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome diseases.

A FRENCH author says Cupid wears a bandage over his eyes, sometimes, in order that he may not see the wrinkles of those who court him.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS.

FREDIE WOOD, [illegible] AT LAW, [illegible]

CANADY, [illegible] Law and Solicitor [illegible] Tecumseh, Mich.

PHYSICIANS.

R. [illegible] M.D. [illegible]

C. W. WOODWARD, M.D. [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

TECUMSEH FOUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS [illegible]

HOWLETT & [illegible]

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

[illegible]

DAVID MACHAM, [illegible]

JAMES V. CORRY [illegible] Chicago.

CHAS. A. WALDRON, [illegible]

HOTELS.

BURNETT HOUSE, [illegible]

CENTRAL HOTEL, ADRIAN, MICH. [illegible]

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN,

Dealer in High Class Thoroughbred Poultry, Eggs For hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular, Free.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

[illegible]

SOUTH BEND,
BURCH,
WIARD
GALE,
OLIVER.
PLOWS. Walking.

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS; Elwood, New Robbins, Albion, Buckeye.

Buckeye, Superior, Monitor, Relief, GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint

WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "Double Chloride of Gold" will cure the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks (at home) without suffering. Unlike other so-called "painless cures," it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient while rapidly reducing his morphine dose to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business and enjoys life as he has not done since beginning the Opium or Morphine Habit. Send for Book on the Opium Habit, FREE, by Dr. Leslie E. Keeley, now at work. "Opium: Use, Abuse and Cure," sent free on application. It is the most complete and reliable work ever published on the subject, and gives full instructions for self cure at home. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
DWIGHT, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS!
Cured in from three to nine days.

W. W. MARSH,

Proprietor of

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL.

N. W. AYER & SON
ADVERTISING AGENTS
TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA
Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.
Receive Advertisements for this Paper
ESTIMATES for NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING at Lowest Cash Rates FREE.
Send 10c. in stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL
TO ADVERTISE [illegible] JUDICIOUSLY
CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS
NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

SEXUAL [illegible]
Hewlin Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

AN AWAKING.

"Will you come down to our place next Monday, Charlie, for a couple of days' shooting?"

[illegible] detail [illegible] to settle details. The word meant the shooting and golfing [illegible] would [illegible] and [illegible] dinner.

Now of course West had a month [illegible] it was [illegible] to a month or [illegible] Hudson [illegible] you were in [illegible] of [illegible] On the [illegible] time between [illegible] called [illegible] ance and [illegible] stopped [illegible] planned [illegible]

[illegible] Charlie. "Let me introduce my friend West to you, Mrs. Grey, Mr. West, Miss, Mr. West."

[illegible] of her head, without [illegible] Charlie's eyes. [illegible] exchanged some pretty [illegible] with Miss Grey, and Charlie, though he [illegible] tried to make conversation with Miss Lil. She answered [illegible] monosyllables [illegible] hundred [illegible] never once raised her eyes to his face.

[illegible] contrived Leslie. "My mother would be so awfully pleased. I'll go home and get a note from her, if you [illegible] necessary."

Mrs. Grey appeared to waver, then Charlie distinctly saw Miss Lil pinch her friend in a meaning manner. Many thanks. I am so sorry, but I cannot possibly manage it to-night," Mrs. Grey answered. "We have so much to do still for the bazaar."

"Lil you young prig!" cried Leslie, "what do you mean by deserting us in this way. It is a very poor compliment to West here."

"We are so busy selling shoes the bazaar," replied the young lady.

"Well, I suppose you are coming home some time to-night. Shall I wait down and take you?"

"Oh!" said Mrs. Grey, quite startled. West saw the little pretty pink, and Miss Lil replied hastily:

"No, please don't. Mr. Grey will see me home. I do not know when I shall be ready."

The pony was getting important.

"We must go," said Mrs. Grey, "Jenny is troublesome." As I away they flew.

[illegible] of our [illegible] Charlie. "By Jove, what a [illegible] and what a nice [illegible] ticket was!"

"She's the [illegible] sort," said Leslie. "It would be a [illegible] if there were more like her. She [illegible] of slippers [illegible] and [illegible]

"What's the [illegible] lady with horse [illegible] to speak indifferently."

"[illegible] Fane, my [illegible] friend [illegible]"

"[illegible] from his friends."

"[illegible]" said, with a sigh of relief.

"I [illegible] capricious monkey" exclaimed Leslie. "She [illegible] it into her head to [illegible] the morning to fly off [illegible] breakfast down to Mrs. Grey. It was [illegible] from the [illegible] it is not [illegible] for another month. Just [illegible] I wanted you to meet her. She is [illegible] company and stays anywhere. Just [illegible] wanted [illegible] she wasn't a [illegible] and was quite [illegible] and [illegible] this morning [illegible] with our stories [illegible] eyes."

A stare [illegible] Charlie's upper lip. "She is [illegible] at [illegible] every [illegible] kind of her."

"Naughty little [illegible]" retorted Leslie.

In his heart Charlie was secretly provoked. Leslie's sisters were nice, cheery, fresh-looking girls, but they could not hold a candle to Lilian. He was dying to see her again. He had never felt such an interest in her before. She did not make her appearance that evening, and the following morning at breakfast she was still absent. He was piqued. It was simply ridiculous for her to go on shunning him on account of a stupid little contretemps that might have happened to any one.

"Unfortunate," he remarked with a touch of pique, as they were standing in the hall, waiting to start on their shooting expedition. "I'm afraid it is I who am driving Miss Fane out of the house."

"Humbug," returned Leslie. "Why started your [illegible] sudden [illegible] struck him, he turned on his heel and went into the morning room."

"Nothing," he said, "ask Mrs. Grey to dine to-night, and make them come back, whether or no."

As Mr. West was a gentleman of independent fortune, and she had three daughters, Mrs. Leslie was not slow to detect [illegible] of the pretty [illegible] had [illegible] herself.

"Of course I will ask them, my dear," she replied. "But they are so busy with their bazaar that I am not at all sure I shall [illegible] them to come."

"[illegible]," observed Leslie, [illegible] "West will fancy you are keeping Lilian out of the way on purpose. I am pretty sure he likes her."

"[illegible] exclaimed his mother indignantly, "now am you very [illegible]?"

"[illegible] things

ARKE

RED 1851.) Masonic Block.

gular, Old-Established
CIAN & SURGEON
treating with the greatest
AND SUCCESS
NERVOUS AND DISEASES
IDDLE-AGED MEN
ir own acts of Imprudence of life have brought effects follow me.
vous diseases and loss of nerve by new methods
Remedies has failed?

M, DISEASE
ICAN of your case—I celebrated workson diseases. You ptomatology, which of the old Doctor,
ices and parlors, pri-
DR CLARKE. A
sent free and ers to me. Many om exposure. Hours
Address,
KE, M. D.
OCK, DETROIT, Mich.

ER
WO'S

SETS

T POPULAR
RODUCED.
erior to whole one.
ostly to the veneer.
goods except those her Dealers.

EWARD
AINE THAT BREAKS
WITH GAS HEAT.
NO ONE DURABLE CORD PRINTED ON YELLOW
ding Merchants
141 & 143 Walnut
CHICAGO.

THE POPULAR Re-PRODUCED.

HE BL

h Purifier of Discovered. and Scrofula.

NTS!
s and Copyrights

RED STAR

TRADE MARK.

CATARRH CURE

Nasal Injector, Internal Remedy, Ointment and Powder.

PRICE 25 Cts.

PERFECT CURE GUARANTEED

CONGLESSON

ANTI-REMEDY

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc., etc.

PRICE FIFTY CENTS.

AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS

SELLER'S CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 175 Mail.	No. 117 Express	No. 149 Acc'dn
Jackson	5 35 A.M.	10 P.M.	1 15 P.M.
Napoleon	6 11 "	2 25 "	2 00 "
Nat'l Junction	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 15 "
Milan Junction	7 02 "	3 00 "	2 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	3 8 "
Tecumseh	7 29 "	3 28 "	3 22 "
Adrian	8 08 "	4 12 "	3 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	6 40 "
Toledo	9 25 "	5 05 "

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 176 Mail.	No. 118 Express.	No. 148 Acc'dn.
Toledo	5 30 A.M.	7 15 P.M.
Detroit	10 30 "	7 55 "
Adrian	11 25 "	8 57 "	5 P.M.
Tecumseh	12 01 P.M.	9 37 "	7 10 "
Clinton	12 10 "	9 41 "	8 15 A.M.
Milan Junction	12 25 "	9 51 "	6 40 "
Nat'l Junction	12 46 "	10 14 "	7 "
Napoleon	12 59 "	10 27 "	9 25 "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 55 "	12 10 P.M.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station for the best routes to all principal points in Central States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, Ticket Agent.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

STATIONS.
Express, limited	1 35 A.M.
Accommodation	5 00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 20 "
Express, Limited	10 34 P.M.
Night	3 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	1 35 A.M.
Kansas City Express, Limited	2 [illegible] "
Accommodation	8 18 "
Express, Limited	9 05 "

Express trains stop only for R. R. crossings at Britton.

Through passengers desiring to travel by the quickest possible route should take excellent connections at Detroit and Toledo via Great Western railway through Sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York, 2 solid through trains to Chicago, direct connections for all points west. Through sleepers and sleeping cars, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Improved Chair, Parlor, Sleeping, and Dining cars on all through trains.

H. H. ARMSTRONG, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.

WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.

O. W. RUGGLES, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

TRAINS CONNECTIONS.

Co
L
T

LOOK AT THIS!

We will send a

READY FOTOGRAPHER

To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.

Takes pictures of anything and anybody, at any distance any place. Agents wanted. Address

FOTOGRAPHER, 20 State St., Chicago, Ill.

ADVERTISING

Contracts made for THIS PAPER, which is kept on file with

LORD & THOMAS,

Advertising Agents, Chicago, Ill.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggist of Rome, Ga., says: We recommend Dr King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for have sold many years, never handled articles that sell so well, or give such universal satisfaction. We believe each bottle sold will cure. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and we stand ready always to refund the money where any of these three remedies fail to do good. We have sold hundreds of other kinds of medicine during the year, but none have given such universal satisfaction as these. We can only say we are glad we have them to sell, as they are a blessing to the people. Trial bottles of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters at W. H. Green's drug store.

Sore and broken limbs, one Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

SALE'S HONEY [illegible]
SALE'S SILVER SOAP [illegible]
GERMAN COUGH REMOVER [illegible]
HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE [illegible]
PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS [illegible]
BEAN'S RHEUMATIC PILLS [illegible]

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are now given to beware that these diseases are contagious or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever, are cured at from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of 1000 thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 301 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

Annihilation of the Mexican Lancers—The Fire from the Lines of the "X."

On the morning of the 23rd of February, [illegible] and every memory of 23d, Col. Davis in eight companies of his regiment, in the field, two of them being left each to guard the camp at Saltillo. Already the battle ground lie [illegible] the men in a [illegible] to the left from a [illegible] they were met by Old Rough and Ready [illegible] Lancers, where and, [illegible] Mexicans [illegible] Davis [illegible] the head of his regiment, calm, [illegible] in eastern [illegible] Along to the [illegible] has each shouted of the Indians. Earlier boys, we'll drive them back, and we'll [illegible] Some of them fell at first volleys up the rear.

[illegible] over the field ground, and across [illegible] the [illegible] devils were seen [illegible] fast enough to explain the panic just passed. This sudden return of the men, reinforced as it may have seemed to the enemy, staggered them for a moment, the rifles were emptied with fatal effect, and they in turn were driven back, scattered and fled. While the Mississippi and fragments of Indiana regiments were at rest in line, Mexican riders would rise out of a ravine in their front, one by one to the extent of ten or a dozen, and run for home base. The first one or two who emerged from their hiding place may have reached base before it was a surprise, and they and hunted it for by when stopped to be hit without penalty, but the majority of the giant [illegible] who tried the run after that never reached there; they were shot as they rose and began the run, which led one of the men to remark: "This reminds me of duck shooting at home."

When the Mississippians were forming the line, afterward called "Jeff Davis' V," a captain "waxing wrath" at his men for not coming into line quicker—Davis' caution lines were heard from behind them, saying, "Captains of companies [illegible] the recommends." There was not much time for talk. The lancers were advancing faster they came, and in a few large enough to annihilate without arms every man in the line, no bayonets on their rifles, salvation depended on the first fire at the right moment. There was a breathless suspense and anxiety as they swooped grandly down, then trotted, then walked in column inside the top or opening of the "V" crack went Indiana's muskets, from the short line of the "V" crack followed Mississippi's rifles without interval from the long line of a dense smoke obstructed view, but when it cleared away lancers were seen on the ground riderless, horses riderless, horses and riders in retreat, dividing into two parties, one going back to the mountain where they came, the other, encountered by Col May's dragoons near a ranche where our wounded were being cared for, fled faster, first toward Saltillo, then to the left, in air opposite direction to that taken by the other party, then, up the mountain on that side, higher and higher, until the horses looked little larger than goats, and the riders smaller than monkeys, then over the mountain top and out of sight, and this was their leave of Gen. Santa Anna, for it showed them to be deserting.—"Old Fogy No. 2" in Courier-Journal.

The Biggest Poker Game Yet.

I heard a story the other day about the national game of poker which rather discounts the tough poker yarns which from time to time appear in the papers of the west. A number of gentlemen were sitting on the chairs in front of the Eddy house, when the subject of poker came up. Stories of [illegible] and [illegible] were [illegible] and [illegible] "Well, boys, your stories of big games are good enough for you in a game [illegible] [illegible] of such a game, and a game [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., SEPT 25 1886

PICTURESQUE MACKINAC.

OTSEGO LAKE, MICH.

[illegible] the 6 o'clock p. m. northern express train, I arrived in Mackinac City at [illegible] and spent many a pleasant hour on the beautiful beach of the Straits. It is a very pleasant place to while away the leisure hours and inhale the pure breezes that are wafted from the limpid waters. It is very invigorating indeed. While in Mackinaw [illegible] of the old fort. It has a [illegible] way of the city. But there is nothing left to indicate that a fort was ever located there. It is merely a sand waste, having been many times dug over by seekers after hidden treasures, but very few have been rewarded for their labor. Some fine specimens have been found. While wandering [illegible] the sand, said I, "what was that dig for?" My friend said that an old woman dreamed that a cannon was buried there. Willow [illegible] over it. Some men were [illegible] enough to dig for the cannon, but they [illegible] found none of cannon, but left an awful big deep hole. Mackinaw City is quite a business place. It [illegible] terminus of the M. C. & [illegible] R. R. [illegible] R. I. Railroad [illegible] shops are [illegible] The [illegible] shape which they intend to quadrify.

[illegible] Mr. John Wright [illegible] Mr. R. Wright of Pontiac [illegible] who had to be kept [illegible] for some time [illegible]

[illegible] Mackinaw City [illegible] are engaged in the west and north-west [illegible] the place.

[illegible] St. Ignace, which is the outlet of the upper Peninsula of Michigan. Large quantities of iron ore and pig iron is shipped from here. The fine ore is loaded into cars made for the purpose, mile-hopper shaped, [illegible] on a scow with rails in it. The R. R. transfers from St. Ignace to Mackinac City, 10 car loads at a time, towed by the steamers Gordon and Algoman, which are railroad ferry boats. St. Ignace is not a very wide town. It has but one business street and that is about three miles long. They seem to be doing a great deal of business. There is a smelting furnace at one end of the town and a saw mill, shingle, lath and veneering mills at the other end. It has three or four churches and lots of saloons. The Dousman House, kept by Mr. Cooper, is the best in town. It has a good variety of good eatables and each meal [illegible] It stands on a [illegible] overlooking the straits. The landlord is a gentleman in every respect. I stopped at St. Ignace one Sunday and attended Baptist church. Rev. H. H. Hewitt, pastor.

On my return to Mackinaw City I took a ride down the G. R. & I. R. R. seven miles, to Carp Lake, a large inland lake, 2x4 miles, full of fine fish. D. D. Rodden keeps a hotel and rents boats, fishing tackle. Any one wishing to enjoy themselves in a secluded spot and catch lots of fish, will do well to go to Carp Lake. A mile and a half down the lake is Tiffey's Rest, a beautiful spot on the bank of the lake, owned by a Detroit gentleman, with 600 acres of land timbered with beach and curl maple. He goes up there during the hot season. Just across the lake is Walter's Mill. He is an Ohio man and owns 160 acres of land. They built a neat little church at the end of the lake and have occasional preaching and maintain a Sunday school.

After being absent two weeks I returned home very much refreshed and ready for business.

O. H. KELLOGG.

Itch, Prairie Mange, and Scratches of every kind cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Use no other. This never fails. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggists, Tecumseh.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18, 1886.

The winter population of Washington is beginning to return, and the hotels as well as the business and fashionable quarters of the city are resuming their wonted appearance. [illegible]

Congress and the corridors of the Capitol are again crowded with legislators, lobbyists and sight seers, but meanwhile matters of national interest are being transacted here, and the importance of the capital as the great and permanent news centre of the United States is recognized by the many papers who now keep correspondents here the year round. The Capital has grown with the growth of the Nation. The government of the United States, the national life and manners as mirrored in Washington have become a subject of interesting study, not only to the philosopher, the historian and the moralist but to millions of intelligent citizens throughout the country.

[illegible] Washington is being selected as the natural rendezvous of all Conventions and Assemblies that are at all national in their character. Arrangements were completed the other day for the assembling of the soldiers to be present next May at the grand encampment for which [illegible] are already arriving in the city and [illegible] Many companies in the country will be [illegible] During the winter several national societies will [illegible] here.

Washington is the most attractive [illegible] Handsome buildings are [illegible] by the American city for hundreds [illegible]

[illegible] Secretary. This being [illegible] there will of course be [illegible] made in the State Department [illegible] and its results. The [illegible] that it will never be made [illegible] will be delivered to Mr. Bayard and under the circumstances it is not at all likely that he will allow it to become the property of the public. The controversy growing out of Fortune's imprisonment has practically settled itself, and it will make but little difference what may be the investigation carried on by the envoy.

The War Department just now is in the midst of a discussion as to the proper disposal of the Apache Indians, whose capture has cost the Government so much blood and treasure. There are a class of military people who imagine that the point for these murderers and thieves has been war, fire and lead, and that the Indians are entitled to the rights of civilized warfare. When a score or two of Indians, who have been living on a reservation, fed and cared for by the Government, steal away from there and engage in a raid throughout a wide extent of country, not sparing women and children in their homes, wantonly and deliberately torturing and mutilating men and murdering women, is that war? Is it more than piracy?

And when these miscreants, incarnations of cruelty and British lust, are pursued and after long pursuit, either caught or compelled to give themselves up because they are out of ammunition, out of food and so surrounded that escape and further destitution is impossible, is that "capitulation of a hostile force engaged in legitimate warfare?" Are they "prisoners of war?" They are simply felons, murderers, assassins, ravishers, brigands, pirates, guerillas, caught red handed by a pursuing force, a military posse, ministers of outraged justice.

DIED.

HURRY—Sept. 9th, after a brief illness, Robert Bruce, youngest son of Barzilla and Adell Hurry, of Franklin, aged 5 yrs.

The funeral services were held at the family residence Sept. 21st, conducted by Rev. T. G. Potter of Tecumseh and A. B. Storms of Franklin. The large audience manifested profound sympathy for the bereaved family.

[illegible]

We gather the following particulars in regard to the death of Col. Richard Baylis from the Milan Journal. The [illegible] Tecumseh and attended school here; after the war he again located here and practiced law a few years. During his residence here he under secretary of state on the democratic state ticket, and afterwards practiced law at St. Johns, living on a large farm in the southern part of Clinton county. Mrs. Ebenezer Thomas, a former resident of Tecumseh, was his sister, and he died at her home in Milan. Mr. P. H. Blosser of Manchester was confounded with the deceased by many. One brother is still living, Mr. Lyman Baylis, who lives in Grand Rapids.

[illegible] at the home of his sister, Mrs. Thorn, from wounds received during the war, and from which he had long been a great sufferer. Col. Baylis was born in Phelps, Ontario county, N. Y., in 1836. He moved with his father's family to Tecumseh, Mich., in 1850. About this time he joined the regular army, went to Texas and New Mexico, returned to Michigan in 1858 and took up the profession of the law. On the breaking out of the rebellion he entered the army again, helping to raise the 5th Mich. cavalry. He was commissioned adjutant. He did gallant service, was promoted and at the close of the war was brevetted major-general and Lieut. colonel of the United States volunteers. While making a cavalry charge at Farmville Station, Va., Col. Baylis was shot through the body and was discharged on account of this wound. Returning home he took an active part in politics. He was a candidate for secretary of state on the democratic ticket in 1880, was a delegate to the convention which nominated Hancock, and was several times suggested for congress, but always refused to allow his name to be used. He was active a few years ago in opposing the scheme of promoters of a railroad tunnel to bridge the Detroit river.

[illegible] Baylis was over six feet [illegible] pounds when in [illegible] He was a man of [illegible] Warm friend, [illegible] for [illegible] Congressional [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Congressional District [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Congressional District [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Congressional District

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LOST.—On Saturday evening, Sept. 18th, between this village and Macon Grange Hall, the Brownville road, probably near DePuy's [illegible] gold plate with [illegible] pocket and a charm, a tiny cross and the initials [illegible] attached. Will the finder please return to HERALD OFFICE.

TO RENT.—Two good large light front rooms in the Mills block.

$20 REWARD for return of my pocket-book and contents, containing this in [illegible] quarters known) notes and papers, and no questions asked. W. P. COTTON.
Macon, Sept. 20, 1887.

FRUIT TREES and Berry Plants for fall and spring planting. Adrian City Nursery, ½ mile north city restoffice.
ASPINWALL BROS.,
Adrian, Mich.

THIRD DIST. REPRESENTATIVE Convention. The Democratic Convention for the Third Representative District of Lenawee county, will be held at Perkins' Hall, in the village of Clayton, on Monday, September 26th, 1887, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative in the Legislature and for such other business as may be proper.
CHS. CORNELL,
Chm. Dem. Com.

WANTED.—Reliable and energetic men to sell all kinds of Nursery Stock, new and hardy varieties adapted to the climate. Business light and easily learned. To successful men we pay good salaries and expenses, and give them steady employment the year round. First-class references required. Apply for terms and address L. L. MAY & CO., Nurserymen, St. Paul, Minn.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The undersigned having sold their entire stock of lumber, lath, shingles, &c. to the Ohio & Michigan Lumber & Mfg. Co. would respectfully thank their former patrons for past favors and request them to transfer their patronage to the above named company.
THE TECUMSEH LUMBER CO.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A fine brick house and barn, and 4 acres of land, will be sold a bargain. Within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire at J. S. KINNEY'S STORE.
Tecumseh, Mich.

The Herald Would Like to Know

Whether the prohibitionists will elect any of their county ticket this fall?

Whether there is any connection between the Charleston earthquake and the third party movement?

Whether there will be a joint debate between the candidates for Congress in this district?

Whether the two story hats for ladies will ever go out of fashion?

Whether the price of newspapers is going up?

Whether those men, who promise to pay their subscription in wood and can't do it, will ever go to heaven?

A Card to the Public

Having just returned from Detroit, where I have been under the instruction of J. G. Hill, photographer, who is doing as fine photo. work as is done in that city, I am now prepared to furnish you with a better class of photos than you have had here before, I warrant all my work to be first class in every respect while my prices are as low as the lowest. I extend a cordial invitation to you to call and examine my work and learn my prices, which I am sure will please.
W. T. HICKS,
Tecumseh.

C. J. LINE FLASHES.

A. B. attended the state fair at Jackson last week, as did also N. O. and [illegible].

A. E. and C. N. are making preparations to start for Kansas soon, where they go to visit their parents. C. N. will remain for an indefinite period, much to the regret of her many friends. And what will poor C. E. do then?

C. C. is attending school at the Valley this fall. She likes the seminary very much, but misses the C. T. line.

Q. N. patronized the state fair last week. P. H. had charge of the melon department during his absence. The melon department has our deepest sympathy.

There has been considerable sickness along the line during the past two weeks. Cases reported from A. F. G. B., R. Y. and K. A. are now convalescent.

If you notice that F. H. carries himself with a little more dignity than formerly, that his step is more firm and that an air of conscious independence pervades all he does, do not be all surprised. He casts his first vote in November.

The "pointer" thrown out for the benefit of Q. N. in our last correspondence, seems to have been prolific of very satisfactory results. A few nights after, while watching for the anticipated rail of the C. T. delegation in the romantic corner of a rail fence, where he sat reflecting upon the "sad vicissitudes and mutation of life," Q. N. was suddenly awakened to a realizing sense of duty by the low murmur of distant voices, and peering forth from his secluded position saw, basking in the sombre moonlight, the outlines of several figures in the act of appropriating to their own use an amazingly large number of the choicest melons in the "patch." Now there it nothing selfish about Q. N. and had the boys been satisfied with a reasonable number, she would, have, undoubtedly, remained still. But when he discovered that they were not liable to leave a melon or a vine, either, on the whole premises, he could remain a passive spectator no longer, and bringing the "ocean shooter" with which he had taken the precaution to arm himself, to a "make ready," he called a halt upon the boys who, all amazed, fled like the wind in all directions. Q. N. succeeded in capturing two of the lawless lads whom he turned over to the proper authorities. We are happy to note that they are not members of the C. T. "delegation."

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., SEPT 23, 1887.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Grace Willett spent last Saturday at her home in Blissfield.

Sailor hats for young ladies will be the fashion for the early fall season.

Hudson Conkling and Robert Moir exhibited one of Brewer's Tiffany tile machines at the state fair last week.

Wm. J. McMullen, of Battle Creek, was in town last Saturday. He drops down here to see old friends occasionally.

Mrs. Col. Sevigny arrived in town Monday and will remain about three weeks as the guest of her mother, Mrs. P. Bliss.

The annual meeting of the Library Association will be held next Monday evening. Let there be a full attendance of the stockholders.

Maine went 12,000 Republican and Arkansas over 30,000 Democratic. We [illegible] over either result. They were both to be expected.

Mr. & Mrs. John Rosebrough of Ann Arbor, who have been spending some time with their Tecumseh acquaintances, returned home last Tuesday.

Thos. Lee, of Macon, always keeps on hand a fine lot of horses and colts. He recently sold three of his best driving horses to Mr. Friend, of New York, for the snug little sum of $450.

The Maine election was rather a peculiar one. It seems to be perfectly satisfactory to all. The Republicans are satisfied, for they carried it. The Democrats are pleased for they expected a larger majority.

There was music in the air last Monday evening. All the candidates on the county tickets residing in this village were serenaded by Knapp's fife band. They appeared in full uniform and made some fine music.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Library Association of Tecumseh, will be held at the Library room, on Monday, Sept. 26, 1887, at 7:30 p. m. The attendance of all is desired.
By Order of Pres.

A bicycle club was organized last week at Battle Creek, at which Will R. Wooden, formerly of Tecumseh, was elected president. It is named "The Battle Creek Wheelmen." Will Wooden is becoming an expert bicyclist.

The Tecumseh Clothing Company is the latest industry started here. The public auction sale last week was somewhat premature, the organization is not yet perfected, but it soon will be, and this will be a thriving industry in time.

The eighth parts of Prof. Roe's copies of practical farmers, and contributors of special farms, appear in the leading "The Home Acre" in Harpers for October, gives useful points about "The Kitchen Garden"—particularly asparagus, celery, and onions.

The Odd Fellows' excursion train which left Chicago last week for Boston, carried the largest party of excursionists that ever left the city at one time. Nearly 10,000 passengers were on board. The train left in sections over the Grand Trunk road.

The republicans nominated candidates for the legislature last Saturday in the 2d and 3d districts of this county. In the second district Capt. J. H. Fee of Adrian carried off the prize, and in the third A. O. Abbott, of Hudson, was the lucky man. They are both very creditable nominations.

Bert McNair writes home that he is getting finely started in Washington and likes his position there very much. He is boarding with Dr. Thomas Miller's family. The Doctor will be remembered by many to reabouts as a former resident of Rutson. He married Miss Ettie Tefft.

Among the eminent writers who will contribute to the October Magazine of American History are, Rev. Chas. W. Baird, D.D., Hon. Chas. K. Tuckerman, former minister to Greece, Hon. Luther R. Marsh, General John Watts De Peyster, General Alfred E. Lee, Mr. John Dimitry and Wm. A. Mowry, the editor of Education.

"Hermes," after the painting by W. B. Richmond, in the last Grosvenor gallery exhibition, is the frontispiece of the Magazine of Art for October, and is followed by a fully illustrated paper, the IV. on the "Current Art," by the editor. An interesting paper gives us "More About Old Charterhouse," with illustrations. Stanley Lane-Poole writes on "A Venetian Azzimina of the 16th Century," and R. Pendered-Brodhurst revives some old "Royal Academy Scandals." "Art in Ancient Rome" is laid before later day amateurs by Wm. Holmden in an illustrated paper. There is a page engraving from the painting "The Mountain Pass," by A. Wierz-Kowalski, this is followed by an account of the French and Dutch pictures in Edinburg, and the department of American and foreign art notes.—CASSEL & COMPANY, Limited, New York, 35 cents a number, $3.00 a year in advance.

Arthur Pardington is in town this week.

De Los Fox, of Brooklyn, is in town this week.

R. J. W. Bowen returned from his western trip yesterday.

Mrs. M. C. Bryan and daughter Edna, started for Dakota last Tuesday.

C. D. Bills is in Sandusky this week attending the races with Hunter.

Supervisor James was in Detroit Monday and returned home elegantly.

D. T. Hall went to Detroit last Monday, and took in the ball game while there.

We are glad to announce that Frank Lamkins is gaining rapidly, and was down town yesterday.

Prof. Dickie, prohibition candidate for governor, will speak at Clinton on Saturday evening, Oct. 24.

Walter Fowler will attend Ann Arbor college the coming winter. He will enter the medical department.

Walter Thomas Mills, editor of the New York Voice, will address a prohibition meeting in Tecumseh, Oct. 9.

Mrs. Chas. Strong, of Lawrence, Kan., is visiting relatives and friends in Tecumseh, and expects to remain some time.

Another dance is talked of by some of the young men, to take place at Armory hall a week from to morrow Friday night.

Rev. T. G. Potter has gone to Detroit, and will be away next Sunday. The pulpit of the M. E. church will be filled by Rev. W. Q. Burnett.

The democratic convention for the third representative district of this county will be held at Perkins' Hall in Clayton village, on Monday next Sept. 26th.

Miss Lillian M. Berkey, who was preceptress of our high school two years ago, was married last week at her home in Grand Rapids to John C. Hackenbaugh, of Tiffin, O.

In the three old race at Altman yesterday, John Boyd's colt won first money in two straight heats. Chas. Snell's colt 2d, and Sam Hoover's colt 3d money. How is that for Tecumseh?

The case of Ab. Wilson against the young boys charged with "cooning" melons from the farmer's field, was decided in favor of the boys, there being not enough evidence to convict them.

Miss Jessie Brown and sister Mrs. Rev. Boyd of Ralsin, started yesterday afternoon for the former's home in Kansas. Mrs. Boyd intends to make a few weeks visit with her parents.

De North will transfer his meteorological instruments to Mr. P. Brown, Oct. 1st. Mr. Brown will thereafter keep track of the weather and people who wish to keep posted on the coming cold snaps will govern themselves accordingly.

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon Addison Hardenburg, one of Tecumseh's citizens, was found in a chair at his residence dead. He was engaged in reading a newspaper when the summons came and the paper was found where he had dropped it. The cause of his death is not known, but supposed to be heart disease.

The high school department has opened most auspiciously this fall. There are 30 non-resident pupils already in attendance, and the total enrollment in the high school is 87. The two new teachers in the high school, Misses Lamb and Whitney, are giving excellent satisfaction. Prof. Hammond is quite elated over the superiority of their work thus far.

Co. C held an election of officers last Tuesday evening with the following result:

Capt.—Fred. B. Wood.
1st Lieut.—E. A. Dorr.
2d " —Chas. Heck.
1st Sergt.—Will Denning.
Corporals.
Pres.—Chas. Patterson.
Vice Pres.—C. A. Rowland.
Sec.—Geo. Field.
Treas.—Chas. Reil.

While Raynor Sutlin, son of John Sutlin, was playing around the house being built by Oscar Palmer, corner of Pottawatamie and Ottawa sts., yesterday afternoon, a heavy board fell from the roof of the house and struck him on the head, cutting an ugly gash in his forehead. He was carried home in an insensible condition and cared for, and is doing as well as could be expected. It was a bad accident, but will not prove fatal.

At the G. A. R. meeting last Friday evening, a very pleasing episode occurred. Comrades Coddington, Mills, Davis, Lawrence, Heck and Hosmer had made an emblem from mineral specimens gathered in California, which was presented to the Post. The emblem is made in imitation of the G. A. R. badge, is about 2 feet by one foot in size, thickly set with minerals. The presentation remarks were made by Comrade Coddington in behalf of the donors. He alluded feelingly to their pleasant trip to the Pacific coast which was only shaded by the regret that many of their members could not enjoy it. Comrades Getchell and Shull responded for the Post in brief and feeling remarks, wishing that each soldier's memory might shine in the future like the minerals in the emblem.

Will Baker, of Detroit, was home over Sunday.

C. F. Patterson and Geo. Field went to Detroit last Monday.

Hannah Hessen, of Tecumseh, is the guest of Helen Todd, of Adrian, this week.

Mrs. J. C. Eccles and daughter Maud, returned from their visit to Chicago last Friday.

Andy Ross returned home last Monday. He has been working at his trade in Lansing for several weeks.

Rev. W. C. Burns and wife, of Fairport, N. Y. are spending a few days with the parents of Mrs. Burns, Mr. & Mrs. A. Wilson.

Eli Cairns is attending the Washtenaw county fair at Ypsilanti, this week in the interest of the Wood binder company.

Mrs. Abner Wilson has a fine stock of house plants for sale very cheap. Please call and see them. West end Chicago street.

Mr. & Mrs. W. R. Wooden, of Battle Creek, are spending a few days this week with their Tecumseh friends. H. C. Hopkins is also sojourning here a few days.

The Horton Hustler is a new paper started at Horton, Jackson Co. It is conducted by D. T. Winton and is a bright, newsy sheet. We welcome it to our exchange list.

Carl Temple is the name of a gentleman in the post office. He is engaged in writing address cards which he does in a very artistic manner, and will remain about a week in the village.

The Advance office and the Post-office in Blissfield, have changed quarters. We don't mean they have swapped pocket pieces, but the Advance has moved one door east into the old post-office rooms, and the post-office has gone one door west into the former Advance office.

Adamson Bros. are invoicing their stock of books and stationery this week, preparatory to selling out to Alva Coddington. We are glad that Alva has decided to embark in the business in our village and wish him success which he will undoubtedly achieve.

Our readers attention is called to announcement in another column of the firm of Wright, Kay & Co., of Detroit. This house occupies a leading position among the jewelry establishments of the United States. Their new stock of diamond, jewelry, silver ware and novelties for the wedding and gift season has never been surpassed in this state. Orders by mail receive prompt and careful attention.

The County Fair opened very auspiciously last Monday. The first day was spent in getting the exhibits in shape, and yesterday morning the sale of tickets to visitors began. Tecumseh and the towns in this section of the county are finely represented in many departments. We expect to "do" the fair to morrow, and shall have more to say of the exhibition next week.

Irv. Osborn came home Tuesday over the M. & O., and brought with him seven Rose potatoes grown on his prairie farm that weighed nine pounds. They all grew in one hill, and the eighth potato from the same hill, which was the largest one of the lot, was stolen by a Ridgeway carpenter, and cooked for his dinner, before the other seven were weighed. Upon arriving at the depot, he rode up in a hack and sent the seven potatoes home on a dray.

The new creamery building is completed, the engine and boiler are set, the machinery is all in position and everything in readiness for action. Mr. Tremain is engaged this week in cleaning up the rubbish and getting settled. The cans will be distributed next Monday and the big churns will be set in motion about Wednesday or Thursday of next week. A large list of patrons has already been secured and the business will start under the most favorable auspices.

The Bicycle Races.

There will probably be sixty odd wheelmen present at the bicycle races at the fair to morrow. Following is a list of the prizes offered:

1st. One half mile dash, open. First prize, $15.00 gold and silver medal; second prize, $10.00 gold and silver medal.

2d. One mile, county championship. $10.00 gold and silver medal.

3d. Slow race, 100 yards. $7.00 silver medal.

4th. One half mile, novice. $7.00 silver medal.

5th. One mile, open. First prize, $15.00 gold and silver medal; second prize, $10.00 gold and silver medal.

6th. One half mile consolation. First prize, King of Road lamp; second prize, Kirkpatrick saddle.

7th. Fancy riding. $12.00 gold and silver medal.

Consolation prizes are given by Chas. Wisinger and W. R. Mumford.

Prizes can be seen at J. Will Kirk's jewelry store.

All competitors must be prompt in attendance. Races will be called at 1 o'clock sharp.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

The Hudson tub factory is undergoing extensive repairs.

The [illegible] is about [illegible] sections of the county.

Osgood Bros., of Morenci, have started a cider factory at Britton.

It is more than likely that a boat club will be organized at Grand Lake next season.

Editor Schermerhorn of the Hudson Gazette took in the Exposition and other sights at Chicago last week.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company will be held on Monday, October 24th, at Adrian.

Henry C. Hall of Hudson, has resumed the publication of Hall's Hudsonian. It is a spicy sheet.

Wm. Rea reports threshing for J. Hiser, four acres of wheat which yielded 238 bushels. How is that for high?—Dundee Reporter.

"Rumored that another disciple of Esculapius is to invade our town," says the Brooklyn Exponent. This means, we suppose, that another doctor is coming to Brooklyn.

Four hundred persons procured certificates to teach from the County Board of Examiners during the year ending September 1st, and most of them were school marms. Whether they were good looking or not is another question.

The subscription list of the Adrian Record is rising. As long as the prohibition county committee take 200 copies per week for gratuitous distribution, its total list may reach 2,200 or 2,300.

Prof. Hayden began his fall term of school with one extra scholar—a boy. It all happened last Friday night, and mother and child are reported as doing well.—Hudson Post.

The county fair this fall has been an unprecedented success. The number of entries has exceeded that of a number of years, and the attendance has been good.

A Hudson man is engaged in the manufacture of patent horse blocks, which are having an extensive sale.

Dr. C. B. Vilas of Lake City, Minn., a cousin of the postmaster general, has been visiting friends at Hudson.

W. P. Stevens, manager of the telephone office at Blissfield, was found insensible a few days ago in the Rock yard. He had probably been nearly trained to death by the telephone gang along the line.—Hudson Post.

Blissfield is considering the project of boring for natural gas to illuminate the village with. Why not tap the Advance office?

The three Michigan candidates for governor are each expected to make a speech at the Monroe fair this week and are expected to make a good speech all around without talking politics.

Mr. Root says the sorghum cane crop will be a good one this year, much larger in acreage and richer in quality. He will begin operations at his mill soon.—Hudson Gazette.

President Blackmar, of the fair association, went to Adrian the other day and engaged the two champion bicycle riders of the state to give exhibitions of their single and double fancy riding at the coming Brooklyn fair. He has also ordered medals, for which Adrian and Tecumseh last riders will compete in the following races. One half mile open, one half novice and one mile free for all.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Last Friday a carriage containing seven gentlemen might have been seen circulating around the city, and out on the road towards Rome Center. The central figure was the Congressman from this district, Hon. N. B. Eldredge, and the six others were his sons. The lord weighed 1,300 pounds, and was, as the Colonel remarked, so many pounds of solid Democracy. Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge enjoyed the satisfaction of having together the whole family, as his daughter Ella, who lives at Palo, was home on a visit. There are few men to whom home has warmer attractions than to the Colonel, and no one enjoys the society of his wife and children more than he.—Adrian Press.

The following document will explain itself. We the undersigned, agree to close our respective places of business at 7:30 each evening, from Monday, Sept. 27th, 1887, to April 1st, '87, except Saturday evening, and Holiday week. And also agree to pay 25cts per month to pay for ringing bell for signal to close.

Tecumseh, Mich., Sept. 15, 87.
W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.
Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.
Strong & McNair.
Whitenack, Bording & Co.
Geo. Hessen.
Wm. McCowen.
J. S. Kinney.
M. E. Gainsley.
Sutton, Fairfield & Co.
Kyes Brothers
Hough & Hosmer.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hurry desire to express their thanks to all their kind friends for their presence and assistance in the hour of affliction.

Mark Russell cleans, adjusts and repairs Sewing Machines.

THE WEST BRANCH SCHOOL.

Yesterday afternoon we accepted an invitation from Prof. Hammond to visit the new west branch school building, and gladly availed ourselves of the opportunity to examine the new structure and witness the school work as performed by the teachers there.

The building itself is located about in the center of the old grounds, facing towards the south. The lot is twelve rods square, with rows of beautiful maples on the south and east sides. The building consists of a main portion 60x30 feet in size with a roomy basement of the same size. On the south side is a vestibule projection, 14 feet in depth by 30 feet long. The basement story is constructed of [illegible] stone walls and the superstructure is built of brick, surmounted by a slate roof. The mason work on the structure was done by F. E. Pockington, the carpenter and joiner work by Theo. H. Crane, and the painting by Gilverall & McNeil. A partition runs through the center of the main building, dividing it into two equal size, each 30 by 35 feet. There are windows on three sides of each room, insuring plenty of light and each room contains two blackboards about twenty feet in length. Each room contains 56 single desks. These are the most approved pattern of automatic folding seat, and were procured from the Grand Rapids School Furniture Co. The heating and ventilating arrangements are something new in that line and worthy of particular mention. The heater is a Rutland tubular hot air furnace, furnished by Sneed & Co., of Toledo. The furnace is placed at the north side of the basement and the main chimney is at the south side, the two being connected by proper flues and smoke pipe to insure sufficient draft and circulation. Registers are placed in the floor near close to the door for the escape of foul air into the basement. Cold air is drawn from the north side of the building and also from outside doors. The cold air necessary which is put from the outside is first sent to a fine square separate flue, the bottom of which is a tight boxed partition, leaving a space of [illegible] of clean pure air. The object of the heater is thus to place a moderate amount of warm air into the room [illegible] in a quantity of heat [illegible]. As it escapes from the heater it is [illegible] rather than the center of the room itself, and the [illegible] so perfect that [illegible] the atmosphere in every room takes place every fifteen minutes. The building committee of the School Board, having charge of the work, consisted of Messrs. [illegible] and Hills, and to their good care and oversight is due the credit of the success in the building and all that appertains thereto.

Miss Hettie McCune has charge of the east room, and has an enrollment of 48 pupils. She has been one of our teachers for the past three years and had excellent success in the primary grades. Miss Ida Taylor presides over the west room, with an enrollment of 46 pupils. She was employed last fall for the first time in this district, but she is entering upon her work with zeal and discretion, and bids fair to become one of our most successful primary teachers. The little folks seem to be imbued with the spirit of emulation and a determination to make the most of their situation. The building is a fine one, the teachers are models and a finer happier lot of boys and girls we have'nt seen in many a day. The scholars all belong to the 1st, 2d and 3d grades.

The grounds about the building are now being graded and covered with surface soil, preparatory to seeding. By next spring a beautiful lawn will be started, and the exterior surroundings will then be in harmony with the interior of the edifice.

—The Standard is a complete new idea in Sewing Machines. Call and see them at Mark Russell's.

—Mark Russell sells everything pertaining to music and sewing machines.

—Buy your pianos and organs of Mark Russell.

Remember, you can buy 4 points for one dollar cash of C. A. Slayton.

—If you wish any painting, graining or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hayes or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

You can buy a fine single or double Harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Slayton's.

Mark Russell sells the White and Standard Sewing Machines.

FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for wedings and Sunday dinners, get Heck Bros. White Foam flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

—Large stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices.
C. A. SLAYTON.

If you want your piano or organ tuned send to Mark Russell.

—Mark Russell rents pianos and organs.

Closing Out Sale!

FURNITURE

OF ALL KINDS AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 22d.

In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers, And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that occupies but the space of an ordinary three burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

For Toilet Use.

AYER'S

HAIR

VIGOR.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

Ayer's Pills,

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and digested for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prepared and sold by all Druggists everywhere in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

GREAT MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Toledo Business College

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

HAZELTINE & PERKINS DRUG CO. Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

MICHIGAN FARMERS

going to Virginia in large numbers to ex-[illegible] stamps for map and review, and can and see for themselves on buy.

HENRY L. STAPLES, Richmond, Va.

CURE THE DEAF

[illegible] Restore the Hearing, and perform work of the Natural Drum. Always in position, invisible to others and comfortable [illegible] All conversation and even whispers distinctly. Worn over 100 of these enlig-
[illegible] Send 10c. for 144 page book with testimo-
[illegible] Address, F. HISCOX, 853 Broadway,
Mention this paper.

Are you CONSUMPTIVE.

[illegible] Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use
PARKER'S TONIC without delay. It has cured
[illegible] Consumption, Throat and Lung Diseases, Chronic Coughs and Colds, Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Female Weakness, Nervous Prostration, Sleeplessness, and all forms of Nervous and Chronic Diseases. Take it [illegible] Cures when all else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm. $1 at Druggists.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

DAUCHY & CO.,

27 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N.Y.

Make lowest rates on all newspapers in the U. S. and Canada. Established 1867.

ALL FOR 24 CENTS.

We must reduce our stock in the next three months, and for 30 days offer all the following for only 24 cts.: 10 pieces choice new and popular music, full size, finely printed; 200 designs in outline for stamping and embroidering; 40 of the popular songs in vogue, all the songs of the Mikado, as well as "Dream Land Love, Love, Love," "Silver Threads among the Gold," a collection of new Riddles and Conundrums, [illegible] the thing for picnic and social parties; 10 Motto Verses, just size spinners, [illegible] Puzzles, all kinds, 26 popular Games, [illegible] illustrated, 300 amusing, interesting and useful recipes, the Game of Fortunes Told, [illegible] all the above in one envelope to any address, postpaid, for 24 cts. in stamps; 4 packages for 50 cts. Address all orders to WORLD M'F'G CO., [illegible] N. Y.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

STATE OF Michigan, County of Lenawee, ss. In the matter of the estate of Isabella [illegible], Minors.

Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of an order granted by the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, on the [illegible] day of July, A.D. 1878, there will be sold at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the dwelling house in the Township of Madison, in said County, on Monday, the [illegible] day of August, A.D. 1878, the following real estate, to wit: The south half of the north half of the south half of section [illegible], in Township [illegible] South of Range [illegible] East, containing seventy five acres more or less.

MARY [illegible]

Dated Aug. [illegible], 1878.

MORTGAGE SALE.

DEFAULT HAVING been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Ambrose Moore and Mary Moore, his wife, of the City of Adrian, County of Lenawee, and State of Michigan, to Lucius Fairchild, of the same place, dated the twenty-first day of December, A.D. 1875, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Lenawee, in Liber [illegible] of Mortgages on page [illegible], on the [illegible] day of [illegible], A.D. 1877, which said mortgage was duly assigned by the said Fairchild to Simon Snow, of the City of Adrian, County and State aforesaid, by an instrument in writing bearing date the [illegible] day of [illegible], A.D. 1877, which said assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of the said County of Lenawee, in Liber [illegible] of Mortgages on page [illegible], and there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of five hundred and [illegible] dollars. No suit or proceeding has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof; and the whole sum of principal and interest remaining unpaid is now payable by reason of said default in the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statutes in such case made and provided, I shall sell the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage, together with the costs and charges of foreclosure and of selling the premises, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the main door of the Court House in the City of Adrian, in said County of Lenawee, on the [illegible] day of [illegible], A.D. 1878, at [illegible] o'clock in the forenoon of said day, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the said amount due on said mortgage, with the costs and charges of foreclosure and of selling the premises, as aforesaid.

Dated, Adrian, Mich., June [illegible], A.D. 1878.

SIMON SNOW, Assignee of Mortgage.

[illegible]

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

AT LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

POULTRY, GAME, BUTTER, EGGS.

[illegible] Order.

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, M.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

"SAVING MOTHER.

The farmer sat in his easy chair
Between the fire and the lamplight's glare
His face was ruddy and full and fair,
His three gray boys in the chimney nook
Supped the juice of a picture book;
Heavily the pattering of the rain
Laid the lulls and ceased at the window pane.
Petty, wailing, slightly
Tired and weary, weak and faint,
Sat here his wife, without complaint,
Like many another household saint,
As the patient ministry of love
Ministered to the comfort of the grey
Three nights to rise and two days to pay
Ah! if we could only know, every day
The world would be mighty handy
Pa would be mighty handy
Pa would be mighty pitiful
For folks miss the little things
Which are spoken too late to buy
Knowing so well a many forty nights
Sooner than Edward an Uncle or Joe Ma had provided, when she go
So, if I were you, I think you what I'd do
I'd say, [illegible] of wear as you [illegible]
Giving time to do so
And run up some candles once in a while
I'd rather [illegible] of coffee in tea
For sugar is high
And all that
And cider is good enough drink for me
I'd be kindly careful about my clothes
And look out sharp how the money goes [illegible] I'd never make Extravagant
Is the bane of women.
I'd sell the best of my cheese and honey,
[illegible]
And as to the carpet you wanted new—
I guess we can make the old one do:
And as for the washer and wash machine,
Them smooth-tongued agents so pesky mean
You'd better get rid of your slick as clean.
What do they know 'bout women's work,
Do they suppose a woman was made to shirk?"

Pick and Edward and little Joe
Sat in the corner in a row.
They saw the patient mother go,
On cross-[illegible] errands to and fro;
They saw that her form was worn and thin,
Her temples grey, her shoes out at the toe;
They saw the quiver of tears at the
And then, without a word to confide to another,
Composed the good-[illegible] brothers;
[illegible]
And [illegible] "HER!"

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN ENGLISH LOVE STORY OF A YOUNG GIRL.

PART THE FIRST.

THE DISAPPEARANCE.

CHAPTER I.

For a quarter of an hour the drawing room remained empty. At the end of that time the council in the boudoir broke up. Lady Lydiard led the way back to the drawing room, followed by her Woman. Isabel being left to look after the dog. Before the door closed behind him Hardyman turned round to receive the last medical directions, or, in plainer words, to take a last look at Isabel.

"Plenty of water, Miss Isabel, for the dog to lap, and a little bread or biscuit if he wants something to eat. Nothing more, if you please, till I see him to-morrow."

"Thank you, sir. I will take the greatest care——"

At that point Lady Lydiard cut short the interchange of instructions and civilities. "Shut the door, if you please, Mr. Hardyman, I feel the draught. Many thanks! I am really at a loss to tell you how grateful I feel your kindness. But for you my poor little dog might have been dead by this time."

Hardyman smiled in the quiet, melancholy manner which was habitual with him. "Your ladyship need no further anxiety about the dog. Only be careful not to overfeed him. He will do very well under Miss Isabel's care. By the by, her family name is Miller, is it not? Is she related to the Warwickshire Millers, of Dunbrench House?"

Lady Lydiard looked at him with an expression of satirical surprise. "Mr. Hardyman," she said, "this makes the fourth time you have questioned me about Isabel. You seem to take a great interest in my little companion. Don't make any apologies, pray. You pay Isabel a compliment; and as I am very fond of her, I am naturally gratified when I find her admired. At the same time," she added, with one of her abrupt transitions of language, "I had my eye on you and I had my eye on her when you were talking in the next room, and I don't mean to let you make a fool of the girl. She is not in your line of life, and the sooner you know it the better. You make me laugh when you ask if she is related to gentlefolks. She is the orphan daughter of a chemist in the country. Her relations haven't a penny to kiss the images with, except an old aunt, who lives in a village on two or three hundred a year. I heard of the girl by accident. When she lost her father and mother, her aunt offered to take her. Isabel said: 'No, thank you; I will not be a burden on a relation who is poor enough for herself. A girl can earn an honest living if she tries, and I mean to try'—that's what she said. I admired her independence," her ladyship proceeded, ascending again to the higher regions of thought and expression. "My nieces' marriage put at that time, had left me alone in this great house. I proposed to Isabel to come to me as companion and reader for a few weeks, and to decide for herself whether she liked the life or not. We have never been separated since that time. I could hardly be fonder of her if she were my own daughter, and she returns my affection with all her heart. She has excellent qualities—prudent, cheerful, sweet-tempered, with good sense enough to understand what her place is in the world, as distinguished from her place in my regard. I have taken care, for her own sake, never to leave that part of the question in any doubt. It would be cruel kindness to deceive her as to her future position when she marries. I shall take good care that the man who pays his addresses to her is a man in her rank of life. I know but too well, in the case of one of my own relatives, what miseries unequal marriages bring with them. Excuse me for troubling you at this length on domestic matters. I am very fond of Isabel, and a girl's heart is so easily turned. Now you know what her position really is, you will also know what limits there must be to the expression of your interest in her. I am sure we understand each other, and I say no more."

Hardyman listened to this long harangue with the immovable gravity which was part of his character except when Isabel had taken him by surprise. When her ladyship gave him the opportunity of speaking on his side, he had very little to say, and that little did not suggest that he had greatly profited by what he had heard. His mind had been full of Isabel when Lady Lydiard began, and it remained just as full of her, in just the same way, when Lady Lydiard had done.

"Yes," he remarked, coolly, "Miss Isabel is quite [illegible] as you say. Very pretty, and such a good manner. I confess that I feel an interest in her. [illegible] society are not much to my taste. Miss Isabel is the [illegible]."

Lady Lydiard's face assumed a look of blank dismay. "I am afraid I have failed to convey my exact meaning to you," she said, hurriedly and emphatically. "Perhaps I am speaking too plainly. I mean—well, I mean what I say. Isabel is my companion, and I—I am very fond of her. I—I don't like to think of her being left alone in the world. I—I—I am very fond of her, Mr. Hardyman, and there I must leave it. I—I don't like to think of her being left alone in the world."

Lady Lydiard's face was now assuming a tint which was not to be mistaken, even by a man of Hardyman's dullness of perception. He hastily decided that he had gone far enough, and that it was time to retreat. "I beg your ladyship's pardon," he said, "if I have spoken too plainly. I—I—I am very fond of Miss Isabel myself, and I—I don't like to think of her being left alone in the world. I—I—I am very fond of Miss Isabel, and I—I don't like to think of her being left alone in the world."

Lady Lydiard's face was now past all mistake. Hardyman's last words had brought the crisis to a climax. Her ladyship was at her wits' end how to dismiss the man who had been her confidant for the last half hour, and who was now her equal in folly. In the interest of her own dignity, she was bound to make the best of her blunder, and to leave Hardyman in the delusion that he was the wisest of the two. There was only one way of doing this—the way of the Lady Bountiful. She must ring the bell and order him a glass of wine before he left the house.

Lady Lydiard rang the bell, and ordered the wine. While the footman was in the room, she said to Hardyman, in her most patronizing manner, that he was to take a glass of wine before he went back to his patients. The footman left the room, and returned with the wine. Hardyman drank it, and rose to take his leave. Lady Lydiard was at her wits' end how to get rid of him, and was on the point of ringing the bell for her carriage, when the footman opened the drawing room door and announced "Mr. Troy."

Lady Lydiard had heard of Mr. Troy as her legal adviser, and had formed a favorable opinion of his character from the manner in which he had managed her affairs. She was glad to see a man of his age and appearance, and she was glad to have an excuse for dismissing Hardyman. She bowed to the lawyer, and she bowed to Hardyman, and she rang the bell for her carriage, and she shook hands with Hardyman, and she hoped he would not forget her poor little dog, and she would be very much obliged to him if he would call every day while her ladyship was in London, and she was sure her poor little dog would be quite well if he had his medicine regularly, and she was very much obliged to him, and she was very much obliged to him, and she was very much obliged to him, and—and—and—she was very presenting himself in the drawing room. [illegible] approached. Her bright complexion faded suddenly. Not a word more passed her lips. She bowed and waited.

In silence on his side, Moody had an open sheet of paper on the table. The paper was [illegible] something hard.

Lady Lydiard recovered herself first. "Is that for me?" she asked.

"Yes, my lady."

She took the paper without an instant's hesitation. Both the men watched her as she read it.

The handwriting was strange to her. The words were these:

"I notify you that the bearer of this note, Robert Moody, by name, has presented to me the bank note with which he was charged, and has confessed, with the coal fire, I suppose, to all that there is to say, the best of it, and all talk. The inclosure referred to by the anonymous writer of the letter, and signed 'A Friend in Need,' has not reached me. No £500 bank note was in the letter which I opened. My wife was present when I opened it. My wife was prepared to make the statement if necessary. Not knowing [illegible] correspondent is (Mr. Moody being forbidden to give me any information), I can only take this means of stating the circumstances as it stands, and hold myself at the disposal of the writer of the letter. My private address is at the head of the paper.

SAMUEL BEADSTOCK.

"Rector St. Agnes, Bonnystoury, London."

Lady Lydiard dropped the paper on the table. For the moment mainly as the rector's letter was expressed, she was incapable of understanding it. "What, in God's name, does this mean?" she asked.

The lawyer and the steward looked at each other. Which of the two was entitled to speak first? Lady Lydiard gave them no time to decide. "Moody," she said, sternly, "you took charge of the letter. I look to you for an explanation."

Moody's dark eyes flashed. He answered Lady Lydiard without caring to conceal that he resented the tone in which she had spoken to him.

"I undertook to deliver the letter at its address," he said, "and I delivered it, sealed, on the table. Your ladyship has the clergyman's written testimony that I handed it to Lady Lydiard unopened. I have no more to say, and I have no explanation to offer."

Lady Lydiard turned to the lawyer. Mr. Troy spoke instantly. He saw plainly that his experience was required to lead the investigation in the right direction.

"Before we go any further into this matter, my lady, I should wish, with your leave, to be sure of the position and the public reputation of the person in your ladyship's service against whom a serious charge has been made. May I venture to ask at the beginning, May I venture to ask you, what is the character of this man?"

"I never had the slightest reason to suspect the honesty of Mr. Moody," she said, sharply.

"Are you absolutely certain that you inclosed a bank note in the letter?" the lawyer asked.

"I certainly believe I inclosed it," Lady Lydiard hesitated. "But I was so alarmed at the time by the sudden illness of my dog that I do not feel justified in speaking positively."

"Was anybody in the room with your ladyship when you put the inclosure in the letter, as you believe?"

"I was in the room," said Moody. "I can swear that I saw her ladyship put the bank note in the letter, and the letter in the envelope."

"And seal the envelope?" asked Mr. Troy.

"No, Sir. Her ladyship was called away into the next room to the dog before she could seal the envelope."

Mr. Troy addressed himself once more to Lady Lydiard. "Did your ladyship take the letter into the next room with you?"

"I was too much alarmed to think of it, Mr. Troy. I left it here on the table."

"With the envelope open?"

"Yes."

"How long were you absent in the other room?"

"Half an hour or more."

"Ha!" said Mr. Troy to himself, "this complicates it a little." He reflected for a while and then turned again to Moody. "Had any of the servants know of this bank note being in her ladyship's possession?"

"Not one of them," Moody answered.

"Do you suspect any of the servants?"

"Certainly not, sir."

"Are there any workmen employed in the house?"

"No, sir."

"Do you know of any persons who had access to the room while Lady Lydiard was absent from it?"

"Two visitors called, sir."

"Who were they?"

"Her ladyship's nephew, Mr. Felix Sweetsir, sir, and the Honorable Alfred Hardyman."

Mr. Troy shook his head irritably. "I am not speaking of gentlemen of high position and repute," he said. "It's absurd, even to mention Mr. Sweetsir and Mr. Hardyman. My question related to strangers who might have obtained access to the drawing room by calling, with her ladyship's sanction, for subscriptions, for instance, or people calling with articles of dress or ornament to be submitted to her ladyship's inspection."

"No such persons came to the house, to my knowledge," Moody answered.

Mr. Troy suspended the investigation, and took a turn thoughtfully in the room. The theory on which his inquiries had proceeded thus far had failed to produce any results. His experience warned him to waste no more time on it, and to return to the starting point of the investigation, in other words, to the letter. Shifting his point of view, he turned again to Lady Lydiard, and tried his questions in a new direction.

"Mr. Moody mentioned just now," he said, "that your ladyship was called into the next room before you could seal your letter. On your return to this room, did you see the letter?"

"I was busy with the dog," Lady Lydiard answered. "Isabel Miller was of no use in the boudoir, and I told her to seal it for me."

Mr. Troy started. The new direction in which he was pushing his inquiries began to look like the right direction already. "Miss Isabel Miller," he repeated. "Has been a resident under your ladyship's roof for some little time, I believe?"

"For nearly two years, Mr. Troy."

"As your ladyship's companion and reader?"

"As my adopted daughter, her ladyship answered, with marked emphasis.

Wise Mr. Troy rightly interpreted the emphasis as a warning to him to suspend the examination of her ladyship, and to address to Mr. Moody the far more serious questions which were now to come.

"Did any one give you the letter before you left the house with it," he said to the steward, "or did you take it yourself?"

"I took it myself, from the table here."

"Was it sealed?"

"Yes."

"Was anybody present when you took the letter from the table?"

"Miss Isabel was present."

"Did you see her alone in the room?"

"Yes, sir."

Lady Lydiard opened her lips to speak, and checked herself. Mr. Troy, having cleared the ground before him, put the fatal question.

"Was Miss Isabel Miller in the room when you took the letter?"

Lady Lydiard was instructed to seal the letter, but she knew that a bank note was inclosed in it.

Instead of replying, Robert turned back from the lawyer with a look of [illegible]. Lady Lydiard [illegible] to her [illegible] checked herself in time.

"Answer him, Moody," she said, putting a strong constraint on herself.

Robert answered very unwillingly. He took the liberty of reminding her ladyship that the rector had written to say that the bank note was not in the letter. "I beg your ladyship's pardon," he said, "I beg your ladyship's pardon, I'm sure. I'm very sorry, I'm very sorry, but I'm bound to say that the letter was in the letter."

"You hear, Mr. Troy," said Lady Lydiard, with her eyes on the lawyer, but addressing Moody, with her voice, in Isabel Miller's hearing, [illegible] "Moody has left the inclosure in the letter, in Isabel Miller's hearing. [illegible] what of that, Mr. Troy?" she added, [illegible] quickly and firmly.

Mr. Troy made a [illegible] and [illegible] ship should [illegible] the question," he said.

[illegible] Lady Lydiard [illegible] I asked Miss Miller if she knew of the inclosure in my letter, and I ask, What of that?"

"And I answer," retorted the impenetrable lawyer, "that the suspicion of the rest of your ladyship's servants falls on Miss Miller, and on nobody else."

"The suspicion of theft falls on your ladyship's adopted daughter."

"It's false," cried Robert, with burst of honest indignation. "[illegible] God, I [illegible] Miss Isabel [illegible] knees about her."

"Hush," said Lady Lydiard, [illegible] herself and heard what the lawyer had to say. [illegible] Mr. Troy, [illegible] lying by [illegible] Mr. Troy, [illegible] the last words. "Suspicion must be adopted lightly," [illegible] "Why [illegible] Moody?"

"Is your ladyship prepared to suspect the rector, St. Agnes, of [illegible] your own relations and friends of theft?" Mr. Troy asked. "Some choice of should rest on the evidence. Not if Mr. Moody's evidence is to be believed. Who, to our own certain knowledge, had access to the letter while it was unsealed? Who was alone in the room with it? And who, in the inclosure in it? I leave the answer to your ladyship."

"Isabel Miller is as incapable of an act of theft as I am. There is my answer, Mr. Troy."

The lawyer bowed resignedly and advanced to the door.

"And I leave your ladyship's generous assertion to finally dispose of the question of the lost bank note," he replied.

Lady Lydiard met the challenge without shrinking from it.

"No," she said. "The loss of the bank note is known only to my [illegible]. Only persons who suspect this innocent girl are [illegible] to know of it. It is due to Isabel's reputation, Mr. Troy, that she should know what has happened, and should have an opportunity of defending herself. She is in the next room, Moody. Bring her here."

Robert's courage failed him, he trembled at the bare idea of exposing Isabel to the terrible ordeal that awaited her. "Oh, my lady," he pleaded, "think again before you tell the poor, innocent creature she is suspected of theft. Keep it a secret from her, the shame of it will break her heart."

"Keep it a secret," said Lady Lydiard, "when the rector and the rector's wife both know of it! Do you think they will let the matter rest where it is, even if I wished to wish it so? I must write to them and put them off anyway, only after what has happened. Put yourself in Isabel's place and tell me if you would think the person who knew you to be unjustly exposed to a [illegible] suspicion, and who concealed it from you? Go, Moody! The longer you delay, the harder it will be."

With his head sunk on his breast, with anguish written in every line of his face, Moody obeyed. Passing slowly down the short passage which connected the drawing room and the boudoir, he paused for a moment on the threshold of the door, and looked through the curtains which hung over the entrance to the boudoir.

CHAPTER VII.

The sight that met Moody's view was [illegible] Among the varied [illegible] assumed by Tommy the [illegible] to take the part of a [illegible] the dog fellow for the time being, [illegible] a handkerchief over his head [illegible] vent him from [illegible] the character of a [illegible] or a purse, a shawl [illegible] to at least [illegible] he [illegible] by the [illegible] unexpected [illegible] Isabel was [illegible] on the [illegible] alarm. [illegible] painfully [illegible] to speak. [illegible] was exchanged between Lady Lydiard and Mr. Troy in the next room. In the complete stillness that prevailed the dog was heard sighing and fidgeting along the [illegible]. Robert took Isabel by the hand and led her into the drawing room. "Fear not, my spare lady," he whispered [illegible] he never heard him.

"Sir," said Mr. Troy, [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible].

He spoke to a woman who stood [illegible] Lady Lydiard's nature was proud, but strong heart [illegible] patiently to any [illegible] sacrifice.

Lighting her arm round Isabel [illegible] half supporting her [illegible] whole reason [illegible] truth.

Rallying under the first shock the poor girl [illegible] Lady Lydiard. She raised her head and eyed the lawyer without uttering a word. In its artless consciousness of innocence the look was as nothing less than sublime. Addressing himself to Mr. Troy, [illegible] said, "Do you suspect me, too?" she asked.

Mr. Troy made no answer. [illegible] he [illegible] to [illegible] condemned [illegible] guilty. [illegible] Lady Lydiard [illegible] the [illegible] of a [illegible] and [illegible].

"Yes," said Lady Lydiard, [illegible] Moody. "Suspicion must be adopted lightly," [illegible] "Why [illegible] Moody?"

"Is your ladyship prepared to suspect the rector, St. Agnes, of [illegible] your own relations and friends of theft?" Mr. Troy asked. "Some choice of should rest on the evidence. Not if Mr. Moody's evidence is to be believed. Who, to our own certain knowledge, had access to the letter while it was unsealed? Who was alone in the room with it? And who, in the inclosure in it? I leave the answer to your ladyship."

"Isabel Miller is as incapable of an act of theft as I am. There is my answer, Mr. Troy."

The lawyer bowed resignedly and advanced to the door.

"And I leave your ladyship's generous assertion to finally dispose of the question of the lost bank note," he replied.

Lady Lydiard met the challenge without shrinking from it.

"No," she said. "The loss of the bank note is known only to my [illegible]. Only persons who suspect this innocent girl are [illegible] to know of it. It is due to Isabel's reputation, Mr. Troy, that she should know what has happened, and should have an opportunity of defending herself. She is in the next room, Moody. Bring her here."

Robert's courage failed him, he trembled at the bare idea of exposing Isabel to the terrible ordeal that awaited her. "Oh, my lady," he pleaded, "think again before you tell the poor, innocent creature she is suspected of theft. Keep it a secret from her, the shame of it will break her heart."

"Keep it a secret," said Lady Lydiard, "when the rector and the rector's wife both know of it! Do you think they will let the matter rest where it is, even if I wished to wish it so? I must write to them and put them off anyway, only after what has happened. Put yourself in Isabel's place and tell me if you would think the person who knew you to be unjustly exposed to a [illegible] suspicion, and who concealed it from you? Go, Moody! The longer you delay, the harder it will be."

With his head sunk on his breast, with anguish written in every line of his face, Moody obeyed. Passing slowly down the short passage which connected the drawing room and the boudoir, he paused for a moment on the threshold of the door, and looked through the curtains which hung over the entrance to the boudoir.

CHAPTER VII.

The sight that met Moody's view was [illegible] Among the varied [illegible] assumed by Tommy the [illegible] to take the part of a [illegible] the dog fellow for the time being, [illegible] a handkerchief over his head [illegible] vent him from [illegible] the character of a [illegible] or a purse, a shawl [illegible] to at least [illegible] he [illegible] by the [illegible] unexpected [illegible] Isabel was [illegible] on the [illegible] alarm. [illegible] painfully [illegible] to speak. [illegible] was exchanged between Lady Lydiard and Mr. Troy in the next room. In the complete stillness that prevailed the dog was heard sighing and fidgeting along the [illegible]. Robert took Isabel by the hand and led her into the drawing room. "Fear not, my spare lady," he whispered [illegible] he never heard him.

"Sir," said Mr. Troy, [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible].

He spoke to a woman who stood [illegible] Lady Lydiard's nature was proud, but strong heart [illegible] patiently to any [illegible] sacrifice.

Lighting her arm round Isabel [illegible] half supporting her [illegible] whole reason [illegible] truth.

To be continued.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[illegible]

SHERIFF'S SALE.

[illegible]

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

[illegible]

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

CLINTON PAGE.

CLINTON MICH SEPT 22 1888

The suit commenced against the [illegible] adjourned until Oct. 8.

Will Lewis, of Providence R. I. is visiting his uncle Ed Parson.

Mrs Geo. Lovell, of South Bend is visiting Clinton friends.

George McIlwain of Chicago, formerly in this village, is spending a few days.

Rev. Vest of Saline will preach Wednesday.

Miss Georgie Kerr is visiting her sister, Mrs Nelly Mack.

Mrs. Newcomb and Mrs. Lapine Newcomb, of Brooklyn are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Jesse St John, who has been sick in Detroit for several months, will return home in a few days.

L. S. Mead and wife, late from Texas, are visiting at John White's.

Mrs. Lou Clay and children of Tecumseh were the guests of Mrs. [illegible] last week.

The Epworth League will be held at the residence of L. R. Smith, Friday evening, Sept. 28. [illegible] and [illegible] will be served at the usual price.

Rev. Alvord of Battle Creek spent Sunday in Clinton as the guest of Howard Hayes.

Mrs. Jessie Rector of Ypsilanti has been visiting her aunt Mrs. Sage. She returned home Tuesday.

W. M. [illegible] Saturday [illegible] Ann Arbor Fall game Monday.

Mrs. Peter Kesselhuth is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wilkerson, in Dundee.

Dr. L. E. White went to Big Rapids Wednesday. His family are expected to arrive here next week.

Mrs. S. B. Ross was quite sick two or three days last week, but is now able to be around as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley of Tipton, Mich., spent Sunday at John Harlow's.

Mrs. W. S. Whittemore and children returned to Ypsilanti last Saturday.

The Misses Ella and Alma Swift had quite an accident the day last week. The horse became frightened while they were driving and threw them out of the buggy. They escaped without serious injury.

The alarm of fire was heard about 7:45 o'clock last Tuesday morning and upon investigation it was found that Henry Brewster's house was in flames. The fire engine was on the ground and the fire extinguished but not until the house had been damaged to the amount of nearly two hundred dollars. While hoping to draw the engine to the spot D. R. Gibson was thrown down and badly injured. He was taken home, and a physician was called, who found upon examination, that one leg was broken in the hip. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Henry Burtless of Napoleon has been visiting friends here this week. He has been unable to work for several months having been a sufferer from acute rheumatism.

The ladies of St. John's church will give a supper and musical entertainment at the Town Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 1st. Supper from 5 to 7.

MENU.

Chicken Pie
Sausage Sweet Potatoes
Baked
Pickles Cheese
Assorted Cake,
Tea Coffee
Supper Biscuits

PROGRAM.

Overture—If Twas for Thee [illegible]
Music [illegible]
Mr [illegible]
[illegible]
Wh[illegible]
M. D[illegible]
Wo[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII—NO 19. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1865

COME and SEE

The Largest and Best Assortment of

CLOAKS

AND DRESS GOODS!

We have ever shown. Do not fail to see our winter UNDERWEAR and SKIRTS.

Ask to see our Gent's Night Shirt at 75c.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

ON DECK AGAIN!

With the finest line of Dry Goods ever opened in Tecumseh, comprising

Cloaks, Shawls,
Dress Goods, Blankets,
Underwear, Hosiery, Etc.

Our Dress Goods department is running over with new and nobby things.

It is a pleasure to SHOW GOODS and QUOTE PRICES.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.
1200 MEN'S SUITS,
500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

D. B. DeWOLF, President — H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. — S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Lath, Blinds,
Shingles, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

[illegible]

[illegible] Mr. [illegible] granted aid for the extension of the side track and turn table, which is to be built on land recently purchased of Jacob Arner east of the Ridge road.

The Union Club will be addressed at Cottage Hall next Monday evening by Rev. Levi Jones of Raisin, in the interest of Prohibition. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Christopher C. Porkington has repaired his cider mill and is making cider by the barrel and guarantees perfect satisfaction.

W. L. Clark left for a visit with friends at Chicago Tuesday morning.

Postmaster Santus has created a fine corner in his office, for stationery purposes.

W. J. Helm went to Decatur, Indiana last week to visit his brother Louis.

Ada Sawton of Dundee, was the guest of Belle Barlow over Sunday.

Geo. W. Arner left Tuesday on the excursion train over the L. S. & M. S. for Chicago, to attend the exposition and make his sister, Mrs. Jessie Patton, a visit.

[illegible] Poe Easton, the defendant in the suit of Wm. Bergdoll has appealed to the circuit court.

Several mistakes appeared in my report last week, four in that of the names of persons and one in that of places. One article was so cut as to make me a liar. The names of the persons and places were spelled correctly, for I obtained a reliable reference. The item that made me say what was not so, was in regard to the bell of the belfry, for the bell for the new school house, was placed on its final resting place Monday. It was the roof of the bellfry, as it is the shape of a large bell. The Bell, however, was placed in the cupola Saturday and its first sounds floated on the breeze about 1:30 P.M.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS.

Wheat nearly all sown. Corn cutting well under way. A wheelbarrow can be utalized in toting corn on wheat ground where 30 or 40 rows are put in one row of shooks.

The works closed for the season.

G. V. Osgood is attending court this week as juror.

Fred Merrell offers $50 reward to any one who will raise 40 bushels of marketable wheat from one acre of land, in the usual way of farming. A good chance to demonstrate "fish stories."

John Howe's pension by the announcement from the pension department that his claim is allowed. The first installment will be a little over $1,000.

Ezra Sink is on the sick list.

Anson Harmon's "Texas Jig" took $4 in premiums at the Ypsilanti fair.

Wm. Nichols, late husband of Ann Jane Gray, arrived and buried his mother, from Canada, arrived at William Griggs' Friday.

Misses Rose Easlick and Ella Whiting recreated in Saint Allan's Saturday and over Sunday.

E. F. Briggs is closing up the stove business at Lake Ridge and going north.

Gilmore McCoy got off his base while in Tecumseh Thursday, and on his way home became unmanageable and the horse threw him into the fence, damaging the buggy somewhat.

Judge Howell in his address before the pioneers of this county, at their late meeting in Macon Grange Hall, referred to the local banks, or "wildcat money" of those early days as "dirt money." If we mistake not the same single issues existed then as now, when those banks failed to redeem their issues were declared void, under the law, while to-day when banks fail to redeem, the issues are declared good under the law, both made of the same material and on the same basis, but a different wording of the statute. Our present national bank bills are not a legal tender, while greenbacks are, some redeemable in greenbacks, the other in coin, one issued direct from the U. S. Treasury without interest, the other through the national banks at about 1½ per cent interest, and both made of the same material. But why this difference? Merely in the wording of the statute so that the interest-taking is not so much in the currency or its basis, as the manner in, and source from which it emanates. The prohibition platform is about right on the currency question except the specie resumption clause. The [illegible] is that it [illegible] commercial value on a par with all property, equally [illegible] and [illegible] all other.

A [illegible] medium of exchange is nothing more nor less than certificate of different denominations representing a balance due the holder in commercial trade.

[illegible]

Mrs. Phebe Miller died at her home in East Raisin, Sept. 7, 1886. Deceased was born in Norwich, Canada, March 7, 1825, was married to Van R. Miller in 1844, and came to Michigan in 1851, settling on their farm in Raisin, where they have resided ever since. Truly, she was one of those persons whose religious life, whose quiet, unassuming ways and lovable disposition was such that none had aught but good to say of her. She was the mother of five children: John and Hiram died in 1862. The living are Chas. W., Mrs. L. V. Judson and Miss Mary A. Miller. Thus a Christian wife and mother has passed to that better land.

SPRINGVILLE SNUFF.

When will the fairs let up, so we can have fair weather again?

Olsted & Wimple are buying blackberries of afoldes and will start out a third sets of packers next week.

Fred Groger has been overhauling his cider mill and is ready to extract the beverage with greatest celerity. He makes it for vinegar.

Mrs. C. Jacobs is visiting her son Charles, who is at Battle Creek at present, a visit readily.

The house of Robert Whiteside caught fire through a defective chimney last Monday P. M., and was burned to the ground. The loss is a bad one for Robert as there was no insurance.

We were asked by friends the other day, who was dead in town, as they saw a couple of gentlemen come in town with a coffin. We knew of no death and at first foul play was suspected, but on inquiry we were informed that it was for Farmer Luce in November.

Several letters and papers in P. O. for F. P. Sheler. Come over Frank, and get your mail.

Quite a severe accident happened to one of our much respected ladies of Cambridge last week. While Mrs. S. Shultis, with little boy was driving into Adrian last Friday, her horse became frightened at teams trying to pass, was unmanageble, throwing her out, bruising her badly. The boy escaped unhurt.

ONSTED ODDS.

Sylvester Rhinehart is made happy with a bran new daughter.

Mrs. R. L. Glenn is on the sick list, also Mrs. Russell and Arthur Wiotte.

Mrs. Lizzie Greenleaf has returned from her visit in Riga. Her health is much improved.

W. J. Linton hobbles around town on crutches. He says the mud car is heavy when loaded.

The quotation given in the Odds last week should have been credited to the Adrian Press instead of the Adrian Times.

The Good Templars will have a box social at Grange Hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 5th. All are invited. Each lady is expected to bring a box containing supper for two. The boxes will be sold at fifteen cents each.

An interesting paper by John Dimitry, entitled "A King's Gift" is one of the prominent features of the beautiful October Magazine of American History. It is the pleasant story of the events in Louisiana about the time of the gift of that province to Spain, by Louis XV., of France, who it seems was heartily tired of his American domain. The Hon. Charles K. Tuckerman follows with fresh information on the subject of "President Lincoln and Colonization," together with an estimate of the losses sustained by the experiment at Hayti, shortly before Lincoln's death. "The Territorial Growth of the United States," by William A. Mowry, editor of Education, is an able and instructive essay which ought to be studied by every intelligent reader in the country. It is accompanied by a superb map in colors. This magazine is grandly sustained and merits the warmest commendations in every quarter. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York City.

The Terrible Death

When poison has taken hold upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

MACON MUSIC.

[illegible] Howell of Fowlerville [illegible]

[illegible]

Mrs. Isaac Pennington is under the Doctor's care.

The hour for the Sabbath School has been changed from half to 1:00 o'clock P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hendershot are visiting friends at Moscow.

Charles Westfall and wife of Plymouth, Wayne county, called on friends last Saturday.

Minnie Harmon visited her parents Sunday.

Misses May Smith and Nettie Wilson of Ridgeway, were the guests of Persis Rimbert Saturday and Sunday.

Last night Miss Ethel Pennington of this place, and Mr. Will Fowler of Saline were married at the home of her brother, Mr. Mark Pennington.

William Osgood attended chases at Holland last week, and visited his nephew, John Osgood, at Grand Haven.

The Rev. Mr. Dennis will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist Church next Sabbath morning and evening.

Mat Kolkhoff, who has been sick for two weeks at Mrs. Angie Mills, is better.

Charlie Ellis and Mrs. Isaac Pennington are under the doctor's care.

Fred Sabin attended the examination at Adrian last Saturday.

Dr. Morden is making a number of repairs on his residence.

Lina Frost is visiting friends at Saline.

Hamilton Niblack is moving in Mrs. Harriott's house, which was recently vacated by B. S. Spalder who moved into Dr. Howell's house.

Mrs. Hoating who has been visiting her grandson Jerome Travis of Clinton two weeks, returned home Sunday evening.

THE CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

HOLLOWAY, Mich., Sept. 20, 1886.

EDITOR HERALD.—The issue of your paper of the Sept. 9th, contains a challenge given by the Congressional Committee of the Prohibition party to the Congressional candidates of the other two parties; this challenge was to the effect that the three Congressional candidates hold a series of joint debates in various parts of this district on the following propositions

1. That there is no political question in issue before the public to-day of equal importance with the liquor question.

2. That no temperance man believing this to be the supreme political question of the day, can consistently vote the Republican or Democratic tickets at the coming election.

That a real motive lay in the minds of that committee we have no doubt, they believe that they are working for a noble cause and they dare to "take the field and show their courage, but we fail to see what advantage is to be gained to the voters of this district in listening to a discussion of the above two propositions. They do not touch the heart of the question at all. Every thinking man knows well enough now that the liquor question is the important question of the day, but what he does not know, is, how shall it be settled. We don't want to hear any more about the greatness of the evil, we will count it is the greatest evil. But we do want to hear some prohibitionist tell us how they propose to remove this evil, tell us the measures they would give us a guarantee that those measures are adequate.

As for the second proposition, it proposes to dig up an old corpse and shake its bones in our faces. It used to be the style of debate long back in the old days where a Democrat was a Republican, that one chased after the other. "I'm better than you are, hurrah for us." "And can't you see?" says the same thing, so they would have it back and forth. Now it is proposed in these days to revive the question and fill up a fourth of a day with this "Prohibitionist steps up and says, "Gentlemen, I'm better than both of you."

Gentlemen, even in searching new discuss the principles involved in the question, bring out the facts as they are and let them speak for themselves. If you have prohibitory measures in force in some states tell us what they [illegible]

[illegible]

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

[illegible]

LESSON—OUTLINED.

[illegible] Golden Text, Mark 17. Time, April 8th, A. D. 30. Place, The Garden of Gethsemane and the palace of the high priest in Jerusalem.

We now come to the closing scenes in the life of the Master and we find them full of thrilling interest. The evening spent in the upper room has been in [illegible] and Jesus with His disciples, leaves the house, crosses the Kedron valley and passes on to the garden of Gethsemane on the Mount of Olives. Here He spends some time in secret supplications with the Father. [illegible] are left to keep watch. The location was one of exceeding beauty. Presently a band of men approaches. The darkness is dispelled by the glare of torches and the men are evidently in search of some one. They look cautiously into the shadows and move cautiously forward as though in eager quest of some fugitive. Jesus steps forward and confronts the crowd, and asks them, "Whom seek ye?" They answered Him, "Jesus of Nazareth." He acknowledges that He is the one they are looking for, when straightway they fall back, and to the ground. Palsied with fear before the ineffable majesty of the Son of God they are unable to stand in His presence. Again He asks them the same question, and receives the same answer. Then recovering their presence of mind, they advance again. Peter, in his impetuous way, takes a sword and cuts off the ear of one of the servants of the high priest. But the Savior rebukes him and permits Himself to be led away captive. The procession moves slowly down the hill to the city and hastes swiftly along the streets to the high priests' house, Peter following in the rear. Our Lord is first given a hearing before Annas, but he soon sends Him to the high priest, Caiaphas, his son in law, who was the high priest that year. Here the Master has an informal trial before the Sanhedrim, [illegible] two or three orders in the morning. The scene now [illegible] spirited and impressive. The excitement runs high. The feeling is intense. Out in the hall, Peter and [illegible] a maid who has been kindly [illegible] of the early morning. While there a woman accuses Peter with denying to be a disciple of Christ. Peter denied it. A little later another [illegible] and [illegible] Peter [illegible] with [illegible] Malchus, [illegible] Peter [illegible] distinctly heard [illegible] And [illegible] Peter remembered the words of [illegible] he wept. Before [illegible] power [illegible] And he went out and wept bitterly. This is [illegible] Peter's [illegible] of the world.

LESSON QUESTIONS.

1. In the conduct of [illegible] seek help of your Father.

2. Do not follow Jesus afar off.

3. The first step to denial is easy. Be careful how you take it.

4. Has Jesus turned and looked upon you?

Why is it

That the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla continues at such a rapid increasing rate? It is due to the great merit and curative value of Hood's Sarsaparilla, it is!

As a result of the conclusive evidence of remarkable cures effected by it, unsurpassed and seldom equalled by any other medicine. Send to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., for book containing many statements of cures.

He that will not look before him will have to look behind him—and probably with some regret.

Issued Every Thursday Morning
H. W. C. STACY

The President has returned from his summer vacation in the Adirondacks and is hard at work again.

The latest style of fashionable fall bonnet is made of two colors, and is two stories high, with an attic.

The poets were a little tardy, but they are now getting in their work on the Charleston earthquake. Was not the earthquake enough?

An exchange says: "Genuine reform has at last broken out at Washington, where a man has been sent to jail six months for stealing an umbrella."

The Hudson Post thinks it will be a tolerably easy task to elect the Republican candidate for Congress in this district. There are a good many voters, it is true, who are chronic for same office.

The Edison system of telegraphy, by which messages will soon be transmitted over the lines of the Milwaukee and Lake Shore telegraph, but the inventor says it will be a year before it will be in operation.

Gov. Hill of New York is at Saratoga for a few days and was greeted with a good speech that he could not deny himself the pleasure of making. He and the Democracy of New York are in good shape for a fight.

The Detroit Post has had the chain of its lightning press broken twice in two weeks, which was the cause of much annoyance to its publishers. The Post is a good paper, and should be better supported than it is.

The Detroit Post says that Mr. Taylor, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, is a "gentleman of the old school." We presume that means that he is a gentleman who will not stoop to the methods of his competitor, who is a gentleman of the new school.

The Detroit Post says that Mr. Taylor is a man who will not stoop to the methods of his competitor, who is a gentleman of the new school.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN

MICHIGAN FARMERS

Are flocking to Virginia in large numbers to escape the long cold northern winters. I have [illegible] Farms for Sale, and will show free of charge. Write for my Free Catalogue, or enclose ten stamps for map and review, and all and see the beautiful city.

HENRY L. STARLES, Richmond, Va.

CURE FOR THE DEAF

Place a pair of Magic Tubes over the Drums and they restore the Hearing, and perform the work of the Natural Drum. Always in position, but invisible to others and comfortable to wear. All conversation and even whispers heard distinctly. We refer you to those using them. Send for illustrated book with testimonials, free. Address, F. HISCOX, 853 Broadway, New York. Mention this paper.

Are you CONSUMPTIVE?

Have you a cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Influenza? Use PARKER'S TONIC without delay. It has cured hundreds of the worst cases and is the best remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, and diseases arising from impure blood and exhaustion. The feeble and sick, suffering almost dying, and slowly drifting to the silent grave, have restored their health by the timely use of Parker's Tonic. It does not stimulate like bitters, but does do good. Cures when all else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm. $1 at Druggists.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

DAUCHY & CO.,

27 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N.Y.

Make lowest rates on all newspapers in the U. S. and Canada. Established 1867.

ALL FOR 21 CENTS.

We must reduce our stock in the next three months, and for 30 days offer all the following for only 21 cts.: 10 pieces choice new and popular music, full size, finely printed; 200 elegant designs in outline for stamping and embroidery; 100 fine and popular songs, including all the gems from the Mikado, as well as "Pinafore," "Pirates," "Love, Love, Love," "Sailing," etc., etc.; a large collection of new riddles and conundrums, over 400, just the thing for parlor and social parties; 40 quote Verses, that stale spinters; 77 Tricks in Magic; 100 Puzzles, all kinds; 20 popular Games; a Secret Alphabet; 200 amusing, interesting and mysterious Pictures; the game of Fortunes Told, etc. We will send all the above in one package to any address, all prepaid, for 21 cts. in stamps; 3 packages for 50 cts., 7 packages for $1. Address all orders to WORLD M'F'G CO., 122 Nassau St., N. Y.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

STATE of Michigan, County of Lenawee, ss. In the matter of the estate of Bertha M. Bryan and Edna J. Bryan, Minors.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an order of license granted to the undersigned, the guardian of said minors, by the Judge of Probate for the County of Lenawee, on the 26th day of July, A.D. 1886, there will be sold at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the dwelling house on the premises hereinafter described in the township of Raisin, said county and state on Friday, the 9th day of September, A.D. 1886, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day (subject to the dower right of Mary C. Bryan, widow of Edwin J. Bryan, deceased, therein) the following described real estate, to wit: The undivided one-half of all that tract or parcel of land situate and being in the township of Raisin, county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, known and described as the north half of the northeast quarter of section five, township six south, of range four east, containing seventy-five acres, more or less.

MARY C. BRYAN,
Guardian.

Dated Aug. 5, 1886. aug5

MORTGAGE SALE.

ON the 23d day of September, A.D. 1871, Alexander D. Mead and Lucy C. F. Mead, his wife, of Clinton, Lenawee county and state of Michigan, made, executed and delivered to Fielder S. Snow, administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith, deceased, a certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, Michigan, in Liber 65 of mortgages, on pages 269, 270 and 271. Said mortgage was assigned by the said Fielder S. Snow, administrator, to Moses Bartlett, of Clinton, in said county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, on the 8th day of October, A.D., 1877, which assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of the said county of Lenawee, in Liber 113 of mortgages, on page 379. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage at this date the sum of five hundred and forty-five 39-100 dollars. No suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole sum so due or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall, on the 4th day of December, A.D., 1886, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county) the premises in said mortgage described, for the purpose of satisfying the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expense of this foreclosure and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being all that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street, at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. King, and now occupied by Samuel B. Rose, as a dwelling lot, and running thence westerly along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods, thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street; thence east along the south line of Brown street three (3) rods, thence south along the west line of land occupied by Samuel B. Rose, twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept. 9, 1886.

MOSES BARTLETT,
Assignee of said Mortgage.

sep9

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure which all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold in Tecumseh by DR. GEO. FERGUSON.

POULTRY, GAME, BUTTER, EGGS.

We have opened the new Store, 42 Michigan Grand Ave., (Cadillac Square) I am prepared to handle on commission, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc. Quick sales at highest market price, and prompt returns guaranteed.

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, M.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

FAIR MIGHT

There was a young girl from Bordeaux
With corns on her little pink toeaux,
They gave her such pain
The tears ran like rain
Down the bridge of her delicate neaux.

Fled wildly and left her singing,
When he found that her feet
With corns were replete,
With never a word in half Norwegian.

They sent for a doctor from Lyon,
As shining and great as a prince;
He looked at her toeaux,
The horror of her neaux,
And indulged in a grateful grince.

He prescribed for this maid from Bordeaux
And called at his little pink toeaux
Long ere it is past,
They, too, will be wash,
And from sorrow and grief find releaux.

The sweet-scented youth from Cologne,
Who left her severely alone,
When he first heard the news
He blind, he did tews,
And flighted from life with a groaneaux.

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

"The sooner we bring this painful scene to an end the better," she said. "I shall be glad to avoid myself of your professional assistance, M. Troy, within certain limits. Outside of my house I beg that you will spare no trouble in tracing the lost money to the person who has really stolen it. Inside of my house I must positively request that the disappearance of the note may never be alluded to, in any way whatever, until your inquiries have been successful in discovering the thief. In the meanwhile Mrs. Tollemache and her family must not be sufferers by my loss. I shall pay the money again." She paused and pressed Isabel's hand with affectionate fervor. "My child," she said, "one last word to you, and I have done. You remain here, with my trust in you and my love for you absolutely unshaken. You are dearer to me than ever. Never forget that."

Isabel bent her head and kissed the kind hand that still held hers. The high spirit that was in her, inspired by Lady Lydiard's example, rose equal to the dreadful situation in which she was placed.

"No, my lady," she said, calmly and sadly, "it cannot be. What this gentleman has said of me is not to be denied—the appearances are against me. The letter was open, and I was alone in the room with it, and Mr. Moody told me that a valuable inclosure was inside it. Dear and kind mistress, I am not fit to be a member of your household, I am not worthy to live with the honest people who serve you, while my innocence is in doubt. It is enough for me now that you don't doubt it. I can wait patiently, after that, for the day that gives me back my good name. Oh, my good lady, don't cry about it! Pray, pray, don't cry!"

Lady Lydiard's self control failed her for the first time. Isabel's courage had made Isabel dearer to her than ever. She sank into a chair and covered her face with her handkerchief. Mr. Troy turned aside abruptly, and examined a Japanese vase, without any idea in his mind of what he was looking at. Lady Lydiard had gravely misjudged him in believing him to be a heartless man.

Isabel followed the lawyer, and touched him gently on the arm to rouse his attention.

"I have one relation living, sir—an aunt—who will receive me if I go to her," she said, simply. "Is there any harm in my going? Lady Lydiard will give you the address when you want me. Spare her ladyship, sir, all the pain and trouble that you can."

At last the heart that was in Mr. Troy asserted itself. "You are a fine creature!" he said, with a burst of enthusiasm. "I agree with Lady Lydiard; I believe you are innocent, too; and I will leave no effort untried to find the proof of it." He turned aside again, and had another look at the Japanese vase.

As the lawyer withdrew himself from observation, Moody approached Isabel.

Thus far he had stood apart, watching her and listening to her in silence. Not a look that had crossed his face, not a word that had fallen from her, had escaped him. Unconsciously on her side, unconsciously on his side, she now wrought on his nature with a purifying and ennobling influence which animated it with a new life. All that had been selfish and violent in his passion for her left him to return no more. The immeasurable devotion which he laid at her feet in the days that were yet to come—the unyielding courage which cheerfully accepted the sacrifice of himself when events demanded it at a later period of his life—struck root in him now. Without attempting to conceal the tears that were falling fast over his cheeks, striving vainly to express those new thoughts in him that were beyond the reach of words, he stood before her the truest friend and servant that ever woman had. "Oh, my dear! my heart is heavy for you. Take me to serve you and help you. Her ladyship's kindness will permit it, I am sure."

He could say no more. In those simple words the cry of his heart reached her. "Forgive me, Robert," she answered, gratefully, "if I said anything to pain you when we spoke together a little while since. I didn't mean it." She gave him her hand and looked timidly over her shoulder at Lady Lydiard. "Let me go!" she said, in low, broken tones; "let me go!"

"Forgive me, Robert," she answered, gratefully.

Mr. Troy heard her, and stepped forward to interfere before Lady Lydiard could speak. The man had recovered his self control; the lawyer took his place again on the scene.

"You must not leave us, my dear," he said to Isabel, "until I have put a question to Mr. Moody in which you are interested. Do you happen to have the number of the Lost Bank note?" he asked, turning to the steward.

Moody produced his slip of paper with the number on it. Mr. Troy made two copies of it before he returned the paper. One copy he put in his pocket, the other he handed to Isabel.

[illegible] nor I know how soon it may be of use to you."

Receiving the copy from him, she left the room. Lady Lydiard, in the most trifling things, guessed what had happened. "We were playing with Tommie," he said, "as it is in the next room."

The dog heard his name pronounced through the open door. The next moment he trotted into the drawing room with Isabel's pocketbook in his mouth. He was a strong, well grown Scotch terrier of the largest size, with bright, intelligent eyes, and a coat of thick, curling white hair diversified by two light brown patches on his back. As he reached the middle of the room, he looked from one to another of the persons present, the fine sympathy of his race told him that there was trouble among his human friends. His tail dropped, he whined softly as he approached Isabel and laid her pocketbook at her feet.

She kindly caressed him, picked up the pocketbook and raised her playfellow of happier days to take her leave of him. As the dog put his paws on her shoulder, returning her caress, her first tears fell. "Foolish of me," she said faintly, "to cry over a dog. I can't help it. Good by, Tommie!"

Putting him away from her gently, she walked toward the door. The dog instantly followed. She put him away from her for the second time, and left him. He was not to be denied; he followed her again and took the skirt of her dress in his teeth, as if to hold her back. Robert forced the dog, growling and resisting with all his might, to let go of the dress. "Don't be rough with him," said Isabel. "Put him on her ladyship's lap, he will be quieter there." Robert obeyed. He whispered to Lady Lydiard as she received the dog; she seemed to be still incapable of speaking—she bowed her head in silent assent. Robert hurried back to Isabel before she had passed the door. "Not alone!" he said entreatingly. "Her ladyship permits it,—Isabel. Let me see you safe to your aunt's house."

Isabel looked at him, felt for him, and yielded.

"Yes," she answered, softly; "to make amends for what I said to you when I was thoughtless and happy." She waited a little to compose herself before she spoke her few farewell words to Lady Lydiard. "Good-by, my lady. Your kindness has not been thrown away on an ungrateful girl. I love you, and thank you, with all my heart."

Lady Lydiard rose, placing the dog on the chair, as she left it. She seemed to have grown older by years, instead of by minutes, in the short interval that had passed since she had hidden her face from view.

"I can't bear it!" she cried, in husky, broken tones. "Isabel! Isabel! I forbid you to leave me!"

But one person present could venture to resist her. That person was Mr. Troy—and Mr. Troy knew it.

"Control yourself," he said to her, in a whisper. "The girl is doing what is best and most becoming in her position, and is doing it with a patience and courage wonderful to see. She places herself under the protection of her nearest relative until her character is vindicated and her position in your house is once more beyond a doubt. Is this a time to throw obstacles in her way? Be worthy of yourself, Lady Lydiard, and think of the day when she will return to you without the breath of a suspicion to rest on her."

There was no disputing with him—he was too plainly in the right. Lady Lydiard submitted; she concealed the torture that her own resolution inflicted on her with an endurance which was indeed worthy of herself. Taking Isabel in her arms, she kissed her, in a passion of sorrow and love. "My poor dear! My own sweet girl! don't suppose that this is a parting kiss! I shall see you again—often and often. I shall see you again at your aunt's." At a sign from Mr. Troy, Robert took Isabel's arm in his and led her away. Tommie, watching her from his chair, lifted his little white muzzle as his playfellow looked back on passing the doorway. The long, melancholy farewell howl of the dog was the last sound Isabel Miller heard as she left the house.

PART THE SECOND.

THE DISCOVERY.

CHAPTER VIII.

On the day after Isabel left Lady Lydiard's house, Mr. Troy set forth for the head office in Whitehall to consult the police on the question of the missing money. He had previously sent information of the robbery to the Bank of England, and had also advertised the loss in the daily newspapers.

The air was so pleasant and the sun was so bright that he determined on proceeding to his destination on foot. He was hardly out of sight of his own offices when he was overtaken by a friend, who was also walking in the direction of Whitehall. This gentleman was a person of considerable worldly wisdom and experience. He had been officially associated with cases of striking and notorious crime, in which government had lent its assistance to discover and punish the criminals. The opinion of a person in this position might be of the greatest value, to Mr. Troy, whose practice as a solicitor had thus far never brought him into collision with thieves and mysteries. He accordingly decided, in Isabel's interests, on confiding to his friend the nature of his errand to the police. Concealing the names, but concealing nothing else, he described what had happened on the previous day at Lady Lydiard's house, and then put the question plainly to his companion.

"What would you do in my place?"

"In your place," his friend answered quietly, "I should not waste time and money in consulting the police."

"Not consult the police?" repeated Mr. Troy, in amazement. "Surely I have not made myself understood. I am going to the head office, and I have got a letter of introduction to the chief inspector in the detective department. I am afraid I caught you in a meditation."

"It doesn't make any difference," replied the other, as coolly as ever. "You have asked for my advice, and I give you my advice. Turn in your letter of introduction, and do not stir a step further in the direction of Whitehall."

Mr. Troy began to understand. "You don't believe in the detective police?" he said.

"Who can believe in them, when every newspaper and remembrancer what he reads?" his friend rejoined. "Fortunately for the detective department, the public in general forgets what it reads. Go to your club and look at the criminal history of our own time recorded in the newspapers. Every crime is more or less a mystery. You will see that the mysteries which the police discover are, almost without exception, mysteries made penetrable to the commonest capacity through the extraordinary stupidity exhibited in the means taken to hide the crime. On the other hand, let the gentleman or woman be a resolute and intelligent person, capable of setting his or her wits fairly against the wits of the police—in other words, let this mystery really be a mystery—and vote me a case if you which the criminal has not escaped. Mind! I don't charge the police with neglecting their wits. No doubt they do their best and take the greatest pains in following the routine to which they have been trained. It is no mark of superior intelligence among them, I mean no man who is capable, in great emergencies, of placing himself above conventional methods, and following a new way of his own. There have been such men in the police—men naturally endowed with that faculty of mental analysis which can decompose a mystery, resolve it into its component parts, and finally show it, to the bottom, no matter how ingenious, or extraordinary, the invention it may be. But these men have died or have retired. One of them would have been invaluable to you in the case you have just mentioned to me. As things are, unless you are wrong in your opinion of the young lady's innocence, the person who has stolen that bank note will be no easier person to find. In my opinion, there is only one man now in London who is likely to be of the slightest assistance to you, and he is out of the police."

"Where is he?" asked Mr. Troy.

"An old rogue, who was once in your branch of the legal profession," the friend answered. "You may, perhaps, remember the man; they call him 'Old Sharon.'"

"What! the scoundrel who was struck off the roll of attorneys years since? Is he still alive?"

"Alive and prospering. He lives in a court or a lane running out of Longacre, and he offers advice to persons interested in recovering missing objects of any sort. Whether you have lost your wife or lost your cigar case, Old Sharon is equally useful to you. He has an inbred capacity for reading the riddle the right way in cases of mystery of great or small. In short, he possesses exactly that analytical faculty to which I allluded just now. I have his address at my office, if you think it worth while to try him."

"Who can trust such a man?" Mr. Troy objected. "He would be sure to deceive me."

"You are entirely mistaken. Since he was struck off the rolls Old Sharon has discovered that the straight way is, on the whole, the best way, even in a man's own interests. His consultation fee is a guinea; and he gives a signed estimate beforehand for any supplementary expenses that may follow. I can tell you (this is, of course, strictly between ourselves) that the authorities at my office took his advice in a government case that puzzled the police. We approached him, of course, through persons who were to be trusted to represent us without betraying the source from which their instructions were derived, and we found the old rascal's advice well worth paying for. It is quite likely that he may not succeed so well in your case. Try the police, by all means; and if they fail, why there is Sharon as a last resource."

This arrangement commended itself to Mr. Troy's professional caution. He went on to Whitehall, and, he tried the detective police. They at once adopted the obvious conclusion, to persons of ordinary capacity—the conclusion that Isabel was the thief.

Acting on this conviction, the authorities sent an experienced woman from the office to Lady Lydiard's house to examine the poor girl's clothes and ornaments before they were packed up and sent after her to her aunt's. The search led to nothing. The only objects of any value that were discovered had been presents from Lady Lydiard. No jewelers' or milliners' bills were among the papers found in her desk. Not a sign of secret extravagance in dress was to be seen anywhere. Defeated so far, the police proposed next to have Isabel privately watched. There might be a prodigal lover somewhere in the background, with ruin staring him in the face unless he could raise five hundred pounds. Lady Lydiard (who had only consented to the search under stress of persuasive argument from Mr. Troy) resented this ingenious idea as an insult. She declared that if Isabel was watched the girl should know of it instantly from her own lips. The police listened with perfect resignation and decorum, and politely shifted their ground. A certain suspicion (they remarked) always rested in cases of this sort on the servants. Would her ladyship object to private inquiries into the characters and proceedings of the servants? Her ladyship instantly objected, in the most positive terms. Thereupon the "inspector" asked for a minute's private conversation with Mr. Troy. "The chief is certainly a member of Lady Lydiard's household," this functionary remarked, in his politely positive way. "If her ladyship persists in refusing to let us make the necessary inquiries our hands are tied, and the case comes to an end through no fault of ours. If her ladyship changes her mind perhaps you will drop me a line, sir, to that effect. Good morning."

So the experiment of consulting the police came to an untimely end. The one result obtained was the expression of purblind opinion by the authorities of the detective department, which pointed at Isabel or at one of the servants as the undiscovered thief. Thinking the matter over in the retirement of his own office, and not forgetting his promise to Isabel to leave no means untried of establishing her innocence, Mr. Troy could see but one alternative left to him. He took up his pen and wrote to his friend at the government office. There was nothing for it now but to run the risk and try Old Sharon.

CHAPTER IX.

The next day Mr. Troy, taking Robert Moody with him as a witness, rang the bell at the neat and dingy lodging house in which Old Sharon received the clients who stood in need of his advice.

They were led up stairs to a back room on the second floor of the house. Entering the room, they discovered, through a thick cloud of tobacco smoke, a small fat, bald headed, dirty old man in an arm chair, robed in a tattered flannel dressing gown, with a short pipe in his mouth, a pug dog on his lap and a French novel in his hands.

"Is it business?" asked Old Sharon, speaking in a hoarse, asthmatical voice, and fixing a pair of bright, shrewdish black eyes attentively on the two visitors.

"It is business," Mr. Troy answered, looking at the old rogue who had disgraced an honorable profession, as he might have looked at a venomous reptile that just crossed his path. "What is your fee for a consultation?"

"Your guinea and I'll give you half an hour." With this ready Old Sharon held out his unwashed hand across the table, in expectation of a guinea.

Mr. Troy would have shaken his hand with the utmost his own fancies for £1,000. He laid the guinea on the table.

Old Sharon burst into a fierce laughing—laughing so violently that he was seized by a fit of coughing. When this spasm was over, he wiped the water from his eyes, and addressed his visitors with the following remarks:

"Fine money, this! Not enough fog in it to choke a cockney. Sit down, gentlemen, sit down. Let's have a look at the color of your money. Ah! a good guinea—a very good guinea. Now, what's your business?"

Mr. Troy and Moody looked at the speaker in silent amazement. There was a dirty old man, dressed in the dirtiest dressing gown, lounging in a chair opposite to them, who had addressed them in the clear, cultivated tones of a gentleman, who had spoken to them in the hoarse, asthmatical utterance of a drunken, ruffianly beggar, who had addressed them in the whining cant of a professional mendicant, who had looked at them with the bright, keen, penetrating eyes of a man of business, who had received them with the dull, stupid, bloated face of a sot, who had received the money with the practiced fingers of a money lender, who had pocketed the money with the furtive dexterity of a thief, who had spoken of the guinea with the greedy relish of a miser, who had smoked his pipe in defiance of the law, who had lounged in his chair in defiance of the law, who had set his dog at them in defiance of the law, who had defied them, in his own person, in defiance of the law, who had—in short, who was everything he should not be, everywhere he should not be, doing everything he should not do, and who was—Old Sharon, the lawyer struck off the rolls!

Old Sharon, the lawyer struck off the rolls, was the first to break the silence. He had taken his pipe from his mouth, and was looking at his visitors with a cunning smile, when Mr. Troy and Moody recovered their presence of mind.

"Your business?" repeated Old Sharon, with a leer at the guinea.

"Our business," said Mr. Troy, "is to find a lost bank note."

"Have you lost a bank note?" asked Old Sharon, turning to Moody.

"No, I have not lost a bank note myself," said Moody, with a sly glance at his employer.

"Then why do you come to me about it?" said Old Sharon, with a cunning leer at Mr. Troy.

"Because we want to know what we should do if we were to find the person who has lost the bank note," said Mr. Troy, with a sudden flush on his face.

"Ah, to be sure!" said Old Sharon, with a leer at the guinea. "Well, I'm a lawyer, and I'm ready to give you the best advice for your money. What will you do if you find the person who has lost the bank note?"

"We shall offer a reward for the bank note," said Mr. Troy.

"How much?" asked Old Sharon.

"Twenty pounds," said Mr. Troy.

"Twenty pounds!" said Old Sharon, with a leer at Moody. "Twenty pounds! Twenty pounds! Twenty pounds!" he repeated, with a leer at each of his three visitors, and with a chuckle at the last.

"Twenty pounds," said Mr. Troy, impatiently, and with a frown at Moody.

"Twenty pounds," said Old Sharon, with a leer at the guinea

THE COUNTY FAIR.

[illegible]

As we have so far gone to press without a report of the fair on Saturday we will give a few items.

[illegible] Thursday, the day [illegible] was very warm and the attendance at the fair on Saturday brought in the receipts to a paying point. The ticket sales at the gates amounted to $[illegible]. This added to the revenue from booths and grand stand will enable the society to pay all awards and claims and the interest on their debt.

THE WHEEL.

Bicycle Races at the Lenawee County Fair at Adrian, Sept. 25.

According to official report the bicycle races at Adrian Fair occurred Saturday p. m., commencing at 1 o'clock and lasting until about 4 P. M. Tecumseh was pretty represented and showed up in charge of a pretty fine contingent. The time of the first race was ten seconds better than F. X. Sprangler, of Detroit, made in the [illegible] Michigan Division L. A. W. [illegible] of Detroit, in June of [illegible]. From the [illegible] one would be led to suppose that the races were something remarkable, but [illegible] that glitters. The first race was one half mile dash. The contestants are named in the order which they passed under the tape: F. X. Sprangler, who won a mile run at Cleveland 2.34 for which he was awarded a $50 gold medal, and who was [illegible] in the best men there as he has been in training all the season. He was followed by Bert Hedges, Levi Hayden, Charles Wiesinger, Chas. Wiesinger, H. M. Judge and Will Todd.

Second, the mile county championship. Fourteen contestants, Bert Hedges, Chas. Hedges, H. M. Judge and Chas. Wiesinger. H. M. Judge made a fine start and led for the first half time 1 [illegible]. He's lead was past at the third quarter of the last half by Bert Hedges, who in turn, when within 50 feet of the tape was passed by Jim Hedges, who met the lead to Bert Hedges and was defeated by a real time [illegible] Bert Hedges first and second were bicycles.

Third—Slow race, 100 yards. Five contestants, Irv Finch, Cook and Levi Hayden started together. Levi and Irv crossed the tape to gether. Afterwards Chas. Wiesinger and Bert Hedges started and crossed the line at the same time, thus making two ties. The medal was rewarded to —— time.

Fourth—One-half mile novice. Four contestants, H. M. Judge, Will Todd, Walley and Cook, who rides a Star. Judge won easily.

Fifth—One mile, open. Spranger, Jim Hedges and Bert Hedges. Bert Hedges led from the start, but was soon overtaken and bunched until Bert Hedges spurted and finished the first half followed by Spranger. Bert Hedges took the lead until the first quarter of the last half where he was left by Jim Hedges, and fell back for Spranger, time [illegible] Jim Hedges finished in [illegible].

Sixth—One and a half mile consolation. Irv Finch, Levi Hayden, Chas. Wiesinger and Will Todd. Finch was first to mount followed by Levi in second. The prizes were "King of Road Lamps" as first. Kirkpatrick said the [illegible].

Chas. Wiesinger was only contestant in [illegible].

The Jerome Fair advertises bicycle races on Thursday, Oct. 7. They are to commence at 10:30 a. m. Prof. Bidwell promises an wheelman to be present and promises them a good time. Adrian and Tecumseh fast riders will enter for the medals.

Will Worden is home with his mount, an "American Challenge." He says a wheelman is compelled to train about seven miles over sand hills before they find rideable roads, and of Battle Creek in any direction. Will is satisfied with his Wheel, and is willing to give its good points to any inquiring friends.

Will H. Hayden is agent for the Columbia, Iver and American Challenge bicycles. Anyone can be satisfied with either the Columbia as a high grade Wheel or the American Challenge, which is the best cheap wheel on the market, without any exception.

The publishers of the American Agriculturist will forward a copy free to every person who has been a subscriber to the American Agriculturist, but is not now one, provided they send their name on a postal card to the said that they may see the great improvements that have been made in this periodical. Subscriptions for the Agriculturist are received at this office.

THE GRAB BAG.

Professor T. Barnum told this story on himself in his address of welcome at the temperance convention in Bridgeport. "An old clergyman once said to me, 'Mr. Barnum, I want to make you my boy.' I answered, 'Look well at me, sir.'" [illegible] said to Fred Bay, "Fred, I'm sorry you voted the other day against the democrats. Perhaps I will [illegible] democrats. But I do not relinquish my principles and which Fred Bay replied, "Why, Mr. Bidwell, the Stalwart men had nothing to do with the matter if Col. Bidwell was a soldier himself he was married and help elect a democratic chairman of the board of supervisors. I guess a republican voter has a right to help elect Ance Whitmore sheriff, and I'm going to do it. Beside, Fred Bay ain't competent, and that's all there is to it." Then the Palmyra man went his way, stepping with a vim that meant business.

Adrian Press.

Last Monday evening was dark and stormy. Our reporter was sauntering along Railroad street, when he met two men, whom he took to be Marshal Stevens and Newberry Sasterth white. His ears were open and he heard a little talk which we repeat for the special benefit of a few small boys.

Newberry. "The railroad authorities are getting out of patience. These boys are constantly jumping on the train, running the risk of breaking their necks and throwing the trains off the track, and the nuisance must be stopped."

Marshal Stevens. "I am glad the railroad officials are showing some signs of life on this subject. Justice Partridge has a lot of blank warrants ready made out, except inserting the names, and the very next boy I catch on that train, he'll catch" ——— and his voice was lost in the distance.

The Ann Arbor Argus is responsible for the following:

A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. At least it proved to be such in the case of a certain Ann Arbor man who remarked that "When the sun passes over the equator, there will be an economical Storm.

Which reminds us of a story told us years ago by our "good little Aunt Diantha." She first came to Michigan away back in the forties, coming to Detroit by lake, thence to Jackson over the Mich. Central and from Jackson to Tecumseh by stage. "Old Pap Blossom" was the stage driver in those days. On the route she chanced to mention the fact that she was going to Tecumseh to visit Judge Stacy's family. This unlimbered Blossom's tongue and he remarked: "Oh yes, I know the Judge and his family well. He is bound to get rich too, for he is a very equabble-ed man."

Joshua Grimbo. "I say, Jerusha, the newspapers all tell us that the problem of perpetual motion cannot be solved, that there's no such a thing as perpetual motion anyway, that everything's got to stop some time or another. What's your opinion, Jerusha, on that plut?"

"Well Joshua, I make no pretensions to being versed in the scientific and knowledge of the present day. I was formerly of that opinion, Joshua, but since Sally has put on long dresses and emerged into society, I am becoming skeptical on the subject, for she is continually on the go.

This little tit-bit, taken from the Brooklyn Eagle, ought to be of interest to our fashionable young ladies.

"Immediately after the President's marriage to Miss Folsom, the Folsom loop became a sort of rage among fashionable young ladies. It is a heavy loop of hair pulled down over the back of the neck and then brought up in a loose French roll. It brought back to the dressers a good deal of the business that the decay of the bang took away.

A Manchester Tecumseh was visiting in Tecumseh the other day, with a German friend who, on arrival, showed Hans a copy of the Adrian Times containing the statement that the Washtenaw Germans were all going back on Salisbury for Cleveland and would support Capt. Allen.

Hans filled his pipe and quietly remarked, "Not enough, mine frient. Dot Capt. Allen thinks us Sherminns all phools and id's Capt. Allen, he thinks prohibition and he vat's prohibition and he goes prohibition wotes but he too pach coward to wote prohibition ticket. Saalsberry, he goes strait ahet and minds his own peesness, he got prains, he sout mit der war he shovelled graivel on der railroat, shoust like us Sherminns. I wotes mit Saalsberry, mine frient."

Beck Prairie Mange, and Scratches of every kind cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Use no other. This never fails. Sold by Baker & Hull, druggists, Tecumseh.

The Brooklyn Eagle man asks Will some wealthy farmer bring us a pumpkin. We presume he will if you offer a dollar for a fifty cent pumpkin. Pumpkins are pumpkins this year.

DIED.

SPOUT.—In Macon, Mich., Aug. 31st, 1888, John M. Stout. Aged 76 years, 2 months and 14 days.

Co. N. Y. [illegible] David Stout moved with his family from Seneca county, N. Y., to Macon, Mich., and first settled on the Hogan farm, built a little mill on Deer creek, [illegible] to Adrian, and other places in the old wooden plows and [illegible] the usual occupations of pioneers. At the breaking out of the war he was [illegible] Mr. Stout was married to Miss Mary A. Lewis, of Macon, Mich., [illegible] of those days for their hospitality. He bought and cleared up a farm in the northeastern part of Macon. After living a few years on it he sold it and bought a farm on the west side where he continued to reside until his death. He was a member of the Methodist church for over 40 years, and with the diabetes nearly 6 years, and suffered greatly with these terrible diseases. The last few months of his life he suffered still another disease, Malaria, and with all these miseries he suffered extremely until death released him from them. The deceased was a man of good judgment and an excellent farmer, gradually making property. He was a hard worker, but for a number of years previous to his death he did but little. He was a very accommodating man, often accommodating his neighbors when he knew it would be to his own injury to do so. The deceased never made a profession of religion, but for a few days before his death, he seemed very much changed and to talk and act very differently from what he ever had to before, and said to Mrs. Isaac Pennington, he was ready and willing to die and did not want to live any longer. He bore his sufferings with much patience. The deceased leaves a sorrowing companion to mourn his departure from earth. He was the last of nine children of his parents to launch on the shores of mortal life. All but two of the children were younger than himself. He lingered along for years, still clinging to earth after his physicians and friends had given him up to die in a very short time at the longest. John will be greatly missed. We now leave him in the hands of Christ and merciful God.

Sermon at the family residence Sept. 1, by the Rev. C. H. Dutton.

Card of Thanks.

To my neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted me during the sickness and death of my husband I return my sincere thanks.

MRS. MARYETTA STOUT.

An Important Detail Omitted:

"What ankes summer goes that must be?" Let's go fishin'." "Well, I don't know, dear. I do not consider that exactly quite satisfactory." "Why, it's full of sports of all kinds." "Yes, I know, it's all about the size of the hotel and rooms and grounds, but not a word about Hubbard's Rheumatic Syrup." "Well, I know there was something left out. Say, Jack, why don't you call it Hubbard's Rheumatic Syrup?" "Why, my dear, I was just going to do that." "Well, if you should, you'd see that lots of Dr. Hubbard's will come to Jackson to see why so important an ingredient in a medicine for rheumatism was omitted." "Why, Jack, it is because it has proven itself to be the best remedy ever given for rheumatism." "In fact I have never heard of a case in which it could not be continued long enough to eradicate the poison from the blood and tissues." "Well, father, if it is such a good remedy for rheumatism it must be a great remedy for diseased kidneys and liver, also for stomach, for one never has rheumatism if those organs are all right." "That's correct." "And has Dr. Hubbard so combined nature's alteratives and tonics in such a way as to readily operate on the kidneys and liver in conjunction with each other, the action being so effectual on those two organs, the stomach is soon restored to a healthy state. Therefore it is a great remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia."

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

[illegible]

PIANOS ORGANS

The demand for the Improved Mason & Hamlin Pianos is now so large that [illegible] Pianos at the prevailing market prices. Catalogues free.

[illegible] $[illegible] to $600. For Cash, Easy Payments, or Rented.

Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co.,
NEW YORK: BOSTON: CHICAGO.

WHITMAN'S NEW PATENT REBOUND PLUNGER PERPETUAL
GUARANTEED SUPERIOR to any LEVER PRESS NOW MADE.

Received First Premium at N. Y. State Fair, in 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883 and 1885, including the Grand Gold Medal and two Silver Medals, over Dederick and others; also World's Fair at New Orleans, and California State Fair. The Most rapid, powerful and durable press made; puts over ten tons in car bale every three minutes; fully warranted and protected three bales to any other press's two. Send for illustrated circulars. Also Horse Powers, Cider Mills, Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, &c.
WHITMAN AGRIC'L CO., St. Louis, Mo.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

"KIES BROS."

We have Opened this Week
Our Stock of

Fall & Winter Woolens

In our Custom Department.

Prices Never So Low.
Stock Never So Large.
The Widest Range for Selection.
The Latest Styles to Choose from.

Inspect our stock. No trouble to show goods. Come right along.

KIES BROS.,
ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

YOU CAN
WELL AFFORD TO LOOK OVER
WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S
CLOTHING,

Before buying your fall outfit. We can give you the largest and finest selection of goods in this part of the state.

The Finest Goods,
The Newest Styles.

You do not buy Clothing every day. When you do, go where you find the largest assortment and lowest prices.

We Sell everything a man or boy Wears, excepting boots.
PLAIN FIGURES. ONE PRICE.
WOOD, CRANE & WOOD.
ADRIAN, MICH.

WE Have ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves in Stock
FOR BURNING
Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either
HEATING or COOKS.
Call and get our Prices before buying.
WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

If you are going to Buy a New
SEWING MACHINE!
LOOK CLOSELY,
That you don't get a pine table and fixtures, with a fraction of an inch of black walnut to cover it up, instead of a solid walnut table, such as the
LIGHT RUNNING
New Home Company
USE ON THEIR MACHINES.
FIRST PREMIUMS EVERYWHERE.
SOLE AGENT FOR LENAWEE COUNTY.
B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

OS."
Veek
olens nent.
how goods.
DS.",
ERS,
AN OD'S
NG, n give you goods in Styles.
here you are!
ting boots,
PRICE.
OD.
Stock
in Either
S. ying.
E & CO.
New NE!
Y,
tures, with nut to al-
STOVE WORKS
EL RANGES
CAGO, BUFFALO
pany
ES.
EE COUNTY.
ich.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

REPRESENTATIVE CONVENTION. [illegible] of the first representative [illegible] held on Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 9 o'clock [illegible] BY ORDER COM.

LOST. On Saturday evening, Sept. 26th, between this village and Sharon Center, a gold locket, probably under the Pavilion. A neck chain, round gold plate with name engraved on it, a cameo, a tiny cross and anchor [illegible] Will the finder please return to HERALD OFFICE.

TWENTY [illegible] Detroit [illegible] in the Herald.

$10 REWARD. [illegible] contents, consisting of [illegible] (known) notes [illegible] Sept. 30, 1886. [illegible]

PARTIES TREES, and berry plants for our [illegible] planting. Adrian City Nursery. [illegible] North city, Fed mill road. SHEGAN BROS., Adrian, Mich.

WANTED. Reliable and energetic men to sell our goods of Nursery Stock, new and hardy varieties adapted to the climate. Business light and easily learned. To successful men we pay good salaries and expenses, and give them steady employment the year round. First-class references required. Apply for terms and address L. L. MAY & CO., Nurserymen, St. Paul, Minn.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—The undersigned having sold their entire stock lumber, lath, shingles, &c., to the Ohio & Michigan Coal & Min. Co. would respectfully thank their former patrons for past favors and request them to transfer their patronage to the above named company. THE TECUMSEH LUMBER CO.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A fine brick house and barn, and 1 acre of land, will be sold a bargain. Within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire at J. S. KINNEY'S STORE, Tecumseh, Mich.

Wood, Crane and Wood have a new card in today's issue.

Mat Root is at home two or three days this week.

Read what B. J. Collier of Adrian has to say about sewing machines in another column.

Mrs Wm. McCowen and daughter, started to-day for Centerville Mich., for a few days visit.

The old house, corner of R. R. and Logan streets, is being raised up and a new foundation put under it.

The dance which was to have been given at Armory Hall to-morrow evening, has been postponed until next Thursday evening.

Dr. Eugene Smith, of Detroit, arrived in town this noon. He came for the purpose of removing a cataract from John Rector's eye.

The annual rental of pews at the M. E. church will take place next Wednesday afternoon and evening, Oct. 6th, commencing at 2:30 P. M.

Oscar Bills arrived home Tuesday from his extended sojourn at Harbor Point and other North Michigan resorts. His outing has evidently agreed with him, and as the hay fever season is about over he can return with safety.

A. P. Coddington received the other day a box of grapes direct from Placerville, Cal. There were four varieties—Flaming Tom, Muscat of Alexandria, Malaga and Black. We had the privilege of sampling some of them and they were prime.

Col. I. E. Messmore and wife of Grand Rapids were the guests of Rev. J. Phelps last Tuesday. Col. Messmore was for many years the proprietor of the Grand Rapids Democrat, and has for a long time been one of the prominent leaders in the western metropolis of the state.

Carry the news. What can be done in the city can be done at Steger's Photograph Gallery, Tecumseh Mich. Cabinet photographs $2.00 per dozen. Card photographs, $1.00 per dozen. Until 1st of November. I have just finished making improvements in my gallery. New scenery, new accessories, new instruments, and all the facilities for first class work. Come early and get your work done in time for Christmas. No excuse if not in time.

CITY LINE FLASHES.

T H has recovered from his attack of the Centrotic.

The musical click of X D is once more heard on the line.

B R has succeeded T H as meteorological observationist.

X H has succeeded in locating the office where the key is left open every Saturday night and Sunday, and the announcement will probably cease.

C E took his departure for Ann Arbor last Tuesday, where he will enter the medical department of the University. After receiving his diploma he thinks favorably of locating in Kansas.

The numerous departure of operators on the eastern end makes that portion of the line seem almost deserted. J S U is visiting in Canandaigua, N. Y. S R has settled in Philadelphia. A F and C N are in Kansas. Mary is attending school in Hanover, and F C, S F and A X are students at the Valley seminary.

The "line" was quite extensively represented at the Adrian fair last week, and although a few members had a rather damp time, the majority succeeded in squeezing out a fair amount of enjoyment.

The utility of the C. T. line is demonstrated in no particular more than in its circulation of the weather report. Each farmer on the line has the report by 8 o'clock every morning and shapes his day's work accordingly.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., SEPT. 30, 1886.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Alf. W. Hines was home over Sunday.

B. Brewer & Co. are now running eight hours a day.

Will Criswell spent last week in Detroit and Port Huron.

Fred Landgraf of Adrian, was in town Tuesday on business.

Will Geeles' missing pony came out second in the race at the county fair.

Bert Tilton of Detroit, was shaking hands with his Tecumseh friends last Saturday.

The Sunday evening services at the churches now begin at seven and one half o'clock.

A. W. Slayton and wife, and Mrs. C. A. Slayton are spending a few days in Detroit this week.

The remains of Addison Hardenberg were taken to Kingston, N. Y., his former home, for burial.

The Tecumseh rink was opened for the last time Saturday evening. There was a very fair attendance.

It rained last Monday morning. It must have been the wind-up shower of the equinoctial storm.

Last Monday was a regular Saturday in town. The streets were crowded during the afternoon.

John Ed. McCollum, the enterprising Clinton Clothier, advertises in both Tecumseh and Adrian papers.

Miss Celia Berger exhibited some shell work at the State fair, on which she obtained a first premium.

Steger's new tricycle is a dandy. It runs both backward and forward with equal grace and facility.

E. L. Hough is absent from home this week in Indiana and Tennessee. Mrs. Hough is visiting at Ypsilanti.

D. W. Clark's new house on Pottawatamie street, is enclosed and the inside work is going rapidly forward.

Mrs J. C. Daniels, of Plainwell, is enjoying a two weeks visit with her sisters, Mrs. Jas. Osborn and Mrs. Geo. Spafford.

Geo. Dunn of Cambridge, has our thanks for a few specimens of beautiful Belle pears, raised on the old Monaghan farm.

The Democratic representative convention for this district will meet at Blissfield on Tuesday next Oct. 5th, at 9 o'clock A. M.

Geo. A. Williamson is now engaged in the slave business in Carroll Co., Tennessee, in company with Mr. Sutton. Geo. came home last Saturday for a short visit and remained until yesterday. The firm is doing a thriving business there.

The early closing movement went into effect last Monday. The arrangement includes the dry goods, clothing, hardware and furniture dealers.

Bert Hause has been spending about a week with his Tecumseh friends and left yesterday for Ann Arbor, where he will enter the Dental School at the University.

Rev. W. K. Spencer was installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church of Adrian last Tuesday evening. Rev. W. H. Babbitt of Tecumseh assisted in the services.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ide of Detroit were guests of Wm Ide last Saturday and Sunday. Lavern's visits are short, but they are always welcome. He still holds his desk with I. W. Fales & Co.

Mr. W. J. Wier, special Agent of the Mich. Fire & Marine Ins. Co. of Detroit, was in town last Saturday and favored the HERALD with a short call. That company is getting a good business on its books.

The Wabash R'y. Co. will sell round trip tickets to St. Louis, Mo. Fair from Adrian at $12.80. These tickets will be on sale Oct. 5th, to Oct. 9th inclusive, and good returning up to and including Oct. 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nyland took their little daughter, Angie, last week to Flint, where she will be educated. They looked through the institution while there and were much pleased with its management.

M. P. Henry, who traded his farm in Blissfield with Frank Bird, has moved back into the same house that he himself built before the war. After changing places three or four times, he gets back into the same old quarters again.

The special delivery system will go into effect at the Tecumseh post office on the 1st. of October, to-morrow. It is not probable that the service will be used much here, but time will tell. No special messenger will be employed at present, until it is seen whether one shall be necessary.

Several small boys have been in the habit lately of jumping on the Jackson trains as they pass Chicago street, and riding to and from the depot. The matter has grown to be a nuisance which must be stopped. Both the village and railroad officials have made up their minds to make an example of the young offenders unless the thing is stopped at once.

Harry Suell was home again last Sunday.

S. A. James of Detroit was in town Tuesday.

Now is a good time to lay in your supply of coal for winter.

Ben Gardinghouse put in most of the week at the county fair.

Charlie Lawrence of Manchester was in town over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Corey are visiting friends in Ann Arbor this week.

Samuel Pachecke of Manchester, was visiting friends in town last Saturday.

Geo. Monaghan looked after the interests of the HERALD at the county fair last week.

The W. C. T. U. holds its weekly meeting at the Opera House on Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

Nuts of all kinds are said to be more plentiful than usual this year and the boys are praying for a big frost.

E. Dakin and daughter of Geneva, N. Y., and Mrs. Dean of Buffalo, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. E. V. DePuy.

All persons indebted to Walter A. Wood for twine and extras please call and settle and oblige.

M. E. CONKLIN.

We are glad to announce that Mrs. L. A. Chapman, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is now rapidly regaining her health.

G. A. Blackmar of Cambridge was in town Monday distributing bills for the Brooklyn Fair. We acknowledge a short call from him.

The old HERALD is booming this fall. Seventy-three new names were added to our subscription list during the month of September.

Arthur Pardington enjoyed his brief visit here very much. He returned to Brooklyn N. Y., where his father's family now reside, on Tuesday.

The Library Association met last Monday evening. As the attendance was small, an adjournment was taken until Tuesday evening, Oct. 12th.

Mr. Smith Monger will entertain the Tecumseh and Franklin Farmers' Club, Oct. 6. Come out and fill his house full and have a good time.

The rink was opened last Monday evening for a private skating party, the promoter of the scheme being Burt Hause. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Prof. Dickie will address a prohibition meeting in Clinton next Saturday evening, Oct. 2d. Let there be a grand rally. People who attend will be sure to hear an interesting speech.

We are indebted to Col. Curtis for a batch of late Washington papers. One of them contains an account of the remarkable canvass now in progress in Tennessee, a portion of which appears in another column.

The next regular meeting of the Myrtle Club will be held at the residence of Wm. Smalledge, on Thursday evening, Oct. 7th, when a literary program will be carried out. All are cordially invited.

BELLE WOODEN, Sec.

Ground was broken last Monday for three new houses on Pottawatamie street. One east of Henry Conklin's is being built by Miss Dingman and two on the old Chapin place by John Freeman and Wes. Bordine.

Good Housekeeping just out tells all about Fall Canning, Preserving and Pickling and gives housekeepers some new ideas about making sweet pickles, tomato preserves, pumpkin preserves, grape catsup and wild grape jelly. All news dealers sell it.

"Divine Service"—Subject of sermon for the morning at 10:30 at the Universalist church. Text, Matthew 25:40. After the sermon admission of members into the church and the communion. In the evening at 7 o'clock a discourse on "Hope in Human Nature." Text, Romans 5:4, 5. Sunday school at 11:45. A church meeting on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenox and daughter, of Monroe, Ohio, are spending two or three weeks with the family of J. S. Hendryx. Mrs. Lenox is a sister of Mr. Hendryx, whom he has not seen for fifty years. Mr. Hendryx had never met either the husband or daughter until their arrival here on this visit. We consider this rather a peculiar circumstance.

The Detroit Free Press was fifty one years old last Tuesday, and in commemoration of the event it issued a mammoth twenty page edition, which was a marvel even for the Free Press establishment. In addition to its usual miscellany of telegraphic news and other matter it contains several pages of solid advertising arranged in a new and very attractive form. The Old Free Press takes the cake.

The Baptist Sunday School Concert last Sunday evening comprised a program of extra merit, which was listened to by a crowded house. The recitations were well given, the choruses finely rendered, and the exercises were made doubly interesting by a few special features. The exercises by the infant class of thirty-four little boys and girls, the singing by Mark Russell and the select reading by Miss Metta Adams deserve special mention. The entire program however was excellent and could not well be surpassed.

Mrs. C. A. Sharp is on the sick list.

Fred Darling of Kalamazoo is in town.

Tecumseh Hunters are enjoying a big run of game now.

Verne Hansen is attending school at the Raisin Valley Seminary.

Mrs. M. Gad Marks has been seriously ill for the past week.

Mrs. M. A. Dickinson and Miss White were in Chicago last Tuesday.

Lapham Bros. are putting up a fine stock of goods.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Worden returned to their home in Battle Creek last Tuesday.

Mrs. I. B. Wheeler and son, of Detroit, arrived in town last evening over the M. A. O.

Frank Baxter came home from Battle Creek Tuesday and was kept busy shaking hands with his old friends yesterday.

That long needed new sidewalk has at last been laid in front of Lewis Adams' residence. It was done last Wednesday.

The Democrats held their second district convention at Adrian yesterday, and Norman B. Washburn was nominated for representative.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. extended a cordial invitation to all to attend their Friday P. M. meetings in the Opera House at 3 o'clock.

A gang of men were at work last week at the M. & O. bridge putting in place. It had worked about twelve inches to one side since its erection.

The Lenawee County grangers will hold a meeting at Workingmen's hall in the city of Adrian, Oct. 6, at ten o'clock A. M. to select delegates to the state grange.

A very interesting memorial service for the late Geo. C. Haddock was held at the Friend's Meeting house in the Valley last Sunday, P. M. Seventy Tecumseh people attended.

Wiggins big earth quake show that was advertised for yesterday, the 29th, failed to put in an appearance. It was probably postponed on account of the weather.

Nate Clark, of Adrian, was home last Saturday. Nothing very extraordinary about that, but the best remains to be told. His wife presented him with a fine boy baby on that date.

Col. Eldredge has exchanged his livery barn and property in Adrian with Thos. Allen, for the Sand Lake Hotel. The trade is made subject to the lease which Mr. Wells now holds of the hotel property.

The third annual meeting of the Library Association of Tecumseh was adjourned to Tuesday, October 12, at 7 o'clock P. M. This meeting will be held at the Library room.

MARY E. KENNEY, Sec.

Our townsman, John H. Osborn, is gaining quite a reputation on the stump. He has the credit of making a fair candid speech, bristling with facts and figures, which even his political enemies can find no fault with.

Mrs. S. L. Bentley, of Eaton Rapids in remitting her subscription, says: "I cannot give up the Tecumseh Herald. It comes from my birth place and I look for it as one would look for a visit from a friend. Accept my best wishes for your continued success."

To-morrow is Wiggins day, the Jewish New Years, and the convention of the democrats of the second District of Lenawee county. With such responsibilities on its shoulders the sun will probably hesitate about rising.—Adrian Record of Tuesday.

And yet the sun never rose more beautifully or more promptly on time, than it did yesterday morning.

Arrangements had been partially made for O. Quick, of Weston, candidate for state senator on the Prohibition ticket to speak before the Prohibition club here, next Tuesday evening, Oct. 5th. We are requested to announce that the date of his coming has been changed to Oct. 12th. He will then be able to remain in this locality and address a meeting at Pennington's Corners on Wednesday eve. Oct. 13th and also at Britton on Thursday eve., Oct. 14th.

Bro. Chamberlain, of the Adrian Record, was in town Tuesday and addressed the prohibition club at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening. We acknowledge a friendly call from him. Bro. Chamberlain made a good impression here and the prohibitionists are well pleased with the manner in which the Record is now conducted.

The splendid show made by the Tecumseh Poultry Association at the County Fair has stimulated the Society to renewed activity. They intend to enlarge their operations next season, and have large exhibits at both the state and county fairs. From this time on they purpose making it hot all along the line. The association met last Monday evening and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President—Dr. C. A. Waldron.
Vice Pres.—C. L. Albaugh.
Secretary—David Jones.
Treasurer—E. E. Russell.

The society now has 12 members.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS

[illegible] the pavilion shows [illegible] at Morenci [illegible] week Oct. 2 and 3.

The Palmyra band furnished the music for the county fair.

A Dundee cherry tree is in blossom a second time this season.

[illegible] Adrian [illegible] during the county fair.

[illegible] property of Dennis Shorts are now up and he is a big man.

A museum has been organized in connection with the Manchester Union School.

A Hudson [illegible] of Rugs [illegible] at [illegible] and [illegible] complete.

The finances of the Adrian base ball association are in a demoralized condition.

Isaac & Avis flouring mill at Hudson will soon be equipped with new roller machinery.

The Prohibitionists of this Congressional district now have four newspaper organs.

The Blissfield Advance man has got tired dunning up delinquents, and after October first, he will try another method.

A new prohibition paper, the Hillsdale Lancet has made its appearance. It is a free lance in fighting the liquor traffic.

The Republican representative convention for the first district was held at Blissfield last Saturday and M. T. Cole, of Palmyra, was placed in nomination.

L. S. Brown, of Adrian, has moved his Business College into elegant rooms in the new Wheeler block, opposite the Lawrence Hotel, and is now better prepared than ever to accommodate his pupils.

The Democrats of the 3d representative district of this county have nominated Dr. Town for representative. The doctor has served the district once in the lower house and was a very valuable member. He deserves a re-election.

If Hudson can't have water works she ought to have the next best thing, to-wit, a town pump. A gentleman who ought to know says the same vein of water that the depot, water tank could be reached down town by boring 100 feet.—Hudson Gazette.

The regular meeting of the blue ribbon club, at town hall, Sunday afternoon, was an unusually interesting one. Added to the usual program of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, etc. Rev. J. M. Gitchell, of Tecumseh, addressed the young folks for half an hour or more, in a very interesting and instructive manner.—Clinton Local.

The Strayer drain in Medina has been causing a good deal of controversy, and finally an appeal from the drain commissioners was taken to the township board. The board investigated the matter last Tuesday, and decided to decrease the township's assessment on said drain 10 per cent. at the same time re-adjusting the assessments first made upon the individuals immediately concerned.—Morenci Observer.

During the severe storm of Saturday night last a barn belonging to George Hall, located on his Deerfield farm, was struck by lightning, which set fire to building and it was consumed with all its contents, consisting of a large quantity of hay, Champion binder and other farm implements. There was an insurance of $400 each on the building and contents in the Farmers Mutual, the loss being estimated at $1,200.—Blissfield Advance.

The New York World says that many a dealer who places a $10 advertisement in his village paper begrudges his investment, when it is worth double to him what he pays for it. Advertising in city papers would astonish such men. One column in the Chicago Tribune costs the advertiser $26,000. The New York Herald receives for its lowest priced column $25,052 and for its highest $51,597. The New York Tribune for the lowest priced column $29,774, and for the highest $55,058, and these papers it is stated never lack for advertisements to fill their columns. And still there are lots of people who wonder why a country paper cannot be furnished to subscribers at as low price as the great dailies are sold.

Mrs. Simon Shultes, of Springville, met with a severe accident as she attended Lecanty this morning. Mrs. Shultes is a member of the present petit jury, and she drove down to town, accompanied by her little son, to bring her husband home for the Sabbath. As she entered the city her horse became frightened, and runaways at terrific speed. She clung to the reins as did the little boy, until the Clark house was reached, when the horse sprang into the hotel yard, upsetting the buggy, and throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Shultes was thrown against an adjoining house and severely bruised and cut, coming off without broken bones. Dr. F. R. Seger attended the case. The little boy rolled out of the buggy upon his hands and knees and suffered not a scratch.

THE TECUMSEH CREAMERY.

We spent an hour very pleasantly yesterday in looking over the new creamery.

Tremain there busily engaged putting things to rights preparatory to beginning making butter, and he gave us a few points which we think will be interesting to our readers.

The building is located on the west side of Railroad Street, about two blocks east of Madison, and occupies a place 32 feet front by 60 feet deep, and stands on a stone foundation. The cellar is six feet from the surface of the ground and is entirely dry and sweet and cuts back under the entire building. The land was purchased of D. H. Cole and is in a very desirable one for the business. We doubt if a better location could have been found for the corporation. The main building is thirty two by fifty two feet in size with an engine room on the north, ten by twenty feet. The building is of brick, veneer is substantially constructed, has a roomy basement and is complete in all its equipments. A partition extends across the front end of the building about ten feet from the entrance, making two small rooms which are used for a sink room and an office. The main room, about 28 feet square, contains three large vats, two revolving churns, a butter worker, and a few minor utensils. Hot and cold water pipes are suspended from the ceiling over each vat. The rear of the building contains two rooms to be used for an ice house and refrigerator, one of which will hold a supply of ice and the other will be used for storing butter in, before shipment. A small room on the south side is used for the storing of milk cans. The engine room is a model of neatness and security. It has a brick floor, a coal bin which can be tightly closed, a horizontal boiler of 15 horse power placed in a brick arch, and an upright eight horse power engine. A capacious cistern is dug just outside the engine room for holding soft water. There are two force pumps, one for taking water from the cistern and the other for drawing water from the well. A large supply of both hard and soft water is necessary to properly conduct the business, and provision has been made to secure it. The machinery and fixtures for making butter, as well as the boiler, water pipes, engine and boiler, were all made by Davis & Rankin Co. of Chicago. This firm makes a specialty of fitting up creameries and supplying all the paraphernalia necessary, including the latest inventions and improvements, to start a perfect establishment.

The stockholders of the institution are ten in number, as follows: Frank Lilley, E. G. Cook, A. L. Brown, M. J. Tremain, Dr. R. H. Hens[illegible], Williamson, Henry Smith, E. [illegible] Lilley, Henry McClure, James [illegible]. Each man holds $600 in stock. $[illegible] was expended for the lot, building, machinery, etc., and $[illegible] has been deposited in the bank as a capital to begin business with.

The officers of the company are three:

President—E. G. Cook.
Treasurer—Lucius Lilley.
Secretary—M. J. Tremain.

Mr. Tremain has also been chosen general manager and he will have the practical charge of the business of the creamery.

Two teams were sent out last Monday to distribute milk cans and canvass for customers. The plan is to buy the cream outright, paying a stated sum per pound therefor, and sell the butter in the market. Teams will drive about the country and gather in the cream every day, so the supply will be manufactured as often as necessary. Mr. Tremain's ambition is to make a gilt-edged article of creamery butter that will command the highest market price, and with the facilities at his command he will doubtless succeed. He expects to fire up and commence running the machinery to-morrow or Saturday. Of the modus operandi of manufacturing creamery butter we have no knowledge. We had some experience in butter making 40 or 50 years ago, but it was by the old up and down dasher process.

When the new establishment is fairly started, and the machinery is smoothly running, we shall make another tour of inspection to post ourselves on the modern process of making creamery butter.

The company start out with [illegible] patronage and they feel sanguine of being able to double that number within six months.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good. This is just weather for the street sprinkler.

You can buy a fine single or double Harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Slayton's.

—Everyone is invited to look through our cloaks whether ready to buy or not. Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Our dress goods are attracting a great deal of attention. Come and see them. Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Buy your underwear at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Every department filled with bargains in new fall goods. Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

ATTORNEYS

FRED R. WOOD

C. A. MACY

PHYSICIANS

R. F. HOUSEMAN, M.D.

C. M. WOODWARD, M.D.

MISCELLANEOUS

TECUMSEH LAUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

DAVID MACHAM, President

JAMES A. CURRY, Vice President

CHAS. A. WILSON, Cashier

HOTELS.

BURNETT HOUSE

ENGLISH & AMERICAN PLAN. DETROIT, MICH.

M. E. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Dealer in High Class Thoroughbred Poultry. Eggs for Hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular, Free.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

SOUTH BEND, BUTCH, WIARD, GADE, OLIVER.

PLOWS.

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow.

CULTIVATORS Elwood, New Rubbing, Albion, Buckeye, Buckeye, Superior, Monitor, Roller.

GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Cord, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "DOUBLE CHLORIDE OF GOLD" cures the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike other so-called "cures" it contains not one particle of opium or any of its preparations, and produces no pain, while rapidly reducing the morphine patient to nothing, he is able to attend to his ordinary business and enjoy life as he has not done for years, under the influence of Morphine Habits. Send for Treatise on the Opium Habit. "The Cure of Opium Habit," Keeley's new work, "Opium in Ignorance and Cure," sent free on application. It is a most complete and comprehensive work on the subject, and gives full information for self cure at home. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO., Dwight, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS!

Cured in from three to five days.

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

GIVE ME A CALL

N. W. AYER & SON

ADVERTISING AGENTS

TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA

Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.

Receive Advertisements

ESTIMATES for Advertising FREE

Send 10c. for AYER & SON'S MANUAL

TO ADVERTISE

JUDICIOUSLY

CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO.

SEXUAL

THE CHANGING GHOST.

Some five and thirty years ago, when I was a young man, my father's business [illegible] and severe check. We were many in family and the ex-

Dedication of [illegible] My father's place of business lay in the heart of [illegible] We had to move, and move in haste, and [illegible] and from the city [illegible] [illegible] We passed from place to place [illegible] disorder [illegible] We had no difficulty in finding a tenant for our old home. [illegible] arranged that some of our [illegible] furniture should be immediately left in our new domicile. We were [illegible] sell most of our furniture in the West end house, and the new furniture placed in it. So at about 10 o'clock one evening after a substantial dinner in town we [illegible] hair, new abode [illegible] key, and took possession. A bright fire, for [illegible] landlady, was [illegible] the kitchen. We got a plentiful supply of provisions and tobacco, and we made ourselves comfortable with our pipes [illegible] coats, and prepared [illegible]

"I [illegible] comfortable," said my brother [illegible] "that the old place [illegible] to phase after."

[illegible] and a chimney to [illegible] fireplace. [illegible] kitchens [illegible] the time [illegible]

[illegible] I suppose she thought we were too [illegible] for the neighborhood [illegible]

[illegible] I like the look of the place [illegible] and fashioned [illegible] We manufactured our success at home to the great [illegible] of everybody. Next morning we kept our appointment and [illegible] the landlord [illegible] He was a stout, responsible looking man [illegible] years and gave there [illegible] impressed with him. He [illegible] and answered our questions [illegible] fully. Everything was satisfactory. I was delighted. But my [illegible] who was of a cautious temperament, kept asking questions [illegible] plans and which he did seemed [illegible] change on this topic he was [illegible] "[illegible] ask every high rent. How's [illegible]

"Why," said the landlord deliberately, and turning his cap in his hands, "you see this neighborhood is out of fashion now. It isn't what it once was. We've [illegible] time, and [illegible] You can see [illegible] about the place. What have you? Six [illegible] Has anything [illegible] straightforward [illegible] Close the [illegible] Dentons," said the [illegible]

[illegible] "Well, [illegible] the house and we could afford to lose the money. It [illegible] capital place!"

The whole family were to move in about three weeks' time. We had no difficulty in finding a tenant for our old home. [illegible] arranged that some of our [illegible] furniture should be immediately left in our new domicile. We [illegible] sell most of our furniture in the West end house, and the new furniture placed in it. So at about 10 o'clock one evening after a substantial dinner in town we

RED STAR
TRADE MARK.
COUGH CURE
Opium and Poison.
25 Cts.
ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK.
THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain
Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc., etc.
PRICE, FIFTY CENTS.
AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 115. Mail.	No. 117. Express.	No. 149 Accom
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	11 15 P.M
Napoleon	6 44 "	2 35 "	12 00 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 44 "	12 15 "
Manchester	7 02 "	3 00 "	12 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	3 38 "
Tecumseh	7 25 "	3 26 "	4 02 "
Adrian	8 08 "	4 12 "	5 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	6 40 "	.....
Toledo	9 25 "	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 148. Accom.
Detroit	8 50 A.M.	6 15 P.M.	.....
Toledo	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Adrian	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 45 A.M
Tecumseh	12 01 P.M.	9 02 "	6 10 "
Clinton	12 10 "	9 14 "	8 10 "
Manchester	12 26 "	10 02 "	9 40 "
Norvell	12 40 "	10 18 "	9 55 "
Napoleon	12 59 "	10 37 "	9 55 "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 50 "	10 25 "

☞ Trains run by New Standard or 90th Meridian Time.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE,
TICKET AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE DETROIT:
Accommodation ..... 4 35 A.M.
Detroit & Cincinnati Express ..... 8 40 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express ..... 8 24 "
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express ..... 10 31 P.M.
Way Freight ..... 8 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville ..... 10 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express ..... 8 55 P.M.
Adrian Accommodation ..... 6 45 "
Toledo Express, Sundays ..... 4 00 "

Trains leaving Detroit at 10:35 A.M. and 8:55 P.M. daily except Sundays, make close connections at Chicago for all points West, Northwest and Southwest, and at Toledo and Detroit with all lines for points East and Southeast.

Passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash route should make connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman Sleepers to Toledo. Through solid train to Chicago, Kansas City and Denver without change. Tickets and information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, etc., can be obtained at all points West, Northwest and Southwest, at the Ticket Office, No. 1 Campau Block, Detroit, and at the Depot, foot of Third street.

H. H. CROSS, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
J. E. BRADLEY, Agent, Detroit.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

[illegible]

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

[illegible]

All Trains daily except Sunday.

G. L. BRADLEY, Agent, Detroit.
H. J. PARKER, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
H. C. MATHEWS, Northwestern Agent, Muskegon, Mich.

LOOK AT THIS!
We will send a
READY FOTOGRAPHER
To Any Address FOR 25 CENTS.
Takes pictures of anything and anybody, at any time and any place. Agents wanted. Address THE FOTOGRAPHER, 211 State St., Chicago, Ill.

ADVERTISING
Contracts made for THIS PAPER, which is kept on file with LORD & THOMAS, Advertising Agents, Chicago.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkble recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. Kings New life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.

Trial Bottle of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at

C. A. Wright & Co.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Kerguson.

CHEERFULNESS is the weather of the heart.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE it? We are daily guaranteeing Kemp's Sarsaparilla to the people for cleansing the blood and giving a new lease of life. Price $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall.

CHILDREN are the flowers of existence.

TO NIGHT AND tomorrow night, and at all times call on us for Kemp's Pile Suppositories. The new treatment for Piles. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall.

WEALTH may bring luxuries, but luxuries do not always bring happiness.

TO ALL MEMBERS of society: Kemp's Balsam will cure your distressing cough. We guarantee it. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

He who begins and does not finish loses his labor.

THE GUARANTEED remedy, Kemp's Balsam, for the Throat and Lungs. It never fails to cure Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

SLEEP is the best stimulant—a nervine safe for all to take.

If catarrh cannot be cured its offensiveness can be removed by the use of Trix.

THERE are men whose friends are more to be pitied than their enemies.

Mr. A. Fueger, 606 Walnut street, St. Louis, Mo., suffered for two years with lumbago, and was confined to his bed for several months. He was entirely cured by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, which he says is also the best cure for sprains and all other pains.

ADVICE is like castor oil, easy enough to give, but hard to take.

Mrs. F. W. Ingham, 472 W. Madison street, Chicago, Ill., recommends Red Star Cough Cure, a few doses of which gave her entire relief from a violent cold. Price, 25 cents.

FOR drunkenness, drink cold water; for health, rise early; to be happy, be honest; to please all, mind your own business.

Purify your blood, tone up the system, and regulate the liver organs by taking Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Sold by all druggists.

IN matters of generosity a woman acts first and reason afterwards; a man reasons first—and generally forgets to act.

Tonic, Alterative and Cathartic.

Simmons Liver Regulator cures malaria, biliousness, dyspepsia, headache, constipation and piles. It is most effective in starting the secretions of the liver, causing the bile to act as a purge. When there is an excess of bile in the stomach, the Regulator is an active purge; after the removal of the bile it will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system.

EVERY man throws on his surroundings the sunshine or the shadow that lies in his own soul.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

[illegible]

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months only a dozen or so have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining the new treatment, free on receipt of stamp. Scientific American.

WHY WE ARE NERVOUS.

A National Characteristic Discussed by a Woman Student—Striking Contrasts.

Nervousness is more and more regarded as an undesirable characteristic of our nation. The idea that we are a widespread this has been fostered by articles written on the subject, so that in the last ten years "nervous" has become almost a household word. The question arises, are Americans more nervous than other nations of the same grade of civilization, and if so what are the means of overcoming such a condition? It is usual to attribute much to climate. While doubtless it has influence, it should be remembered that in the United States every climate except the extremes of the equator and the poles is experienced. Setting aside heat and cold, the dryness and the electrical conditions of the atmosphere are the two factors which are said to act upon the nerves unfavorable. Such a supposition is extremely hypothetical and can not be proven. It is, however, claim that the dry atmosphere of Colorado, the typical dry climate, acts favorably upon people suffering from nervous exhaustion.

The fact that climate is not a prominent influence is shown most conclusively by the condition of those towns which are found upon the map, though invisible to the eye, which separate the United States from Canada on the north and Mexico on the south. The inhabitants of places within an arrow shot of each other exhibit the contrasting national peculiarities. A stirring Texan town, with all the enterprise and "go" of America can be seen on one side of the dividing river, while on the other is the Mexican-Spanish town, with its sleepy inhabitants with their customs of 200 years ago undisturbed.

To avoid nervousness we should pay more attention to hygiene, not indulge in hurry and excitement, take physical and out-door exercise to develop the physique, and educate the people and children out of this notion that because one is an American he or she must perforce be nervous.

It is a loss of the governing power, the will, which allows an increased reflex action unchecked, unhindered, which is characteristic of the nervous, and has given to the word its modern definition of weakness, while a proper display of controlling, impelling, inhibiting impulses, according to their nature, gives the old-time signification of strength and force. There is no reason in the externals which surround Americans, if they properly understand themselves and regulate their desires, their methods of living, their education, why the nervousness which has been attributed to them should not be a glory rather than a stigma.—Dr. Grace Peckham's Essay at Saratoga.

In an English Kitchen.

Just outside the gate and across the way from the shop of the potato and pork merchant's there stands, as it has stood for a couple of centuries, the old Falstaff inn. We went in under the sign through a low doorway, overgrown with ivy. At the end of the hall was a lovely old kitchen with a floor of cool tiles and a gorgeous dinner service of purple, red, blue and gold displayed in wide racks against the wall. A bright fire was burning, the red coals glowing between the bars of the grate, and a vast deal of cooking was going on. The kettle was boiling with a fussy effusion like that of a comfortable, home-keeping, good-hearted, motherly woman, bustling about to get things ready for her good man and the children. A leg of lamb was roasting before the fire. A string or thin iron chain I believe it was, was fastened from the mantel-shelf, and from the other end hung the meat, dangling directly in front of the grate bars. A plate was set underneath to catch the drip, it is. I had a bit of that lamb with some mint sauce for my dinner, and I can attest it was most excellent eating. I wish I had some of it at this moment.

A trim young woman, wearing the whitest of mob caps, the cleanest of white aprons, stood before the fire broiling a chop. She had a long-handled gridiron, tin broiler or gridiron in her hands. The chop was shut up in this, and she patiently held it before the fire as we would hold up a wet towel to dry, turning it round now and then, and what with the sea kettle, the hissing of the chop of the leg of the lamb, the sizzing of the savory chop, most comforting, if domestic noises filled the cozy room. The girl turned a rosy face at us and smiled comfortably. The spicy, the goodly, old kitchen, the rows of dishes on the wall, the nodding red hollyhocks out in the garden, the recollections of that swinging jolly old Falstaff of the charming windows and deep window seats, warmed me to the heart with enthusiasm of charming olde in New Orleans Picayune.

Style in Office Coats.

One of the fancies of Aiken's is the style in office coats. Fastenings by hooks or screws or buttons are almost as wide of an evening dress. Whatever the color of the out of the business suit it must be the best out and the fit must be perfect. But the office coat is altogether a different matter. Anything that will do no matter what the time of the year, so it has been purchased it is used apparently forever. It grows ragged at the elbows and under the right forearm that rests on the desk. It frays out on the skirt. Worse than all, it becomes ink-stained until on the breast, where the pen is frequently wiped, it loses its original color. I saw C. P. Huntington's office coat the other day. It is an old black cotton affair. The clerks disputed as to whether it had been worn four or five years. One thought the period six. Tailors tell me that they have tried to introduce handsome office coats of good material something like smoking jackets or dressing gowns, but all to no effect. The ragged, inkstained coat has a strong hold on the affections of its owner.—New York Cor. Brooklyn Eagle.

The Liberal King of Dahomey.

The king of Dahomey is said to have recently granted greater liberties to the Christians of various nationalities who reside in his country. Any religion based on the belief in one God is now tolerated in his dominions. The Portuguese minister resident at Dahomey is the principal European personage there and the recipient of many attentions on the part of the king, who intends to send a special embassy to Lisbon. Since the establishment of a Portuguese protectorate over Dahomey human beings are no longer slain by the king.—New York Post.

A Bit of Advice.

Mr. Edmund Russell, the American apostle of beauty, gives this advice: "Never start under a light. It brings out lines and makes even the young look worn and tired."—New York Graphic.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
PURELY VEGETABLE.
Health with extraordinary efficacy on the LIVER, KIDNEYS, AND BOWELS.
AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC FOR Malaria, Bowel Complaints, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Kidney Affections, Jaundice, Mental Depression, Colic.
BEST FAMILY MEDICINE
No Household Should be Without It, and, by being kept ready for immediate use, will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.
THERE IS BUT ONE
SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR
See that you get the genuine with red "Z" on front of Wrapper. Prepared only by J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Sole Proprietors, Philadelphia, Pa. PRICE, $1.00.

DE LAND & CO'S
CAPITOL STEAM
SALERATUS
SODA
For Baking Purposes.
Best in the World

FRENCH'S HOTEL!
City Hall Square, NEW YORK.
[illegible]
Rooms 50c. per night. All rooms well warmed. All rooms on first floor. Best in New York city. [illegible]

TECUMSEH CARRIAGE FACTORY
J. R. BRADLEY,
Proprietor.
MANUFACTURER OF Carriages, Buggies,
SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, &c.
Sole Agent for the
CAPITOL LUMBER WAGONS.
Track Sulkies and Skeleton Wagons.
TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN

50 Cents
WILL DO IT.
DO WHAT?
PAY FOR THE TWO.
[illegible]
FOR 4 Months,
THE HERALD
DETROIT FREE PRESS
Two PAPERS
FOR THE PRICE OF ONE.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet

A Severe Case of Acute Rheumatism, which Baffled one of our Most Skillful Physicians, Cured in Three Weeks.

Rheumatic Syrup Co.

Gentlemen—Last October I was stricken down with a very severe attack of Acute Rheumatism and Neuralgia, my first symptom being a general soreness all over me, with a terrible pain in my back and about my hips, this continuing for a few days only before I was confined to my bed. We called one of the most eminent physicians of our State, who kept me very faithfully for four weeks, under which treatment I made no improvement. One of our neighbors coming in to see me advised me to try Allen's Rheumatic Syrup, as he had heard of some wonderful cures effected by it. We sent for half a dozen bottles and I commenced using it, dropping all other medicine, and before I had taken all of the second bottle I was able to be up about the house, and inside of three weeks I was in my office attending to the affairs of a lively 4 w's north. I believe it is the best tonic for the stomach and digestive organs ever given to the public.

Very respectfully,
Mrs. SYLVIA BOWERS.

Dealer in general groceries, corner Wildwood and West avenues.

Allen's Rheumatic Syrup is put up in large bottles, and is sold by druggists generally. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. If your druggist does not have it write us and we will send it to any address on receipt of price, freight prepaid. Send for our medical pamphlet.

RHEUMATIC SYRUP CO.,
Sole manufacturers, Jackson, Mich.

THE STAR
A Newspaper supporting the Principles of a Democratic Administration,
Published in the City of New York.
WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,
Editor and Proprietor.
Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.
THE WEEKLY STAR,
A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.
A clean, pure, bright and interesting
FAMILY PAPER.
It contains the latest news, down to the hour of going to press.
Agricultural,
Market,
Fashion,
Household,
Political,
Financial and Commercial,
Poetical, Humorous and Editorial
[illegible]
THE DAILY STAR,
[illegible]
Special terms and extraordinary inducements to agents and canvassers.
Send for circulars.
TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR [illegible]
TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR [illegible]
THE STAR,
26 and 28 North William St., New York.
LAKE SUPERIOR TRANSIT COMPANY.
The Great Lake Route.
THE NEW PERFECTED REVOLVOLT
The Quickest and Farthest Call Revolver.
H. A. MYER, Syracuse, N. Y.
GOLD
[illegible]
PIANOS ORGANS
[illegible]
Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co.,
NEW YORK; BOSTON; CHICAGO.
WHITMAN'S NEW PATENT REBOUND PLUNGER PERPETUAL
GUARANTEED SUPERIOR to any LEVER PRESS NOW MADE.

Received First Premium at N. Y. State Fair, in 1880, 1881, 1882, 1884 and 1885, including the Grand Gold Medal and Two Silver Medals over [illegible] and others; also World's Fair at New Orleans, and California State Fair. The most rapid, powerful and durable press made; puts over ten tons in car; bale every three minutes; fully warranted and price 40% less than other presses; two sizes; Send for illustrated circulars. Also Horse Powers, Cider Mills, Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, &c.
WHITMAN AGRICL CO., St. Louis, Mo.
Established 1866. FAY'S MANILLA ROOFING!
[illegible]
PELL, W. B. FAY & CO., CAMDEN, N. J.

NOW IS THE TIME
TO USE
JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA
FOR LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA,
AND FOR
PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

It has been in use for 20 years and has proved to be the best preparation in the Market for Sick Headache, Pain in the Side or Back, Liver Complaint, Pimples on the Face, Dyspepsia, Piles, and all Diseases that arise from a disordered Liver or impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggists at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six for five dollars. Sample bottles 50 cts. free on receipt of price.

W. JOHNSTON & CO.,
Detroit, Mich.

☞ When you have tried all the Sarsaprillas, and have been disappointed, try Johnston's.

THE POPULAR RAILWAY
OF THE CENTRAL STATES.
THE GREAT WABASH ROUTE
ONLY LINE
Reaching by direct routes all the following large cities:
ST. LOUIS, INDIANAPOLIS, CHICAGO, FORT WAYNE, DETROIT, LAFAYETTE, TOLEDO, SPRINGFIELD, HANNIBAL, QUINCY, KEOKUK, PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, ST. JOSEPH, OMAHA, DES MOINES, OTTUMWA.
Embracing the Principal Points of the Six Great States of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, with Branch Lines or Close Connections.
THROUGH SLEEPING CAR LINES
Between St. Louis, New York and Boston, via Niagara Falls; St. Louis and Buffalo, via Detroit; St. Louis and Toledo, via Detroit; St. Louis and Chicago, via Detroit; St. Louis and Peoria, via Springfield; St. Louis and Des Moines, via Council Bluffs; St. Louis and Kansas City, via Hannibal; St. Louis and Kansas City, via Sedalia; Kansas City and Denver, via Kansas City, St. Joseph or Omaha, to all points of the WEST.
THE BEST ROUTE
Via Detroit or Toledo, to all points in the EAST; via Detroit, Chicago, Ottumwa or Des Moines, to all points in the NORTH; via Hannibal or St. Louis or Kansas City, to all points in the SOUTHWEST.
NO LINE CAN EQUAL THE OUR SERVICE
GREAT WABASH ROUTE
EVERYONE WHO TRAVELS [illegible] WABASH
[illegible] Agent,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

C. A. Wright & Co.,
Wall Paper
AND Decorations.
C. A. Wright & Co
JAS. H. POTTER.
FURNITURE!
PENNYROYAL WAFERS

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.
Sold in Detroit by W. A. WRIGHT & CO.
Established 1840. THE CELEBRATED Thos. Bradford Co. PORTABLE MILLS.
Best in the world for grinding small grains. Write for special prices. State about how many bushels per hour. Address plainly
C. L. Gano, Jr., Manager,
27 Glenn Bldg.
P. O. Box 58.
CINCINNATI, O.
BETTER THAN THE BEST.
[illegible]

THAT NIGHT.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Sept. 29, 1888.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland have returned to the city again, and matters at the White House have

LETTER LIST

Tecumseh.

WANTED!

COLUMBIA BICYCLES

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.
TECUMSEH, MICH.
THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON MASS.

$1000
Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR
A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE
FOR 5 CENTS.

SMOKE EL FRENO 10c CIGAR
130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO
RETAIL AT
R. MORRISON'S.

Detroit Paper

DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL

THE ONLY AFTERNOON PAPER

Associated Press
DISPATCHES.
THE EVENING JOURNAL

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

MC COLLUM

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. Mc COLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

Now Ready!

NEW FALL GOODS

Our Display of Novelties this season has rarely ever been surpassed west of New York, and consists of Diamonds and other Gems, Jewelry, Silverware, Plated Ware, Clocks, Watches, Artistic Bronzes, Porcelain, China and rich Fancy Articles, comprising a carefully selected stock of standard quality of goods.

Visitors to Detroit are cordially invited to inspect our establishment, which we are confident they will find both interesting and instructive.

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

Jewelers,
Silversmiths,
Importers,
and Opticians,

140 Woodward Ave.,
1 and 2 CAMPUS MARTIUS.
DETROIT, MICH.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S
Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S
GAS FOR EXTRACTING.
AT LOWEST PRICES OF THE BEST WORK

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty.

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

Give anything in this line can be bought at the Lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

Better than the Best

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 20. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 7, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1866

COME and SEE

The Largest and Best Assortment of

CLOAKS

AND DRESS GOODS!

We have ever shown. Do not fail to see our winter UNDERWEAR and SKIRTS.

Ask to see our Gent's Night Shirt at 75c.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

ON DECK AGAIN!

With the finest line of Dry Goods ever opened in Tecumseh, comprising

Cloaks, Shawls,
Dress Goods, Blankets,
Underwear, Hosiery, Etc.

Our Dress Goods department is running over with new and nobby things.

It is a pleasure to SHOW GOODS and QUOTE PRICES.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.
1200 MEN'S SUITS,
500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

O. B. DeWOLF, President. H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Shingles, Blinds,
Lath, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.
TELEPHONE.
Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Farmers are busy picking apples digging potatoes and husking.

The carpenters are doing the inside work to the school house and the painter is putting on the finishing touch.

Harry Smith, our tuner, is out of the village at present doing the tinwork for Mr. Sisson's new house in Macon.

The Helm block is nearly ready for occupation.

G. C. & A. C. Arner took in the base ball tournament at Milan Friday and Saturday.

Martin Palmer spent Saturday with friends here and reports his school at Flat Rock encouraging.

Mrs. John Arner went to Milan Friday to visit her neices, Mrs. A. Smith and Allie McNeill, for several days.

Miss Anna Smith who has been with her sister Mrs. H. Brown at Grand Ledge, during the past six months, returned Thursday evening of last week.

Mrs. R. T. Bush and son Irving came last week to spend a few weeks with her mother, Mrs Hall.

Mrs. J. F. Temple and daughter, Mrs. Chas. Foot, returned from their eastern visit Saturday evening.

Mrs. D. W. Loree went to St. John last week to spend a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson went to Blissfield Sunday, to see Prof. H. C. Wilson, who has been on the sick list for a few days, but has improved so as to take charge of school again.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Case of West Manchester, called on relatives in the village Monday.

Agent A. J. Sutton has rented the E. C. VanVleet house and lot and is moving at present. He has rented his own property to John Smith.

Hattie F. Moon and Mr. and Mrs. John Boice called on friends in the village Sunday.

Palmer Hamilton and family were the guests of Daniel Linn and wife, Thursday. Palm. is as jovial as ever and his old friends greet him with a smile.

Rev. Mr. Burnett of Tecumseh, occupied the pulpit Sunday morning, and Rev. Peter Sharp in the evening, in the absence of Rev. W. J. Clack, who is with friends in Chicago.

G. D. Arner returned from a weeks visit with his sisters, Mrs. Rose Parker and Miss Jessie Patton of Chicago, Monday night, and reports a fine time.

A letter from B. B. Morley last week informed his family that he was on a government survey with his brother Fred and will not come home at present.

On Wednesday, afternoon of next week the pews at the church will be rented. The Woman's foreign missionary society will meet in the lecture room of the church at the same time and will provide a supper for the occasion. All persons interested are cordially invited. The ladies will furnish the necessary eatables.

The Prohibition talk given at the hall Monday evening by Rev. Levi Chase, was listened to by a full house. Cornelius Quick of Weston, nominee for Senator on the Prohibition ticket will address the club at Britton next week Thursday evening Oct. 14th, in the interest of Prohibition.

The entertainment given by the church social at the hall last week, was a success in every respect. The society took in nearly $15.00. The exercises were somewhat lengthy, but of an entertaining nature, and passed off very nicely. The President, Mrs D. W. Loree, wishes to thank those that took part and assisted in the entertainment, for their kindness and assistance, also to the friends for their courtesy and willingness to respond at every call during the past year. The society will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Wilson this week Friday evening to enjoy a pleasant time and elect officers for the ensuing year. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present. By Order of Com.

MACON MUSIC

Temperance Concert at the M. E. Church next Sunday evening.

Mrs. Roberts is visiting her daughter Mrs. M. E. Harmon.

Frank Mills, who has been South for a few years on account of poor health, is making his parents a short visit and will then go to Mexico.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet at Mrs. Henry Miller's Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hendershot returned home Monday, after visiting a few days among friends at Moscow.

Roscoe, the youngest child of Chas. Morgan is very sick.

Hereafter the services at the M. E. church will be at 2 o'clock.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS

Wheat sowing and corn cutting seem to be the season's work. Fall sowing promises a good crop, and potato digging is now in order, the former plentiful, the latter scarce.

Mercury fell to 24° on the 3d. inst.

James Harmon lost a yearling colt last week.

J. W. Osborn is drawing stone from Tecumseh and is half way in the ditch.

Jeff. Philbeam had a horse choke on oats, requiring the services of a veterinary. By the way, a sure remedy for oat choking is to take a syringe or squirt gun that will hold 2 or 3 ounces, fill the same with water, and put into the corner of the mouth over the tongue, and squirt the water down the throat. It never fails.

Bradner Gould is in a critical condition from constitutional debility and will probably not last long.

Robert Reid's mother living near the hotel, got kicked over by a horse Friday, and quite seriously injured. The horse trampled on her, breaking two or three ribs.

There was a surprise party at John Southwick's Wednesday afternoon and evening in celebration of Mrs. Southwick's birthday.

G. V. Osgood returned to Adrian this week on jury service.

Mrs. Val and Mrs. Rebecca Davenport attended the Tuscola county fair at Caro, last week.

Mark Mills and Ella Whiting attended the Plymouth fair last week, taking in Detroit, calling on "Cub" Berdan, and returning this week. "Cub" is building a fine residence this summer.

There will be a change in the carrying of Lake Ridge mail after July 1st, at which time the mail will leave Lake Ridge daily, in the morning for Balch, Britton and return about noon. Bids for carrying the same can be sent in up to 4 P. M. Jan. 4. The necessary blanks and instructions can be seen at the postoffice. This change will make Lake Ridge a desirable mailing office, as it will connect with trains both ways on the M. & O. and Wabash. It will also be a good office for fresh daily newspapers.

Politics are warming up some. The three parties occupy about the same position today toward intemperance that the three did in 1860 towards slavery. The Democracy takes the Breckenridge stand, "No sumptuary laws." The Republicans that of Douglass' democracy, "Squatter sovereignty" or "local option," and the Prohibitionists that of the Republicans, "no farther extension" or "close up the saloons." All admit that intemperance is a greater curse to-day than slavery was then.

ONSTED ODDS

George Shepes and wife are visiting in Eaton and Genesee counties.

J. S. Kane was in Toledo Saturday, buying his winter stock of hats, caps, etc.

Mrs. E. L. Freeman and son, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting at her brother's, F. D. Averill's.

Thomas J. Gibbs and family, of Adrian spent last Sabbath with his brother Edward.

Peter Long has purchased D. A. Sickner's barn and had it removed to the rear of his hotel.

M. O. Aldrich is agent for a patent baby jumper. It seems as if this might be a good locality in which to sell them.

Henry Daniels has secured a graded school to teach at Ogden. We congratulate him and wish him the best of success.

Mr. E. Snow, of Morenci, has been visiting his son, J. Snow, and is a No. 1 fisherman. He caught a six pound pickerel one day last week.

Miss Alma Howes, of Raisin Valley Seminary, did not return to school on Monday, as usual, on account of sickness. This is the third case of sickness among the Seminary students from this place.

H. A. Verrier has been fitting up his store to be used by his wife as a millinery shop. Look out for new goods in a few days.

The Terrible Drain

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

Michael Strogoff

Mr. G. F. Staley, while playing the leading part of "Michael Strogoff," at Oakland, Cal., became so hoarse from a severe cold that he despaired of being able to continue his part. Two bottles of Red Star Cure entirely cured him. Does not nauseate.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence of the Herald.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2, 1886.

Washington is a city of conventions. So conveniently and centrally located, it is a delightful place to sojourn, and of such an even temperature at all seasons of the year, it is rapidly taking the lead of all other cities in this respect. Hardly a week passes the whole the entire year, that the Capital is not favored with some sort of a convention—scientific, military, religious, temperance, Woman's Rights, Masonic, or Knights of Pythias. Every year the number increases. It is becoming customary for all societies throughout the country, important or otherwise, to make Washington their rendezvous.

The question of having a grand National Drill here next spring has been discussed for some time. It is proposed to have the military display in one of the open parks near the Washington Monument, and a number of prizes will be offered. It is believed that the drill will attract too large a body of soldiers for convenience in military evolutions; and so a careful selection will be made, in order to include only the cream of the National guardsmen of the country. None but well recognized and regularly organized companies will be allowed to compete.

This has been an interesting week in Washington. There have been two conventions, a religious and a scientific; a regatta; and a grand assembly of Royal Arch Masons. These latter presented a very imposing appearance as they paraded the streets in their bright uniforms and were reviewed by the President. They also attended, en masse, one of Mr. Cleveland's public receptions. One enthusiastic young man exclaimed: "I am so glad to be able to shake hands with you. You are the first President I ever helped to elect." "Well, you are young yet," responded Mr. Cleveland, "You will have plenty more chances."

But what has deservedly attracted the most attention during the week, not only on account of its novelty, but because of the really remarkable character of the exhibits, has been the fair given by the colored people of the District, to show the progress made by their race in the last twenty years. Everything admitted to the exhibition is the work of negroes, and there is much that shows not only intelligent mastery of the principles of the trade involved, but also refined skill and taste in execution. Some of the work exhibited by the ladies would bear comparison with the best results attained in the decorative art school. The men are also well represented in the exhibits, their work displaying real inventive genius and mechanical skill.

A number of changes have been made in the Departments of late. The recently appointed Public Printer, Mr. Benedict, found on examining the condition of his office, that the sum of money appropriated by Congress to pay expenses was much less than the necessary amount. He decided to make extensive reductions in the clerical force, and 375 employes have been dismissed. The work of the Government Printing office will be facilitated by this change, as it is an open secret that in many cases three men were employed to do what would hardly be considered a good day's work for one, and there was absolutely no space for effective labor in the ever crowded rooms.

A large part of the President's time since his return has been devoted to inquiring about Federal office holders who have violated the order that he issued just before he left, to the effect that they should not engage in political conventions. He spoke in very decided terms on the subject, and has ordered a thorough investigation to be made of each case where an officer is charged with having taken any part in recent conventions. He said that the order was not given for mere effect, and he intended to have it respected, and when it was fully proven that it had been violated, the guilty person would be summarily dismissed from the service. Mr. Cleveland has also requested the heads of the various departments to furnish him a list of the names of the persons who were charged with having disobeyed the order. He believes that a majority of the supposed malefactors are in the postoffice and internal revenue service. The most palpable violation of the order, however, has been on the part of the Federal office holders in New Orleans to bring about the renomination of Congressman King. When speaking of the subject Mr. Cleveland is said to have expressed himself with great indignation.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

By Rev. Fred B. Meyer, D. D.

Lesson X. Third Quarter. October 10.

JESUS BEFORE PILATE.

John 18, 28-40. Golden Text, John 18, 38. Time, April 7th, A. D. 30. Place—Pilate's palace at Jerusalem.

The hasty meeting of the Sanhedrim in the palace of Caiaphas was illegal, both as to time and place. Although they had there decided that He was worthy of death they had no power to pronounce sentence. They adjourned till daybreak. Meanwhile those who had Jesus in charge mocked Him. He appeared there alone and apparently in pitiable plight. They expected a Messiah who would come in kingly majesty and with a grand army, and the contrast between their expectations and the Being before them was indicrous to them. At daybreak the Sanhedrim met in their own hall and consulted how He should be put to death. They had no power to execute such a sentence. They took Him over to Pilate who was governor of Judea, a selfish, cruel, scheming politician. The Jews would not defile themselves by going into the house of this Gentile on Passover day, and so stayed without. Jesus was in Pilate's judgment hall. Pilate went out and asked the Jews what charge they had to bring against Him. They tried to evade that responsibility by saying they would not have delivered Him up if He had not been a malefactor. This does not satisfy Pilate, and he tells them to take Jesus and try Him according to their law. Then they made accusations against Him which were wholly without foundation, and they complain that they have no power to put a man to death. This power had been taken from them by the Romans.

Pilate went back into the judgment hall and had an interview with Jesus. Looking at Him in all His loneliness and poverty Pilate asks, wonderingly, "Art thou the king of the Jews?" It seems incredible to him that such could even been charged against a man so utterly friendless and forsaken. Jesus asks him what he means. Does he mean this in the sense that a Roman would ask it, as of a temporal king? Or is it in the sense that a Jew would speak of Him, as the Messiah? "Am I a Jew?" asks Pilate in return. He assures Christ that he asks the question from a Jewish standpoint. In that sense Jesus is compelled to admit that He is the King of the Jews. He says that His kingdom is not of this world, or His servants would fight for it. It is a spiritual kingdom. "Art thou a king, then?" asks Pilate, amazed. It seems more surprising than ever. For this purpose, that He should be a king and a Savior, He says He came into this world. He came to bear witness to the truth. Pilate asks, "What is truth?" and without waiting for an answer he goes out to the people and declares that he can find no fault in Jesus. He then sends Him to Herod who is staying in the city, and Herod returns Him to Pilate mockingly clothed in royal robes, but he finds no fault in Him. The people, however, will not listen to reason and demand that Christ shall be crucified. As it is the custom to release a prisoner on festive occasions, they demand the release of Barabbas the robber in preference to Christ.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Christ is the essence of all truth.

2. We should be willing to bear ridicule for the sake of Christ, who Himself bore it so meekly.

3. The people chose a robber instead of Christ. What choice have you made?

4. What is truth? Seek it and you shall find eternal life.

A large crowd was in attendance at the sail boat race at Wamplers' lake last Friday. A number of fast sailing boats entered for the race. The winners were as follows: 1st prize, "Cora," owned by E. L. Wells, of Sand Lake; 2d prize, "Doc Hyndman;" 3d prize, "Will Hyndman." The last two named belong on Wamplers' Lake.—Clinton Local.

WHAT IS IT? AND WHAT IT IS.

Papillon Clarke's extract of flax Skin Cure, like many other inestimable benefits to mankind, was discovered by accident. The proprietor, engaged in the preparation of certain plants, from time to time noticed the effect of working in the pulp vats on the skin. If there was present any cutaneous eruptions, warts, blemishes or scrofulous symtoms, all disappeared as if by magic. After experimenting ten years it has become a scientific fact and a priceless boon to the human race. From giving away a few bottles, the demand has increased until the sale for the past two years amounts to 1,062,000 bottles. Large bottles only $1.00.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS

PHYSICIANS

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

M. L. BRIGGS,
UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Agricultural Implements
DEPOT.
C. A. STRAYTON

THE CELEBRATED AND GOOD COMFORT SULKY PLOWS

CULTIVATORS GRAIN DRILLS

WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING
OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "Double Chloride" treatment will cure the worst case of the habit in from three to five weeks of time without suffering. Unlike other systems, it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient while rapidly reducing his morphine down to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business and feels no desire to have it done. Also for the Opium or Morphine Habit. Send for Pamphlet on the Opium Habit. FREE, or for Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's new work, "Opium: Its Use, Abuse and Cure," sent free on application. It is the most complete and comprehensive work on the subject, and gives full information for self cure at home. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
DWIGHT, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS!
Cured in from three to nine days.

W. W. MARSH,
Proprietor of
Railroad Street Meat Market!
Fresh and Cured Meats constantly on hand.
GIVE ME A CALL

N. W. AYER & SON
ADVERTISING AGENTS
TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA
(Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.)
Receive Advertisements for this Paper.
ESTIMATES for SPACE and ADVERTISING FREE at Lowest Cash Rates.
Send 10c in stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL
TO ADVERTISE
JUDICIOUSLY
CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS
NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

SEXUAL

A MILLIONAIRE SPOONER

A Mile Long Of This Age.

Lady of a Good Performance.

Great Grandson of Lord Randolph Churchill.

The Earth Not Near Death.

PURE BLOOD IS THE ABSOLUTE NECESSITY OF HEALTH.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

SCROFULA.

DR. HOWARD STREET,
LOWELL, MASS., Jan. 15, 1889.
MESSRS. C. I. HOOD & CO.:
I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in my family for scrofulous humor with wonderful success, and am happy to tell you that it is the best medicine we ever used. I do not hesitate to recommend it to any one who is troubled with scrofula in any form, and would advise all to give it a trial, and assure themselves they will not be disappointed.
Very truly yours,
C. C. PICKERING.
(Coburn Shuttle Co.)

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA is sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

IMMUNITY from ANNOYANCE

Made only of the finest and best metal, with the patent lip, for the use of Confectioners, Grocers, Druggists, Saloons, Restaurants, Hotels, Families, etc.

Manufactured ONLY by
GEO. A. MACBETH & CO.,
Pittsburgh Lead Glass Works,
FOR SALE BY DEALERS.

MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 40 Years.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

DR. LA MOTTE'S

NO FEE!! UNTIL BETTER | ESTABLISHED 1851. DETROIT, MICH. | Merrill Block

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON in still treating with the greatest SKILL AND SUCCESS ALL

PRIVATE, NERVOUS, CHRONIC DISEASES

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

The terrible poisons of Syphilis in all its blood and skin diseases, completely cured. Remember that no one horrible disease, neglected or improperly treated, curses the present and coming generations.

All unnatural discharges cured without hindrance to business. No expense for cure. Both sexes consult confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken.

Sufferers from any chronic disease send History and Symptoms of your case. Cases declined which others have failed to cure. Office hours, 9 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private.

DR. CLARKE.

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, MICH.

For Sale by all leading Merchants.
WARNER BROS.,
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA.

K. B
KING OF THE BLOOD

The Most Energetic Purifier of the Blood Yet Discovered. Cures in hundreds of cases pronounced by the worst sufferers.

PATENTS!
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
C. A. SNOW & CO.

ARRD

ESHED 1851. DIT, MICH. | Merrill Rich

egular, Old-Established
ICIAN & SURGEON
d treating with the greatest
L AND SUCCESS
NERVOUS DISEASES
MIDDLE-AGED MEN

ENTS!
arks and Copyrights

B
THE BLOOD
ian Purifier
Discovered
ing Ammonia
Sarsaparilla.

BLUE STAR
TRADE MARK.

CURE

CURE

CERTAIN REMEDY For Fain

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

TRAINS GOING WEST.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

STATIONS.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

WANTED!
AGENTS to Sell a New and CHRISTMAS Books.

ADVERTISING
Contracts made for THIS PAPER, which is kept on file with KORD & THOMAS,
Advertising Agents, Chicago.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending articles with well established merit.

ing the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will quickly and surely and every affection of throat, lungs, or chest, and in order to prove our faith, we ask you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

G. A. Wright & Co.

Positive cure for DRUNKENNESS. Sent free. Address Dr. Marsh, Cincinnati, O.

—Ladies, a good time to lay in your supply of hop for winter.

—Hop tea is unsurpassed in being a positive cure for DRUNKENNESS. Sent free. Address Dr. Marsh, Cincinnati, O.

—Hop tea, made of Dr. Marsh's Hop Bitters, added to the water used in cooking, will quickly cure Toothache, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Sleeplessness and sluggish blood. Try it and send Head Ache pills. Sent free. Address Dr. Marsh, Cincinnati, O.

CONVENTION LEY is but a form of conceit.

The best on earth, can truly be said of Dr. Bigelow's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for piles, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonderful healer, satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25 cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

—W. R. Beach, formerly of this city, and Ypsilanti, where he has resided during the great part of his life.

Judge of a government by the people. Judge of a man by his deeds, and of a medicine by its results. The mild and true Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure, which combines the good qualities of all the best cough remedies, and at the same time is free from all injurious and nauseous drugs. Safe and speedy remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles, and in fact every ailment which requires a cough medicine. Price 25 cents and $1. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

—The Port Huron authorities will be prepared to arrest unruly visitors on the Sabbath.

—The great success of the celebrated Bitters of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure, which combines the good qualities of all the best cough remedies, and at the same time is free from all injurious and nauseous drugs. Safe and speedy remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles, and in fact every ailment which requires a cough medicine. Price 25 cents and $1. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

—A reunion of the First Michigan Engineers will occur at Lansing October 11.

FOR CONSTIPATION, Liver Pills or Torpid Liver, or Dyspepsia, Try the Complete Cure. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

—The Mount Pleasant Baptists are building a large church edifice.

WE ARE POSITIVE that Kemp's Sarsaparilla will cleanse and purify the blood and tone up the system. We have the confidence to guarantee it. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

—About four hundred Indians are included in Michigan's population.

"LABORED EXPERIENCE," without Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure. This sweet medicine, Sold by Dr. A. G. Rose, New York, Cent. Price 25 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

—Alma now will shortly have a new Bonneshield.

THE HOWELL BEST MAN is Treasurer as well as the manufacturer and others call at our store and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It cures quick and the old cough. Price 25 cents and $1. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

Simmons is the best stimulant, a tonic, a nervine safe for all to take.

This trying climate tests the throat and lungs. Trix keep the throat healthy the voice clear and the breath sweet.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

When in need of Sewing Machines, Lil Machines do not always bring hours.

Clerk, Contract Laborers and Day Laborers.

All recognized agents, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the best is that a single steady job lasts boundless. Wherever capable men are in demand, or wanted, or in demand, or wanted, or in demand, or wanted, or

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH MICH

A Few Items And Incidents from the Sojourn Excursionists

[illegible]

BIRTH-DAY REUNION

Tuesday, Sept. 14th, 1880, was one of those pleasant Autumn days, not as when the sun gives forth the oppressive heat of a mid-summer day, but rain enough had fallen a day or two before to soften the earth's surface, straighten the curled and withered grass so that out of the soft blue sky the orb of day gave forth of warmth enough to the guests of the occasion that brought together about sixty young and old from the adjoining townships to the aged Mrs Sanford Hanks, of seventy-six, who in spite of her tottering out in the morning, when pressing that hour on the [illegible] home and the drover turning about there back to the house as she thought it would be best to have her remain.

This was the 60th birthday of Eliza Kitchin, widow of the late Isaac L. Kitchin, who, while he lived was the active, well known, useful man in church and community, with his wife in Sept. 1848, came into Ridgeway Lenawee Co. from the Town of Ovid Seneca Co. N. Y. They then took up the farm where Charles Kitchin now lives. It was by hard labor, good luck, with no lack of management, through all those years from 1848 to 1880 that Isaac L. Kitchin and wife secured to themselves a valuable property, where they also brought up a family of children, [illegible] provided for when [illegible] and a [illegible] happy family, by whom we were served to-day [illegible] Mr. Kitchin [illegible] Mrs. Kitchin [illegible] heavy [illegible] while with her husband they were commended in the [illegible] with [illegible] of their [illegible] days, and through those years of hard [illegible] when the forest gave way to the [illegible] farms and fields as [illegible] before the passer-by [illegible] days. But while there were through all those years of forty or more of the [illegible] that people had to [illegible] the improved [illegible] of this day. Now [illegible] there to be [illegible] on the farm [illegible] all the way in their respective ages from sixteen years by twenty-four [illegible] one must have a [illegible] horse, a [illegible] harness and a [illegible] [illegible] the pastor and [illegible] [illegible] the world [illegible] of all [illegible] they can scarcely get [illegible] when forty years ago they could [illegible] [illegible] contrast with this day [illegible] go to church with an ox cart [illegible] or lumber wagon. In those [illegible] and religious interest [illegible] greater advantages that those of to-day enjoy, than there existed in Society during the days of our forefathers. If so, the Lord have mercy on succeeding generations. But to the day in question, it seemed as though from the spirit and activity that was generally entered into by all, that after dinner being duly past each one fell back into [illegible] there was the swing and the ball play without [illegible] that all were interested in having a pleasant and social time.

JAMES WHEDON

Britton, Sept. 20th, 1880.

"That tired feeling from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning, is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Itch, Prairie Mange, and Scratches of every kind, cured in half an hour by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Use no other. This never fails. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggists, Tecumseh.

DEMOCRATIC DISTRICT CONVENTION

The Democratic delegates of the [illegible] representatives of the county [illegible] met at Hudson last Saturday afternoon. Every township in Lenawee county was represented.

Yesterday [illegible] organized by electing Judge Stacy, of Tecumseh, President and [illegible] Scott, of Blissfield, as Secretary. A committee on credentials was appointed who reported a list of delegates entitled to seats in the convention. The following delegates were present from Tecumseh: C. A. Stacy, D. McNair, S. P. Hosmer, H. H. Kelsey, John E. De VanVoorhis.

The convention then proceeded to a nomination. Two candidates were presented, Supervisor Holdredge of Raisin and Supervisor Corbett of Blissfield. A ballot was taken which gave Holdredge 18 votes and Corbett 15 votes, and thereupon Mr. Holdredge was declared the nominee of the convention by acclamation. The following district committee was appointed: David McNair, Tecumseh; J. W. Bradner, Clinton; Lewis Smith, Deerfield; Isaac C. Mills, Macon; [illegible] Hyde, Nelson Cobb, Palmyra; W. J. Holdredge, Raisin; Chris Frever, Riga; Conrad L. Lowe, Ridgeway; Ed. Scott, Blissfield.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

THE SALOON

other saloon"—saloons, saloons, figure constantly and universally in this another fact. Conspirators met in saloons, crimes were distributed over saloons, armed regular assaults were [illegible] [illegible] years of saloons and [illegible] and time again with [illegible] [illegible] year. There [illegible] Spanish and French [illegible] [illegible] as to our saloons of the United States, and notably in all large cities. These saloon pestilences [illegible] [illegible] counterfeiters, [illegible] robbers and murderers. Nine-tenths of the law breaking in America is hatched in saloons, and the admitted fact is palliated by the axiom that saloons are lead factors for town, city, and even national election gerrymandering. The liquor counter is the scaffold on which a half hundred tentacles of vital American things are assassinated, and on which scores of home and public graves are gorged.

The Rev. George C. Haddock, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Sioux Falls, Iowa, was murdered recently while crossing the public street. The cause of the murder was a speech made by Mr. Haddock to enforce the law of the state against the saloons. The adversaries of the saloons had threatened to burn the under-lies of the saloon business was interfered with, and he [illegible] [illegible] Now it is [illegible] that the murder was perpetrated [illegible] who [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

MARRIED.

[illegible]

LITTLE LIST

[illegible]

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

[illegible]

OBITUARY

Addison Hardenburg was born in Roxbury, Delaware county, New York, on the 13th day of June 1808. His early days were spent there. His father was the owner of a store and gristmill, and in these young Addison [illegible] good business [illegible]

Upon arriving at this majority, his ambition prompted him to embark in business on his own account, and his first venture was a partnership with his brother Martin in the tannery business. The firm erected a large tannery at Catharine, N. Y., and [illegible] very successfully until [illegible] when Addison retired from the firm in the first of February, 1836. He was married to Miss Maria W. Brown, and settled on the farm adjoining at Roxbury. Immediately, thereafter he [illegible] in business at Pottersville, a town near his residence, and the same success attended this venture. He retired from active business life in 1851 with a good competency. In 1861 he removed with his family to Tecumseh and purchased the Hendryx place on Union street, where he has since resided.

He has been a sufferer from rheumatism and heart disease for several years, and was fully aware of his approaching dissolution. But the summons, although anticipated, came suddenly. On the afternoon of Sept. 23d, while he was resting in his easy chair enjoying a newspaper according to his wont, the Angel of Death rapped at the door, and without a moment's warning transported his immortal spirit across the threshold. He was alone but a few moments, and when found the spark of life had wholly fled. His wife had gone to Roxbury only two days previously upon a visit, and his remains were conveyed to that place for burial. They were deposited in their final resting place in the Roxbury burying ground near the place where he had spent so many happy years. He leaves a wife and four children—Louis, Clement, Linnæus, Lenawee—to mourn his sudden departure.

[illegible] a few years, his children, [illegible] was linked [illegible] with his [illegible] respect [illegible] he passed [illegible]

An Inquiry Answered.

A [illegible] Grand Rapids [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] after [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SPECIAL NOTICES

WANTED.—A saddle and driving horse 15½ or 16 hands high. Address X. O., HERALD OFFICE, giving age, height, speed, color, weight, gait, whether sound, where can be seen and lowest cash price.

LESSONS ON THE ... each. Enquire at Mark Russell's music store, or M. S. N. Hayden, Tecumseh.

BEWARE.—Young men and boys who have been trespassing by throwing stones from ... in rear of stores south side of Chicago ... window lights on building occupied ... notified to discontinue the same or they will be prosecuted commencing Monday. OWNER.

FRUIT TREES and Berry Plants for fall ... and spring planting. Shade and Ornamental Trees, Evergreens, etc. Send for Catalogue. SHERMAN BROS., Adrian, Mich.

WANTED.—Reliable and energetic men to sell our stock of Nursery Stock, now and ... Liberal inducements to the climate ... and finely located. To successful men we pay good salaries and expenses and give them steady employment the year round. Please ... required. Address ... NGY & CO., Nurserymen, St. Paul, Minn.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A five room house and barn, and 1 acres of land, will be sold at a bargain. Within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire of J. S. KINNEY'S STORE, Tecumseh, Mich.

George Smith, of Toledo, was in town yesterday on business.

Oscar Palmer's new house on Pottawatamie street is fully enclosed.

Remember Walter Thomas Mills' meeting next Saturday evening at the Opera House.

The W. C. T. U. holds its weekly meeting at the Opera House on Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

All persons indebted to Walter A. Wood for twine and extras please call and settle and oblige.

M. E. CONKLIN.

Mrs. B. L. Baxter returned Saturday from Toledo, where she has been visiting quite a lengthened visit with her daughter, Mrs. Winans.

The Ladies Social of the Universalist church will be held at the parsonage, Friday p. m., Oct. 8. All are invited. ELANA SHAW, Sec'y.

The attendance at the University bids fair to be larger this year than ever before. The expectation is that the total enrollment will reach 1500 before the holidays.

Henry Jones, our popular U. S. express agent, has gone into the bakery business, having purchased the stand of Wm. Keigh. If Mr. Jones keeps as good bakery as his predecessor—and he undoubtedly will—no one will have reason to complain of the change.

Hon. Geo. L. Yaple will address the people of Lenawee county, at Adrian, next Tuesday evening, Oct. 12. As this may be the only opportunity our people may have of hearing the eloquent "Boy from Mendon," there will doubtless be a large attendance from all sections of the county.

The ladies of the Tecumseh W. C. T. U., have arranged for an address by Walter Thomas Mills, on the subject, "The Relation of the church to Temperance Work," to be delivered next Sunday, Oct. 10th, at 3 p. m., in the Opera House. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come out and hear this talented speaker.

Next Tuesday evening, Oct. 12th, C. Quick, of Weston, Prohibition candidate for State Senator, will speak in Reform Club Hall, in this village. On Wednesday evening, Oct. 13th, he speaks at Pennington's corners, and on Thursday evening, at Britton. The public are cordially invited to attend these meetings, and hear what Mr. Quick has to say upon the temperance question from his stand point.

The opera house was well filled last evening to hear Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, discuss the principles of the republican party and politics in general. Mr. Blair is an able speaker and handles the subject in a manner that held his audience throughout the evening, showing up the iniquities of the opposite party and lauding the republican, and paying a handsome tribute to the people of Michigan in general.

Mr. F. S. Avery, formerly the proprietor of the Judd House, has purchased the lease of the Central Hotel, in Adrian, and taken possession. Mr. Avery has already made some notable changes and we predict that under his efficient management, that popular house will move forward in a new career of prosperity. A good table, and courteous attendants are sure to succeed in running a hotel.

SNEEZE, SNEEZE! Remember, and forget it not, that Dr. Bennett will be at the Liley House, Oct. 11, again, and he does cure those cases of Hay Fever and Asthma, not help, but cure, and has not found one he has failed on in the past four years. Go and see him and learn more of his work. Piles or Part time to cure, and no knife or ligature; no pain or laying up. Go and see him.

A regular meeting of the Farmer's club will be held the last Friday evening in Oct., at John Benedict's.

PROGRAM.—Inst. music—Rhoda Benedict.
Select reading—Emma Schroeder.
Essay—Kit Griswold.
Dec.—Garland Gillespie.
Singing—Grace Gillespie.
Question—Which is more advisable, to sell cream or manufacture it into butter? Discussion opened by a paper by Mrs. F. V. Horton followed by remarks by Mrs. I. H. Schroeder.

MRS. F. C. RECTOR, Sec.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., OCT. 7, 1886.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. A. Fisher was visiting at Ypsilanti last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tate spent Sunday at Ypsilanti.

T. M. Hunter, of Adrian, was in town last Monday on business.

Ex supervisor Marsteller, of Clinton, was in town last Monday on business.

Mrs. Wm. Ross was in Battle Creek last week attending the wedding of her daughter Maggie.

Thos. Elliott is building a new foundation under his house on Pottawatamie street.

An effort is making to procure Hon. Geo. L. Yaple to speak at Tecumseh before the close of the campaign.

L. D. Dewey and Son pay the highest market price for butter, eggs, poultry and all other farm produce; also timothy seed.

Mrs. N. F. Doke has left at our office a piece of raspberry bush containing about twenty second growth raspberries fully ripe. Also a few ripe strawberries. It almost makes one think that we live in California.

Mrs. Jacob Tallman, of Mount Morris, N. Y., is visiting her father and mother, Ezra F. Blood and wife, a few days. She will go to Lansing next week to visit Leroy Blood's family before her return.

We have received the second number of the Seminary Mirror, a neat little monthly sheet published in the interests of Raisin Valley Seminary. It is edited by Prof. Hathaway and is a credit to the institution.

E. G. Rawson has a neat little advertising scheme in the form of a revolving lamp shade, which he bought at the Chicago exposition last week. The motive power is the rarified air generated by an ordinary kerosene lamp.

H. Brewer & Co. are exhibiting one of their ice machines at the Chicago Exposition. D. R. Raymond is taking charge of the machine during the exposition, having a patent right of his own which he is also exhibiting. Albert Brewer was there a couple of days last week.

A musical entertainment will be held at the residence of Wm. Hayden next Monday evening, at which music will be furnished by the best local talent, and also by Knapp's band. Among the features of the evening will be a Gypsy camp and flower booth etc. All are cordially invited.

Mr. E. H. Custer, who has been spending several weeks as the guest of Lt. Elliott Gray, returned to his home in Monroe last Saturday. He is an enthusiastic admirer of both Yaple and Salsbury and he wishes to put in some work for them before election day.

Miss Mable Hayden is now prepared to give lessons on the violin, and desires to organize a class. She has become very proficient on that instrument and is well qualified to teach. Orders can be left at Mark Russell's Music Store or with Miss Hayden personally.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Phelps left home last Tuesday for Chicago, to attend the Triennial convention of the Episcopal church which began its sessions on the 6th. Mr. Phelps will remain over Sunday, and consequently there will be no services at St. Peter's church next Sabbath.

The residence of Mrs. Curtis received a small scorching last Thursday night. At about ten o'clock Mrs. Curtis built a fire in the open fire place and then retired. The fire place proved to be defective, there being no grate, and the partition caught fire in consequence. It was discovered by some of the neighbors seeing the light, and extinguished before it had made much headway, a large hole in the partition being the only damage.

The nomination of Horace Holdridge by the Democrats for representative in this district is one eminently fit to be made. Mr. Holdridge has served his township with distinction for several years as supervisor, and has been one of the most faithful and efficient members of the Board. He ran for representative two years ago and was defeated by less than one hundred votes. He is admirably qualified for the duties of a legislator, and the indications all point to his election this fall.

We inadvertently omitted last week to chronicle the organization of a Yaple and Salsbury club in Tecumseh. The meeting for the purpose was held at Justice Burridge's office, and a full set of officers was chosen as follows: President—Alfred James.

Vice Presidents—A. P. Coddington, E. C. VanVleet, I. F. N. Bowen, C. F. Patterson, John Boyd.

Secretary—Geo. S. Field.

Finance Com.—Geo. A. Kies, Harry Root, John J. Orr, Jos. H. Smith, Jehiel Davidson.

Executive Com.—R. McNair, Wm. Hayden, Geo. Kies, S. P. Hosmer, E. W. Benedict.

The club are already making arrangements for a public meeting to be held in Tecumseh at an early day.

Bert Morey, of Manchester, was in town Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Whitney will spend next Sabbath at her home in Hudson.

Mrs. D. P. Anthony has been seriously ill for the past two weeks.

Al. Munsell and Frank VanDuyne, of Manchester, were in town Sunday.

David Anthony of Augusta was visiting at D. P. Anthony's in Raisin last week.

Rev. J. M. Getchell is attending the Universalist State Convention, which is in session this week at Bay City.

Mr. W. H. Cleveland, the new Adjuster at Detroit, is moving his family from Adrian to Detroit this week.

The creamery company began active operations last Monday, and the big churns are now revolving every day.

Mrs. S. M. Smith started last Saturday on a visit to her old home in western N. Y. Mr. Smith joins her in Dunkirk.

H. W. Conkling is at the Chicago Exposition this week, taking charge of the Brewer Tile machine on exhibition there.

Mrs. Wm. H. Osborn and Mrs. S. T. Dunn, went to Chicago Tuesday to spend the week with friends and attend the exposition.

A number of young people from Adrian visited Tecumseh last Sunday afternoon. It was a beautiful day for a Sabbath drive.

Mrs. Thos. Cummins and son, Gus, returned from their eastern trip last Saturday. They enjoyed their visit at the "Hub" very much.

Mrs. A. Hardenburg and son Louis, returned from Kingston N. Y. Friday noon. Louis went down with the remains of his father, the late Addison Hardenburg.

R. C. VanAntwerp has some large and delicious Duchess pears in stock, which are prime. People who have a tooth for pears should try some of them.

Jacob Chlever's new house on the corner of Pottawatamie and Maumee streets is well under way. It will be an ornament to that part of the village.

Mrs. C. A. Stacy left home Tuesday morning for Elgin Ill., for a visit of two or three weeks with her son Geo. She will also visit friends in Chicago before her return.

E. J. Smith has resigned his position as editor of the Kalamazoo Herald and will return to Adrian. His place is at the editorial desk and he should not be long out of a job.

Mrs. P. A. Bangs, who lives on Quaker Hill, brought a raspberry twig into the office yesterday, that was filled with blossoms and half grown berries. They have several bushes in the same condition.

John Conlin, of Franklin, gave the HERALD a pleasant call yesterday. Mr. Conlin returned home on Saturday from an extended tour through England, Scotland and Ireland. He was gone about six months and enjoyed the trip very much.

Capt. Fred Wood left home yesterday morning for Dayton Ohio, where he will remain a week with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baird. He is rapidly regaining his health now, and a week's recreation will doubtless fit him for business again.

In our description of the Tecumseh Creamery last week we omitted to mention the fact that all the lumber and building material used in the construction of the building were furnished by the Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co.

Mr. Will A. Smith, late with Kies Bros. and Jas. Lowry, has accepted a position as traveling salesman for Eaton & Christenson, of Grand Rapids. His family moved there last week. We wish him success in his new venture.

In noticing last week the fact that Mr. J. S. Hendrex's sister was visiting him whom he had not seen in fifty years, an error was made in the names. Her name is Mrs. Susan Monroe. The daughter's husband whom he had never before seen was John Carmichael.

While at Adrian the other day we dropped into Lon. Haight's new insurance office. Mr. Haight purchased the line of companies held by Hill & Rich, and also a few represented by Mr. Hans. He united these with Fred Knapp's companies, making a large line. The new firm is Haight & Knapp, and they have a fine office on the ground floor in the new Wheeler block. Lon. still retains his position as book keeper for M. E. Chittenden. His old Tecumseh friends are glad to see him prospering.

We see that our former townsman, E. H. Merritt, has been nominated on the Republican ticket for sheriff of Medosta County. During his residence here he served as deputy for five years under sheriffs Cairns and Bidwell, and gave universal satisfaction. His holding the position for that length of time is sufficient evidence of that fact. He possesses first class qualifications for the office of sheriff. His old friends here in Tecumseh extend congratulations and hope he may succeed in getting there.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

The Brooklyn fair is in progress this week.

Hudson is threatened with the electric light.

[illegible] high school room at Clinton.

The new school house at Ridgeway is rapidly approaching completion.

Morenci is on her high heeled shoes, over the magnificent success of her fair.

Horses and cows are allowed to run at large in the neighborhood of the Adrian depots.

The Union Spy will be presented at Manchester next week for the benefit of the G. A. R. Post.

The Blissfield milkman loots it now. His horse had an interview with a barbed wire fence and is laid up for repairs.

The Congregational church at Hudson has bought 100 new hymn books. The pastor favors congregational singing.

The Morenci postoffice has become a presidential office and the salary hereafter will be $1000 commencing Oct. 1st.

The Southern Michigan Congregational conference will meet at Dundee next Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 11th and 12th.

Mrs. M. Adele Hazlett opened the Republican campaign at Blissfield last week. She is said to be a fine and forcible speaker.

A card at Kelley's Corners warns people "not to go behind the postoffice." Keep out o' the alley, and you won't get done up.

Hon. Geo. L. Yaple, fusion candidate for governor, will speak at Adrian on Tuesday evening, Oct. 12th. Let the people turn out and hear the "Boy from Mendon."

Will Gage was out hunting a few days ago, with a double barrelled fowling piece, when the left hand barrel burst, twisting the barrels and ruining the piece, but he escaped unhurt.—Manchester Enterprise.

The Gazette thinks that Hudson ought to have a "town-pump," if not water works. Morenci is ahead of our neighbor in regard to such a valuable metropolitan adjunct. All we need at present is electric lights.—Morenci Observer.

Peter Hyndman reports having a stalk in his garden on which he found by actual count an even hundred sunflowers. If anyone can beat that he would like to have him come to the front.—Brooklyn Exponent.

It will now be in order for some one to report a stalk with an odd hundred of sunflowers on it.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Peters left yesterday morning for their future home at Cleveland. During their year and a half residence in Blissfield they have won many friends who regret their removal from our midst. The business of the store will be conducted by W. H. Peters under the old firm name.—Blissfield Advance.

E. J. Smith, for several months past the city editor of the Herald, severs his connection with that paper this afternoon. Mr. S. has made many friends here by his genial and gentlemanly characteristics, and much to their regret is compelled by ill health to resign his newspaper work here. He goes back to Adrian.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

Two weeks ago, the authorities at the Jackson state prison discovered that three prisoners employed on the Webster wagon contract were digging a tunnel to escape. Among the men was Fred Davy, of Ogden township, this county, sent up for ten years, in 1882. The tunneling was allowed to proceed until Thursday when one of the men was quietly led to the hole and ordered to fill it up. He was somewhat embarrassed by the request, but he complied.—Adrian Times.

On Friday last we were called on by Mr. Wm. W. Tilton, of Tecumseh, a relative of Asaph Pierce, of this township. Mr. T. is one of the first pioneers of Lenawee and cut the first wheat ever raised in this county, we think in 1825. When he reached Hudson he was directed to Mr. Pierce's residence, and walked the distance, three miles and one half apparently without fatigue, notwithstanding the fact that he is 84 years old. Mr. T. owns a farm near Tecumseh, and works nearly every day, walking two and one half miles to and from his land.—Hudson Post.

Prof. Dial Satterthwaite has been spending the summer at the home of his brother, Samuel, near Tecumseh. He attended commencement exercises at Ann Arbor, where his daughter graduated in the literary department. At the R. V. S. alumni banquet he responded to the toast, "The old time students." He was the principal guest at the five years' reunion, and in the Sabbath school conference at the last quarterly meeting spoke upon the topic, "How to conduct a Sabbath school class." The last week in August he left for Canandaigua, N. Y., where he will again assume his duties as professor in a Seminary situated at that place.—Seminary Mirror.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

VILLAGE OF TECUMSEH,
COUNCIL ROOM, TECUMSEH, MICH.

Present—President House, Messrs. Cook, Bresie and Heck.

No quorum. Adjourned one week, until Sept. 27, 1886.

COUNCIL ROOM, TECUMSEH, MICH.

Present entire council except Recorder Wood.

D. T. Hall appointed Recorder pro tem.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

By Street commissioner for month of Aug. showed 20½ days team labor and 9½ days hand labor. Report accepted.

Marshal reported the serving of sub. with resolution on S. B. Addis, Aug. 11th, 1886. Report accepted and adopted.

Sextons report for the month of July, showing 4 interments made and 2 lots sold. Report accompanied by Treasurers receipt for $50.00 paid by Sexton, for the month of Aug. shows 3 interments made.

Report of Health Officer to the Board of Health showing no cause of complaint in the matter of nuisance reported by H. H. Wood. Report accepted.

Treasurers receipt presented for $7 received from A. James for the sale of 10 oil barrels.

Marshall reported the corporation taxes as all collected with two exceptions. Granted an extension of one week for collection until the next regular meeting.

Petition of Oscar Palmer for permit to build a frame house and barn on the N. E. corner of Pottawatamie and Ottawa streets. Granted.

The following resolution was then passed.

WHEREAS, No sidewalk has been constructed along the north line of Pottawatamie street, adjoining the south line of that piece of land situate and being in the Village of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, known and described as being the south half of lot number eight, of block number nine of Hoag's addition to said Village, as the same was required to be built by resolution passed and adopted by this Common Council on the 9th day of August 1886.

WHEREAS, Twenty days and more have elapsed since service of a copy of said resolution. It is hereby

Resolved, That the Common Council of said Village do hereby direct the Street Commissioner to build said walk according to the plans and specifications mentioned and set forth in said former resolution herein before referred to, reporting the expense thereof and his doings thereon at the next meeting of this board after the completion of said walk.

The following bills were presented, referred to Finance Committee and reported favorably and orders directed drawn.

S. W. Bordine, freight, $2.44; I. B. Richart, saw filing, $2.55; H. W. Stevens, services, $14.75; W. S. Comfort, brick, $8.25; S. G. Stacy, pratt g. $11.50; A. Packard, labor, $14.37; Dell Packard, labor, $23.62; W. Cook, labor, $6.25; W. G. Jordan, 21 days, $42.00; C. Brotson, team work, $2.00; J. O'Riley, team work, $1.50; Harris & Craig, well, $60.00; M. L. Wilcox, oil, $21.42; O. & M. C. & M. Co. Lumber, $35.89; Smith Bridge Co. timber &c. $42.50; A. James, freight, $1.28.

Adjourned.

D. T. HALL, Recorder, pro tem.

VILLAGE OF TECUMSEH,
COUNCIL ROOM, TECUMSEH, MICH.

Council met at 7½ o'clock. President House in the chair.

Present the entire Council except Recorder Wood.

D. T. Hall appointed Recorder pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The Street Commissioners report for the month of Sept. showed 15 days team labor by engine team, 4 1/2 days labor by other teams, 23½ days labor by Street Commissioner, 27 6/12 days labor by others. Report accepted and adopted.

Sexton's report for the month of Sept. shows two burials and 2 lots sold. The note of Thomas Lowry for $30 for lot in cemetery was presented and approved. Report approved.

Marshal's report in regard to the collection of taxes is as follows:

Amount of tax to be collected, $4025.35. Less 2 per cent on $4,25.00 collected in July, $85.00. Total, $3947.35. Less 3 per cent Marshal's fee for collection, $118.13. Balance paid James A. Boyd, treasurer, $3829.22.

The report was accompanied by Treasurer's receipts for the same. Report referred to finance committee.

The Street Commissioner reported the building of Lewis Addis' sidewalk on the north line of Pottawatamie street adjoining the south line of that piece of land situate and being in the Village of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, known and described as being the south half of lot number 8 of block number 9 of Hoag's addition to the said Village, at an expense for lumber of $15.00, nails, etc., labor, $1.62. Total, $18.13. Report accepted and adopted. A motion was made and carried, instructing the Recorder to levy a special tax of $18.13 on the south half of lot 8 of block 9 of Hoag's addition to the Village of Tecumseh for the above, and also ordering the collection of the same.

The following bills were presented and referred to finance committee:

W. G. Jordan, 23 days labor $47.00; A. Packard, days labor on Addis' walk, [illegible]; Whitenack, Beeding & Co., bills for Addis' walk, [illegible]; The Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co., lumber for Addis' walk $25.00; The Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co., lumber, $5.78; A. James, paid for fixing harness and freight, $5.00; H. W. Stevens, services as Marshal, $5.00.

Finance committee report favorably on all as follows:

W. G. Jordan, $47.00; A. Packard, 62½c; Whitenack, Beeding & Co., [illegible]; The Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co., $30.68; A. James, $5.00; H. W. Stevens, $4.00.

And orders were voted for the same. Council Adjourned.

DANIEL T. HALL,
Recorder pro tem.

Election stickers printed at the HERALD job rooms on short notice and at reasonable rates.

C. S. Burroughs, of Clinton, was in town yesterday.

N. M. Sutton has sowed 180 acres of wheat this fall.

A new instrument has been put on the C. T. line at Alvinza Whelan's in Clinton.

Misses Frane Emery and Frane Peirsol, of Adrian, drove over to Tecumseh last Sunday.

Albert Vedder was suddenly called to Chicago last Monday by the illness of Jason who resides there.

Mrs. Ann Boston and her daughter Mrs. Frost, of Iowa, are spending a few weeks among their old friends in Raisin.

Dr. S. J. Dewey and wife of Kansas city arrived here Thursday to visit their relatives and friends in Clinton, Britton and Tecumseh.

President F. A. Dewey of the county Pioneer Society passed through town this morning en route for the Raisin Pioneer meeting.

Geo. Jones is unable to manipulate the razor at present, on account of two of his fingers being out of joint—the result of playing ball. He departed to-day for Cleveland where he expects to remain.

Yesterday afternoon the M. & O. freight train that reaches Tecumseh about six o'clock jumped the track when about one mile east of Tipton. One of the iron rods that connects the brakes and runs under the car, dropped to the ground when the train was running at full speed and 15 cars in the center of the train were derailed, and scattered around promiscuously. No one was seriously injured and travel was again resumed to day.

We clip the following from the Battle Creek Daily Journal of Sept. 30th:

Mr. Fred W. Hoyt, of this city, and Miss Maggie L. Ross, of Tecumseh, were united in marriage at 7:30 o'clock last evening, Sept. 29, at the residence of Lyman Marion, in the presence of a goodly number of friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Mather, D. D. The hearty congratulations of the guests were then extended to the happy couple, after which all partook of a bountiful and elegant repast, which was followed by pleasant social intercourse. Numerous valuable presents were received which were all useful and elegant. Mr. & Mrs. Hoyt have gone directly to housekeeping at No. 34 Green street.

Auction Sale.

The undersigned will sell at public Auction on the farm of Joseph Dayton, three miles north of Ridgeway, on the Ridge road, on Thursday, Oct. 14, 1886, at 1 o'clock, p. m., the following property: Two work horses, 7 years old, yearling colt, 2 sows and pigs, lumber wagon, two horse cultivator, two year old colt, 2 cows, plow, set of rings, 300 bundles of stalks, quantity stove wood and other farm utensils. Terms of sale—All sums of $5 and less, cash; all sums over $5, nine months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent. interest.

EDWIN DAYTON.

—Fresh oysters 25 cents a can at the Star Bakery.

—Bread only 5c a loaf at the Star Bakery.

—Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

—Ladies will be pleased when they call and see the new and fresh stock of millinery goods at Mrs. N. R. Brown's. The fancy trimmings and feathers are superfine. Also, the large assortment of patterns for stamping, etching, and tinsel work, new and novel. Call and inspect her goods and get prices before buying.

—Call and get some of those fresh cookies at the Star Bakery Sea dozen.

—Remember, you can buy 4 pounds for one dollar cash of O. A. Slayton.

—Don't forget the fact that Mark Russell has a first class stock of Pianos, Organs and Sewing Machines.

—FOR WEDDINGS AND SUPPER DINNERS.—When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Hecht Bro's. White Patent flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

—Large stock of Wagons and Carriages at very low prices.

C. A. SLAYTON.

—You can buy a fine single or double Harness or a work Harness very cheap at C. A. Slayton's.

—Everyone is invited to look thro' our cloaks whether ready to buy or not.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Our dress goods are attracting a great deal of attention. Come and see them.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Buy your underwear at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—Every department filled with bargains in new fall goods.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—If you wish any painting, graining or paper hanging done, call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh.

D. HOLMES.

Closing Out Sale!

I Propose to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 23d.

In order to save moving, as I expect to be located at my new place of business, known as the American House Block, I will be pleased to see all my old customers. And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The New Davis Gasoline Stove!

A Four Burner Stove that actually boils quicker than any other three-burner.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd.

AYER'S Sugar Coated Cathartic PILLS.

Regulate The Bowels.

Ayer's Pills.

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The pure product of COD LIVER OIL of the highest quality and the Hypophosphites in delicate emulsion.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, WASTING CONDITIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, COLDS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS in CHILDREN, it is marvelous in its results.

Prepared and recommended by the best Physicians in the country.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Select Business College

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

Snuff in its application. Easy and effectual. Can be used by any person. Cures Catarrh, Deafness, Headache, Hay Fever, Cold in the Head, Ulcerated Throat, Bronchitis, Coughs, Sore Eyes, Lungs, Throat, Nasal Passages, Ulcers, Sores, Wounds, Piles, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, Chilblains, Frost Bites, Chapped Hands, Lips, Face, Sunburn, Tetter, Ringworm, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Scaly Skin, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Felons, Corns, Bunions, Nails, Sprains, Stiff Joints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, Sciatica, Lumbago, Pleurisy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Bleeding Piles, Leucorrhoea, Prolapsus, Ulceration, Inflammation, Pain, Soreness, Stiffness, Lameness, Numbness, Tingling, Itching, Burning, Stinging, Chafing, Chapping, Cracking, Scaling, Blistering, Scarring, Scabbing, Scurfing, Peeling, Blackening, Mortification, Gangrene, Erysipelas, Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

MICHIGAN FARMERS

HENRY L. STAPLES, Richmond, Va.

CURE FOR THE DEAF

Are you CONSUMPTIVE.

PARKER'S TONIC

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

DAUCHY & CO.,

ALL FOR 21 CENTS.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

MORTGAGE SALE.

LONELY.

Hast thou not felt the impotence
Of words and all expressive art
To give your soul's burning thought undismayed
To brand upon another heart?

Sadly unknown to those most dear to thee
Thou'st met angels, when they go
On errands to thy depth for souls
Hast felt far down the stairs was
[illegible]

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

[illegible]

The Great English Prescription.

Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

POULTRY, GAME,
BUTTER, EGGS,

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, Mich.

A CARD.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing
Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

THIS PAPER
N. W. AYER & SON.

CLINTON PAGE

CLINTON, MICH., OCT. 7, 1886.

W. S. Kimball is in Chicago

[illegible] week.

George A. Kies was in town Monday.

H. J. Rose was in Detroit Monday morning.

[illegible] is shipping an elevator from [illegible] to Saline.

George Fitzhugh and Miss Thompson spent Sunday in Clinton.

[illegible] family of Brooklyn, were in town over Sunday.

[illegible] Clinton, left for Kansas on Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Woodward went to Adrian last Tuesday to visit friends.

William Lambert of Ann Arbor is visiting his daughter Mrs. L. D. Pomeroy.

Misses Mina Muir and Frank Young went to Tecumseh the first of the week.

Chas. Johnston, wife and daughter, of Detroit are visiting at E. F. Muir's.

Andrew McDougall has taken quite an improvement in his house by raising the roof off of the back part.

Miss Maud Eccles of Tecumseh has been the guest of Mrs. Chas. Curtis for a few days.

Mary Mispelbaugh, who has been sick for some time, was considered much worse last Sunday.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Berg K. Sprague died last Thursday of cholera infantum, after at times of only a few days. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at their home.

James E. Harris is taking an extended trip through the west. He started last Wednesday to be away about two weeks.

The remains of Mrs. McFaren were brought here Monday from Adrian, and buried in the vault. The deceased was a sister of Conrad about forty years ago and had lately been living with a daughter in Adrian, at whose residence she died. She was over ninety years of age.

The old seats in the high school are soon to be replaced by new single seats. It will make a great improvement in the appearance of the room, besides being more convenient and comfortably. Some of the old seats are to be taken to the laboratory for the accommodation of the teachers class.

Harry Fisher has been very sick for several days with typhoid malaria. He has nurses and care for him in his sickness except an infirm grandmother, but the Knights of Labor of which association he is a member volunteered to attend to him. He has not yet left his room, or absented from employes of the woolen mill where he had been working until he was taken sick. Harry is a hard working boy and everyone's sympathy is aroused for him in his affliction.

There was quite a considerable array of ladies at the school meeting last Monday night, who had been aroused to look after the interest of their pocketbooks. So many more in fact, who had an interest in that direction than those who had a care for the education of their children that the question in behalf of discussion was again laid aside, and the meeting adjourned.

The Episcopal supper and entertainment last Friday night was a success in every particular. The young ladies who had the management and preparation of the musical program are to be congratulated on their ability in that direction. Each selection was so fitly chosen and so well rendered, that it would be injustice to mention above the other. The applause received should be sufficient to show that it was an appreciative audience of that first-class to a well prepared program.

Card of Thanks

Human nature falls as it evidently is sometimes in one of the features of the divine image in which it was originally created, and it only depends upon events to occur to bring the best impulses of our hearts to the surface. This has been verified in our case. We are most conscious of the generous conduct of my friends and neighbors towards myself and family during the fire which so nearly deprived us of our home and all our worldly goods. It is impossible for us to express our gratitude we feel, but we tender sincere thanks to all parties who so kindly received us in the hour of our sorrow and loss.

HENRY BREWSTER AND FAMILY.

CERTAINLY THE BEST.

Dandelion Clark's extract of the Eastern Cure, from all experiments, has proven to be the acknowledged superior of any remedy for similar purposes. Purely vegetable and scientifically compounded, it is absolutely harmless, yet effects cures where all other known remedies fail. In the most learned medical opinion, that it is a fever in each instance is evidenced by the fact that during the past two years seven million bottles have been sold. Positively guaranteed by Carrin, May Fever Cold [illegible] price $1.00.

Marquette will shortly have a new housing mill.

1871—1886.

Fifteen years ago last week Tuesday, Ambrose Welch and Kate Maynard commenced life's journey as man and wife, and it was befitting that they should have something to remember that day, a little out of the line of life's routine, so there assembled, per invitation at their home in this township, a few relatives and friends to help them celebrate their crystal wedding, many being detained at home on account of the storm, one of Winter's advance guards.

The guests arrived promptly to time, 6 P. M., and the afternoon was passed in social enjoyment.

At 8 o'clock came dinner, and it is needless to say that all did ample justice to the most excellent repast that had been prepared by the hostess.

After dinner was over, then came the presentation of presents.

W. B. Keyser formally presented them to Mr. and Mrs. Welch, and Rev. J. H. Maynard responded in a neat speech, closing with a short prayer.

Below we give a list of the presents and donors.

Hanging lamp—Mr. and Mrs. James Updyke, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Updyke and Mrs. M. Mudgett and sons.

Dress pattern—Father and mother Maynard, of Sparta, Mich.

Bed spread—Mr. and Mrs. A. Derby.

Water set—Mr. and Mrs. Childs Wells.

Cake basket—Mr. and Mrs. Wright Doty.

Fruit dish—Eli Abbot and wife.

Berry dish—Miss Ida Derby.

Pickle dish—Harlow Welch and wife.

Bread platter—A. Morseman and wife.

Toilet towel—Artie Derby.

Set individual salt cellers—T. C. Payne and wife.

Toilet towel—J. Wilson and wife.

Berry dish—A. Vandervalker and wife.

Celery dish—Miss Lillie Brown.

Pickle castor—Nelson Hinkson and wife, of Sparta Mich.

Berry dish—Allen Wells and wife.

Perfumery case—Alonzo Welch and wife.

Sad Iron—Mrs. A. Welch.

Set teaspoons—W. B. Keyser and wife.

Toothpick holder—Earl and Carl Updyke.

THE WHEEL.

We were favored with the Bicycle Edition of the "Springfield Union" published at Springfield, Mass., and devoted to bicycle news entirely. It contained fine descriptions of the races at the League Grand Meet held there last month, from which we clip its account of the one mile world's Championship:

Rowe and Wood to contest the final heat of the world's championship between promateur and professional. Rowe was the first on hand and the crowd let itself out on enthusiasm. Wood was also well greeted. The amateur photographer came rushing up to "take" the start. At the shot Rowe started setting a good pace and the crowd applauded. On the backstretch the wind caused them to ease a little. On the first lap Rowe led and at the lower turn Wood refused to keep his previous agreement of setting pace in the last lap, and accordingly they both loafed and loafed hard. On the upper turn they began to "hit er up," and coming into the straight both were digging. Rowe was setting pace, and at the last yards his head and feet went down simultaneously and he shot away from Wood like a flash and came over the tape leading Wood fully 10 yards and the spectators just laid themselves out with enthusiasm. It was a magnificent finish. The crowd, however, was not satisfied and there were cries for "Rowe! Rowe! Rowe!" Presently he appeared accompanied by Atkins, Wendell and Charlie Fisk. Atkins put his cap on Rowe's head which gave him a chance to doff it to the grand stand. Rowe was escorted to the judges' stand and was introduced therefrom by President Durker as the "world's champion." He received the congratulations of all and bore his honors with becoming modesty remarking that Wood didn't keep his agreement. Referee Bassett took a different view of the situation and fined the men $10 each for loafing.

Summary: One mile world's champion, final heat between promateur and professional.

	Half	Mile
Rowe	1	1
Wood	2	2

Time: Quarter, 34 1-5; half, 1:07 1-5; three quarters, 1:38; mile, Rowe 2:08 3-5, Wood 2:11 1-5.

Hendee's record is now one second behind the Englishman's, as American favorite pulled out a mile at Springfield in 2:07.

Bicycle Races at Brooklyn, today.

A DESERVED PROMOTION

The following is copied from the St. Louis Republican of Sept. 28th. Official notice was given yesterday of the promotion of Mr. Charles S. Crane, from the chief clerkship of the passenger and ticket departments to the assistant general passenger and ticket agentcy of the Wabash. Mr. Crane needs no introduction to the railway fraternity of the West, for no man connected with the passenger business is better or more favorably known, both as a man of high sense of honor and business integrity and as one possessing a thorough knowledge of the needs and requirements of Western passenger traffic and also of the intricate problem of rates and divisions. Mr. Crane has been in the railway service about twenty years, and the reason he has remained chief clerk so long is because [illegible] accept promotion that would necessitate his removal from St. Louis; besides his salary has uniformly been as good as a great many general passenger agents receive, and further, he has been fortunate to have such chiefs to work under as Frisbie, Blackburn, Townsend, Lord, Daniels and Chandler, which of them was a strong incentive for him to stick where he was. Mr. Crane's successor will be Mr. H. V. P. Taylor, chief clerk of the rate department, and his mantle could not have fallen upon worthier or more capable shoulders.

Charley's old Tecumseh friends will heartily congratulate him upon his promotion. We predict for him the same success in his new position that has characterized his previous career.

Prohibition Rally.

Walley Thomas Mills will address the prohibitionists of Tecumseh and adjoining towns, on Saturday evening next, Oct. 9th, at the Opera House. The subject of his address will be: "Must we have a new party?"

A FEW TESTIMONIALS.

"Mr. Mills is our little giant." Mother Stewart.

"He treated the Republican and Democratic parties alike, and both with absolute fairness."—Hon. Peter Hitchcock.

"Mr. Mills is a pleasing and forcible speaker and in every way qualified to represent Prohibition views."—Rev. A. B. Leonard, D. D.

"A very able speaker, thoroughly posted, both popular and profound, and a man who never fails to capture his audience." W. G. Frost, Oberlin, O.

Let all come: taxpayers, ministers, parents, laboring men, all who would use time pleasantly and wisely in getting light on these interesting topics. Admission free.

We copy the following from the Petaluma, Cal. Courier, of Sept. 22d. Mrs. Colvin was a daughter of the late Isaac Adams, and passed her youth in Tecumseh:

At rest—Last Saturday morning, Mrs. Mary A. Colvin, mother of Mrs. Geo. Zartman and little Lena Colvin, passed through the valley of the shadow of death into the great unknown. She had been ill for many months and suffered intensely. She was patient and cheerful through it all; never a murmur, but words of cheer and comfort to her loved ones fell from her lips. Knowing that she has passed beyond the smiling and the weeping to her heavenly rest, and that the long night of affliction has been changed into eternal brightness, her friends can but feel that it is well. Sunday she was laid to her long rest in Cypress Hill Cemetery.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALLS.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

ALLOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH

Gives Relief at once and Cures

COLD IN HEAD

CATARRH

HAY FEVER.

Not a liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from Injurious Drugs. Sneezing, Coughing, Discharges and Offensive Odors.

HAY-FEVER

Applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

ESTATE OF ADDISON HARDENBURGH

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Monday the 4th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Addison Hardenburgh, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Ann B. Hardenburgh, widow of said deceased, praying that Administration of said estate may be granted to her or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 1st day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

A. H. Bruson, Probate Register. 9x7

ESTATE OF STEPHEN HUNTER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 5th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Stephen Hunter, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of [illegible] praying that the real estate of said deceased be sold, if said petition described for reasons therein set forth.

It is Ordered, That Monday, the 8th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said Petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said Petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

A. H. Bruson, Probate Register. 9x7

ESTATE OF JAMES WHEELER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate Office in the city of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 5th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of James Wheeler, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Frederick B. Wood and Charles Burridge, alleging that they are executors of the last will and testament of Edwin B. Wood, deceased, that said Edwin B. Wood in his lifetime was a creditor of the said will and testament of said James Wheeler, deceased, and praying for the allowance of the final account of said alleged creditor rendered by them, and that the bond of said late executor may be cancelled, and for such other and further orders, as this court may seem proper.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 8th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

A. H. Bruson, Probate Register. [illegible]

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

MC COLLUM

Has just received received his full Fall and Winter stock, and is selling the [illegible] suits at from $10 to $20.

Ready Made do at $5, $6 50, $8 and $10.

OVERCOATS in every quality, size, price and color.

Men's strong heavy work pants, lined throughout, at $1.

Heavy all wool pants $2 50

Also large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, fine flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. Mc COLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

Live Detroit Paper!

THE DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL

[illegible] during the past [illegible] THE BEST EVENING [illegible] in the state.

IT IS THE ONLY AFTERNOON PAPER IN MICHIGAN THAT RECEIVES AND PUBLISHES THE FULL DAY

Associated Press DISPATCHES.

THE EVENING JOURNAL [illegible] TELEGRAMS [illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S [illegible] MARKETS [illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S [illegible]

THE EVENING JOURNAL [illegible]

ADVERTISING

contracts made for THIS PAPER which accept on file at our [illegible]

LORD & THOMAS,

Advertising Agents, Chicago.

COLUMBIA BICYCLES & TRICYCLES

FINEST MATERIALS, SKILFUL WORKMANSHIP

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE SENT

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.,

TECUMSEH, MICH

THE POPE MFG. CO.

597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.

12 WARREN ST. NEW YORK.

$1000

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE

FOR 5 CENTS.

SMOKE TE FERNO 10c CIGAR.

Address HANCHART BROS., Sole Agents,

130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO

RETAIL AT

R. MORRISON'S.

Now Ready! NEW FALL GOODS

Our Display of Novelties this season has rarely ever been surpassed west of New York, and consists of Diamonds and other Gems, Jewelry, Silverware, Plated Ware, Clocks, Watches, Artistic Bronzes, Porcelain, China and rich Fancy Articles, comprising a carefully selected stock of standard quality of goods.

Visitors to Detroit are cordially invited to inspect our establishment, which we are confident they will find both interesting and instructive.

WRIGHT, KAY AND CO.

Jewelers, Silversmiths, Importers, and Opticians,

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS.

DETROIT, MICH.

The BUYERS' GUIDE is issued Sept. and March, each year. 300 312 pages, 8½ x 11½ inches, with over 3,500 illustrations—a whole Picture Gallery. GIVES Wholesale Prices direct to consumers on all goods for personal or family use. Tells how to order, and gives exact cost of everything you use, eat, drink, wear, or have fun with. These INVALUABLE BOOKS contain information gleaned from the markets of the world. We will mail a copy FREE to any address upon receipt of 10 cts. to defray expense of mailing. Let us hear from you. Respectfully,

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

227 & 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty.

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

If anything in this line can be bought at the lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago St. Tecumseh, Mich.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

Your lines are where you put them—not under horses' feet. One Agent [illegible] in 3 days. Samples worth $1.50 to dealers sent 60 days in advance. FREE. Write for terms.

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII. NO 21. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 14, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1867

COME and SEE

The Largest and Best Assortment of

CLOAKS

AND DRESS GOODS!

We have ever shown. Do not fail to see our winter UNDERWEAR and SKIRTS.

Ask to see our Gent's Night Shirt at 75c.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

ON DECK AGAIN!

With the finest line of Dry Goods ever opened in Tecumseh, comprising

Cloaks, Shawls,
Dress Goods, Blankets,
Underwear, Hosiery, Etc.

Our Dress Goods department is running over with new and nobby things.

It is a pleasure to SHOW GOODS and QUOTE PRICES.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.
1200 MEN'S SUITS,
500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

D. B. DeWOLF, President. H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Shingles, Blinds,
Lath, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

A person that will find fault with as fine weather for this time of year as we have had during the past few days has no business in the west.

Such splendid moonlight evenings causes many an old maid to break her vows, and enjoy a promenade and imagine she is but sweet sixteen.

The Milan second nine will play the boys of the village a game of base ball next Saturday afternoon.

If the warm dry weather continues many more days without frost, the fly will hurt wheat some.

Mrs. M. M. Florence, who has been under the doctor's care for several days is up again.

John Pocklington is under the doctor's care at present, having had a slight stroke of palsy, and dropsy symptoms.

The Sunday evening service will begin at 7 o'clock, until further notice.

Mrs. Dillon of Grand Ledge, Mrs. Ase Smith's mother, is making her a visit at present.

Peter Swick went to Grand Traverse last week, on a prospecting tour, and to visit his brother.

Mrs. Chas. James of Des[illegible] Mrs. Coats during the [illegible]

Jackson of Hillsdale, a former resident of our village, is shaking hands and cracking jokes with his many friends here at present.

W. E. Barrett went to Toledo Monday to learn the photographic profession of Mr. Hilton.

Ed. Harrison took in the excursion to Toledo Saturday.

Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Wilson of Blissfield, spent the Sabbath at the Professor's old home.

Mrs. W. H. Arner of Raisin was the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. A. Wilson, Sunday.

Mrs. James Freer of Mason, Ingham Co., accompanied her grand daughter Della Freer, (who has been spending several weeks there) home last week and is visiting friends here at present.

Walte Thomas Mills was the guest of G. P. Waring Sunday night and Monday morning, on his way from Tecumseh to Adrian.

G. P. Waring, Dr. D. W. Loree and W. J. Clack went to Adrian Monday evening to hear W. T. Mills talk for Temperance.

Miss Belle Barlow attended the musical entertainment at the residence of Wm. Hayden of Tecumseh, on Monday evening and furnished some music for the occasion.

Quite a delegation went to Tecumseh Saturday evening to hear Walter Thomas Mills in his address "Must we have a new party," and on Sunday afternoon quite a number went to hear him on his subject, "The relation of the church to temperance work," and were very much pleased with his address, and pronounce him one of the finest speakers of the day.

Marion Dillon of Church's Corners, was the guest of Ase Smith and family for a few days last week.

Ira Smith and Mrs. Benjamin Waldron of Grand Ledge, are visiting Ase Smith and family at present.

On Friday of last week the school board purchased the seats and furniture for the new school house. Four different manufacturing companies were represented by their agents. The Battle Creek Co., by Cortright; the Thomas Kane & Co. by Robert S. Orr; the Sydney Co. of Ohio, by Ingman Swick, the Northville School Supply Co. by Babbet. After a thorough examination of each desk, the board purchased of the Northville Co. they giving the best rates and a very durable desk.

We had expected that the school at Ridgeway would be opened on Monday, Oct. 18th, but it having been necessary to make a change in teachers the board have concluded to delay the opening of the school until Oct. 25th. We would say to the district, as well as to those outside who are interested, that there will be no change in the arrangements, but that both rooms will be opened at once and thoroughly qualified teachers placed in charge. Tuition for foreign pupils $1.00 a month; three months in advance.

G. P. WARING,
T. H. TEMPLE,
D. W. LOREE.

ONSTED ODDS.

Mrs. R. L. Glenn is still very sick.

There will be a harvest social and fruit breaking at the church Tuesday Oct. 19th.

Onsted's second base ball nine came off second best at North Rome Saturday.

Frank Glenn of Chicago, is spending a few days with his parents.

Dike Daniels is plastering his house.

Mrs. William Stevenson has returned from a three months visit to California. She reports a good time and is much pleased with the country.

M. P. Wemple went to his old home near Cleveland, O., last Thursday to attend the funeral of his grandfather, who died at the advanced age of nine[illegible]

Mrs. Verger's new millinery store looks very neat and the ladies would do well to call and examine goods and get prices before purchasing their winter bonnets.

Onsted nine came out ahead at the Brooklyn fair, beating the Brooklyn boys. The score stood 19 to 13. The pitcher is a good marksman, he hit ven men out of nine.

While George Laur and Miss Orrie Inglesby and Mr. and Mrs. Riley from Canada, were riding last Saturday, his horses became unmanageble, overturned the buggy, and becoming detached from it ran some distance, finally bringing up in a door yard. The buggy was badly wrecked and the people somewhat bruised. Mr. Riley was the most hurt. He has been a railroad engineer for 31 years and says this is the worst accident he was ever in.

MACON MUSIC.

Lewis Cumburn went to Ypsilanti the first of the week where he will attend school.

Hettie and Edna McCloe spent last Saturday and Sunday with their parents.

Mrs. Joshua Kinder is visiting friends at Hillsdale.

Miss Cora Jackson is visiting friends at Hillsdale.

Last Monday morning Mrs. Lightfall fell and broke her arm. A few years ago she broke her hip from which she has never recovered. She is an old lady and has the sympathy of all.

Ella Cumburn and Blanch Mills, who are attending school at Ypsilanti, spent Saturday and Sunday with their friends.

Mrs. L. B. Collier visited in Tecumseh last week.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 30th, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends, Widis M. Fowler of Saline, and Ethel Pennington of Macon, took upon themselves the vows of marriage, at the home of the bride's brother, Mark J. Pennington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles S. Dutton. After the congratulations, refreshments were served to the guests, and were partaken of with a hearty relish. The bride's dress was of blue satin, and very becoming. Ethel is the youngest of the group of sisters, and the last, to speak the irrevocable vows in the old homestead. It has been the scene of many weddings. Three of the sisters, with families of their own are now living in the neighborhood. The pictures of her sainted father and mother hung just above where the young bride stood, and seemed to bestow their benedictions upon her. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler begin their married life with bright prospects of happiness and usefulness. They commence housekeeping at once. Numerous valuable tokens of esteem from their friends will form pleasant reminders to them of this occasion.

TIPTON TOPICS.

Beautiful weather for October.

Rev. H. A. Putnam is attending conference at Dundee this week.

Miss Katie Jenkins has been obliged to close her school this week on account of diptheria in the district.

There is to be a pumpkin pie social at the residence of O. A. Alexander on Thursday evening next.

Quite an interesting meeting was held at the Congregational church last Thursday afternoon and evening. The occasion being the ordination of Rev. H. A. Putnam.

The Terrible Drain

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabeling it to entirely overcome diseases.

Remember Gen. Cary's speech at the Opera House next Monday evening. He is one of the most brilliant stump speakers in Ohio, and a man of national reputation.

A Polite Dunning Letter.

In Ohio a merchant sent a dunning letter to a man who replied by mail: "You say you are holding my note yet. That is all right, perfectly right. Just keep holding on to it, and if you find your hold is weakening take Hilliard's Rheumatic Syrup and apply his Plasters, and you will find no good reason to maintain a strong healthy grip."

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

CORN AND WHISKEY.

The Milling World thus traces a bushel of corn from the corn field to the drinker's glass:

"The grower works one hour and two hours in raising a bushel of corn. He sells the bushel for 30 cents on his farm. He spends the 30 cents for twelve drinks, thus parting forever with his corn.

"Now follow the corn. It costs 30 cents, and is turned into seventeen quarts of intoxicating drink. The distiller receives 40 cents a gallon for converting it into whiskey. The corn in its changed shape represents the original 30 cents and the $1.70 for the distiller, making its value at this stage $2 00. Then the Government tax of 90 cents a gallon adds $3.85 to the cost, swelling it to $5.85. The bushel of corn now passes to the job sale men and wholesalers, and through them to the retailers. By the time it has reached the retailers it has been "reduced" in strength and increased in quantity by the admixture of water, and other harmful substances, so that its measure has at least been doubled, and the corn, when it begins to drop into the drinkers' glasses on the bar, represents about eight hundred gallons of drink.

"Allowing sixty drinks to the gallon, the official bar average, the bushel of corn will furnish 27[illegible] drinks, which, at an average of 15 cents to the drink, will take $40.50 from the pocket of the consumer. This, added to the $5.85 put into the corn up to the time of reaching the jobbers, makes a total of $46.35. Subtract the 30 cents which the farmer received for the corn, and the balance, $46.05, will show the amazing profits made by those who do not till the soil to raise the corn, but who multiply infinitely by scientific means the mischievous powers of the grain, and who from the hurtful multiplication reap easy, large and reliable profits. The original price of the bushel of corn is contained 155 times in the ultimate receipts from it. In this way the enormous wasting power of alcoholic drink can be easily understood. One can follow a bushel of barley, oats, malt or wheat from the producer to the consumer through the same channel."

Now take one step more. A pint of this devil's broth will make a man drunk enough to commit a murder, leaving the wife of his victim a widow, and his children orphans, thus inflicting a pecuniary loss upon the community of five or ten thousand dollars. To arrest, try, imprison and hang the murderer, will cost two or three thousand more—say ten thousand dollars in all.

Another pint of whiskey might cause a collision, an explosion, or a shipwreck, or some similar calamity.

If we multiply the ten thousand dollars by the sixty pints of poison which have come from a bushel of corn, we have damages amounting to $600,000 as a result of transmuting God's blessing into Satan's curse.

The nation which taxes, and licenses, and countenances this transformation to fill their coffers at the expense of the people's souls, will by and by be called to meet the Son of God, who shall "rule the nations with a rod of iron, and dash them in pieces as a potter's vessel," and the men who work this hellish transformation will get a statement of their accounts, and a correct balance sheet at the judgment seat of Christ, and they can then figure out the problem, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul, or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

BROOKLYN BALLAST

Among a couple of interest that have transpired of late, the lecture delivered at Union Hall last evening, by Mrs. Mary T. Lathrop is most interesting to political parties. Liberty, Somerset, Columbia, and two or three other towns, sent large delegations to hear a woman talk who neither scolds or treats her opponents contemptuously. As usual, a large number of listeners were women, but a respectable number of nominees and radical Prohibitionists escorted them, and the much squeezed balance consisted of the almost persuaded. I did not see one of those who deplore the party brawl out. She is indeed, very pleasant and neglects to mention in words that everlasting disagreeable thing called woman suffrage, but is such a good natured image of it in reality, that prejudice is forgotten while looking at her.

As the HERALD is not a Prohibition paper, it is its magnifest duty to warn its patrons against indulging in false security. Any woman can do miscellaneous work half by, but Mrs. Lathrop is wholly engrossed in devising ways to survive the ridiculous that what is governmentally and morally wrong cannot be morally right. Church platforms are so broad it is bad for a Christian's constitution to [illegible] a temperance plank, and it is just as dangerous for those who have made themselves a basis of promises, or any other old fashioned padding, to refrain from watching out.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

BY REV. FRED B. HARGREAVES.

Lesson 3. Fourth Quarter. October 17.

JESUS DELIVERED TO BE CRUCIFIED.

John 19, 1-16. Golden Text. John 19, 16. Time, April 7th, A. D. 30. Place—Pilate's palace in Jerusalem.

Pilate's wife had a dream, and it made such a profound impression on her mind that she sent for her husband and urged him to set Jesus at liberty. This may account for the hesitancy which he displayed throughout this whole matter. In the meantime Judas had taken the blood money back to the Pharisees when he found out the probable result of his treachery. They would not receive it back again and so he threw it on the temple floor, and went out and hanged himself.

Pilate was so anxious to release Jesus that he next ordered Him to be scourged, hoping that this would satisfy the people and that he can then release Him. Scourging was in itself a terrible punishment, the scourge usually being made of thongs of leather loaded with lead. It was no uncommon thing for scourging to result in the utter prostration of the victim. Then the soldiers led Him back again to the judgment hall where they mocked Him, weaving a crown composed of thorns. Pilate, still anxious to release Him, goes out again to the people, but they insist that He shall be crucified. Pilate again declares that he finds no fault in Him and tells them to take Him and crucify Him. He then went back to Jesus for a further interview, but Jesus did not answer his question. "Speakest thou not unto me" he says. "I have power to crucify you or release you." Jesus then told him that all the power he had was derived from God. Going again to the Jews to try and convince them that Jesus ought to be set at liberty he meets with a new cry from the excited multitude. They demand that Jesus shall be crucified, and claim that Pilate will not be Cesar's friend if he allows a man to live who sets Himself up for a king. This was a most powerful argument with Pilate. To be accused of treason to the Roman emperor was almost certain to be followed by trial and almost as sure to result in death. Pilate did not want to be accused at Rome of being unfriendly to Cesar, by admitting the claims of a rival king. So, while the charge was not true, in the Roman sense of rivalry, for Jesus never claimed to be a temporal king, it had its effect on Pilate. He went in and brought Jesus out to the people. Sitting down in a judgment seat outside the palace, he said to them, "Behold your king." This probably increased them more than anything else which had transpired. There stood Jesus in the mock garments of royalty, and He is called their king. Their rage increases, the cry, "Away with Him, away with Him, crucify Him." Pilate asks them if they would have their king crucified. He keeps this representing Christ as their king, urging them to be careful lest they would injure the royal house. In their blind passion they seem to forget their hatred of the Roman yoke, as they answer, "We have no king but Cæsar." Then Pilate washed his hands in water to symbolize his freedom from participation in the death of Jesus, but he delivered Him up to be crucified.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Do not hesitate to do right.

2. If we reject Christ He will reject us. The Jews rejected Him as their king.

3. All ages have been compelled to acknowledge that Pilate was right when he found no fault in Jesus.

4. Observe how Jesus bore the trial, and follow his example.

THE GREATEST DISCOVERY

Of the nineteenth century, cant only be said of Papillon extract of flax Skin Cure. Thousands testify to its wonderful curative powers in seemingly hopeless cases of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas and every kind of skin diseases. Mr. O. P. Algier, of Hartford, Ohio, tried everything he heard of or saw recommended, and suffered five years with Eczema until he found Papillon Skin Cure, which cured him. Large bottles only $1.00.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
Issued Every Thursday Morning
BY S. G. ISHAM.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9, 1886.

The preparation of annual reports from all the Government departments here in respect of this and other industries [illegible] with Congress [illegible] next year. The [illegible] of the annual report of the executive department is an interesting document. Mr. Colman's interest for Minnesota is [illegible] by the [illegible] department [illegible] Secretary and Commissioner and Assistant Secretary of Agriculture [illegible] of national [illegible] Secretary Whitney returns he intends to make a number of changes in his department.

It may not be generally known that of all the foreign legations residing here the British is the only one that occupies a private building. The other ministers with their suite rent floors of flats or board. The building where the British Minister resides is a big, ugly, looking old-fashioned [illegible] Senate on Connecticut avenue, the most fashionable street in the city. The old house, with the ground on which it stands, is in a certain sense British territory, and untaxable by the United States.

Minister Romero now intends to build a house to be used exclusively by legations from Mexico. The house will be located on I street, about four blocks from the Executive Mansion. The Japanese legation occupies a bright red brick building just across the street from the house Secretary Lamar has recently leased. The Chinese legation occupies one of the most conspicuous houses in the city. It is a rather tawdry and tumble down failure known as Castle Stewart. It was built for a private residence by the rich California ex-senator, but it was never finished, and had remained unoccupied for years. Of late the Chinese Minister rented it. Chinamen are very fond of parks, and when there is one near, they are always to be found there, looking in open eyed surprise at the unusual sights of this strange country. The Chinese of the Legation here are of the gentry and nobility of the Flowery Kingdom, and born in dress, manner, and appearance they are very superior to the laundry Chinaman so frequently seen.

Mrs. Cleveland, always accompanied by her mother, has returned to the White House from Buffalo, where she has been spending a week. It is understood the coming society season will not begin before Congress convenes, and will be very short.

A LUCKY CANDIDATE.

Albert Salisbury has reason to believe in the old adage, that it is better to be born lucky than rich. His political and business career has exemplified the maxim most emphatically. His present candidacy is no exception to the rule. The Monroe Democrat gives the latest incident, which will attract attention to his bravery and make new friends for him.

At Dundee recently E. H. Salisbury was driving with a friend and just in front of him was a carriage containing a gentleman and two ladies. The horses they were driving were spirited and going at a lively pace, which became thoroughly frightened at something by the road-side. Suddenly turning, it overturned the carriage completely, imprisoning the young ladies in the top, and started in the opposite direction at its utmost speed, when Mr. Salisbury jumped from his carriage and caught the horse by the bridle. It required all his strength to hold the frightened brute until assistance came and release the ladies.

Mr. Salisbury's hand was badly cut and lacerated and his coat torn from the elbow to the wrist, but he hung on until the carriage was righted and [illegible] driver willing to take charge of the team, when he drove to the village [illegible] stopped the team and he shook and went out [illegible] as though nothing had happened. Before he [illegible] however, the information [illegible] his courage for a time, but Salisbury during the [illegible] was much embarrassed as [illegible]

WHAT IS A MUGWUMP.

A remark by the Evening Post of [illegible] to the effect that Mr. John F. Andrew, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, had become a Democrat after passing through the Mugwump stage has led to some serious speculation by our Republican contemporaries. The Indianapolis Journal says of this [illegible] that the Mugwump is not the [illegible] Democrat. The Cincinnati Gazette says of Mugwumpery [illegible]

The latter [illegible] Nothing plainer than that Democrats are trying hard to show they are not [illegible] They are not candidates. [illegible] more [illegible] than the Democrats have [illegible] to welcome under the chrysalis [illegible] with [illegible] the [illegible] Democrat.

As a matter of fact the true Mugwump is neither a Democrat nor a Republican. Here and there a Republican, shocked by the scandalous record and evil tendency of his own party, leaves its ranks, and for a time appears to the unskilled eye to be a Mugwump, but he is not one. If he really desires to put an end to the tomfoolery he laments and to defeat the candidates he objects to, he sees that he must act with his fellow citizens having like aims and he accordingly joins the Democratic party as the only effective agency for accomplishing his purpose. He may not pledge it his eternal fealty nor absolutely approve of everything it does, but he works with it to overthrow the Republican party. Such appears to have been the course of Mr. Andrew, and he is therefore no true Mugwump.

But while we regret the tadpole suggestion, we congratulate our investigating contemporaries on having approximated to the truth. The type of the Mugwump in the animal world is to be found in the water. Go to any stagnant pond in summer and look closely at its waters. A multitude of curious little insects will be seen darting about beneath the surface. They are given over to wild and purposeless activity, and the reckless speed of their zigzag course indicates that each of them thinks he owns the whole pond. Furthermore, they have big heads. We do not know their scientific name, but the children call them "wiggletails." A close examination will show that a number of them have crawled out on any convenient bush or log apparently to bask in the sun. These are full grown "wiggletails," and they are sunning themselves in order that their new found wings may dry. New York Star.

The Fusion Candidate for State Senator.

Henry C. Hall was born in the village where he is now an enterprising and prosperous merchant, April 4th, 1841. His father was Dr. L. G. Hall, who came to Lanesville (now Hudson), in 1835, and who was, we believe, the the first practising physician in that city. During Mr. Hall's boyhood days he attended district and high schools, and at the age of 18 went to Cleveland, O., and entered the business college of Bryant and Stratton. After graduating he returned and became an employee in the general merchandise house of J. K. Boies & Company. He remained without until he removed to New York city. From 1862 until 1865 he was a pork and flour broker on the produce exchange in that city. From 1865 until the fall of 1872 he represented the wholesale tea house of Bininger, Boies & Co. of New York, in Michigan and Wisconsin. In the fall of 1872 he settled again in Hudson and engaged in the mercantile business which he still continues. Mr. Hall stands high in the estimation of his fellow citizens and has undoubted qualifications for the office to which he aspires.—Morenci Observer.

For years I suffered from loss of appetite and indigestion, but failed to find relief until I had taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine entirely cured me. My appetite and digestion are now perfect.—Fred G. Bower, [illegible] Boston, Mass.

The Morenci Observer raises its voice in lamentation and exclaims "Oh, that our fair could have been held this week. The Queers should have made peace with the weather [illegible] later.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Wiggins should now climb up on the shelf beside Curtiss. They would make a very pretty pair.

Mrs. Frank Chester, Peterboro, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to tell the story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town, that I have been troubled with kidney and liver complaint, so badly I could not draw my left without help. Now I am free from pain, able to do all my own housework, and owe my thanks to Prickly Ashes Bitters for the renewal of my youth. Ask to prove it completely all diseases and pains. Try it. Little cost, great good. C. A. Wright & Co.

Consumption can be Cured.

Not by any secret remedy, but by proper healthful exercise and the judicious use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites, combining the healing and strengthening virtues of these two valuable specifics in pleasant, palatable form. Prescribed by Physicians.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

The Great Cheap Remedy. [illegible] Boyd Baking Powder Co., N. Y.

The First Sign
Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weakness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for restoring tone and strength to the entire system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.
Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy, and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., D. D. S., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.
It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties in a perfect way. Today my health is completely restored.—Mary Hersey, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has put my organs of the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is without doubt the most reliable blood purifier we have ever used.—H. D. Johnson, 585 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
Prepared by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1, six bottles, $5.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.
AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.
Prescribed and endorsed by the Best Physicians in the countries of the world.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Closing Out Sale!
I Propose to Sell
FURNITURE
Of all kinds AT COST,
UP TO OCTOBER 22d.
In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers. And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.
Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.
J. S. KINNEY

The Utica Palace King
THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.
Steel Radiators, Sectional Fire Pot, Estimates Promptly Furnished. When in want of a heating or cook stove, do not forget THE GARLAND.
They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success. THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.
SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

GREAT
MOVE IN FURNITURE!
I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.
WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!
We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.—Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.
WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,
Wolcott, Temple & Co.,
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.
AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.
Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.
Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.
TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Toledo Business College
[illegible]
W. H. DAVIS, [illegible] Proprietor, Toledo, Ohio.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.
[illegible] can be cured [illegible] thoroughly [illegible] persistent [illegible]
RAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS [illegible] by one who was deaf 20 years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st st., New York city.

CURE THE DEAF

SEE'S PATENT Improved TUMONEO EAR DRUMS, Perfectly Restore the Hearing, and perform the work of the Natural Drum. Always in position, but invisible to others and comfortable to wear. All conversation and even whispers heard distinctly. We refer you to those using them. Send for illustrated book with testimonials. Address F. HISCOX, 853 Broadway, N. Y. Mention this paper.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Promotes a luxuriant growth of the hair. Restores the color when gray, and prevents hair from falling out. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair from falling out, and [illegible]

HINDERCORNS

The safest, surest, quickest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, Wet or Dry Corns, &c. Hindercorns, for ever stop the pain of corns, insure comfort to the feet, and make walking a pleasure. Hindercorns cures when everything else fails. Sold by Druggists at 15c. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

Newspaper Advertising.

DAUCHY & CO.,

27 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N. Y.

Make lowest rates on all newspapers in the U. S. and Canada. Established 1867.

Send for Catalogue. Parties contemplating a line of advertising, large or small, are requested to send for estimate of cost.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the [illegible] day of September, A.D. 1871, Alexander D. Mead and Lucy C. F. Mead, his wife, of Lenawee county and state of Michigan, made, executed and delivered to Fielder S. Snow, administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith, deceased, a certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, Michigan, in Liber [illegible] of mortgages, on page [illegible] 602. Said mortgage was duly assigned by said Fielder S. Snow, administrator, as aforesaid, on the [illegible] day of [illegible] A.D. 1871, to [illegible] which assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of said county, in Liber [illegible] of mortgages, on page [illegible]. No suit or proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall sell on the [illegible] day of October, A.D. 1886, at [illegible] in the forenoon of that day, at public auction to the highest bidder at the north door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county), the premises in said mortgage described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due upon said mortgage, with interest thereon, and all legal costs and charges of sale, including an attorney fee of twenty-five dollars, also covenanted for in said mortgage to be paid in case any proceedings were taken to foreclose said mortgage.

Said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to wit: Being land on the north part of the middle subdivision of the northwest fractional quarter of section nineteen in township seven south, of range one east, meridian of Michigan, and beginning on the east line of said subdivision and south of the cemetery, and running thence west so as to divide the flat land on top of point Ebenezer equally thereon; including west to center of Bean Creek; thence down said creek until it intersects Sunny side, now Pleasant street in the village of Hudson; from the West. And this conveyance shall convey all the right, title and interest of said parties of the first part, now owned and possessed in said premises, or any part thereof, and the said parties of the first part now own and possess the said premises free and clear of all other encumbrances, except the lien of the Hudson Savings Institution upon said premises, and the said parties of the first part now own and possess said premises free and clear of all other encumbrances

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH MICH [illegible]

THE RAISIN PIONEERS

THEIR FIRST ANNUAL REUNION HELD AT THE FRIENDS CHURCH NEAR

An Interesting Program Prepared—A Business Meeting and Election of Officers for the Coming Year

[illegible]

John Walch, Richard Harkness, B. J. Street, Lorni Kelley, Lydia Kelley, Mrs. A. B. Bradford, Wilbur West, C. West, Mrs. M. L. Lavard, Chas. Kayner, Mrs. Chas Kayner, Leander W. Hoag, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Chase, Mr. [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Fowler, H. H. Osgood, F. W. Chase, Helen Chase, E. M. Lewis, Mrs. H. J. Lewis, C. E. Bowerman, R. W. Haviland, Walter Jones, I. M. Bowerman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hoag, Geo. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fuller, Rev. L. M. Beldon, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Winship, Mrs. J. S. Chase, James Ash, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. White, E. W. Simpson, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Robert West, Geo. W. Hopkins, Nathan Stephens, [illegible]

The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year.

Wm. E. Dean and Hiram Colton were the oldest members of the Raisin Centennial, of Mrs. Frank Rector and H. D. Lee, who came out of Detroit a week old. A vote of thanks was given to the Raisin Institute band and to the ladies of the north school after which the old and turned for the year.

There were many interesting old "relics of exhibition." One was a glass pickle dish in 1876, owned by Mrs. Wm. Houghtby. A mortar and pestle over 100 years old was exhibited by Minerva Clark. A dilapidated leather pocket book, with the date "1785" on the outside, was shown by Wm. Houghtby. A compass over 100 years old by Mrs. Chas. Kayner. A mirror was shown by Laura Haviland, wife of Perigo Haviland, that was used by her great great uncle, a sea captain more than 100 years ago. At the close of the meeting the entire company gathered in the steps in front of the church and a group photograph was taken by an Adrian artist. The entertainment was a grand success from first to last and I will mark a red letter day in the annals of the Raisin Pioneers.

[illegible]

MRS. RECTOR'S PAPER.

[illegible] We were two days going from Maumee to Delta. We had no place of our own to go to so we went to Willard Fitzwardle's. He had a log shanty and a large family, but room was made for us. We arrived at night, and the next day I went to work to build a house. It was made of logs without a nail in it. The roof was covered with shakes held in place by poles. I cut a place in the logs for a window and door, but I had neither a door or sash, so we hung up blankets in the door when we wanted light they had to be lifted out of the way. We had the ground for a floor. When the house was ready I went back to Maumee for the remainder of my goods and provisions, as I brought along some pork and flour, then we moved in and commenced work in earnest in the heavy timbered land.

It was too late in the season for planting corn, but Mr. Trowbridge had been there a year, and had cleared land enough to plant corn. His came up nicely and was growing nicely, for it was too thick and had to be thinned so I went over and got his discarded stalks, and set them out in spots that I could dig up. I planted some potatoes by digging a hole with a hoe and wherever I could. The corn and potatoes both grew and it was by I had both to eat that fall. During this summer I cut off and cleared five acres and put it into wheat. I could not plow the ground, it was not ready for the seed by arranging with a large heavy A drag. The next summer I thrashed too basheels of wheat. Of course we had no thrashing machines, no barn floors, no even boards so it had to be thrashed on the ground with flails. I cleaned it by standing on a stump and throwing up in the wind which blew out the chaff and scattered the wheat. After it was cleaned I had [illegible] bushels and hitched on my oxen and started through the woods for Adrian to get it ground. I got to Adrian at dusk and opened the door of the only grist mill with "hello, Captain, I have a grist I would like to get ground." Addison Comstock owned the mill. He said, "I am full, and can not grind it for a week; you had better go on to Tecumseh." "Where is Tecumseh?" "Ten miles further on up north." "My oxen are tired out and I can't go any further, can I get it in?" "Yes, there is a little space behind the door." I unloaded and found a space on the floor large enough for two bags. I laid them down, then piled two more cross-wise of those and so on until I had them all piled up. I went out and unhitched my oxen and fed them with hay and corn that I had brought along, then I went back into the mill and began to help Mr. Comstock.

Says he, "Aint you going to bunk down with the rest of those fellows?" "No, I aint sleepy, I am going to help." We worked hard until about eleven o'clock when we had got things in shape to take a little rest. Mr. Comstock said, "now we can rest a little, let us bunk down and sleep." "No, I am not going to sleep." "Why, you are as handy about a mill as a miller." "Yes sir, that is my trade." "Well, can't you grind a while and let me sleep?" "Yes, sir." So he told me how to toll it, and then turned in. I tell you, I worked lively. I ground out what was in the hopper, and then put in my own grist. Mr. Comstock slept soundly, for which I was thankful. Near morning when my grist was nearly ground, I went out and fed my oxen, to have them all ready. When my grist was finished I thought I would waken Mr. C., and let him do his own tolling, so I went and awoke him, and told him my grist was ground and wanted him to toll it. He was considerably grouty to think I had beat him. "He tolled the grist but would not help me load it." It was just daylight now, and I hitched up the oxen and lugged my flour out and loaded it, feeling pretty good to think I had my grist without waiting a week or having to go to Tecumseh. When I was all ready to start I went back and said, "Captain, I am ready to start now, but I thought I would say good bye. I think you will remember me next time I come." "Yes, by the Almighty, I will."

Yours respectfully,
JOHN RECTOR.

[illegible]

BIRTHDAY REUNION.

Upon this 22d day of September 1886. It is truly a favored privilege, that children, grand children and great grand children enjoy in coming [illegible] presided over the spiritual interests of her family, under the guidance of God. Now 61 years 11 months and 4 days since Esther Carpenter, and Andrew J. Corey joined hands and hearts as one in the holy bonds of matrimony, at her parents home in Tompkins County, New York, Oct. 13th, 1825.

Patriarchs were [illegible] Whom we are gathered now, and on this day which closes the 86th year of her life and 60th of her religious experience, was born in Massachusetts, and with her parents came into York State, when six months old. As a family you have been wonderfully blessed. God in a mother whose life having so fully exemplified the gospel of Christ, while yet, found in your midst, full of years, with reason upon the throne of her judgment, in so great meekness, resting through faith in Christian fortitude with patience, simply waiting the Lord's time when. He whose right it is shall say to mother Coryell come up higher, "enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." "Sweet rest in heaven." If you are not all good children this day with whom must the blame rest, for, in your parents have you not had before you in the person of father and mother, by whom it could be said? "And they were both righteous before God walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless." Children, you have come home to-day. There are none of you who have had greater desire to live, to see and enjoy this day with you all than your mother and, while as a family circle, you are indeed joyful and hopeful, yet in that golden chain that holds you within its catch.

As a family there are missing links since one year ago. Yes, four of your family who one year ago to-day were living in their earthly homes to comfort and cheer others and the burdens of life are not on earth to-day, and, ere another twelve months will have passed away, much greater may be the number of the links broken, through death from this circle, but, if their's is a better condition to-day than your's, that is an heavenly then mourn not as those who have no hope. While thought, through faith in God, speaks to our inmost consciences, saying, while those who are numbered representing the missing links are four of whom it may be said it is well, however strange it may have appeared to be to you all, and mysteriously so, yet it was only broken each time by the hand of that God who is too wise to err and too good to be unkind. And those choice golden links as they were to you all, and more especially so to their immediate homes, have one by one been only taken by the Infinite Father's hand, and are being forged into that more perfect golden chain, which is in process of completion, until the last one is taken from earth to heaven. Then would God, that all there is of this circle here and elsewhere for whom prayer has, and is being offered unto God, be held in his service, that in the great and blessed hereafter, there be no missing links while so favored and glorious opportunity is offered unto all as a family, to secure that rest that remains to the people of God.

After the reading of an article of which the foregoing is a portion by the pastor, by whom it was prepared, and while all were quietly seated in the home of this aged Christian, she in all that calm quietude, characteristic of the noble woman, replied, Elder, would it be your privilege to pray?

After prayer, mother Coryell broke the silence in speaking, when she expressed her great joy in being permitted upon this day of meeting with so many of her children.

Here Ezra, the eldest son, rose and spoke of his great loss sustained during the year of a companion and a counselor, one who was always by his side to direct, and also expressed with much feeling and interest of his hope through Christ in one day entering heaven.

Next David rose to speak, and said he did not expect to tell his feelings but that he was looking above. "Heaven is my home."

Next, Addison, who said with his mother, he was glad to enjoy this day, and through Christ, he rejoiced in what was done for his soul, he also saying, heaven is my home.

Next, Catherine Cleever, expressing with thankfulness in being permitted to meet as they had, with each other and speaking soothing words to her afflicted brother.

Next, Loren, who said that he felt this was the grandest opportunity of his life, and that he had looked forward to this day with a great deal of anxiety. He felt also that it was a necessity to thus meet and reason together.

Next Sarah rose and spoke with much joy, that a dear mother was spared to be with them, she believed, it was in answer to prayer. Furthermore, words of sympathy with regret were offered by the members of this family in behalf of that dear sister and daughter Lucy Day, who resides in Minnesota, though not being permitted to meet with the family, upon this day which they greatly regretted; yet they wished kindly to let her know [illegible] were united to meet her in that heavenly reunion.

Seldom is it, that one closing the 85th year and the 70th in a Christian [illegible] forth in the life thereof, so much of the joy and real cheer of youth, that this aged lady furnished her guests with, as they were permitted to enjoy, as all partook of a well furnished dinner.

JAMES WILSON.

The Kalamazoo Telegraph says: "Little Tecumseh succeeded, by irrigating her sunburnt and sterile soil in raising a wagon load of celery this year. Of course the little burg hops up and shouts to rival Kalamazoo. Her fortune is made, you know, if she can only rival Kalamazoo.

Why, bless your dear soul, young man, our Tecumseh celery was raised this year on muck soil, five feet in depth. It had no irrigation whatever except what was furnished by the weather clerk and an ordinary tin water pot. The young man should study home geography. Perhaps he is not aware that Hayden's big flouring mill, Brewer's tile machine works, and the HERALD printing house, are located in Tecumseh. As to the quality of our celery, the best judges pronounce it far superior to the Kalamazoo article. The big village with an Indian cognomen will soon have a formidable rival in the "little burg" with another Indian cognomen, in the celery industry. The young man is at liberty to cut this out and paste it in his scrap book.

Mr. J. Howard James, manager Stuckert's Livery, 519 N. 6th street, Philadelphia, Pa., says: After trying all other remedies without relief, for a heavy cold on the chest, accompanied by a severe cough, I used Red Star Cough Cure, and in a very short time was entirely well.

The October number of the Gardener's Monthly is at hand, and as usual it is replete with information for the Gardener and Horticulturist. Send for a sample copy to Chas. H. Marot, Philadelphia.

ONE BOTTLE CURED HIM.

A. H. Thompson, Suckford, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled with Catarrh for years, nothing helped me until I tried Papillon Catarrh Cure. I followed directions, and with less than one bottle, I am cured." Papillon extract of flax Catarrh Cure will positively and permanently cure Bronchial Catarrh, Acute or Chronic Catarrh, also Rose Cold and Hay Fever. Large bottle $1.00.

Last Saturday was an old fashioned one in Tecumseh. The streets were crowded from noon until late in the evening.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the effected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worrying and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

The new writing shelf on the west side of the post office room, is a decided convenience.

Itch, Prairie Mange, and Scratches of every kind cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Use no other. This never fails. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggists, Tecumseh.

MARRIED.

SUTTON—WILLIS—Oct. 13th, by Rev. L. C. Rotter, Albert L. Sutton, of Ridgeway, and Mary Willis, of Dundee.

FOWLER—PENNINGTON—At the home of the bride's brother, Macon, Thursday evening, Sept. 30, by Rev. Chas. S. Dutton, Ethel Pennington, of Macon, and Willis M. Fowler of Sodus.

LETTER LIST

Tecumseh.

Remaining uncalled for in the post office at Tecumseh, Oct. 12, 1886:

Blanchfield, W.	Davis, Mrs. [illegible]
Hess, Burt J	Hooper, [illegible]
Land, James	Lafferty, Amy
Murry, Mrs. Hugh	Wyant, [illegible]
Wassler, Mrs. Mary

Persons calling for letters in the above list will please say "Advertised."

C. A. STACY, P. M.

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

Apples, ₩ barrel	75 @	1 00
Apples, dried, ₩ lb	@	[illegible]
Butter, ₩ lb	16 @	[illegible]
Barley, ₩ bushel	50 @	60
Beans, ₩ bushel	1 [illegible] @	[illegible]
Buckwheat, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	60
Buckwheat flour, ₩ hundred	[illegible] @	8 00
Beef—dressed, ₩ hundred	1 [illegible] @	5 00
Beef Hides	6 @	8
Calf Skins, ₩ lb	8 @	9
Corn in ear	[illegible] @	25
Corn—shelled, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	18
Clover seed	5 00 @	5 [illegible]
Chickens—dressed	[illegible] @	8
Eggs, ₩ doz	[illegible] @	10
Flour, ₩ barrel	5 [illegible] @	5 [illegible]
Hogs—dressed, ₩ cwt	4 [illegible] @	4 [illegible]
Hogs—live, ₩ cwt	3 [illegible] @	3 [illegible]
Hay, ₩ ton	[illegible] @	10 00
Honey, ₩ lb	[illegible] @	14
Lard, ₩ lb	[illegible] @	10
Oats, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	[illegible]
Onions, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	[illegible]
Potatoes, ₩ bushel	1 [illegible] @	[illegible]
Rye, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	1 [illegible]
Seed—[illegible]	1 [illegible] @	1 [illegible]
Timothy seed, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	[illegible]
Tallow—rendered, ₩ lb	[illegible] @	[illegible]
Wood, ₩ cord	[illegible] @	4 [illegible]
Wheat, White, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	[illegible]
Wheat, Red, ₩ bushel	[illegible] @	[illegible]
Wool	25 @	28

Fall and Winter OVERCOATS

FALL AND WINTER SUITS,

FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

The Largest Stock in Tecumseh.

Our immense stock of Mens, Boys and Children's Fall and Winter suits that we are showing has never had an equal in Tecumseh. We stake our reputation on its being in all respects the finest and best stock in Southern Michigan. Every Suit brand new, made this season for this season's trade. Bear this fact in mind. It is an important point for you as well as for us. Important to you, because it insures you a suit up to the latest style, and gives you the satisfaction of knowing that you are in fashion of to-day. Not of last season or two seasons ago. Important to us because our patrons are in the habit of securing new and reliable goods from us every season, and we cannot afford to mar and maintain our reputation. This stock was bought right and will be sold right. You can rely on the assurance that our prices are the lowest to be found anywhere. Give us a call.

NO TROUBLE TO SHOW GOODS.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

If you are going to Buy a New

SEWING MACHINE!

LOOK CLOSELY,

That you don't get a pine table and fixtures, with a fraction of an inch of black walnut to cover it up, instead of a solid walnut table, such as the

LIGHT RUNNING

New Home Company

USE ON THEIR MACHINES.

FIRST PREMIUMS EVERYWHERE.

SOLE AGENT FOR LENAWEE COUNTY.

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

WE Have ALL SIZES of

DETROIT JEWEL STOVES AND RANGES DETROIT, CHICAGO, BUFFALO.

Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

YOU CAN

WELL AFFORD TO LOOK OVER

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S

CLOTHING,

Before buying your fall outfit. We can give you the largest and finest selection of goods in this part of the state.

The Finest Goods, The Newest Styles.

You do not buy Clothing every day. When you do go where you can get the largest assortment and lowest prices.

We Sell everything a man or boy Wears, excepting boots.

PLAIN FIGURES. ONE PRICE.

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD.

ADRIAN, MICH.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TELEGRAPHING.—Parties contemplating building short telegraph lines can save money by consulting the undersigned, manager of the O. T. Co. Line wire, battery, supplies, sunders keys, message paper, etc., kept in stock.

FARM FOR SALE.—120 acres of land with the improvements belonging. One mile west of Raisin town house, for sale at a reduced price to suit the times, and payments made easy. Call and see it and the owner himself on the farm. SAMUEL D. MOORE.

WANTED.—A saddle and driving horse not over 10 years old. Address X. O., HERALD OFFICE, giving age, height, speed, color, weight, sex, whether sound, where can be seen and lowest cash price.

LESSONS ON THE VIOLIN.—50 cents each. Enquire at Mark Russell's house corner of S. Maumee and Logan streets.

BEWARE.—Young men and boys who have been in the habit of throwing stones from the alley in rear of stores south side of Chicago st. to window lights or buildings on adjoining lots, are notified to discontinue the game or they will be prosecuted according to law. OWNER.

PUT IT TREES and Berry Plants for fall delivery, planting. Adrian City Nursery. Nursery 2 miles north city, on Plank road. SPRINGMAN BROS., Adrian, Mich.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A fine brick house and barn, and 4 acres of land, will be sold at a bargain. Within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire at J. S. KINNEY'S STORE, Tecumseh, Mich.

Dr. Hause went to Blissfield last Tuesday.

Chas. Redfield, of Adrian, was in town Tuesday.

Walter Fowler, of Ann Arbor, was in town over Sunday.

The clover hullers have started out on the fall campaign.

The fire department was out for practice last Thursday evening.

E. E. Ames returned last Friday from a trip to Lansing and Eaton Rapids.

James Warren has been seriously ill for the past week, his trouble heart disease.

Kinney's new furniture store is receiving a coat of paint which materially improves its outward appearance.

Temple, McClure & Co.'s lumber office is now connected with the C. T. line, an instrument being put in there this week.

Elijah Wilson got home yesterday from a bridge building trip of ten weeks. For the past four weeks he has been at work on the new mill dam at Blissfield.

Landlord Patterson will please accept our thanks for those pies. With such pies for dessert it is no wonder that the patronage of the Lilley House is daily increasing.

Geo. W. Jackson, formerly of Ridgeway, now of Hillsdale, is visiting old friends this week. He is thinking favorably of moving to Tecumseh. Come along.

Mrs. H. Shepard, of Burr Oak, is visiting friends in town yesterday and to-day. She has been making a few days visit with her daughter, Mrs. Wallace Peters, at Blissfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Bryan and Wallace Bryan, of Everiss, Kan. who have been visiting relatives in Tecumseh and vicinity for several days, expect to start for their home to-day.

About 24 couple participated in an impromptu dance at Armory Hall last evening, the music being furnished by "the Italian band," and it is needless to say it was heartily appreciated.

A special freight came up the Jackson Branch last evening with twenty two cars, all consigned to Tecumseh parties. There were 17 cars of lumber, 4 of coal and one of barrel hoops.

The M. & O. road will run a cheap excursion next Saturday, Oct. 16th. Only $1.00 to Toledo and return; $1.50 to Detroit and return. The train will leave this station promptly at 9.05 A. M. Returning will leave Toledo at 4.15 P. M. and Detroit at 5.00 P. M.

The Pastor of the Universalist church announces the subject of his sermon for Sunday morning at 10:30 "The Love of Praise." Text, Matth. 6, 2, 5, 16. In the evening at 7 o'clock a Sunday School Concert will be given in the church, entitled, "Autumn Gleanings."

A gale of wind struck the village about an hour before we go to press which has been playing havoc around town. The spires of the Episcopal church have been wrecked and a large plate glass broken in H. E. Anderson's grocery store. It is likely that considerable damage has been done.

The marriage of Mr. Wm. Chiverall and Miss Lena Ford took place last evening at the residence of the bride's parents in this village, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives. The bride and groom are well known in this community, and their many friends, as well as the HERALD, wish them a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

Mrs. M. A. Freeman has been in the millinery business in Tecumseh for so many years that she knows exactly how to suit the tastes of the ladies in this vicinity. She possesses a special aptitude in her ability to satisfy all comers in both styles and prices. She has just opened a large stock of fall millinery and hair goods and is prepared to show the ladies something extra in these goods. Call and see them.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., OCT. 14, 1886.

What kind of weather do you call this?

Mrs. S. W. Temple and Mrs. Jno. Wood [illegible] this week.

The W. C. T. U. holds its weekly meeting at the Opera House on Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

John Whelan, of Detroit, was circulating among his friends and relatives in Tecumseh and Franklin last Sunday.

Mrs. John L. Whitbeck, of Hudson, is spending a few days in Tecumseh, as the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Whitney.

Mr. M. C. Moore, representative of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup Co. gave us a call Monday. The new Jackson enterprise is developing into a big institution.

Dept'y Aten went to Adrian last Friday and arrested Edward Finney, for stealing umbrella round town. He was brought before Justice Burridge, and his honor sent him to the county bastile for 15 days.

Burt Garlinghouse, accompanied by his cousin, Alice Garlinghouse, started for Bath, N. Y. last Friday, where he expects to remain with Grant Garlinghouse for several days. A letter from him announces that Grant is not improving in health as fast as could be wished.

The Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance company of Lenawee County, will hold its annual meeting on Monday, Oct. 25th, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., at Workingmen's Hall, in the city of Adrian. A general attendance is desired, as important business is to come before the meeting.

Z. COOK, Pres.
G. R. ALLIS, Sec.

Don't miss one number of Good Housekeeping with Catherine Owen's new serial "Progressive Housekeeping. Keeping House Without Knowing How, and Knowing How to Keep House Well." It will contain a daily housekeeper's programme, a thing never before attempted in print. Any newsdealer will take your subscription for a year. It is published every other week, for only $2.50.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the "Farmer's Advocate" of London, Canada, which appears in this issue. It is now in its 21st year of publication; is one of the most independent papers published, and the undisputed leader of Agriculture in the dominion. The farmers of Michigan would do well to send for sample copy and become subscribers. A perusal of this journal will be time well spent.

The annual meeting of the Tecumseh Library association was held at the Library Rooms on Tuesday evening last. The following officers were chosen for the coming year.

President—Miss Mary E. Keeney.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. S. W. Anderson.
Secretary—Miss Clara Hayden.
Treasurer—O. P. Bills.
Collector—Mrs. O. B. DeWolf.
Librarian—Miss Kate Anderson.

O. P. Bills, Dr. R. B. House and Miss Clara Hayden were re-elected directors.

Messrs. Rand, McNally & Co.'s Pocket Atlas of the World has reached its 300,000th copy, a degree of popularity which it fully deserves. It contains maps of every State and of every country of any consequence on the face of the globe drawn to a scale that answers the purposes of the general reader very well indeed. Facing each map is a page devoted to the subject opposite, giving a vast amount of extremely useful information in a compact and admirably arranged form. This useful work is sent to any address for 50 cents.

The next annual meeting of the American Missionary Association is to be held in New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19-21. The annual sermon will be preached by Rev. Alexander McKenzie, D. D., of Cambridge, Mass. The sessions will be held in the first Congregational Church, and will commence at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Some of the most prominent men in the Congregational denomination are announced to be present and to take part. The Association is a national, benevolent society. Its work is educational, religious and industrial, among the people of the South, white and colored, and among the Indians and Chinese in the West.

The Deerfield Star will twinkle no more. The last stick full of type has been set, and the last form has been justified. The sad event is thus chronicled by ye editor himself in his last issue:

"No more paper in Deerfield, ye editor will go to a new field, and probably create another sensation. Having become tired of newspaper life we have disposed of the Star printing material to Mr. Geo. Wealey, of Detroit, who has ordered it shipped to Ohio, where he will start a paper. In regard to our own future we would say that we shall probably go to Chicago or Denver and work at our trade. Thanking our friends for their assistance we bid farewell to Deerfield and journalism."

H. M. Temple was in Toledo yesterday on business.

An Italian band was making music on the streets yesterday.

James Wallace, of this village, has [illegible]

C. D. Keyes was in town Saturday on his way from Grand Rapids to Clinton.

De Stewart's Bride of the Prairie ornamented the tables at the Raisin Pioneer meeting.

Arrangements are in progress for a blanket matinee at Adrian, on the 20th inst.

We have received a communication from J. B. Pennington, of Mason, which will appear next week.

Alonzo Clark, of Clinton, was in town an hour or two Saturday on his way to Ridgeway. We were glad to see him looking so much better in health.

The regular monthly social of Beer's Post G. A. R. was held last Friday evening and a most enjoyable evening was passed. These socials are becoming a permanent and very interesting feature of the G. A. R. meetings.

There is a local telegraph line in the village of Clinton with several instruments. Would it be a good plan to unite this line with the C. T. Lines. It would increase the facilities for communication between the two villages and would be a great benefit to both lines.

P. W. Adams, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. B. S. Emmet arrived in town from their Deleware home last Friday. They expect to remain here about three weeks. The longer his family reside in Deleware the better pleased they are with the country and climate.

Our former townsman, John R. Clark, has a twenty days release from the Bureau, and during that time he will visit Kalamazoo College, Ovid, Owosso, Paw Paw, Grand Rapids and other points in Michigan. He looks for his HERALD every week and if he misses a single number we hear from it.

The W. C. T. U. held a very successful gospel temperance meeting at the Opera House last Sabbath afternoon. Mrs. N. M. Sutton presided. Mrs. N. R. Merritt read a selection of scripture, Bro. Burnett offered prayer, and Walter Thomas Mills gave the audience an hour's talk that left a deep impression. His speech was neither as long nor as humorous as his effort on Saturday evening, but it was just as appropriate to the day and occasion. All the towns adjoining—Clinton, Franklin, Ridgeway, Macon and Raisin were largely represented. It was a splendid audience to talk to and Mr. Mills improved the opportunity to the best advantage. Miss L. Crowdy presided at the piano with her usual efficiency, and Mark Russell was at home in leading the choruses.

Our prohibition friends held a rousing meeting at the Opera House last Saturday evening which was addressed by Walter Thomas Mills of New York. Knapp's band furnished some excellent street music before the meeting. The audience was called to order shortly after eight o'clock by M. P. Brown, who officiated as chairman of the meeting. After brief remarks by Mr. Brown and a prayer by Bro. Burnett, the speaker of the evening was introduced, and he delivered a powerful speech of nearly two hours in length. He is rather short and thick set in stature, but is a man of vigorous physique and large brain. He is a good talker and clear reasoner. There were many Democrats and Republicans at the meeting who had no fault to find with the manner in which he treated his opponents. To the prohibitionists themselves his speech gave unbounded satisfaction. It was the best political meeting that has been held in Tecumseh during the campaign.

The entertainment given at Wm. Hayden's residence last Monday evening by the young ladies of St. Peter's Church Guild was a more elaborate affair than was anticipated by outsiders. A flower booth and other stands where articles were sold yielded a good sum. The dining room was transformed into a veritable gipsy camp, where Misses Hayden and Root performed the role of fortune tellers with marked ability and satisfaction. A musical program of excellent merit was presented which must have been over an hour in length. The spacious parlors were crowded with an interested audience during the entire evening, and the young ladies reaped a nice little pecuniary harvest for their trouble. There were thirteen numbers in the musical program as follows:

Selection—Knapp's Band.
Vocal solo—Miss Agnes Woodward.
Duet—Mozart—Misses Rice and Hayden.
Vocal solo—Mrs. L. L. Bidwell.
Trio—Nocturne II—Violin, Miss Mattie Hayden; flute, Levi Hayden; piano, Clara Hayden.
Piano solo—Miss Belle Barlow.
Vocal solo—Mr. Mark Russell.
Selection—Knapp's Band.
Vocal solo—Miss Grace DeWolf.
Violin solo—Miss Manel Hayden.
Piano duet—Miss Jennie Root and Mrs. L. P. Tribou.
Vocal solo—Mr. Mark Russell.
Selection—Knapp's Band.

Supervisor James is in Adrian this week attending the sessions of the Board.

The Democratic postmaster at Onsted has shaved off his whiskers and now [illegible]

Mr. J. S. Hendryx figured up the ages of himself, his wife and his sister, the other day and found the [illegible]

The meeting of the Farmer's Social Club will be held at J. W. Benedict's Thursday evening, Oct. 28th, instead of Friday evening, the 29th.

Editor Kempton, of the Addison Courier is making preparation to speak on the tariff question. He is a mighty good fellow and ought to make a first rate stump speech.

Mrs. A. E. Gridley, of Washington, sister of J. D. Sholes is making a short visit with friends in Tecumseh. Mrs. Gridley now holds a clerkship in the patent office at Washington.

The Burnett House in Toledo is having a heavy patronage now, and the House deserves it. Under the efficient management of Mark Burnett the present proprietor, it is one of the most popular hotels in the West.

We are in receipt from Col. D. S. Curtis of a copy of the By-Laws of Potomac Grange No. 1, Patrons of Husbandry. In the list of officers we find the name of Col. Curtis as Overseer and Mrs. Curtis as Ceres.

"The Stories Grandma Told" is the title of a collection of stories by Mary D. Brine, which Cassell & Company will publish at once. They are Mrs. Brine's happiest vein which has proved so attractive to the young people.

A large number of Tecumseh people went to Adrian Tuesday to hear the address of Hon. Geo. L. Yaple. There was a very large meeting at Croswell's Opera House to hear the "Boy from Mendon," and he took the audience by storm.

"Silver Chaff" wheat is being sold in some parts of Michigan, at $15 per bushel, the agent giving a bond to take one-third of the crop at the same price. Suckers are being found right among the Bohemian oats victims, strange as it may seem.—Morenci Observer.

The season for large vegetables is upon us, and Chas. Hiscox came into the HERALD office Tuesday lugging in two mammoth potatoes of the early rose variety, the largest weighing [illegible] pounds. They were raised on his father's farm in Ridgeway.

Prof. Hammond went to Adrian Tuesday evening to hear Yaple's speech. The Professor has made a study of the tariff question, and is exceptionally well posted on the subject. He was charmed with Yaple's speech. As a free trade advocate he considers the "Boy from Mendon" second only to Frank Hurd.

The Republicans have a very fine banner stretched across Main street from the Second National bank to the Webber block. It is double, having pictures of Ex-Gov. Blair, Gov. Alger and Mr. Luce painted on each side. The pictures are each over two feet in length and are admirable portraits of the men. It is the most artistic job of the kind ever done in the city. The portraits were painted by L. F. Wheeler. He has also painted a very fine portrait of the next governor, George L. Yaple, which will be carried in the procession to-day.—Ionia Standard.

The Democrats of Tecumseh will hold a public meeting at the Opera House on Monday evening next, Oct. 18th, which will be addressed by Gen. Samuel F. Cary, of Ohio. Gen. Cary has a reputation in Ohio similar to that of Tim Tarsney or R. G. Horr, in this state. He is a brilliant stumper. He was an original greenbacker and labor advocate, but of late years he has affiliated with the Democracy. We can assure the citizens of Tecumseh and the surrounding towns that they will hear a strong and interesting presentation of the political issues of the day. Let the Democratic veterans turn out and greet the General with a crowded house. Our Republican and Prohibition friends are respectfully invited also, and the ladies, of course, will be welcome.

Matthias Raiser brought a vegetable curiosity to town the other day. It is a large potato on which is grown ten smaller ones, yet any one of them are large enough for cooking. The whole aggregate weighs 1 lbs. 2 ozs. and is on exhibition at The Local office.—Clinton Local. Throw it away, Mr. Local, throw it away, and come and see something at The Gazette office that will "make thy two eyes like stars start from their spheres."—Dr. Barkdoll has (with the assistance of a dray and derrick) brought to The Gazette museum five sweet potatoes, the largest of which weighs 7 lbs. 12 ozs., and the whole lot nearly 20 lbs.—Hudson Gazette.

It grieves us to prick a newspaper bubble of such brilliant color and huge dimensions, but the interests of the truth require it in this instance. The HERALD sanctum is now ornamented with a spring radish that measures four feet and a half from tip to tip and tips the HERALD scales at the sixteen pound notch. It was grown down in the garden of Jim Underwood's farm below town. People don't stick up there in this one more at the Low land farms.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

Judicious Advertising:

Creates many a new business.
Revives many a dull business.
Rescues many a lost business.
[illegible]
Enlarges many an old business.
Preserves many a large business.
Assures success in any business.

The students of the Marshall High School [illegible] High School Star.

The regular annual session of the County Board of Supervisors commenced at Adrian Monday.

Hon. [illegible] Chase recently received an addition to his family in the shape of twin members [illegible] casts a brave face [illegible] business. But the heart [illegible] wife that he [illegible] the heart [illegible] Charlie securing a [illegible] anything that will [illegible] which he [illegible] since [illegible] millions in [illegible]

"To what base use has this lot been put?" remarked a minister as he paused before the village park. "Yes, base ball," said the small boy with a knowledge born of experience.

After conversing with divers citizens, The Observer is impressed with the belief that all the candidates this fall, excepting possibly one or two, are going to be elected.—Morenci Observer.

It is said that only three families in town escaped the carpetbug pest, and they are looked down upon by their neighbors as being decidedly unfashionable.—Adrian Times.

Will H. Hayden, of Tecumseh, made the Exponent a pleasant call on Thursday. He came here to take part in the bicycle contests, but broke his machine on the trip over and was unable to compete.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Thomas Gimbert, of Adrian, says he caught a pickerel three and a half feet long in Wampler's lake. This may be so, this may be so, but Thomas should understand that fish stories are out of season. Go to, Thomas, and give the man with the tall cornstalk a show.—Hudson Gazette.

During the winter months, while farmers are expected to have time to sit by the fireside, is the harvest time for swindlers. Make a resolution now, and paste it in the crown of your hat, that you will sign no papers for strangers. It isn't pleasant to have them turn up as promisory notes, when you haven't received their value in return.

A lady in this village painted a plaque in the most exquisite manner and expressed it to a friend. Soon after a note of acknowledgment came in which the lady stated that "It is altogether too nice to use every day; so I only use it for a bread plate when we have company."—Brooklyn Exponent.

Major Cole, the Adrian evangelist, who cures diseases by the laying on of hands, is at present doing business at a faith cure near Chicago. A few evenings since the major undertook to cure Mrs. Julia Hart, of heart disease. The lady dropped dead while the ceremony was in progress, but that doesn't signify that the cure wasn't effected. She may have died from apoplexy.—Hudson Post.

Wm. Wood, of Lenawee Junction, a brakeman on the Lake Shore, was struck by the tunnel while standing on the top of his train at Toledo yesterday. His back was turned toward the tunnel and he sustained a terrible blow in the back of the head, which left him lying senseless on the car top. He was brought to his home and it is thought he will recover, although his injury is of the most severe and critical nature.—Adrian Times.

Mrs. Sarah Clutz, of Ogden, was in the city last week seeking counsel up on the matter of defending herself in a suit brought to recover on a $360 Bohemian oat note, which she was induced to sign. A man who will do so detestably mean a trick as to swindle a woman in a Bohemian oat deal, is unfit to live among decent people, and we hope the lady will be able to so clearly show the relation of the present holder of the note and his knowledge of the barefaced fraud, that he will be compelled to pay the cost of the entire proceeding.—Adrian Press.

A Hudson bookseller told his young clerk the other day that when a customer inquired for any book not in stock he should suggest some other on the same or relative subject, and make a sale if possible. A clergyman called and asked for a book entitled "Progress in Orthodoxy." "We haven't it in stock," politely replied the clerk, "but we have Progressive Euchre. Perhaps that would answer." He was pained to see the clergyman turn away without a word or even a smile and retire.—Hudson Gazette.

The tomato crop is short in some sections of the county.

All persons indebted to Walter A. Wood for twine and extras please call and settle and oblige.

M. E. CONKLIN.

THE SCHOOL SCRAP BOOK.

The first monthly examinations of the present school year were held week before last in the High School. Those students whose daily class [illegible] cent, and who have not been absent are excused from examination. There were a few favored ones of this class. The examinations as a whole were [illegible]

The regular rhetorical exercises in the High School, consisting of essays and recitations take place on Thursday afternoon of each week, beginning at 2:50 o'clock. Patrons will find this a good time to visit the school. Visitors are welcome at any time.

The attendance in the High School department is larger than usual this year, and the enrollment in the two directions is about the same. Forty pupils are enrolled in the A division and three in the B division.

[illegible] honor roll.

The following are the names of the pupils in the Tecumseh Schools who have neither been absent nor tardy during the month ending Oct. 1, and whose average standing has been 90 or above:

	Arith.	Gram.	Geo.	Spell.	W'd. Anal.	His.
EIGHTH GRADE.
Jay Morse	96	96			98	98
Robert McClure	95	92			99	98
Bessie Avery	98	99			99	98
SEVENTH GRADE.
Lulu Garlinghouse	92	92	96	97
Lottie Mudgett	100	100	95	97
Jane McCoy	96	97	95	97	97	97
Anna Osborn	99	99	97	96	98
SIXTH GRADE.
Linda Hall	90	78	92	91
Flora Paine	95	99	97	94
Bertha Bryan	94	95	96	100
Rosa Gordon	97	96	98	95
Mabel VanderCook	97	96	99	95
Harvey Welling	95	98	92	94
Gertrude Howell	94	94	93	92
Georgie Hampton	90	98	99	95
Edith McClure	90	90	95	92
FIFTH GRADE.
Charlie Williamson	99	99	100	95
Ada Erskine	97	100	90	96
Teenie Owens	91	95	97	94
Eddie Smalldge	97	99	97	93
Dora Hess	94	99	90	93
Etta Pennoyer	93	96	96	95
Rosy Wilson	97	99	100	92
Jennie McClure	96	92	99	92
FOURTH GRADE.
Milton Jenkins	93		96
Tracy Chalister	91		99
Otha Hodges	98		95
Alle Temple	95		90
Frank Clinton	97		94

—When you want Dress Making or Sewing of any kind done cheap, call on Miss A. LOWRY, first house west of D. T. Hall's on Logan street.

A Card to the Ladies.

I would respectfully say to those I have canvassed that I am agent for Scott's Electric Corsets. Also some of my rubber goods have come down to one dollar, in the reach of all. Orders solicited by mail.

MRS. L. HOLMES.

—Fresh Candies at R. C. Van Antwerp's.

—Fresh Dates at R. C. Van Antwerp's.

—Joe Sage, of Macon, has opened the campaign with his patent Champion Weather Strip, one of the most durable strips in the market for the exclusion of cold, rain and dust. Strip your doors and windows as it saves fuel, and adds comfort to your home. The Champion strip is waterproof against all driving rain storms. Orders may be left at the HERALD office.

Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

Ladies will be pleased when they call and see the new and fresh stock of millinery goods at Mrs. N. R. Browns. The fancy trimmings and feathers are superfine. Also the large assortment of patterns for stamping, etching, and tinsel work, new and novel. Call and inspect her goods and get prices before buying.

—Fruits of all kinds at R. C. Van Antwerp's.

—Fresh candies, ripe fruits, lemons, oranges, bananas, etc., received daily, at R. C. Van Antwerp's.

—Call and get some of those fresh cookies at the Star Bakery Sem dozen.

—Don't forget the fact that Mark Russell has a first class stock of Pianos, Organs and Sewing Machines.

FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Heck Bro's. White Foam flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

—Fresh Oysters 25 cents a can at the Star Bakery.

—Everyone is invited to look thro' our stocks whether ready to buy or not. Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Bread only 7c a loaf at the Star Bakery.

—Buy your underwear at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—Every department filled with bargains in new fall goods. Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—If you [illegible] paper hanging come call on Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's. Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

—Our dress goods are attracting a great deal of attention. Come and see them. Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS.

FRED B. WOOD, ATTORNEY AT LAW. Collections and conveyancing promptly attended to. Office in Kirkham's Block, Tecumseh, Mich.

C. A. STACY, Attorney at Law and Solicitor in Chancery. Office in Herald Block, Tecumseh, Mich.

PHYSICIANS.

R. R. HOUSE, M.D.—Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Office over Liney, Bidwell & Co's parlors, Chicago st. Residence corner Pearl and Logan sts.

C. M. WOODWARD, M.D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office at Residence, Chicago St.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TECUMSEH FOUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS, Herrick & Co., Proprietors. Manufacturers of Steam Engines, Mill Gearing and General Machinery. Also manufacture of Tilley Improved Phoenix Drain Tile Machine, Wood's Brick Machinery.

LEWIS TILLEY, Pres. LESTER P. TILLEY, Cash'r. TILLEY, BIDWELL & CO'S

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

Transact general Banking business. Money loaned on long time on Real Estate Security.

Lewis Tilley, President. A. S. Strong, Cashier. E. J. Balwin, Asst. Cashier. Lester P. Tilley.

DAVE MACHAM, Fashionable Barber and Hair Dresser. Shop on Railroad st.

JAMES A. CURRY, Fashionable Barber and Hair Dresser, shop in Richards block, Chicago st.

CHAS. A. WALDRON, Veterinary Surgeon. All orders promptly attended to either by mail or in person. Office at residence, one-half mile southwest of Tecumseh.

HOTELS.

BURNETT HOUSE, Toledo, Ohio. This house has recently undergone a complete change throughout, with elevator and other modern improvements, and is a favorite resort for the travelling public. Rates $2.00 per day. Special rates to families by the week. Omnibus to and from all trains. Free coach to house.

CENTRAL HOTEL, ADRIAN, MICH. D. N. AVERY, MANAGER. This house has undergone a complete change throughout, and is now one of the best hotels in southern Michigan. Rates $2 per day. Special rates to families by the week. Omnibus to and from all trains.

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN,

Dealer in High Class Thoroughbred Poultry. Eggs for hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular, Free.

Agric'ltural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

is prepared to supply the trade with the following goods, which he warrants to be the best of their respective kinds:

SOUTH BEND, BURCH, WIARD, GALE, OLIVER. PLOWS.

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow, ACME PULVERIZING HARROW.

CULTIVATORS { Elwood, New Racine, Albion, Buckeye.

Buckeye, Superior, McBride, Roller. GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "Double Chloride of Gold" will cure the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks (at home) without suffering. Unlike other so-called "painless" cures, it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient, while rapidly reducing his morphine down to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business and enjoy life as he has not done since he began the Opium or Morphine Habit. Send for Keeley on the Opium Habit, FREE, or for Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's new work, "Opium: Its Use, Abuse and Cure," sent free on application. It contains the opinions of more physicians of eminence on the subject, and gives full proof, which is for sale at cost. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO., DEKALB, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS!

Cured in from three to five days.

W. W. MARSH,

Proprietor of

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL

N. W. AYER & SON

ADVERTISING AGENTS

TIMES BUILDING PHILADELPHIA

Cor. Chestnut and Eighth Sts.

Receive Advertisements for all Publications at Lowest Cash Rates.

ESTIMATES FREE

Send 10c in stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL

TO ADVERTISERS

Containing Lists of Newspapers, and much other information relating to advertising, JUDICIOUSLY

CONSULT LORD AND THOMAS

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

SEXUAL

Weakness, Impotence, Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc. Illustrated Pamphlet FREE. Address Hewitt Medical Co., Detroit, Mich.

UNDER SENTENCE.

Under fire—in the midst of battle, he with action intoxicated with noise, the yell [illegible] the roar of musketry, the whiz of bullets, whir of balls, and clatter of shells, the cheers of victors, the rush for position, and desperate holding the human passion of spiritual revenge and the roused taste for blood and carnage innate in the animal man—under courage. Many a man stands there because he is afraid to run.

I remember in the battle of Port Republic—in the three-cornered fighting around Cross Keys, down in the valley of Virginia—one of our regiments, W. L. Jackson's old Thirty-first Virginia, was one of three ordered to charge, and take a battery of nine pieces supported by five regiments of infantry and some of the choicest, most accurate sharpshooters we had handy. By some mistake in the order the charge came only to our regiment, now—decimated by fighting and forced marches—to 224 men.

But we traveled on through that smoke-hell on our bellies, yard to shoot drop, fire, load, and fire again, to advance. And every man who we rose before commanded us to rise and move. We neared the fort, and kept on, though we had lost half our men, and our colonel was down, and our lieutenant-colonel was down, and our major was down, and our adjutant was down, and our captains were down, and our lieutenants were down, and our sergeants were down, and our corporals were down, and we had lost our colors, and our men were falling back, and the battery was not taken, and we had not taken it, and we had not even come near taking it, and we had not even thought of taking it, when the order came to us to charge and take that battery, and we did it, and we did it because we had to do it, because we were there to do it, because we had been ordered to do it, because we had been ordered to do it because we had been ordered to do it, because we had been ordered to do it, because we had been ordered to do it,

ARKE

DOIT, MICH. } Bloo

Regular, Old-Establishe

SICIAN & SURGEO

ll treating with the greatest

LL AND SUCCESS

LY

NERVOUS AND DISEASES

MIDDLE-AGED MEN

their own acts of Impru period of life have rough ll effects following ope n regression of the ha it the celebrated Dr. Clarke nervous diseases, such as nfidity and loss of nerve cally by new methods with ent and coming generations who has failed to cure you. ptoms of Syphilis and all diseases, completely eradi- Remember that this one neglected or improperly usiness. No experiments. nfidentially. Age and rt. A written guarante- very case undertaken. ny chronic disease write ms of your case—plainly, thers have failed to cure, for celebrated works on d Delicate Diseases. You unptomatology by which e. Consultation, personally Consult the old Doctor. Offices and parlors pri- e but the Doctor. Before nself DR. CLARKE. A ay save future suffering and years to life. Medicines from exposure. Hours, Address, ARKE, M. D. BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

HER FRO'S

LINE

RSETS

NG AND CORALINE

OST POPULAR COR- NTRODUCED.

perior to whalebone. not be broken. easy to lace. Wearer. goods except those arner. Price.

REWARD

NARY WEAK NESS BOTH SEXES, CURABLE CERTAINLY E PRINTED ON BOX OF A.

Leading Merchants.

1 & 143 Wabash Ave. CHICAGO.

B

THE BLOOD

ugh Purifier of the Discovered. rom a common orst Scrofula.

ARTED

ENTS!

rks and Copyrights

RED STAR COUGH CURE

TRADE MARK.

Endorsed and Prescribed by Physicians. Contains no Opiates and Poison.

SAFE, SURE, PROMPT. 25 Cts.

ST. JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, &c. PRICE, FIFTY CENTS. A DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS. THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 113. Mail.	No. 115. Express.	No. 129 Accom.
Toledo	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 15 P.M.
Monroe	6 44 "	2 35 "	2 00 "
Ayrault	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 15 "
Adrian Junction	7 07 "	3 00 "	2 50 "
Clayton	7 17 "	3 12 "	3 38 "
Blissfield	7 25 "	3 26 "	3 02 "
Deerfield	8 08 "	4 12 "	3 45 "
Tecumseh	10 20 "	6 10 "	5 [illegible] "
Ypsilanti	9 25 "	5 03 "	[illegible] "

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 128. Accom.
Ypsilanti	8 50 A.M.	6 15 P.M.	[illegible]
Tecumseh	10 30 "	7 55 "	[illegible]
Deerfield	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 45 A.M.
Blissfield	12 01 P.M.	9 31 "	7 10 "
Clayton	12 16 "	9 44 "	8 10 "
Ayrault	12 26 "	10 02 "	9 40 "
Monroe Junction	12 40 "	10 18 "	7 [illegible] "
Monroe	12 49 "	10 25 "	7 55 "
Toledo	1 05 "	10 50 "	10 25 "

Trains run by New Standard of 90th Meridian Time.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station for best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, TICKET AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

Detroit Express, limited	4 25 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 24 "
New York Limited Express	10 31 P.M.
Day Freight	8 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35 A.M.
Detroit & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Accommodation	6 48 "
Day Express, Limited	10 07 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

The Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Britton.

To Wabash passengers desiring to travel by the route Wabash make excellent connections at Detroit, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. Also solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Styles of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich. W. H. BANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo. WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT July 11, 1886.

Short line and through coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 5 Pass	No. 1 Pass	STATIONS. Central Time.	GOING WEST. No. 4 Pass	No. 6 Pass
			A. M.	P. M.
11 55	8 45 A.M.	Toledo L	8 05	4 15
10 10	5 55	Dunmore	9 00	5 15
		Clarksville
10 00	5 26	Britton	9 26	6 30
9 55	5 20	Ridgeway	9 32	6 35
9 44	5 08	Tecumseh	9 44	6 47
9 25	4 50	Tipton	10 02	7 07
9 10	4 34	Onsted	10 17	7 23
8 52	4 17	Devils Lake	10 34	7 40
8 30	4 05	Addison	10 45	7 50
8 20	3 44	Jerome	11 05	8 11
8 10	3 35	Moscow	11 15	8 21
7 56	3 22	Hanover	11 27	8 34
7 42	3 09	Pulaski	11 40	8 49
7 36	2 44	Homer	12 05	9 15
7 01	2 28	Eckford	12 20	9 30
	2 18	Walders
6 40	2 09	Marshall	12 40	9 50
6 25	1 55	Ceresco	12 55	10 06
	1 30	A Battle Crk L	1 20	10 30
6 00	1 10		1 40	P. M.
A. M.	12 41	Augusta	2 06
	12 31	Yorkville	2 17
	12 27	Richland	2 25
	12 05	Doster	2 45
	11 43	Monteith	3 08
	11 32	Fisk	3 19
	11 25	Kellogg	3 26
	11 10	A Allegan L	3 40
	10 10	Holland	5 10
	9 00	Grand Rapids	6 35
	9 38	Grand Haven	6 5
	9 15	Ferrysburg	6 30
	8 10	Muskegon	7 10
	5 50	Pentwater	10 10
	A. M.	A L	P. M.

Train No. 2 has a Through Coach daily except Sunday for Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater. Also a through Sleeper leaves the above points via. C. & W. M. Railway each day, except Sunday, arriving in Toledo on Train No. 1 at 6:05 P.M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo With all Railroads diverging. At Dunmore With F. A. A. & N. M. At Britton With Pere Marquette. At Tecumseh With L. S. & M. S. At Jerome with L. S. & M. S. At Hanover With L. S. & M. S. At Homer With L. S. & M. S. (Lansing Division), and Division of the Mich. Central. At Marshall With Mich. Central, Mich. Air Line, Grand Trunk and M. C. R. R. At A A Junction With Chicago & West Mich. and L. S. & M. S.

All trains daily except Sunday.

GEO. BRADLEY, General Pass. Agent. H. W. PARKER, Gen'l Pass. Agent. H. D. MATTHEWS, Northwestern Agent. Muskegon, Mich.

WANTED!

AGENTS—Big New Set, CHRISTMAS Books, to $1. One sold by Another. Land for home work. Comprises last year's sales over 100,000 copies. Sells at sight. Sample free. Sells for $1. Sample free. Sells for $1. Sample free. Sells for $1

CLINTON PAGE.

CLINTON MICH. OCT. 4 1887.

[illegible]

NATURE THE GREAT TEACHER

Man's Mechanical Devices Have Been Anticipated by Nature

[illegible]

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

HIDEOUS DISFIGUREMENT REMOVED BY MEANS OF ELECTROLYSIS

[illegible]

As the Friend Coming

[illegible]

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times" we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

MC COLLUM

[illegible]

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. Mc COLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Line Detroit Paper

THE DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL

[illegible]

Associated Press

THE EVENING JOURNAL

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL

[illegible]

THE STAR

[illegible]

WILLIAM DORSHEIMER,

Editor and Proprietor.

Daily, Sunday, and Weekly Editions.

THE WEEKLY STAR,

A Sixteen-page Newspaper, issued every Wednesday.

A Clean, Bright and Interesting

FAMILY PAPER.

Agricultural,
Market,
Fashion,
Household,
Political,
Financial and Commercial,
Poetical, Humorous and Editorial

THE DAILY STAR,

[illegible]

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY STAR

[illegible]

TERMS OF THE DAILY STAR

[illegible]

THE STAR,

[illegible] North William St., New York.

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

J. S. GILMAN,

The Clever Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James Block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of this Government. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who allows no influence of Party or Politics to tamper with its columns. It is the Independent and Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority in AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, APIARY, VETERINARY, etc., and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and rational amusement for old and young. This journal, which is now about to enter its 22d year of publication, is issued on or about the 1st of each month and, consists of 32 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price, $1.00 per annum in advance. Subscribe AT ONCE AND GET THE BALANCE OF 1887 FREE. Active agents wanted in every Township. Sample copy free.

ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

COLD IN HEAD

CATARRH

HAY FEVER.

HAY-FEVER

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

THE LOWEST PRICE for THE BEST WORK

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

Now Ready!

NEW FALL GOODS

Our Jewelry of Novelties this season has rarely ever been surpassed west of New York, and consists of Diamonds and other Gems, Jewelry, Silverware, Plated Ware, Clocks, Watches, Art Bronzes, Porcelain, China and other Fancy Articles, comprising a carefully selected stock of standard quality of goods.

Visitors to Detroit are cordially invited to inspect our establishment, which we are confident they will find interesting and instructive.

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

Jewelers,
Silversmiths,
Importers,
and Opticians.

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS

DETROIT, MICH.

Orders promptly attended to and mailed to all.

[illegible]

Found a New Grievance.

[illegible]

Benedict Arnold.

[illegible]

Mrs. Stewart's Card Case.

[illegible]

A Delicate Scientific Experiment.

[illegible]

St. Jacobs Oil is pronounced a most extraordinary cure for rheumatism by Hon. James Harlan, ex Vice Chancellor, Louisville Ky.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVIII. NO 22 TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, OCT 21, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1868

COME and SEE

The Largest and Best Assortment of

CLOAKS

AND DRESS GOODS!

We have ever shown. Do not fail to see our winter UNDERWEAR and SKIRTS.

Ask to see our Gent's Night Shirt at 75c.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

THE CAMPAIGN GROWS HOTTER.

WE BELIEVE IN FUSION. All parties, Prohibitionists, Republicans, Democrats, and Greenbackers should unite and save money by examining our BARGAINS.

Our Underwear is 20 per cent Cheaper

Than you can buy the same elsewhere.

Ask to see our Ladies' Merino Vests at 33c, sold everywhere for 50c. In our hosiery deparment the all wool regular made ladies' Hose at 25c is a big leader.

These are not Campaign Lies but Solid Facts,

THAT CAN BE PROVED BY INVESTIGATION.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.

1200 MEN'S SUITS,

500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

O. B. DeWOLF, President. H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

[illegible] H. Smith has opened a place of business with a new class from which alone carry in the latest notions.

A gang of men began putting the turn table up last Monday.

The Milan boys did not put in an appearance Saturday, our boys called the game and according to the rules the score stood 9 to 0 in favor of our boys. "Where is Detroit now?"

Mrs. Dave Allison is under the doctor's care with a diseased foot.

Ada Loree is in Detroit this week with her sister, Mrs. Alfred Lucking.

Cora Hanson spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mrs. John Arner.

The L. C. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Sarah Rappleye this week Friday evening, when the election of officers will take place. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

It is a fact that Postmaster Santus has a superior quality of stationery at his office and the girls are all on the racket. Jay intended they should be.

The attendance at the W. F. M. S. held at the church last week Wednesday was very encouraging, there were a good many pews rented during the afternoon. A. J. Sutton was successful in getting the Sexton's position for a year.

Mrs. Alfred Lawton has arrived home from her stay at Camden, N. Y.

Peter Swick, we learn, will leave us in the spring and seek a new home at Big Rapids, where he went prospecting a few days ago, instead of Grand Traverse, as we stated in last week's issue.

G. P. Waring went to Adrian Monday and says it is warming up on political matters over there.

School will begin next Monday with two teachers. Those living out of the district will be attended to cheerfully by the officers.

The heavy wind Thursday of last week did some damage to timber and took part of the roof off from B. F. DePuy's barn and racked some buildings in the village, and started the tin roof on the Waring block.

A. R. Arner is assisting agent Frank Allen at Tecumseh, as his clerk is sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Cobley of Peoria, Ill. were the guests of agent A. J. Sutton and family, Saturday.

T. H. Temple and Geo. Kemp went to Onsted on business last Wednesday.

Capt. L. B. Daboll will address the citizens of Ridgeway and vicinity on Republican view of the issues of the day, at Cottage Hall this week Friday night.

Some of the friends of the old Democracy went to Adrian last week to hear the fine oration, Hon. George L. Yaple.

Several of Tecumseh's enterprising citizens were in the village Saturday, hunting up our kids.

Misses Rhoda, Lou and Allie Arner enjoyed a very pleasant evening at Mr. and Mrs. Burr Tate's of Tecumseh last week.

Miss Ella Miller has returned from her trip to Harper, Kansas, and looks as though the western climate was agreeable.

HOLLOWAY HAPPENINGS

Harvey J. Chase died at the homestead of his father, the late David B. Chase, in Raisin, at 10 o'clock Monday night, aged 25 years. Mr. Chase had been ill but a week, being attacked by typhoid fever shortly after his return from Colorado to attend his father's funeral. He was well known in this vicinity as one of the most promising young men. He was a graduate of Adrian college, and after teaching school in this county for a short time removed last spring to Colorado, taking up 160 acres of land in that state. By his energy, push and ability he became one of the most highly respected and prominent young men in his new home. The funeral services were held at the old home in Raisin, Wednesday forenoon.

MACON MUSIC

The wind did considerable damage last Thursday, blowing down windmills, fences and trees.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mills were in Chicago last week.

John Sage, an old resident of this place, is very sick.

Cora Jackson returned to Manchester Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Holdon returned visited friends in Franklin last week.

R. S. Scudder is on the sick list this week.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet at the parsonage in Clinton, next week.

Mrs. Elwin Cauburn, who has been suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia is better.

MACON PIONEER NOTES.

[illegible] Hon. [illegible] Joseph Howell, by whom he was made etc., and also of Isaac Miller being an early and a leading educator in Macon etc., and Mr. A. Easlick spoke of R. C. Palmerly as an early educator in Macon. Of course these men were all benefactors, and deserve more or less praise from the people of Macon. But were there not other men who deserve at least some notice and who were truly benefactors? I will mention one such at least, and whose name was mentioned but once, and his works of benevolence not at all, while one person at least was exstalled to the skies for his good deeds done. But Gabriel Mills was left entirely in the back ground. In the summer and fall of [illegible] this obscure and unnoticed man built a sawmill on the Macon Creek in the township of Macon, and by some it was termed a basswood mill, because it sawed only a part of the time, as the stream was light. Yet those pioneers were glad to get lumber at the basswood mill. But the mill was a great benefit to the early settlers of Macon and its vicinity. It sawed a great [illegible] of lumber. It was the first sawmill built in the town. Mills furnished the lumber and built at his own expense and very nearly so the first frame school house that was built in Macon. It was a good sized and a respectable house for those times. Nearly every family in the district for years were too poor to board or to keep the teachers over night, and as Mr. Mills lived near the schoolhouse, he boarded at his own expense for a number of years, all of the teachers the most of the time. Is not such a course of benevolence at least one step toward being an educator and a benefactor? He was very kind to the poor, furnishing them with provisions, lumber etc., and letting them work for him, who were not able to get such things in any other way. Poor men and even women after coming to him for provision and wanting to work for it, he would let them have it, and let them work for him, when he did not really need their help, and frequently helping such persons without money and without price. He was one of the most kind and generous men to the poor, that has ever lived in central or northern Macon, or at least since the flood, and no other man except one deserved as much praise or honor in that respect. He often helped the needy when there was little or no prospect of remuneration. He was truly a benefactor. He brought with him from N. J. to Macon about $500 in specie, besides paper money and other valuable papers. But he was lost in ruin like too many others are.

Among the earliest settlers whose names were not mentioned, was a Mr. Houck, Isaiah Willetts, Wm. Britton, John Niblack, Charles Morgan, Samuel Niblack, Elias Harrison, Ralph Hendershot, Wm. Hendershot, Capt. W. Merritt, Job. Burleson, James Jacobus, Caleb Ward, David Snovel, Tipton Hall, Seth Jackson, Michael Hendershott, Joseph Litchard, Peter Miller, lived west of the Corners, John Davis, Hiram Cole, Lyman Cole, Archibald Fowler and Peter Arner. Peter Arner moved into north western Macon, when first coming to Michigan, in 1836. A few of these pioneers came to Macon in 1831, a much larger number in 1832, about the same number in 1833, in 32, but a less number of them in 1834, being about the same number as in 1835.

In his sketch of Macon, Mr. Easlick says: "In the winter of 1832 a portion of Tecumseh was set off and called Ridgeway which embraced Ridgeway and Macon, and the first election was held in Ridgeway. In 1835 Macon was detached from Ridgeway, and the first election held in Peter Miller's log house." Dr. Howell says in his historical sketch of Macon: "In April, 1834 the first township meeting of the township of Macon was held at the house of John Norton, on the farm now owned by Cyrus Mead."

But the following is a more correct history. In the fall of 1833 and the first part of the following winter, a petition for the organization of a new township on the east side of Tecumseh, to be called Macon, was got up and circulated by Israel Pennington and Dr. Joseph Howell, and in the following spring of 1834 the township of Macon was organized, being set off from Tecumseh, and included the present township of Ridgeway, and the first township meeting was appointed to be held at the house of Henry Graves in said township, but afterwards it was appointed and held at the house of Peter Miller, one mile north of Macon village, probably on the same premises where John Norton's house being burned, was rebuilt and held at the house of John Norton, in which place it never could have been held on the farm where John Norton now lives, including portions of Mills' new house, including portions now owned by Pennington, Owen and Burdick. But Mr. Norton bought an farm on the farm where he now lives one-half mile west of Cyrus Mead.

In the spring of 1841, the present township of Ridgeway was set off from the township of Macon. Undoubtedly more than one person will ask the question, who is correct in this contradictory history? I will invite all such persons to examine the 10, 11 and 23 pages of the history of Lenawee Co., Vol 1, and also Vol. 2, and page 54 and that admirable historical paper of Lenawee Co. etc., read by the Hon. John J. Adam, of Tecumseh, before the State pioneer society at Lansing, in 1878. Please read it.

J. B. PENNINGTON.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

BY REV. FRED. B. HARGREAVES.

Lesson 4. Fourth Quarter. October 24.

JESUS CRUCIFIED.

John 19, 17-30. Golden Text—John 19, 30. Time, April 7th, A. D., 30. Place—Calvary, just outside the city of Jerusalem.

The last scene in the life of our Lord and Master is reached. The soldiers have already started with Him to the hill of Calvary, the Savior, carrying His own cross, as was the custom. Arrived at the fatal place He is nailed to the Cross and is set up in a hole in the ground. Pilate wrote a title in Hebrew, Greek and Latin and put it on the Cross, "Jesus of Nazareth the King of the Jews." But the people did not like it and asked Him to change it so as to read that Jesus called Himself the King of the Jews. Pilate answered, "What I have written I have written." And the title remained. As upon former occasions, so here the Scriptures were fulfilled in many ways. The parting of the Savior's garments and casting lots for His coat were fulfilments of Scripture, among other things. The soldiers reviled and mocked Him. He was nothing in their eyes but a common pretender and malefactor, and they had no feeling of sympathy for Him. Then again, they despised the Jewish nation, and any insult they could heap upon their so-called King was a malicious insult to them. But the Jews seemed to have only one thought in their madness, and that was to get rid of Christ. In order to do this they were utterly oblivious to the insults of the Roman soldiers as well as to the consequences of their act. "I thirst," the Savior cried, and they took a sponge filled with vinegar, and putting it upon a hyssop, read gave Him to drink.

It was just after three o'clock in the afternoon, when crowds of worshipers were thronging into the temple to prepare for the evening sacrifice, when Jesus gave up the ghost. "It is finished," he cried, and, as He died, the veil of the temple was rent in twain, a great earthquake shook the earth and wondrous signs attested the fact that the Son of God had died. We can form absolutely no idea of the feelings of the people on this occasion. Fear probably came upon them, but we cannot tell what the morrow will. We know, however, that the centurion who had charge of the crucifixion gloried God and declared that Jesus was a righteous man. And those who came and looked upon the sight smote upon their breasts and returned to the city. Standing upon the crest of modern civilization and looking back to that awful hour we are filled with amazement that such a terrible tragedy should be enacted. The whole proceedings are a marvel to us. The mockery of the trial, the sycophancy of Pilate, the famous Jesuitical history of his own nation, all these are a source of wonder in themselves. And no less marvelous is the sweet, submissive spirit of Him who meekly bore it all for the sake of suffering humanity. And yet as we remember the purpose for which He came into this world, the spirit of His teachings, the necessity of His sacrifice, as we think of these things, our souls are filled with adoration and love for the crucified Savior of men and we lift our hearts in grateful praise to Him.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Jesus died for your sins.
2. Have you availed yourself of His all atoning blood.
3. The Cross is powerful to attract men to Christ.
4. In the death of Christ we have forgiveness of sins.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

THE COMING REVOLUTION.

The signs of the times all indicate that we are on the verge of a great moral revolution. It is evident to all except those who will not see, and it is equally evident that the revolution will take place over the question of Prohibition. It is a question which affords all the material necessary for such a revolution. Its financial, social, moral and religious phases are such that they not only must command the attention of the entire nation, but must effect most stupendous changes when that attention brings its inevitable result—the overthrow of the liquor traffic, and this attention it is drawing to itself to day. No other question challenges and receives such universal discussion. Up, where we will, it confronts us. There is no getting away from it. It is in the newspapers, it meets the eye in posters and hand-bills, it sounds forth from convention halls, it rings from the pulpit, the school house echoes it; it is heard on the cars, it is talked of in the store, the shop and the home; everywhere—the liquor traffic and its prohibition. Newspapers are, perhaps, the best indicators of the public pulse, they are quick to note changes of sentiment. They all consent that Prohibition has got into politics; many admit that it is the coming issue; not a few concede that it is here already, the one living, throbbing question of the hour. Take samples: "No matter what any one thinks of Prohibition, judgment day for saloon politics is beginning to break in the east."—Alta Californian. "It is no longer a side issue in politics; it is a positive factor and controlling power if wisely led."—Philadelphia Times. "The extent to which politics are controlled by saloon influences is testified to by the great awakening there is everywhere on this subject."—Indianapolis News. "Every day's developments bear witness to the steady growth of the Prohibitionists as a party. If there is a boom in the land to day, it is in that party? There are no signs of one in any other. They alone are zealous and eager for the contest. They have a distinct issue, and they are devoted to it with all the fervor of moral conviction."—New York Post. "We point to the rising tide, a tidal wave we think it is, enthusiasm and energy in the Prohibition cause. Revolutions do not go backward, and the Prohibition movement has grown into a steady revolution."—Baptist Weekly. Even the Atlantic Monthly admits a vigorous article on "The Saloon in Politics." Add to this the rapid increase in Prohibition party papers, from two to six new ones reported every week, and the circulation of the old ones multiplying five and ten fold. See how the liquor men are taking alarm—a national convention called of the whole fraternity in all its branches, because "it is necessary to take some action to check the growth of a hostile public sentiment which is no longer to be ignored." Thousands of men who cursed the Prohibitionists and denounced them as fools and fanatics two years ago, now vie with them in zeal for the new party.

Prohibition Does Prohibit

The best proof of the fact that Prohibition will prohibit is the result in Maine. It is well known that before the Maine law (so called) went into operation there were consumed in liquors eleven millions, while there is now less than one million. One million is a large amount of value to exchange in intoxicating liquors, but when the consumption is diminished to less than ten per cent, we can safely and justly say that Prohibition does prohibit. But, there are other and still greater proofs of the value of Prohibition among which the enlarged deposits in savings banks is a very significant illustration, also the greatly decreased number of arrests for crime, and the empty jails and penitentiaries and poor houses, accompanied with unerring certainty to the wage improvement that has been accomplished since Prohibition was inaugurated, and if the whole State should eventually come under the rule of a party committed to Prohibition, we might safely go to bed that this great moral enforcement would [illegible] almost [illegible] that the present expenditure of [illegible] one million could be dispensed with without a fraction.—Democrat's Monitor.

The burned district in Marlborough is being rapidly rebuilt.

BY S. C. STACY.

[illegible]

TECUMSEH MICH. OCT. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. E. MANGHAM, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes and a new and successful home cure was dealt in years. Treated to hundreds of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. J. AGIE, No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

CURE FOR THE DEAF

Perfectly restore the Hearing and perform the work of the Natural Drum. Always in position, but invisible to others and comfortable to wear. All conversation and even whispers distinctly heard. We refer you to those using them. Send for illustrated book with testimonials, free. Address F. HISCOX, 853 Broadway, New York. Mention this paper.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

The popular favorite for dressing the hair. Restoring its color when gray and preventing hair from falling. It stimulates the scalp, stops the hair falling, and 1/2 ore to please. 50c. 1.0 ones at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS

The safest, surest, quickest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, Warts, Moles, Callouses, etc. Hinders their further growth. Stops all pain. Gives instant relief. Makes the feet comfortable. Hinds corns cures when everything else fails. Sold by Druggists at 15c. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

Newspaper Advertising

DAUCHY & CO.,

27 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N.Y.

Make lowest rates on all newspapers in the U. S. and Canada. Established 1867. Send for catalogue. Parties contemplating a line of advertising, large or small, are requested to send for estimate of cost.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 23d day of September, A.D., 1871, Alexander D. Mead and Mary C. F. Mead, his wife, executed and delivered to Hopkins Sprague, administrator of the estate of Calvin Smith, deceased, a certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee County, Michigan, [illegible] on page 204 [illegible] which said mortgage was duly assigned by said Hopkins Sprague, administrator, to Moses Bartlett, of Lenawee County, Michigan, [illegible] which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of said County of Lenawee, in Liber [illegible] on page [illegible] and the said mortgage was assigned by said Moses Bartlett to John M. Osborn on the 1st day of October, A.D., 1887, which said assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said County of Lenawee, in Liber [illegible] on page [illegible] and the said mortgage was assigned by said John M. Osborn to [illegible] which said assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said County of Lenawee, in Liber [illegible] on page [illegible] There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date hereof the sum of [illegible] hundred twenty-seven and 78-100 dollars [illegible] no suit or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole sum secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall on the 26th day of December, A.D., 1888, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said County), the premises in said mortgage described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expenses of this foreclosure and sale, including an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being all that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street, at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. King, and now occupied by Samuel B. Rose as a dwelling lot, and running thence westerly along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods; thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street; thence east along the south line of Brown street three (3) rods; thence south along the west line of land occupied by Samuel B. Rose, twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept. 3, 1888.

MOSES BARTLETT, Assignee of said Mortgage.

sep97

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

[illegible]

HENRY McCLURE, Cheapest, Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, EFFECTS BEFORE indiscretion, or over exertion. LITTLE SX packages guaranteed to cure. Given in all other Pills. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5 by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold in Tecumseh by F. K. AND PERGUSON.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., OCT. 21, 1888

THE CICADA.

Thou shrill voiced harbinger of sultry days,
Misshapen minstrel of a myriad trees,
With rasping files beneath thy crooked knees
[illegible]
Stabs violently the dead midsummer haze
That wraps in smothering heat the silences
Where rest the panting butterflies and bees
And bids the hot noon listen to thy lays.

Writ in the veins of thy green gauzy wings
Are queer, mysterious cabalistic runes
Around whose wavy symbols, memory flings
Thy slumberous songs of summer afternoons
That sink and swell upon life's billowy sea
And plash the shores of God's eternity.

—E. S. Hopkins.

THAT NIGHT.

'Twas the hight of the fete when we quitted the riot
And quietly stole to the terrace alone,
Where, pale as the lovers that ever swear by it,
The moon it gazed down as a god from his throne.
We stood there enchanted—And O the delight of
The sight of the stars, and the moon and the sea,
And the infinite skies of that opulent night of
Purple and gold and ivory.
The far-away litz of the waltz rippled to us,
And through us the exquisite thrill of the air:
Like the scent of bruised bloom was your breath, and the dew was Not lower-eyed than your warm kisses were.
We stood there enchanted—And O the delight of
The sight of the stars, and the moon and the sea,
And the infinite skies of that opulent night of Purple and gold and ivory.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

This ingenious exposition of the exhaustive system of reasoning failed to produce any effect on Lady Lydiard. "You are wasting our time," she said sharply. "You know as well as I do that you are talking nonsense."

"I don't," said Felix. "Taking the gentlemanly professions all round, I know of no men who are so eager to get money, and who have so few scruples about how they get it, as the parsons. Where is there a man in any other profession who perpetually worries you for money? who sends his clerk round from door to door to beg a few shillings of you, and calls it an 'Easter offering'? The parson does all this. Bradstock is a parson. I put it logically. Bowl me over if you can."

Mr. Troy attempted to "bowl him over," nevertheless. Lady Lydiard wisely interposed.

"When a man persists in talking nonsense," she said, "silence is the best answer: anything else only encourages him." She turned to Felix. "I have a question to ask you," she went on. "You will either give me a serious reply, or wish me good morning. With this brief preface, she made her inquiry as to the wisdom and possibility of engaging the services of the French police.

Felix took exactly the view of the matter which had been already expressed by Mr. Troy. "Superior in intelligence," he said, "but not superior in courage to the English police. Capable of performing wonders on their own ground and among their own people. But, my dear aunt, the two most dissimilar nations on the face of the earth are the English and French. The French police may speak our language, but they are incapable of understanding our national character and our national manners. Set them to work on a private inquiry in the city of Pekin and they would get on in time with the Chinese people. Set them to work in the city of London and the English police would require, from first to last, the same supernatural mystery to them. In my heart, the London Sunday would be enough in itself to drive them back to Paris in despair. No theatres, no concerts, no theatres, no museum or a picture gallery, perhaps every shop shut up but the gin shops—nothing for them but the church [illegible] and the penny [illegible] of French [illegible] England. [illegible] back to Paris on the second morning [illegible] they would [illegible] spaniels in despair. How [illegible] it, if you dare. Send me over [illegible] of the police and I will [illegible] to the city and persuade the Home Office to let me try what I can do with the case myself." Felix, turning to Mr. Troy, "Some of your lawyers got the address of the [illegible] in Paris, my man? [illegible] to you."

"Three of us have got the number of the house," answered Mr. Troy. "Address Isabel, Mr. Moody and myself."

"Very good," said Felix. "Send me the number, with the abstract of the case. Is there anything else I can do towards recovering the money?" he asked, turning to his aunt. "There is one lucky circumstance in connection with this loss, isn't there? It has fallen on a person who is rich enough to take it easy. Good heavens! suppose it had been my loss?"

"It has fallen doubly on me," said Lady Lydiard. "And I am certainly not rich enough to take that easy. The money was destined to a charitable purpose, and I have felt it my duty to pay it again."

Felix rose and approached his aunt's chair with faltering steps, as became a suffering man. He took Lady Lydiard's hand and kissed it with enthusiastic admiration.

"You excellent creature!" he said. "You may not think it, but you are recalling me to human nature. How generous! how noble! I think I'll go to bed again, Mr. Troy, if you really don't want any more of me. My head feels giddy, and my legs tremble under me. It doesn't matter. I shall feel easier when Alfred has taken me out of my clothes again. God bless you, my dear aunt! I never felt [illegible] Good morning, Mr. Troy. Don't forget the abstract of the case, and don't trouble yourself to see me to the door. I dare say I shan't tumble down stairs, and if I do, there's the porter in the hall to pick me up again. Enviable porter! as fat as butter, and as idle as a pig. Au revoir! au revoir!" He kissed his hand and drifted feebly out of the room. Sweetly, one might say, in a state of eclipse; but still the serviceable Sweetly, who was never consulted in vain by the fortunate people privileged to call him friend.

"Is he really ill, do you think?" Mr. Troy asked.

Lydiard answered, "and he persists in living as if he were a young man. Every now and then Nature says to him, 'Felix, you are old.' And Felix goes to bed and says it's his nerves."

"I suppose he is to be trusted to keep his word about writing to Paris?" pursued the lawyer.

"Oh, yes. He may delay doing it, but he will do it. In spite of his lackadaisical manner, he has moments of energy that would surprise you. Talking of surprises, I have something to tell you about Moody. Within the last day or two there has been a marked change in him—a change for the worse."

"You astonish me, Lady Lydiard. In what way has Moody deteriorated?"

"You shall hear. Yesterday was Friday. You took him out with you, on business, early in the morning."

Mr. Troy bowed, and said nothing. He had not thought it desirable to mention the interview at which Old Sharon had cheated him out of his guinea.

"In the course of the afternoon," pursued Lady Lydiard, "I happened to want him, and I was informed that Moody had gone out again. Where had he gone? Nobody knew. Had he left word when he would be back? He had left no message of any sort. Of course he is not in the position of an ordinary servant. I don't expect him to ask permission to go out, but I do expect him to leave word down stairs of the time at which he is likely to return. When he did come back, after an absence of some hours, I naturally asked for an explanation. Would you believe it? he simply informed me that he had been away on business of his own, expressed no regret, and offered no explanation—in short, spoke as if he were an independent gentleman. You may not think it, but I kept my temper. I merely remarked that I hoped it would not happen again. He made me a bow, and he said: 'My business is not completed yet, my lady. I cannot guarantee that it may not call me away again at a moment's notice.' What do you think of that. Nine people out of ten would have given him warning to leave the service. I began to think I am a wonderful woman. I only pointed to the door. One does hear sometimes of men's brains softening in the most unexpected manner. I have my suspicions of Moody's brains, I can tell you."

Mr. Troy's suspicions took a different direction: they pointed along the line of streets which led to Old Sharon's lodgings. Discreetly silent as to the turn which his thoughts had taken, he merely expressed himself as feeling too much surprise to offer any opinion at all.

"Wait a little," said Lady Lydiard; "I haven't done surprising you yet. You have seen a boy here in a page's livery, I think. Well, he is a good boy, and he has gone home for a week's holiday with his friends. The proper person to supply his place with the boots and shoes and other small employments is, of course, the youngest footman, a lad of only a few years older than himself. What do you think Moody does? Engages a stranger, with the house full of idle men servants already, to fill the page's place. At intervals this morning I heard them wonderfully merry in the servant's hall—so merry that the noise and laughter found its way up stairs to the breakfast room. I like my servants to be in good spirits, but it certainly did strike me that they were getting beyond reasonable limits. I questioned my maid, and was informed that the noise was all due to the jokes of the strangest old man that ever was seen. In other words, to the person whom my steward had taken it on himself to engage in the page's place. I spoke to Moody on the subject. He answered in an odd, confused way, that he had exercised his discretion to the best of his judgment, and that if I wished it he would tell the old man to keep his good spirits under better control. I asked him how he came to hear of the man. He only answered, 'By accident, my lady,' and not one word more could I get out of him, good or bad. Moody engages the servants, as you know; but on every other occasion he has invariably consulted me before an engagement was settled. I really don't feel at all sure about this person who has been so strangely introduced into the house; he may be a drunkard or a thief. I wish you would speak to Moody yourself, Mr. Troy. Do you mind ringing the bell?"

Mr. Troy rose, as a matter of course, and rang the bell.

He was by this time, it is needless to say, convinced that Moody had not only gone back to consult Old Sharon on his own responsibility, but, worse still, had taken the unwarrantable liberty of introducing him as a spy into the house. To communicate this explanation to Lady Lydiard would, in her present humor, be simply to produce the dismissal of the steward from her service. The only other alternative was to ask leave to interrogate Moody privately, and, after duly reproving him, to insist on the departure of Old Sharon as the one condition on which Mr. Troy would consent to keep Lady Lydiard in ignorance of the truth.

"I think I shall manage better with Moody if your ladyship will permit me to speak to him in private," he gently said. "Shall I go down stairs and speak to him in his own room?"

"Why should you trouble yourself to do that?" said her ladyship. "Send him here, and I will go into the boudoir."

As she made that reply the footman appeared at the drawing room door.

"Send Moody here," said Lady Lydiard.

The footman's answer delivered at that moment, seemed an importance which was not expressed in the footman's words. "My lady," he said, "Mr. Moody has gone out."

CHAPTER XIII

While the strange proceedings of the steward were the subject of conversation between Lady Lydiard and Mr. Troy, Moody was alone in his room, occupied in writing to Isabel. Being unwilling that any eyes but his own should see the address he had himself posted his letter, the [illegible] that he had been for leaving the house proving unfortunately, to be also the time proposed by her ladyship for his interview with the lawyer. In ten minutes after the footman had reported his absence Moody returned. It was then too late to present himself in the drawing room. In the interval Mr. Troy had taken his leave, and Moody's position had dropped a degree lower in Lady Lydiard's estimation.

Isabel received her letter by the next morning's post. If any justification of Mr. Troy's suspicions had been needed, the terms in which Moody wrote would have amply supplied it.

"DEAR ISABEL. I hope I may call you 'Isabel' without offending you in your present trouble. I have a proposal to make, which, whether you accept it or not, I beg you will keep a secret from every living creature but ourselves. You will understand my request when I add that these lines relate to the matter of tracing the stolen bank note.

"I have been privately in communication with a person in London who is, as I believe, the one person competent to help us in gaining our end. He has already made many inquiries in private. With some of them I am acquainted; the rest he has thus far kept to himself. The person to whom I allude particularly wishes to discuss the case with you—in my presence. I am bound to warn you that he is a very strange and very ugly old man, and I can only hope that you will look over his personal appearance in consideration of what he is likely to do for you.

"Can you conveniently meet us at the further end of the row of villas in which your aunt lives, the day after to-morrow, at four o'clock? Let me have one line to say if you will keep the appointment, and if the hour named will suit you. And believe me your devoted friend and servant,

"ROBERT MOODY."

The lawyer's warning to her to be careful how she yielded too readily to any proposal of Moody's recurred to Isabel's mind while she read those lines. Being pledged to secrecy, she could not consult Mr. Troy: she was left to decide for herself.

No obstacle stood in the way of her free choice of alternatives. After their early dinner, at three o'clock, Miss Pink habitually retired to her own room, "to meditate," as she expressed it. Her meditations invariably ended in a sound sleep of some hours, and during that interval Isabel was at liberty to do as she pleased. After considerable hesitation, her implicit belief in Moody's truth and devotion, assisted by a strong feeling of curiosity to see the companion with whom the steward has associated himself, decided Isabel on consenting to keep the appointment.

Taking up her position beyond the houses, on the day and at the hour mentioned by Moody, she believed herself to be fully prepared for the most unfavorable impression which the most disagreeable of all possible strangers could produce.

But the first appearance of Old Sharon—as dirty as ever clothed in a long, frowzy, gray overcoat, with his pug dog at his heels, and his smoke-blackened pipe in his mouth, with a tall white hat on his head, which looked as if it had been picked up in a gutter, a hideous leer in his eyes, and a clumsy trip in his walk—took her so completely by surprise that she could only return Moody's friendly greeting by silently pressing his hand. As for Moody's companion, to look at him for a second time was more than she had resolution to do. She kept her eyes fixed on the pug dog, and with good reason so far as appearances went, he was indeed probably the most beautiful of the two.

Under the circumstances, there is every [illegible] to begin in a very embarrassing manner. Moody, disappointed by Isabel's silence, made no attempt to [illegible] the conversation [illegible] Old Sharon, with his hat [illegible] sidelong right man dog occupied the right place. Old Sharon's effrontery was equal to any emergency.

"I am not a mischievous old person," he said, "but I do [illegible] at [illegible] with coming! Stiff-blood eyes, 'Miss your hand' [illegible] used to me. You [illegible] the out of color, as they say at [illegible] dresses, that doesn't wash well. It's all through love, upon my life it is. Ever [illegible] the present century I had my young affections blighted, and I've never [illegible] ever since. Disappointment makes stiff joints, miss, in different men. I don't think I have had heart enough to brush my hair for the last fifty years. She was a magnificent woman, Mr. Moody, and she dropped me like a hot potato. Dreadful, dreadful! Let us pursue this painful subject no further. Hal! here's a pretty country! Here's a nice blue sky! I admire the country, miss; I see so little of it, you know. Have you any objection to walk along into the fields? The fields, my dear, bring out all the poetry of my nature. Where's the dog? Here, Puggy! Puggy! run about, my man, and find some dog grass. Does his inside good, you know, after a meat diet in London. Lord! how I feel my spirits rising in this fine air! Does my complexion look any brighter, miss? Will you run a race with me, Mr. Moody, or will you oblige me with a back at leap frog? I'm got mad, my dear young lady. I'm only merry. I love, you say, in the London sink, and the smell of the hedges and the wild flowers is too much for me at first. It gets into my head, it does. I'm drunk! As I live by bread, I'm drunk on fresh air! Oh! what a jolly day! Oh! how young and innocent I do feel!" Here his innocence got the better of him, and he began to sing: "I wish I was a little fly, in my love's bosom for to lie." "Hullo! here we are on the nice soft grass! and oh, my glorious! there's a bank running down into a hollow! I can't stand that, you know. Mr. Moody, hold my hat, and take the prettiest care of it. Here goes for a roll down the bank!"

He handed his horrible hat to the astonished Moody, laid himself flat on the top of the bank, and deliberately rolled down it, exactly as he might have done when he was a boy. The tails of his long gray coat flew manfully in the wind, the dog pursued him, jumping over him, and barking with delight, so shouted and screamed in answer to the dog, he rolled over and over faster and faster, and when he got up on the level ground and rolled out cheerfully to his companion standing above him, "I say, you two, I feel twenty years younger already!" certain gravity could hold out no longer. Isabel and silent Moody smiled, and Isabel [illegible] of laughter.

"There," he said, "did I tell you you would get good to me, miss? This is a great period in the life of man yet, miss. Stay me down my hat. Mr. Moody. And now we'll get to business." He turned round to the door, stood looking at his apple, "business! Bagsy!" he added, coaxing, and bagsy is candy spelt the mouth, and said no more.

Well now," Old Sharon resumed, when he had passed his handkerchief and had got his breath again, "let's have a little talk about your affairs, miss. Has Mr. Moody told you what I am, and what I can do? Very proper. Mr. Moody is my agent. Very proper. Mr. Moody is my friend. Very proper. Mr. Moody is my partner. Very proper. All right. Mr. Moody, I'm a wicked man. Suppose you tell the young lady what we are for."

In the surprise of this question, Isabel turned her eyes [illegible] Moody saw that he was paying the kindest attention to the character. His sharp, shrewd, [illegible] face [illegible] the girl's face silently, his grey eyes [illegible] upward in a satisfied and satisfied manner. He was evidently setting a trap for her of some kind. Without a word of warning, which Isabel was in the middle of [illegible] the trap opened, with the opening of Old Sharon's lips.

"I say," he burst out, "how came you to send her ladyship's letter?"

The question bore no sort of relation, direct or indirect, to what Isabel happened to be saying at the moment. In the sudden surprise of hearing it, she started and fixed her eyes in astonishment on Sharon's face. The old vagabond chuckled to himself. "Did you see that?" he whispered to Moody. "I beg your pardon, miss, he went on, "I won't interrupt you again. Lord, how interesting it is, ain't it, Mr. Moody? Please to go on, miss."

But Isabel, though she spoke with perfect sweetness and temper, declined to go on.

"I had better tell you, sir, how I came to seal her ladyship's letter," she said. "If I may venture on giving my opinion, that part of my story seems to be the only part of [illegible] which relates to your business with me to-day."

Without further preface she described the circumstances which had led to her assuming the perilous responsibility of sealing the letter. Old Sharon's wandering attention began to wander again. He was evidently occupied time he interrupted Isabel in the middle of a sentence. Suddenly stopping short he pointed to some sheep at the further end of the field through which they happened to be passing at the moment.

"There's a pretty sight!" he said. "There are the innocent sheep a-feeding and a-lying down with other as usual, and there's the dog [illegible] the gate, [illegible] the sheep [illegible] church and the clergyman." He quietly [illegible] his discovery of the remarkable similarity between the sheep dog and himself, and then [illegible] sleep and the public, and then [illegible] suddenly with a second question. "I say, miss, when you took at the letter before you sealed it?"

"Certainly not," Isabel answered.

"Not even at the address?"

"No."

"Thinking of something else, eh?"

"Very likely," said Isabel.

"What's good for a headache, my dear?" Isabel laughed. "Women are good at ways thinking of their new bonnets," she answered.

Old Sharon, to all appearance, dropped the subject there. He lifted his dean, brown forefinger and pointed again, this time to a house at a short distance from them. "That's a farm house, surely," he said. "I'm thirsty, after my roll down the hill. Do you think, miss, they would give me a drink of milk?"

"I am sure they would," said Isabel. "I know the people. Shall I go and ask them?"

"Thank you, my dear. One word more before I go. About the sealing of that letter: what would you have been thinking of while you were doing it?" He looked hard at her and took her suddenly by the arm. "Was it your sweetheart?" he asked, in a whisper.

"Have it long since the last?" he said.

The question instantly reminded Isabel of the sad letter thinking of Harry from which she sealed the letter. She blushed as the question passed her mind. It had not [illegible] her expression more sharply to Old Sharon. "You have my right to put such a question to a young lady," he said, "she's little more careful for the future."

"There, there, I don't be hard on me, miss!" he cried. "All [illegible] like me may make a slip, miss, but I'm [illegible] sorry. I'm sure you're too good to be angry when I meant no offence. Stay, let me that you're [illegible] giving young angel, and ask for the milk."

Nobody appealed to Sharon's sweetness of temper in vain. "I will do it with pleasure," she said, and hastened away to the farm house.

To be Continued.

ESTATE OF STEPHEN HUNTER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office in the City of Adrian, on Tuesday, the [illegible] day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Stephen Hunter, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of James F. Gilmore, administrator of said estate, praying for license to sell the real estate of said deceased in said petition described, for the reasons therein set forth.

It is Ordered, That Monday, the [illegible] day of November next, at [illegible] o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate office in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

A. H. Barnes, Probate Register.

ESTATE OF JAMES WHEELER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office in the City of Adrian, on Tuesday, the [illegible] day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of James Wheeler, deceased.

[illegible]

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

A. H. Barnes, Probate Register.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

[illegible]

MARY C. HYAN, Guardian.

Dated April 7, 1888.

AGENTS WANTED FOR DR. SCOTT'S Electric Corsets. [illegible] DR. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, NEW YORK.

MORTGAGE SALE.

William W. Van Cain and Charity S., his wife, made, executed and delivered to Gamaliel I. Thompson, a trustee for Perkins, Thompson & Co., a certain indenture of Mortgage, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Lenawee County, Michigan, in Liber [illegible], on pages 276, 78 and 87, which mortgage was assigned, on the 8th day of July, A.D., 1881, to Moses H. Perkins, which assignment was recorded in the Register's office of said County in Liber [illegible], on page [illegible], and the said mortgage was assigned by said Moses H. Perkins to John M. Osborn on the 1st day of October, A.D., 1887, which said assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said County of Lenawee in Liber [illegible] on page [illegible], and the said mortgage was assigned by said John M. Osborn to [illegible] which said assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said County of Lenawee in Liber [illegible] on page [illegible]. There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date hereof the sum of [illegible] hundred twenty-seven and 78-100 dollars [illegible] no suit or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole sum secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall on the [illegible] day of October, A.D., 1888, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said County), the premises in said mortgage described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount now due upon said mortgage, together with interest thereon, and all legal costs and charges of such sale, together with an attorney fee of twenty-five dollars, [illegible] stipulated for in said mortgage to be paid in case any proceedings were taken to foreclose said mortgage.

Said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to wit: Being land on the north part of the middle subdivision of the northwest fractional quarter of section nineteen in township seven south, of range one east, meridian of Michigan, and including on the east line of said subdivision and with the centers of the [illegible] at right angles to divide the flat location top of point Rising equally thereon, continuing west to center of Town Creek; thence down said Creek until it intersects sunny side road [illegible] the village of Hudson from the north. And thus continuing said street on the [illegible] of said fractional quarter of section nineteen [illegible] A more particular description of said land and premises is that piece of [illegible] and the eastern boundary of which is [illegible] and lots three, four and five on West side of Madison street and the old [illegible] and Johnson's addition. The [illegible] Rising in said county and state of Michigan, and including the land [illegible] Town Creek to the River Raisin on the [illegible] the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in Monroe county, Michigan, on the [illegible] day of [illegible] A.D., 1888, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, the following described premises, to wit: [illegible] Lenawee and state of Michigan, [illegible] Raisin in said county and state of Michigan, [illegible] Section Nineteen, [illegible] south of range [illegible] east, containing seventy-five acres, more or less.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

A. H. Barnes, Probate Register.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

[illegible]

ANDREW WICKHAM.

ESTATE OF ADDISON HARDENBURGH.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. [illegible]

JOHN P. FOLES, Assignee of Mortgage.

[illegible]

POULTRY, GAME, BUTTER, EGGS.

Having leased the new store in Michigan Central Arcade, Cadillac Square, I am prepared to handle on commission, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc. Correspondence solicited, best market price and prompt returns guaranteed.

E. C. EITZPATRICK, Detroit, Mich.

ADVERTISERS, anything who wish to advertise in this paper, should write us for our estimate on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it to their interest. 45 to 49 Randolph St. The Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

Tecumseh Herald

DEATH OF CAPT. D. D. MARSHALL

WASHINGTON LETTER

THE WEDDING MARCH

A CORRECTION

HOW TO MAKE CREAMERY BUTTER

A FAVORITE WITH THE FAIR SEX

LETTER LIST

TECUMSEH MARKET

Fall and Winter OVERCOATS

FALL AND WINTER SUITS,

FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN.

The Largest Stock in Tecumseh.

NO TROUBLE TO SHOW GOODS.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

The Utica Palace King

THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.

Steel Radiators, Sectional Fire Pot, Estimates Promptly Furnished. When in want of a heating or cook stove, do not forget THE GARLAND.

They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success. THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

YOU CAN

WELL AFFORD TO LOOK OVER

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S

CLOTHING,

Before buying your fall outfit. We can give you the largest and finest selection of goods in this part of the state.

The Finest Goods,

The Newest Styles.

You to see buy Clothing every day. When you do go where you can find the largest assortment and lowest prices.

We Sell everything a man or boy Wears, excepting boots.

PLAIN FIGURES. ONE PRICE.

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD.

ADRIAN, MICH.

THE CASTOR ROAD & SPEEDING CARTS.

For Road, Track, or Pleasure Driving.

For Gents or Family Horses.

Toledo Business College

Board and room $2.50 per week. Penmanship, Book-keeping, Business Correspondence, Shorthand, Typewriting, Mathematics and English branches thoroughly taught. No special preparation required to enter. Actual Business Department a prominent feature of the school; No vacation. Special class for the term from July 1 to September. Catalogues sent free.

M. B. DAVIS, B. A., Principal and Proprietor, Toledo, Ohio.

ADVERTISING

contracts made for THIS PAPER, which is kept on file with LORD & THOMAS, Advertising Agents, Chicago.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

DATS
UITS, LDREN.
mseh.
King
ACES.
They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success.
THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.
BOYD.
AN OD'S
NG,
an give you goods in.
Styles. where you can get epting boots.
E PRICE.
OOD.
NG CARTS.
For Cows or Faulty Horses.
in a single's stable. Perfectly balanced with prices, address the DELPHIA, PA. and 22 Worcester St. N. t. 20 North Liberty St.
College
Correspondence short. No special preparation of the school; No vacation. Catalogue free. PROF. TOLEDO, OHIO.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HOUSE TO RENT.—At $8.00 a month. Apply at once to. A. W. SLAYTON.

LOST.—A gold breast pin somewhere in the town. Finder will please leave at the HERALD OFFICE.

CABBAGE, CABBAGE.—Premium Flat Dutch, the best cabbage grown for kraut or winter use. For sale cheap in large or small quantities. ALBERT WILSON.

FLERY at Prairie Side now ready to plow for the winter use. H. L. STEWART.

TELEGRAPHING.—Parties contemplating building short telegraph lines can save money by consulting the undersigned, manager of the N. T. Co. Fine wire, battery, supplies, instruments, necessary tools, etc., keep in stock. R. & W. BOWES.

LESSONS ON THE VIOLIN—60 cents each. Enquire at Mrs. Hussey's music store, or of M. Hayden, Tecumseh.

BEWARE.—Young men and boys who have been in the habit of throwing stones from the school house yard, or throwing stones from the school house yard, or throwing stones from the school house yard, or

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

ATTORNEYS.

FREELB WOOD ATTORNEY AT LAW.

C. A. STACY

PHYSICIANS.

D. B. HOOVE, M.D.

C. M. WOODWARD, M.D.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TECUMSEH FOUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS.

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

DAVE MACHAM

JAMES A. COLBY

CHAS. A. WALDRON

HOTELS.

BURNETT HOUSE

CENTRAL FREE LIBRARY, ANN ARBOR, MICH.

M. L. RICE,
UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Agricultural Implement
DEPOT.
C. A. SLAYTON

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS

GRAIN DRILLS

KEMP'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING
OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Double Chloride of Gold Cure cures the worst cases of the habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Until the introduction of this remedy it could not be known that it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient who taking it does not know but he is taking the opium or morphine liquid. Send for book on the opium habit, FREE, or for Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's new work, "Opium, Morphine and Chloral Habits, Their Abnormal Effects and Their Cure," sent free on application. Its history, complete and exhaustive treatment, and the testimony of hundreds of the most prominent men and women who have taken the cure at home. Address or consult

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
Dwight, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS!
Cured in from three to five days.

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

GIVE ME A CALL.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

SEXUAL
Hawlin Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

There were a few days [illegible] Carter had [illegible] for a long [illegible] of the old [illegible] wrongly [illegible] effort [illegible] Urania [illegible] had [illegible] years [illegible] had never gone before in [illegible]

[illegible] who was [illegible] Harmon was an old and very dear friend [illegible] since Nettie and he [illegible] respectively 5 and 7 [illegible] together through the First Header, and loved each other on known [illegible] of the "four mile." Afterward [illegible] company as the other [illegible] high school class to book [illegible] Then Harmon [illegible] extend a store, and being [illegible] as clerk to book keeper, saving every [illegible] the while until he was able to go into the flour business for [illegible] in a modest way with their [illegible] and fortune ahead—[illegible] it seemed sometimes. [illegible] other hopes, to which success [illegible] were but means [illegible]

Perhaps, said Miss But[illegible] made a shrewd guess as to [illegible] Nothing was ever said [illegible] how very only Harmon [illegible] every Sunday even [illegible]

"[illegible] there?" asked Harmon, rapidly interpreting her hesitation.

Nettie looked him full in the face for the first time.

"No, Harmon," she said, "I can't."

Harmon understood without seeing a [illegible] of explanation. "I'm afraid," he [illegible] he, "I am afraid it would be an [illegible] investment—now." He went out [illegible] a feeling of [illegible]

[illegible] respectably [illegible] and

ARKE

LISHED 1851.

Regular, Old-Established
SICIAN & SURGEON
treating with the greatest
L AND SUCCESS

NERVOUS AND DISEASES
MIDDLE-AGED MEN
their own sets of Impruperiod of life have brought effects following such in aggravated form, are the celebrated Dr. Clarke Nervous diseases such as bility and kindred malacally by new method, and
It makes no difference
who has failed to cure you, poisons of Syphilis and all diseases, completely erad-
Remember that there is no neglected or improperly cent and coming generations discharges cured properly stricture. No experiment, confidentially. Age and
nt. A written guarantee
ery case undertaken.
w chronic diseases were ms of your case—plain,
thers have failed to cure,
for celebrated works on Delicate Diseases, Immptomatology by mail
Consultation free or by
Consult the old Doctor.
Offices and parlors pri-
be the best of reference.
DR. CLARKE. A
avoid future suffering and years to life. Mention from exposure. Hours
8 to 8 daily.

ARKE, M. D.
BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
Worth a Guinea a Box.
For a Bilious Attack, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Wind in the Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Coldness of the Extremities, Nervous Debility, Sleeplessness, Pain in the Side, Back, Limbs, Nervous Irritability, Fits, Sudden Flushes of Heat, Nervous Apprehension, Dizziness, Dimness of Sight, Blotches on the Face, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, Cold Feet, Cold Hands, Cold Chills, Hot Flashes, Sudden Fright, Hot Skin, Sudden Pain, Sudden Weakness, Nervous Trembling, Nervous Jerks, Nervous Twitchings, Nervous Headache, Nervous Tetanus, Nervous Toothache, Nervous Dyspepsia, Nervous Dysentery, Nervous Cramp, Nervous Colic, Nervous Diarrhœa, Nervous Fever, Nervous Inflammation, Nervous Consumption, Nervous Decay, Nervous Death, Nervous Nothingness.
Sold by all Druggists.

OSETS
ING
INAL CORALINE
MOST POPULAR COR-
INTRODUCED.
superior to whalebone,
not be broken.
Easy to the wearer.
goods except those
Warner Bros.
REWARD
CORALINE THAT BREAKS
ING BONES WITH EACH
GENUINE CORALINE CORSET NE PRINTED ON INSIDE OF
leading Merchants.
141 & 143 Wabash Ave.
CHICAGO.

B
THE BLOOD
ugh Purifier of the Discovered.
Consumption
Scrofula.

ENTS!
arks and Copyrights

RED STAR
TRADE MARK.
COUGH CURE
Diseases and Poison.
25 Cts.
FRONT
ST. JACOBS OIL
MARK.

THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain
Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc., etc.
PRICE FIFTY CENTS.
AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 117. Express.	No. 139 Accom
Jackson	6 35 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 15 P.M.
Napoleon	6 44 "	2 35 "	2 00 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 15 "
Manchester	7 02 "	3 00 "	2 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	3 38 "
Tecumseh	7 25 "	3 26 "	4 02 "
Adrian	8 08 "	4 02 "	5 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	6 40 "	.....
Toledo	9 35 "	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 138. Accom.
Detroit	8 50 A.M.	6 10 P.M.	.....
Toledo	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Adrian	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 45 A.M.
Clinton	12 01 P.M.	9 31 "	7 10 "
Tecumseh	12 16 "	9 44 "	8 10 "
Manchester	12 26 "	10 02 "	9 00 "
Norvell	12 40 "	10 18 "	9 45 "
Napoleon	12 49 "	10 27 "	9 55 "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 50 "	10 45 "

Trains run New Standard of 90th Meridian Time

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE,
TICKET AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE BRITTON:
Detroit Express, limited	4 25 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 24 "
New York Limited Express	10 34 P.M.
Night Freight	8 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Night Accommodation	6 48 "
Pacific Express, Limited	10 07 "

Trains marked are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

Limited express trains stop only for R. R. Crossing at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. 2 solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest. Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Styles of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

J. CHRISTMONG, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Toledo, Ohio.
WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.
E. A. WILDEY, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT JULY 11, 1886.
Pullman Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. Central Time.	No. 3 Pass	No. 1 Pass	STATIONS.	No. 2 Pass	No. 6 Pass
A. M.	P. M.			A. M.	P. M.
11 25	6 45	A.	Toledo	8 05	4 15
10 10	5 55		Dundee	9 40	5 45
			Clarksville
10 00	5 26		Britton	9 26	6 30
9 35	5 20		Ridgeway	9 32	6 35
9 44	5 08		Tecumseh	9 44	6 47
9 25	4 50		Tipton	10 02	7 05
9 10	4 40		Onsted	10 17	7 25
8 52	4 17		Devils Lake	10 34	7 48
8 40	4 05		Addison	10 45	7 50
8 20	3 44		Jerome	11 05	8 11
8 10	3 35		Moscow	11 15	8 21
7 56	3 22		Hanover	11 27	8 34
7 42	3 09		Pulaski	11 40	8 49
7 16	2 44		Homer	12 05	9 15
7 01	2 28		Eckford	12 20	9 30
	2 18		Athens
6 40	2 00		Marshall	12 40	9 50
6 25	1 55		Ceresco	12 55	10 05
	1 39		A Battle Crk L	1 20	10 30
6 00	1 10		" Battle Crk U	1 10	P. M.
5 46	12 44		Augusta	2 06
	12 38		Yorkville	2 17
	12 27		Richland	2 25
			Gobles	2 35
	11 42		Monodoth	3 08
	11 32		Fisk	3 20
	11 25		Kellogg	3 26
	11 10	A.	Allegan	3 40
	10 40		Holland	4 10
	9 50		Grand Rapids	5 28
	9 22		Grand Haven	6 05
	9 45		Berrysburg	6 30
	8 40		Muskegon	7 10
	7 50		Pentwater	10 10
A. M.	A.			P. M.

Train No. 2 has a Through Coach daily except Sunday for Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater. Also a Through Sleeper for the above points via C. & W. M. leaving Toledo every Sunday, arriving in Grand Rapids at 1 40 P. M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo With all Railroads diverging. At Adrian With L. S. & M. S., M. C. R. R., Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific. At Tecumseh With L. S. & M. S. At Jerome With L. S. & M. S. At Hanover With L. S. & M. S. At Homer With L. S. & M. S. At Eckford With J. C. & A. R. R. At Battle Creek With J. C. & A. R. R., Grand Trunk and W. & L. E. R. R. At Allegan With Grand Rapids & Indiana. At Holland With Chicago & West Mich. and L. S. & M. S.

All Trains daily except Sunday.

J. H. BRADBURY, Receiver. H. C. PARKER, Genl. Pass. Agent.
J. MATTHEWS, Northwestern Agt., Muskegon, Mich.

WANTED!
AGENTS to sell a new Set of CHRISTMAS Books, selling from 50 to 1000 a day. Agent sold 50 in 1 hour. Another 1 day for housework, sold over 200 copies last year, one over 100 in a village of 400 people earn $5 to $10 the first week. Agents wanted before Christmas with a few more books. Every family wants one of our Christmas Books. Liberal Terms. Outfit Free. Address HALE BROS. & CO., 1123 Broadway, N. Y.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder
Holds reins where you put them—not under horses' tails. Sample sent free on receipt of price, $1.50. Agents Wanted. Address the above and receive free. Sample worth $1.50. Write for terms.
E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

—There are seventeen saloons in St. Ignace.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic Ports and A., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but alvialed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Sold by druggists. Trial bottles free. This is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board schooner. Free Trial Bottle of this standard remedy at —Big Rapids has a white chipmunk on exhibition.

C. A. Wright & Co.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

—The burnt district in Mancelona is being rapidly rebuilt.

Having in our official capacity as members of the Plymouth Hospital Committee been asked to test and prove the effectiveness of many different articles to be used as disinfectants in sickrooms and as preventives of infectious fevers, report that Darbys prophylactic fluid has been throughly tested during the recent Typhoid epidemic in this place. It proved most efficacious in staying the spread of the fever.

F. H. ARMSTRONG, S. M. DAVENPORT,
J. A. OPP, O. M. LANCE
THOS. KERR, JAMES LEE, JR.

We should economize at all times, but more especially when times are close. Observe the purchases of your thrifty neighbors. More substantial benefits can be obtained from a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure than a dollar bottle of any other cough remedy. It is a prompt, safe and pleasant cure for all throat and lung troubles. Sold and endorsed by Dr. George Ferguson.

The great sources of the extensive curative range of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic are its great blood purifying qualities and its gentle aperitive action thereby removing all restraint from the secretive organs, curing promptly and thoroughly dyspepsia, costiveness bad breath, piles, pimples, low spirits' sick and nervous headache, ague, acid malaria, and all stomach, liver and kidney, troubles Price, fifty cents.

—A national bank is soon to be organized at St. Ignace, with a capital of $50,000.

FOR 25 CENTS get Kemp's Liver Pills for Torpid Liver, for Constipation, for the Complexion. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

—The first wedding that ever took place in a church at East Tawas occured last week.

WE ARE POSITIVE that Kemp's Sarsaparilla will cleanse and purify the blood and tone up the system. We have the confidence to guarintee it. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

'I TRIED Everything, without relief, but Kemp's Pile Suppositories cured me. So writes A. G. Rose, New London, Conn. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

THE HOMELIEST MAN in Tecumseh as well as the handsomest and others call at our store and get free, a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It cures acute and chronic coughs. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall druggist.

"Why do you not look me in the face?" "Because your breath is bad. If you would use Trix you would be much more companionable."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

HALE'S HONEY [illegible] 50c., $1.00
HALE'S SULPHUR SOAP [illegible] 25c
GERMAN CORN REMOVER [illegible] 25c
HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE [illegible] 50c
PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS [illegible] 25c
DEAN'S RHEUMATIC PILLS [illegible]

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising.

The President of the Cambridge Mass., Fire Ins. Co., recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla as a building up and strengthing remedy.

Tired Languid Dull

Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressive effects of warm weather, and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable Tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength, and energy.

The family of Hon. W. B. Hoke, Judge of the Jefferson County, Ky., Court, used St. Jacobs Oil with signal success.

Mr. F. Rentschler, San Francisco, Cal., contracted a severe cold, and became so hoarse he could not speak. He tried a number of remedys without benefit, and even the efforts of two physicians failed to give the slightest relief. He was induced to try Red Star Cough Cure, one bottle of which entirely cured him.

A CONVERSATION ON CHAIRS.

SOME QUEER SHAPES DESIGNED FOR THE USE OF CRIPPLES.

People Afflicted with Bunions a Tendency Toward Common Sense—A Belle's $100 Pair—Old Shoes.

"Are there many queer shaped lasts made?" a reporter asked a shoe dealer.

"Lots of 'em," was the reply. "We make quite a business of shoes for cripples of people whose misdemeanings in life nothing up in one order or the other. Some heads are stretched from being of standing, but nearly disease are the general deformity is the result. Corns put up in thin layers make up the lining of the stock soles. It is light and thus prepared possesses the requisite elasticity. We make cork soled shoes for men who do not possess uneven lengths in inner limbs. Stretch old bachelors and who have learned the value of keeping their feet dry, wear cork soled shoes in winter. Now and then a little man who is ambitious and disgruntled because so short that the crowd overlooks him, comes to us to be boosted up. We have made cork soled shoes for actors who play robust tragic parts and lack in nature the stature that the part calls for. Ministers also who are somewhat abbreviated come to us to be shod so that their pulpit presence will be more imposing. Half an inch on the bottom of a man's foot makes a vast difference."

"Isn't the custom shoe trade falling off on account of the low prices for which the factory shoe is sold?"

"Not at all. So long as there is a desire for comfort on the part of those possessed of money, and so long as feet are made in different molds, the custom trade will be as good as ever. There are men who would go barefoot rather than wear a factory-made shoe. They could not do it if they wanted to. I suppose we have 500 customers for whom we keep special lasts that are perfect counterparts of their pedal extremities in form at least. Bits of leather take the place of great toe joints and painful bunions. When a man gets a shoe made over a last like that the breaking-in process loses its terrors. The tendency in men's shoes is toward common sense shapes. Broad low heels and fairly wide rounded toes are the most sought for. The box toe is a thing of the past. Pointed toes are only worn in patent leather dress shoes, and they are not so ultra as two or three years ago. Men are not alone in their dress for comfort or footgear, although some of them have rows of shining half-worn shoes standing along the mopboards of their chambers. Women are becoming very good customers of the order made shoes."

A BELLE'S $100 PAIR.

"Twelve to fifteen dollars is the limit for a gentleman's shoe. I know of a pair of ladies' shoes on exhibition in a Broadway window that will bring $100. They were made for a Murray Hill belle, who has a pretty foot and an equally attractive pocketbook. They are made, save the soles, of plain black satin. Rhine stones set in solid silver form the buttons. French heels are still worn in dress shoes, but New York women do an immense amount of walking and have learned from their English sisters that they cannot do it in narrow, high heeled shoes. Children and old ladies wear what are called spring heels. They are in reality, so far as the eye can see, no heels at all. Many girls of 15 wear this style of shoe. When you see a lady whose walk is the poetry of motion you can put her down as wearing low-heeled, broad soled foot covering. There was quite a trade last winter and the winter before in skating shoes. They are broad heel, broad sole, fine calf-skin shoe with I cut low tops. Roller skating has declined, but ice skating will doubtless be more popular than ever if the mercury goes low enough between now and March. The high lace tops are a great support to the ankle besides looking particularly neat."

A great many old shoes are gathered up by the rag pickers. They are purchased by the [illegible] and sent a very fair appearance. [illegible] thousands of persons had long ago [illegible] year's [illegible] in New York. Equally [illegible] polished [illegible] shoes, while every [illegible] at Newport. Twenty miles a day is a small average for a skating person, and twenty miles a day over New York flagstones soon polishes off a good amount of sole leather.—New York Mail and Express.

The Papyrbattle of Louisiana.

This papyrbattle is a bird which makes its appearance in southern Louisiana about May, and abounds until September. It seems to belong to the parrot family, though the resemblance is not complete in all points. However, it is a bird about the size of a woodpecker with grayish plumage and a long, short and hard which makes it appear as if the [illegible] the Confederacy [illegible] 180 days begins to depredate upon the vegetable gardens. They fly about the fields of the negroes and the [illegible] and other vegetables. They appear in countless myriads, coming no one knows whence, and going no one knows where, but leaving behind them a terrible trail of devastation. On these insects the papobotie preys with immoderate voracity, and grows so fat that when it falls before the gun of the sportsman it bursts like a ripe apple. The papobotie is wonderfully shy of sportsmen, but will allow a good-looking or a vehicle to come very near, and he who rides or drives can thus choose his own time and opportunity for firing.—Forest and Stream.

The Old Story Retold.

I see that the old story of tricky Japanese of which a correspondent in Harper's gives the only Chinaman who at some small town, has a Bible and tells the speaker to send Rev. Hudson Taylor to teach a young lady [illegible] was a fully done, but the rules of the [illegible] companies now provide a [illegible] Only a complete description [illegible] life [illegible] go. The [illegible] in on the [illegible] paying for the whole [illegible] could get possession of the year's [illegible] Bible [illegible] "Bible Bills" New York [illegible]

How the Yacht Helped.

"You [illegible] on a yacht, they [illegible] 'Are we [illegible] it romantic?' We were on [illegible] hours together. You see there wasn't any wind, and we couldn't get to land. Well, before two of those hours were over he had proposed and I had accepted. I really believe the yacht helped us." "How was that?" "It was a case of luff at first sight."—

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nasal passages and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the remedy is that of a simple remedy that has been formulated whereby thousands of cases have been cured in good quick time. The preparation is made at home. Over 10,000 testimonials and [illegible] have been given. The [illegible] less smarting which is remarkable that not five per cent. of patients [illegible] the treatment, [illegible] original practitioner, [illegible] patent medicines and those advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

TAKE SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

BILIOUSNESS

Is an affection of the liver and can be thoroughly cured by that great Regulator of the Liver and Biliary Organs.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

MANUFACTURED BY
J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

I was afflicted for several years with disordered liver, which resulted in a severe attack of jaundice. I had as good medical attendance as possession affords, who failed to give me relief. Finally I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I received immediate benefit from its use, and gradually recovered the large [illegible] of health.
A. H. SHIRLEY,
Paducah, Ky.

HEADACHE

Proceeds from a Torpid Liver and Impurities of the Stomach. It can be invariably cured by taking

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

Let all who suffer remember that

SICK AND NERVOUS HEADACHES

Can be prevented by taking a dose as soon as the symptoms indicate the coming [illegible]

DELAND & CO'S
CAP SHEAF
SALERATUS
SODA
For Baking Purposes.
Best in the World

FRENCH'S HOTEL!
City Hall Square, NEW YORK.
Opposite City Hall and the Tribune.
This hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of any hotel in New York City, and is conducted on the EUROPEAN PLAN.
Rooms, one dollar per day. Half minute walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient hotel to New York for travelers to stop at. Dining rooms [illegible] with all the luxuries of the season.

LENAWEE CARRIAGE FACTORY
J. R. HALEY,
Proprietor,
MANUFACTURER OF Carriages, Buggies,
SLEIGHS, CUTTERS, &c.
Salesroom 60 [illegible]
CAPITOL LUMBER WAGONS
Track Sulkies and Skeleton Wagons.
Pearl Street,
TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN

ADVERTISING
Contracts made for this paper, which is kept on file with
LORD & THOMAS,
Advertising Agents, Chicago.

LOOK AT THIS!
We will send a
READY FOTOGRAPHER
To Any Address
FOR 25 CENTS.
Photos equal to anything and anybody, at any thousand at any place. Agents wanted. Address READY FOTOGRAPHER, 211 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Rheumatism Can be Cured

Notwithstanding there are many thousands suffering from this painful and dangerous disease, who have expended fortunes in doctoring in the hope that they might be cured. But Rheumatism, like Scrofula and Salt Rheum, is a disease of the blood, caused by excess of uric or lithic acid in the blood, over the land, and there are to day more men, women and children suffering from this terrible disease than ever before, and the opinion seems almost universal that it is incurable, but this is a mistaken idea for it can be cured. But not in a day or week, as many seem to expect. Nothing short of a thorough treatment with a remedy that will cleanse the blood of the acrid poison and that will build up the debilitated system enough the blood, increase the circulation and restore the liver and kidneys to healthy action can effect a permanent cure.

[illegible] Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Kidney Complaint, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Female Weakness, Diseases of the Bladder, and when used in connection with Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, will cure any case of Rheumatism, either chronic, acute, inflammatory or sciatic, in Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup. This remedy stands far ahead of all others for the cure of the diseases above mentioned, and the proprietors have that confidence in its curative powers that they will give $100 for any case of Rheumatism, Salt Rheum, Scrofula or Dyspepsia it will not cure or cure.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup is put up in large bottles, and is sold by druggists generally at $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.00, or we will send it to any address on receipt of price.

If you are suffering from any of the above diseases, or any disease of the blood or skin, do not delay but go at once and get one half dozen bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and you will bless the day you heard of it.

Send for our pamphlet and read of those who have been cured by its use. Address
RHEUMATIC SYRUP CO.,
Jackson, Mich.

NEURALGIA CURED.

JACKSON, Mich.

Gentlemen: I have suffered beyond measure with Neuralgia, and I am only too glad to say that Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup has afforded me complete relief. It is a great remedy.
Yours truly,
F. A. MILES,
Dealer in Flour, Feed and Grain, 114 Mill St.

JACKSON, Mich., October, 1885.

This is to certify that I have used your medicine for the cure of Sciatic Rheumatism with beneficial results, and can recommend the same to all persons similarly afflicted.

Unlike all external application, it seems to remove the disease by purifying the blood.

Respectfully,
GEORGE W. KENNEDY,
Secretary of Jackson Electric Light Co.

$1000
Forfeit if not Havana Filler.
5¢ CLAM CIGAR
A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE
FOR 5 CENTS.
SMOKE LA FRENO 10c CIGAR.
A. [illegible] Sole Agents,
130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO.

RETAIL AT
R. MORRISON'S.

LAKE SUPERIOR TRANSIT COMPANY.
The Great Fishers Route.

THE NEW PERFECTED RUNABOUT
The Original, and Best of all Runabouts.

GOLD
Gold is not scarce, but there are many who want to know how to get it. Perhaps you are one of them. Free information about wonderful new inventions and how to make money from $5 to $500 on small investments, sent free. Address Pitcher & Co., Bankers, Chicago. We are reliable. Write at once. We are absolutely sure of making little fortunes.

The BEST GAME OF THE SEASON is found in Sept. and March, each year. 8 to 212 pages, 8½x11 inches, with over 3,500 illustrations, a whole Picture Gallery. GIVES Wholesale Prices direct to consumers on all goods for personal or family use. Tells how to order, and gives exact cost of everything you use, eat, drink, wear, or have fun with. These INVALUABLE BOOKS contain information gleaned from the markets of the world. We will mail a copy FREE to any address upon receipt of 10 cts. to defray expense of mailing. Let us hear from you. Respectfully,
MONTGOMERY WARD & CO
Nos. 227 & 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

NOW IS THE TIME
to use
JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA
FOR LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA,
AND FOR
PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

It has been in use for 25 years and has proved to be the best preparation in the Market for Sick Headache, Pain in the Side of Back, Liver Complaint, Pimples on the Face, Dyspepsia, Piles, and all Diseases that arise from a disordered Liver or impure blood. Thousands of our best people take it and give it to their children. Physicians prescribe it daily. Those who use it once recommend it to others.

It is made from Yellow Dock, Honduras Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Stillingia, Dandelion, Sassafras, Wintergreen, and other well-known valuable Roots and Herbs. It is strictly vegetable, and cannot hurt the most delicate constitution. It is one of the best medicines in use for regulating the Bowels.

It is sold by all responsible druggist at one dollar for a quart bottle, or six for five dollars. Sample bottles 50 cts. free on receipt of price.

W. JOHNSTON & CO.,
Detroit, Mich.

When you have tried all the Sarsaparillas, and have been disappointed, try Johnston's.

THE POPULAR RAILWAY
OF THE CENTRAL STATES.
THE GREAT WABASH ROUTE
ONLY LINE
Reaching by direct routes all the following Large Cities:
ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO, DETROIT, INDIANAPOLIS, FORT WAYNE, LAFAYETTE, TOLEDO, HANNIBAL, KEOKUK, SPRINGFIELD, QUINCY, PEORIA,
KANSAS CITY, ST. JOSEPH, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, OMAHA, OTTUMWA,
Embracing the Principal Points of the Six Great States of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, with Branch Lines or Close Connections to other cities not mentioned above.

THROUGH SLEEPING CAR LINES
Between St. Louis, New York and Boston, via Niagara Falls; Chicago and New York, via Detroit and Niagara Falls; St. Louis and St. Paul and Minneapolis; St. Louis and Chicago; St. Louis and Kansas City; St. Louis and St. Joseph; St. Louis and Council Bluffs and Omaha; St. Louis and Des Moines; St. Louis and Peoria; St. Louis and Decatur; Chicago and Kansas City; Kansas City and Des Moines; Detroit and Indianapolis.

THE BEST ROUTE
Via Detroit or Toledo, to all parts of the EAST; via Detroit, Chicago, Ottumwa or Des Moines, to all parts of the NORTH; via Indianapolis, St. Louis or Kansas City, to all parts of the SOUTH; via Kansas City, St. Joseph or Omaha, to all parts of the WEST.

NO LINE CAN EQUAL THE CAR SERVICE OF THE GREAT WABASH ROUTE
[illegible] Sleeping Cars, Elegant Parlor, Buffet and Sleeping Cars, the Finest Dining Cars. [illegible]
EVERYONE WHO TRAVELS [illegible] any portion of his journey, should examine the WABASH, ST. LOUIS & PACIFIC RY. Ticket Agent [illegible] or address the undersigned and give all desired information. WABASH
For Maps, Time Tables, etc., write to
F. CHANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent, ST. LOUIS, MO.

C. A. Wright & Co.,
Wall Paper
AND Decorations.
C. A. Wright & Co.
JAS. H. POTTER:
Manufacturer of all kinds of
FURNITURE!
Orders with a specialty. Furniture done to order.

Established 1840. THE CELEBRATED
Thos. Bradford Co.
PORTABLE MILLS.
Horse Power and Feed Mills. Write for Special prices. State size and how many horse power. Address promptly
C. L. Gano, Jr., Manager.
27 Glenn Bldg.
P. O. Box 56.
CINCINNATI, O.

Better THAN THE Best
Address [illegible]

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.
Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success, by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.
Sold in Jackson by A. WRIGHT & Co.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

Now Ready! NEW FALL GOODS

WRIGHT, KAY AND CO.

Jewelers,
Silversmiths,
Importers,
and Opticians.

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.
TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 Washington St. Boston, Mass.

LANDS

MASON & HAMLIN

UNRIVALED ORGANS

UPRIGHT PIANOS.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
Boston, New York, Chicago.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLAR

THIS PAPER
N. W. AYER & SON,

Better and Best

We Have

ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times,"
"hard times," we never hear that expression
in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

MC COLLUM

Ready Made pants $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50.
OVERCOATS in every quality, [illegible]
Men's strong heavy work pants, [illegible]
Heavy all wool pants $2.50.
A very large stock of underwear, [illegible]

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. McCOLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of Tamble's block and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

If you are going to Buy a New

SEWING MACHINE!

LOOK CLOSELY,

That you don't get a pine table and fixtures, with a fraction of an inch of black walnut to cover it up, instead of a solid walnut table, such as the

LIGHT RUNNING

New Home Company

USE ON THEIR MACHINES.

FIRST PREMIUMS EVERYWHERE.

SOLE AGENT FOR LENAWEE COUNTY.

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so long established, having such a large circulation, and being so ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of this Continent. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who allows no influence of Party or Politics to tamper with its columns. It is the Independent and Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority on AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, APIARY, VETERINARY, &c., and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and rational amusement for old and young. This Journal, which is now about to enter its 22d year of publication, is issued on or about the 1st of each month and consists of 36 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price, $1.00 per annum, in advance. Subscribe at once and get the balance of 1886 free. Active agents wanted in every Township. Sample copy free.

ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 23. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 28, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1869

100

HORSE BLANKETS

Placed on Sale to-day,

AT $1.98 EACH.

ALSO

An Elegant Assortment

Of Wool Blankets, Comfortables, Underwear and Hosiery.

OUR Cloaks, Jackets and Children's Cloaks are a success. Do not fail to see them.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

THE CAMPAIGN GROWS HOTTER.

WE BELIEVE IN FUSION. All parties, Prohibitionists, Republicans, Democrats, and Greenbackers should unite and save money by examining our BARGAINS.

Our Underwear is 20 per cent Cheaper

Than you can buy the same elsewhere. Ask to see our Ladies' Merino Vests at 33c, sold everywhere for 50c. In our hosiery deparment the all wool regular made ladies' Hose at 25c is a big leader.

These are not Campaign Lies but Solid Facts,

THAT CAN BE PROVED BY INVESTIGATIOM.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.

1200 MEN'S SUITS,

500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

O. B. DeWOLF, President. H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Shingles, Blinds,
Lath, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.
TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ONSTED ODDS.

[illegible] some railroad in Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee have a little grandson, from Perrysville, living with them.

Mr. Brooks from Wisconsin, is stopping here with his son Frank.

Mrs. C. L. Shore shortened her visit in New York a little on account of her daughter's sprained ankle.

We hear that a lodge of Knights of Labor was organized at Springville Monday evening.

G. S. Rose has finished painting Curtis & Crane's store. It looks fine and is a credit to the workman.

C. W. Greenleaf and wife report a good time at Muskegon last week. They attended the Grand Lodge of Good Templars.

The remains of Mrs. Loucks of Charlotte, were brought here for burial last Friday. The funeral was held at the reidence of her grand son, George Shugars. Mrs. Loucks lived in this vicinity many years, and was past ninety years of age.

Before this appears in print, Mr. Kinney will be married to a lady from Norvell. Of course we wish Uncle Nelt and his bride much joy.

E. A. Taylor is prepared to attend funerals, as he keeps a hearse and will get all other things necessary on short notice. Orders left with R. L. Glenn will be forwarded to Mr. Taylor at once.

Uncle Ira Rogers, one of the oldest citizens of Rome township, died Saturday night. The funeral was at the Springville church Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock. Mr. Rogers has had poor health for some time.

Onsted is a great place for base ball. Two matched games were played here Saturday. One between Onsted second nine and North Adams nine, and the other between our small boys and North Rome small boys. Both visiting clubs were victorious.

N. J. Morey went to Clayton last Thursday evening and was married to Miss Mary Lawton. They went to Coldwater on their wedding trip. Miss Lawton taught four terms of school here and has many friends here who will unite with us in wishing the young couple a long and happy life.

The harvest social, of which we spoke two weeks since, passed off nicely with the exception that the goods sold at auction did not bring very good prices. The total receipts were over thirty dollars, of which $18.91 was collected by the boys and girls in fruit banks. Following is a list of the names and the amount collected by each: Florence E. Secor, $5.72; Lena H. Linsner, $5.05; Bertha Shugars, $1.72; Roy Edwards, $1.30; Nelia Kinney, $1.14; Mattie Onsted, $1.02; Clarence E. Avery, Nats., Dora Howard, 55cts.; Byron Sheeler, 43cts.; Ella Riley, 45cts.; Riley Short, 7cts.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Mrs. Chas. Grove is on the sick list at this writing.

Gus. Wright of Tecumseh, was in the village Saturday, and pronounced our school house a fine one.

Mrs. Sarah Pocklington visited relatives in Quincy the last of last week and the fore part of this.

Pannie Hall of Ypsilanti, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. Hall and family.

Warren Jones and wife, Mrs. Bush and son, Irving, visited relatives in Ypsilanti last week Thursday.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Montgomery a fine eight pound girl, Oct. 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Russell of Tecumseh, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cadman.

D. W. Loree spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday with his daughter and family in Detroit.

Mrs. John Acner in company with Mrs. Phillip Beakley of Britton visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peters of Petersburg, last week Wednesday.

Mills Hatch of Macon spent Saturday as the guest of Ed. Harrison.

Floyd Smith is poisoned very badly about the face with ivy.

G. P. Waring went to Hillsdale last week Thursday on school business.

Mr and Mrs. F. J. Temple returned Saturday from a few days visit with her parents at Lasell.

C. L. Waring of Holland, is spending a few days at his old home.

B. B. Morley arrived home Friday morning from his stay at Pratt, Kansas, and reports everything booming.

S. H. Linn now has a fine outfit for the creamery business.

Edgar Rogers of Raisin called on friends in the village Sunday evening.

Several went to Britton last week Wednesday night, to hear Rev. Roberts talk for Prohibition.

The hall was well filled on Friday evening, to hear Capt. Dalzell speak from a Republican view of the present [illegible]

Rev. L. Hudson will address the [illegible] on Thursday evening of this week, at Cottage Hall.

A goodly number went to Britton on Thursday night of last week to hear O. Lund and Seth Beard, of Adrian, speak on the trade.

E. P. Allen will address the citizens of Britton & Exeby's Hall, next Friday night, in the interest of Republicanism.

As some young people of the village were returning from an evening entertainment, in Macon, Friday night or Saturday morning they met with a slight mishap. The happy five were in a double seated conveyance. The driver spurred up his steeds unaware to the occupants of the rear seat, who when coming to themselves, were lying on their backs in the sand on W. R. Wilson's hill. The back seat gave way, letting them out. Fortunately no one was hurt, but each had left a lasting impression, "at least on their minds."

The attendance at the social that was held at the home of Mrs. Sarah Rappleye on Friday evening, was not as large as would have been had it not been for the speech at the hall. The society elected the following as officers for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. W. R. Wilson.
1st Vice " — " A. J. Sutton.
2nd " — " F. E. Pocklington.
Secretary — " T. H. Temple.
Asst. " — " Miss Mary Osgood.
Treasurer—Adah Linn.
Chaplin—Rev. W. J. Clack.
Committee on Music—Kittie Clark, Ella Miller, Belle Barlow.
Executive Committee—Mrs. W. P. Cadman, Mrs. D. W. Loree, Mrs. Sarah Rappleye, A. J. Sutton, J. D. Auer.

The village school opened Tuesday morning, with Prof. J. D. Huston as principal, and Mrs. J. D. Huston—his wife—as preceptress. They come to us with the reputation as first-class teachers, from Hillsdale. They began work with 38 in the primary room and 17 in the advanced room, and 6 foreigners. Everything bids fair for a large attendance and successful term, if the students apply their time and attention faithfully to their studies. The building is pronounced by all who have seen it as a very fine, commodious structure, one that speaks well for the district, also for the economical judgment of the officers. The workmanship of each mechanic is an honor to their trade, they having spared no pains in doing a first-class job.

The L. C. S. will be held at the home of Mrs. Minnie Cadmus next week Friday evening, at which time molasses taffy will be sold at a cent a stick, or six sticks for a nickle, and nuts for five cents a glass, and a sack of pop corn free to each person present. The proceeds to be used in building a cistern at the church, to make it more convenient for the selected few who have to clean up at the church after a supper has been held in the lecture room. As this is a matter that interests the ladies especially, it is hoped there will be a large turnout. Remember the date, Friday evening, Nov. 5th.

BY ORDER OF COM.

BROOKLYN BALLAST.

It is difficult to report a lengthy address by aid of memory only. Every speaker has a right to be as truthfully represented at second hand, as he represents himself, so if a misplaced conjunction deranges Hon. James O'Donnel's Saturday night sermon at Brooklyn the mistake is unintentional. He began by saying that twenty four years ago, when the Union was involved in a great revolution, he spoke for right in this village, and now, when the nation was on the brink of another, he came again to explain as best he could the duties of the Republican party in its new role of rear-guard. While he accepted humiliation without bewailing the inevitable change, and figured up the cause of hard times and extra appropriations like a ready reckoner, he slid along the tariff rail without tearing his opponents principles, and contented himself with stating his own creed instead of criminating others. He talked of his sugar bill and its congressional hampering, the workingmen's benefits tied up and shelved by useless talk, and put the audience in uproarious good humor by saying he wanted to go back to congress to see to the dusting and polishing of his much loved relics and get them on tap. Most of his argument was tariff and the protection to home industries it afforded.

Mr. Ed. F. Wells, Thetis P. O. Stevens Co., Wash. Terr., was entirely cured of rheumatism by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. He says: "I consider it a wonderful remedy and will speak a good word for it."

TECUMSEH AND FRANKLIN FARMER'S CLUB.

The Club met Oct. 20, at the residence of W. Jenkins. As it threatened to be a rainy evening, the attendance was not quite large. The literary part of the meeting was good. In the discussion of the question "Which pays the best larger or small farms," a small farm was defined as one which could be worked by one man with two horses and one wagon, plow drag &c., and a large farm, as one that required two or more men with the necessary teams, tools &c.

It was the opinion of the most of the members that a farm of from 120 to 160 acres, that would require the employing of one extra man for about eight months of the year, could be made to pay better than one where a man tried to do the work alone and that it did not make as much of a slave of the farmer, but some were of the opinion that not counting your own time, that for the amount of money invested, they could make a small farm pay the best.

The next meeting will be at the residence of Charles Mathews, Nov. 3. As this will be the time for electing officers for the ensuing year, there will be no discussion but a short literary program. REPORTER.

THE WHEEL.

That Will Todd and Chas. Wiesinger of Adrian, never go into anything half way is evident from their trip of Oct. 24th. They started that morning from Adrian, past Tecumseh, Saline, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and back again to Adrian, which trip would run the miles up to eighty. Besides that, they claim to have made 10 miles in Ann Arbor and 5 miles extra in Ypsilanti. We won't vouch for the exactness of this statement, as we were informed by the old hotel landlord at Saline, where the boys put up for provender.

A Camden, N. J., man has invented and is having built an ocean tricycle. It will be entirely of iron and steel, except a small platform where the operator will stand. The wheels will be worked by levers from the platform, which will be twenty-seven feet from the ground. The idea is to run this machine out to stranded vessels when they lie in water not over twenty feet deep. The inventer says three miles an hour can be made with the tricycle.—Detroit Free Press.

A number of the Adrian Bicycle boys rolled over our streets last Sunday.

E. L. Ide and W. H. Hayden, were in Saline Sunday. They were between four wheels instead of astride the two-wheeled horse.

The Harmon House in Saline is the League Hotel for Saline, and a right good meal they get up too. It is a second Patterson House. Its surroundings cannot be excelled in this part of the country.

The November CENTURY marks a new era in the history of that magazine, in beginning the publication of "The Life of Lincoln," by his private secretaries, Jolin G. Nicolay and Colonel John Hay. Two prefaces, one editoral and the other by the writers, give ample account of the work, and call attention to the exceptional opportunities which these gentlemen have had to prepare what is certain to be the fullest and most authoritative work on the subject. Its authors were, in a sense, the chosen biographers of Lincoln, by whose aid they were reenforced in the collection of material during the war. From an historical point of view the value of the work largely resting on documentary evidence not attainable by other writters must be placed high. In fact, the inner history of the war waits upon this work. The first part is concerned with the Lincoln family as pioneers, including their religion, with Boone in Kentucky, and their subsequent life in Indiana and Illinois down to the Black Hawk War and a picture of the society and surroundings of young Lincoln, involving a concise history of the Western States of that day. In the pictorial side there is a frontispiece portrait of Lincoln in 1860, from a remarkably fine and unhackneyed photograph, a portrait of Boone from Sully's painting from life, and the traditions of the Lincoln homes and localities are carefully gathered up pictorially to supplement the text. A fac simile of a passage of Mr. Lowell's "Commemoration Ode," referring to Lincoln, is printed at the beginning of the magazine, and certain other fac similes throw new light upon the early history of the Lincolns.

In the early days of the American Revolution the men of the Hour were minute men.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

BY REV. FREY E. HARGRAVES.

LESSON XXIV. Oct. 31. Golden Text, "Luke 24:34. Time, Sunday, April 9th, A. D. 30. Place, Jerusalem and Sepulchre.

The Master is dead. The spear has pierced His side, from which poured blood and water, sure sign of mortal death. Every evidence proves conclusively that He is actually dead. The body is taken and prepared with the utmost care for burial. It is embalmed in spices, wrapped in linen cloths, and every preparation made for the tomb. A new sepulchre is chosen, belonging to Joseph of Arimathea; a sepulchre in which no body had yet been laid. The chief priests are not satisfied with ordinary precautions, but request that a seal be placed on the stone that closes the the sepulchre. Then a guard is placed around the tomb. All these arrangements being duly perfected, the priests and people resume the ordinary duties of life. The Christ is dead and buried, and His body is safe from the hands of friends or foes.

It was early on Sunday morning that a great earthquake shook the ground and an angel appeared at the door of the sepulchre and rolled away the stone, and Jesus rose from the dead. As the guard saw the angel they were sorely afraid and "became as dead men." They were eye witnesses to the fact that an angel rolled away the stone which had been sealed at the request of the chief priests. It was a Roman guard and not friendly to Jesus.

Mary Magdalene was the first visitor at the sepulchre in the dark of the morning and she finds the stone rolled away. Her first thought is that the body has been stolen, and she hastens to inform her friends. Other women come to the tomb and find an angel, who informs them that Jesus has risen. Afterwards Peter and John come there, John first and waiting outside till Peter comes up. Peter goes in and sees the two piles of clothing laying there, and it becomes evident to them that Jesus has risen from the dead and John believes. Departing for their home, wondering at the marvel, which had been foretold to them but which they had failed to apprehend till now, their place at the sepulchre is taken by Mary who returns there. She sees two angels who tell her of the resurrection. Hearing a footstep outside she turns and the Christ is there, but she did not recognize Him. Thinking it to be the gardener she asks Him where the body of Christ has been taken to. Then Jesus calls her by name. "Mary." She looks more closely as she remembers the familiar voice and answers, "My Master," and fain would fall at His feet and worship Him. But He tells her not to waste time there, but hasten away to His disciples and tell them what she has seen and heard. It were beautiful to fall prostrate at the Master's feet, but it were better to go and preach His resurrection from the dead. Sitting at the well of Jacob in Samaria, Jesus made His first declaration of His Messiahship to a woman. Standing by the open sepulchre, he gave to a woman the first commission to preach His resurrection from the dead. In that resurrection we have the promise of eternal life.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. The proofs of Christ's death and burial are incontestable.
2. The proofs of His resurrection are equally certain.
3. His resurrection proves His divinity.
4. In the light of these proofs there can be no excuse for not accepting Christ.

LABOR ITEMS.

We quote the following from the Adrian Times of Oct. 23d.

We call attention to an article printed in another column, referring to the strike of the Knights of Labor in the State of Georgia. There are indications that through this organization the wage workers of the south may obtain their rights—a free ballot and a fair count.

The Adrian Record of Oct. 21st, contains this item:

Some time ago we wrote about M. T. Cole, of Palmyra, candidate on the Republican ticket for the legislature, and about his expression regarding the Knights of Labor. [illegible] freely expressed [illegible] will do just as he [illegible] pays foreign pauper labor on his farm. That being the case, how can a laboring man support him?

There is a new play called "The Cat's King." Will the king be surrounded by a cat'le guard?

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

Issued Every Thursday Morning

Office in the New HERALD Building, one door East of the Opera House, Tecumseh, Mich.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

One year, cash in advance, $1 50
Six months " 75
Three months " 50

Subscription price for every three months that payment may be delayed, 25.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Business locals, five cents a line for each insertion.

Special notices, ten cents a line for each insertion.

Rates on general advertising or on contracts made known on application.

Entered at the postoffice at Tecumseh, Michigan, as second class matter.

TECUMSEH, MICH., OCT. 24, 1888.

Election day, next Tuesday. May the best men win.

The button-holing business is flourishing this week. All the candidates are making full time.

Election day will have come and gone before another issue of the HERALD. The agony will soon be over.

The Republicans are doing the most campaign work in Lenawee County this fall. But will they get the most votes?

The Michigan Mugwump is an unknown quantity. Wolverine voters stand somewhere and they generally know where they do stand.

James G. Blaine is on the stump in Pennsylvania. He is talking now to those who the last campaign didn't believe was good for the next one.

Six hundred students graduated from the Catholic schools of Minneapolis last week. For another month, and at last accounts they were still out.

Next Saturday is registration day. All voters who have moved since the last election should see that they are duly registered by being on the list.

Vote as you think the public good requires, is the duty of every American citizen. Vote fearlessly and honestly as you believe, but vote in some way. Don't let death lose your title to manhood by default.

An exchange asks a puzzling question: "Why do Republicans stop to say 'protection' when in the city where they are running four Democrats for the Mayoralty and yet it is a fine city and a big city."

It is reported that a purse of $[illegible] has been raised by the protectionists to be used in this district in favor of Capt. Allen. We do not believe that the honest veterans in this district will go back on Salisbury in that way.

There are now [illegible] postoffices in the country, and during the last year 22,747 democratic postmasters were appointed. This is a pretty good showing for this timid, reform administration, which has pretended to be so shy about the distribution of spoils.

The N. Y. Tribune says that the colored pupils of a free school have struck because the teacher devoted the whole morning to a tilt[illegible] study. This shows how difficult it is to educate the negro. Out of school he is perfectly content with watermelons in summer, coon in winter.

It is reported that the Hon. James Burchalter Bedford, the famous spouting geyser of Colorado, has joined the Democratic party and the Total Abstinence League this morning. Two good inflications. Under the gentle influence of water from the Brook, the eloquence of Mr. Bedford will flow as copiously as of old in his native and adopted stream.—N. Y. Sun.

Gen. N. P. Hill writes to a friend last week: "My prediction is that Cleveland will be President. Mr. Blaine made more mistakes during this campaign, and is as dogmatic, as will prove of any of the best Governors this State ever had." And that is just the impression that has obtained with the majority of the voters of Michigan. Yaple is making excellent time toward Lansing.

Salisbury is the hero of twenty pitched battles. Five times wounded, the last time high unto death, he attested his heroism and devotion to his country by again endeavoring to enlist. He was no laggard. He fought in such battles as Antietam, Chancellorsville, South Mountain, Second Bull Run, Malvern Hill. He stood up manfully during the carnage at Fredericksburg, and at last went down with hundreds of his brave comrades on the bloody field of Gettysburg. For hours he lay in the open field, with a raging wound clear through his body. This man has the grit of a true soldier. Not many a man would have come out of such an experience to find work as a section hand on a railroad and have had the stamina to educate himself to a commanding position by his eloquence and uprightness.—Ann Arbor Argus.

CLEVELAND STRONGER THAN IN 1884.

George William Curtis in the last Harper's Weekly under the head of "The Signs of the Times" says:

"The Democratic party was not especially friendly to Mr. Cleveland in 1884 and there has been a resolute and out-spoken Democratic protest against his administration from the beginning. It now appears, however, that his administration is very generally commended by Democrats and by the independent feeling of the country. And that he is very much stronger than when he was elected, he has strengthened the course of the Republican party to recover the confidence of the country, so far as it has been developed, because of great indecisions. This course is to be seen in its nominations, in the State platforms, and in the speeches of the leaders, and these straws together show merely implicit reliance upon the party tradition. For instance, in Massachusetts the platform assumes that administrative reform is a Republican principle. The Convention then nominates Mr. Ames because he is rich, and demands support for him on the ground that he is a Republican and therefore a reformer. Again, the Prohibition sentiment in Massachusetts is strong. The platform therefore denounces intemperance and declares that a prohibitory amendment should be submitted to the people. But this means nothing. The New York Republican Convention did the same thing three years ago and the Republican Legislature refused to submit the amendment, and even if it should be submitted in Massachusetts, every Republican upon such a platform might vote against it. It is a hard, [illegible] to ask the opinion of the State [illegible] declaration of a party.

"At the same time Republican leaders are appealing to protection, demanding the protection votes, declaring that the Republican votes suppressed in the Southern States should be thrown by force of them [illegible] power. But the Democratic party does not repudiate protection, the President has signed more special pension bills than were passed during the Administration of General Grant, and his veto was in a case in which, as shown by his explanation, the rebellion in power is the chief party gag, while the Republican vote is no more oppressed at the South than it was under Republican administration. This fact, of course, is not an excuse for fraud as against the ballot, but we are considering the probabilities of a campaign, and the argument drawn from alleged crimes at the polls did not avail in 1884, and will be no more effective in 1888. The dictionary shows that as against the increasing general confidence in the President, the disappearance of the open Democratic opposition, and the total miscarriage of the anti-campaign of disaster in the event of his election, and the consequent disposition of the vague distrust of the Democratic party as such, the Republican party relegates the allegations of the campaign of 1884, and apparently intends to renominate the same candidate. But it is the party response to earnest convictions upon the newer questions that arise, regard for the party mind and consciences which assure its continuous power. These convictions were denied and derided in '84, and the party was defeated. Denial and derision and evasion will certainly not secure success in '88. If Mr. Cleveland be renominated by the Democrats, the only Republican candidate who could really contest his election would be some Republican edge like Mr. Ames, merely stands for the Republican party, but a man of personal significance, of strong reform convictions, and of a courage and capacity which is in the case of Mr. Cleveland would be the guarantee of honest and progressive government. With such a candidate the Republican party could make a vigorous fight. But with Mr. Blaine the best we can hope is even more significant than before."

PETIT JURORS.

The following list of petit jurors has been drawn to serve at the term of the circuit court, which converges in this city on the second Tuesday in November.

Deerfield—Ira D. Long.
Dover—Thomas Loonan.
Fairfield—James B. Day.
Franklin—H. C. Daniels.
Hudson—Eugene Brown.
Macon—L. Nesbole.
Madison—Robert W. Burt.
Medina—Lewis Perry.
Ogden—Wm. M. Jenson.
Palmyra—Geo. Everett.
Raisin—Hulett West.
Ridgeway—John L. Linn.
Riga—Porter A. Belknap.
Rollin—Spencer C. Chandler.
Rome—Chas. E. Baker.
Seneca—Ephraim Ranger.
Tecumseh—Chas. L. Albaugh.
Woodstock—Marion E. Cole.
City 1st Ward—Sanford N. Aldrich.
2nd Ward—James H. Hitchcock.
3rd Ward—Theodore Hack.
4th Ward—Geo. E. Wesley.
Adrian Township—J. M. Blanchard.
Blissfield—Josh D. Sindel.

PROTECTED WAGES.

Iron is ore protected by a tariff, yet the iron ore workers of Pennsylvania earned the average [illegible] during the year 1885, as shown by the returns of their employers to the State Bureau of Industrial Statistics.

Soft coal is protected by a tariff of [illegible] cents a bushel, yet the coal workers in Pennsylvania only earned an average of $6.21 per week in 1885, as shown by the reports of their employers.

Iron is protected by a high tariff, and the workers about the blast furnaces of Pennsylvania only earned an average of $[illegible] per week in 1885, as shown by the reports of their employers.

The iron and coal interests are among the most thoroughly protected interests of [illegible], and yet the wages of labor in iron and iron ore and coal are lower than in any of the unprotected industries. If the protective tariff insures higher pay to labor, as is claimed, why do the wages of iron and coal workers rule so low.—Philadelphia Record.

MANUFACTURERS FOR FREE TRADE.

The following taken from the Toledo Bee shows the drift of public sentiment on the free trade question. The manufacturers themselves are beginning to see that the present mushroom tariff is a detriment to them no less than to the agricultural and laboring classes.

It was reported to the Bee some days ago that David June, the leading manufacturer of this city, and an active, partisan Republican, would support Frank Hurd for Congress this fall.

To verify this report a Bee representative was sent to Fremont to see Mr. June. He was found [illegible] at the Champion Engine Works in that city and the question was put to him in a manner [illegible] would this fall.

With a smile [illegible] and the answer was [illegible] in manly hesitation. "I say just what I think."

"You are the largest manufacturer in this district."

"I believe I am."

"And a staunch Republican."

"Yes."

"Yet you say you will support Hurd."

"Yes, I will, because I believe in Hurd and his principles, and I would be sorry to see him defeated."

"How does this then affect the manufacturing interests?"

"Not in the slightest. That talk is all tosh and nonsense."

As Mr. June was very busy the interview was not prolonged, but what he did say was explicit and right to the point, and will furnish food for thought for those who employ labor and for those who are themselves wage workers.

Mr. June is a man endowed with quick business perceptions and a more than ordinary amount of good "common sense." He is well known throughout the Tenth district and his words will convey great weight.

While at Fremont, the Bee representative was given a list of life-long Republicans who will vote for Mr. Hurd this fall. They are all men of standing and influence in that city and who do not want to be misrepresented at Washington any longer.

SHALL WAR TAXES LAST FOREVER.

Of all the dishonest and demagogic campaign cries in Republican organs, that is the worst which represents the Democratic demand for a prevention of the surplus by a reduction of the war taxes as an agitation against the tariff and a raid on American industries.

The Republicans themselves have "agitated" the tariff question and tinkered the tariff much more than the Democrats have. They made a "horizontal reduction" of 10 per cent. in the duties in 1883 and restored the old duties three years later. They dangled the red meat by enlarging the free list. They "agitated" the tariff further by appointing a Tariff Commission packed with Protectionists. This Commission made a report on American industries by proposing a super-ad valorem reduction in the average duty. A Republican President and a Republican Secretary of the Treasury joined in this "agitation" to make the reduction. A Republican Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee approved the bill specially prepared for this purpose and declared that it would reduce the duties 20 per cent., and adopts $100,000,000 to $90,000,000 from the custom collectors.

The revision proved to be a sham. Instead of reducing the average duty 20 per cent. it lowered it only about 2 per cent. Instead of diminishing the revenues $10,000,000 it lessened them but $20,000,000. And it actually raised the tariff on iron ore and other articles. The acknowledgement of the tariff agitation by the Republican National Convention of 1884 pledged the party to "support the inequalities of the tariff" as a means of "preventing the surplus and more agitation."

The revenue reformers, be they Democrats or Republicans, would be content for the present with the reduction promised in 1888, honestly and judiciously made. If that will not "prevent agitation" and "raids on American industries" what will, I know not. Perhaps nothing. But if the Republicans, how can it be done when favored by Democrats? The surplus is larger and the need of tax reduction greater than was the case three years ago. What the country wants is a revision that will reduce and a reduction that will reduce.—New York World.

"Every nation has its customs," remarked an old lady, placidly, when informed that her sailor husband had just been eaten by cannibals.

It is useless to attempt the cure of any disorder, if the blood is allowed to remain impure. Neuralgia and rheumatism are traceable to a disordered condition of the blood, and in numberless cases have been cured by taking a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

When the press gets away the compositors will play.—the very devil with the types.

Consumption can be Cured.

Not by any secret remedy, but by proper, healthful exercise and the judicious use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites, containing the healing and strengthening virtues of these two valuable specifics in their fullest form. Prescribed universally by Physicians. Druggists everywhere.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Still, Druggist, Burlington, Indiana, writes: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Beaville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at

C. A. Wright & Co.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

The Appetite

May be increased, the digestive organs strengthened, and the bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was constantly affected with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite by its well were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headache had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—James M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine we can give for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—P. L. Lawrence, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have rendered me wonderful service. For months I suffered from loss of appetite, headache, and restless nights, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills all these troubles disappeared, and I expected well and hearty. My health was rapidly improving.—Henry C. Hemenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. The [illegible] A. N. B.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Closing Out Sale!

I Propose to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all Kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 22d.

In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers, And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.—Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Toledo Business College.

Board and room $3.50 per week. Penmanship, Book Keeping, Business Correspondence, Shorthand, Typewriting, Mathematics and English Branches thoroughly taught. No special preparation required to enter. Actual Business Department is prominent feature of the school. Special classes for teachers from July 1 to September 1. Catalogues sent free.

M. H. DAVIS, B. A., Principal and Proprietor, Toledo, Ohio.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

This almost universal disease can be cured more easily from May to October than at any other season of the year, and will last less time for it. The treatment is mild in a common sense manner, and the cure is sure and permanent, and it is not unpleasant. Send for our circular on this troublesome disease. Address,

HAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Sale !

URE

R 22d.

after that time
ness, known
d would stoners or me with a

opportunity.

NEY

noes !

STOCK

mseh.

ITURE !

stock of Furnianything in my
Come with a
at my prices.
er 12 yrs. in the
M. McCOWEN.

KING !

tend to this im-
, night or day.
norant persons nd immediately
are very reas-

VEN.

Prices."

OMO

ir of Shoes.

SON.

E & CO.,

& Co.,

ATERIAL.

ng to Order.

Depot.

IGAN.

College.

REMEDY.

and Doors.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS cessful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf 28 years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since has cured hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st st., New York City.

CURE FOR THE DEAF

Peck's Patent IMPROVED Cushion Ear Drums restore the Natural Drum. Always in position. Invisible to others and comfortable to wear. All conversation and even whispers heard distinctly. We refer you to those using them. Send for illustrated book with testimonials. Address F. HISCOX, 853 Broadway, New York. Mention this paper.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

the popular favorite for dressing the hair. Restoring color when gray, and preventing hair from falling. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is a most elegant dressing. 50 all sizes at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS

The safest, surest, quickest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, Warts, Moles, Callosities, &c. Hindercorns free from poison. Stopsall pain. Gives instant relief. Makes the feet comfortable. Hindercorns cures when everything else fails. Sold by Druggists at 15c. HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

Newspaper Advertising

DAUCHY & CO.,

27 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N.Y.

Make lowest rates on all newspapers in the U. S. and Canada. Established 1867. Send for catalogue. Parties contemplating a line of advertising, large or small, are requested to send for estimate of cost.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 22d day of September, A.D., 1871, Alexander D. Mead and Lucy C. F. Mead, his wife, of the co. Lenawee county and state of Michigan, made, executed and delivered to Fielder S. Snow, administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith, deceased, a certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, Michigan, in Liber 65 of mortgages, on pages 250, 251 and 252. Said mortgage was assigned by the said Fielder S. Snow, administrator, to Moses Bartlett, of Clinton, in said county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, on the 8th day of October, A.D., 1877, which assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of the said county of Lenawee, in Liber 113 of mortgages, on page 573. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage at this date the sum of five hundred and forty-six 53-100 dollars. No suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole sum so due or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall, on the 4th day of December, A.D., 1886, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county) the premises in said mortgage described, for the purpose of satisfying the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expense of this foreclosure and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being all that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street, at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. King, and now occupied by Samuel B. Rose as a dwelling lot, and running thence westerly along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods; thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street; thence east along the south line of Brown street three (3) rods; thence south along the west line of land occupied by Samuel B. Rose, twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept. 9, 1886.

MOSES BARTLETT,
Assignee of said Mortgage.

sep9

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

—OF—

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

Don't forget anything in this line can be bought at the Lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, INFORE indiscretion, or over-exertion. AFTER Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold in Tecumseh by DR. GEO. FERGUSON.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

Tecumseh Herald

LONELY.

Hast thou not felt the impotence
Of worlds and all expressive art
Thine own soul's burning thought undimmed
In brains upon another's heart?
Hast thou not feared thy soul must ever be
Sadly unknown to those most dear to thee?

I doubt not, angels, when they go
On missions they deem far away,
Look back upon our Universe
Address, for them their entry way,
The loving arms of Sirius and the Sun
So close embracing that they seem as one.

NOW-A-DAYS.

Only they everything has changed
Since I was a little maiden,
When all the girls wore homespun frocks
And aprons also all to gain;
With bonnets made of braided straw,
Tied close beneath the chin,
And shawls laid neatly o'er the neck
And fastened with a pin.

But now-a-days the ladies wear
Such high three-storied hats,
With feathers running all around
To cover up the flats,
Then frocks that fall so very low
And trail a yard behind,
They remade the giddy for to catch,
Yet sometimes catch the blind.

And then to think that some young girls
Will almost faint away
If they are left to sit alone
In wagon or in sleigh;
And as for getting pa his meals,
Or helping ma to bake,
Oh! that would spoil their lily hands
From baking "angel cake."

When snow would fall I was so pleased
And how my heart did flutter,
As each beau took his sweetheart out
Sleigh-riding in his cutter
But when the storm was bleak and cold
The girls and beaux together
Would meet and have a good straw ride
In spite of wind and weather.

But now, indeed, it grieves me much
That I am forced to mention,
However kind a young man's heart,
Or honest his intention,
He dare not ask a girl to ride
But such a war is waged!
That if he says her more than I who,
Why! they must be engaged.

Land sakes! what are we coming to?
Is what I want to know.
How do the girls expect to have
A sensible young beau?
When, if they get a nice young man
They cut too great a dash,
And then the grand result soon comes
A universal crash!

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

CHAPTER XIV.

The instant Isabel was out of hearing Old Sharon slapped Moody on the shoulder to rouse his attention. "I've got her out of the way," he said; "now listen to me. My business with the young angel is done; I may go back to London."

Moody looked at him in astonishment.

"Lord! how little you know of thieves!" exclaimed Old Sharon. "Why, man alive, I have tried her with two plain tests. If you wanted a proof of her innocence, there it was, as plain as the nose on your face. Did you hear me ask her how she came to seal the letter, just when her mind was running on something else?"

"I heard you," said Moody.

"Did you see how she started and stared at me?"

"I did."

"Well, I can tell you this: If she had stolen the money she would neither have started nor stared. She would have had her answer ready beforehand in her own mind, in case of accidents. There's only one thing, in my experience, that you can never do with a thief, when the thief happens to be a woman—you can never take her by surprise. Put that remark by in your mind; one day you may find a use for remembering it. Did you see her blush, and look quite hurt in her feelings, pretty dear, when I asked about her sweetheart? Do you think a thief, in her place, would have shown such a face as that? Not she! The thief would have been relieved. The thief would have said to herself: 'All right; the more the old fool talks about sweethearts the further he is from tracing the robbery to me.' Yes! yes! the ground's cleared now, Master Moody. We reckoned up the servants; I've questioned Miss Isabel; I've made my inquiries in all the other quarters that may be useful to us—and what's the result? The advice I gave, when you and the lawyer first came to me—I hate that fellow!—remains as sound and good advice as ever. I have got the thief in my mind," said Old Sharon, closing his cunning eyes and then opening them again, "as plain as I've got you in my eye at this minute. No more of that now," he went on, looking round sharply at the path that led to the farm house; "I've something particular to say to you, and there's barely time to say it before that nice girl comes back. Look here! do you happen to be acquainted with Mr. Hardyman's valet?"

Moody stared at Old Sharon with a searching and doubtful look.

"Mr. Hardyman's valet?" he repeated. "I wasn't prepared to hear Mr. Hardyman's name."

Old Sharon looked at Moody, in his turn, with a flash of sardonic triumph.

"Oh," he said, "has my good boy learned his lesson? Do you see the taint through my spectacles already?"

"I began to see him," Moody answered, "when you gave us the guinea opinion at your lodgings."

"Will you whisper his name?" asked Old Sharon.

"No yet. I distrust my own judgment. I'll wait till time proves that you're right."

Old Sharon knitted his shaggy brows and shook his head. "If you only had a little more dash and go in you," he said, "you would be a clever fellow. As it is—" He finished the sentence by snapping his fingers with a grim of contempt. "Let's get to business. Are you going back by the next train along with me, or are you going to stop with the young lady?"

"I will follow you by a later train," Moody answered.

"Then I must give you your instructions at once." Sharon continued. "You get better acquainted with Hardyman's valet. Lend him money if he wants it, stick at nothing to make a bosom friend of him. I can't do that part of it—my appearance would be against me. You are the man; you are respectable from the top of your hat to the tips of your boots; nobody would suspect you. Don't make objections! Can you fix the valet? Or can't you?"

"I can try," said Moody. "And what then?"

On Sharon's part [illegible] close to Moody's ear.

"Your friend the valet can tell you who his master's bankers are, I'm said, and he can supply you with a specimen of his master's handwriting."

Moody drew back as suddenly as if his vagabond companion had spat venom at his throat. "You old villain!" he said, "are you tempting me to forgery?"

"You infernal fool!" retorted Old Sharon, "will you hold that long tongue of yours and hear what I have to say? You go to Hardyman's bankers, with a note in Hardyman's handwriting (exactly imitated by me) to the effect, Mr. H. presents his compliments to Messrs. So-and-So, and asks if a certain number of a payment of five hundred pounds has been made within the last week to his account. He will be much obliged if Messrs. So-and-So will inform him by a line in reply whether there is such an entry to his credit in their books and by whom the payment has been made. You wait for the bankers' answer, and bring it to me. It's just possible that the name you're afraid to whisper may appear in the letter. If it does, we've caught our man." Is that too easy, Mr. Muddlehead Moody? I'll tell you what—if I had lived to be your age, and knew no more of the world than you do, I'd go and hang myself. Steady! here's our charming friend with the milk. Remember your instructions, and don't lose heart if my notion of the payment to the bankers comes to nothing. I know what to do next, in that case—and, what's more, I'll take all the risk and trouble on my own shoulders. Oh, Lord! I'm afraid I shall be obliged to drink the milk, now it's come."

With this apprehension in his mind, he advanced to relieve Isabel of the jug she carried.

"Here's a treat!" he burst out, with an affectation of joy which was completely belied by the expression of his dirty face. "Here's a kind and dear young lady, to help an old man to a drink with her own pretty hands." He paused, and looked at the milk very much as he might have looked at a dose of physic. "Will any one take a drink first?" he asked, offering the jug piteously to Isabel and Moody. "You see, I'm not used to genuine milk; I'm used to chalk and water. I don't know what effect the unadulterated cow might have on my poor old inside." He tasted the milk with the greatest caution. "Upon my soul, this is too rich for me! The unadulterated cow is a deal too strong to be drunk alone. If you'll allow me, I'll qualify it with a drop of gin. Here, Puggy! Puggy!" He set the milk down before the dog, and taking a flask out of his pocket, emptied it at a draught. "That's something like!" he said, smacking his lips with an air of infinite relief. "So sorry, miss, to have given you all your trouble for nothing; it's my ignorance that's to blame, not me. I couldn't know I was unworthy of genuine milk till I tried—could I? And do you know?" he proceeded, with his eye directed slyly on the way back to the station, "I begin to think I'm not worthy of the fresh air, either. A kind of a longing seems to come over me for the London stink. I'm homesick already for the soot of my happy childhood and my own dear native mud. The air here is too thin for me, and the sky too clear; and—oh, Lord!—when you're used to the roar of the traffic—the busses and the cabs and what not—the silence in these parts is downright awful. I'll wish you good evening, miss, and get back to London."

Isabel turned to Moody with disappointment plainly expressed in her face and manner.

"Is that all he has to say?" she asked. "You told me he could help us. You led me to suppose he could find the guilty person."

Sharon heard her. "I could name the guilty person," he answered, "as easily, miss, as I could name you."

"Why don't you do it, then?" Isabel inquired, not very patiently.

"Because the time's not ripe for it yet, miss—that's one reason. Because, if I mentioned the thief's name, as things are now, you, Miss Isabel, would think me mad, and you would tell Mr. Moody I had cheated him out of his money—that's another reason. The matter's in train, if you will only wait a little longer."

"So you say," Isabel rejoined. "If you really could name the thief, I believe you would do it now."

She turned away with a frown on her pretty face. Old Sharon followed her. Even his coarse sensibilities appeared to feel the irresistible ascendency of beauty and youth.

"I say!" he began, "we have parted friends, you know, and I shall break my heart over it. They have got milk at the farm house. Do you think they have got pen, ink and paper, too?"

Isabel answered, without turning to look at him, "Of course they have."

"And a bit of sealing-wax?"

"I dare say."

Old Sharon laid his dirty claws on her shoulder, and forced her to face him as the best means of shaking them off.

"Come along," he said. "I am going to pacify you with some information in writing."

"And what should you write it?" Isabel asked suspiciously.

"Because I mean to make my own conditions, my dear, before I let you into the secret."

In ten minutes more they were all three in the farm house parlor. Nobody but the farmer's wife was at home. The good woman trembled from head to foot at the sight of Old Sharon. In all her harmless life she had never yet seen humanity under the aspect in which it was now presented to her. "Mercy preserve us, miss!" she whispered to Isabel, "show some, you to be in such company as that!" Instructed by Isabel, she produced the necessary materials for writing and sealing, and, that done, she shrank away to the door. "Please to excuse me, miss," she said, with a last horrified look at her venerable visitor; "I really can't stand the sight of such a blot of dirt as that in my nice clean parlor." With these words she disappeared, and was seen no more.

Perfectly indifferent to his reception, Old Sharon [illegible] in an envelope and sealed it in the absence of anything better fitted for the purpose with the mouthpiece of his pipe.

"Now, miss," he said, "you give me your word of honor"—he stopped and looked round at Moody, with a grin—"and you give me yours, that you won't either of you break the seal on this envelope till the expiration of one week from the present date. These are the conditions, Miss Isabel, on which I'll give you your information. If you stop to dispute with me, the conditions alight, and I'll burn the letter."

It was useless to contend with him. Isabel and Moody gave him the promise that he required. He handed the sealed envelope to Isabel with a low bow. "When the week's out," he said, "you will own I'm a cleverer fellow than you think me now. Wish you good evening, miss. Come along, Puggy. Farewell to the horrid, clean country, and back again to the nice London stink."

He nodded to Moody—he leered at Isabel—he chuckled to himself—he left the farm house.

CHAPTER XV.

Isabel looked down at the letter in her hand, considered it in silence, and turned to Moody. "I feel tempted to open it already," she said.

"After giving your promise?" Moody gently remonstrated.

Isabel met that objection with a woman's logic.

"Does a promise matter," she asked, "when one gives it to a stranger, in consideration for one's own interests, to do what one knows to be wrong? Suppose I do not open this letter, I leave it to you to trust such a creature as I would in."

"I doubted him just as you do," Moody answered. "And I feel as much the impulse to open the letter as you do. But there was something in the manner and appearance of the man at the first interview, which convinced me that he was what he pretended to be—a man who knew his business and had the means to do it. I believe his appearance and his manners as much as you do—I may even say I believed in him against my will. But I feel as you do, Miss Isabel, I want to know what that letter contains. I believe it will prove to be a thing worth paying for to know. And we can soon know, if we like, how the money may be paid."

"Why not open it, then?" she began.

"Hear reason, Miss Isabel," he pleaded, entreatingly. "Suppose we open the letter and find Mr. Hardyman's money has been paid to his own order, by rallying her courage, instead of answering Moody suggested that he was about to think of returning to Mr. Clephan's. "Your aunt may be getting anxious about you," he said.

Isabel had the way out of the farm house in silence. She reverted to Mr. Sharon and the money, however, as they returned by the path across the fields.

"I am sure you will not be offended with me," she said, gently, "if I own that I am uneasy about the expenses. I am allowing you to use your purse as if it were mine, and I have hardly any savings of my own."

Moody entreated her not to speak of it. "How can I put my money to a better use than in serving your interests?" he asked. "My one object in life is to relieve you of your present anxieties. I shall be the happiest man living if you only owe a moment's happiness to my exertions."

Isabel took his hand, and looked at him with grateful tears in her eyes.

"How good you are to me, Mr. Moody!" she said. "I wish I could tell you how deeply I feel your kindness."

"You can do it easily," he answered, with a smile. "Call me 'Robert;' don't call me 'Mr. Moody.'"

She took his arm with a sudden familiarity that charmed him. "If you had been my brother I should have called you 'Robert,'" she said, "and no brother could have been more devoted to me than you are."

He looked eagerly at her bright face turned up to his. "May I never hope to be something nearer and dearer to you than a brother?" he asked, tenderly.

She hung her head and said nothing. Moody's memory recalled Sharon's coarse reference to her "sweetheart." She had blushed when he put the question. What had she done when Moody put his question? Her face answered for her—she had turned pale; she was looking more serious than usual. Ignorant as he was of the ways of women, his instinct told him that this was a bad sign. Surely her rising color would have confessed it, if time and gratitude together were teaching her to love him? He sighed as the inevitable conclusion forced itself on his mind.

"I hope I have not offended you?" he said, sadly.

"Oh, no!"

"I wish I had not spoken. Pray don't think that I am serving you with any selfish motive."

"I don't think that, Robert. I never could think it of you."

He was not quite satisfied yet. "Even if you were to marry some other man," he went on, earnestly, "it would make no difference in what I am trying to do for you. No matter what I might suffer, I should still go on—for your sake."

"Why do you talk so?" she burst out, passionately. "No other man has such a claim as yours to my gratitude and regard. How can you let such thoughts come to you? I have done nothing in secret. I have no friends who are not known to you. Be satisfied with that, Robert, and let us drop the subject."

"Never to take it up again?" he asked, with the infatuated pertinacity of a man clinging to his last hope.

At other times and under other circumstances Isabel might have answered him sharply. She spoke with perfect gentleness now.

"Not for the present," she said. "I don't know my own heart. Give me time."

His gratitude caught at those words, as the drowning man is said to catch at the proverbial straw. He lifted her hand, and suddenly and fondly pressed his lips on it. She showed no confusion. Was she sorry for him, poor wretch!—and was that all?

They walked on arm in arm, in silence.

Crossing the last field, they entered again on the high road leading to the row of villas in which Miss Pink lived. The minds of both were preoccupied. Neither of them noticed a gentleman approaching on horseback, followed by a mounted groom. He was advancing slowly, at the walking pace of his horse, and he only observed the two foot passengers when he was close to them.

"Miss Isabel!"

She started, looked up, and discovered—Alfred Hardyman.

He was dressed in a perfectly made traveling suit of light brown, with a peaked felt hat of a darker shade of the same color, which, in a picturesque sense, greatly improved his personal appearance. His pleasure at discovering Isabel gave the animation to his features which they wanted on ordinary occasions. He sat his horse, a superb hunter, easily and gracefully. His light, amber-colored gloves fitted him perfectly. His obsequious servant, on another magnificent horse, waited behind him. He looked the incarnation of rank and breeding, of wealth and prosperity. What a contrast in a woman's eyes, to the shy, pale, melancholy man in the ill-fitting black clothes, with the wandering, uneasy glance, who stood beneath him and felt, and felt with shame that he felt, his inferior position keenly! In spite of herself, the treacherous blush flew over Isabel's face, in Moody's presence, and with Moody's eyes intuitively watching her.

"This is a piece of good fortune that I hardly hoped for," said Hardyman, his cool manner, frank speaking, unconscious, as usual, of Isabel's presence. "I only got back from France this morning, and I called on Lady Lydiard in the hope of seeing you. She was not at home, and you were in the country, and the servants didn't know the address. I could get no clue out of them, except that you were on a visit to a relation." He looked at Moody while he was speaking. "Haven't I seen you before?" he said, carelessly. "Yes, at Lady Lydiard's. You rather startled me. How do you do?" Moody, with his eyes on the ground, answered silently by a bow. Hardyman, perfectly indifferent whether Lady Lydiard's steward spoke or not, turned to his guest and looked admiringly at Isabel. "I begin to think my luck has turned at last," he went on, with a smile. "I was thinking about you, my Yarmouth disappointment, when I met Miss Isabel again—and Miss Isabel herself meets me at the road side! I wonder whether you are as glad to see me as I am to see you? You won't tell me, eh? May I ask you a much more easy question? Are you staying in the neighborhood?"

There was an interval of a few seconds before Isabel had to answer this question. Hardyman had met her coldly, and he had no doubt drawn the inevitable inference, although he was too polite to say so in plain words.

"Yes," she answered, shyly, "I am staying in this neighborhood."

"And who is your relation?" Hardyman pursued. It was the easy, matter-of-course way [illegible] of meeting you at her house [illegible] your aunt living in the country [illegible] I hear about you. It's your aunt, isn't it?" "Yes! I know everybody's [illegible] What is your aunt's name?"

"A piece of good fortune that I hardly hoped for," said Hardyman.

Isabel, still resting her hand on Robert's arm, felt it tremble a little as Hardyman made this last inquiry. If she had been speaking to one of her equals she would have known how to dispose of the question without directly answering it. But what could she say to the magnificent gentleman on the stately horse? He had only to send his servant into the village to ask who the young lady from London was staying with and the answer, in a dozen mouths at least, would direct him to her aunt. She cast one appealing look at Moody, and pronounced the distinguished name of Miss Pink.

"Miss Pink?" Hardyman repeated. "Surely I know Miss Pink." (He had not the faintest remembrance of her.) "Where did I meet her last?" (He ran over in his memory the different local festivals at which strangers had been introduced to him.) "Was it at the archery meeting, or at the grammar school, when the prizes were given? No! It must have been at the flower show, then, surely?"

It had been at the flower show. Isabel had heard it from Miss Pink fifty times at least, and was obliged to admit it now.

"I am quite ashamed of never having called," Hardyman proceeded. "The fact is, I have so much to do. I am a bad one at paying visits. Are you on your way home? Let me follow you and make my apologies personally to Miss Pink."

Moody looked at Isabel. It was only a momentary glance, but she perfectly understood it.

To be Continued.

ESTATE OF STEPHEN HUNTER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court, for the county of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 5th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Stephen Hunter, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of James F. Gilmore, administrator of said estate, praying for license to sell the real estate of said deceased in said petition described for reasons therein set forth.

It is Ordered, That Monday, the 8th day of November next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said Petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said Petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)
A. H. Briggs, Probate Register. oct7

ESTATE OF JAMES WHEELER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office in the city of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 5th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of James Wheeler, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Frederick B. Wood and Charles Burridge, alleging that they are executors of the last will and testament of Edwin B. Wood, deceased, that said Edwin B. Wood in his lifetime was executor of the last will and testament of said James Wheeler, deceased, and praying for the allowance of the final account of said late executor rendered by them, and that the bond of said late executor may be cancelled, and for such other and further order as this court may seem proper.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 8th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said court then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause if any there be why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)
A. H. Briggs, Probate Register.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of [illegible]

In the matter of the estate of [illegible] Brown and [illegible] Brown, Minors.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an order of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, made on the [illegible] day of [illegible], A.D., 1886, there will be sold at public vendue to the highest bidder, at the dwelling house in the township of Rollin, in said county and state, on the [illegible] day of September, A.D. 1886, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, subject to the dower right of Mary A. Bryan, widow of Edwin J. Bryan, deceased, the following described real estate, to wit: The undivided [illegible] of the following described tracts of land situated in the township of Rollin, County and State aforesaid, viz: The north half of the following described tract, to wit: [illegible] township six south, of range four east, containing seventy-three acres, more or less.

MARY C. BRYAN,
Guardian.

Dated Aug. 5, 1886. sep2

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

the popular favorite for dressing the hair. Restoring color when gray, and preventing hair from falling. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is a most elegant dressing. 50c. and $1 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.

The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 15th day of February, A.D., 1881, William W. Van Akin and Charity S., his wife, made, executed and delivered to Gamaliel I. Thompson, a trustee for Perkins, Thompson & Co., a certain Indenture of Mortgage, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Lenawee County, Michigan, in Liber 69 on pages 275, 276 and 277, which mortgage was assigned as aforesaid, on the 11th day of July, A.D. 1881, to Moses H. Perkins, which assignment was recorded in the Register's office of said county in Liber 95, on page 90, and the said mortgage was assigned by said Moses H. Perkins to John M. Osborn on the 1st day of October, A.D., 1881, which assignment was recorded in the office of [illegible] in Liber 100 on page [illegible] and the said mortgage was assigned by said John M. Osborn to John H. Boies on the 17th day of September, A.D. 1885, which assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county in Liber 104 on page [illegible]. There is claimed to be due upon said mortgage at this date the sum of [illegible] dollars. And no suit or proceedings in equity have been instituted to recover the whole sum so due or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall, on the 4th day of December, A.D., 1886, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county) the premises in said mortgage described, for the purpose of satisfying the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expense of this foreclosure, and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being land in the north part of the middle subdivision of the northwest fractional quarter of section nineteen in township seven south, of range one east, meridian of Michigan, and beginning on the east line of said sub-division and south of the cemetery, and running thence west so as to divide the flat land on top of point Ebeno equally thereon; continuing west to center of Bean Creek; thence down said Creek until it intersects Sunnyside (now Pleasant street) in the village of Hudson, from the west. And this conveyance shall convey all the lands the said parties of the first part now own on said northwest quarter of section nineteen north of this line. A more particular description of the above land would be all that piece or parcel of land the eastern boundary of which is the old Tannery lot, and lots three, four and five on west side of Madison street and the old cemetery ground and Johnson's addition to the village of Hudson. And the south line of which is the line above described as running through point Ebeno, and the west line of which is land owned by Julia A. Pettit where she now resides and Temperance L. Sawyer, (the latter acquired by deed from Pixley, recorded in Liber [illegible], page 284) and Pixley, and thence diagonally across the street which runs to the race track to the southeast corner of lot owned by Daniel Wood, (which corner is sixteen rods east of Market street); thence north along the east side of lots of said Wood and of Pixley to southeast corner of lot owned by W. A. Whitney, which corner is Whitney's eight rods south of Mechanic street. And the north line of which is a line from the southeast corner of said Whitney's land east and parallel with Mechanic street and at a distance of eight rods from Mechanic street, running east to the southeast corner of a lot now or formerly owned by Abner H. Lane on the south side of Mechanic street, thence north eight rods to the south line of Mechanic street; thence east along the south line of Mechanic to the northwest corner of the old Tannery lot which was the place of beginning. And the above description shall contain twenty-six acres more or less, excepting therefrom two acres and one hundred and forty-seven rods of said above described premises which was discharged from the lien of said mortgage by Release, dated May 7th, A.D. 1883, which Release was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, in Liber 105, on pages 461 and 463, and which premises are described in said Release as follows, to wit: Commencing on east line of Market street where the south line of Mechanic street intersects the same, and running south sixteen rods and east parallel with Mechanic street sixteen rods to a point of beginning, running thence north along east line of land formerly owned by Abner H. Lane and Walter Pixley, eight rods to southeast corner land now owned by William A. Whitney; thence east parallel with Mechanic street along south line of lands owned by Mrs. Yost and Beardsell and A. H. Lane thirty-one rods to southeast corner of said Lane's land; thence north along east line of said Lane's land eight rods to south line of Mechanic street; thence east along south line of Mechanic street eleven rods; thence south, parallel with Market street about seventeen and one-half rods, or far enough so that this Deed shall contain the amount of land it calls for; thence east parallel with Mechanic street forty two rods; thence north about one and one-half rods to place of beginning. And this deed conveys two acres and one hundred and forty-seven rods of land.

Dated July 19th, 1886.

JOHN H. BOIES,
Assignee of Mortgage.

THOMAS J. HILLER,
Attorney for Assignee. jul29

SHERIFF'S SALE.

EXECUTION notice is hereby given that by virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, in favor of W. K. Choate, against the goods and chattels and real estate of John Willett, William Willett and S. H. Smith, in said county to me directed and delivered, I did, on the 19th day of August, A.D., 1886, levy upon, and take all the right, title and interest of the said S. H. Smith in and to the following real estate, that is to say: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate and being in the townships of Ogden and Palmyra in the said county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, bounded and described as follows, viz:

Beginning at the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of section number thirty-two in township number seven south of range two east; thence south on east line of said section to section corner; thence east to the River Raisin on section one in town eight south of range four east; thence following the river bank westerly far enough so that a line drawn from said river bank in a straight line north, to the quarter stake of said section, thence east on said section line to beginning, shall enclose one hundred acres; thence north to said quarter line, thence east on said quarter line to the place of beginning.

All of which I shall expose for sale at public auction or vendue, to the highest bidder at the front door of the new court house on Main street in the city of Adrian in said county of Lenawee, that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in and for said county, on the 15th day of October next, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

Dated this 19th day of August, A.D. 1886.

ANGILO WHITMORE,
Sheriff.

By W. W. Burgess,
Deputy Sheriff. sep2

ESTATE OF ADDISON HARDENBURGH.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee—ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Monday, the 4th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Addison Hardenburgh, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Alice B. Hardenburgh, widow of said deceased, praying that Administration of said estate may be granted to her or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 8th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)
A. H. Briggs, Probate Register.

POULTRY, GAME, BUTTER, EGGS.

E. C. EITZPATRICK, Detroit, M.

ADVERTISERS who are about to open an account with a leading house in Chicago, will find it for their advantage to address LORD & THOMAS.

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., OCTOBER 1880

THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The new books recently purchased [illegible] numbered and placed on the shelves, and can now be drawn. The addition consists of one hundred and thirty five new volumes, fairly distributed between [illegible] biography and [illegible] travels. These books are [illegible] the proceeds of the different entertainments given by the Association last winter. The Association now entirely [illegible] and has 750 volumes on hand. Through the kindness of Mr. O. P. Bliss we are permitted to publish a list of the new purchases which will give people an idea of the character. Persons who have a catalogue in their hand, can find a convenient place to cut out this list and paste it in their catalogue.

TITLE OF BOOK.	AUTHOR.
[illegible]	Sophia May
[illegible]	Mrs. J. H. Ewing
[illegible]	Kate Lindsay Walker
[illegible]	Miss A. D. T. Whitney
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	Frances Hodgson Burnett
[illegible]	Sophia May
[illegible]	Wager
[illegible]	Margaret [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

PRELUDE ON THE TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

Rev. P. Atkins, pastor of the Baptist church, opened the service Sunday [illegible] a prelude on the Temperance question, which we are permitted to publish at the request of some of his congregation.

It has long been a popular custom with people to look to introduce before his lectures, "preludes" on current events. I am at a loss to know why this custom is not as good for other men as well. Hence to-day, before my sermon, or before I announce my text, I propose a "prelude" on the TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

[illegible] I have been requested that this day be observed as a "temperance day," and that special attention be given the subject in the religious services of the day. They have published this request in a courteous and respectful address. We all recognize and rejoice in the service which this organization of Christian women has rendered in giving inspiration, energy and moral power to this great temperance reform. And while we do not admit the right of any society or party to direct our preaching or controlling services, there is no reason why a request so cordially in terms so respectful and showing a spirit so [illegible] should not receive just deference and [illegible]. What [illegible] expedient to do about it, we [illegible] with the spirit that [illegible] address. For myself I [illegible] approve [illegible] to adopt [illegible] question at the proper time. It has not been found expedient [illegible]

[illegible] an important use of it relates to the formation and promotion of a sound wholesome public opinion which is the basis of all effective law in a free country where the people rule and which is the creature of experience, argument, discussion, and personal appeal. We can do nothing without this.

[illegible] and experience, made effectual by honest administration. In regard to all the evils that affect society, while we cannot go back to the original, to remove the causes and the tempted, we should not leave outside improvement [illegible] opposed to them. [illegible] who will not be persuaded by law and persuasion are either at a social [illegible] and in time.

[illegible] which the case requires there are two forms: the restrictive or regulative and the prohibitory. With [illegible] I hold that the prohibitory is best and the only form of legislation which is in the end at all adequate to meet the case. On this point my convictions have always been decided and unqualified. I have no faith in half way measures. And I may say, if you will pardon the personal reference, that on this question I have made something of a record in the past by that record I have been somewhat notoriously classed as an uncompromising prohibitionist. I stand by that record now. I see no reason and have no wish to recede from the ground. I hold that no measure short of national prohibition [illegible] for the [illegible] of the liquor traffic. [illegible] Except in special and [illegible] cases and [illegible] opposed to the [illegible] of the

DOATS

SUITS,

HILDREN.

umseh

d Winter suits, that We make our clothing this season, stock in important point for ree you a suit, as in of knowing the habit of sending sell them no other bought right Give us a call

OOTS,

DS,

ERS,

e King

NACES.

They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success.

THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

BOYD.

OOL

cks of Cloth assortment efore.

OATS!

f Clothing.

Figures

OPLE.

stockers, Overcoats and en to trade.

OOD'S

H.

NG CARTS.

For Colts or Faulty Horses.

self in a stingy way, but perfectly healthy, with prices sent free. Address, Box 1, Fonda, N. Y. and get Wonderful Secret, 40 North ness correspondence, circulars, etc. No spring guards of the kind. No tack to tear the book. No tack sent free. Proprietor, TOLEDO, OHIO.

College'

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HOUSE FOR SALE ON TIME. A. W. SLAYTON.

HOME OF MAN CONCERN. — [illegible] will please come before Nov. 30 as we will close our mill on that date until next season. DUNOOD BROS., Britton, Mich.

HOUSE TO RENT. — At $5.00 a month. Apply at once to A. W. SLAYTON.

LOST. — A gold [illegible] between the residence of Steger's Mill and town. The finder will please leave at the HERALD OFFICE.

CABBAGE, CABBAGE. — Premium Flat Dutch, the best cabbage grown for sauer or pickling use. For sale cheap in large or small quantities. ABNER WILSON.

FOR RENT — At Pine Side new rented to parties [illegible] M. J. STEWART.

LESSONS ON THE VIOLIN 50 cents each. Enquire at Mark Russell's home or of C. M. Hayden, Tecumseh.

FOR SALE OR RENT. — A due [illegible] house, barn, and [illegible] acres of land, will be sold [illegible] Enquire of J. S. KINNEY & STORE, Tecumseh, Mich.

Ask to see skirting flannel and knit skirts at W & S. W. ANDERSON & Co's.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jacobs will please accept the thanks of the printer for favors received.

A letter received from Bath N. Y., announces the death of Grant Gardinghouse, which occurred last Sunday. He was buried at that place.

Poultry, eggs, veal calves, clover seed, hides and furs wanted at L. D. Dewey & Son's, on Railroad street, Tecumseh. The highest market price paid.

Rev. Edward Eggs, of Detroit, Dist. Cor. Secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission society will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church next Sabbath morning and evening.

The Young People's Social, of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at the residence of Mr. F. Rossman, on Friday evening, Nov. 12th. A cordial invitation is extended.

There will be an social hop at the residence of Mr. Joseph H. Shull on Friday evening, Nov. 5th, under the auspices of the Baptist church choir. Further particulars next week.

GONE TO REST.

In the mists of early morning on Saturday Oct. 23d gentle Mame Spafford dropped to sleep. The sleep that knows no earthly waking. Her age was sixteen years and ten months. Her life, like that of most young girls, was uneventful, but she was a light in the family home, and a general favorite in the little circle in which she moved.

She mastered the art of type setting in a few weeks' practice, was a compositor in the office of the Manchester Enterprise in 1884, and afterwards filled a similar position in the office of the Brooklyn Exponent with Mrs. Clough. She then went to Lansing with Will and Anna Hood, and had secured a position on the Lowell Journal, but failing health prevented her accepting it. Last spring she came home to die. She was ambitious to live, but the Angel had chosen her for an early offering. She united with the Baptist church in this village in '82, and has since been a faithful and zealous member of both Church and Sunday School, seeking as best she could to follow in the footsteps of the Master.

The funeral obseqqies were held at her father's residence in this village on Monday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Adkins delivered a brief address that touched all hearts, and the ceremonies were taken in charge by Dr. North and her companions in the Sunday School. The beautiful floral offerings displayed deserve a passing mention. They were. A floral pillow from Mrs. A. A. Doke and Miss Eva Hunt; a harp by the young ladies of the Baptist church; a pillow by Mat D. Foster of Manchester; a wreath by Mrs. Erhlyn Clough and Etta Ayres of Brooklyn; Another wreath by father and mother, a star by Mrs. R. Crosby, a horseshoe by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Eccles, a heart by Mrs. Gage and Mrs. Hale; a basket by Miss Hettie Spaulding; a cross and wreath by Mrs. Geo. Mead.

No words can fitly portray Mame's character. She was ambitious beyond her years, as faithful to business duty as a strong man, as kind and gentle in the home circle as a mourning dove. Her companionship was a benison of joy, her laugh was a ripple of delight. Her lifeless form was dropped into its cold bed beside her brother Percy, who had crossed the river only a few years before.

As these cold type click their solemn requiem over the little step-robe that Mame used, her gray-haired father performs his last sad duty, conscious that he too will soon be called to lay his burden by the wayside, and down to dream of the best proof street road in Heaven.

"Doubt has made
His darkness beautiful with cloud."

Card of Thanks.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed" was never more fully verified than up on the occasion of our late sad affliction, which left another vacant chair in our home, and we wish to return our thanks to all for their kindness on that occasion.

GEO. & MARY SPAFFORD.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., OCT. 28, 1886.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Concert to-morrow night.

L. M. Moony was home over Sunday.

Harry Lee is in Cleveland, O., this week.

A new Chautauqua Circle has been organized as May-nel.

Frank Snedecor, of Dundee, was in town Tuesday.

A. W. Adams is laid up very sick with rheumatism.

Mrs. Trendan McKinney, of Toledo, was in town over Sunday.

Don't fail to attend the concert at the opera house to-morrow night.

C. E. Williamson started for New York city Tuesday on a business trip.

Miss Jennie Fraser started for Lake Linden Tuesday for a visit of several weeks.

Mrs. E. Bryan and Mrs. I. P. Keyser were visiting friends in Jackson Sunday.

The front of Wright's Drug store and Bills' bank is receiving a new coat of paint.

John Werner celebrated his 63rd birthday last Saturday and hopes to celebrate many more of them.

George Hollister has purchased the John Pattison residence on Pottawatamie street, in this village, the consideration being $1,600.

J. H. Rich, of the Lackawanna freight line was in town Saturday to look after the interests of his road.

We are having a little genuine October weather before the November days arrive.

Satterthwaite Bros. & Boyd have placed their broken plate glass front with a new one last Tuesday.

The M. A. O. R. will give another excursion to Toledo on the 30th, leaving Tecumseh Saturday morning.

E. H. Hough returned home Monday. He is able to be out but does not as yet attend to business.

H. W. Stevens is buying a large quantity of apples this fall. He has already shipped off over 1000 barrels.

Those who wish to vote at the coming election, should see that their names are registered before Saturday night.

We are glad to note that B. F. Lamkins, of Franklin, is rapidly regaining his health. His full recovery seems to be assured.

Everyone should go and hear the rich musical treat at the opera house to-morrow night. The ladies are both artists and are sure to please.

Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Hubbard, of Lansing, are visiting friends in town this week. They are on their wedding tour and stop here for a few days.

Mrs. E. B. Lyman and Miss Lily Runals, of New York city, will give one of their unique entertainments at the opera house to-morrow night, consisting of singing and recitations. Admission 25c to all parts of the house.

At the meeting of the C. L. S. C. held at S. W. Anderson's last Monday evening, the circle was reorganized and the following officers were chosen:

President—Mrs. L. G. North.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. M. E. Corey.
Secretary—Miss Hettie McCline.

H. E. Anderson has arranged some broad shelving in his store and painted the same black, on which he has placed a fine display of fancy crockery. It is an admirable arrangement for showing off crockery to the best advantage.

The 41st birthday of George Van Tyne falling on the 25th inst., a number of his comrades of the G. A. R. gave him a pleasant surprise party on that date, and presented him with a handsome album, the presentation being made by Rev. Mr. Getchell.

Services at the Universalist church on Sunday, October 31st, as follows: At 10.30 in the morning, sermon on "The Heroism of Science." Text, Mark XV. 16. Sunday School after morning services. In the evening at 7 o'clock a discourse on "The Dominion of Man." Text, Psalm VIII. 6. The public welcome these services of the day.

An item appeared in the Adrian Record of last Friday that Judge Howell contemplated resigning his position as Judge and moving to Detroit. We have been informed, on good authority, that the report is wholly unauthorized and has no foundation in fact. Lenawee county cannot afford to lose so good a judicial officer as Judge Howell.

Chas. Whitney's new fruit drying establishment, in the old rink building is now in full blast. Seventeen hands are employed and about one hundred bushels of apples are worked up daily. The apples are first pared by machines, then bleached by steam, then sliced in a slicing machine and then placed on trays and put through the dryer. Seven hundred pounds of dryed apples are made ready for the market every day.

Geo. Freeze and Joe Cummins, of Clinton, were in town last Sunday.

Mr. Sam Palmer and Stewart Fitzgerald, of Manchester, were in town

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. James, of Detroit, spent last Sabbath in Tecumseh.

Miss Florence Haines entertained a party of her young friends last Saturday in honor of her birthday.

John J. Neeley is down from his Kalkaska farm for a few days' visit among his old Tecumseh friends.

Rev. W. F. Wistel, of Clinton, was in town Monday and paid the respects at the HERALD sanctum.

Henry Smith is sporting a fine new top buggy. It is just what his wife and daughters need and can enjoy.

The white flag with a black square in the centre was displayed last Monday for the first time in several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crane went to St. Louis, Mo., last week to spend a few days with C. S. Crane and family.

Miss Lena Sizer, of Adrian, and Miss James, of Douglass, spent Sunday in town as the guest of Mrs. Hardy.

Mrs. Ethlyn Clough, of the Brooklyn Exponent, was in Tecumseh last Monday. She came to attend the funeral of Mamie Spafford.

Brewer's foundry shut down last Friday afternoon to allow the employees to attend the funeral of their fellow workman, Jas. Warren.

We are always pleased to show you through our cloak department, whether ready to buy or not.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Sherm Whitmore is rushing like a tiger through this section. The only question to settle in his case, on election day, is the amount of his majority.

Rev. F. Adkins attended the Baptist Semi-Centennial at Detroit last week, and was much pleased at the success of the gathering. It was a very large and interesting gathering.

Van Derbilt passed over the branch last Thursday afternoon viewing his property on his special train. The four o'clock train was held at this station half an hour to allow the magnate to pass over a clear track.

Mrs. John L. Whitbeck, of Hudson, who has been spending two weeks with her mother, Mrs. W. A. Whitney, returned home Monday. Mr. Whitbeck came out Saturday night and remained over the Sabbath.

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold a New England Supper at the church on Friday, Oct. 29th. Supper from 5 to 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited. Supper tickets fifteen cents.

L. LOANA STACY, Sec.

A new time card went into force on the M. & O. road last Sunday. The western trains now pass this station at 8:46 A. M. and 6:25 P. M. Trains going east at 9:47 A. M. and 7:07 P. M. For full changes see the corrected time card in the HERALD.

Miss Parloa, in Good Housekeeping just out, tells, in her article which she prepares especially for that magazine and which is not printed elsewhere, how to make apple pudding, rice pudding and soufflés of different flavors. She also gives some excellent suggestions about desserts.

Commander Mills, of the G. A. R. Post, circulated about town last week and raised a purse for Peter Welling to pay the expense of taking him to Ypsilanti where he will try the mineral water. We sincerely hope that a few weeks' stay there may result in a permanent benefit to him.

Lt. Elliott Gray started for the North woods, last Monday, on a deer hunting expedition. He expects to be gone about four weeks. He will lose his vote for Yaple and Salsbury, but his conscience rests easy on that point for he will take two Republican voters along with him.

Prof. Z. C. Spencer, formerly superintendent of our public schools, occupied Rev. Reed Stearns' pulpit at Battle Creek last Sunday. In announcing the services, the pastor stated that he desired to continue the experiment and cultivate the talents of some of the laymen in the future.

Among the candidates on the Democratic county ticket who are morally certain of getting there is our townsman, S. P. Homer. He has plenty of friends all through Northern Lenawee, where he is acquainted, and he will pole a handsome vote from the G. A. R. boys in every township in the county. Perry is one of the men we should be willing to bet on, if we ever bet at all.

The Red Book, as usual, makes its appearance just when wanted, and the State edition, this year, abounds with statistical information of the character now most in demand. The little publication has become the standard political text-book, and not only is it of unquestioned value as an authority upon election results, but is a model of clean and most artistic typography. As of old it is sent without money and without price by inclosing stamp to C. K. Lord, Baltimore, Md.

Concert to-morrow night at the opera house.

Miss Flora Roof reported quite sick.

meeting on Monday evening next.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co. and Kies Bros. advertise in the Dundee Reporter.

Postmaster Wyman has been making improvements in the Morenci post office.

Carl Burger, of Portland, Oregon, arrived in town this noon via the Lake Shore.

Mat Blower, of the Manchester Enterprise, came down Monday to attend Mamie Spafford's funeral.

Cloud Bros. of Britton, will please accept our thanks for a sample of their apple jelly. It was prime.

The Democrats will hold the closing rally of the campaign on Monday evening next. Regent Whitbeck, of Ypsilanti, will address them.

C. M. Cone of Adrian, favored the HERALD with a short call last Tuesday. Charley is putting in a few days just at present electioneering.

M. P. Brown, our prohibition "hustler" is troubled at times with dyspepsia but he says there is one very peculiar feature about his complaint; it never bothers him during a political campaign.

J. S. Kinney is now fairly settled in his new and commodious quarters, where he would be glad to see all of his old friends and customers. He has lots of room and intends to carry a larger stock than ever before.

Pharlow Adams and Miss Jennie Ross were united in marriage, by the Rev. Geo. Clipperfield, at his residence on Calhoun street, Battle Creek, October 21st, 1886. The happy couple have the best wishes of a host of friends in Tecumseh.

Another drove of mustangs has been brought to Morenci, but the Morenci Observer man, who took one of the first kit, gives a warning that he don't pay this time. He knows when he has enough and a mighty rarely makes a fool of himself twice in the same direction, anyway.—Adrian Times.

The next meeting of the Merrie Club will be held at the residence of John Van Vleet, three miles east of Tecumseh, on Thursday evening, November 4th, where an oyster supper will be served at 25 cents. The program will consist of Music and a Shadow Pantomine entitled, Mary Jane's Courtship. All are cordially invited. BELLE WOODEN, Sec.

Wm. J. Pawson, of Franklin, the fusion nominee for county treasurer is making an active canvass, and as he travels about the county and becomes acquainted with the farmers, he is well satisfied with the prospects. Mr. Pawson will pole a good complimentary vote where is best known, and his chances of election are fully equal to those of either of his competitors.

Hon. Chas. R. Whitman, of Ypsilanti, will address the Tecumseh Yaple Club on Monday evening next, Nov. 1st. Mr. Whitman is one of the rising young Democrats of Washtenaw county. He is a very pleasing and forcible speaker, and ought to have a full house. He was Mr. Salsbury's chief competitor for the Congressional nomination, but he has thrown himself into the canvass heartily and is doing his level best to promote Salsbury's election.

With the October issue, the enterprising Buffalo Magazine, Queries, was enlarged by the addition of sixteen pages of reading matter. The new features consist of miscellaneous reading matter, critical essays, poetical extracts, readings from new books, and a number of superior illustrations. An excellent full page engraving of Constance Fenimore Woolson, and portraits of Locker, E. W. Howe, and Tolstoi, the Russian novelist, are also given. The publishers now claim Queries is the largest and best four-leaf magazine published. Buffalo, N. Y., C. E. Sherrill & Co.

With its November number the Magazine of Art ends the tenth year of its valuable existence and closes the volume for 1886. The frontispiece is a reproduction in brown of Sir Joshua's famous portrait of the Hon. Miss Ann Bingham, after Batolozzi's engraving. The magazine opens with a spirited paper on "The American Salon," that is, the American painters who exhibit in the Paris salon by Paul Leroi, which is illustrated by engravings from some of the more recent contributions. An account of some historic gloves, which is illustrated among others by a facsimile of Shakespeare's gloves, now owned by Dr. H. H. Furness, of Philadelphia, and St. James' Palace is described with pen and pencil by W. J. Loftie. This is followed by a poem called "Wasted," by Wilfrid Meynell. An interesting paper is devoted to "Van Dyck in Antwerp," and is followed by a paper on "Medals of the Stage," by W. E. Henley. The art notes are lively and numerous. Cassell & Co., New York, 47 Lafayette Place. $3.00 a year in advance.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage of J. E. Newbern to Miss Anna Robbins took place on the evening of Oct. 20th at the residence of the bride's parents in the city of Cleveland, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the first Congregational church of that city, in the presence of about thirty guests. The bride was attired in a dark blue satin with old gold trimmings, which set off her rich complexion very nicely. After the ceremony came congratulations and an elegant supper. A season of social converse followed until a late hour, when the happy pair took the Niagara Falls and the hearty, good wishes of all. The bridal gifts were numerous, beautiful and appropriate. Misses Lizzie and Clara Hayden, Grace and May DeWolf, Elida James, Allie Satterthwaite, Julia Shull and Mr. C. E. Patterson, of Tecumseh, all of whom are personal friends of the bride, attended the nuptial ceremony. The groom is a stranger here. The bride passed her girlhood days in Tecumseh, and has kept her old acquaintance green since her father took up his residence in Cleveland. She was a social favorite here and has a host of friends in the little village on the Raisin who will bid her God-speed in her new relation.

CONCERT AND READING.

Tecumseh people will have an opportunity to hear a first class concert and recitation at the opera house to-morrow evening the 29th, when Mrs. E. B. Lyman and Miss Lily Runals, of N. Y. city, will appear here for the first time in concert. Mrs. Lyman is the same lady that gave health lectures here several years ago, and those who heard her then, will no doubt be glad to hear her in her new role. Miss Runals is a young lady of marked talent as a singer and reciter of 25 the press of the cities in which she has appeared with very much favor. Among the many notices we give the following:

N. Y. Tribune. Mrs. Lyman is of fine presence and manner. She completely won the hearts of her hearers in her exquisite rendering of pathetic passages.

Brooklyn Eagle. Miss Lily Runals produced enthusiastic applause by her skillful rendering of the various pieces which she sang and recited. Her voice is clear, rich and musical, and her facial expression and gestures are highly artistic.

N. Y. Home Journal. Mrs. Lyman is a lady of the size called noble, with handsome features and a beautiful voice. Her dramatic impersonations are masterly, while her humorous selections are given in a way to shake up the audience.

Milwaukee Sentinel. The finest selection of the evening was a scene from Schiller's "Mary Stuart." This closes with a burst of passion wherein Miss Runals showed superior dramatic power. Mrs. Lyman made a grand Elizabeth.

Admission to all parts of the house, 25c. Reserved seats without extra charge, at Adamson's.

Charity Well Bestowed.

The following letter from P. J. Welling to A. W. Mills conveys cheering news and we take the liberty of printing the same, that the contributors to the purse for Mr. Welling may see how thankfully their contributions have been received.

YPSILANTI, Oct. 25th.

MR. A. W. MILLS, Tecumseh.

Dear Sir—Yours of the 23rd is at hand, with the two drafts for $25 each, and also postal note for $2.25 for which I send my heartfelt thanks to all of you that have contributed so much for my relief. I cannot see as I have gained much yet, but I think that if I can get any help anywhere, I will get it here. They are all very kind and obliging, and doing all they can for me. Respectfully yours,

P. J. WELLING.

On Tuesday last at the residence of the bride's parents in this village occurred the marriage of Mr. H. F. Jacobs, of Leavenworth, Kan., and Miss Frances J. Palmer. Rev. F. Adkins tied the knot in his usual happy manner. The affair was a quiet one. There was no attempt at display, only a few relatives and intimate friends being present. The groom is a stranger among us, but we hear the best of reports about him. The bride, by her faithful devotion to home duties and her amiable disposition, has endeared herself to all, and she will leave the paternal roof accompanied by the best wishes of many friends for her future happiness. The bridal pair leaves for their new home next Saturday, when they will start for their home in the West.

Wanted Work.

Parties desiring fine photographic work in crayon, water colors or India ink, at prices as low as the lowest. My reputation for doing first-class work is fast improving. My gallery is situated on the ground floor. My light is as good as in the city. This, with my experience, gives me every facility for doing first class work. Call and see.

W. J. HICKS,
Tecumseh.

The Clinton Democratic Glee Club is gaining quite a reputation for their fine vocal music.

It is something of a paradox, but the man who gets over Niagara Falls never gets over it.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

Hiram Lockmer has a sore head. It matters little to the public how he got it; but it is a sore subject to Hiram.

[illegible] formation" in the head.—Hudson Post.

L. W. Galloway, of Hudson, reports [illegible] toes from 1½ acres of land. They were mostly of the Burbank variety.

The spoke factory is being put into shape for business. The machines are being put into condition for use, and probably next week some work will be turned out of the bending department. The rest of the works can of course not run to any extent until farmers are sufficiently through with their fall work to bring in logs.—Hudson Post.

A new plague has broken out in western Michigan. A lightning rod company places its irons on farm buildings and throws in an insurance policy for 10 years as a sort of chronic attachment. Many of the best informed farmers of Ottawa county have bitten.

The Brooklyn Exponent says that mince pies will soon be ripe. Mince pies are already ripe down in this neighborhood.

While at work on Ara Palmer's new residence Fred Raiser, one of the carpenters, had a roll of bills amounting to about $45 stolen from the pocket of his coat, hanging near by. No definite clue has as yet been obtained as to the perpetrator of the theft, although suspicion points to a stranger who had been loitering about the house and who has since disappeared.—Brooklyn Exponent.

A few days ago a cablegram was received at Riga, Mich., on the line of the Lake Shore road. The dispatch was from Germany and addressed to a man with a foreign name. The agent at Riga sent word to head quarters at Toledo that no man of the name given could be found in or near Riga, and the department here wired back to cancel the order and unravelled the mystery. The dispatch was intended for the town of Riga, in Russia. The dispatch some time before a telegram had gone to its destination. What was made to cross the ocean, when with a little thought the sender of it might have discovered the error, we never dreamed.—Toledo Blade.

A farmer friend of ours in Raisin township informs us this morning that yesterday he saw a short procession of carriages going to the Lace meeting at Tecumseh, and that the rear was supported by a load of beer. The friend said he did not know whether the beer had any connection with the procession, but that it was quite appropriate.—Adrian Record of Thursday.

It is expected that the trial of Jacob Crouch for the murder of the Crouch family will be commenced at the November term of Jackson circuit court. New evidence of a startling character is said will be disclosed.

The Dundee Reporter will please step up to the head. Among its agricultural trophies is a seventeen pound radish.

Lenawee county has 676 pensioners and their monthly pay roots up a total of $9,323.

—Joe Sage, of Macon, has opened the campaign with his patent Champion Weather Strip, one of the most durable strips in the market for the exclusion of cold, rain and dust. Strip your doors and windows as it saves fuel, and adds comfort to your home. The Champion-strip is warranted proof against all driving rain storms. Orders may be left at the HERALD office.

—We are still selling the Genuine White Shirt our competitors advertise as a bargain for 75c, at 49c. Comparison solicited.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

Everyone using grain bags can save money by buying them at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Fresh candies, ripe fruits, nuts, oranges, bananas, etc., received daily at R. C. Van Antwerp's.

Call and get some of those fresh cookies at the Star Bakery Saturday.

—Don't forget the fact that Mark Russell has a first class stock of Pianos, Organs and Sewing Machines.

—FOR WEDDINGS AND SUPPERS.—Bryners.—When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Hess Bros. White Foam Bread. It will hit the spot exactly.

—Fresh Oysters 25 cents a can at the Star Bakery.

Bread only 5c a loaf at the Star Bakery.

If you want any kind of painting or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's. Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS

PHYSICIANS

BANK OF TECUMSEH

HOTELS

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

O. A. SLAYTON

THE EASIEST AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow.

CULTIVATORS

GRAIN DRILLS

Jackson and Flint WAGONS

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons

Headquarters for Lime Cement Salt Coal Plaster and Plastering Hair Grain Flour Feed and Field Seeds

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "DOUBLE CHLORIDE OF GOLD" will cure the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike other so-called "Opium cures" and "Antidotes," it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient is not required to relinquish his occupation, nor to neglect his business to attend to his ordinary business during the entire treatment. Send for Treatise on Opium Habit, FREE, or for Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's book, "Opium: Its Use, Abuse and Cure," sent free on application. It will be sent in complete isolation, upon receipt of postage, by addressing the Leslie E. Keeley Co., Dwight, Ill., or Office, 1 Arcade, Cleveland.

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO., Dwight, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS!

Cured in from three to five days.

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

SEXUAL

Hawthorn Medical Co., Detroit, Mich.

A NIGHT IN COLINDIA.

PURE ABSOLUTE BLOOD

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

SCROFULA.

Lowell, Mass.

Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co.: I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in my family for several years, and am happy to tell you it is the best medicine we ever used. I shall cordially advise everyone who is troubled with scrofula to give this valuable remedy a trial, and assure them they will not be disappointed. Very truly yours, C. C. BIRKBECK, Corn Spring Co.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA is sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle, six for $5. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Detroit Paper

DETROIT EVENING JOURNAL

EVENING JOURNAL LEAD EVERYTHING

Associated Press DISPATCHES. THE EVENING JOURNAL

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL'S

THE EVENING JOURNAL

$3.00 per Year.

DR. A. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 40 Years.

PIANOS ORGANS

Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co.

DR. CLARKE

NO FEE UNTIL BETTER | ESTABLISHED 1887 DETROIT, MICH | Merrill Block.

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

SKILL AND SUCCESS

PRIVATE, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

Weakness, Lost Manhood, Debility and Impotency, Diseases of the Urinary and Sexual Organs, Blood and Skin Diseases, Piles, Fistula, Stricture, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Syphilis, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, Nervous Debility, Impotency, Lost Manhood, Sexual Decay, Premature Decline, Impotency, Lost Manhood, Sexual Decay, Premature Decline, Impotency, Lost Manhood, Sexual Decay, Premature Decline

ARKE

...ED SALE. ...T, MICH. | Merrill Block.

...lar, Old-Established

...IAN & SURGEON

AND SUCCESS

NERVOUS AND DISEASES

...DDLE-AGED MEN

...ER BRO'S

...SETS

...AL CORALINE

...ST POPULAR COR-
...TRODUCED.

...erior to whalebone.
...to be broken.

...EWARD

...ding Merchants.
...11 & 13 W. Lake St.
CHICAGO.

B
THE BLOOD

...gh Purifier of the Discovered.
...ral Scrofula.

RED STAR COUGH CURE

...from Opiates, Emetics and Poison.

SAFE. SURE. PROMPT. 25 Cts.

ST. JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK

GERMAN REMEDY For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, Burns.
PRICE, FIFTY CENTS.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 115. Mail.	No. 117. Express.	No. 119. Accom.
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	5 15 P.M.
Napoleon	8 41 "	3 25 "	8 45 "
Norvell	8 50 "	3 44 "	9 15 "
Manchester	9 02 "	3 00 "	9 50 "
Clinton	9 17 "	3 26 "	10 08 "
Tecumseh	9 35 "	3 56 "	10 42 "
Adrian	9 55 "	4 12 "	11 15 "
Petersburg	10 20 "	4 46 "
Toledo	11 00 "	5 05 "

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 120. Accom.
Toledo	5 00 A.M.	10 00 A.M.
Adrian	5 45 "	10 45 "	4 15 P.M.
Petersburg	6 00 "	11 00 "	4 30 "
Tecumseh	6 17 "	11 17 "	4 47 "
Clinton	6 35 "	11 35 "	5 05 "
Manchester	6 53 "	11 53 "	5 23 "
Norvell	7 05 "	12 05 P.M.	5 35 "
Napoleon	7 18 "	12 18 "	5 48 "
Jackson	7 35 "	12 35 "	6 05 "
Detroit	10 20 "	3 40 "	8 45 "
Buffalo	4 00 P.M.	9 00 "	4 00 A.M.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Report the cars 100 minutes in advance of time stated in this table.

N. S. SAYRE, SUPERINTENDENT.
F. M. ALLEN, AGENT.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	No. 2. Express.	No. 4. Mail.
Detroit	7 00 A.M.	3 00 P.M.
Ypsilanti	7 45 "	3 45 "
Ann Arbor	8 00 "	4 00 "
Jackson	9 45 "	5 45 "
Chicago	4 00 P.M.	1 00 A.M.
Toledo	10 00 P.M.	6 00 A.M.
Buffalo	4 00 A.M.	10 00 "
Niagara Falls	6 00 "	12 00 M.
Boston	8 00 P.M.	8 00 A.M.
New York	10 00 "	10 00 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	No. 1. Express.	No. 3. Mail.
Boston	6 00 A.M.	6 00 P.M.
New York	6 00 "	6 00 "
Buffalo	10 00 P.M.	10 00 A.M.
Niagara Falls	12 00 M.	2 00 P.M.
Toledo	8 00 A.M.	8 00 P.M.
Chicago	10 00 "	10 00 "
Detroit	2 00 P.M.	2 00 A.M.
Ann Arbor	3 45 "	3 45 "
Ypsilanti	4 00 "	4 00 "
Jackson	5 45 "	5 45 "
Petersburg	6 00 "	6 00 "
Toledo	7 00 "	7 00 "

Trains marked "*" are daily, all others daily except Sundays.

The Limited express trains stop only at R. R. crossings at Britton.

Passenger passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Niagara Falls and Buffalo with the Grand Trunk Railway for Boston, Portland and Montreal. Through Sleeping Cars to Chicago, Pullman Palace Sleepers, Parlor Cars and Free Reclining Chair Cars. Through Tickets to all points Northwest, Southwest and Pacific Coast. Through coaches and sleepers to Kansas City, making direct connections for all points in Indiana and the Southwest. Through Tickets to all points in Canada. Baggage checked through to destination. Ticket Offices, No. 1 Fort Street, Opera House block, and at Depot, foot of Third street. Trains leave Depot as follows:

GOING EAST.

Leave Detroit	7 00 A.M.
Leave Detroit	3 00 P.M.
Leave Detroit	10 00 P.M.

GOING WEST.

Leave Detroit	8 00 A.M.
Leave Detroit	2 00 P.M.
Leave Detroit	4 00 P.M.

Trains marked "*" are daily, all others daily except Sundays.

The Limited express trains stop only at R. R. crossings at Britton.

Passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Niagara Falls and from there can secure through Pullman Palace Sleepers to Boston. Through Sleeping Car Train to Chicago. Through Sleeping Cars to New York without change. Through connections for all points West and Northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to Kansas City, making direct connections for all points in Indiana and the Southwest. Through Tickets to all points in Canada. Baggage checked through to destination. Ticket Offices, No. 1 Fort Street, Opera House block, and at Depot, foot of Third street. Trains leave Depot as follows:

GOING EAST.

Leave Detroit	7 00 A.M.
Leave Detroit	3 00 P.M.
Leave Detroit	10 00 P.M.

GOING WEST.

Leave Detroit	8 00 A.M.
Leave Detroit	2 00 P.M.
Leave Detroit	4 00 P.M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Jackson with Michigan Central. At Chicago with C. & A. At Toledo with L. S. & M. S. At Adrian with L. S. & M. S. At Tecumseh with L. S. & M. S. At Hudson with L. S. & M. S. At Manchester with L. S. & M. S. At Clinton with L. S. & M. S. At Morenci with L. S. & M. S. At Hudson with Chicago & Atlantic. At Morenci with Chicago & Atlantic. At Morenci with Ft. Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw. At Morenci with L. S. & M. S. At Toledo with all Western lines.

Trains marked "*" are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

G. L. BRADLEY, Receiver. F. P. PARKER, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
J. F. MATTHEWS, Northwestern Agent. N. Saginaw, Mich.

WANTED!

AGENTS to sell a New Set of CHRISTMAS BOOKS selling from 50c. to $2. One agent sold 39 first week. Another 24 and her housework. Several sold over 200 in last year, of over 473. One in a village of 200 reported $48 the first week. $50 to $100 can be earned before Christmas with a few hours canvass each day. Every family wants one or more. Send for circular.
CASSELL & CO., 104 & 106 Bleecker St., N. Y.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

You find them everywhere you put them—not under horses' feet. One Agent sold 22 in 2 days, one made $18 in 1 day, in 3 days. Sample (worth $1.50) FREE. Write for terms.
E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Go to the rounds—climbing the ladder.

...Stevens, Twin P. O., Stevens Co., Wash. Terr., was entirely cured of rheumatism by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. He says: "I consider it a wonderful remedy and will speak a good word for it."

Fodike Limburger cheese is not a matter of taste but of smell.

Architect Edmond Legendre, 419 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal., states that having suffered for a long time with a severe cough and failing to obtain any relief from doctors and the numerous preparations he took, he became alarmed. Tried Red Star Cough Cure, and one bottle entirely cured him.

In the early days of the American Revolution the men in the Hour were minute men.

MOST EFFECTIVE.

E. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest, and Lungs. Trial bottle free at
C. A. Wright & Co.

"There is a new play called "The Cattle King." Will the king be surrounded by a cattle guard?

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will not fail to cure piles, tetter and all skin eruptions. Try this wonderful healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

It is something of a paradox, but the man who gets over Niagara Falls never celebrates it.

Judge of a government by the men it produces. Judge of a man by his deeds, a tree by its fruits, a medicine by its results. Time tried and true is Dr. Bull's Cough Cure, which combines the good qualities of all the best cough remedies without the defects of any of them. A safe and speedy remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. Sold in fifty cent and dollar bottles. Healing to the lungs. Safe and pleasant for children.

Careful attention to diet is the best guard against disease. It is a fact which all should know, that over eating not only corrupts the blood, but destroys nerve force, and induces dyspepsia, jaundice, bad breath, piles, pimples, low spirits, headache, ague malaria, and all stomach and liver troubles. Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic quickly cures all these diseases. Can be taken by the most delicate. Price, fifty cents.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE it? We are daily guaranteeing Kemp's Sarsaparilla to the people for cleansing the blood and giving a new lease of life. Price $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall.

TO NIGHT AND tomorrow night, and at all times call on us for Kemp's Pile Suppositories. The new treatment for Piles. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall.

TO ALL MEMBERS of society, Kemp's Balsam will cure your distressing cough. We guarantee it. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

THE GUARANTEED remedy, Kemp's Balsam, for the Throat and Lungs. It never fails to cure Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c. and $1. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

This trying climate tests the throat and lungs. Trix keep the throat healthy, the voice clear and the breath sweet.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

A Clear Complexion.

How do you expect a clear complexion when the blood is full of impurities and the system is clogged? The blood becomes impure because the liver does not act properly and work off the poison from the system, and the certain results are blotches, pimples and eruptions. Purify the blood with Simmons Liver Regulator, and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels, and then the skin will become clear.

No man ever yet wrote a book on rhetoric without making a dozen rhetorical blunders in the course of it.

For the relief and cure of the inflammation and congestion called "a cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past making a brilliant success as a remedy for colds in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail.

Every wife and mother in the country should know the great value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. It gives tone, health and strength, to the vital organs, expels all irregularities, and expels impurities from the system. Young and old use it. Price $1.

A SHIP'S OFFICERS.

DUTIES OF A SAILING VESSEL'S CAPTAIN AND MATES.

The Third Mate's Place an Unpleasant One—The Second Mate's Work—Importance of the First Mate's Office—The Captain Supreme.

The office of third mate in a large ship is generally an unpleasant one, disputing the second mate's being one of his duties, and the man always growling at the quantity as well as the quality of the provisions. In some ships, however, the third mate, instead of having charge of the provisions, commands no watch, but assists the second mate in tending the sails. The second mate takes the watch, he takes the third and finally a hand in a topgallant sail or jib. He works about deck the same as the other seamen. If he is smart at his work it generally gives him a fancy job up aloft, working or elsewhere; indeed, it is not unusual that he should be so supposed to be the leader of the watch, and for this reason, as much as his comparative youth, some young fellow is placed in the third mate's place to learn the ropes. It is the third mate's duty to walk the poop, or otherwise look after the ship's welfare, while the officer of the watch is below getting his meals.

SECOND AND FIRST MATES.

It is commonly said at sea that a man still keeps his tarry hands by becoming second mate; but in reality this saying applies more to former days when he was often picked out from the crew by the captain, and expected to turn his hand to anything. Now, although he lends a hand here and there at spare time job, yet he would not dip his hand in a tar pot unless specially ordered to do so by the captain or chief mate, showing that although his duty as well as any other, the practice has died out. The first mate and second mate goes aloft with the watch to the topsail yard, if sails, but no higher. He usually has charge of all the boats in the harbor, such as the captain's gig, the mate's boat, the pilot boat, etc. The second mate is the navigating officer and is keen about his sextant, as the mate is about his quadrant. In the case of a pilot vessel, the second mate is the pilot, and in the case of a coasting vessel he is almost invariably the man who takes the ship in and out of port, the first mate remaining much more than a week, the captain being the owner. The second mate is also the navigating officer of the ship, and is responsible for the correctness of the ship's reckoning, and for the safe navigation of the ship

THE GRAB BAG.

Mr Gumbo had filled the woodbox, split the kindlings and lighted his [illegible] pipe, and was comfortably settling down to read the paper when Jerusha had seated herself in the arm chair to toe out a pair of winter stockings for Sally, when the conversation turned on politics.

"Politics is gettin' awfully curved. Things did'nt used to be so 'round the war. Then every man was for the war or against it, and that was the end of it. But now there's [illegible] Democrats and free trade, Republicans and greenbacks, Democrats and greenbacks, Republicans and labor, Democrats and labor, Republicans. Why, hang it all, I don't hardly know myself. Politicians wuss n wuss, the prohibitionists is rasin' high generally. They're [illegible] to dissolve society altogether. Why, hang it, Jerusha, what would a politician meetin' amount to if the boys didn't go out and take suthin at the close on't? I b'lieve in workin' in some way. A man who won't work in some way is worse nor a heathen Chinee. The Democrats is growin' sassier n' sassier, the Republicans is growin' madder n madder, the Prohibitionists is growin' crankier n' crankier, the Knights of Labor is growin' stubborner n' stubborner. Sometimes I get fightin' mad and want to bet. Now, there! Jerusha, when a spasm o this kind comes on a fellur what had I better do?

Mrs Gumbo. "Well, Joshua, I have no advice to give you further than this. Don't bet. Betting is wrong. Remember that your bank account is a mighty quantity. If you have an ambition to become a better, don't do it. You had better spend your money for some better purpose. When you begin to perspire under the collar, Joshua, and feel like betting, let some one else do the betting and you hold the stakes. The betting man is liable to have his vote challenged. There is a statute law against betting. Betting cannot elect your candidates. If you want to enthuse by firing off sky rockets, and touching off red lights, if you want to discuss politics on Ad Amson's corner and 'whoop 'er up' at the evening meetings, that's all right you don't bet, Joshua, don't bet."

FANNIE SMITH.—"I say, Jennie, there's one thing I wish to know and you ought to be posted. It is becoming quite fashionable for young ladies to wear a neck ribbon. It is a neat article of dress, easily adjusted and is very becoming, not only to young ladies, but to married ladies, as well. The ribbon is generally tied in a double bow knot sometimes the knot is worn at the throat, sometimes at the back of the neck and again at either side. What is the significance if any, of these different positions? That is what I wish to know. We all know something about handkerchief flirtation. Is there such a thing as neck ribbon flirtation too?

JENNIE JONES.—"Why, Fannie, what a giddy girl you are. You should not bother your head with such frivolous nonsense. If you pass your Latin and mathematics and get ready to graduate next June, your school duties will require your undivided attention. And then, oh, well, we are called into society occasionally, and we ought to be reasonably informed not only on the rules of etiquette, but also of the kinks of flirtation, hain't we? Now Fannie, I don't claim to own any exclusive information, and I know of no authority on the subject, but if you will keep mum, I'll tell you what I have heard an old bachelor say about it, and he claimed to have received a rude from a large number of cards that had come under his observation. When a lady wears a ribbon knot at her throat, it signifies that she is married woman. A knot at the back of the neck means that the wearer has no serious objections to getting married as soon as she can find an eligible man. A knot on the right side signifies 'I'm all right, bachelor, young man—Keep your distance.' The knot at the left side means that the wearer takes every thing left handed and doesn't care a fig for matrimony whether school keeps or not. And the truth is, Fannie, I shouldn't wonder if the fellow had hit it about right."

Here is another campaign slander from the Adrian Times. The next time Hon. O'Meady calls this way, we'll take our cigars and call it square.—

Once told a story on Ald. O'Meady, illustrating his kindness of heart, which is too good to keep out of print. It goes like this: "Lon" went out of town lately to make an address on politics. He talked three hours, and swept the platform as fresh as a daisy. A mean man, or an ill-natured man, would have let the audience to disperse, but "Lon," in the kindness of his heart, it is said, went around, woke up the people, and started them all home in good shape, and much refreshed by their nap. Oh, he's fun on a candidate for prosecuting attorney has a kind heart."

UTILITY OF BLANK CARTRIDGES.

They are a Boon to the Realistic Drama, and are Used in Other Ways.

From the point of view of the man from the far west, probably the most [illegible] be a blank cartridge, for out where the sun goes down drawing a pistol is very serious business. Yet there is a very great demand for blank cartridges and even western men, at least those of them who have come to look upon the harmless noise producers with tolerance, and even approval as unerringly enhancing their safety in the corporeal and elastic sense that they are alive.

Many thousand cases of blank cartridges are made every year by the Wa[illegible] and commanded prices only less than those with bullets in them by about as much as the value of the lead would be. Great quantities of them are used for Fourth of July celebrations, and a good many are used by the militia in firing salutes. The theatres are, however, the best because the most constant and steady consumers. [illegible] shows the hero remarking, "Never again will you cross my path," and the villain [illegible] "Die villain!" they both burn blank cartridges; and when the English soldiers fire a volley after the escaping Irish patriot they use blank cartridges, and their guns being loaded in that way explains why the Irish peasantry so easily kill them off with stuffed clubs, and when the property man arranges the explosion that is to rend the doomed ship and sink her in the exact middle of the broad ocean, he fixes a lot of blank cartridges in an apparatus that will set them all off simultaneously with a terrific bang. And so in a thousand ways the stage depends upon blank cartridges for thrilling effects.

Now and then the blank cartridge proves recreant to the trust reposed in it and spoils an effect. Actors tell of a sensational star who was playing a part in which he had to file off his chains, break out of prison, climb a wall and get at the property man when he was about to achieve liberty, he shot by a vigilant sentry, fell, and die to slow music. He had climbed the wall and waited for the fatal shot. It did not come. Again and again the sentry snapped his gun, but the cartridge would not explode. He, the actor let that failure cut him out of his death scene. Oddly enough, with a shriek of agony and appropriate heartrending groans, he exclaimed, "Great heavens! in my excitement I have swallowed the lead!" fell from the wall, and died in his most effective fashion.

Blank cartridges are often bought for the loading of the pistols that people keep in the house to scare burglars if they happen to come. The good folks who have that humane and pretty plan understand very little about burglars, or they would know that those gentry are so deficient in a sense of reciprocal humor that they habitually shoot back, and with bullets instead of blank cartridges. Little argument can be required to demonstrate that this household fact is a disadvantage in proceedings of this nature. From an incident that occurred in a police court a few days since it would appear that there are young men who carry pistols loaded with blank cartridges, and fire them off on occasion to make themselves appear dangerous. But the dealers say that, so far as they know, such instances must be rare.—New York Sun.

Mountain Meteorological Stations.

The mountain meteorological stations of Europe are said to somewhat excel in their equipments and appliances anything to be found in the western world. Among these appliances is a superior kind of arrangement, or apparatus, for the automatic registration of sunshine the results of which are tabulated with reference to the period of possible sunshine for each day, the record being so much per cent of the total. On the mountain top on which the highest Austrian weather observatory is located, is another interesting arrangement, namely, a telephone wire extending from the very summit down to the village below, this wire in the summer being suspended on poles, while in winter, on account of the fierce winds, it is laid upon the snow, the latter proving a good insulator, as the apparatus works satisfactorily under these conditions. The French, it appears, have the highest meteorological station in Europe, and their two largest observatories are it is claimed, the best appointed in the world. Much is expected of the recently established station on Ben Nevis, Scotland. This mountain is the highest in Great Britain, and is close upon the seacoast, as well as the track of the great southwesterly storms which have such an important influence on the weather in the British Isles—a situation, therefore, peculiarly favorable.—New York Sun.

The Lion and The Boy.

A Boy who had Prepared a Trap for a Bruin, Inspected it one Morning to find that he had made Captive a fine, large Lion. The King of Beasts at once began to Whip and Lament and the Boy Inquired

"How Comes it that a Beast of Your Strength has lost his Courage so quickly?"

"It is not the Loss of Courage but of Pride," was the reply. "The idea that a Beast like me should be Fool Enough to fall into a Snare set for a Common Hyena has grieved me to death."

Moral:—A simple Bait sometimes catches the Wisest Game.—Detroit Free Press.

The Vignette of Gen. Grant.

The vignette of Gen Grant, selected for the new $5 silver certificate, it is understood, will be a side face, the only one of the general ever taken. It is remarkable in that the face and the lower jaw form a perfect right angle, excepting, of course, the projection of the nose. It is said on those familiar with the outlines of the features of prominent men to be the only one known to them having this characteristic. In explaining what was often said of the general—that his grip was like that of the bulldog, whose square head is its peculiarity.—Chicago Herald.

Marvelous Straw Hats.

Continental straw hats are marvelous in shape and color. A baron of a count, dallies a season of some order in his button hole, sports a slate color sailor shaped hat, or a dark olive hat, with a long stripe on perimeter, by way of variety, a very broached hat, with a black band, or a Tyrolean green, with a small feather in the band.—Chicago Herald.

Church Singers' Fees.

The church singers, especially the soprano, always make something extra for their services at funerals, and in the bigger churches, where a dozen or more organists are employed each year, this is no inconsiderable item. From $10 to $20 is usually the fee.—New York Journal.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

S. F. MARSTELLER, Clinton, Mich., Manufacturer and Dealer in Monuments Tablets Headstones &c. from every variety of Native and Foreign Marble and Granite.

Having on hand at my works in Clinton and Tecumseh, a very large and superior stock of monuments and tablets both in marble and granite, and being desirous of reducing my stock, which is as large and complete as may be found in Southern Michigan, I will offer until Jan. 1st 1887, any finished Monument or [illegible] that will not fail to suit the most exacting. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention. Respectfully,

S. F. MARSTELLER.

THE PROBATE COURT.

Following is the record of business transacted at the probate court for the week ending Oct. 19, 1886:

Estate of David Sample, deceased; petition for administration; hearing November 15.

Estate of Phebe J. Camp, deceased; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of Ira J. Hagaman, deceased; petition for assignment of dower; order appointment commissioners.

Estate of Thomas McComb, deceased; petition for administration, hearing November 8.

Estate of Sybil M. Parker, minor, bond filed; letters of guardianship issued.

Estate of James D. Manchester, deceased; affidavit of publication; will, proof and probate; bond filed, letters issued; order appointing appraisers and commissioners.

Estate of Cynthia Angell, deceased; affidavit of publication will, proof and probate; bond $200.

Estate of Erasmus D. Payne, deceased; affidavit of publication; administrator appointed; bond $1,000.

Estate of Alice F. Hough, deceased; affidavit of publication; license to sell real estate, oath before sale.

Estate of Garret Aten, an alleged incompetent person; petition for guardian; hearing November 8.

Estate of John Dings, deceased; receipts filed; discharged.

Estate of Charles I. Wetmore, deceased; administrator's final account allowed; dividend.

Estate of Fulton McLain, deceased; petition for license to sell real estate; hearing November 22.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Following are the real estate transfers in this county, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, for the week ending Oct. 19, 1886:

HUDSON.

Johd Witbeck to Martin B. Smith. $1000.

Thomas M. Webb to John Witbeck. $50.

RAISIN.

Elias Brown to Lydia R. McIntyre. Land on sec 14. $1,000.

Lydia R. McIntyre to Elias Brown. Land on sec 14. $1,100.

TECUMSEH VILLAGE.

Henry Marsh to Wolcott W. Marsh. $325.

TECUMSEH.

John W. Benedict to Charles W. Benedict. Land on sec 23. $3,000.

SPRINGVILLE VILLAGE.

James H. Breese to Siman Shultis. $700.

THE PREMIUM ENGRAVING issued by "Peterson's Magazine"—that paragon of lady's books—for getting up clubs for 1887, is of very great beauty. It is a first-class line and stipple engraving, executed in the highest style of art—size, 21 inches by 27—called "Mother's Darling," and would be an ornament, framed, for any parlor. "Peterson" for 1887 is to be greatly improved, many new writers coming to the front in it. Six copyright novelets will be given by such first-class writers as Mrs. John Sherwood, Edgar Fawcett, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. M. V. Spencer, and that rising New Orleans delineator of creole life, the author of "Creole Blossoms," etc., etc. Another of the premiums is the "Book of Beauty," illustrated with steel-engravings. Another is an extra copy of the magazine. You can earn any of them, or all, by raising clubs for "Peterson." Specimens of the magazine sent, gratis, to those wishing to get up clubs, if written for in good faith. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet

CURE FOR THE DEAF
PECK'S PATENT IMPROVED CUSHIONED EAR DRUMS restore the hearing and perform the work of the natural drum. Invisible, comfortable and always in position. All conversation and even whispers heard distinctly. Send for illustrated book with testimonials, FREE. Address or call on F. HISCOX, 849 Broadway, New York. Mention this paper.

B. F STEINHOFF'S
Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S.
GAS FOR EXTRACTING.
AT LOWEST PRICES FOR THE BEST WORK

DETROIT
WE WANT YOUR TRADE.
Our object in advertising is to induce those who are not our REGULAR CUSTOMERS to give our House a Trial. OUR SUCCESS is partly owing to the fact that WE HOLD OUR TRADE. Do not need any stronger proof of the uniformity and always reliable quality of our goods. In Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, Bronzes, Art Pottery, Novelties in Jewelry and Fancy Goods, we show a magnificent stock at correct prices.
WRIGHT, KAY AND CO.
140 Woodward Ave.,
1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS.
DETROIT, MICH.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER
ELY'S CREAM BALM
Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the sense of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.
TECUMSEH, MICH.
THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.
12 WARREN ST. NEW YORK. BRANCH HOUSES CHICAGO.

500,000 ACRES CHOICE HARDWOOD FARMING LANDS
in Northern Wisconsin for sale on long time. The most productive land in the field for settlement in the U. S. Sold at $5 per acre with good map free. Address LAND COMMISSIONER, Wisconsin Central R. R., Milwaukee, Wis.

MASON & HAMLIN
NOW SELL THEIR
UNRIVALED ORGANS
On the "EASY PAYMENT" System, payments at the rate of $1 a Month and upwards. Also sell on the same terms UPRIGHT PIANOS, constructed on the new patented stringing on similar terms. Send for descriptive catalogue, mailed free.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
Boston, New York, Chicago.

A RARE CHANCE.
THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLAR protects the life of the horse, are a labor saving invention, secure a proper centre of work, and are effecting a revolution. To a practical horse or business man a well [illegible] of sample collar, free [illegible] of this town for our Business, and a continued advertisement in this paper will [illegible] and to refer [illegible]
The American Horse Collar Co., 55 Cortlandt St., New York.

Better THAN THE Best.
In the Grand Rapids Business Colleges and Practical Business Schools. Issue 1886. Best Business College Journal. Address, C. G. SWENSBERG, Grand Rapids, Mich.

WE HAVE

ALL SIZES of
Jewel Stoves in Stock
FOR BURNING
Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either
HEATING or COOKS.
Call and get our Prices before buying.
WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times,"
"hard times, [illegible] er hear that expression [illegible] NTON.
Always plenty to [illegible] and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.
MC COLLUM
Has just received received his full Fall and Winter stock, and is selling fine suits at from $10 to $20.
Ready Made do at $5, $6.50, $8, and $10.
OVERCOATS in every quality, size, price and color.
Men's strong heavy work pants, lined throughout, at 90c.
Heavy all wool pants $2.50
Also large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, fine flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.
Don't Fail to Call on
J. E. Mc COLLUM,
THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

J. S. GILMAN,
The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.
Harnesses Made to Order.
In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.
J. S. GILMAN.

If you are going to Buy a New
SEWING MACHINE!
LOOK CLOSELY,
That you don't get a pine table and fixtures, with a fraction of an inch of black walnut to cover it up, instead of a solid walnut table, such as the
LIGHT RUNNING
New Home Company
USE ON THEIR MACHINES.
FIRST PREMIUMS EVERYWHERE.
SOLE AGENT FOR LENAWEE COUNTY
B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE
The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so long established, having such a large circulation, and being ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of this Continent. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who allows no influence of Party or Politics to tamper with its columns. It is the Independent and Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority on AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, APIARY, VETERINARY, &c. and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and rational amusement for old and young. This Journal, which is now about to enter its 2nd year of publication, is issued on or about the 1st of each month and consists of 36 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price, $1.00 per annum in advance. Subscribe AT ONCE AND GET THE BALANCE OF 1886 FREE. Active agents wanted in every Township. Sample copy free.
ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII. NO. [illegible] TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, [illegible] 1886. WHOLE NO. 1870.

100

HORSE BLANKETS

Placed on Sale to-day,

AT $1.38 EACH.

ALSO

An Elegant Assortment

Of Wool Blankets, Comfortables, Underwear and Hosiery.

OUR Cloaks, Jackets and Children's Cloaks are a success. Do not fail to see them.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

We offer this month some great Bargains in Ladies', Misses', and Children's Garments.

Among others we call attention to 20 short Wraps, heavily Fur trimmed, $4.75

25 " " Hair trimmed, 8.75

WORTH $12.00.

Our CLOAKS from $10.00 to $25.00 are Marvels of Beauty.

SUTTON FAIRFIELD & CO.,

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.
1200 MEN'S SUITS,
500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

O. B. DeWOLF, President. H. M. TEMPLE, Sec. and Treas. S. W. TEMPLE, Vice Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

Incorporated March 31, 1886.

Wholesale and Retail

Coal, Sash,
Lumber, Doors,
Shingles, Blinds,
Lath, Mouldings,

Brackets, Scroll Work, &c.

Estimates and prices upon application.

TELEPHONE.

Office Shawnee St. bet. R. R. & Pearl.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Fine weather for fall work.

Election passed off very quiet with the exception of several hot contests on the Tariff and Prohibition issues.

Mrs. M. M. Florence is quite sick again.

Aunt Anna Kelley who is with her daughter, Mrs. M. A. Wilson is very sick.

John Underwood had a paralytic stroke a few days ago and his recovery is very doubtful.

John Clarkson is under the doctor's care at present.

We see by the late time schedule by the M. & O. R'y. giving the name of the agents and the station they serve, that G. W. Arner has been stationed at Augusta.

Mrs. Henry Wade and family, of Indiana, and Mrs. C. F. Smith of Tecumseh were the guests of Mrs. W. F. Pocklington Friday of last week.

Sammy Arner has secured a position as telegraph operator at Howell, on the T. & A. A. R'y, at a salary of $30 a month.

Don't forget that the L. C. S. will give a molasses taffy and pop-corn benefit at the home of Mrs. W. P. Cadmus this week Friday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Jennie McClure and May Hyde spent Sunday with Lou and Lottie Arner.

There was a good many who went to Britton Friday night to hear Capt. Allen on the tariff issue and Australia wool.

The Hall was well filled on Thursday night to hear Rev. J. L. Hudson speak for prohibition.

There was a large turnout on Saturday night to hear John L. O'Mealey speak on the tariff question. It is pronounced by all as the finest speech on the question that has been delivered in this section during the campaign. Mr. O'Mealey gained the respect of all as he did not slang any party or any of the candidates.

A good many went to Adrian Tuesday night to hear the returns.

The lumber for the elevator has arrived and the foundation is ready for the frame which will be built at once.

C. L. Waring returned to Holland last Friday.

The new desks that were purchased of the Northville school company have arrived and placed in position.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson and Mrs. Geo. Frost of Macon spent Saturday with relatives in the village.

Abbie Barrett, who has been with friends at Shenedack, Schuylkill Co. Pa., during the past year, returned last week Wednesday night to make her mother a short visit.

Lamont Bangs of Tecumseh spent Sunday evening with friends in the village.

There seems to be quite an attraction in the village for certain Tecumseh young men, and their presence and smiling faces are seen quite often of late in our midst. It's all right boys, as long as your mas do'nt get on your collars.

Henry Smith went to Toledo last week on business and this week he is putting in the heating pipes to the furnace for John Boyd's fine house on the Ridge road, north of the village.

A couple of our motherly married ladies, on hearing of a newly supposed arrival in an adjoining neighborhood, immediately set out to see the new comer, but alas, they were too soon.

MACON MUSIC.

Concert at the M. E. Church Sunday evening.

Mrs. John Frost is very sick with neuralgia of the heart.

Rev. Mr. Storms of Franklin delivered an able address on Temperance, last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Julia Burleson returned home from Detroit, last week where she had been visiting her sister.

Garret Aten, one of the oldest citizens of this vicinity, died last Friday. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. E. W. Dennis of Hillsdale, at the late residence, Sunday.

Mrs. M. V. Sicklay and Mrs. David Lindsley are visiting their brother, James Mills, in Leslie.

A number of our young people drove over to Ypsilanti Saturday.

William Osgood was kicked by a horse Sunday night.

Married, at Humbolt Pennington's, Monday eve. October 25th, Mr. David Moody and Miss Rena Moon. Both of Saline.

Mrs. C. E. Triplet is visiting her cousin and taking painting lessons in Ann Arbor.

Ladies Aid Society at Mrs. William Frost's Wednesday, Nov. 10.

ONSTEDODDS.

R. C. Paine all [illegible] with fire [illegible]

Addie Daniels was home from Jackson Saturday and Sunday.

School in Dist. No. 5, will commence on Monday, Nov. 8th.

Among the improvements we notice that the residence of B. B. Hines has telephone connection with the depot.

John Walters and Fred Glenn went on Monday to Monroe for a load of fish. They brought in a load last week.

Uncle Will Onsted raised a rutabaga that grew in four months to the weight of twelve and a half pounds. Who can beat that?

C. W. Parker has returned home from Stockbridge. He contemplates attending school at Eaton Rapids this winter.

Artie and Frank Secor went to North Adams Monday, to visit their Grandma, Mrs. Beaches.

A number of our people are taking the medicine of Dr. Finney. He seems to be helping some.

Fred and Herman Onsted are spending the week with friends at Hillsdale.

The dedication exercises of Grange Hall will occur on the tenth of this month, commencing at ten o'clock.

THE WHEEL.

The Detroit Bicycle club have extended an invitation to the Toledo club to visit them next Sunday, Oct. 27th, and the invitation has been accepted. The clubs have paid several visits to each other during the season, the runs made on this occasions being of the most enjoyable character. In recognition of the courtesies extended them on the occasion of their visit to Toledo October 10, the Detroit club recently sent the Toledoans a large sized photograph of the Detroit club framed, and a handsome silk banner. On one side of the banner are the words "Toledo Cyclers" and on the other "L. A. W." The banner is made of the two colors of the club and is mounted on rods with clamps so that it can be fastened to the handle bar of the sergeant's wheel.—Toledo Blade.

Why can't the Tecumseh Bicycle club entertain the generous Detroit club and receive a fine silk banner. What is the reason why?

Lieut. Tiffany and Sec. and Treas. Fitzsimmons of the Tecumseh Bicycle Club spent Friday night and Saturday at Lake Manitou. They went to spill blood and were not disappointed. The next time they go after game we will try and get there, at supper with them, yum, yum.

Where is the man that dares to say that bicycles and tricycles are no useful in a business way. Prof. Steger has several fine views which he would not have had, had he not possessed his "trike." Prof. says he can carry a camera with great ease, can call a halt at any time, take the picture, and go on his way rejoicing.

Still another improvement—a claimed improvement. This time a man at Bad Axe Michigan, has invented and patented a gear, by which he is confident greater speed with less work can be obtained.

We would like to ask some of our Adrian friends when, where and by whom a 100 mile record was made in Michigan.

Would that some one would come to the front and decide the cyclometer question for us, that is, tell us which would be the more reliable.

On the afternoon of Oct. 31st, Levi Hayden, Fred Tiffany and Percival Fitzsimmons made the triangle, that is, Tecumseh, Ridgeway, Lake Ridge and back to Tecumseh by way of Jud DePuys and J. Davidson's. We wonder who got lost, hey?

A NOTABLE CREMATION

A Woman's Instructions as to the Disposition of Her Remains.

Yesterday occurred the seventh cremation at the Buffalo Crematory and in its attendant circumstances was the most noteworthy yet performed in this city. The body was that of Mrs. Mary C. Leffingwell, wife of Dr. Albert Leffingwell, of Dansville, N. Y. At 3 o'clock the friends and relatives who accompanied the remains to Buffalo gathered at the Crematory. The funeral car was rolled into the chancel bearing the body which was clad in a white burial garment and covered with flowers. Mr. H. B. Hathaway, of New York read the following statement of preference with regard to the disposition of her body written by the deceased lady a few weeks ago

I very earnestly request that my body be cremated. If such measure be not too inconvenient and too costly. I consider the sum of $200 for this purpose would be a justifiable expenditure, hoping each example of this custom helps to break down the existing prejudice against it. May my ashes, in a plain sealed urn inscribed, "Ashes of Mary C. wife of Alfred Leffingwell, date and words "IMMORTALITY," be placed wherever my husband may decide.

Should cremation for my body be impracticable, then I desire that it may be placed and [illegible] in a [illegible] box, [illegible] with fine [illegible] dry earth or ashes. All this that dust may return to dust as rapidly as possible. Should my friends be so much shocked by such a departure as this from ordinary customs, as not willingly to accede to my request, if, then let there be a light casket, preferably of wicker, and certainly of something as insubstantial as thinnest plain pine, with no outer box.

If I die of a terribly contagious disease, you do not object to burning or burying my clothing without any racket. Why should you treat my worn out, decaying body—my oldest clothing—with some elegant and costly casket to decay with the rest, except for a vain show, against which thing I protest in my death as I have endeavored to do in my life.

Let my grave be marked somewhat as I have above described that my wish for cremation may be thus indicated if it cannot even be carried out.

I beg and entreat that the funeral services be not in the usual manner held, with a minister engaged to conduct the same. But let those who love me be invited to gather around my bier in a quiet room for the simple purpose of affectionate converse, free and unrestrained. As they are here reminded of the shortness of time, and the disappointments and misunderstandings of life, may they forget my faults, cherish my memory, and renew their friendship together with closer union than before.

I do not wish to be understood to object to the expression of religious feeling or sentiment, but I desire that all expression may be from those who were my personal friends.

He also read the following extract from Mrs. Leffingwell's will, marking her desire to protest as effectually as possible against the funeral pomp and display which custom so often demands:

First—I set aside the sum of $400, from which the small cost of my simple and very inexpensive funeral and of the urn or stone to mark my departure from this world may be paid. Whatever of said sum there may remain in excess of said expenses, I give and bequeath to the poor in the town where my body or ashes may be laid; the same to be distributed for this object according to the discretion of my executor hereinafter named and appointed.

Following the reading by Mr. Hathaway, Dr. Leffingwell made a few touching remarks in the nature of a conversation with the little group of afflicted and grieving people gathered about the bier. The Rev. F. L. Hosmer of Cleveland, O., a lifetime friend of Mrs. Leffingwell's, read one of Whittier's poems appropriate to the character of the deceased lady, and then followed a few sentences from the Bible. After this the mourners joined in prayers and the car rolled into the incinerating room.

Mrs. Leffingwell was for many years connected with the collegiate department of the Packer Institute of Brooklyn, N. Y. She was a member of Mr. Beecher's church, teacher in Plymouth Sunday school, and an earnest worker in many reforms. She will be missed by a large circle of loving friends.

The above article is clipped from the Buffalo Express of Oct. 1st. The lady's maiden name was Mary C. Hathaway. She was cousin of Messrs I. N. & W. P. Hathaway of this place and a sister of Hattie E. Hathaway, who spent some months visiting here in the winter of '84.—Addison Courier.

Auction Sales.

James Egan having rented his farm, will sell at auction at his residence, one half mile south, and one mile east of Clinton village, on Friday Nov. 12th, 1886, at 1 P. M. sharp, the following property: Full blood Durham bull, 3 cows, two giving milk, 3 yearlings, 2 year old colt, broke single and double, colt 30 months old; 10 two months old pigs, 1 boar, 400 bushels corn in ear, two year old colt weighing 1125 pounds, 8 ton hay, two seated buggy, single open buggy, two seated cutter, set double light harness, single light harness, Fairbanks scales, Champion reaper, two good work horses, wheat cultivator, Deere cultivators, 2 Gurtis plows, two cutting boxes, harrow, scraper, saw wood, hay, etc. Terms, all sums of $5, and less, cash; all sums over $5, 9 months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent. interest. Ben Reynolds, Auctioneer.

Thomas Lee having rented his farm will sell at auction, 1 mile east of Lake Ridge Hotel in Macon, on Wednesday Nov. 10th '86, at 12 M. sharp, the following property: Six horses, 6 cows, 4 nearly new milch, 4 sows and pigs, 20 shoats, some sheep, self binder, Mower, horse rake, 2 horse cultivator, 1 horse cultivators, 6 plows, 8 head of young cattle, 2 pair 40 tooth drags, 1 pair of spring tooth drags, two set of horse whiffletrees, set bob sleighs, two double buggies, 2 top buggies, fanning mill, 2 corn planters, 600 bushels corn in the ear, pair of Howe scales, 2 lumber wagons, truck wagon, grain cradle, 2 swarms bees, 40 grain bags, 800 bu. Oats, Buckeye grain drill, 2 set double harness, 2 set single harness, cutter, corn sheller, land roller, hay racks, saws, scrapers, 4 barrels of cider, stack canvass, stoves, forks, shovels etc. Terms, All sums of $5, and less, cash; all over $5, 12 months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent. interest. Abe Hanford, Auctioneer.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

BY REV. [illegible]

[illegible] Lesson, Luke 24:36-53. Golden Text, John 20:21. Time, Sunday, April 9, and Sunday, A. D. 30. Place, a room in Jerusalem.

The Lord had risen from the dead. Already on this eventful Sunday He had appeared four times, first to Mary Magdalene, then to the women who accompanied her to the sepulchre, meeting them on their return; then He appeared to Peter alone; and afterwards to the disciples who were on their way to Emmaus. It was now evening, and the disciples, with the exception of Thomas, were gathered in a room at Jerusalem. The doors were securely fastened so as to prevent intrusion, and also as a means of protection in those stormy times. Suddenly the Master was in the room, amongst His disciples. The method of His entrance is not given, but as He was of flesh and blood, it was a miracle which defies explanation. He saluted the disciples with, "Peace be unto you." Then He showed them His hands and side, which had been pierced, and when they thus fully recognized their Lord and Master, they were glad. Here was a positive proof that it was the identical person who had been crucified as Jesus, the King of the Jews. The evidence clustered about His death and burial leaves no doubt as to His resurrection, and the proof herein given leaves no doubt that this was actually the same person who had died, been buried and risen again. It was Christ. The proof sufficient for the disciples, who were conversant with all the facts at the time. Jesus then commissions them to go out into the world and preach the gospel. He "breathed on them, and saith to them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost," and thus commissioned He sends them forth.

It was just one week later that the disciples were gathered in the same room, and this time Thomas was with them. Doubtless he had been told of all that had occurred. Now Thomas was of a skeptical nature; he was an enquirer, an earnest seeker after truth, but he required proofs before he could go as far as his comrades in accepting truth. He is a type of many amongst us to day; men who require a logical statement of facts and who do not rely as much on the emotional nature as others often do. Thomas had said that he would believe when he could himself see and feel the tangible evidences that this was the risen Christ. It is significant that the disciples were in the same room this second Sunday, thus early assembling themselves together on this day, and it is equally significant that Jesus honored them in its observance. He appeared amongst them the second Sunday evening, and at once told Thomas to thrust his hand into His side and be convinced. And the doubter cried out, "My Lord and my God," in the fullness of his belief. While Christ accepts his faith, He says that he is blessed indeed who believes without requiring such positive and tangible proof.

This narrative closes with the statement that these things are written that men might believe that Jesus is the Son of God, and that so believing they may have eternal life. The evidence, as already stated, is absolutely conclusive, and should be sufficient to convince the world.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Have ye received the Holy Ghost?
2. Has Christ commissioned you to work?
3. Do not omit the assembling of yourselves together. Christ meets with His people.
4. Let your faith find expression in works.

HE HAD SALT RHEUM FOR 20 YEARS.

A. Manwel, Ass't Supt. & P. Agt., C., R. I. & P. R. R. writes: "For Twenty years I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum, in a most serious form. During the winter season, my hands have been in such condition that I was unable to dress or undress myself without assistance, and I have not had gloves or bandages off my hands for about four months, until I begun using Papillon (extract of flax) Skin Cure. I certainly think it has cured my hands." Large bottles $1.00.

To like Limburger cheese is not a matter of taste but of smell.

Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria

are spread by contagion, i.e. the transfer of living matter. These poisons come from the skin, the mucous lining of the mouth, nose and throat, and from the intestines and urinary organs. Destroy promptly and thoroughly with Darbys Prophylactic Fluid, The great germ destroyer. Prof. H. T. Lupton, of the Vanderbilt University, Tenn., says: "As a disinfectant and detergent Darbys Prophylactic Fluid is superior to any preparation with which I am acquainted."

THE TECUMSEH [illegible]

BY S. C. STACY

Office in the New Marvin Building, [illegible] East of [illegible]

One year, cash in advance [illegible]
Six months [illegible]
[illegible] if not paid within three months [illegible]
[illegible] if not paid within six months [illegible]

ADVERTISING RATES

Business [illegible] per line each insertion.
Special notices, [illegible] per line for each insertion.
[illegible] at the usual rates.
Entered at the Post Office at Tecumseh, Mich., as second class matter.

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. 4, 1886.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30, 1886.

The only episode of the week that varied the routine of Cleveland's working life was his trip to New York and participation in the Statue of Liberty celebration. [illegible] by his trusted friends, [illegible] and Secretaries Bayard, Whitney, [illegible] and Postmaster General Vilas. The President and [illegible] left. A [illegible] of departments grew limited [illegible] of the party [illegible] at Mt. Clemens [illegible] evening [illegible] of the case. A [illegible] at a [illegible] well as the [illegible] meaning [illegible]

[illegible] the President's position on the Chinese question [illegible] Mr. Pattison [illegible] had been dismissed from the Treasury some time ago. But no party has been to the President since it has been alleged and implied [illegible] disaffection among his numbers. He did not choose, however, to hand words with such a scandal monger as the New York World [illegible] and its [illegible] might go on with their lies. He had lived in Washington for nearly thirty four years and if the dastardly paper wanted to "chaw" him up at this late day, it might "chaw."

The Catholics of this city do not like Cleveland, and their clergy are working against the administration in a quiet way. They remember certain obnoxious portions of Miss Cleveland's book, and they point to the fact that the President is the son and also the brother of a Presbyterian clergyman and a regular attendant of a church in charge of another clergyman whom they allege is utterly hostile to them. The fact that Col. Lamont, the President's most confidential adviser and bosom friend, is a loyal conscientious member of the Church, has not prevented them. They interpolate their sermons, these times, with admonitions to "vote straight and loyally."

What Advertising Does

The Rochester Post Express, the leading daily in the city of Rochester, in its issue of Sept. 13, 1886, says:

This city has long been the headquarters for the manufacture, introduction and sale of patent medicines and proprietary articles. The largest and most successful advertisers in the world, such as the Hop Bitters company, the Erdine company and several others are located here.

Several have been compelled to establish branch houses in Europe, Australia and South America in order to supply the demand for their medicines.

The manager of the Erdine company, which is one of the largest and most successful of newspaper advertisers, in reply to the question, "What is the best way to advertise?" said: "There is but one way to advertise successfully—by the newspapers. Through the papers we bring the notice of our remedies to thousands of persons that could never be reached by any other means of advertising." The success of the Erdine company and the wonderful sales its remedies are having only proves the old saying that judicious newspaper advertising is the key to success.

If you watch a woman's mouth closely when she digests the children for Sunday-school, you will find out where all the pins come from, and of course it must be where they all go.

The Song Friend.

[illegible] and sparkling musical [illegible] As usual, it is filled with interesting matter for musical people. Miss Ama Fay has in this number, an intensely interesting article describing her visit [illegible] a short time before [illegible] on "Training [illegible]." Other instructive and useful articles, together with musical news [illegible] constitute the reading matter, [illegible] includes a beautiful [illegible] song, "The Wanderer's Chime Bells," by S. W. Straub. "Alone Dead among the Daisies," Song and Chorus and a four hand piano arrangement of the famous wedding march from Lohengrin, both gems. The Song Friend contains 32 large pages; subscription price only $1.00. New subscribers receive fifteen months with a premium of three pieces of new music. Sample copy 10c. Canvassers are offered great inducements. Sheet Music, Music Books, Organs and [illegible] Pianos. The Song Friend is published by S. W. Straub, 243 State St., Chicago, Ill.

THE [illegible] MAGAZINE OF AMERICA [illegible] has a [illegible] from the very finest of any of the magazines of the month; it is the notable portrait, almost unknown in this country, of Governor Thomas Powell [illegible] from the celebrated Lord Orford [illegible] England. It is accompanied by an admirable study of the versatile character, statesmanship and works of the remarkable Powell as the leading article of the number, by Robert Lindsay Fowler. This elegantly [illegible] personal narrative [illegible] worthy at this [illegible] of great interest [illegible] presents much that is [illegible] the oldest and wisest of [illegible] men of letters—also [illegible] delightfully readable [illegible] pencil drawings of American scenery about the middle of [illegible] his home while [illegible] Massachusetts, and an [illegible] of his never before published [illegible] the fact of his refusal [illegible] governorship of New York. [illegible] a dull line in the whole [illegible]. This periodical has fairly [illegible] its high position as [illegible] publication of its kind in the world. Price $5.00 a year in advance. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, N. Y.

A Bargain for Farmers.

We take pleasure in forming our readers that THE OHIO FARMER which has a national reputation as the leading agricultural journal of this country, is offered for the coming year at only one dollar per year. Its very large circulation, now numbering over sixty five thousand subscribers in every State in the Union, and its liberal advertising patronage enables its publishers to give to the farmers of this country one of the very best, most enterprising, reliable, and instructive agricultural, live stock and family journals of America at the very low price of only one dollar per year. The Ohio Farmer is published at Cleveland Ohio, is national in everything except in name, is a 16 page—64 column—weekly of fifty-two issues a year, and is acknowledged authority on all agricultural subjects. It is conducted by an able and experienced editorial management that spares no expense or labor to add everything possible to its value. Specimen copy and Premium List will be sent free to all applicants by addressing The Ohio Farmer, Cleveland, Ohio.

Now We Have Got it!

At least we think we have! Got what? Why, a wonderful and timely book on a vital issue. It is called "The Labor Movement!" And 'tis the joint production of many of the gallant and able "labor leaders" of the country, and the recognized authorities upon the topics connected with the different branches of industry, to-wit: such men as McNeal, Powderly, George, Travellick etc., etc. Embellished with numerous large and life like portraits of the various champions of the cause, including Powderly, Trevellick, Congressman Tarsney, Thos. Barry and many others. This book is going to prove to be emphatically the last word upon all the important and much mooted questions connected with the Great Modern Movement! No statesman, no knight of labor, no union workman, no editor, lawyer, or minister may, no intelligent citizen of any sect, party, color or persuasion whatsoever, can afford not to own and read this great work! 1000 more active agents wanted to join our army already in the field in Michigan. For terms and territory address (quickly),

M. W. ELLSWORTH & CO.,
22 Lafayette Ave., Detroit, Mich.

P. S.—We are also desirous of engaging a few more good agents to sell our popular works, "The Successful Housekeeper" (55,000 copies sold), and "Green Fields and Whispering Woods" (the most elegant gift book of the day). Address as above.

THE COAL CONSPIRACY.

The action of Gov. Pattison of Pennsylvania in taking measures to test the validity of the coal combinations formed in that state, cannot be too highly commended. It is a question that concerns not alone Pennsylvania but the entire country. If there is any [illegible] we believe there is, they certainly ought to be effective in preventing such a combination as this, for it is true, as a large owner of Pennsylvania coal lands says, "That an artificial scarcity of an article of prime necessity to almost every family in the land caused by a soulless conspiracy, is a moral wrong and should be branded and punished as a high crime." The state found law to punish a small number of poor miners for combining to induce others to leave off work, and it is the intention of the Governor to find law to prevent and punish the conspiracy of a monopoly that throws 100,000 men out of work for a third of a year, to put up the price of coal one-third more on the whole country than it could be profitably sold for under unrestricted competition.

The above is clipped from the Washington Post. To the unsophisticated mind of a western farmer, this question might readily present itself—What practical difference does it make whether the price of coal is raised 50 or 75 cents a ton by a combination of the mine owners or by a government tariff. The latter plan is dignified by the name of protection. The former method is called a "coal conspiracy," and yet the practical effect of the two is just the same.

The President's Receptions.

President Cleveland never appeared to better advantage, his social critics affirm, than he did during Wednesday's reception at the White House. Apparently in the best of health and spirits, he went through the hand-shaking, compliment exchanging and other duties of the day with a smile on his lips and a cheerful greeting for everybody that is being marvelled at still at the capital. Among the many who greeted him were a number of thoroughgoing Cleveland men from the South, one of whom remarked: "I have resolved that you shall serve a second term." "Stick to that resolution," replied the President, "and we shall all be happy." A small boy, who had seen no more than six summers, looking fearlessly up into President's face, said: "I am a Democrat, and intend to vote for you when I become a man." "That is right, my boy," said the President. "I hope I shall be alive when that time comes." Some of the ladies were very cordial, and shook the President's hands in both of theirs just as if he hadn't a wife of his own, and it was noticed that he didn't object. "I am so glad the first President I have had the honor to shake hands with is a Democrat," said one of these, and the answer, "And I am glad to be that Democrat, I assure you," came quick as a flash from the lips of the man whose hand is on the national helm. "I am not as young as I was thirty years ago," said a gray-haired woman, "but—" "All women are young who have not lost interest in home and country," was the smiling interruption. Where now is the man to say that White House diplomacy is dead?

Jay Gould's Last Deal.

All the initiated are in a broad grin over the practical but profitable joke which Jay Gould has played upon J. G. Bennett and the Herald. When George Gould married pretty Miss Kingdon, and the Herald people read about the wedding in "The Star," orders were received by Dr. Hepworth through the everlastingly iterated commercial cable to interview the happy pair in a friendly and complimentary spirit. This was one of Mr. Bennett's generous impulses. He wanted to show that, while he was fighting the father, he could patronize the son. But his cablegram was misunderstood, and the word "pair" was supposed to mean Jay and George Gould. Thus Jay Gould was able to get in his fine work upon the interviewer, and, as the article appeared, the quid nunes declared that it was a sure proof that Jay Gould had purchased Mackay's share of the Herald cable and gone into partnership with Bennett. Then up went Western Union stock, and Gould, laughing in his sleeve, made more money than he had lost in the cable war or given his son as a wedding present.

Messrs Lord & Thomas, the well known Newspaper Advertising firm of Chicago, have just issued in very neat pamphlet form, a list of 1,482 of the best country papers, our own included. This list they have very appropriately named "Our High Grade List." Advertisers who wish to cover any section at a moderate outlay should send for this list. Messrs Lord & Thomas are one of the leading firms in the country in their line, and have the largest office on the continent. We take pleasure in speaking a good word for them.

WOMEN are the funniest when they say nothing; but women are so seldom funny.

Skin diseases cannot be cured by internal medicine. They should be treated by external applications. The proper way to cure skin complaints is to purify the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Under the vitalizing influences of this medicine all the functions of the body are brought into healthy action.

[illegible] sailors, compares herself with a year, because she has four sea-sons.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, For Lung Troubles and Wasting Diseases.

Dr. J. A. MOSAED, New Orleans, La., says: "Scott's Emulsion is the finest preparation of the kind ever brought to my notice. In affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we may consider it our most reliable agent. In a perfectly elegant and agreeable form."

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at

C. A. Wright & CO.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall st. N. Y.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until with a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Grover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine I have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, scar, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1, six bottles, $5.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and digested for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Closing Out Sale!

I Propose to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 22d.

In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers, And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.—Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

This almost universal disease can be cured more easily from May to October than at any other season of the year, and will take but little time to rid the system of the poison in some manner, and is NOTORIOUS persistent, and costs but little to get rid of it. Send for our circular on this troublesome disease; if druggist does not have it, send 50 cents for a trial bottle by express. Address

HAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids.

Toledo Business College

Board and room $2.50 per week. Penmanship, Book-keeping, Business Correspondence, Shorthand, Typewriting, Mathematics and English branches thoroughly taught. No Special Preparation required to enter. Actual Business Department a prominent feature of the school. No vacation. Special class for teachers from July 1 to September 1. Catalogues sent free.

M. H. DAVIS, B. A., Principal and Proprietor, TOLEDO, OHIO.

Sale!
URE
T.
ft. 22d.
after that time
ness, known
d would stomers,
or me with a opportunity,
HEY
noes!
mseh.
Prices."
STOCK
OMO SON.
ITURE!
stock of Furni-
anything in my
Come with a
at my prices,
er 12 yrs. in the
M. McCOWEN.
KING! end to this im-
night or day.
norant persons
nd immediately
are very reas-
VEN.
r of Shoes.
E & CO.,
Co.,
TERIAL
g to Order.
Depot.
IGAN.
REMEDY.
Simple in its application
How yet effectual.
her than at any rate of the manner, and is thoroughly this troublesome disease.
pe., Grand Rapids
College
siness Correspondence, Shortaught. No Special preparaure of the school. No vacat-ues sent free.
d Proprietor, Toledo, Ohio.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. 4, 1886.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free.

DEAFNESS Its causes and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf 28 years. Treated by most all the noted specialists; without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since the hundreds of others. Full particulars sent

CURE FOR THE DEAF
Tells Exactly How to Construct a Simple, Cheap, Invisible to Others and Comfortable Device That Will Restore the Hearing, and Perform the Work of the Natural Drum. Always in position. All conversation and even whispers heard distinctly. We defy any one to hear, using this. Illustrated book with testimonials free.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
This preparation is favorite for restoring the hair. Restores the color. Cures scalp diseases and dandruff. 50c. and $1.00 at druggists.

HINDEROORNS
The safest, surest, quickest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, Warts, Nails, Callouses, &c. Higher than all farther greatness. Stops all pain, gives not relief. Makes the feet comfortable. Hinderoorns cures when everything else fails. Sold by Druggists, 15c. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

Newspaper Advertising

DAUCHY & CO.,
27 Park Place, & 24-26 Murray St., N.Y.
Lowest rates on all newspapers in the U. S. and Canada. Established 1867.
Send for Catalogue. Parties contemplating a list of advertising, large or small, are requested to call or write us.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 22d day of September, A.D., 1881, Alexander D. Mead and Lucy C. F. Mead, his wife, of Clinton, in Lenawee county and state of Michigan, made, executed and delivered to Fielder S. Snow, administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith, deceased, a certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, Michigan, in Liber 115 of mortgages, on page 24, on the 23d day of September, A.D., 1881. Said mortgage was assigned by the said Fielder S. Snow, administrator, to Moses Bartlett, of Clinton, in said county of Lenawee and state of Michigan, on the 8th day of October, A.D., 1881, which assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of the said county of Lenawee, in Liber 116 of mortgages, on page 579. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage at this date the sum of five hundred and forty-five 45-100 dollars. No suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole sum so due or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall, on the 4th day of December, A.D., 1886, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county), the premises in said mortgage described, for the purpose of satisfying the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expense of this foreclosure and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street, at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. King, and now occupied by Samuel B. Rose; as a dwelling lot, and running thence westerly, along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods; thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street, thence east along the south line of Brown street three (3) rods; thence south along the west line of land occupied by Samuel B. Rose, twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept. 9, 1886.

MOSES BARTLETT,
Assignee of said Mortgage.

s cp9

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE
—OF—
HENRY McCLURE,
The Largest and Best Selected Stock of
Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.
IN TECUMSEH.
Teas a Specialty!
Canned Fruits of all Kinds.
In fact anything in this line can be bought at the Lowest figures.
HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great English Prescription.
A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. (BEFORE) indiscretion, or over exertion. (AFTER) Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.
Sold in Tecumseh by DR. GEO. FERGUSON.

A CARD.
To those who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

"I am afraid, sir, my aunt cannot have the honor of seeing you to-day," she said.

Hardyman was all compliance. He smiled and patted his horse's neck. "To-morrow, then," he said. "My compliments, and I will call in the afternoon. Let me see; Miss Pink lives at—" He waited, as if he expected Isabel to assist his treacherous memory once more. She hesitated again. Hardyman looked round at his groom. The groom could find out the address, even if he did not happen to know it already. Besides, there was the little row of houses visible at the farther end of the road. Isabel pointed to the villas, as a necessary concession to good manners, before the groom could anticipate her. "My aunt lives there, sir, at the house called The Lawns."

"Ah! to be sure," said Hardyman. "I oughtn't to have wanted reminding; but I have so many things to think of at the farm. And I am afraid I must be getting old; my memory isn't as good as it was. I am so glad to have seen you, Miss Isabel. You and your aunt must come and look at my horses. Do you like horses? Are you fond of riding? I have a quiet roan mare that is used to carrying ladies; she would be just the thing for you. Did I beg you to give my best compliments to your aunt? Yes? How well you are looking, our air here agrees with you. I hope I haven't kept you standing too long? I didn't think of it in the pleasure of meeting you. Good-day, Miss Isabel—good-by till to-morrow."

He took off his hat to Isabel, nodded to Moody, and pursued his way to the farm.

Isabel looked at her companion. His eyes were still on the ground. Pale, silent, motionless, he waited by her like a dog, until she gave the signal of walking on again toward the house.

"You are not angry with me for speaking to Mr. Hardyman?" she asked, anxiously.

He lifted his head at the sound of her voice. "Angry with you, my dear! Why should I be angry?"

"You seem so changed, Robert, since we met Mr. Hardyman. I couldn't help speaking to him, could I?"

"Certainly not."

They moved on towards the villa. Isabel was still uneasy. There was something in Moody's silent submission to all that she said and all that she did which pained and humiliated her. "You're not jealous?" she said, smiling tenderly.

He tried to speak lightly, on his side. "I have no time to be jealous, while I have your affairs to look after," he answered.

She pressed his arm tenderly. "Never fear, Robert, that new friends will make me forget the best and dearest friend who is now at my side." She paused, and looked up at him with a compassionate fondness that was very pretty to see. "I can keep out of the way to-morrow when Mr. Hardyman calls," she said. "It is not aunt he is coming to see, nor me."

It was generously meant. But while her aunt was only occupied with the present time, Moody's mind was looking into the future. He was learning the hard lesson of self-sacrifice already. "Do what you think right," he said, quietly; "don't think of me."

They reached the gate of the villa. He held out his hand to say good-by.

"Won't you come in?" she asked. "Do come in."

"Not now, my dear. I must get back to London as soon as I can. There is some more work to be done for you, and the sooner I do it the better."

She heard his excuse without heeding it.

"You are not like yourself, Robert," she said. "Why is it? What are you thinking of?"

He was thinking of the bright blush that overspread her face when Hardyman first spoke to her; he was thinking of the invitation to her to see the stud farm, and to ride the roan mare; he was thinking of the utterly powerless position in which he stood toward Isabel and toward the highly born gentleman who admired her. But he kept his doubts and fears to himself. "The train won't wait for me," he said, and held out his hand once more.

She was not only perplexed, she was really distressed. "Don't take leave of me in that cold way!" she pleaded. Her eyes dropped before his, and her lips trembled a little. "Give me a kiss, Robert, at parting." She said those bold words softly and sadly, out of the depth of her purity for him. He started; his face brightened suddenly; the smoothness of hope rose again. In another moment the change came; in another moment he understood her. As he touched her cheek with his lips he turned pale again. "Don't quite forget me," he said, in low, faltering tones, and [illegible] [illegible] by unbroken repose the ex-schoolmistress was in the happiest frame of mind for the reception of her niece's news.

Informed that Moody had returned to South Morton to personally report the progress of the business, Miss Pink readily approved of him as a substitute for Mr. Troy. "Mr. Moody, as a banker's son, is a gentleman by birth," she remarked; "he has, consequently, [illegible] preposses[illegible] in his favor. He has my confidence, Isabel, as well as yours; he is in every respect a superior person to Mr. Troy. Did you meet, my friends, my dear, when you were out walking?"

The drawer to this question produced a [illegible] Mr. Troy. The thoughtless rank-worship of her nature flashed, so to speak, on Hardyman's message. She looked taller and younger than usual; she was all smiles and blushes. At last, Isabel [illegible] right aspect," she said. "In the society of Lady Lydiard you cannot possibly have formed correct ideas of the English aristocracy. Observe Mr. Hardyman, when he does me the honor to call to-morrow, and you will see the difference."

"Mr. Hardyman is your visitor, aunt, not mine. I was going to ask you to let me remain up-stairs in my room."

Miss Pink was unaffectedly shocked. "This is what you learn at Lady Lydiard's," she observed. "No, Isabel, your absence would [illegible] sibly permit it. You will be present to receive our distinguished friend with me. And mind this," added Miss Pink, in her most impressive manner, "if Mr. Hardyman should by any chance ask why you have left Lady Lydiard, not one word about these disgraceful circumstances which connect you with the loss of the bank note! I should sink into the earth if the smallest hint of what has really happened should reach Mr. Hardyman's ears. My child, I stand towards you in the place of your departed mother. I have the right to command your silence on this horrible subject, and I do imperatively command it."

In these words foolish Miss Pink sowed the seed for the harvest of trouble that was soon to come.

CHAPTER XVI.

Paying his court to the ex-schoolmistress on the next day, Hardyman made such excellent use of his opportunities that the visit to the stud farm took place on the day after. His own carriage was placed at the disposal of Isabel and her aunt, and his own sister was present to confer special distinction on the reception of Miss Pink.

In a country like England, which annually suspends the sitting of its legislature in honor of a horse race, it is only natural and proper that the stud farm should be the first object of consideration at a stud farm. Nine-tenths of the land at Hardyman's farm were devoted, in one way or another, to the noble quadruped with the low forehead and the long nose. Poor humanity was satisfied with second rate and third rate accommodation. The ornamental grounds, very poorly laid out, were also very limited in extent; and as for the dwelling house, it was literally a cottage. A parlor and a kitchen, a smoking room, a bedroom and a spare chamber for a friend, all scantily furnished, sufficed for the modest wants of the owner of the property. If you wished to feast your eyes on luxury you went to the stables.

The stud farm being described, the introduction of Hardyman's sister follows in due course.

The Hon. Lavinia Hardyman was, as all persons in society know, married rather late in life to Gen. Drumblade. It is saying a great deal, but it is not saying too much, to describe Mrs. Drumblade as the most mischievous woman of her age in all England. Scandal was the breath of her life; to place people in false positions, to divulge secrets and destroy characters, to undermine friendships and aggravate enmities—these were the sources of enjoyment from which this dangerous woman drew the inexhaustible fund of good spirits that made her a brilliant light in the social sphere. She was one of the privileged sinners of modern society. The worst mischief that she could work was ascribed to her "exuberant vitality." She had that ready familiarity of manner which is (in her class) so rarely discovered to be insolence in disguise. Her power of easy self-assertion found people ready to accept her on her own terms, wherever she went. She was one of those big, overpowering women, with blunt manners, voluble tongues and goggle eyes, who carry everything before them. The highest society modestly considered itself in danger of being dull in the absence of Mrs. Drumblade. Even Hardyman himself—who saw as little of her as possible, whose frankly straightforward nature recoiled by instinct from contact with his sister—could think of no fitter person to make Miss Pink's reception agreeable to her while he was devoting his own attentions to her niece. Mrs. Drumblade accepted the position thus offered with the most amiable readiness. In her own private mind she placed an interpretation on her brother's motives which did him the grossest injustice. She believed that Hardyman's designs on Isabel contemplated the most profligate result. To assist this purpose, while the girl's nearest relative was supposed to be taking care of her, was Mrs. Drumblade's idea of "fun." Her worst enemy admitted that the Honorable Lavinia had redeeming qualities, and owned that a keen sense of humor was one of her merits.

Was Miss Pink a likely person to resist the fascinations of Mrs. Drumblade? Alas for the ex-schoolmistress! Before she had been five minutes at the farm Hardyman's sister had fished for her, caught her, landed her. Poor Miss Pink!

Mrs. Drumblade could assume a grave dignity of manner when the occasion called for it. She was grave, she was dignified, when Hardyman performed the ceremonies of introduction. She would not say she was charmed to meet Miss Pink—the ordinary slang of society was not for Miss Pink's ears—she would say she felt this introduction as a privilege. It was so seldom one met with persons of trained intellect in society. Mrs. Drumblade was already informed of Miss Pink's earlier triumphs in the instruction of youth. Mrs. Drumblade had not been blessed with children herself; but she had nephews and nieces, and she was anxious about their education, especially the nieces. What a sweet, modest girl Miss Isabel was! The fondest wish she could form for her nieces would be that they should resemble Miss Isabel when they grew up. The question was as to the best method of education. She would own that she had selfish motives in becoming acquainted with Miss Pink. They were at the farm, no doubt, to see Alfred's horses. Mrs. Drumblade did not understand horses; her interest was in the question of education. She might even confess that she had accepted Alfred's invitation in the hope of hearing Miss Pink's views. There would be opportunities, she trusted, for a little instructive conversation on that subject. It was, perhaps, ridiculous to talk, at her age, of feeling as if she were Miss Pink's pupil, and yet it exactly expressed the nature of the aspiration which was then in her mind. In these terms, feeling her way with the utmost nicety, Mrs. Drumblade wound the net of flattery round and round Miss Pink until her hold on that innocent lady was, in every sense of the [illegible] passed under review Hardyman and Isabel were out of sight, and Mrs. Drumblade and Miss Pink were lost in the intricacies of the stables. "Excessively stupid of me. We had better go back, and establish ourselves [illegible] When [illegible] in vice will return to look for us in the [illegible] stage." Under cover of this arguing upon the separation [illegible] Miss Pink left [illegible] attention to Miss Drumblade [illegible] parlor, where Hardyman and Isabel [illegible] their way to a position at the farthest distance [illegible] of the property.

[illegible]

Isabel was on her guard. "My hat—my gloves! Aunt Lydiard and aunt Pink!" "No, thank you, Mr. Hardyman; I am a better walker than you think."

Hardyman abandoned the conversation in [illegible] you will believe me," he asked, "if I tell you that this is one of the happiest days of my life?"

"I should think you were always happy," Isabel cautiously replied, "having such a pretty place to live in as this."

Hardyman met that answer with one of his quietly positive denials. "A man is never happy by himself," he said. "He is happy with a companion. For instance, I am happy with you."

Isabel stopped and looked back. Hardyman's language was becoming a little too explicit. "Surely we have lost Mrs. Drumblade and Miss Pink! I don't see them anywhere."

"You will see them directly; they are only a long way behind." With this assurance he returned, in his own obstinate way, to his one object in view. "Miss Isabel, I want to ask you a question. I'm not a ladies' man. I speak my mind plainly to everybody—women included. Do you like being here to-day?"

Isabel's gravity was not proof against this very downright question. "I should be hard to please," she said, laughing, "if I didn't enjoy my visit to the farm."

Hardyman pushed steadily forward through the obstacle of the farm to the question of the farm's master. "You like being here?" he repeated. "Do you like me?"

This was serious. Isabel drew back a little and looked at him. He waited with the most impenetrable gravity for her reply.

"I think you can hardly expect me to answer that question," she said.

"Why not?"

"Our acquaintance has been a very short one, Mr. Hardyman. And if you are so good as to forget the difference between us, I think I ought to remember it."

"What difference?"

"The difference in rank."

Hardyman suddenly stood still, and emptied the grass [illegible]

"If anything I have said has vexed you," he began, "tell me so plainly, Miss Isabel, and I'll ask your pardon. But don't throw my rank in my face. I cut adrift from all that nonsense when I took this farm and got my living out of the horses. What has a man's rank to do with a man's feelings?" he went on, with another emphatic dig of his stick. "I am quite serious in asking if you like me, for this good reason, that I like you. Yes, I do. You remember that day when I bled the old lady's dog. Well, I have found out since then that there's a sort of incompleteness in my life which I never suspected before. It's you who have put that idea into my head. You didn't mean it, I dare say, but you have done it all the same. I sat alone here yesterday evening smoking my pipe—and I didn't enjoy it. I breakfasted alone this morning—and I didn't enjoy that. I said to myself, She's coming to lunch, that's one comfort—I shall enjoy lunch. That's what I feel, roughly described. I don't suppose I've been five minutes together without thinking of you, now in one way and now in another, since the day when I first saw you. When a man comes to my time of life, and has had my experience, he knows what that means. It means, in plain English, that his heart is set on a woman—You're the woman."

"'You're the woman.'"

Isabel had thus far made several attempts to interrupt him without success. But when Hardyman's confession attained its culminating point she insisted on being heard.

"If you will excuse me, sir," she interposed, gravely, "I think I had better go back to the cottage. My aunt is a stranger here, and she doesn't know where to look for us."

"We don't want your aunt," Hardyman remarked, in his most positive manner.

"We do want her," Isabel rejoined. "I won't venture to say it's wrong in you, Mr. Hardyman, to talk to me as you have just done, but I'm quite sure it's wrong in me to listen."

He looked rather with such unaffected surprise and distress that she stopped, on the point of leaving him, and tried to make herself better understood.

"I had no intention of offending you, sir," she said, a little confusedly. "I only wanted to remind you that there are some things which a gentleman in your position—" She stopped, tried to finish the sentence, failed, and began another. "If I had been a young lady in your own rank of life," she went on, "I might have thanked you for paying me a compliment, and have given you a serious answer. As it is, I am afraid I must say that you have surprised and disappointed me. I can claim very little for myself, I know, but I did imagine—so long as there was nothing unbecoming in my conduct—that I had some right to your respect."

Listening more and more impatiently, Hardyman took her by the hand, and burst out with another of his abrupt questions.

"What can you possibly be thinking of?" he asked.

She gave him no answer, she only looked at him reproachfully, and tried to release herself.

Hardyman held her hand faster than ever.

"I believe you think me an infernal scoundrel," he said. "I can stand a good deal, Miss Isabel, but I can't stand that. How have I failed in respect toward you, if you please? I have told you you're the woman my heart is set on. Well! isn't it plain what I want of you when I say that? I want Miss Pink. I want you to be my wife."

Isabel's only reply to this extraordinary [illegible] moment followed by a sudden [illegible] from head to foot.

"Have mercy, pet!" his arm round her [illegible] surprised to see in him [illegible] "I wouldn't have mentioned my [illegible] would be looking at me [illegible] [illegible] Young man I was [illegible] [illegible] in the young woman I meet with in the present [illegible] I think for my life. What does it matter to me whether you're the daughter of a duke or the daughter of a dairymaid? It isn't your father I want to marry, it's you. Listen to reason, there's a dear. We have only one question to settle before we go back to your aunt. You wouldn't answer me when I asked it a little while since. Will you answer now? Do you like me?"

Isabel looked up at him timidly.

"In my position, sir," she asked, "have I any right to like you? What would your relations and friends think if I said Yes?"

Hardyman gave her waist a little admiratory squeeze with his arm.

"What! You're at it again! A nice way to answer a man, to call him 'sir,' and to get behind his rank as if it were a place of refuge from him! I hate talking of rank, but you force me to it. Here is my position in the world: I have got an elder brother, he is married, and he has a son to succeed him in the title and the property. You understand so far? Very well. Years ago I shifted my share of the rank whatever it may be on to my brother's shoulders. He's a thorough good fellow, and he has carried my dignity for me, without once dropping it, ever since. As for what people may say, they have said it already, from my father and mother downward, in the time when I took to the horses and the farm. If they're the wise people I take them for, they won't be at the trouble of saying it all over again. No, no. Twist it how you may, Miss Isabel, whether I'm single or whether I'm married, I'm plain Alfred Hardyman, and everybody who knows me knows that I go on my own way and please myself. If you don't like ever had in my life; but say so honestly, all the same."

Where is the woman in Isabel's place whose capacity for resistance would not have yielded a little to such an appeal as this?

"I should be an insensible wretch," she replied, warmly, "if I didn't feel the honor you have done me, and feel it gratefully."

"Does that mean you will have me for a husband?" asked downright Hardyman.

She was fairly driven into a corner, but (being a woman) she tried to slip through his fingers at the last moment.

"Will you forgive me," she said, "if I ask for a little more time? I am so bewildered, I hardly know what to say or do for the best. You see, Mr. Hardyman, it would be a dreadful thing for me to be the cause of your giving offense to your family. I am obliged to think of that. It would be so distressing for you if I will say nothing of myself, if your friends closed their doors on me. They might say I was a designing girl, who had taken advantage of your good opinion to raise herself in the world. Lady Lydiard warned me long since not to be ambitious about myself, and not to forget my station in life, because she treated me like her adopted daughter. Indeed—indeed, I can't tell you how I feel your goodness and the compliment—the very great compliment—you pay me. My heart is free; and if I followed my own inclinations—" She checked herself, conscious that she was on the brink of saying too much. "Will you give me a few days," she pleaded, "to try if I can think composedly of all this? I am only a girl, and I feel quite dazzled by the prospect that you set before me."

Hardyman seized on these words as offering all the encouragement that he dared to his suit.

"Have your own way in this thing, and in everything!" he said, with an unaccustomed fervor of language and manner. "I am so glad to hear that your heart is open to me, and that all your inclinations take my part."

Isabel instantly protested against this misrepresentation of what she had really said. "Oh, Mr. Hardyman, you quite mistake me!"

He answered her very much as he had answered Lady Lydiard when she had tried to make him understand his proper relations toward Isabel.

"No, indeed, I don't mistake you. I agree to every word you say. How can I expect you to marry me, as you very properly remark, unless I give you a day or two to make up your mind? It's quite enough for me that you like the prospect. If Lady Lydiard treated you as her daughter, why shouldn't you be my wife? It stands to reason that you're quite right to marry a man who can raise you in the world. I like you to be ambitious, though. Heaven knows, it isn't much I can do for you, except to love you with all my heart. Still, it's a great encouragement to hear that her ladyship's views agree with mine."

"They don't agree, Mr. Hardyman," protested poor Isabel. "You are entirely misrepresenting—" Hardyman cordially concurred in this view of the matter. "You are!" I can't pretend to represent her lady[illegible] language to yours either. I am obliged to translate a little, as the phrase is, to make it intelligible to you. It's all right—I understand. You leave it to me, the happiest man living. I shall ride over to-morrow to your aunt. Pluck up and hear what you have to say to me. Mind you're at home. Not a day must pass without my seeing you. I do love you, Isabel! I do indeed." He stooped and kissed her heartily. "Only to prevent her ladyship's explanations, I'll give you time to think."

She drew herself away from him, relatively not angry. Before she could make a third attempt to place this subject, in its right light before him the luncheon bell rang, and she was evidently sent to look for them.

"Don't forget—to-morrow," Hardyman whispered, confidentially. "I'll call early, and then go to London and get the ring."

CHAPTER XVII.

Events succeeded each other rapidly after the memorable day, to Isabel, of the luncheon at the farm.

On the next day (the ninth of the month) Lady Lydiard sent for her steward and requested him to explain his conduct in repeatedly leaving the house without assigning any reason for his absence. She did not dispute his claims to a freedom of action which would not be permitted to an ordinary servant. Her objection to his present course of proceeding related entirely to the mystery in which it was involved, and to the uncertainty in which the household was left as to the hour of his return. On these grounds she thought herself entitled to an explanation. Moody's habitual reserve—strengthened on this occasion by his dread of risking if his efforts to serve Isabel ended in failure—disinclined him to take Lady Lydiard into [illegible] with obstacles and doubts. He respectfully entreated her ladyship to grant him a delay of a few weeks before he entered on his explanation. Lady Lydiard (quick tempered) resented his request. She told Moody [illegible] of an act of pro[illegible] his employer. He received the reproof with exemplary resignation, but he held to his application nevertheless. From that moment the fate of the interview was the danger to Isabel. Moody was dismissed, and he knew it. The evening [illegible] and found, to his astonishment, [illegible] Lady Lydiard [illegible]

On the first of the month [illegible] [illegible] Lady Lydiard [illegible] [illegible] Moody has gone to Paris [illegible] [illegible] the end of the month. In the meantime [illegible] and he had the pleasure of forwarding an answer. The letter [illegible] [illegible] The French police offered to send to London one of their best men, well acquainted with the English language, if Lady Lydiard was desirous of employing him. He would be perfectly willing to act with an English officer in conducting the investigation, should it be thought necessary. Mr. Troy, being consulted as to the expediency of accepting this proposal, objected to the pecuniary terms demanded as being extravagantly high. [illegible] before any reply was sent to Paris, and he engaged meanwhile to consult a London solicitor who had great experience in cases of theft, and whose advice might enable them to dispense entirely with the services of the French police.

Being now a free man again, Moody was able to follow his own inclinations in regard to the instructions which he had received from Old Sharon.

To be Continued.

The Model Farm.

The Keota Iowa, Eagle has at last found a western man who is satisfied with a fifty acre farm. His name is Artemus Fisher, and he lives one mile and a half south of Keota. The Eagle tells the story of his management and of his success as follows:

He keeps one team of horses, three first class cows, and a nice little drove of the best hogs. He milks his cows for the creamery, and they made him nearly $200 last year; will perhaps do better this year. He will sell $500 worth of hogs this year, and have thirty stockers to keep over. He has $200 worth of these also. Makes on stock in first-class condition during the winter. He keeps everything in apple-pie order about his farm; his cows revel in clover up to their eyes; he attends to feeding, watering and milking as regularly as the clock strikes, hence he gets the best results with the least possible feed. He keeps his stock under cover, and never allows any animal to shiver in the fence corners. He has a barn that is a model of convenience and economy. It is snow-proof, and as warm as the old kitchen. He has a first-class selection of fruit—not a large orchard, but a choice selection of the varieties that thrive and bear the best in this locality. Everything about the farm bears marks of intelligence, thrift and economy. Besides making a living for himself and the old lady, he will sell at least $500 worth of stuff off his fifty acres this year, and not be exceeding former prices either. There is no rush or hurry about this model farm. Everything goes off quietly and regularly. The expenses are very small and the gains sure.

ESTATE OF STEPHEN HUNTER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 5th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Stephen Hunter, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of James Y. Hunter, administrator of said estate, praying for license to sell the real estate of said deceased in said petition described, for reasons therein set forth.

It is Ordered, That Monday, the 8th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause if any there be why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said Petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendence of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A true copy.
A. H. Briggs, Probate Register. 40-47

ESTATE OF JAMES WHEELER.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Adrian, on Tuesday, the 5th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of James Wheeler, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Irvin Wood and Hannah Wood, praying that the executor of the last will and testament of Edwin B. Wood, deceased, that said Edwin B. Wood in his lifetime was executor of the last will and testament of said James Wheeler, deceased, and praying for the allowance of the final account of said executor, duly filed, and that the number and the executor may be cancelled, and for such other and further orders as this Court may seem proper.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 8th day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendence of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A true copy.
A. H. Briggs, Probate Register. 40-47

POULTRY, GAME,
BUTTER, EGGS.
Having leased the new store 42 Michigan Grand Ave., and fitted it up in a prepared to handle on commission, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc., quick sales at the best market prices, and prompt returns guaranteed.
E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, Mich.

ADVERTISERS or others who wish to examine this paper or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 47 Randolph St. the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

TEMPERANCE DISCUSSION.

[illegible]

[illegible] the gigantic proportions which the liquor traffic has assumed for the [illegible] the traffic and the [illegible] summaries the appetite. Men are tempted to buy what they are exposed for sale on every hand, especially if it be some drink on which they have a craving that tastes good [illegible]

[illegible] Drinking in its early stages is a social vice, and in the attitude of [illegible] comparatively [illegible] wherever liquor usually [illegible] [illegible] to resist the temptations to quaff to the pledging [illegible] [illegible] that the health of the army and navy [illegible] [illegible] the appetite for intoxicants will go [illegible] to tempt and [illegible] as it now stands [illegible] difficult to [illegible] and there is no [illegible] many who will abandon [illegible] Place the ban of public re[illegible] prohibition on the trade [illegible] of the law [illegible] interfere and say it shall cease and [illegible] if it be carried only continued [illegible] to some extent, yet as a public and [illegible] temptation to an institution [illegible] of such a vast extent. We will have done much when we have made the liquor traffic which it is, and so [illegible] the [illegible] Dead and [illegible] the position of an old [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Just in what way these destructive influences may be thwarted may not be clear. But that the attempt should be made to thwart and destroy them is not clear. There is a prohibitory law in the Old Testament which has never been repealed and which is as binding now as it ever was. The prophet Habakkuk [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

ALL
NS.in N G, tion to every want to RTH. quality, low aler in US.
OS, KERS,
e King
RNACES.
They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success.
THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations
& BOYD.
0 OL
ocks of Cloth-
n assortment before.
OATS! of Clothing.
Figures
OPLE. customers. Come and you to trade at OOD'S
H.
ING CARTS
For Colts or Faulty Horses.
College

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

SHROPSHIRE RAM—Full blood, for sale cheap. Call at my farm in Raisin. J. R. COLVIN.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—This is to give notice that on that date [illegible] Britton, Mich.

HOUSE TO RENT.—At $8.00 a month. Apply at office 19 A. W. SLAYTON.

[illegible]

ABBIE E. GARDNER, Graduate, [illegible] Diseases of Women a specialty. Office and residence, 50 Maumee St., Adrian, Mich.

CELERY of health size now ready, and for sale by the dozen or doz. H. L. STEWART.

LESSONS ON THE VIOLIN.—30 years practice in Adrian, 16 years in Tecumseh. Address S. M. Hayden, Tecumseh.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A good brick house containing four rooms and pantry, with two acres of land, within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire at J. S. KINNEY'S STORE, Tecumseh, Mich.

Bart Hatse was in town Monday.

James Ingersol is reported seriously ill.

B. F. Reynolds is auctioneering in Jackson to-day.

Some of the candidates got there and some got left.

Miss Nora Martin returned from Tiffin, O., las Tuesday.

Twenty cents will pay for the HERALD for the balance of this year.

Bart Garlinghouse returned from his New York trip last Saturday.

C. H. Ames, of Findlay Ohio, was the guest of G. H. Bly, a day or two of week.

Reports come from Grand Rapids that John Smith, a former resident of this place, was married several days agone that place to Miss Lizzie Waters, an estimable young lady.

Mrs. E. B. Lyman and Miss Lida Rounds, of New York, gave a concert and elocutionary entertainment at Tecumseh last Friday evening. Adrian Times.

A little too previous, neighbor. They were advertised to give a concert but failed to come to time. Mrs. Lyman telegraphed at the eleventh hour that she could not be here on account of sickness.

THE OLD BAND.

The death of Capt. D. D. Marshall takes another link from the "old band." One of the best cornet bands Tecumseh ever had flourished here in the fifties, over 30 years ago. The members were Fred Emerson, leader, D. D. Marshall, DeLos LeBaron, Walley Gray, Alf. James, Stephen Beers, Jerry Allen, J. D. Sholes, Oscar Adams and Geo. S. Spafford. Oscar Adams died several years ago and Dave is the second one to go to his final reward. The band was organized about thirty two years ago and flourished longer than bands usually do. Eight of the members are still living but they are widely scattered to-day.

Fred is running a ranch in Texas. DeLos is a commercial traveler, living at Toledo. Walley is our village lamp-lighter. J. D. Sholes, is our leading harness maker. Stephen is running a blacksmith shop at Bay City. Jerry is selling guns and fishing tackle at Goshen, Ind. Alf. is our popular supervisor, Spafford is still sticking type in the HERALD office, just where he was thirty years ago.

FARMER'S SOCIAL CLUB.

Thursday evening, Oct. 28th, the Farmers' Social Club held its first regular meeting, for the season, at J. W. Benedict's.

The night was very dark, but the attendance was good, showing that the farmers have not lost interest in these meetings.

Every one on the program had a well prepared which made it very interesting.

Mrs. Horton's paper was a good one and made a good commencement of the discussion of the question—which is the more advisable, to sell cream or manufacture it into butter? The question was fully discussed, the ladies taking an active part.

The general idea seemed to be that there was not as much profit in selling cream as manufacturing butter, but all agreed that it was a saving in work. The members think that they have not been paid as much for their cream during the summer as they might, consequently there is some dissatisfaction, and unless the creameries pay what the farmers consider a fair remuneration, many of those keeping quite a number of cows will resume butter making, as the majority of them have cabinet creameries, ice houses and all modern facilities for making first class butter.

The next meeting will be held Friday evening, Nov. 12th at I. H. Schreiber's.

PROGRAM.

Singing—Choir.
Rec.—Leva Gillespie.
Select reading—Emma Schreiber.
Music—Grant and Henry.
Essay—Lizzie Henderson.
Question—Would it not be advisable for the farmers of this community to establish a co-operative creamery and make their own butter? Paper on the question by A. G. Hall.

MRS. F. C. RETTER, Sec.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The battle is over.

[illegible] in Adrian a few days last week.

Twenty cents will pay for the HERALD until Jan. 1st, 1887.

Mrs. Lockwood, of Monroe, was the guest of Miss Ida A. Lamb last Saturday.

Fred Deul has the frame of his new [illegible] in position and is pushing the work rapidly.

J. S. Kinney has placed an elegant new sign "Undertaking" on the front of his building.

Capt. Allen worked the German vote of Washtenaw County to pretty good advantage.

Editor Kempton, of the Addison Courier is making money and has ordered a new safe to put it in.

Chauncey Cooper, of Cambridge, was in town last Saturday, and favored the HERALD with a call.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Smith returned from their eastern trip last week, having enjoyed their visit very much.

One weather prophet predicts a long and severe winter. Another predicts a mild November. Take your choice.

There was a big crowd in town last Saturday. It was a fine day for peddling stickers and the candidates were all busy.

Mr. W. L. Wilson, of Port Huron, Deputy Grand Regent of the Royal Arcanum, was the guest of Abner Wilson last Friday.

E. C. DePuy has an agency for selling grape vines from day R. Chase, of Rochester N. Y. His samples of grapes are of superior quality.

Rev. J. F. Berry, of Michigan Christian Advocate, Detroit, will preach in the Tecumseh Methodist Episcopal Church, morning and evening, Sunday Nov. 7.

F. W. Tidball, of Grand Rapids, was in town yesterday putting up a piano which Rev. J. M. Getchell recently bought of Chase Bros., Piano Co. of that city. It is a very fine instrument.

John Ladd, of Devil's Lake, dropped into the office of the Ohio & Mich. Coal & Mfg. Co. the other day with a bill of lumber for a house in his hand and two days later the house "knock down" was shipped to him.

The W. C. T. U. will meet until further notice in the Reform Club Room on Fridays, at 3 P. M. The Temperance School will also meet in the Reform Club Room on Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock, until further notice.

The "I am something of a liar myself" card, which was intended to act as a sort of companion piece to the chestnut bell, has been checkmated by another, which bears the inscription, "So I'm told by those who know you."

Capt. D. D. Marshall was a member of Detroit Council of the Royal Arcanum. Harry Tansley, Sec'y of Tecumseh Council R. A. made out the necessary papers and forwarded them. The family will receive three thousand dollars.

The wife of Congressman Eldredge, who has been seriously ill for the past seven weeks, passed away last Tuesday forenoon. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at the family residence in Adrian.

E. B. Morley, of Ridgeway, has received from a friend, a specimen of solid salt picked up on the banks of the Cimarone river in the Indian Territory. The salt is washed up on the banks of that river in such quantities that it is shoveled up by the wagon load.

The Normal School at Flint, is in a very flourishing condition. The second term for the current year will commence Nov. 16th, and will continue seven weeks. Students may enter at any time. The expenses are less than at any other first class school in the state. For catalogues giving full information, address, Flint Normal School, Flint, Mich.

The last rally of the campaign was held by the Democrats on Monday evening. Knapp's band furnished some of their usual excellent music for the occasion. The Opera House was well filled with an intelligent audience, comprising a goodly number of ladies to listen to an address from Regent Whitman, of Ypsilanti. Mr. Whitman is a very pleasing and forcible speaker, and made an excellent impression.

To-day's Free Press gives an account of an outrage perpetrated in Ypsilanti last evening.

The residence of C. R. Pattison, editor of the Ypsilanti Commercial, was mobbed by a Republican crowd this evening between 11 and 12 o'clock, which smashed in the windows and then gave three cheers for the Republican party. The paper run by Pattison is a Prohibition organ and was particularly obnoxious to the Allen Republicans during his recent canvass. There was a big Allen ratification meeting in Ypsilanti to-night, and the crowd went direct from this to Mr. Pattison's residence.

The melancholy days have come.

It was a Republican day last Tuesday—warm and pleasant.

About twenty comm[illegible] G. A. R. Post, gave Wm. C. Heck a surprise party on Tuesday evening, and a very pleasant evening was passed by both host and guests.

The ladies [illegible] Methodist church will meet at the residence of Wm. Smallidge, on Friday P. M., Nov. 12th. All are invited.

J. LOANA STACY, Sec.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a supper at the Armory Hall, next Wednesday evening, Nov. 10th, from 5:30 to 8 o'clock. Supper 10 cents. Every body is invited.

Mr. E. J. Smith the late editor of the Kalamazoo Gazette, is critically ill, and fears are entertained that he may not recover. His many friends in Lenawee County will hear this sad news with extreme regret. We hope it may turn out that the reports are exaggerated.

A telegram was received yesterday by Geo. Merritt from his brother E. H. Merritt, announcing the fact that the latter was elected sheriff of Mecosta County, by about 500 majority. Pretty good for Ed. His old Tecumseh friends will congratulate him.

The first theatrical excursion will take place over the M. & O. road, on Saturday, Nov. 6. The McCaull Opera Comique Co. will appear on that day at Wheeler's Opera House. Fare $1.00 for the round trip. Tickets good on the regular morning train going east and on special train leaving Toledo at eleven P. M.

The date of the Musical social announced last week to be held on Friday evening at the residence of Mr. J. D. Shull, has been unavoidably changed until Saturday evening. A first class program has been prepared, both instrumental and vocal. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded, and the engine was out in a jiffy. The fire proved to be in the Village Council building. The heater which is placed on the lower floor, and near the steamer, had burned hole through the floor, and the fire had communicated to the cupola and gone up through the roof. A stream was playing upon the flames within five minutes and the fire was confined to the cupola, but that was pretty well burned out. It was fortunate that the fire started by daylight. Had it been late at night, the chances are that the building would have been entirely consumed. The fire engine had a close call as it was. The Department are entitled to the thanks of the community for their prompt response to the alarm.

SCHOOL ITEMS.

There are eight members in the present high school graduating class, all of whom will undoubtedly pass through the year and graduate next June. Kittie Adams, Ellen Fisher, Ernest Goff, Asenath Hosmer, Arthur Hall, Edna McClure, Ida Reeter, Chas. Taylor.

ROLL OF HONOR.

Names of pupils who have neither been absent nor tardy, during the school month ending Oct. 29, and who have had an average standing of 90 per cent or above in all of their studies.

Eighth Grade.	Stud.	Arith.	Gram.	Geog.	W. R.	Spel.
Libbie Wilson	100	98	95			95
Grace Burnett	97	93	91			95
Maude Hodges	92	94	92			95
Harry McClure	100	90	92			90
John Nyland	98	90	91			100
Seventh Grade.
Harry Archibald		97	97	94	95	100
Anna Osborn		97	100	95	99	100
Clara Fickey		95	94	90	91	96
Lulu Garlinghouse		97	95	95	95	100
Lottie Madgett		93	90	95	92	96
Mary Hughes
Sixth Grade.
Bertha Bryan		98	97	93		98
Nettie Vandercook		98	96	94		98
Gertrude Hampton		98	95	96		100
Linda Hall		98	95	97		97
Fifth Grade.
George Tiffany		94				90
Fannie Adkins		92	96	98		90
Minnie Merrison		92	95	98		95
Joseph McClure		90	95	98		95
Charlie Williamson		98	95	100		98
Fourth Grade.
Leon McNeil		98				95
George Ferguson		97				95
Milton Jenkins		97	96	97		95
Leo Brazee		96	94	95		95
John Hodges		96	94	95		95
Edith Love		96	94	95		95
Mary Brown		96	94	95		95
Allie Kemper		96	94	95		95
Fred Veeck		96	94	95		95
Flint Chedister		96	94	95		95
Mary Gould		96	94	95		95
Pauline Wilson		96	94	95		95
Gertie Schreder		96	94	95		95
Bessie Hale		96	94	95		95

DEATH OF CHARLES KETCHAM.

The following notice is taken from the Journal Press of St. Cloud, Minnesota. The deceased was an older brother of Geo. T. Ketcham and of Mrs. C. S. Patterson. During his boyhood he was a resident of Tecumseh and will be remembered by many of the older settlers here.

"Mr. Charles Ketcham, of this city, after a long sickness, died at his home in this city yesterday afternoon, at five o'clock, aged about 56 years. Mr. Ketcham was among the earliest settlers in St. Cloud and was a man of many excellent qualities and had many friends. He was during the war a member of Company "G" of the Fourth Minnesota Volunteers, and saw, as did all the men of the Fourth, hard fighting. He came home completely broken in health. The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and the J. M. McKelvy Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member is requested to be present. He leaves a widow but no children.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

Yesterday afternoon Wm. Miller stole a keg of beer from Fish [illegible] nue stamp had been attached, attempted to sell it for 50 cents. Officer Baron [illegible] him for the offense. This afternoon he was arraigned in [illegible] guilty to a charge of larceny and was sentenced to the county jail for 30 days.—Adrian Record.

[illegible] to repair Mr. Barlow's furniture factory [illegible] still growing. Pinsch's determination to enterprise which would receive the [illegible] coming empire.—Adrian.

The telephone exchange at Manchester has been removed from the [illegible] Smithold's drug store.

The friends of a man in northern Michigan who struck natural gas on his farm and touched a match to it are trying to find enough of him to bury.

Jennie Farley, the domestic who suicided at Jackson Tuesday night, was formerly employed as a waiter girl at the Lawrence hotel in this city. At that time she stated to some of her associates that she expected to marry Jud. Crouch.—Adrian Record.

The Star Lecture Course of Adrian, will open to-morrow evening, with a lecture by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.

We are pleased to announce that the arrangements for supplying Tecumseh with a new paper mentioned in our last have been consummated, and that the work of removing the machinery from the old mill and the tearing down of the old dilapidated building was commenced Monday, by a large force of workmen under the superintendence of Jacob Wilson. A goodly portion of the old structures have already been removed. New buildings will immediately be erected covering the old site, and will be pushed to completion in the shortest possible time, weather permitting. The owners hope to have the new mill in operation early in January next.—Dundee Reporter.

Blissfield will soon have a war concert.

The Blissfield Advance wants a citizen's public meeting to consider the park question.

Mr. R. G. White met with a severe accident last Monday morning while handling stoves. His feet slipped as he was about to place a stove on the elevator, and in falling he knocked the leg out from another stove which fell on his right hand, cutting and tearing the flesh between the second and third fingers and the back of his hand in a terrible manner. The stove in his hands at the time also fell on him, but besides a few bruises he sustained no further injuries. His wound will lay him up for some time.—Blissfield Advance.

The Congregationalists have in preparation a unique program for Sunday evening, Nov. 7th. A part of the beautiful allegory of Pilgrim's Progress will be read by six young people, and several appropriate recitations, songs and quotations will be given. The evening will be profitably spent by all who listen to the service.—Hudson Gazette.

The Addison Courier says flies are blossoming on the shores of Devil's lake. We never thought the Courier would lie so.—Hudson Gazette.

On Sunday last, as John Johnson was digging potatoes in his field at Ottokee he uncovered a silver dollar of the date 1786.—Wauseon Republican.

That's nothing. Campaign lies of greater antiquity than this are constantly being dug up in Fulton county just now.—Morenci Observer.

The officers of the county fair have issued an address setting forth the condition of the society, and say that, owing to the bad weather the receipts were much less than was anticipated, and requesting exhibitors to donate half of their premiums. A number of them have cheerfully donated the entire amount of premiums awarded, and among them is the Tecumseh coal and lumber company. We hope the improvements will be soon completed, and the society put on a financial basis that will in the future prevent the humiliation of asking exhibitors to make a rebate on the awards, no matter what the weather is.—Adrian Press.

The Clinton cancing club gave their first hop last Friday evening.

Esquire Brown went to the barn to feed his horse, the other morning, when to his surprise he discovered that some miscreant had stolen nearly a barrel of oats. He gives notice through The Local, that if the parties will return the bags, he will feel himself under everlasting obligations.—Clinton Local.

Owing to the fine weather this fall, farmers are in good shape for cold weather when it comes.

November came in like a lamb—Will it go out like a lion?

The Republicans got out their vote and the Democrats did'nt, which seems to be about the size of it.

THE ELECTION AT HOME.

Last Tuesday was an exception to the general rule of election days. It was a verification of the old theory that a fine day is favorable to the Republicans. The result in this township was a stand-off between the old [illegible] ballots were cast, 600 Greenbacks [illegible] the total vote 329. The total Republican vote was 249. The total Democratic vote was 194. The entire poll was 443, [illegible] for [illegible] Two years ago the total poll was 17[illegible] and the [illegible] divided as follows:

Blaine [illegible]
Cleveland [illegible]
St. John [illegible]

The result, as compared with two years ago, shows a Democratic loss of 19 and a Prohibition gain of seven votes. The republicans have put in the best work. They polled nearly their full vote, which the Democrats failed to do. The following table gives the vote in detail on every candidate in this township.

STATE TICKET.

Governor—
George L. Yaple, D	131
Cyrus G. Luce, R	315
Samuel Dickie, P	98
Lieutenant Governor—
Solomon S. Curry, D	130
James H. Macdonald, R	319
Charles Mosher, P	104
Secretary of State—
Philip P. Wachtel, D	119
Gilbert R. Osgood, R	319
John Evans, P	105
State Treasurer—
William G. Beard, D	127
George L. Maltz, R	316
Aaron C. Fisher, P	104
Auditor General—
Judson S. Farrar, D	127
Henry H. Aplin, R	321
Stewart L. Woodford, P	96
Attorney General—
John C. Donnelly, D	120
Moses Taggart, R	321
James B. Laing, P	105
Commissioner of State Land Office—
Alonzo T. Freeble, D	121
Roscoe D. Dix, R	319
Charles L. Fraser, P	105
Superintendent Public Instruction—
David Parsons, D	120
Joseph Estabrook, R	320
David Bendiss, P	105
Member State Board of Education—
Jerome W. Turner, D	117
Samuel S. Babcock, R	321
Orren E. Downing, P	105

CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

Representative in Congress—2d Dist.
Lesley H. Salisbury, R	322
Edward P. Allen, R	325
Alfred M. Crosier, P	93

LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

Senator State Legislature—9th Dist.
Henry C. Hall, D	124
George Howell, R	318
Cornelius Quick, P	98
Representative State Legislature—1st District—
Horace Holdridge, D	315
Minor T. Cole, R	317
Millard P. Brown, P	111

COUNTY TICKET.

Sheriff—
Andi K. Whitmore, D	321
Frederick Bay, R	319
Elisha Luke, P	100
County Clerk—
David A. Bixby, D	313
George W. Fleming, R	321
Frank D. Avery, P	103
County Treasurer—
William J. Pawson, D	317
William C. Moran, R	326
Albert G. Baker, P	105
Register of Deeds—
Sylvester P. Hosmer, D	58
Stillman W. Bennett, R	257
Charles D. West, P	98
Prosecuting Attorney—
John R. O'Mealy, D	321
Dayton B. Morgan, R	328
Circuit Court Commissioners—
Frederick B. Wood, D	178
James W. Helme, Jr., D	317
George W. Ayers, R	296
George L. Bennett, R	299
County Surveyor—
Philip H. Dowling, D	318
James Blair, R	320
Daniel Babs, P	105
Coroners—
Samuel Catlin, D	307
James B. Dickerson, D	308
Michel P. Long, R	48
Henry C. Conkling, R	308
William Derbyshire, P	105
Oliver G. Jones, P	101

THE RESULT IN THE COUNTY.

In the County at large the Republicans make a clean sweep, with the exception of sheriff and member of the legislature in the second district. The Democrats elect Whitmore by 11 plurality, and Westfall by a plurality.

[illegible] a plurality for Governor of Ohio.

Allen beats Salisbury by 4.5.

Cole in the first district has a plurality of 4.5.

Allen's republican lead of plurality over Dr. Town in the third district.

In these tables we give only the majorities for Governor, Congress, the legislature and the county ticket, including Commissioners.

RIDGEWAY.

Luce 7[illegible] Allen 4[illegible] Howell 10[illegible] Bennett 2[illegible] Moran 12[illegible] Ayres [illegible] Bennett 2[illegible] Prof. Fox on vote on state ticket [illegible]

CLINTON.

Luce 9[illegible] Allen 14, Howell 26, Holdredge 1, Bay 5, Fleming 3[illegible] Bennett 2[illegible] Moran 3[illegible] Morgan 25, Ayres 3[illegible] Bennett 2[illegible] Prof. Fox on vote on state ticket 69.

MACON.

Luce 53, Allen 53, Howell 47, Cole 32, Bay 59, Fleming 53, Bennett 33, Moran 53, Morgan 39, Ayres 45, Bennett 30, Prohibition vote on state ticket 34.

CLINTON.

Yaple 8, Salisbury 9, Hall 12, Holdredge 16, Whitmore 14, Bixby 5, Hosmer 17, Pawson 10, Morgan 25, Helme [illegible] Prohibition vote on state ticket 10.

SADDLEBRIDGE.

Yaple 56, Salisbury 48, Hall 5[illegible] Town 65, Whitmore [illegible] Bixby 27, Pawson 59, Hosmer 61, O'Mealey 26, Wood [illegible] ticket [illegible]

PROSPECT.

Luce 31, Allen 2[illegible] Howell 20, Fleming [illegible] Bennett 21, Pawson [illegible] Morgan 1[illegible] Ayres [illegible] Prohibition [illegible]

COVINGTON.

The [illegible] in the county [illegible] counties may be obtained [illegible]

Allen	Salisbury [illegible]
Luce	Morgan [illegible]
[illegible]	Westfall [illegible]
[illegible]	Town [illegible]

OBITUARY.

Grant Garlinghouse died at Pattersonville, Schuyler Co., N. Y., Oct. 24th, 1886. Aged 19 years, 11 months. He was born in Wayne, Schuyler Co., N. Y., Nov. 19th, 1866. When he was about 13 years old he was left an orphan, both father and mother having died within a few months of each other. A short time after the death of his parents he, with his sister, came to Adrian, and found a home with [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. John Sargent, of the former of whom he became the adopted son. He came to Tecumseh [illegible] and made many friends, among whom [illegible] good habits and of steadiness and efficiency. [illegible] soon interrupted by sickness, and in spite of all medical skill he could do [illegible] in August last he visited the home of his early home in New York, [illegible] to receive from the kind [illegible] off to health. But it was [illegible] He continued to fail, and [illegible] came. A brother, now residing in New York, and the sister [illegible] spared to survive. They carry the heartfelt sympathy of many relatives and friends, who lamentably early [illegible] untimely death of a fine [illegible] promise.

The finest oysters ever [illegible] the Chesapeake are kept [illegible] Van Antwerp's.

—Steger's Gallery is well known through the county for doing first class work, and as he is making Photographs for a short time at $[illegible] doz., every one ought to avail themselves of the opportunity and get good Photos at low prices.

—Having several engagements from persons who could not come in time, I will continue to make Cabinet Photographs at $2 per doz. until the 20th of November, and no longer. All those wishing to secure good Photos at low prices should not fail to call early at Steger's Gallery.

—Just received, one case Lot [illegible] fine Merino underwear worth 75c's our price 50c each.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.'s.

—Buy your Hosiery and Blankets at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's

—Van Antwerp keeps the best brands of Baltimore oysters constantly on hand.

—Joe Sage, of Macon, has opened the campaign with his patent Champion Weather Strip, one of the most durable strips in the market for the exclusion of cold, rain and dust. Strip your doors and windows as it saves fuel, and adds comfort to your home. The Champion strip is water proof against all driving rain storms. Orders may be left at the HERALD office.

—We are still selling the Gent's White Shirt our competitors advertise as a bargain for 75c, at 49c. Comparison solicited.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

—Everyone using grain bags can save money by buying them at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—Call and get some of those fresh cookies at the Star Bakery to-day.

—Don't forget the fact that Mark Russell has a first class stock of Pianos, Organs and Sewing Machines.

—FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Herk Bro's. White Foam flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

—Fresh Oysters [illegible] at the Star Bakery.

—Bread only 5c a loaf at the Star Bakery.

—If you want any [illegible] painting or paper hanging done call on H. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh.

H. HOLMES.

—Fresh candies, ripe fruits, lemons, oranges, bananas, etc., received daily at R. C. Van Antwerps.

LORD & THOMAS, Advertising Agents, Chicago, [illegible] set required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of some little for [illegible] All is new.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS—

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

HOTELS—

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Dealer in High Class Tailoring.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

O. A. SLAYTON

THE DASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow.

CULTIVATORS.

GRAIN DRILLS

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Cal. Plaster and Plastering Hair. Grain, Flour, Feed and Field Seeds

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "Double Chloride of Gold" will cure the worst case of the habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike other so-called "painless" cures, it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient, while rapidly reducing his morphine dose to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business. While he has it done, he may be cured of Morphine Habit. Send for Pamphlet containing Medical Testimony, etc., sent free on application. It is the most complete and comprehensive work ever published, and gives full instructions for self cure at home. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO., DWIGHT, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS!

Cured in from three to nine days.

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats, constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

OREGO REMEDY CO., Fredonia, N.Y.

SEXUAL Weakness & Lost Manhood quickly and permanently cured. Send for 1000 medical testimonials. Sent free. Address Hawlin Medical Co., Buffalo, N.Y., U.S.A.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Works the blood, regulating digestion and invigorating all the functions of the

Ringworm Humor and Salt-Rheum

Biliousness, Sick Headache.

HOMER B. NASH.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Is sold by all druggists. Price $1, or six bottles for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Use HOOD'S TOOTH-POWDER.

DR. F. D. CLARKE

NO FEE!! UNTIL BETTER — ESTABLISHED 1851. DETROIT, MICH. — Merrill Block.

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

SKILL AND SUCCESS

ALL PRIVATE, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

and all persons who by their own acts of imprudence, folly or any cause of ill health, have lost manhood, the evil effects of which are felt upon the body of the offender, or the mind, such as Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Impotency, Seminal Weakness, Lost Power, Premature Decay, Nervous Prostration, Blotches, Pimples, Blood Poison, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Piles, Fistula, Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Diabetes, Stone in the Bladder, Rupture, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Impotency, Sterility, Loss of Sexual Power, Premature Old Age, Dizziness, Convulsions, Fits, Nervous Headache, Loss of Memory, Spermatorrhœa, Wasting Diseases, Consumption, Insanity, and all other diseases resulting from Self-Abuse, such as Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Timidity, Blushing, Dizziness, Nervous Prostration, Weakness of the Sexual Organs, Pimples on the Face, Blotches, Premature Decay

ARKE

ERED 1861. Merill
T, MICH. Block. ular, Old-Established
CIAN & SURGEON

AND SUCCESS NERVOUS DISEASES
DDLE-AGED MEN

ONS OF SYPHILIS are member that Blood ted or impure and coming generation
ed prematurely dentally." Age and
A written guarantee
y case undertaken. chronic diseases are have failed to cure—celebrated works on Delicate Diseases. You ptomatology by mail
the old Doctor.
DR. CLARKE, A
ARLOR pt.
exposure. Hours,
KE, M. D.
LOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

ER BRO'S

THE SETS ROOM
AL CORALINE

ST POPULAR COR-
RODUCED.
erior to whalebone.
be broken.
ay to the wearer.
goods except those
DEAR Bros.

EWARD

ding Merchants.
141 & 143 W. 35th Av.
CHICAGO.

B
HE BLOOD
h Purifier of the Discovered.
ds common st Scrofula.

NTS!
s and Conveyancers

RED STAR COUGH CURE

TRADE MARK.

Quickly stops Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Tickling in the Throat, Hard Cough, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Consumption, Coughing and Throat Troubles, Coughing Spells, Whooping Cough, Hard Cough, Tickling in the Throat, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds.

SAFE, SURE, PROMPT. 25 Cts.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO. BALTIMORE, MD.

ST. JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK

THE GREAT
GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, etc., etc.

PRICE, FIFTY CENTS.

AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 115. Mail.	No. 117. Express.	No. 141. Acc'om.
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 15 P.M.
Napoleon	6 41 "	2 35 "	2 06 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 15 "
Manchester	7 02 "	3 00 "	2 50 "
Clinton	7 17 "	3 16 "	3 28 "
[illegible]	7 [illegible] "	3 40 "	3 42 "
Adrian	8 05 "	4 12 "	9 05 "
Deford	10 30 "	6 45 "	.....
Tiffin	9 55 "	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 148. Acc'om.
Detroit	8 50 A.M.	9 15 P.M.	.....
Tiffin	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Adrian	11 25 "	8 50 "	5 45 A.M.
Deford	12 01 P.M.	9 24 "	7 10 "
Clinton	12 [illegible] "	9 41 "	8 10 "
Manchester	12 26 "	10 02 "	9 20 "
Norvell	12 49 "	10 18 "	9 55 "
Napoleon	12 55 "	10 28 "	9 [illegible] "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 50 "	10 45 "

☞ Trains run by New Standard of Detroit Mich. Time.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this office over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

ANDREW SCHWAFER, Ticket Agent.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

DAYS EXPRESS:
Atlantic Express, limited	4 35 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 24 "
New York Limited Express	10 31 P.M.
Way Freight	4 15 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Airline Accommodation	6 48 "
Pacific Express, Limited	10 07 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

☞ Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Britton.

To unsuch passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. 2 solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. D. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.
WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.
E. CHANDLER, Genl Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT OCT. 24, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 7 Pass	No. 3 Pass	No. 1	Central Time. STATIONS.	GOING WEST. No. 2	No. 4	No. 8
A.M.	A.M.	P.M.		A.M.	P.M.	A.M.
10 11	55	6 20	A. Toledo L.	7 10	2 40	6 00
10 10	40	5 20	Hudson	8 00	[illegible]	6 40
10 10	15	4 58	Britton	8 30	3 10	7 10
10 02	4 52		Ridgeway	8 34	3 10	7 [illegible]
9 47	4 40		Tecumseh	8 46	3 [illegible]	7 40
9 32	4 22		Tipton	9 00	3 15	12 10
9 17	4 05		Onsted	9 15	7 10	1 00
8 57	4 52		Devils Lake	9 33	7 25	1 20
8 45	3 49		Addison	9 43	7 40	1 35
8 25	3 21		Jerome	10 02	8 10	2 40
8 15	3 13		Moscow	10 10	8 25	3 13
8 00	3 00		Hanover	10 20	8 37	3 47
7 45	2 46		Pulaski	10 32	8 53	4 10
7 19	2 22		Homer	10 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	5 00
7 01	2 08		Eckford	11 08	9 32	5 30
6 40	1 50		Marshall	11 25	10 10	6 00
P.M.						P.M.
[illegible]	[illegible]		Battle Creek	11 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	7 [illegible]
[illegible]	1 10		L. Battle Crk A.	12 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
A.M.				P.M.
[illegible]	12 11		Augusta	12 11		2 27
[illegible]	12 24		Yorkville	12 35		8 15
[illegible]	12 27		Richland	1 04		2 15
[illegible]	12 33		Dexter	1 10		2 [illegible]
[illegible]	12 42		Monroe	1 22		10 [illegible]
[illegible]	12 52		Pike	1 05		10 [illegible]
[illegible]	11 27		Kellogg	2 17		10 [illegible]
[illegible]	11 15		L. Allegan A.	2 [illegible]		11 [illegible]
	10 50		Holland	3 10
	9 00		Grand Rapids	6 35
	9 22		Grand Haven	6 25
	9 47		Berryburg	6 50
	*8 10		Muskegon	7 10
	5 50		Pentwater	10 10
	A.M.			A.P.M.

Train No. 2 has a through Coach daily except Sunday, for Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater. Also a through coach leaves the above points via. C. & W. M. railway, each day, except Sunday, arriving in Toledo on Train No. 1 at 6.20 P.M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo—With all Railroads diverging. At Hudson—With L. S. & M. S. At Britton—With Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific. At Tecumseh—With L. S. & M. S. At Jerome—With L. S. & M. S. At Hanover—With L. S. & M. S. At Homer—With L. S. & M. S. (Lansing Division), and Air Line Division of the Mich. Central. At Marshall—With M. C. R. R. At Battle Creek—With Chicago & Grand Trunk and M. C. R. R. At Augusta—With Grand Rapids & Indiana. At Allegan—With Chicago & West Mich. and L. S. & M. S.

All trains daily except Sunday.

GEO. L. BRADLEY, Receiver.
H. C. PARKER, Genl. Pass. Agent.
H. F. MATTHEWS, Northwestern Agent, Muskegon, Mich.

WANTED!

AGENTS to sell a New set of CHRISTMAS BOOKS. Selling fast. Sell on sight. One agent sold 5 first week. Another 74 and her housework. Several making over $100 a month. Over 200 pages. Lowest priced. Best selling. Another $1 and her housework. Big pay. Sample free. Address quick for your share of the profits. Address, HOUSE & CO., 117 Duane St., New York.

Brewster's Pat. Rein Holder

Your lines are where you put them—not under horse's feet. One Agent sold 12 doz. in 3 days; one FIFTY. Write for terms.

E. E. BREWSTER, Holly, Mich.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Active, Pushing and Reliable.

Always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending articles with well established merit and such as are popular, having the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which is a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of throat, lungs, or chest, and in order to prove our claim, we ask you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free.

C. A. Wright & Co.

Cologne.

Use Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills for indigestion, and be relieved at once. Do not delay.

For any disorders of babyhood, give the little sufferer at once Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Price 25 cts.

By giving your cows Day's Horse Powder, you can increase the flow of flow of milk over 10 per cent.

Mr. Arthur Shurtleff, Parker' Dakota writes that he suffered for two years with a lame knee, which was entirely cured by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. He considers it a most wonderful remedy. It conquers pain.

Mr. L. D. Vinson, Cashier D. & I. R. R., has tried and endorses Red Star Cough Cure.

Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain, has made a most brilliant debut. Price 25 cts.

Philosophers say that affairs should always be conducted with a view to the greatest good of the greatest number. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup does the greatest good to the greatest number. 25 cents.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

Susan says she enjoys seeing the girls go to bathing, and loves to see them spit the sand out of their mouths.

We should economize at all times, but more especially when times are close. Observe the purchases of your thrifty neighbors. More substantial benefits are realized from a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure than a dollar bottle of any other cough remedy. It is a prompt, safe and pleasant cure for all throat and lung troubles. Sold and endorsed by Dr. George Ferguson.

Did you ever get your girl by an ice cream saloon of a hot day without stopping, and you retain her good opinion? If so, how?

"Give Ely's Cream Balm a trial. This justly celebrated remedy for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, cold in the head, &c, can be obtained of any reputable druggist, and may be relied upon as a safe and pleasant remedy for the above complaints and will give immediate relief. It is not a liquid, snuff or powder, has no offensive odor and can be used at any time with good results, as thousands can testify, among them some of the attaches of this office." Spirit of the Times, May 29, 1886.

India long shawls are now made into dressing-gowns for men. That ends the talk about the extravagance of women who cut them up for wrappers.

Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria

are spread by contagion, by the transfer of living matter. These particles come from the skin, the mucous lining of the mouth, nose and throat, and from the intestines and urinary organs. Disinfect promptly and thoroughly with Darby's Prophylactic Fluid The great germ destroyer. Prof. H. T. Lupton, of the Vanderbilt University, Tenn., says: "As a disinfectant and detergent Darbys Prophylactic Fluid is superior to any preparation with which I am acquainted."

A shrewd confectioner at the West End has taught his parrot to say "pretty creature," to every lady who enter his shop, and his business is rapidly increasing.

Waiting-maid—Good-morning, doctor. My lady sends me to beg you to come to her husband as quickly as possible. She does not wish him to die, without your assistance.

It is said that a great many ladies who are enthusiastic homeopathists think that their favorite school of medicine is called homeopathy because they can practice it at home.

[illegible]

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research however has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrh deafness, and hay fever, are, cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamps.—Scientific American.

A SONG OF REST.

O weary hands! that all the day,
[illegible] labor hard and long,
Now softly fall the shadows gray.
The bells are rung for evening song.
As hour ago the golden sun
Sank slowly down into the west,
Poor weary hands, your toil is done;
[illegible] time for rest.

O weary feet! that many a mile
Have trudged along the dusty way,
No longer toil to go astray
For gentle beckoning resting-trees
Block the young vines within the [illegible]
And softly sing the idle breezes
"'Tis time for rest—'tis time for rest."

O weary eyes! from which the tears
Fell many a time like thunder rain—
O weary eyes, [illegible]
Rest with such bliss as restless [illegible]
To-night forget the strange world
And look at what [illegible]
Lay down the tangled web of life
[illegible] time for rest.

Florence Tyler.

Childhood Among the Utes.

The Ute papoose, when quite young is placed in a buckskin or rawhide receptacle with straight board back. The buckskin opens down the center of the front. The papoose is placed in it, and the edges of the buckskin are drawn tightly together by buckskin thongs, as you would lace a shoe. The child's arms are pinioned down its side; no part of the body can be moved except the head, which can be rolled slightly from side to side. Straps are attached to the board to enable the squaw to sling it across her back or hang it on the branches of a tree. You will seldom hear a Ute papoose cry. I have seen the little things standing up against a tree in the broiling sun in one of these barbarous strait jacket receptacles. The flies were crawling in and out the corners of its eyes and mouth, great tears were chased each other down its cheeks, but not a whimper nor sound was heard.

They are kept laced up in this way for all about [illegible] until they are enough to crawl around enough to ride a little pony, and enough to go to walk, and it is curious to see the little things, often three or four years old, jumping on to his pony, [illegible] each other with the leather [illegible] The children of Chiefs of [illegible] often bedecked with war paint [illegible] and silver ornaments until they are scarcely recognizable. Great silver plates are suspended from their necks, plates [illegible] four inches in diameter hung upon the breast. Large [illegible] sometimes five pounds of silver [illegible] of Navajo designs, [illegible] Beaded buckskin moccasins [illegible] White Navajo blanket, [illegible] pendants in the hair, rings upon [illegible] and several necklaces of bears' teeth, etc., a buckskin belt five inches in width and gorgeously worked with beads, and you have a Ute child dressed and ornamented according to the fond parent's idea of artistic taste.—Colorado Cor. New York Evening Post.

On His Brilliant Black Eye.

"Speaking of glass eyes," said an old lawyer, "brings to mind a little incident that occurred in Chicago. Among our young professional men is one whose brilliant black eyes would attract attention anywhere. He goes much into society, and is quite a favorite among the ladies because of his eyes. One of these beautiful black eyes is glass, but it seems so much the counterpart of the other that not one person in a hundred would detect its artificiality. Among the members of his profession not one knows that the young man only has one good eye.

"On one occasion he escorted a young lady to the refreshment tables and entertained her with pleasant chat in a way that he thought was making a favorable impression. As they were taking ice cream he looked up as she gave utterance to some startling exclamation, and was surprised to see her eyes fixed on him with a look of unsatisfied interest and horror. She was a well bred girl, but something had so astounded her that she continued to look at him in a way that raised the question of his sanity. A fly had lit square in the center of his brilliant black glass eye and remained there, he, of course unconscious of its presence. The spectacle of that eye looking at her with a fly on it and the owner making no attempt to brush it off was too much for his companion. His explanation, even, was not quite satisfactory. She had believed so implicitly in those magnificent dark eyes that she has since that time regarded him as something of a fraud.—Inter Ocean.

Curiosstone Crayons.

Double Brakes for the Elevated.

Climbing up the stairs of an elevated railroad station I met a prominent member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. In the car we talked about safety appliances on railroads, when he remarked "I have been expecting for a long time that there would be a demand set up on some of the elevated roads on account of the possibility of accidents for stopping trains. I find that on railroad trains carrying passengers and involving the personal safety of travelers in a public should have double appliances for stopping so that in case one appliance gives out in an emergency the other can be used. The elevated road trains are equipped with brakes which are controlled by one man. In the crowded condition of trains, when trains are running on short headway the giving out of one of these appliances on a down grade might send one train crashing into another with fearful results. But if there were an auxiliary brake to which the engineer could turn in the event of the first one getting out of order the probabilities would be as nearly perfect as human ingenuity could devise."—New York Tribune.

A Little Bit of Counsel.

"Seek first perfect physical development, and all other things shall be added unto that. Plenty of exercise and an open air existence will give the desired strength. An intense vitality, the quickening power of a suggestive imagination, the breezy influences of nature, the study of authors of accurate thought and self discipline, a thorough knowledge of a subject so far as the study has been pushed, a feeling that courage, truth and a high sense of honor are the pillars of character—all that tends to a symmetrical physical, intellectual and moral culture—will bring the soul to its highest development.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

French Soldiers' Beards.

One of Gen. Boulanger's new regulations in the French army is that the soldiers shall allow their beards to grow. There has been time enough for a practical demonstration of this experiment and the effect is said to be almost startling. Very few men have beards that will do to keep, and there is a very general condemnation of the change.—Kansas City Times.

The Greatest Tonic and Appetizer Ever Produced.

Compounded from Roots, Herbs and Barks. No Poisons nor Opiates Used.

A Sure Cure for all Kidney and Liver Complaints, and a Positive Proof Against Bright's Disease.

A Remarkable Cure which is Awakening Great Interest in and about Jackson.

JACKSON, May 28, 1886.

Rheumatic Syrup Co.:

Gentlemen—For ten years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Neuralgia. About twelve years ago my kidneys and liver became diseased, my whole system deranged, my stomach became weak, and I was attacked with the worst form of Dyspepsia, which lasted until quite recently. About the same time Dyspepsia took so firm a hold on me Neuralgia set in, so bad that it settled in the back of my neck and shoulders, [illegible] my stomach. The suffering and extreme pain such I have endured the past twelve years is more than I can describe. I have taken nearly every medicine I could hear of, have employed the most skilled physicians. Dr. Sheppard, one of the best and most [illegible] in this city, offering Main street, tried medicine [illegible] and can testify as to the severity of my disease. I never succeeded in getting any permanent cure until I had used Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup. I have gained ten pounds of flesh in [illegible] weeks. The sallowness which so [illegible] my complexion and caused me years of sorrow has been entirely removed, and my general health is better than it has been in [illegible] years. The severity of the Neuralgia pains has ceased [illegible] or nerves, on the right side of [illegible] extent as to permit [illegible] Syrup has [illegible] restored to the natural state. I most cheerfully recommend it to any afflicted in like manner as my case is [illegible]

Very respectfully,
NICH. A. D. NOBLE,
Corner Mechanic and Mason streets.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup is sold in large bottles, and is sold by druggists generally. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. If your druggist does not have it write us, and we will send it to any address on receipt of price, freight prepaid. Send for our medical pamphlet.

RHEUMATIC SYRUP CO.
Sole manufacturers, Jackson, Mich.

HIBBARD'S RHEUMATIC SYRUP AND Rheumatic Plasters.

A Specific for the Blood AND A Regulator of the Liver and Kidneys.

A Wonderful Occurrence.

JACKSON, Mich., Oct., 1885.

Rheumatic Syrup Co.:

Gentlemen—In November, 1884, I was cut in the wrist by a broken bottle, from which I suffered extreme pain. I called upon a doctor who pronounced it Sciatic Rheumatism. He gave me a morphine injection in my right shoulder, which resulted in paralyzing my right side. I was kept under the influence of morphine until last March. My right leg and arm had become badly withered and my joints were so stiff that there was but little action in them. About that time I discontinued the use of morphine. Some six weeks ago I first heard of your Rheumatic Syrup and was advised to try it. And here let me impress this fact upon your mind, that my right arm and leg were shrunken, paralyzed and withered so much that I could hardly walk or swing along, and that but little, and attended with great effort and pain. Since I have been taking your Syrup I have left off the use of crutches entirely, and only use a cane, and for the past few days I often forget it and walk without any aid. I say that I am happy, and that it has greatly benefited me but poorly expresses my idea of your Rheumatic Syrup.

Yours truly,
C. D. DENIO, Dealer in General Groceries, cor. Trail and Mechanic Sts.

Mr. C. D. Denio is a man well known in this community, and was probably the worst wreck physically of any man this country ever saw. He was paralyzed from Rheumatic poison, and no one ever expected he would get well. He is well, though, and it is simply marvelous. The above statement made by him is true, and may be fully relied upon.

I am truly yours,
FRANK L. SMITH,
Ex-Member State Legislature, and proprietor Lord House, Jackson, Mich.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup is put up in large bottles, and is sold by druggists generally. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. If your druggist does not have it write us and we will send it to any address on receipt of price, freight prepaid. Send for our medical pamphlet.

RHEUMATIC SYRUP CO.
Sole manufacturers, Jackson, Mich.

There is no Remedy known that equals this "NATURE'S SPECIFIC" for Removing Blotches and Brown Spots and all Skin Eruptions from the Face, thereby Beautifying the Complexion, Giving a Bright and Clear Expression to the Eye.

IT CURES RHEUMATISM. IT CURES Scrofula and Salt Rheum.

IT CURES Malaria and Headache. IT CURES All Blood Diseases.

PARK SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

FAULTLESS FAMILY MEDICINE

TIME AND DOCTORS' BILLS SAVED by always keeping Simmons Liver Regulator in the house.

"I have found Simmons Liver Regulator the best family medicine I ever used for anything that may happen, have used it in Indigestion, Colic, Diarrhœa, Biliousness, and found it to relieve immediately. After taking a hearty supper, then going to bed, I take about a teaspoonful. I never feel the effects of the supper eaten."

DAVID G. SPARKS,
"Ex-Mayor Macon, Ga."

☞ ONLY GENUINE ☜
Has our Z Stamp on front of Wrapper.
J. H. Zeilin & Co., Sole Proprietors,
Price, $1.00. PHILADELPHIA, PA.

$1000

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ LAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE FOR 5 CENTS.

SMOKE FLORENDO CIGAR.
Address DANGHART BROS., Sole Agents,
130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO.

RETAIL AT R. MORRISON'S.

LAKE SUPERIOR TRANSIT COMPANY.

OH! MY BACK!

DR. HILL'S ENGLISH BUCHU Is One of the Best KIDNEY INVESTIGATORS IN USE.

PRICE, $1; Six Bottles for $5.

W. JOHNSTON & CO.

FRENCH'S HOTEL

City Hall Square, NEW YORK.

Opposite City Hall, [illegible] Post Office. This hotel is one of the most complete in appointments and furniture of any hotel in New York City, and is equally adapted to the wants of the travelling public. EUROPEAN PLAN. Rooms only one dollar per day. Half the price of Broadway hotels. Horse cars from Brooklyn Bridge and Long Island R. R. depot pass the door. Most convenient hotel to the New York Post Office, Custom House, Post Office, Sub-Treasury, Tribune, Herald, World, Times, Sun, Mail and Express, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, Tribune, Herald, World, Times, Sun, Mail and Express, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, Post Office, Custom House, Sub-Treasury, Post Office, Custom House, Post Office, Sub-Treasury, Post Office, Custom House, Post Office, Sub-Treasury, Post Office, Custom House, Post Office

Citizens of Tecumseh!

Toledo and return for $1.85.

BECAUSE BECAUSE BECAUSE ANOTHER REASON
ANOTHER REASON

JOHN N. MOCKETT,

Successor to C. R. MABLEY.

105 and 107 Summit St., TOLEDO, OHIO.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.
TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON, MASS.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is a remedy of extraordinary merit. Applied into the nostrils it is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head, allays inflammation, heals the sores. Restores the sense of taste and smell. A thorough treatment for catarrh is product of a few weeks. A decided improvement is made by a single application. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

THE LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

DETROIT

WE WANT YOUR TRADE.

Our object in advertising is to induce those who are not our REGULAR CUSTOMERS to give our House a trial. Our success is partly owing to the fact that WE HOLD OUR TRADE. Do not need any stronger proof of the uniformity and always reliable quality of our goods. In Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, Bronzes, Art Pottery, Novelties in Jewelry and Fancy Goods we show a magnificent stock at correct prices.

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

140 Woodward Ave.,

Band 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS.

500,000 ACRES CHOICE HARDWOOD FARMING

LANDS

ESTATE OF MARIA PUTZ BARON.

MASON & HAMLIN

NOW SELL THEIR

UNRIVALED ORGANS

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
Boston, New York, Chicago.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLAR

The Grand Rapids Horse Collar Co.
11 Vesey St., New York.

Better THAN THE Best

ADVERTISERS who wish to secure an advertising space in Chicago, will find it to their advantage to address Lord & Thomas, the Advertising Agents of Chicago.

LORD & THOMAS.

THIS PAPER is on file at Philadelphia in the newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

WE Have ALL SIZES of Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

McCOLLUM

Ready Made clothing for Men and Boys.
OVERCOATS in every quality and price.
Heavy strong overcoats, cheap, and throughout.
Heavy all wool pants $2.50.
We have large stock of underwear, gloves and mittens, hats and caps, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. McCOLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

If you are going to Buy a New

SEWING MACHINE!

LOOK CLOSELY,

That you don't get a pine table and fixtures, with a fraction of an inch of black walnut to cover it up, instead of a solid walnut table, such as the

LIGHT RUNNING

New Home Company

USE ON THEIR MACHINES FIRST PREMIUMS EVERYWHERE.

SOLE AGENT FOR LENAWEE COUNTY

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so long established, having such a large circulation, and being so ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of this Continent. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who allows no influence of Party or Politics to Cramp with its columns. It is the Independent and Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority on AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, APIARY, VETERINARY, &c., and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and rational amusement for old and young. This journal, which is now about to enter its 23rd year of publication, is issued on or about the 1st of each month and consists of 36 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price, $1.00 per annum in advance. Subscribe AT ONCE AND GET THE BALANCE OF 1886 FREE. Active Agents wanted in every Township. Sample copy free.

ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

Young Ladies' "Breathing Club" in New York. The Young Ladies' Club, which meets every Thursday evening, has adopted a rule that no member shall expect to expand the lungs and breathe more than one minute. Twenty minutes is spent in breaths of all lengths and then they separate.—New York Journal.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 21. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, NOV 11, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1871

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

OVER 500

To select from. LATEST STYLES.

SHORT WRAPS.
NEWMARKETS.
PLUSH SACQUES.
JACKETS.

Misses and Children. ALL SIZES.

All marked at lowest possible prices.
Any Cloak a Bargain.
We are glad to show them.

A constant throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. Our stock was never so complete. Prices never so low. WE ARE NEVER UNDERSOLD.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

Immense Stock of

CLOTHING!

JUST OPENED.

1,000 New Overcoats.
1200 MEN'S SUITS,
500 CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Cloths, Underwear, Hats and Caps!

At Prices to Suit the Times.

STRONG & McNAIR.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Are prepared to make prompt deliveries of best grades of Coal, in lots of $1.00 and upwards.

Hard Coal, all sizes in Stock.

Jackson Hill---Springfield Mine,

Jackson Hill Cannell.

All our coal is carefully screened and we sell at the lowest market price.
Telephone orders promptly delivered.
We solicit your patronage.

Office and Yards Shawnee St., near L. S. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

If you are going to Buy a New

SEWING MACHINE!

LOOK CLOSELY,

That you don't get a pine table and fixtures, with a fraction of an inch of black walnut to cover it up, instead of a solid walnut table, such as the

LIGHT RUNNING

New Home Company

USE ON THEIR MACHINES.

FIRST PREMIUMS EVERYWHERE.

SOLE AGENT FOR LENAWEE COUNTY

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY ITEMS.

The first snow storm of the season put in an appearance Tuesday. Corn husking is all hushed in this section.

Work on the elevator has begun and within a few days fine weather will be improved.

The painters are painting the inside of the Wright hotel and will have it ready for occupation.

Upwards of 40 of the scholars and friends of Prof. Hanson and wife gave them a genuine surprise on Tuesday evening. If the evening had been pleasant there would have been a much larger turn out.

D. W. Loree and Marcie Kelley were on the sick list for a few days last week.

Some attended the Myrtle club entertainment at John VanVleet's Thursday night, given by the people of Tecumseh, and report a fine time.

Chas. Henderson and grand-daughter Nettie Henderson of Genesee Co. N. Y., are the guests of his nephew, Dan Allen and family.

Several young people from Tecumseh attended the social at Minnie Cadmus' last week.

The boys from the village went to Milan Saturday and played a friendly game of ball. The score stood 9 to 10 in favor of Milan.

The attendance at the L. C. S. held at Mrs. W. P. Cadmus Friday night was very large, and all enjoyed the evening, eating taffy and pop-corn. The society increased their treasury $4,50.

Peter Swick, while trying to climb on a moving wagon loaded with hogs fell and one wheel run over his foot and leg. No bones were broken, but he has to use crutches to get around.

On Friday of last week, as Mr. Birdsell was trying to put a belt on a clover-huller while in motion, was caught and had an arm broken between the shoulder and elbow.

Dan. P. Chamberlin, editor of the Lenawee Record, will address the Union club at Britton on Saturday evening of this week. He will discuss "Temperance, Tariff and Labor Reform." The Britton Cornet Band is expected to furnish music for the occasion. Let everybody turn out and hear Mr. Chamberlin.

The L. C. S. will give an Oyster and Celery supper in the lecture room of the church next week Friday night. The ladies are requested to furnish biscuit, butter, pickles, chopped cabbage, and cake, (two kinds only molasses and layer. Supper will be served from 5 to 9 o'clock P. M., on small tables, with two ladies to wait on each table. The society desires all their friends to give them a call instead of taking supper at home. Supper 25cts. Children under 12 years old, 15cts.

ONSTED ITEMS.

John Baker has returned home after three months sojourn in Dakota.

Thirty-two car loads of produce were shipped from here in the month of October.

Mrs. Stoddard's cellar wall is progressing finely notwithstanding the cold weather.

Hiram Maltman of Rome, preached in place of Mr. Mowry last Sunday. Mr. Maltman expects to go to Pennsylvania to take charge of a church.

William Secor is around shaking hands with his many friends here. He contemplates going to California between now and spring.

Onsted and Wemple have finished shipping apples. They have purchased 4081 barrels for C. N. Rapp of Battle Creek.

W. Lee, of the firm of Lee & Son, has bought his son's interest in the store and will conduct the business alone. Mr. Lee will be pleased to have those owing the firm call and settle.

BRITTON BUDGET.

Our farmers are nearly through husking corn.

George Smith is on the sick list.

The hotel man is all smiles for he says business is good.

The stave mill will soon commence buying bolts.

The hoop mill is nearly ready to run.

Our town seems to be growing. There is a foundation ready for two stores, and two more are going up if the weather will permit it.

W. Lenardson & Son have opened up a new store containing dry goods, boots & shoes, and ready made clothing, etc., one door east of the drug store.

The M. & [illegible] P. [illegible] to put in a longer side track [illegible] present track is not long enough to accommodate cars to satisfy the shippers. This shows the business of the town.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS

Corn husking nearly completed. Fall plowing well under way.

The school term in District No. 6 is now or has just closed and the teacher, Miss [illegible], is now at home resting.

Geo. Sisson's house is ready for the second coat of plaster. About four weeks ago the last load of lumber was brought on the ground. It was nearly all used in the building. Sisson's house burned.

B. F. Dagley received a valuable addition to his farm in the form of a portion of his barn roof being blown off by the recent wind storm. The damages were estimated by his carpenter.

Bradner Gould has recovered sufficient to ride out. His affliction is valvular trouble of the heart.

J. W. Baker lost a three year old colt Sunday night the 31st ult., from its running into a barbed wire fence. Two other colts were quite seriously injured.

Mrs. H. D. Johnson and Mrs. Ed. Miller of Sanford, Midland Co., are visiting friends here. They will return the week Saturday accompanied by Fred. and Bertie Miller.

Mary Bailey will start for Kansas next Monday, in consideration, which of the young folks gave him a surprise social last Wednesday evening. They found him or rather failed to find him, away from home calling on neighbors.

"Fonce" Montague the veteran fountain borer, is building a bachelor's hall on wheels, one story high, 8x24 feet. Divided into kitchen 8 by 8, sitting-room 8 by 9 and bed-room 7 by 8, three windows on each side and door in kitchen end. W. D. Easlick is the architect and builder.

W. H. Osborn is putting in about 90 rods of 7 inch tile as an outlet from the western to the eastern side of his farm. The ditch passes through the Ridge north of the school house, and is 6 feet deep part of the way. One of his ditchers got caught in a land slide up to his arms, and had to be dug out. It made him "squeal."

Election passed off so very quiet—most too quiet for the union ticket. There was an energetic, still hunt after the floating and invalid vote. Prohibitionists are most too fearful of the defeat of their respective old parties to make a good stand-up fight, still they gained 13 in this township since last spring. The canvass resulted as follows: Votes polled 317; Republican, 164; Democrat, 94; National 23, Prohibition, 36.

THE COUNTY CANVASSERS.

The Board of County Canvassers met last Tuesday. W. H. Wiggins was elected chairman who appointed the following committees

State Officers—C. H. Rogers, J. E. Jacklin, Samuel Knittlin, Wm. Queal, Peter Fisher.

Congress—Alfred James, W. J. Parker, E. S. Ferguson, Horace Holdridge, R. B. Gillespie.

County Officers—T. M. Cambarn, Edwin Crane, E. L. Pierce, Joseph Michael, Dwight Clark, B. S. Scudder.

Senator—S. F. Finch, H. C. Bradish, Dale Munson, D. H. French.

Constitutional amendments—Sylvester Lamb, P. M. Bates, Josiah Metcalf, H. Baker.

The board is composed of the following members:

First ward—Joseph Michaels.
Second ward—Edwin Crane.
Third ward—S. F. Finch.
Fourth ward—S. J. Ferguson.
Town of Adrian—W. H. Wiggins.
Blissfield—Dwight Clark.
Cambridge—Wm. Queal.
Clinton—R. B. Gillespie.
Deerfield—Dale Munson.
Dover—H. F. Baker.
Fairfield—B. L. Pierce.
Franklin—T. M. Cambarn.
Hudson—A. M. Carson.
Macon—B. S. Scudder.
Madison—H. C. Bradish.
Medina—R. H. Rogers, Jr.
Ogden—D. H. French.
Palmyra—J. E. Jacklin.
Raisin—Horace Holdridge.
Ridgeway—S. Knittlin.
Riga—Peter Fisher.
Rollin—Sylvester Lamb.
Rome—P. M. Bates.
Seneca—Josiah Metcalf.
Tecumseh—A. James.
Woodstock—W. J. Parker.

Poor Little Fish

It some women do wrong
To their inner selves look
Like beautiful shell
That swim in the brook
They snap at the fly
Without seeing the hook

If these poor little souls
Were healthier inside
They'd be now in our streams
And not in the shell

JANE AUSTEN.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by C. A. Wright & Co.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5, 1886.

The result of the elections in the old Indian states in this [illegible]

There is a [illegible] office in Home [illegible] on election nights. It has [illegible] on [illegible] occasions [illegible] of messengers [illegible] boxes [illegible] carrying messages [illegible] Western Union to the White House. Each night [illegible] put in order for [illegible] President sat for several hours in Col. Lamont's room, next door to the little office, and got the news direct from all parts of the country.

His greatest interest was in the New York elections and Mr. Hewitt's plurality was a matter of considerable congratulation. The Democratic losses among Congressmen in New York were, of course, unwelcome but they were not unexpected from several districts. Finally the President retired and left Col. Lamont to struggle with the returns for the balance of the night. The latter remained at the side of the telegraph operator from eight o'clock in the evening until an early hour next morning, and patiently sifted out of the mass of matter received, those points which were of most interest to the President.

Secretary Lamar is engaged upon his annual report of the Interior Department. It is understood that he cordially endorses Commissioner Atkins' views concerning the Indians of the Indian Territory. These are that they give up tribal relations, become citizens, establish courts, enter lands, etc. Mr. Atkins is now in Colorado, making a tour of the Indian agencies. Secretary Lamar has just received information from him to the effect that the Indians there are in excellent condition. They are peaceful, contented, and making progress towards civilization.

Buffalo Bill, Mr. Wm. Cody, who is in the city, came to make his report to the Commissioner of Indian affairs. He made arrangements for securing new Indians from various tribes for his next season's show of the "Wild West." He is kind to the Redskins, pays them good wages, and is considered by the department as doing a good work towards their civilization. He is one of the few men whom the Government has allowed to employ Indians for the purpose of a show. The Indians he had with him last summer have all gone back to their tribes. Before sending them home Buffalo Bill gave each one of the women and men a full suit of clothes in the European fashion. It is presumed that he will not undertake to exhibit the savages in Europe next year as nothing was said about taking them abroad. He would not be allowed to do so without giving heavy bonds to the Interior Department.

A few days ago an Irish member of the British House of Commons, who went to the White House to be introduced to the President, was much surprised to find that no guards were on duty there. He approached the Executive Mansion very timidly and at the outer gate hesitated as if something were lacking as to ceremony. At the front door he hesitated still more and had to be urged by his escort to proceed any further. Finally, when he was being led up the carpeted stairway to the President's own apartments on the second floor he stared around in astonishment and asked, in an undertone, "Are there no guards on duty?"

That the President's residence should be open to all comers without let or hindrance was something he had never dreamed of. He was still more astonished when Mr. Cleveland stood up against his desk, with crossed legs and folded arms and talked to him without any useless ceremony or nonsense. He returned to ward the afternoon reception in the East Room where the President shakes from three to a week at first post one and who desire to space hands with him. The home rule member says the President shake hands with black and white without distinction, and coming away from the White House he declared that he had an entirely new sense of of the reality of American freedom.

Although the President feels compelled by a press of business the preparation of his annual message etc. to deny himself to visitors between the 10th of Nov. and the meeting of Congress, the more hand shakers are not satisfied. He will continue to meet them as usual on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. As he was starting down to the East Room to shake hands with his callers a few days ago he was asked if he did not find it fatiguing. "No" answered Mr. Cleveland, "it is the easiest work I have to do during the whole day."

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

By Rev. [illegible] D.D.

Third quarter. Seventh lesson.

SEARCH [illegible]

Mark 1:16. Golden Text. John [illegible]

[illegible] Place, the northern shore of the sea of Galilee.

While [illegible] continued the Gospel of John and its closing scenes, one of the most beautiful and touching. It is on the shore of Galilee near the home of some of the disciples. Peter in the old, impetuous way says, "I go a fishing." And immediately the others declare their intention of going with him. He leads them. All night long they toil but catch nothing. Just as day dawns a stranger, apparently, stands upon the shore, and tells them to cast their net upon the right side of the ship, and they will be successful. Thinking that He had a better chance of seeing a shoal than they had, they follow His directions and almost at once their net is filled with fishes. The net was so heavy that they could not lift it into the boat, and had to draw it to land. John recognizes in the person on the shore his Lord and Master, and said to Peter, "It is the Lord." Peter, in his impetuous zeal, girded his coat about him and jumped into the sea to swim ashore and greet his Master. The characteristics of the men are strikingly brought out in this scene. When the boat reached the shore they counted and found that they had caught 154 large fishes, a miraculous draught!

A fire is kindled and some fish placed thereon, and breakfast prepared. "Come and dine," said Christ, and He gave them bread and fish to eat. When the meal was over, He turned to Peter and asked him, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? Peter answered Him, "Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love Thee." The question and answer, in similar terms, was repeated twice, the last time Peter answering, "Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee." Three times in the high priest's hall Peter had denied his Master; three times on the shores of Galilee he confessed the Christ. In the impassioned excitement of the hour Peter had often forgotten that Christ was divine, and he had relied on human agencies, as when he cut off the ear of the high priest's servant; but now, in the humility of his restoration, he confesses Jesus, the son of the ever-living God.

Then Christ tells him what death he should die; the death by crucifixion. The years swept out into the voiceless oblivion of the past, and Peter was in the city of Rome. Those years had been eventful ones to him; years of work and toil and suffering for the cause of Christ. Under the cruel persecution of Nero the Christians had suffered much. Paul, the apostle, had been taken out to the road and his life sacrificed for the faith. The remorseless fury of the king reached Peter, the brave and consistent follower of the Lord Jesus Christ. The words of the Lord in this lesson were fulfilled; another girded him and carried him out to the Ostian road, and there he stretched forth his hands on the cross and rendered up his soul to God. It is said that he was crucified head downwards, as he was unwilling to suffer the same death as his Lord, not counting himself worthy.

LESSON HINTS.

1. Christ restores the erring to His love and favor.
2. We may be fishers of men.
3. Jesus takes care of those who work for Him.
4. Christ says to you, "Lovest thou me?"

The Terrible Death

Which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabeling it to entirely overcome diseases.

November weather has arrived in good earnest.

Now is the proper time to inspect your stove pipes and chimney flues.

A FAVORITE WITH THE ADIES.

Papillon extract of Bay Skin Cure is superior to all the new advertised skin beautifiers while it is not dangerous, and not like the numerous preparations usually sold which are very poisonous. It will remove all inflammation, chafing and roughness of the skin, smooth, freckles and unsightly blotches, and leave the cuticle fair and soft as an infant's. An actual necessity for the complete toilet table. Large bottles $1.00.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
Every Thursday Morning

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. 9, 1886

President Cleveland.

It has long been the custom of the people of the United States on a day in each year, especially set apart for that purpose, to offer their chief executive officer, the sovereign people's servant, the mercy of God, and to invoke His counsel and protection.

In accordance with such custom I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, 1886, as a day for such service and prayer.

On that day let our people, freed from worldly employment and secular care, assemble in their places of worship to give thanks to the Ruler of the Universe for the year now closing for the blessings and mercies with which it has been crowned.

Let us also, in the midst of our thanksgiving, remember the poor and needy, with compassion and generosity, and let us so bear ourselves that our service may be acceptable to Him who hears the petitions of the humble and contrite.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 27 day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and eleventh.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

By the President:
T. F. BAYARD, Secretary of State.

MANLY TALK

Mr. Cleveland's Message.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Mr. Cleveland's message, which was read in the Senate and House of Representatives at 12 o'clock today, is a document of 14 pages of foolscap paper, and is devoted to a review of the affairs of the government, and to the recommendation of legislation. The message is as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

Since your last assembling, the Supreme Ruler of the nations has spared our people from the ravages of pestilence, and has bless them with the usual abundance of the fruits of the earth. For these and other manifestations of the Divine goodness we should be devoutly thankful.

The business of our country has been prosperous, and our people have been busy and contented in the pursuit of the means of a livelihood and of the comforts and enjoyments which are the reward of industry and which ordinarily follow in its path. Our manufactures, our commerce, our mines, our farms, our schools, our churches, our benevolent institutions, our means of transportation, our facilities for the interchange of commodities, and our ability to satisfy our own and other peoples' wants, are all in a condition which, with the blessing of Providence, ought to insure to us a continuance of the prosperity we enjoy, if we do not ourselves by folly and wickedness interfere with our good fortune.

Our foreign relations have been kept in a state of quiet and peace. Our ministers and other representatives abroad have been busy in the protection of our citizens and their interests, and our flag has not dishonored by any of our people.

Our navy, which is so new that it can hardly be said to be more than a promise, has been increased by the addition of several vessels, and the development of the material and personnel of our navy has been satisfactory in its progress.

The Secretary of the Navy has been diligent in the application of the law for the retirement of worn out and useless vessels, and has made a report which I commend to your attention.

The Secretary of War has given his best thought to the administration of his department, and his report, which I have read with interest, is full of information and suggestions. I commend to your attention the recommendations of the Secretary for the reorganization of the staff corps of the army, for the increase of the cavalry arm of the service, for the establishment of a military school for the Indian youth, and for the erection of a national soldiers' home in the mountains or on the Pacific coast.

The Postmaster General's report shows that the postal service has been administered with vigor and success. The postal revenues have been sufficient to pay the cost of the service, and a small surplus remains to be applied to the payment of the service of previous years. The Postmaster General has given much time and thought to the subject of the postal service, and his report contains many valuable suggestions. I commend the report to your attention.

The Attorney General's report shows the business of his department to be in a satisfactory condition. I concur in his recommendation that the number of the Supreme Court be not changed, and that no more judicial districts be created than are necessary to the proper administration of justice. The report contains valuable suggestions touching the business of the courts, upon which I hope you will find time to legislate before your adjournment.

The Interior Department is still the largest of the executive departments, and the business pertaining to it is in a satisfactory condition. The report of the Secretary is full of information and suggestions upon the various subjects committed to the care of this department. I commend it to your attention.

The Indian policy inaugurated at the beginning of my Administration is being carried forward with such modifications as experience has shown to be necessary. Its ultimate success is not yet assured, but I believe it is the best plan that has been devised for the civilization and protection of the Indian. I hope it may be so amended by your action that it may be more acceptable to those it is intended to benefit, and that it may be so guarded by the wisdom of legislation that it may not be perverted from its purpose by those who would profit by the ignorance and misfortune of the Indian.

The Department of Agriculture is doing a large and beneficial work in the interest of the farming and other industrial classes, and its report is full of information and suggestions which will be found of great value. I commend the report to your attention.

The Department of Justice, the Department of State, and the Department of the Treasury are in a satisfactory condition. The transactions in these departments during the last fiscal year are shown in the reports of the Secretaries, which I commend to your attention.

The receipts of the Treasury during the fiscal year have exceeded the expenditures for the same period $60,000,000, and the estimated receipts for the current fiscal year are $215,000,000. The expenditures for the same period are estimated at $260,000,000, leaving a surplus of $15,000,000. The revenue from internal taxation is $112,000,000, and the revenue from customs $150,000,000. The internal revenue taxes have been reduced $60,000,000 since the beginning of my Administration, and the revenue from customs has been reduced $53,000,000 during the same period. The revenue from internal taxes will be further reduced by the expiration of the tax on banks and bankers and on the manufacture of fermented liquors, unless Congress shall interfere to prevent. The revenue from customs should be further reduced by the imposition of lower rates of duty on the importation of those articles which are now on the free list, and on those which are now taxed for the protection of manufacturers. The surplus revenue, if not reduced by legislation, will be a menace to the prosperity of the people. It will be difficult to keep it in the Treasury without its being used by those who are interested in the continuance of the present high rates of taxation as a means of corrupting the public sentiment, and it will be difficult to keep it out of the Treasury without its being squandered by those who are in favor of the expenditure of the money for purposes not contemplated by the Constitution and not in the interest of the people. The surplus should be used to pay the bonds of the government, or be loaned to the people on the most favorable terms, or be invested in bonds of the States or municipalities, or be used in the purchase of other securities. I have no doubt that a majority of the people would be glad to have the government avail itself of any of the last three modes of disposing of the surplus, if it should not be disposed of by the payment of the public debt

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. F. M. DAUCHY, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS Its causes and a new and successful treatment. Sent on trial. Address by one who was deaf 25 years. Address No. 187 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Are you CONSUMPTIVE. PARKER'S TONIC will cure you. It has cured many. Sold by all druggists.

KNABE PIANOFORTES. Tone, Touch, Workmanship, Durability. WAREROOMS, 22 West Baltimore st., Baltimore. No. 817 Fifth Avenue, New York.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. Highest Award of Medals in Europe & America. The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Kidney, Back, Side, Chest, and all aches and pains. Endorsed by physicians and druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names such as Capsicum, Capsicin, Capsicine, as they are utterly worthless, and injurious if touched. ASK FOR BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHER. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, N. Y.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 23d day of September, A.D. 1877, Alexander D. Mead and Jane Ann Mead his wife of Clinton, Lenawee county and state of Michigan, mortgaged and delivered to Fielder S. Snow administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith deceased, of the same place, a mortgage which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of said county of Lenawee, on the 11th day of October, A.D. 1877, which mortgage was on page 375. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage at this date the sum of five hundred and forty-five dollars. No suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole sum or the or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I will on the 11th day of December, A.D. 1878, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the circuit court for said county) the premises in said mortgage described, to the purpose of satisfying the amount due upon said mortgage, and the costs and expenses of this foreclosure and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being all that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. King and now occupied by Samuel B. Rose as a dwelling lot and running thence westerly along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods; thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street; thence east along the south line of Brown street three (3) rods; thence south twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept. 9, 1878. MOSES BARTLETT, Assignee of said Mortgage. sep9

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE —OF— HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc. IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

Anything in this line can be bought at the Lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great English Prescription. A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages (warranted to Cure when all others Fail). Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich. Sold in Tecumseh by DR. GEO. FERGUSON.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

Tecumseh Herald

THE SECRET OF THE SEA.

LONELY.

Have thou not felt the impotence
Of words, and all expressive art
When over your heart dimmed
"To brand upon another heart
Have thou not found the great pain and Sadly n'kgoing to those most dear to thee?

I do not angels, when they go
Over seas they deem far away,
Look back upon our Universe
And see far down their starry way,
The loving arms of Sirius and the Sun
So close embracing that they seem as one.

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

The course that had been recommended to him was repellent to the self-respect and the sense of delicacy which were among the inbred virtues of Moody's character. He shrank from forcing himself as a friend on Hardyman's valet; he recoiled from the idea of tempting the man to steal a specimen of his master's handwriting. After some consideration he decided on applying to the agent who collected the rents at Hardyman's London chambers. Being an old acquaintance of theirs, this person would certainly not hesitate to communicate the address of Hardyman's bankers if he knew it. The experiment tried under these favoring circumstances, proved perfectly successful. Moody proceeded to Sharon's lodgings the same day with the address of the bankers in his pocket-book. The old vagabond, greatly amused by Moody's scruples, saw plainly enough that so long as he wrote the supposed letter from Hardyman in the third person it mattered little what handwriting was employed, seeing that no signature would be necessary. The letter was at once composed, on the model which Sharon had already suggested to Moody, and a respectable messenger so far as outward appearance went was employed to take it to the bank. In half an hour the answer came back. It added one more to the difficulties which beset the inquiry after the lost money. No such sum as £500 had been paid, within the dates mentioned, to the credit of Hardyman's account.

Old Sharon was not in the least discomposed by this fresh check. "Give my love to the dear young lady," he said, with his customary impudence, "and tell her we are one degree nearer to finding the thief."

Moody looked at him doubtfully whether he was in jest or in earnest.

"Must I squeeze a little more information into that thick head of yours?" asked Sharon. With this question he produced a weekly newspaper, and pointed to a paragraph which reported, among the items of sporting news, Hardyman's recent visit to a sale of horses at a town in the north of France. "We know he didn't pay the bank note in to his account," Sharon remarked. "What else did he do with it? Took it to pay for the horses that he bought in France? Do you see your way a little plainer now? Very good. Let's try next if the money holds out. Some body must cross the channel in search of the note. Which of us two is to sit in the steamboat with a white lasin on his lap? Old Sharon, of course." He stopped to count the money still left out of the sum deposited by Moody to defray the cost of the inquiry. "All right!" he went on. "I've got enough to pay my expenses there and back. Don't stir out of London till you hear from me. I can't tell how soon I may want you. If there's any difficulty in tracing the note, your hand will have to go into your pocket again. Can't you get the lawyer to join you? Lord! how I should enjoy squandering his money! It's a downright disgrace, to me, to have only got one guinea out of him. I could tear my flesh off my bones when I think of it."

The same night Old Sharon started for France by way of Dover and Calais.

Two days elapsed and brought no news from Moody's agent. On the third day he received some information relating to Sharon—not from the man himself, but in a letter from Isabel Miller.

"For once, dear Robert" she wrote, "my judgment has turned out to be sounder than yours. That hateful old man has confirmed my worst opinion of him. Pray, have him punished. Take him before a magistrate and charge him with cheating you out of your money. I inclose the sealed letter which he gave me at the farm house. The week's time before I was to open it expired yesterday. Was there ever anything so impudent and so inhuman? I am too vexed and angry about the money you have wasted on this old wretch to write more. Yours, gratefully and affectionately, ISABEL."

The letter in which Old Sharon had undertaken by way of pacifying Isabel to write the name of the thief, contained these lines:

"You are a charming girl, my dear; but you still want one thing to make you perfect, and that is a lesson in patience. I am proud and happy to teach you. The name of the thief remains for the present Mr. —— (blank)."

From Moody's point of view there was but one thing to be said of this—it was just like Old Sharon! Isabel's letter was of infinitely greater interest to him. He feasted his eyes on the words above the signature, she signed herself, "Yours, gratefully and affectionately." Did the last word mean that she was really beginning to be fond of him? After kissing the world he wrote a comforting letter to her, in which he pledged himself to keep a watchful eye on Sharon, and to trust him with no more money until he had honestly earned it first.

A week passed. Moody longing to see Isabel still waited in vain for news from France. He had just decided to delay his visit to South Morden no longer when the errand boy employed by Sharon brought him this message. "The old 'un's at home, and wants to see yer."

CHAPTER XVIII.

Sharon's news was not of an encouraging character. He had met with serious difficulties, and had spent the last farthing of Moody's money in attempting to overcome them.

One discovery of importance he had certainly made. A horse withdrawn from the sale was the only horse that had met with Hardyman's approval. He had secured the animal at the high reserved price of twelve thousand francs—being four hundred and eighty pounds in English money—and he had paid with an English bank note. The seller, a French horse dealer resident in Brussels, had returned to Hungary. Sharon

[illegible]

"Tell the lawyer that the guinea opinion was the right one."

[illegible] not yet, when he buttoned up his pockets and refused to trust me. And I say!" pursued Old Sharon, relapsing into his customary impudence, "you're in love, you know, with that nice girl. I like her myself. When you marry her invite me to the wedding. I'll make a sacrifice—I'll brush my hair and wash my face in honor of the occasion."

Returning to his lodgings, Moody found two letters waiting on the table. One of them bore the South Morden postmark. He opened that letter first.

It was written by Miss Fink. The first lines contained an urgent entreaty to keep the circumstances connected with the loss of the five hundred pounds the strictest secret from every one in general, and from Hardyman in particular. The reasons assigned for making the strange request were next expressed in these terms: "My niece Isabel is happy in prospect of being married to Mr. Hardyman. If the slightest hint of her husband's having been entrusted, no matter how covertly and unjustly, with a suspicion of theft, the marriage would be broken off, and the result to herself and to everybody connected with her would be disgrace for the rest of our lives."

On the blank space at the top of the page a few words were added in Isabel's writing: "Whatever changes there may be in my life, you place in my heart is one that no other person can fill. It is the place of my dearest friend. I may write and tell me that you are not distressed and not angry. My one anxiety is that you should remember what I have always told you about the state of my own feelings. My one wish is that you will still let me love you and trust you as I might have loved and valued a brother."

The letter dropped from Moody's hands. Not a word, not even a sigh, passed his lips. In tearless silence he submitted to the pang that wrung him—in tearless silence he contemplated the wreck of his life.

CHAPTER XIX.

The narrative returns to South Morden, and relates the events which attended Isabel's marriage engagement.

To say that Miss Fink, in fact, triumphed, morally speaking, from the earth, and floated among the clouds, is to indicate faintly the effect produced on the ex-governess when her three first informants told her what had happened at the farm. Attacked on one side by her aunt and on the other by Hardyman, and feebly defended, at the best, by her own doubts and misgivings, Isabel ended in surrendering at discretion. Like thousands of other women in a similar position, she was in the least degree uncertain as to the state of her own heart. To what extent she was insensibly influenced by Hardyman's commanding position in relieving herself to be sincerely attached to him, it was beyond the powers of self-examination to discover. He dazzled her by his birth and by his celebrity. Not in England only, but throughout Europe, he was a recognized authority on his own subject. How could she—how could any woman—resist the influence of his steady mind, his firmness of purpose, his manly resolute one over every thing to hinge it and nothing to his rank, set off as it was by a captive manner, by the outward and personal advantages which exercise an ascendancy of their own. Isabel was fascinated, and yet Isabel was not at ease. In her lonely moments she was troubled by regretful thoughts of Moody, which perplexed and irritated her. She had always received honestly to him, she had never encouraged him to hope that his love for her had the slightest prospect of being returned. Yet, knowing as she did that her conduct was blameless so far, there were nevertheless perverse sympathies in her which took his part. In the wakeful hours of the night there were whispering voices which said: Think of Moody's kindness, he has been a growing kindness toward this good friend in her heart, of which she was herself not aware! She tried to detect it, to weigh it for what it was really worth. But it lay too deep to be discovered and estimated, if it did really exist—if it had any sounder origin than her own morbid fancy. In the broad light of day, in the little hastening days of willingly even yet to hasten the ceremony which was to make her Hardyman's wife.

[illegible]

On the next morning the whole of the [illegible] the interview [illegible] Hardyman's father and [illegible] With out mentioning it to Isabel, Hardyman decided on personally appealing to his father, confident of taking the head of the family to his confidence.

[illegible]

Lady Lydiard and Miss Fink.

The result of the interview was perfectly successful and my uncle. Lord Rodney declined to see his youngest son, and he had engagements which would, under any circumstances, prevent his taking a leading part in the garden party. But, at the express request of Lady Rotherfield, he was willing to make certain concessions.

"I have always regarded Alfred as a barmy sane person," said his lordship, "since he turned his back on his prospects to become a horse dealer. If we decline altogether to sanction this new act—I won't say of insanity, I will say of absurdity—on the part, it is impossible to predict to what unpleasant extremities he may not proceed. We must temporize with Alfred. In the meantime I shall endeavor to obtain some information respecting this young person—named Miller, I think you said, and now resident at South Morden. If I am satisfied that she is a woman of respectable character, possessing an average education and presentable manners, we may as well let Alfred have his own way. He is out of the pale of society as it is, and Miss Miller has no father and no mother to complicate matters, which is distinctly a merit in her favor—and, in short, if the marriage is not absolutely disgraceful, the worst we can do is to submit. You will prevent it will be to submit. You will say nothing to Alfred about what I propose to do. I tell you plainly I don't trust him. You will simply inform him that I want time to consider, and that, unless he hears to the contrary in the interval, he may expect to have the sanction of your presence at his breakfast, or luncheon, or whatever it is. I must go to town in a day or two, and I shall ascertain what Alfred's friends know about this last of his many follies. I meet any of them at the club."

Returning to South Morden in no serene frame of mind, Hardyman found Isabel in a state of depression which perplexed and alarmed him.

The news that his mother might be expected to be present at the garden party failed to raise her spirits. The only explanation she gave of the change in her was that the dull heavy weather of the last few days made her feel a little languid and nervous. Naturally dissatisfied with this reply to his inquiries, Hardyman asked for Miss Pink. He was informed that Miss Pink could not see him. She was constitutionally subject to asthma, and having warnings of a return of the malady, she was (by the doctor's advice) keeping her room. Hardyman returned to the farm in a temper which was felt by everybody in his employment, from the trainer to the stableboys.

To be Continued.

John Roach's Serious Physical Malady.

A prominent physician said the other day that John Roach has a cancer in his throat similar to that of Gen. Grant. John Roach's trouble has been brought on by causes similar to those which were supposed to have been the reasons for Gen. Grant's disease. Mr. Roach has never been a smoker, but for a number of years he has had a great deal of worry. During the last year and a half he has endured every form of mental distress. Just after his failure he could not be induced, except with difficulty, to eat or sleep. He had become very low and impoverished, and the result is this cancer. Gen. Grant, before the development of his throat disease, had a bad fall and an attack of rheumatism. His blood was thin, and in a low state, and when his great financial troubles came, with the shadow of disgrace behind it, he ate nothing for a long time and barely slept.—Washington Cor. New York World.

The Heat in India.

The editor of Puting has just received from Thomas Stevens, the globe-girdling cyclist, a letter dated Delhi, India, in which he says: "The weather is oppressively hot; journey barely possible this season of the year (August) even by taking things very leisurely." Some idea of the temperature may be imagined when we state that, with every appliance to mitigate the heat in the shape of punkahs, water soaked cuscuss tatties, hung across the doorways of the houses, etc., the thermometer indoors often registers 120 degrees for weeks together.

Ancient Britons at Supper.

The ancient Britons did not get much to eat until supper time, and then their food was a thin cake of bread with chopped meat and [illegible]. The [illegible] were not furnished with tables, [illegible] napkins, and the dishes were placed [illegible] the table all at once upon rushes and fresh grass in large platters or trenchers. While the guests were eating [illegible] hostess stood up, and [illegible] all the company were satisfied. Detroit Budget.

The Queen's Carriage.

Queen Victoria's new carriage is said to be a gorgeous affair. The principal feature of the interior decoration of the vehicle is a design in which the rose, shamrock and thistle are interwoven. New York Graphic.

[illegible] and Boy.

"A boy who had Prepared a Trap for a Hyena Inspected it one Morning to find that he had made Captive a fine, large Lion. The King of Beasts at once began to Weep and Lament, and the Boy Inquired:

"How Comes it that a Beast of Your Renown has lost his Courage so quickly?"

"It is not the loss of Courage but of Pride," was the reply. "The idea that a Beast like me should be Fool Enough to fall into a Snare set for a Common Hyena has ground me to dust."

Moral—A simple Bait sometimes catches the Wisest Game.—Detroit Free Press.

MOST PERFECT MADE

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

DR. PRICE'S SPECIAL FLAVORING EXTRACTS

MOST PERFECT MADE

Purest and Strongest Natural Fruit Flavors. Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, Almond, Rose, etc., Flavor as delicately and naturally as the fruit. Price Baking Powder Co. St. Louis.

ZOA-PHORA,

—WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Secures to GIRLS a painless, perfect development and thus prevents lifelong weakness.

Sustains and soothes Over-worked Women, Exhausted Mothers, and prevents prolapsus.

Cures palpitation, sleeplessness, nervous breaking down (often preventing insanity), providing a safe change of life, and a hale and happy old age.

Reader suffering from any complaint peculiar to the female sex, Zoa-phora is worth everything to you. Send for our circular of private testimonials and be convinced.

Every woman sickly or healthy should read "Facts for Women." This book will be sent to any lady reader of this paper, and to ladies only, on receipt of 10c. Address,

ZOA-PHORA MEDICINE CO., 123 Main Street, Kalamazoo, Mich.

N. B.—Letters marked "private" are seen only by our Private Secretary and consulting Physician.

H. G. COLMAN, Private Secretary.

ESTATE OF MARIA F. LE BARON.

STATE OF MICHIGAN County of Lenawee ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate Office in the city of Adrian, on Monday, the 30th day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Maria F. Le Baron, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Charles L. Wood, praying that administration of said estate be granted to Charles L. Wood, or to some other suitable person, and that he may be allowed to pay the debts of said deceased and the expenses of administration out of said estate and praying for the allowance of the time allowed for presentation of claims against said deceased, and for the payment of the debts and expenses of said administration, and for the assignment and distribution of the residue of said estate to and among the persons entitled thereto, and for his discharge.

It is ordered, That Monday the 2d day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the examination of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the city of Adrian, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Tecumseh Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A True Copy. A. H. Barnes, Probate Register. 6123

POULTRY, GAME, BUTTER, EGGS.

Having leased the new store, in Michigan Grand Ave., Cadillac Square, I am prepared to handle on commission, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc. Quick sales at highest market price, and prompt returns guaranteed.

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, M.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH. Sold in Tecumseh by C. A. WISNER & CO.

AGENTS WANTED for DR. SCOTT'S Celebrated Electric Corsets. Sample free to those who write to Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, full information, about goods which they can do, and live at home; that will pay them from $5 to $20 per day. Some have earned over $50 to a day. Either sex, young or old. Capital not required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of snug little fortunes. All is new.

DR. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, NEW YORK.

GOLD fields are scarce, but those who write to Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, full information, about goods which they can do, and live at home that will pay them from $5 to $20 per day. Some have earned over $50 to a day. Either sex, young or old. Capital not required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of snug little fortunes. All is new.

WANTED!

AGENTS to sell a New Set of CHRISTMAS BOOKS selling from 50c to $3. One agent sold 50 in one week. Another 41 and her housework. Several agents over 40 copies last year, one over 450. One lady made over $100 in one week. Only a few agents in each county. Address as soon as possible, [illegible] Publishers, [illegible] N. Y.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLARS protecting the life of the horse are a recent invention, secure 50 per cent more work, and are effecting a revolution. To any practical horse or harness man we will upon receipt of sample order, give a specimen of their power for our benefit, and a continued advertisement in their papers with name attached to article. Address The American Horse Collar Cushion Co., 33 Warren st., New York.

BOUND TO LEAD!

SUTTON, FAIRFIELD & CO.

STILL to the FRONT.

BARGAINS!
BARGAINS!
BARGAINS!

Our motto is to give the people

A BENEFIT

WHEN YOU CAN.

Do not wait for the season to pass away: Give them good goods cheap in the season, not when the season is over, when goods are not cheap at any price.

We Beg to Extend a Cordial Invitation

To every one to call and inspect our

Magnificent Stock

OF STAPLE AND FANCY.

DRY GOODS, MANTLES, Etc.

And get our Prices.

Ask to see our Dress Goods!

And see what great bargains we are giving. A special line of 3 3-4c worth 10c. See them.

See our Ginghams at 5 3-4c.
See our Standard Prints at 4 1-2c worth 8c.

COTTONS-COTTONS, AWAY DOWN.

Mantles, Cloaks, Etc.

ONE and ALL

CORDIALLY INVITED TO CALL.

No Trouble to Show Goods!

Inspection Invited.

YOURS RESPECTFULLY,

SUTTON, FAIRFIELD & CO.

WE INVITE ALL

In search of BARGAINS in

CLOTHING,

To give us a call. We give satisfaction to every purchaser.

Its human nature to want to

GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH.

We will sell you Clothing better in quality, lower in price, than any other dealer in Southern Michigan.

COME AND SEE US.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

The Utica Palace King

THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.

Steel Radiators,
Sectional Fire Pot,
Estimates Promptly Furnished.
When in want of a heating or cook stove do not forget THE GARLAND.

They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success. THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

DON'T FOOL

Your time away looking at small stocks of Clothing. Come where you can get an assortment at prices lower than ever before. Hundreds of

SUITS AND OVERCOATS!

To select from. We are selling stacks of Clothing.

One Price & Plain Figures

PLEASE THE PEOPLE.

It is the only way to buy goods! is the verdict of our customers. See our prices. You can read them. It will pay you to trade

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S

ADRIAN, MICH.

THE CASTOR ROAD & SPEEDING CARTS.

For Road, Track, or Pleasure Driving.

For Gents or Family Horses.

By saving [illegible] from stock, either use a cart will pay for itself in a single season, [illegible] they exceed. These CASTOR CARTS are perfectly balanced [illegible] with springs, and [illegible] LEWIS F. CASTOR, FRANKFORD, PHILADELPHIA, Pa. [illegible] Agents: [illegible] Wm. H. Gray, 20 and 22 [illegible] Philadelphia, Pa.; H. D. Schmidt, 20 North [illegible] Baltimore, Md.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NEW HOUSE FOR SALE ON TIME. A. W. SLAYTON.

A SHROPSHIRE RAM—Full blood, for sale cheap. Call at my farm in Raisin. J. R. COATS.

[illegible] Apply at once to A. W. SLAYTON.

CABBAGE, CABBAGE. Fordson Flat Dutch, the best cabbage grown, for sour or sauerkraut. For sale cheap in large or small quantities. ABNER WILSON.

FOR SALE OR RENT—[illegible] and barn, and 3 acres of land, will be sold [illegible] Wright's, Tecumseh.

Angious Shearings on the eighth page.

There will be a change of time on the [illegible] Branch next Monday.

Be sure and read Sutton & Fairfield & Co's two column card on the fourth page.

Our stock of Dry Goods never was complete. Prices never lower.
W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Mrs. N. M. Sutton and Mrs. M. P. Brown are attending the annual meeting of the 3d. district W. C. T. U. held in Jackson this week.

Parties wanting a loan of Two or Three Thousand Dollars can be accommodated by applying to E. J. Landgraf, Adrian.

Hough & Hosmer are delivering goods purchased to purchasers at present as they wish to make room for their large stock of holiday goods which they expect to receive in about ten days.

The W. C. T. U. will meet until further notice in the Reform Club Room on Fridays at 3 p. m. The Temperance School will also meet in the Reform Club Room on Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock, until further notice.

"The Mystery of Affliction," subject of sermon at the Universalist church next Sunday morning, Nov. 14th, at 10 o'clock. In the evening at 7 o'clock, subject, "The Christ I Follow." Sunday school after the morning service at 12 m. The public invited, strangers welcomed.

The ladies of the Tecumseh W. C. T. U. have arranged for a Gospel Temperance meeting to be held in the Opera House next Sunday, P. M. Nov. 14th, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. B. A. Bailey, Pres. of 3d. district, will address the meeting, giving a delineation of the W. C. T. U. work.

We call special attention to Cloaks this week. Over 200 garments sold during the past month. Our large sales, and the daily throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. We are never undersold.
W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Miss Parloa's ideal bill of fare for a Thanksgiving Dinner. Telling among other things how to make, easily and very tempting Thanksgiving Pudding, will be a leading feature in the Thanksgiving number of Good Housekeeping, which will be issued November 20th. This will be the only publication in which it will appear. Good Housekeeping is published at Holyoke, Mass. Branch office 239 Broadway, New York.

Died in Elkhart, Nov. 3d, 1886, Ella C. Vedder. Her remains were brought to Tecumseh for interment, and funeral services conducted by the pastor of the M. E. church, were held at the residence of her grandparents at 10 o'clock A. M., Nov. 6th. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Ella was born in Raisin, Lenawee Co., Mich., July 9, 1869.

When she knew that death was near she manifested great satisfaction as she expected to be taken to the place where sufferings are unknown and where the weary find eternal rest.

TO OUR READERS.

We cannot too strongly urge upon our readers the necessity of subscribing for a family weekly newspaper of the first class, such, for instance, as THE INDEPENDENT, of New York. Were we obliged to select one publication for habitual and careful reading to the exclusion of all others, we would choose unhesitatingly THE INDEPENDENT. It is a newspaper, magazine, and review, all in one. It is a religious, a literary, an educational, a story, an art, a scientific, an agricultural, a financial, and a political paper combined. It has 32 folio pages and 21 departments. No matter what a person's religion, politics or profession may be, no matter what the age, sex, employment or condition may be, The Independent will prove a help, an instructor, an educator. Our readers can do no less than to send a postal for a free specimen copy, or for thirty cents the paper will be sent a month, enabling one to judge of its merits more critically. The yearly subscription is $3.00, or two years for $5.00.

Address: THE INDEPENDENT, 251 Broadway, New York City.

If you want any painting or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. E. Wright's, Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Jas. D. Walker of Petoskey was in town last Monday.

Mat Blosser, of the Manchester Enterprise, was in town last Tuesday.

Election is over and people can attend to their business once more.

A. W. Slayton is looking after his interests in Ionia.

The new platform in front of J. S. Shaver's is a handy arrangement for displaying his goods.

Bert Tribon, of Detroit, was shaking hands with old friends last Sunday.

Many industrious tramps will regret to learn that a Georgia man has invented a machine that will both saw and split wood.

C. E. Potter, of Detroit, spent last Sunday in Tecumseh with his father, Rev. T. G. Potter. The young man holds a good position in the Free Press Counting Rooms.

Charley Hanford who is now traveling for Waldbauer & McDermid, merchant tailors of Detroit, was visiting friends in Tecumseh and Frankton last week.

Capt. Allen's majority for congress in this district is 989. Allen leads Luce 576 in Washtenaw county, while Salsbury leads Yiplé 45 in Lenawee, 93 in Hillsdale and 74 in Monroe.

Two interesting discourses were preached at the M. E. church last Sunday by Rev. J. F. Berry, of the Mich. Christian Advocate. The church was filled both morning and evening.

The W. C. T. U. will meet until further notice in the Reform Club Room, on Fridays at 3 P. M. The Temperance school will also meet in Reform Club Room on Friday afternoon at 4.45 o'clock until further notice.

Michael Karcher, of Lake Ridge, brought into our office, last week, a bunch of ripe strawberries taken from his garden. Before the cold snap his bed was full of blossoms and half grown fruit.

P. W. Adams and his daughter, Mrs. Emmett, started last Monday for their Delaware home. They remained here about four weeks and passed the time very pleasantly. Waller can't stay away from the old home longer than six months at a time.

The Thanksgiving Number of Good Housekeeping will be a genuine Thanksgiving issue, full of the things pertinent to the joyous Thanksgiving season. Good Housekeeping is published every other week at Holyoke, Mass., with a branch office at 239 Broadway, New York.

Chas. Beneway, who has been in the employ of L. L. Bidwell for nearly six years past, has taken a clerkship in Wm. McCowen's furniture store. We believe the new relationship will be satisfactory to both parties and that Mr. Beneway will prove a faithful and efficient clerk.

The difference of opinion between doctor and undertaker as to the cause of death in the Stewart case has been settled by a coroner's jury in favor of the undertaker.—Detroit Free Press. This is as it should be. The coroner and the undertaker should hang together everytime.

The Knights of Labor Grand March by J. Y. M. is a brain new composition in which we take pleasure in recommending; it has a sweet and pretty melody from beginning to end and is decidedly one of the most elegant Marches we have seen in many a day. Price 40cts, Net 50cts. Ign. Fischer, publisher, Toledo, O.

Edgar Cadlington met with a serious accident last Friday afternoon by which one arm was broken. He was talking with Al Heesen on the sidewalk and was pushed off into the stone gutter. Al. claims that it was accidental on his part and regrets the occurence very much. Edgar received proper medical attention at once and is doing as well as could be expected.

John Van Vleet's spacious new residence was filled to overflowing last Thursday evening at the meeting of the Myrtle club. The shadow pantomine, entitled, "Lady Jane's Courtship" was presented in good shape. In addition to the usual attendance from town, a number of young people from Ridgeway were present. The club owe a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Van Vleet for their hospitality.

L. F. Wheeler got home from Ionia last Friday for a week's visit. He has taken over fifty views of public buildings and points on Grand River, some of which are extra fine. We had the pleasure of looking them over the other afternoon. Lavern has been employed to sing tenor in the M. E. church choir at Ionia and organized a class in painting. He will return tomorrow to remain several weeks, and his mother will accompany him.

The first snow of the season came last Tuesday.

Miss May Temple returned to Albion last week.

Charlie Doty, of Kalamazoo, is in town this week.

Wm. Z. Rogers of Toledo was in town this morning.

Mr. Will Holmes of Eaton Rapids, is visiting friends in town this week.

Mat Blosser is laying off this week on his usual six day's respite from duty.

There is talk of a band for Tecumseh. Every [illegible] should join.

The snow poet can now have a chance to display his poetical abilities.

A private telephone wire has been strung between John Toledo's residence and office.

John Bigger, of Welland, Ont., was the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. Simmons, last Tuesday.

Chas. Gray, who has a situation in the machine shops at Pullman, Ill., arrived home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. St. John, of Eaton Rapids, are making her sister Mrs. J. Davidson a short visit.

White, Detroit's 3rd baseman in the league club, was in town a couple of days last week visiting friends.

The Michigan club will celebrate its second anniversary with a grand banquet in Detroit on the 23rd.

Young John Blessing, the boy arrested for stealing the money last week, was bound over to the circuit court in $200 bail.

Mrs. C. A. Stacy returned home yesterday, from Elgin, Ill., where she has been spending several weeks with her son, George.

Lavern Wheeler has just completed a crayon portrait, full bust size, of Lyman Thorpe. It is a very natural likeness and finely finished.

W. S. Myers now walks with a cane, the result of his accidentally striking his foot with a pick axe last Friday and inflicting a painful wound.

Oscar Heck was home from Kalamazoo College last week, having come home to attend the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Heck.

Harry Stevens mourns the loss of his valuable dog which carried the Evening News around for him. He thinks he was stolen by ash peddlers here last week.

We are indebted to County Clerk Bixby for a copy of the circuit court calender for the present term. Dave's obliging character shines through the clouds of defeat.

Frank Hall is home from the Agricultural College to spend the long vacation which lasts fourteen weeks. Frank is doing finely there and is taking a high position in the school.

The G. A. R. will hold a social at their hall to morrow night and invite all to come and enjoy themselves. The wives of the members are especially invited to come and bring along the eatables.

The November term of the circuit court began last Tuesday, Judge Howell presiding. There are ten criminal cases on the calendar, thirty-two issues of fact, eight chancery cases of the first class and ten chancery cases of the fourth class.

The next regular meeting of the Myrtle Club will be held at the residence of Mrs. A. McNeil's, Thursday evening, November 18th. This will be a business meeting. All members of the club are requested to be in attendance.

RUTH M. WOODBY, Sec.

A Tecumseh man deserted his wife and family some time ago. Recently he returned, squandered the little amount of money his wife had saved, and now tells the neighbors that she is crazy. The fact that the woman received the fellow after his desertion, and made it possible for him to get possession of the money, bears out the charge of lunacy to a slight extent.—Detroit Journal.

The supper given at Armory Hall last evening by the ladies of St. Peter's church was largely attended and was a social as well as financial success. For nearly three hours the tables were filled as a rapidly as the plates could be changed, and the guests were all filled too. The ladies netted in the neighborhood of eighteen dollars from the venture.

Jackson Patriot. The question of the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw railroad is being again agitated, and it seems to be quite certain that, unless active business measures are inaugurated soon this important connection will be lost to Jackson. The road is now finished to within six miles of Fayette, Ohio, the terminus of what is called the Canada Southern line, and a movement is on foot to divert the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw to Fayette, and thus connect with Detroit and eastern roads, and make an eastern road of what was intended to and should be a northern road. Mr. Marble, vice president of the Ohio company, is now in New York in the interests of the original project, but the danger is great that it will be abandoned and the line diverted to Fayette.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

[illegible] lishes a roll of honor.

A Chautauqua circle has been organized at Manchester with 12 members.

The Hudson Baptist church is in [illegible] the pews having been rented.

A unique service was held at the Hudson congregational church last Sunday evening. It consisted of the reading of a portion of Pilgrim's Progress by six young people.

[illegible] of building a plug from that city to Tipton on the M. & O. The very plan Tecumseh adopted year ago to secure the Jackson branch of the Michigan Southern.

A man with knives and razors and rings to throw over them, has been on our streets this week, gulling the public. He will not pay his board and go to Toledo before the officers could catch him. Rodney Witherell, who boarded him, does not believe in rings.—Hudson Post.

J. B. Whitney lost his pocket book containing $35 one day last week, and after a prolonged search had given up its recovery. On the evening of the following day he found the book, with money intact, within a few feet of the alley in the rear of the store, where it had lain unnoticed by the passers by.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Fridays, Mr. Kempton, of the Addison Courier, goes to Tecumseh to get his paper printed and leaves the editorial sanctum in charge of his accomplished sister, Miss Anna, and now there's a rush at the office every Friday. It is needless to say that it is promptly attended to. Adrian Press.

[illegible] of building a plug from that city to Tipton on the M. & O. The very plan Tecumseh adopted year ago to secure the Jackson branch of the Michigan Southern.

A man with knives and razors and rings to throw over them, has been on our streets this week, gulling the public. He will not pay his board and go to Toledo before the officers could catch him. Rodney Witherell, who boarded him, does not believe in rings.—Hudson Post.

J. B. Whitney lost his pocket book containing $35 one day last week, and after a prolonged search had given up its recovery. On the evening of the following day he found the book, with money intact, within a few feet of the alley in the rear of the store, where it had lain unnoticed by the passers by.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Fridays, Mr. Kempton, of the Addison Courier, goes to Tecumseh to get his paper printed and leaves the editorial sanctum in charge of his accomplished sister, Miss Anna, and now there's a rush at the office every Friday. It is needless to say that it is promptly attended to. Adrian Press.

The Free Methodist district quarterly meeting will be held in the new F. M. church at Blissfield beginning Thursday evening, Nov. 11th, 1886. The dedicatory services will take place on the following Sunday. Rev. V. A. Duke is expected to officiate. B. E. Vincent and other ministers are expected to attend. We desire to raise about $200 to pay off the indebtedness. All are invited to attend.

WM. COCHRANE, P. M. Pastor.

Esquire Brown went to the barn to feed his horse the other morning, when to his surprise he discovered that some miscreant had stolen nearly a barrel of oats. He gives notice through the Local, that if the parties will return the bags he will feel himself under everlasting obligations.—Clinton Local. It was the next morning after the republican meeting of the night before, but Uncle Brown don't say anything up "again" the Republican party, more than to express the belief that they shouldn't practice free trade in oats.—Adrian Press.

The purchase by Charles Humphrey, in behalf of the Workingmen's society, of the old council building, was ratified by the common council at its last session and will undoubtedly be confirmed by the society this evening. It is probable that the upper story of the building will be used as the society hall and rented to organizations or individuals desiring it, and that the lower floor will be fitted up for store purposes. The property is a bargain at the price which was paid for it.—Adrian Record.

Capt. C. H. Fee has purchased the plant of the Adrian electric light company, with all the privileges and franchises accompanying it, and hereafter the enterprise will be conducted under his sole personal management. Mr. Will Foote, who has heretofore managed the business, takes a responsible position with the Thomson Houston company, and will superintend the introduction of that excellent system of electric arc lighting in several leading Michigan cities.—Adrian Times.

Chris. McCormick, a man who had been employed on the Wabash ditching gang near Milan for some time, went on a protracted spree last week. Saturday he was very much intoxicated at Milan and attempted to borrow $3 at various places in the village, stating that he wanted to go to Jackson to see his brother. About 5 o'clock he left the village, walking west on railroad track, and two miles out of town he was struck by the engine of a west bound train, receiving injuries which resulted in his death in a few hours. Whiskey did it.—Adrian Record.

The Nogar gas well is down about 1,600 feet and still no indications of gas have been discovered. The drilling continues slowly in the hard lime rock, and but a few feet per day is the well sunk. The supply of water in the well proves a barrier against more rapid work. A new supply of iron casing has been procured and will be inserted in the well when a change of rock shall be found, which is thought must soon occur, the water is supposed to continue until such change is reached. There is no intention by Mr. Nogar for discontinuing the work until gas shall be obtained or a thorough exploration of the lower regions made.—Dundee Reporter.

Don't fail to call at Steger's gallery. He does the best work in this part of the country, and at very low figures just now.

A MUSICAL SOCIAL.

A representative of The Herald [illegible] day evening at the residence of Mr. J. D. Shull, given by the Baptist choir. A large company, comprising both old and young had assembled, and it is [illegible] most hospitably entertained. Mr. Shull's new house is admirably arranged to accommodate a large company and the people, the attendance and reason, appreciate the fact that evening. The program was announced [illegible] were thirteen numbers, as follows:

1. Instrumental Duet—Sunshine in the Meadows—Misses Goodale and Bensinger.
2. Duet—Twine Ye the Mooning Sea—Misses Osborne, Bates, Hyde and Libbie Coddington.
3. Select Reading—Twenty Years Ago—P. W. Adams.
4. Duet—"I Tell Ye Every Morn Birds"—Messrs. Russell and Wheeler.
5. Duet—In Norwegian Costume—Mr. and Mrs. Russell.
7. Instrumental Duet—Awakening of the Lion—Misses Fisher and Henderson.
8. Solo—"One Beat in a Measure"—Mark Russell.
9. Cornet Solo—Selected—Dr. C. M. Woodward.
10. Solo—"Only a Leaf of Sweet Clover"—Mrs. L. L. Bidwell.
11. Cornet Duet—Selected—Messrs. Woodward and Wheeler.
12. Duet—Lariegant Watch—Messrs. Russell & Stoughton.
13. Pantomime, "An Affair of Honor"—Members of the Choir.

[illegible] Mr. Russell, a lively dispute arose between Miss Grace and himself concerning what one beat in a measure was. The audience began to be alarmed as the dispute seemed to be assuming a serious aspect, when the gallantry came to Miss Grace's rescue quickly and [illegible] that he didn't know what one beat in a measure was. Mr. Russell [illegible] the mystery by stepping out of the room and returning with a big beer mug, measure. Whether this selection should be called an overture, a prelude or a trio vocal, instrumental or theatrical, it would be difficult to say, but it was properly named, "one beat in a measure." There can be no doubt on that point.

The selections were all finely rendered. It seemed like old times to hear Walter Adams in twenty years ago, and brought back the old scenes to many persons in the company. The pantomime represented a country wedding and was admirably acted. Dr. Steinhoff displayed stepping and [illegible] that astonished his friends, Miss Gowdy made a superb matron, Mr. Russell displayed a natural talent for [illegible] theatricals and all acted their parts finely. The evening's entertainment was a most enjoyable one, and the wish was expressed by many that the Baptist Choir might continue the work so auspiciously begun and favor our citizens with an occasional program during the coming winter.

TWENTY FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

For twenty five years Mr. and Mrs. John A. Heck have traveled down life's pathway together. Mr. Heck has enjoyed a good share of business success, has recently built and occupied an elegant and commodious residence on Chicago street, and hence the observance of the twenty fifth anniversary of his wedding day was a fitting and proper thing to do. The anniversary fell on the 5th inst., last Friday. Soon after night fall the invited guests began to arrive and by eight o'clock the spacious mansion was filled to overflowing with the merriest company that has been our lot to mingle with for many a day. Although married people of middle age largely predominated, there were enough young people present to lend a wedding air and youthful spice to the occasion. Over one hundred guests partook of the festivities, many of whom came from abroad and who were acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Heck before they took up their residence in Tecumseh. Among those were Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Rush and Miss Bessie Rush, of Salem, Ohio, Mr. D. A. Best and Mrs. Wm. Hasler, of Kalamazoo, Mich., Mr. J. A. Allen, of South Bend, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keil of Toledo and J. O. Heck, of Kalamazoo College. A large and beautiful array of gifts adorned the tables in the west parlor, among which were a silver water set, two sets of solid silver spoons, a silver cake basket, and other presents of less value but of equal utility. The host and hostess entitled to a word of special praise for the appropriate manner in which it was served. Although the rooms were crowded, the guests were all provided for. Many of the company tarried for a while after refreshments and not until the approach of the midnight hour did the last one take their leave. It was a merry housewarming and the participants will long cherish it in remembrance as a red letter event in their social experience. May Mr. and Mrs. Heck live to celebrate their golden wedding and may we be there to see the sport.

The celebrated Chesspeake oysters by the dozen, by the can, by the keg at R. C. VanAntwerp's.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

The hospitable home of Geo. W. Stacy was [illegible] yesterday, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Cecelia to Mr. Henry Frasher of Buffalo N. Y. Rev. J. M. Gretchel officiated as [illegible] the usual congratulations were offered the guests surrounded the well filled tables and partook of the substantials and delicacies which [illegible] were spread to well know to prepare. The company was a small one, as the invitations were [illegible] but it was a real good [illegible] ing. The numerous bridal gifts showed testimony to the esteem in which the bride is held by her friends in Tecumseh and Chicago. [illegible] responsible position in the [illegible] department, and is a young man of good parts and much promise. The happy pair took the afternoon Lake Shore train for their future home in Buffalo, accompanied by the hearty good wishes of a large circle of friends.

A SAD ACCIDENT

Last Monday afternoon a serious accident befell Miss Clara Hayden, which [illegible] was feared at first might be fatal. Mr. Bush of Baltimore, who is visiting at Warren Dennis' [illegible] Miss Hayden [illegible] of some [illegible] that afternoon [illegible] room. While [illegible] was unmarked at [illegible] upon her back and [illegible] giving a gash to the [illegible] and causing a slight concussion of the brain and spinal cord. She was restored to consciousness in about half an hour and conveyed home. She is back. Dr. House has charge of the patient and she seems to be recovering as rapidly as the injury will permit. The affair caused much regret throughout the village. Monday afternoon, but we are gratified to know that the indications are now favorable for her recovery, although she may be confined to the house for some time.

—BUCKWHEAT CAKES. Get your [illegible] of choice new Buckwheat [illegible] C. A. Slayton.

—Remember Hough & Hosmer when wanting Albums.

—Hough & Hosmer are going to be at the front in prices and styles of goods.

—Hough & Hosmer are ready to show you the latest styles and lowest prices.

—Sutton's shelves are full of bargains. A sure sign that he is satisfying customers in regard to work and prices.

—Just received one case of the celebrated Lamont underwear worth [illegible] each.
Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Look at our Hosiery and Buttons.
Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Joe Sage, of Macon, has started the campaign with his patent Champion Weather Strip, one of the most durable strips in the market for the exclusion of cold, rain and dust. Strip your doors and windows as it saves fuel and adds comfort to your home. The Champion strip is water proof against all driving rain storms. Orders may be left at the HERALD office.

—We are still selling Lightning White Soap at competitors advertised as a bargain for Cash or Credit.
Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

Everyone using green tea can save money by buying their tea of Hough & Hosmer.

—And and get some of those fresh cakes at the Star Bakery on Saturday.

FOR WEDDINGS, PARTIES AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Heck Bro's. White Foam flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

Fresh oysters received daily at the Star Bakery.

Bread only 5c a loaf at the Star Bakery.

DON'T FAIL TO TRY IT.

J. C. Barrows, Kalamazoo, Mich., testifies: For more than five years a member of my family has been afflicted with Hay Fever, culminating every fall in a hacking cough. Every remedy proved futile. Not half a bottle of Papillon extract of flax Catarrh Cure had been used before the cough entirely disappeared, and a gradual relief followed. It is simply wonderful. Large bottle only $1.00.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS

FREDER WOOD, Attorney

CASWELL

PHYSICIANS

H. BOOTH, M.D.

MISCELLANEOUS

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

DAVID MACHAM

JAMES S. CURRY

CHAS. A. WALDRON

HOTELS.

BURNETT HOUSE

M. H. RICE,
UTICA. MICHIGAN.
Dealer in High Class Thoroughbred Poultry. Eggs for Hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular Free.

Agric'ltur'l Implement
DEPOT.
C. A. SLAYTON

SOUTH BEND
BURCH,
WIARD
GALE
OLIVER
PLOWS Walking

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT
SULKY PLOWS

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS Lincoln, New Robbins, Adams Iron Frame

Barker's Champion, Monitor, Buckeye GRAIN DRILLS

JAMES MANT HARVESTER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint
WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Gal. Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING
OPIUM.

Cure of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "DOUBLE CHLORIDE OF GOLD" will cure the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike other so-called "painless antidotes," it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and the patient is enabled rapidly reducing himself down to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business or enjoy life as he has not done since beginning the Opium or Morphine Habit. Send for Book on the Opium Habit, FREE, or for Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's new work "Opium: Its Use, Abuse and Cure," sent free on application. This treatment is administered to no patient who is not completely satisfied with the results. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.
Dwight, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS!
Cured in from three to nine days.

W. W. MARSH,
Proprietor of
Railroad Street Meat Market!
Fresh And Salt Meats constantly on hand.
GIVE ME A CALL.
LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS mention this paper.

GREG. HEWETT, 500 Pearl St., N.Y.

SEXUAL Weakness, Lost Manhood, Impotency quickly and permanently cured. Send for book mailed FREE to all afflicted. Address Hawlin Medical Co., Buffalo, N.Y., U.S.A.

TWO VISIONS.

The Last Chance was a rival mine on the opposite side of the gulch owned by a New York company and managed by [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Jack Mohr, the fact that his manners and manners were such as he might have made a gentleman might have made him popular with Mr. Dewey's guests, [illegible] Mr. Dewey's guests.

ARKE
ISHED 1851. Merrill
OIT, MICH. Block. egular, Old-Established
ICIAN & SURGEON
LL AND SUCCESS
NERVOUS AND DISEASES
MIDDLE-AGED MEN.
ervous Diseases
Debility and Rise of nerve ness by new methods and
It makes no difference
who has failed to cure you isons of Syphilis and diseases, completely eradi-
Remember that this one neglected or improperly ent and coming generations.
discharges cured properly siness. No experiments
Confidentially. Age and ss. A written guarantee
ery case undertaken.
ew chronic disease with ms of your case—many thers have failed to cure.
for celebrated works on Delicate Diseases, Vi-ruptomatology by mail
e. Consultation personally
Consult the old Doctor.
Offices and parlors pri-
Be sure to see DR. CLARKE.
ve Figure suffering and years to life. Medicine free exposure. Hours,
. Address,
CLARKE, M. D.
BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

RED STAR

Trade Mark.

COUGH CURE

SAFE SURE PROMPT 25 Cts.

J. F. SMITH & CO. PROPRIETORS

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Bruises, etc. etc.

PRICE FIFTY CENTS. Druggists and Dealers.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 115. Mail.	No. 117. Express	No. 119 Accom.
Jackson	6 25 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 15 P.M
Napoleon	6 41 "	2 35 "	1 30 "
Norvell	6 50 "	2 44 "	2 45 "
Moscow	7 [illegible] "	3 00 "	2 59 "
Hudson	7 37 "	3 16 "	3 38 "
Clayton	7 55 "	3 26 "	4 02 "
Lenawee Junction	8 08 "	4 12 "	5 05 "
Adrian	10 20 "	6 40 "	.....
Toledo	9 25 "	5 05 "	.....

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 116. Mail.	No. 118. Express.	No. 118. Accom.
Toledo	8 50 A.M.	6 14 P.M.	.....
Adrian	10 30 "	7 55 "	.....
Lenawee Junction	11 25 "	8 55 "	5 15 A.M.
Clayton	12 07 P.M.	9 34 "	7 10 "
Hudson	12 17 "	9 44 "	8 10 "
Morenci	12 [illegible] "	10 12 "	9 [illegible] "
Moscow	12 40 "	10 18 "	9 [illegible] "
Norvell	12 49 "	10 27 "	9 55 "
Jackson	1 10 "	10 50 "	10 35 "

Trains run by Standard of 90th Meridian Time.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this station over best routes to all principal cities in the United States.

N. S. SATTERTHWAITE, Ticket Agent.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

Mail & Express, limited	4 35	A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 50	"
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 21	"
New York Limited Express	10 [illegible]	P.M.
Night Express	8 15	"

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35	A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10	P.M.
Kansas City and Denver Express	6 48	"
Night Express, Limited	0 07	"

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Britton.

Through passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make Excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. Solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. D. ARMSTRONG, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Detroit.
WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.
Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.
E. CHANDLER, General Pass. and Ticket Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT OCT. 24, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Ludington, Mich.

GOING EAST. Central Time. GOING WEST.

No. 7 Pass	No. 3 Pass	STATIONS	No. 2 Pass	No. 4 Pass
A.M.	P.M.		A.M.	P.M.
10 15	5 20	A Toledo L	8 10	3 40
10 10	5 25	Dundee	8 05	3 35
10 45	6 [illegible]	Britton	7 30	3 [illegible]
10 [illegible]	6 [illegible]	Ridgeway	7 24	3 [illegible]
11 [illegible]	6 40	Tecumseh	7 16	3 [illegible]
12 [illegible]	7 22	Tipton	6 40	2 45
12 [illegible]	7 [illegible]	Onsted	6 [illegible]	2 [illegible]
12 25	7 [illegible]	Devils Lake	6 31	2 [illegible]
12 40	8 15	Addison	6 [illegible]	2 10
12 49	8 [illegible]	Jerome	6 [illegible]	2 [illegible]
1 [illegible]	8 45	Moscow	5 10	1 [illegible]
1 [illegible]	8 [illegible]	Hanover	5 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
1 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	Parma	5 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
1 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	Homer	4 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
2 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	Albion	4 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
2 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	Marshall	4 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
2 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	Ceresco	3 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
2 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	Battle Creek	3 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	Augusta	3 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	Yorkville	3 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	Richland	3 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	Bostwick	3 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Lowell	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Alaska	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Vergennes	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Lowell	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Ada	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Cascade	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Gaines	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Byron	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Corunna	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Durand	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Ionia	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Lake Odessa	2 [illegible]	1 [illegible]
3 [illegible]	11 [illegible]	Grand Rapids

ANOTHER RAILROAD FOR ADRIAN.

The sale of the Michigan & Ohio road was [illegible] last Friday to satisfy the lien holders [illegible] has gone behind the hands of a receiver. If the foreness [illegible] of A[illegible] in regard to a project which has been held possible by people for a considerable time past. That project is the construction of a "plug" line of [illegible] miles of about eight miles. The object of building such a line, it is unnecessary to say, is to give our city a competing road to the lumber region of the north, and the coal fields [illegible]

[illegible] Toledo, there to connect with some road running in direct to the coal fields of Ohio, probably the Wheeling & Lake Erie. This road, when completed, would make M & O one of the trunk lines of the country, for it would [illegible] the M & O. [illegible] the construction of the proposed line, has made for itself an enormous reputation and which [illegible] its farthest reference to the state [illegible] it was [illegible] that a line drawn from Toledo to Adrian and [illegible] would [illegible] the road. And here [illegible] line to Tipton it was given as a comparative line anyway, and when the company comes to the completion of the line to Toledo, why will it not be better to build from Adrian than [illegible] for it will make the road [illegible] street, and it will place upon its line a city of [illegible] inhabitants. These are some of the ideas gleaned from our citizens this morning. Among those seen were W. T. Lawrence and Gov. Croswell, both of whom are warmly in favor of the project, and both of whom will not hesitate to put some money into it.

Mr. Lawrence says the first step to be taken should be to hold a meeting and appoint a committee to confer with the M & O. people to learn what concessions will be granted us. When that committee has reported and should the report be considered favorable the people of the city should not cease their efforts until the money is raised and the "plug" constructed.

Gov. Croswell has given the matter much attention, and would seem from his knowledge of the things to be considered. The grade from here to Tipton, he says, is very favorable and the expense of getting the road ready for the rolling stock would be comparatively light. And then the advantages to our manufacturers would be almost inestimable, with cheap coal and cheap lumber delivered at their doors, they could enter into active competition with any town in the country, where with the trunk lines leading from the city in six directions, the roads for the sale of their wares, would be unlimited. Gov. Croswell has had some communication with the new owners of the M & O, and he is reasonably certain that they would give us satisfactory conditions. At any rate, the expense of a conference, by committee, with the new company will be not great, and the results may be very material advantage to our city.—Adrian Times.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

S. F. MAUSSELLER, Clinton, Mich., Manufacturer and Dealer in Monuments, Tablets, Headstones, Are from a variety of Native and Foreign Marbles and Granite.

Having on hand at my works in Clinton, Tecumseh, a very large and superior stock of monuments and tablets, both of marble and granite, and being desirous of reducing my stock, which is as large and complete as may be found in Southern Michigan, I will, order until Jan. 1, 1887, any finished monument or tablet in Stonelon Land at a price that will be satisfactory, and the most careful attention to orders, and the most [illegible] communications by mail will receive prompt attention. Respectfully,

S. F. MAUSSELLER.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

The following are the real estate transfers in this county as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the week ending Nov. 2, 1886:

CLINTON.

Cassius C. Fisk to W. L. Ann R. Aspinwicken, $1,000.

MACON.

Freeman Lee to Samuel Boyd, land in sec. 12, $[illegible].

Joseph Dalton to John George Wood, [illegible] land on sec. 22, $[illegible].

RIDGEWAY.

Augustus Pfeifepp to John Richards, [illegible] on sec. 22, $1,200.

Cows that are good milkers are voracious feeders.—Prairie Farmer.

Auction Sales.

S. Russell will sell at auction at his farm 3 1-2 miles west and one-half mile south of Dundee, now known as the W. B. Haynes farm, on Wednesday, Nov. 24, 1886, at 12 M. sharp, the following property: One two year old colt, one yearling heifer, yearling colt, spring colt, 11 hogs, brood sow, 8 pigs, mower, Crows horse rake, plow, set grass, thill cultivator, 2 tooth cultivator, Royce reaper, potato digger, 2 horse buggy, 2 sleighs, buggy, double harness, single harness, 2 horse wagon, lumbering bob, grain bin, set scales, hay rack, 30 bu. corn, corn stalks, hay, 30 bush potatoes, 50 bush apples, 2 2 1-2 bls cider, pump, household furniture, &c. Terms of sale as usual.

Ben Reynolds, Auctioneer.
H. H. Sawtell, clerk.

[illegible] will sell at auction at his farm in Cambridge, 2 miles south of Springville, Thursday, Nov. 18, 1886, at 12 M. sharp, the following property: 3 extra cows, three nearly new milch, 3 heifer calves, 1 extra bull calf, 1 yearling heifer, 2 yearling Bulls, one durham bull, 4th duke of riverside, number 38,5[illegible], one durham bull calf, 11 mos. old, number of stock rams, 2 chester white boar pigs, 2 chester white sow pigs, 80 extra fine wool ewes which will be sold in lots to suit purchasers. This stock is all high grade excepting the full blooded, and will be sold without reserve. Usual terms of sale.

Ben Reynolds, Auctioneer.

Wm. Remington will sell at auction one mile east of Pennington's Corners on Mr. Howell's farm, on Friday, Nov. 19th, 1886, at 12 M. sharp, the following property: Good horse, 8 years old, single horse, 4 years old, cow, 2 calves, 70 sheep, lumber wagon, wheel cultivator, single cultivator, two breeding mares, champion Reaper, champion mower, nearly new, 2 sulky rakes, top buggy, cutter, hay rack, set double harness, one colt five months old, single harness, 10 tons hay, 100 bu. corn in the ear, 500 bundles stalks, 10 acres wheat on ground, champion washer, clothes wringer, etc. Usual terms of sale. Abe Hanford, auctioneer.

THE PROBATE COURT.

Following is the record of business transacted at the probate court for the week ending Nov. 2, 1886.

Estate of Dennis White, deceased; petition for administration; hearing November 22.

Estate of Wm. R. Holmes, deceased; petition for administration; hearing November 22.

In the matter of Grace May Drake, a dependent child; application for admission to state public school; testimony taken and filed; order for admission.

In the matter of Fredrick Gerber, an indigent insane person; affidavit of service of notice of hearing; testimony taken and filed; order for admission to asylum.

Estate of Henry T. Townsend, deceased; order for allowance for support of widow.

Estate of Orville P. Layard, deceased; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of Augustus Thayer, deceased; affidavit of publishing and posting commissioners' notice; commissioners warrant and report filed.

Estate of Cynthia Angell, deceased; bond filed, letters testamentary issued; order appointing appraisers; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of Addison Hardenburgh, deceased; affidavit of publication; administrator appointed; bond, $10,000.

Estate of Mary Lottridge, deceased; warrant and inventory filed.

Estate of John VanRiper, deceased; bond filed; letters testamentary issued; order appointing appraisers.

Estate of Ansel A. Main, deceased; petition for allowance of executrix's final account; hearing November 29.

Estate of Sarah Main, deceased; petition for allowance of administrator's final account; hearing November 29.

Estate of Benjamin F. Condit, deceased; bond filed; letters of administration issued; order of time to pay debts and close estate.

Estate of Elizabeth Winbah, an insane person; affidavit of service of notice of hearing; testimony taken and filed; order appointing guardian; bond $[illegible].

Estate of Archibald Bower, deceased; affidavit of publication; guardian ad litem appointed; appointment of commissioners in dower.

LETTER LIST

Tecumseh, [illegible]

Remaining unclaimed in the Postoffice at Tecumseh, [illegible]

[illegible] Thomas — Gould, Charles [illegible] — Howe, Bert
[illegible] — Lamb, C. E.
[illegible] — Bornaugh, Rev. Sergeant
[illegible] — Leroy
[illegible] — Hatter, [illegible]

Persons calling for letters in the above list will please say they are advertised.

C. A. STOUT, P. M.

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

Apples ⅌ bush	75 @	1 00
Apples, dried ⅌ lb	@	4
Butter ⅌ lb	15 @	17
Beans ⅌ bushel	50 @	60
Beeswax ⅌ lb	25 @	30
Beef, cattle ⅌ cwt	3 50 @	4 00
Buckwheat ⅌ bushel	50 @	50
Buckwheat flour ⅌ hundred	3 00 @	3 00
Bran ⅌ cwt ⅌ hundred	1 00 @	1 00
Beef, hides	6 @	6
Calf skins ⅌ lb	8 @	9
Cabbages ⅌ doz	20 @	25
Carrots ⅌ bushel	@	40
Chickens—dressed	@	1
Cranberries	7 00 @	8
Dearing skins	@	12
Eggs ⅌ doz	@	17
Flour ⅌ barrel	5 00 @	5 50
Hogs—dressed ⅌ cwt	4 75 @	5 00
Hogs—live ⅌ cwt	3 50 @	3 60
Hay ⅌ ton	8 00 @	10 00
Honey ⅌ lb	@	13
Ham ⅌ lb	@	10
Lard ⅌ lb	@	7
Oats ⅌ bushel	30 @	33
Onions ⅌ bushel	@	40
Potatoes ⅌ bushel	25 @	30
Pork ⅌ cwt	@	5 25
Pumpkins ⅌ lb	@	1 00
Rye ⅌ bushel	25 @	1 00
Timothy seed ⅌ bushel	2 @	2 25
Turkeys—dressed ⅌ lb	@	8
Wool ⅌ pound	30 @	40
Wheat, White ⅌ bushel	@	71
Wheat, Red ⅌ bushel	@	71
Wood, hard	3 00 @	4 00

MARRIED.

FRASHER—STACY.—At the residence of the bride's father, Cyrus E. Stacy, in the township of Clinton, on the 10th inst., by Rev. J. M. Gelstead, Mr. Henry Frasher, of Buffalo, and Miss Cecelia A. Stacy.

DETROIT

WE WANT YOUR TRADE.

WRIGHT, KAY AND CO.

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS.

DETROIT, MICH.

Our object in advertising is to induce those who are already our customers to give our House a Trial. Our Success is partly owing to the fact that We Hold no need any stronger proof of our uniformity and always reliable quality of our goods. In Diamonds, Watches, Fine Art Pottery, Novelties in Jewelry, and Fancy Goods, we show a magnificent stock at correct prices.

THE INDEPENDENT.

The Largest,
The Ablest,
The Best,
Religious and Literary Newspaper in the World.

"One of the ablest weeklies in existence."—Pall Mall Gazette, London, England.

"The most influential religious organ in the states." The Spectator, London, Eng.

"Clearly stands in the fore-front as a weekly religious magazine."—Sunday School Times, Philadelphia.

It is a RELIGIOUS, LITERARY, EDUCATIONAL, ART, STORY, FINANCIAL, INSURANCE, SCIENTIFIC, POLITICAL, AGRICULTURAL, SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWSPAPER.

It has more and abler contributors than any three of its contemporaries. It stands in the front rank of journalism, and every people of intelligence should read it.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One month	$ 50	One year	$ 3 00
Three months	1 75	Two years	5 00
Four months	1 00	Three years	7 00
Six months	1 50	Four years	8 50
Nine months	2 25	Five years	10 00

Send postal card for a free sample copy and clubbing list if you wish to subscribe for any magazines or other newspapers at less than publisher's prices.

THE INDEPENDENT,

251 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

$1000

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE

FOR 5 CENTS.

This Cigar will prove as represented and will be extensively advertised in every town for the dealers who will appreciate its merit and push it accordingly.

SMOKE EL FERNO 10c CIGAR.

Address BINGHART BROS., Sole Agents,
130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO.

RETAIL AT

R. MORRISON'S.

Better THAN THE Best

In the Grand Racing Business College and Practical Training School, Detroit, Mich. Send for College Journal. Address, C. G. SWENSBURG, Grand Rapids, Mich.

WHITMAN'S NEW PATENT REBOUND PLUNGER PERPETUAL

GUARANTEED SUPERIOR to any LEVER PRESS NOW MADE.

Received First Premium at N. Y. State Fair, in 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883 and 1885, including the Grand Gold Medal and two Silver Medals, over Dederick and others; also World's Fair at New Orleans, and California State Fair. The most rapid, powerful and durable press made; pits over ten tons in carload every three minutes; fully warranted and protected; three bales to any other press's two. Send for illustrated circulars. Also Horse Powers, Cider Mills, Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, &c.

WHITMAN AGRICL CO., St. Louis, Mo.

ADVERTISERS who wish to examine the paper or obtain estimates on advertising space while in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 47 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

AT LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD, CATARRH, ROSE-COLD, HAY-FEVER, DEAFNESS, HEADACHE. PRICE 50 CENTS. EASY TO USE. ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y., U.S.A. TRADE MARK.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It allays the pain. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

500,000 ACRES CHOICE HARDWOOD FARMING LANDS

In Northern Wisconsin for sale at $5 an acre on long time. The finest opportunity and promising field for settlement in the U. S. Full information with good map free. Address LAND COMMISSIONER, Wisconsin Central R. R., Milwaukee, Wis.

MASON & HAMLIN

NOW SELL THEIR

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY RENT System, payments at the rate of $1.25 per month, up. 140 styles, $22 to $500. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Constructed on the new method of stringing on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue, mailed free.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
Boston, New York, Chicago.

COLUMBIA BICYCLES & TRICYCLES

FINEST MATERIALS. SKILFUL WORKMANSHIP. ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE SENT FREE.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.,
TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON, MASS.
12 WARREN ST., NEW YORK. BRANCH HOUSES 85 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO.

ESTATE OF GARRETT ALEN.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee—ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, on Monday the 8th day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Garrett Alen, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of John Alen, praying for the probate of an instrument now on file in this court, and purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, and that administration of said estate with the will annexed may be granted to Charles Burright, or some other suitable person. Jackson Alen, one of the executors named in said will being now deceased, and your petitioner the other executor named therein having declined to accept such trust.

It is ordered, That Monday, the 6th day of December next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs-at-law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate office, in the city of Adrian, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

(A True Copy.)

[illegible] Register of Probate. [illegible]

NO DOGS ALLOWED HERE

This is the title of a BEAUTIFUL QUEEN, size 14x20 inches, in 11 perfect colors, original design, sent to any W. W. Raves, A. R. A. England, who will send FREE OF CHARGE, over the signature, mailing price twenty-five.

QUEEN ANNE SOAP WRAPPERS

This is no cheap, penny affair, but an elegant picture, finely colored, with handsome frame to cover 50 cents in any parlor in the land. No advertisement on the picture.

Queen Anne Soap, the Old Reliable, the purest and best Soap made, is known everywhere and sold by all first-class grocers.

THIS PICTURE WILL NOT BE SOLD AT ANY PRICE, and can only be obtained by mailing us 25 Queen Anne Soap Wrappers. Address

DETROIT SOAP CO., DETROIT, MICH.

JAS. H. POTTER,

Manufacturer of all kinds of

FURNITURE!

Order work a specialty. Turning done to order.

WE Have ALL SIZES of Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

McCOLLUM

Has just received received his fall Fall and Winter stock, and is selling the suits at from $10 to $20.

Ready Made do at $5, $6.50, $8, and $10.
OVERCOATS in every quality, size, price and color.
Men's strong heavy work pants, lined throughout, at 99c.
Heavy all wool pants $2.50
Also large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, fine flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. McCOLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Citizens of Tecumseh!

Toledo and return for $1.85.

Citizens of Tecumseh, there are, no doubt, many of you in need of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps. To you who have been in the habit of buying these goods at home, we wish to call your attention to the fact that you can save fully 25 per cent., perhaps more, by buying your Clothing, Hats and Caps, etc., from us. If such is the case, would it not be to your interest as well as ours, to come to Toledo to buy your outfit? Many of you will probably say to yourself, this is only an advertisement. We admit it, but nevertheless it contains nothing but the simple truth. Would you ask us why we sell so much lower than the dealer in your own town? We will tell you.

BECAUSE We buy in much larger quantities than small dealers can, and in buying large quantities we get the lowest quotations, the benefit we divide with our customers. A man buying wheat by the car load buys it lower per bushel than he who buys only a single bushel.

BECAUSE All our purchases being made for cash, we get the benefit of a cash discount of from 5 to 10 per cent. This discount alone foots up in our business to from $9,000 to $10,000 per year. This is an item country dealers cannot get because they do not do business enough to warrant it.

BECAUSE We visit the eastern markets regularly four or five times a year, and buying right there many opportunities are offered to buy much, and at great sacrifice. These opportunities are never offered to country dealers because they have no facilities in small towns to sell large stocks.

ANOTHER REASON Why you should fare better by trading with us is—You have a larger and variety from which to make your selection. Probably ten times as large as you can find at home. This certainly affords you a better chance of all WELL PLEASED, IF NOTHING MORE.

ANOTHER REASON is, the stock we show you is newer and fresher, as stock goes more than you can find at home. Our goods sell rapidly. We are a rapidly growing, thriving business, and a house like ours is receiving new goods every week, while in a small business they sometimes carry stock for years. You run no chance of getting old shop worn goods when you buy from us.

SATISFY YOURSELVES of the advantages you receive by buying from us. Buy a round trip ticket and come and see us. We can save you money and do ourselves good at the same time. We ASK YOU TO TAKE the trouble to examine our stock, and learn our prices. WE KNOW IT IS YOUR INTEREST TO DO SO.

IN ORDER That every customer buying from us shall be thoroughly satisfied with the bargain we offer to do this: If after buying your goods and inspecting them at home, you have any cause to feel dissatisfied with your bargain, we will either exchange your goods or refund the money within 30 days after the purchase. We want to get your trade, and feel satisfied that if we do so you will come again.

JOHN N. MOCKETT,

Successor to C. R. MABLEY.

105 and 107 Summit St., TOLEDO, OHIO

A HANDSOME WEDDING, BIRTHDAY OR HOLIDAY PRESENT.

THE WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, or COUCH.

Price $7.00 and up; send stamp for Catalogue. 25 SHIPPED to all parts of the world.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES

All furnished with the Automatic Coach Brake, and Retailed at our Wholesale Prices. Send stamp for Catalogue.

THE LUBURG MANF'G CO., 145 N. 3rd St., Philada., Pa.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII—NO. 23. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 18, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1872

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

OVER 500

To select from. LATEST STYLES.

SHORT WRAPS.
NEWMARKETS.
PLUSH SACQUES.
JACKETS.

Misses and Children. ALL SIZES.

All marked at lowest possible prices.
Any Cloak a Bargain.
We are glad to show them.

The constant throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. Our stock was never so complete. Prices never so low. WE ARE NEVER UNDERSOLD.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Are prepared to make prompt deliveries of best grades of Coal, in lots of $1.00 and upwards.

Hard Coal, all sizes in Stock.

Jackson Hill---Springfield Mine,

Jackson Hill Cannell.

All our coal is carefully screened and we sell at the lowest market price. Telephone orders promptly delivered. We solicit your patronage.

Office and Yards Shawnee St., near L. S. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

COME AND SEE OUR

Men's Overcoats,
Boy's Overcoats,
Children's Overcoats,

COME AND SEE OUR

MEN'S SUITS,
BOY'S SUITS,
CHILDREN'S SUITS.

We can show a larger assortment and give lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Underwear, Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods in endless variety of style and quality.

STRONG & McNAIR.

Why Do You Pay

$35 to $50 for a Sewing Machine, when you can buy the Latest Improved and Most Costly Machine

Made of me for $25, $28 and $33.

I employ no agents, therefore it doesn't cost you $10 to $15 for a sub agent to look to you a couple of times. I SELL AT FACTORY PRICES.

15 New Home, Household, Singer and Royal St. John Machines.

Just sold and delivered to the following parties. This talks for itself that I have the best machines at the Lowest Prices.

Mrs. Benjamin Beevers, Raisin.
Adam Lucas, Devils Lake.
John Smith, Macon.
Geo. Wagoner, Clifton.
G. Metzger, City.
W. Simons, City.
Fred Brown, City.
Mrs. H. J. Williams, Raisin.
Ann Welch, City.
E. M. Lewis, Raisin Center.
J. Hendershot, Tecumseh.
M. DeLand, Jasper.
Mrs. Hannah Wheeler, Jasper.
Mr. Livesay, Madison.

Special attention paid to Repairing and Adjusting all makes of machines.

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.
OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Farmers are improving the fine weather in a grand shape.

[illegible] attendance at show meeting on Saturday night.

The Sunday evening service will begin hereafter at 6:30, sun time.

The carpenters are pushing the work on the elevator as fast as the weather will admit.

R. Cadmus has just completed a stone wall under the B. F. Reed house.

A good many went to Britton Saturday night to hear Dan T. Chamberlin, editor of the Record, speak on temperance, tariff and liquor reform. Without being partial, we think it the best talk on the tariff question we have heard this fall.

Mrs. R. H. Nellson and children spent Saturday with her sister Mrs. John Porrington of Dundee.

Allie Arner spent Friday and Saturday with Allie Judson of Raisin Center.

Editor Stacy of the Herald was in the village Friday evening shaking hands with friends.

G. W. Jackson and family spent Sunday with relatives and friends. He has moved to Tecumseh and will make it his home in the future unless he returns to R.

Mrs. T. H. Temple, Misses Ada Linn and Mary Osgood attended the W. F. M. convention held at Manchester last week, as delegates.

There is a young widower, not a hundred miles from the village, who takes a hot stone to bed these cold nights. It seems a little unnecessary when there are so many anxious widows within his grasp.

Mrs. Benjamin of Portland, Mich., State lecturer for the W. C. T. U., will address the citizens of the village and vicinity, on Thursday evening of next week, Nov. 25d., at Cottage Hall. Admittance free. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Don't forget the oyster and celery supper to be given at the church next Friday night. The ladies will serve supper from 5 to 9 P. M., and desire all their friends to take supper at the church instead of home. Supper 25cts; children under 12 years, 15cts. Come one, come all. By order of Com.

John Underwood, who has been sick for several weeks past, died Saturday at 5 o'clock P. M., at the age of 70 years 9 months. The funeral services were held at the church on Monday afternoon. Rev. Geo. Price conducted the services and there was a large turnout.

Harry Smith, our tinner, gave the citizens in the vicinity of his shop a racket one night last week until mid night. He was putting up furnace work for Hoxie & Co., at Holloway. There is no use of talking. Tink must make a noise.

ONSTED ODDS.

L. H. Sheeler has just been improving his farm by building Russells patent fence.

W. B. Lee drives a pair now, having exchanged an organ for a horse with Levi Williams.

Lena A. Reed is home from R. V. Seminary, on account of her mother's illness.

Sylvia A. Maxwell teaches in the Darling district, in Woodstock, this winter.

Several of our marksmen went to Rome Center last Saturday, to shoot glass balls.

Henry W. Daniels will commence his work next Monday as principal of a graded school at Ogden.

Onsted and Wemple are busy now a days unloading lumber, shingles, etc. They are putting in a good stock for the winter and spring trade.

Business seems lively here. Onsted merchants sell goods lower and pay more for produce than they do at many places.

We learn that Wilmer Knapp has returned to Marshall and will work on the M. & O. again. His household goods were shipped from here Monday.

As the holidays are now approaching we know of no article that will prove a more useful and acceptable present, than the "Wonderful Luburg Chair." Having over fifty changes, it can be adjusted to suit any position of the body, and being one of those wonderful contrivances it seems to please everybody. It is designed for the parlor, library, or as part furnishing of any room, as a reclining, smoking or invalids' use, lounge, bed or couch. Their prices are wonderfully low, about one half what other makers ask. Write for descriptive catalogue to the Luburg Manufacturing Co., 145 North Eighth St., Philadelphia, Pa.

MACON MUSIC.

Orange blossoms next week.

Geo. Parker is visiting his parents.

Flora Hendershot was the guest of Hattie Smith, Sunday.

[illegible] day, Genesee Co., are visiting friends.

Mrs. Odell and daughter of Ohio will spend the Winter at Frank Odell's.

Mrs. Milan Sage visited friends at Vermontville last week.

Augusta Austin is in Hillsdale.

Mrs. Wm. Pratt of Deerfield, who came to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Frost, returned home Sunday.

Ralph Mills will commence teaching in the Darling district, next Monday.

Wm. Pratt, Will Reed and Mrs. Bard of Deerfield, visited at John Frosts, Sunday.

Will Smith went to Chicago last week.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement.

JOHN FROST AND FAMILY.

Macon, Nov. 5, 1886.

WOULD IT PAY THE M. & O.

EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—Adrian wants a good railroad, running from the breezy north to the sunny south. Now, would it pay the M. & O. to fulfill their agitated scheme? Leaving out two or three of the certainties for an uncertainty—and while there might be a certain few, in Adrian that would be benefited, there are many more that might not, in fact might be disabled—a scheme to run a new road parallel with the old established Lake Shore, from Adrian to Toledo would be quite a scheme. If it took a more outward course, it must build up towns along the line to help support the road, consequently they would cripple Adrian's commercial trade. Does Adrian think because most railroad men are Free Masons, that they choose to run trains on a square corner cornering on Tipton? Why not lift the old road bed from Marshall, Battle Creek, or Allegan, and buy high-priced farming land from one of those points, to Toledo, via Adrian. If they will turn square corners, why not turn some of those cars of lumber and coal at Britton, Wabash Junction, and haul them direct into Adrian? Those roads are in harmony and sympathy with one another. Although a few of the enterprising men of Adrian, may prove successful in their schedule, we trust the talented M. & O. R. R. officials will give it "No cause of action."

CITIZEN.

DEMOREST'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE for December is indeed an elegant Christmas number. The fine oil picture, "Sledding," represents a snow scene in the time of the French Directory. It is a work of art worth several times the cost of the Magazine. The beautiful photo-engraving, "The Holy Mother," is exquisitely done, and appeals to every heart at this Christmas tide. "Across the Continent," by Jennie June, is profusely illustrated, the name of the author being enough to recommend it, as her graphic pen produces nothing but what is good. Demorest's Monthly is fortunate in having such an editress, for under her direction a magazine is produced that no lady can afford to be without, for it certainly contains the essentials of all others, being eminently a family magazine from which any lady can get all the information she may require on any subject, even to all the patterns she may wish to use during the year, as each number contains an order entitling the holder to a selection of any pattern in that number and in any size manufactured. This is the biggest $2.00 worth that can be found. The publisher is W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., N. Y.

A MERCHANT'S OPINION.

Mr. B. E. Nourse, General-Western Agent Royal Baking Powder Co., writes: "I have never found so great results from physicians' prescriptions and attendance upon our children, as I have after a few day's use of Papillon (extract of flax) Skin Cure. I cannot describe to you medically what it has done for us, but can say that years of treatment have not accomplished what Papillon has done after a few applications." Large bottles only $1.00.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the World for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. A. Wright & Co.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14, '86.

Some members of the Forty-fifth are already in Washington, others are on the way, and the legislative department of the Government will have arrived, and the legislative department of the Government will do some work for a session that will last just three months. There are indications that the session will open in boisterousness. The chairman of the house committee on appropriations, Mr. Randall, proposes to come soon and get things in readiness for the meeting of his committee, which is to take place, if a quorum can be brought together, on the 22nd. This is in order to have a bill ready to be reported at the opening of the session.

Hon. Mr. Hewitt says he is anxious to remain in Congress as long as possible. He would have preferred to carry out his work here, but the Mayoralty was forced upon him. He wants to push the Administrative Tariff bill to passage before he resigns, and had hoped to remain in his seat after he had taken the oath of office as Mayor, but by the Legislature of New York, a man cannot hold a federal and municipal office at the same time.

The so called police scandal of Washington has attracted considerable attention, and the President has taken hold of the matter. It is all about an alleged scheme of the city police to collect damaging facts about the private lives of Congressmen, with a view to forcing them to vote for appropriations for the District of Columbia. If the story is not exaggerated it affords insight into the demoralization of public affairs which has long existed in Washington.

The President's Boston trip seems to have done him good. He has been smiling and jovial ever since, and unusually gracious to his east room callers. His country home has a new name—"Oak View." It has been variously named by other people, but this time it is said to have been christened by the owner himself. Oak trees surround the house, and it commands a picturesque view in all directions.

The valuable relics formerly belonging to General Grant and bequeathed by the Vanderbilt estate to the Government, are now being classified at the National Museum, where they will soon be exhibited to the public. The collection was packed in fifteen large boxes, and will take a good deal of space when placed in glass cases.

And space is the desideratum now at the Museum. The director of the institution is loudly bewailing its wealth of resource and poverty of space, and says a new structure is an immediate and pressing necessity. In his annual estimates for the Museum, he asks Congress to appropriate $250,000 for this purpose, proposing to flank the Smithsonian building on the West as the present Museum flanks it on the east. The 100,000 feet of exhibition space in this building is found totally inadequate, and how to find room for the Government memento, and for the articles contributed by the Japanese Government, now on their way here, illustrating all the useful and ornamental arts of that curious people, are among the problems which the Museum authorities say they are unable to solve.

Thousands upon thousands of interesting objects, which are as truly a monument of popular education as any of those already exhibited, are prepared for display now, but they have to be main stored away in cellars, crypts and garrets. A number of wooden structures near by the Museum are also packed from floor to ceiling with rich materials which have not been touched by the curious. A hundred tons also of exhibits shipped from the Centennial Exposition ten years ago have never been unpacked.

The officers say it is not intended or possible to put on exhibition more than a fraction of the mass of materials which will be in their possession. Many of the exhibits will be but the duplicates of those held in reserve, which will remain packed with a view to economy of space and accessibility for study. The Museum has three principal sources of supply. 1st, By law all the collections made by the scientific bureaus of the Government, the geological, ethnological, coast survey, and fish Commission become the property of the Museum after they have served the original purposes of their collectors. 2nd, Foreign Museums, in all parts of the world send of their surplus in exchange for surplus material shipped abroad. and 3rd, private collectors donate the contents of their cabinets to an institution which is expected to have perfect facilities for study, comparison, and display. The current accessions are sufficient to fill a fifth museum every year.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

For Each Sabbath in 1886.

Lesson XIII. 3rd Quarter. Sabbath, Nov. 14.

WALKING IN THE LIGHT.

Golden Text.

John, 1, 5. "God is light, and in him is no darkness at all."

[illegible] 2:1, 2. [illegible] Ephesus.

John announces a message from Heaven, a message which he has received from Christ, that "God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all." What a beautiful truth is this. Light is the best possible type we have of God. Light is mysterious, it is the source of all health and life. Without it we cannot have life in plant or animal. Scientific attention is even now being turned to the sun in connection with recent earthquakes, and it is contended that the sun's heat is the primal force which is afterwards manifested in earthquake and volcano. The light of the sun is the harbinger of life and health, and yet also the most potent factor in the destructive forces of the earth. "God is light." In Him we have moral, intellectual light and life. Nothing can be hid from Him. He is perfectly cognizant of all things. He can enlighten the mind and instruct us and lead us in the way of all truth. "God is light."

We also hope to tell that if we walk in this light, in God, we shall have certain characteristics which will be an evidence of our thus walking in the light. "We shall have fellowship one with another." Fellowship is a good test of our communion with Christ. If we love Jesus we shall also love the brethren. If we carry envy, hatred and malice in our hearts toward those who profess His name, it will be good evidence that we are not walking in the light. And, then, "the blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sin." Here is still another test. Our sins will be washed away in the blood of the Lamb. We shall be thoroughly cleansed, so that our lives will be in full harmony with God, and we shall walk in His light.

In the next chapter John tells us that "if any man sin, we have an advocate with the father, Jesus Christ, the righteous: and he is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world." Herein is a glorious truth full of comfort and hope for humanity. If a man is a sinner, if he is walking in darkness, tumbling along the path way of life, he has an advocate with God, who is light. That advocate is the only begotten Son of God, who lives to intercede for us. It is the same blessed Master who lived in this world, who died on the cross, was buried, and the third day rose again from the dead; all of which facts John was cognizant of. His sacrifice on the cross was made for the sins of humanity: "He is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world." That blood atones for the whole human race.

John says that if we know God and walk in His light, we shall keep His commandments. Ecstasy of love and enjoyment is well enough, but there must be the daily walk in harmony with the law of God. We must keep His commandments. Thus shall we give another evidence that we are walking in His glorious light, and that we are His children. And God will bring us at last to eternal life.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Sin will keep you in darkness and error.

2. Open the windows of your soul and let the light in.

3. Let your life exemplify your charity.

4. A consistent number with God will make you more like Him.

AN INTERESTING HISTORICAL QUESTION.

Did Washington the Father of his Country eat green peas with a knife? The last number of the Magazine of American History contains this item for the subject:

The following extract is taken from the "Elementary History of the United States," by G. P. Quackenbos. "Site The author has not shown enough in repeating an absurd story about an attempt to poison Gen. Washington in June, 1776, which has no foundation, but he is also guilty of accusing the great hero of eating green peas with a knife.

"Fixing his eyes upon the guilty man, he ate a spoonful of the plate, and asked him, 'Sir, [illegible] I don't know, sir,' stuttered the man, turning deadly pale. Washington took some on his knife, and again asked, 'Shall I eat of these?' The man could not say a word, but raised his hand as if to prevent it."

It is interesting also to note that this history has been adopted by the authorities of the city of Brooklyn for use in their schools.

MINER.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
Issued Every Thursday Morning
BY E. C. STACY.
Office in the new brick building one door south of the post office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy, one year, in advance, $1 50
Six months, " " 75
Four months, " " 50
Twenty-five cents will be added to the subscription price if payment be not made within three months from the date of subscription.

Special notices, 10c. per line for first insertion.
Rates for regular advertisements made known upon application at the office.
Address all communications to the publisher, Tecumseh, Mich.
Entered at the post office at Tecumseh, Mich., as second class matter.

Turkeys are advised to raise high during the next two weeks.

Loafing men, who are anxious to strike, should remember that there is a long winter just ahead.

Polls are mixed and no mistake. Bourbon, in Kentucky, was carried by the prohibitionists at the last election.

President Cleveland's very sensible speech at Hartford appears to be very generally commended by the press.

Two postoffices were discontinued in this county last week, because the incumbents failed to collect the pay [illegible]

[illegible] Walter [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

In no two instances in the union were as many changes made in offices as in this county. [illegible] and yet to show no injury to the public service.

[illegible]

Turkeys are advised to raise high during the next two weeks.

Loafing men, who are anxious to strike, should remember that there is a long winter just ahead.

Polls are mixed and no mistake. Bourbon, in Kentucky, was carried by the prohibitionists at the last election.

President Cleveland's very sensible speech at Hartford appears to be very generally commended by the press.

Two postoffices were discontinued in this county last week, because the incumbents failed to collect the pay [illegible]

[illegible] Walter [illegible]

[illegible]

In no two instances in the union were as many changes made in offices as in this county. [illegible] and yet to show no injury to the public service.

[illegible]

Arrangements are in progress for the reception of Gen. Custer's remains.

A fine political fight is brewing in Indiana. The Democrats have a majority of one on joint ballot in the legislature, but the Republicans hold the house. They have instituted contests in three districts, with a view of ousting three Democrats. The latter retaliate by beginning contests in six Senatorial districts. But as the house is the more numerous body it would seem that the Republicans have the side track.

California got awfully mauled up at the late election. It is now certain that Bartlett, Democrat, is elected Governor by about 500 majority. Temple, Democrat, has over 12,000 majority for Supreme Judge, and the Democrats have the legislature by a large majority. The Republicans elect Lieut-Governor, Surveyor General, State Treasurer, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Controller and Clerk of the Supreme Court by majorities ranging from 500 to 6,000. The independent voter of the Golden State gave both the old parties a wholesome jacketing.

The Chicago Herald says: Instead of being afraid of this question, in its adoption and enthusiastic advocacy by the Democratic party lies the one chance of that organization to secure the much sought for labor vote. This cause is now practically alone. The economic [illegible] which exist [illegible] know that a [illegible] grievances, but are [illegible] of sure as to the cause thereof. [illegible] the [illegible] intelligent workingman is led to believe that the tariff that the trouble with this country to-day is overtaxation and restriction of markets. If the Democratic party would escape a hopeless fight it must have a principle. The Democratic party will have one by that time.

One of the good effects of Mrs. Cleveland's influence in the President is said to be his recent willingness to cease work at nightfall and thus accompany his wife to dinner parties or theatres, where the dull and wearing routine of work is forgotten. Prior to the marriage residents of the capital could see the light burning in his room until far into the night or morning, where, with no one but the faithful Lamont of Manning to aid him, he zealously sought to familiarize himself with his duties. But all that is changed now, and the beneficial effect of the new order of things is apparent. To the best of her ability Mrs. Cleveland has held to the policy she had in view when she said: "Two circuits make one illness." The hopeful struggle she is making to divert her husband's official cares with the close of his official hours, is only another evidence of her strong common sense, and it is one of the reasons also, why men who know what over work is, are tempted to exclaim in the rich, unstinted vocabulary of their college days: "Rah for Mrs. Cleveland." Philadelphia Times.

THE REAL LESSON.

President Cleveland should not, and judging from his firmness in the past will not, give up one inch of the ground already [illegible] the cause of Civil-Service Reform. The men to whom politics is simply office-seeking and government merely office filling are saying that the Democratic losses in the elections they [illegible] to the President's adherence to the Civil-Service Reform system. And they renew their appeal to him to abandon it.

The allegation upon which this appeal is based is not true. So far as the [illegible] are concerned the people know [illegible] and are well satisfied with it. It embodies pretty much the only principle with which the President has succeeded in clearly identifying himself, and he would be very foolish to abandon it as we are glad to believe he has no intention of doing. A reasonable extention of the principle to offices above the subordinate grade covered by the law would have been equally approved by the people had it been made with the intent in view of correcting the partizan character given to the public service by the Republicans and filling the political offices with capable and honored Democrats. The rule laid down by Jefferson in his letter to Levi Lincoln, a long night have served as his safe guide.

I think our original plan as to offices is the best, that is, to divide the remaining of a first share of the offices upon deaths, resignations and delinquencies. This is rather a slow operation, for it is sure. By these means [illegible] a fair share in the transaction of the public business equal to [illegible] other sections for the [illegible] Every effort of the opposition will be made at the elections [illegible] to his obedience, but we [illegible] patronage to be used to [illegible] purposes.

But the lesson to the President is clear. Let him remove and appoint no more office seekers without [illegible] He proved the plan in one State and quite another in other States. He has appointed men to important offices, at home and abroad, not because they were representative Democrats, nor because they showed any special fitness for the position, but because he or some one near him happened to fancy them. Certain features of his policy have repeated the personal government of President Grant's first term, without the latter's amiable excuse of taking care of his friends. President Cleveland has yielded to his friends what Grant gave to his friends.

And yet the disaffection of the office seekers and the disappointment of the rank and file at the predominance of the Mugwump influence and the queer personnel of the Administration would have all been wiped out and have counted for nothing if, as we have said, the President had met the expectations of the people as to the general results of the change, and had shown a generous sympathy with the aims of his party and a purpose to give effect to its ideas. Had President Cleveland taken hold of and throttled the Republican rings and reformed the abuses engendered by twenty-five years of Republican rule, as Gov. Tilden throttled the Tweed-Tammany Ring and the Canal Ring and reformed the abuses in this city and at Albany, does anybody doubt that the Democrats would have swept the country at the recent elections? It is because of what has not been done, rather than of what has been done, that the disappointment came which led to Democratic apathy and abstention from voting.

The Democrats are still alive and as numerous as ever. All that is needed is a leader to arouse their enthusiasm and stir their zeal. Is it too late for the President to improve his great opportunity? N. Y. World.

The Toledo Bee of the 3d inst. has the following: "To-day was the time fixed for the sale of the Michigan & Ohio Railroad, by Major Goodspeed as Master Commissioner in the case of Wm. B. Howard and the Central Trust Company of New York, complainants. The order provided that the road be sold as an entirety without appraisal and for not less than $1,000,000. The first mortgage bonds amounted to $2,750,000. At noon the property was offered and bid in by Attorney A. M. Scott for Frederick P. Olcott, Samuel Thomas and R. F. Wilson, the purchase committee for the bondholders, for $1,000,000. The bid was accompanied by $50,000 in bonds and $12,000 cash, as provided by the order.

What changes in the management the purchase will lead to is not yet known."

It is worthy of note that of the delegation from Michigan in the Fiftieth Congress, seven—Chapman, Allen, Ford, Brewer, Tarsney, Fisher and Moffatt—are natives of the State. This is the largest proportion of native Congressmen that has been upon any of the delegations from the State. Michigan has turned her fiftieth milepost. She is getting along in years. Her sons are maturing and doing her great credit. Michigan's seven native Congressmen and native United States Senator, most of them born in the State in the days when she was just emerging from the Territorial condition, honor the State of their nativity. Detroit Free Press.

CONDENSED WISDOM IN B.

Be just, but not trust everyone.
Be timely wise, rather than wise in time.
Beware of too much wise.

Beauty is more commended than proved.
Bear your misfortunes with fortitude.
Be honest is the best policy.
Business is the salt of life.
Beauty is the soul of wit.

[illegible]

Be wilful of the gear when the approaches.
Better a small fire than an empty house.
Business neglected is business lost.
Be active for idleness is the bane of the mind.

[illegible]

Better be alone than in bad company.
Better to be outright than ill-sight.
Bad books are the fountain of vice.
Books alone can never teach the use of books.

[illegible]

Beware of man who regards not his word.
Believe after trial and judge before confidence.
Beware not to claim kin to folks.
By your acts prove your faith.

MICHIGAN CROP REPORT, NOV. 1, 1888.

For the past two months have been received from the county correspondents reporting the crops. Fall ploughing is now in progress in the southern four tiers of counties.

The weight of the prevailing bushel of wheat of the crop of 1888 is for the most part of 60 pounds.

The area seeded to wheat this fall has been the largest ever sown, and in the southern four tiers of counties [illegible] per cent more than in 1887, and in the [illegible] of corn exceeds two per cent more than seeded in 1887, notwithstanding an [illegible] in the State of quite [illegible]

The condition of wheat November 1st was 98, the highest being with vigorous and growth an average [illegible] In the [illegible] the condition was [illegible] full average and in the northern counties about five per cent above an average. In 1887, the condition November 1st, in the State, was 96, in 1886, 106, in 1885, 88, and in 1884, 92 per cent of an average. Damage by Hessian fly is reported from 25 of the 38 counties in the southern four tiers.

Reports have been received of the quantity of wheat marketed by farmers during the month of October at 255 elevators and mills. Of these 217 are in the southern four tiers of counties, which is fifty-one per cent of the whole number of elevators and mills in these counties. The total number of bushels reported marketed is 1,316,588, of which 396,360 bushels were marketed in the first or southern tier of counties; 332,658 bushels in the second tier; 228,843 bushels in the third tier; 827,317 bushels in the fourth tier; and 121,471 bushels in the counties north of the southern four tiers. At 31 elevators and mills, or 12 per cent of the whole number from which reports have been received, there was no wheat marketed during the month.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in three months, August—October, is 4,470,181.

Corn will yield in the State about thirty bushels per acre. This is perhaps below the average in seasons of less drouth, but the quality is excellent and the proportion of soft corn less than usual.

Horses, cattle, sheep and swine are generally reported in "good, healthy and thrifty condition."

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., D. D. S., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. Today my health is completely restored.—Mary Hardy, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Jackson, 385 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Renews Her Youth.

"Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: 'I was troubled with kidney complaint and dizziness for many years, could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and dizziness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters, for having renewed my youth, and, [illegible] Try a bottle, only 50c. at A. Wirth & Co.

"I passed some 'queer' and here I am in prison, all on account of it," he sighed.

For Lung Troubles and Wasting Diseases.

Dr. J. Simonath, New Orleans, La., says: "Scott's Emulsion is the finest preparation of the kind, ever brought to my notice. In affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we may consider it our most reliable agent. In a perfectly elegant and agreeable form."

A tale of youth, maiden and farther—Scene one: gate. Scene two: gatter. Scene three: gat.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. Royal Baking Powder Co., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

THE

ELDREDGE

"B"

SEWING MACHINE with Automatic Self-threading Cylinder Shuttle.

No. 8.

The ELDREDGE "B" is sold with the guarantee of being the BEST that can be MADE.

AGENTS WANTED.

ELDREDGE MANUFACTURING CO.

363 and 365 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

65c. FOR A FEW WEEKS, [illegible] Dollar Volumes Given Away [illegible] ROYAL HOMES Cor. Rochester, N. Y.

Closing Out Sale!

A Large Stock to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 22d.

In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers, And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

Boots & Shoes!

The LARGEST STOCK

Ever Shown in Tecumseh.

"Rock BOTTOM Prices."

A LARGE CROMO

12x14, given away with every Pair of Shoes.

JOE. WILSON.

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.—Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Successors to

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

Simple in its application, yet effectual. This almost universal disease can be cured in a few days from May to October that at any other part of the year and in all climates it may be driven out of the system in a reasonable number of weeks. If your druggist does not have it, send $1 to the proprietors, Address HAZELTINE & PERKINS, DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Toledo Business College

Board and room $2.50 per week. Penmanship, Book-keeping, Business Correspondence, Shorthand, Typewriting, Mathematics and English Branches thoroughly taught. No special vacation required to enter. Actual Business Department a prominent feature of the school. No vacation. Special rates for teachers from 20th December. Catalogues sent free. W. H. DAVIS, B. C., President and Proprietor, Toledo, Ohio.

Sale !

IRE

T,

after that time
ness, known
d would stomers,
or me with a

opportunity.

TEY

hoes !

STOCK

mseh.

Prices."

OMO

r of Shoes.

SON.

TURE !

tock of Furni
nything in my
Come with a
at my prices,
r 12 yrs. in the
. McCOWEN.

INC!

nd to this im-
night or day.
orant persons
d immediately
are very reas-

EN.

& CO..

Co..

and Doors

ERIAL.
g to Order.
pot.

GAN.

REMEDY.
Simple in its application, yet effectual.
that at any other point of the other cities thoro $n and trial bottle free. Your Grand Rapids, Mich.

ollege
ss correspondence, short-
ng. No special respite of the school. No vacs sent free.
rprietor, Toledo, Ohio.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS Its causes and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf 28 years. Treated by Dr. Nicholson, 853 Broadway, New York. Cured himself in three months, and has cured hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE? If you have not Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use WOLFE'S TONIC without delay. It has cured many who were thought to be hopelessly in decline. It promotes a healthy appetite and induces sound, refreshing sleep, ridding the system of all impurities from whatever source derived, and strengthening and invigorating against disease, and slowly drifting to the grave, will in most cases recover their health by the timely use of Fellows's Tonic, but delay is dangerous. Take it now if you feel the first symptoms of Consumption, Cold settling on the lungs, Cough, Night Sweats, Loss of Flesh, Pleurisy, Pain in Side, Back or Limbs, Fever, Chills, Nervous Prostration, Want of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Jaundice, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Low Spirits, Nervous Irritability, Poor Blood, Shortness of Breath, Palpitation of the Heart, Hot Flashes, Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Dry Skin, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Consumption of Bowels, Kidney Complaint, Dropsy, Diabetes, Stone and Gravel, Diseases of Bladder, Female Complaints, Sick Headache, Fever and Ague, Ague in the Face, Chronic Diarrhœa, Piles, Constipation, Worms, Tapeworm, Mercurial Disease, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Blood Taints, Poisons, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Consumption of Bowels, Kidney Complaint, Dropsy, Diabetes, Stone and Gravel, Diseases of Bladder, Female Complaints, Sick Headache, Fever and Ague, Ague in the Face, Chronic Diarrhœa, Piles, Constipation, Worms, Tapeworm, Mercurial Disease, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Blood Taints, Poisons, Impurities of the Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fever, Female Weakness, Nervous Prostration, Want of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Jaundice, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Low Spirits, Nervous Irritability, Poor Blood, Shortness of Breath, Palpitation of the Heart, Hot Flashes, Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Dry Skin

Tecumseh Herald

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

ABOUT PROHIBITION.

The obstacles to the temperance reform are many and varied, but the most [illegible] unfriendly and sometimes hostile attitude of some of our clergymen towards prohibition.

We are not surprised at the bitterness of a profane politician towards [illegible]

[illegible] first, an alcohol believer and expounder of the Word of God to oppose a law that closes up liquor saloons, which the Bible [illegible] exploit in deponencing drinking and drunkenness is astonishing, and can be reconciled on no other ground than that the clerical brother was never soundly converted. "Ye must be born again."

Again, for a professed [illegible] to advocate licensing liquor saloons, when he knows that their existence will make [illegible] paupers and criminals, which he knows is at infinite [illegible] Wisdom has taught [illegible] who when it is not [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Republicans [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. Rolt. Bar [illegible] Monday from a visit [illegible] where she attended a family reunion [illegible] Hendrix and wife, who have [illegible] together sixty three years. Thomas Hendrix and wife who have been married 65 years and their sister, Mrs. Susan Monroe, of Ohio aged 84 years, the combined ages of the five being 410 years. Mrs. Barker may congratulate herself on belonging to a long lived family. The father was killed in a mill at 45 years of age. The mother died at 90. William 75, J. S. and Susan are hale and hearty at 86 and 84 respectively, and Mrs. Barker's mother died last winter at 81 years. Thomas works on his farm every day aged 80 years, and two brothers living in the western part of the state are aged 77 and 75 years.

[illegible] ministers, and Howard Crosby, who misrepresents prohibition and clamors for license in spite of all these obstacles, prohibition is moving on with a colossal tread unheard of before its like an army with banners—on to victory. The saloons must go. The great mass of citizens regard the liquor business as an unmitigated nuisance, the saloon as a dangerous institution, the hot bed and headquarters of anarchists, dynamiters, and all that's vile.

In former days the moral and religious energies of our country were divided between slavery and the liquor traffic, happily the former has substantially passed away, leaving the latter alone as the Richmond of our woes, that will soon have to submit to an unconditional surrender. The saloons must go.

The country is wearied with license, for it is a fraud in theory and a failure in practice, and next to an impossibility to comply with its requirements and do business, especially that relating to minors and persons of intemperate habits. It has no support from Christian people, hence in many cities it's a dead letter.

How different prohibition. It is easy of execution, and has proved to be here in Kansas a magnificent success, and gone far beyond the most sanguine expectations of its ardent advocates.

[illegible] question. The talk [illegible] vote prohibition for it can never be enforced, can no longer [illegible] weapon to frighten persons from voting for a candidate friendly to constitutional amendments and [illegible] to enforce the same.

It has been our lot to [illegible] Kansas for ten years, all through the temperance struggle during the last four years, and we have to say that we have been agreeably surprised at the temperance case prohibition has been enforced. In our city of Topeka, with its thirty thousand souls, there has been much bitterness and appears to society in an irreverant manner but no loss of blood or life. In one part of our city we had seventeen saloons in swa hooks, of a desperate character. They have all disappeared. And when we know what has been done we do not despair of successful prohibition in any part of North America, not excepting New York city. At one time we had about fifty saloons in full blast. They were closed by law. Twenty three of their proprietors were in jail at one time. They were not pleased at the accommodation nor county bill of fare. After serving their sentences they, one by one, quietly folded their tents and silently stole away.

J. L. E[illegible]

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 2d.

The pesky flies are no more.

READINGS AND RECITATIONS.

Emma D. Lemon, graduate of the Boston school of Elocution and Expression of Indianapolis, will give humorous, pathetic and dramatic [illegible] House, next Thursday evening Thanksgiving night. She will be assisted by Miss Mattie B. Chillson, violinist of Boston, and also a pianist, and in addition will give tableaux of G. A. R. badges. Emma D. Lemon is [illegible] entertainment of which [illegible] people will enjoy, and the fact of its being on a holiday evening will undoubtedly insure her a good house. Admission, 25cts, children, [illegible]

[illegible] following very flattering press notices:

Never did an Elyria audience enjoy a finer entertainment than that given by Mrs. Emma D. Lemon at the Opera House, last Thursday night. This gifted lady evidently believes in attaining the highest possible place in her profession as an elocutionist, and we have heard many express great pleasure and surprise at the improvement made by her since she last appeared before an Elyria audience, eclipsing all her previous efforts by a display of elocutionary ability which entitles her to a position among the leading artists of the day. Mrs. Lemon enters fully and intelligently into the spirit of her readings and recitations, and it would be a very pecunia[illegible] audience which her entertainments did not afford an evening of unalloyed and beautiful pleasure and recreation. The Republican wishes her large and appreciative audiences wherever she [illegible]

The most difficult recitation of the evening was "Searching for the Slain," by Emma D. Lemon. It is full of dramatic situations which tests the powers of any lady to portray the subject. [illegible] showed that she [illegible] perfect, and was equal to all its emotions. [illegible] Indianapolis Sentinel.

[illegible]

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.

The December Number of this favorite family magazine closes the 20th volume. The opening article is "A Moravian Village," by Lieut. H. R. Lemly U. S. A., who describes sympathetically the village of Salem, N. C. Mr. Powell's fifth number of "Leaves from My Life" deals with Lord Beaconsfield, "Barry Cornwall" and Alfred Domett. This leaf is very fully illustrated. Other profusely illustrated articles are: "Zanibar, and Mission Work There"; "Symbols of Christian Art," by F. S., surely a woman; "William Penn" and "Pharaoh's Palace of Daphnæ Tahpanhes, Egypt." This last is the latest important discovery by the Egypt Exploration Society. "How Virtue Triumphed" is a pleasant short story by Mrs. Angeline E. Alexander, and "Some Famous Paintings by Raphael" shows three of the great master's works in outline. "The Gems She Wore" is continued. There is plenty of miscellany in the shape of short articles and sketches, and several very beautiful full page reproductions of paintings by well known artists.

DETROIT

WE WANT YOUR TRADE.

Our object in advertising is to induce those who are not our REGULAR CUSTOMERS to give our House a Trial. OUR SUCCESS is partly owing to the fact that WE HOLD OUR TRADE. Do not need any stronger proof of the uniformity and always reliable quality of our goods. In Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, Bronzes, Art Pottery, Novelties in Jewelry, and Fancy Goods, we show a magnificent stock at correct prices.

WRIGHT, KAY AND CO.

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS.

DETROIT, MICH.

BOUND TO LEAD!

SUTTON, FAIRFIELD & CO.

STILL to the FRONT.

BARGAINS!
BARGAINS!
BARGAINS!

Our motto is to give the people

A BENEFITE

WHEN YOU CAN.

Do not wait for the season to pass away. Give them good goods cheap in the season, not when the season is over, when goods are not cheap at any price.

We Beg to Extend a Cordial Invitation

To every one to call and inspect our

Magnificent Stock

OF STAPLE AND FANCY

DRY GOODS, MANTLES, Etc.

And get our Prices.

Ask to see our Dress Goods!

And see what great drives we are giving. A special line of 3 3-4c worth 10c. See them.

See our Ginghams at 5 3-4c.
See our Standard Prints at 4 1-2c worth 8c.

COTTONS, COTTONS, AWAY DOWN.

Mantles, Cloaks, Etc.

In this department we do excel. In fact, for assortment, prices, and stylish garments in ladies Wraps and Newmarkets, and also Children's Garments, we defy competition. Space is not large enough to give you a full list of our special prices, so please call and become convinced that we mean what we say.

ONE and ALL

CORDIALLY INVITED TO CALL.

No Trouble to Show Goods!

Inspection Invited

YOURS RESPECTFULLY,

SUTTON, FAIRFIELD & CO.

WE INVITE ALL

In search of BARGAINS in

CLOTHING,

To give us a call. We give satisfaction to every

Its human nature to want to

GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH.

We will sell you Clothing better in quality, lower in price, than any other dealer in Southern Michigan.

COME AND SEE US.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

The Utica Palace King

THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.

Steel Radiators, Sectional Fire Pot, Estimates Promptly Furnished. When in want of a heating or cook stove, do not forget THE GARLAND.

They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success. THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

DON'T FOOL

Your time away looking at small stocks of Clothing. Come where you can get an assortment at prices lower than ever before. Hundreds of

SUITS AND OVERCOATS!

To select from. We are selling stacks of Clothing.

One Price & Plain Figures

PLEASE THE PEOPLE.

"It is the only way to buy goods" is the verdict of our customers. Come and see our prices. You can read them. It will pay you to trade at

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S

ADRIAN, MICH.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so long established, having such a large circulation, and being so ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of this Continent. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who allows no influence of Party or Politics to tamper with its columns. It is the Independent and Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority on AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, APIARY, VETERINARY, &c. and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and rational amusement for old and young. This Journal, which is now about to enter its 22d year of publication, is issued on or about the 1st of each month and consists of 36 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price, $1.00 per annum in advance. Subscribe AT ONCE AND GET THE ALMANAC OF 1886 FREE. Active agents wanted in every Township. Sample copy free.

ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

ALL

NS in

N G, tion to every want to

RTH,

quality, lower alter in

US.

OS

ERS,

e King

NACES.

They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success.

THE ROUND OAK stillleads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

& BOYD.

OOL

ocks of Cloth-
n assortment before.

OATS!

of Clothing.

Figures

OPLE.

customers. Come and you to trade at

OOD'S

ELL.

AN,

awee Co. has mes' block, in the rder.

ld as cheap as the ce.

GATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to FARMERS' ADVOCATE and which from being so long circulation, and being so rmers' Paper of this Con- g experience, who allows us. It is the Independent ATE is a very high authority, ARMY, VETERINARY, d rational amusement for of publication, is issued on luable reading matter for ONGS AND GET THE BAR- e copy free. don, Ont., Canada.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NEW HOUSE FOR SALE ON TIME. A. W. SLAYTON.

A SHROPSHIRE RAM—Full blood, for sale cheap. Call at my farm in Raisin. J. B. COLVIN.

HOGS—Apply at once to A. W. SLAYTON.

CABBAGE, CABBAGE—Premium Flat Dutch, the best cabbage grown for kraut or winter use. For sale cheap in large or small quantities. ABNER WILSON.

LOST—ST. BAY HOUND PUPPY, 3 months old, brown and white; this dog ten months old, with a black leather collar about his neck. Any one taking the dog to the owner will be rewarded. [illegible]

FOR SALE OR RENT—A nice city house and barn, and 4 acres of land will be sold at a bargain. Within 15 minutes walk from post office. Enquire of J. S. KINNEY'S STORE, Adrian, Mich.

H. H. Chapin, of Adrian, was in town yesterday.

Emma D. Lemon at the Opera House Thanksgiving night.

Read H. E. Anderson's announcement of a grand coffee festival.

Remember the meeting in the Opera House next Monday evening.

The Star Lecture Course in Adrian opens with 950 season tickets sold.

David Phelps is shaking hands with his old Tecumseh friends this week.

Enjoy Thanksgiving evening by attending the entertainment at the Opera House.

Strong & McNair have a new card in to-day's paper, which should be read and pondered.

Miss Allie Perkins is teaching a Kindergarten school at Hudson which is said to be very successful.

The damages on the Connell Building by the recent fire have been adjusted and the loss fixed at $[illegible].

A new hose tower is being built on the engine house, in place of the one recently blown down. It will be several feet higher.

The young people of the M. E. church had a very pleasant social at W. Anderson's last Friday evening, which was largely attended.

Several sprigs of sweet smelling flags were left on our table Wednesday by Mrs. Lafever. Is this spring? Blissfield Advance. No. It's a whopper. Hudson Gazette.

Miss Emma D. Lemon will give one of her popular entertainments at the Opera House Thanksgiving evening, consisting of readings and recitations. Admission 25cts, children 15cts.

The ladies of the M. E. church gave their regular monthly supper last evening, and notwithstanding the rainy night, the attendance was very creditable.

A musical social under the auspices of the young people of the M. E. church will be held at the residence of Dr. R. B. House, on Wednesday evening next, Nov. 24th.

Mr. Fred Chiverall and Will were called to Detroit, last Saturday, on account of the serious illness of Miss Ella. She was brought home Tuesday and is now improving.

Hudson has a gem picture concern which is becoming notorious for casting shadows on the Sabbath day. The operator should be compelled to take a negative from the village council, and pose himself outside the corporation by the instantaneous process.—Addison Courier.

We call special attention to Cloaks this week. Over 200 garments sold during the past month. Our large sales, and the daily throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. We are never undersold.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Many of the shoes George is selling now are felt. A pair of shoes we bought last winter and left in the office for the summer, are not felt now, and never will be, by us, again. Our memory reverts to the tramp printer who left us before the ides of November were here. He took with him a load of sorrow at the separation, also our shoes.—Hudson Gazette.

The Masonic hall, of Tecumseh, is undergoing a thorough renovation and repairing. The walls will be handsomely papered and decorated, and the wood work painted. The Lodge is also making arrangements to lay an elegant new carpet. When the improvements are completed the Masonic brethren will have one of the nicest halls in the village.

The removal of George Knapp to Mount Pleasant has made it necessary to procure a new leader for the Cornet Band. Mr. C. F. Skinner, who organized the Ypsilanti band and who has lately led the Palmyra band, has been offered the position and it is hoped he may be induced to accept. He is a superior musician and is well qualified for the place.

We regret that George Knapp has concluded to leave town. He has gone into the furniture business at Mt. Pleasant, Isabella Co., and will make that place his future home. George was the popular leader of Knapp's Band and had brought that organization to a high state of efficiency. Although his friends here will regret to lose him, they will join with the HERALD in wishing him the best of success in his new home.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. 18, 1886

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Bank up the cellar windows.

Get your cutter repainted and ready for the snow.

Mrs. Frank Muir of Clifton, was in town Monday.

Put up your storm doors and banks the coming week.

Bert Morey, who is attending Clinton, this home at present, was in town Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. [illegible] were in Adrian on Monday last.

Doctors Kapp and Sheldon, of Manchester, were in town on business last Monday.

Thomas Madill, the genial traveling man for Jas. E. Davis & Co., Detroit, was in town the first of the week.

Ab Wilson sold over three thousand head of cabbages last week, and it was not an extra cabbage week either.

Mr. J. D. Winterstein, of Farmer Village, Seneca Co., N. Y., has been spending a few days with his son Frank Winterstein.

The amount of Lenawee county's apportionment of the primary school fund is $7,924 12 and the number of school children within its borders 14,152.

Mrs. Chas. Kiel and Mrs. Allen, who have been the guests of Mrs. John Huck for the past week, left for their respective homes yesterday morning.

There will be no meeting this week, Friday afternoon, of the Tecumseh W. C. T. U. on account of the county convention. Next week's meeting at half past two, Friday P. M., in Reform Club Hall.

The new time card on the Jackson Branch went into effect last Monday. The noon train North passes this station one hour earlier than before. On all other trains the change is but trifling.

James H. Small has bought a farm three miles from St. Louis, Mich., and will move up there next week. His friends in Macon will regret to have him leave but will wish him success in his new field of labor.

Brown's Business University, of Adrian, is booming right along since the proprietor moved into his new and elegant rooms. Twelve new students have entered within the past three weeks and many more are expected soon.

Mrs. R. A. Bailey, of Hastings, president of the 3rd Dist. W. C. T. U., made a very pleasing and able address to a good audience last Sunday P. M. at the temperance meeting held in the Opera House by our W. C. T. U. ladies. People who attend these meetings always feel well paid from the fact that our ladies are very particular to secure only able and interesting speakers.

Mrs. A. S. Benjamin, of Portland, Mich., president of the 5th District W. C. T. U., will speak here in the Opera House next Monday evening, Nov. 22nd, at 7:30, under the auspices of the Tecumseh union. Mrs. Benjamin will be remembered by those who had the pleasure of hearing her when here last spring during the 2nd District convention. They will all be glad to hear her again and will take pleasure in extending a notice of the meeting to their friends.

Beers Post, G. A. R., have been engaged quite extensively of late in the "surprise party" business. Last Thursday evening about fifty members of the Post waited on Seth Sheldon, of Newburg, and passed a delightful evening. A comrade in describing the affair said: "It was a big one on Sheldon, you should have heard him call for Ella, his wife." On Monday evening last nearly as many came down upon Thomas Wyrill's residence. Although taken by storm Mr. and Mrs. Wyrill proved themselves fully equal to the occasion.

We have received from the publishers, Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago, their "Pocket Atlas of the World," which contains, in small space, valuable information on almost every conceivable topic relating to the geography, physical features and commercial progress of the world. It contains 161 pages, ninety of which are occupied by full page maps, accurately setting forth the topography of the entire Globe; while the remaining pages are replete with information, general and statistical, of great value. It is, in fact, a condensed cyclopedia of geography and statistics, and we know of no work on any subject containing so much information in so small a space. The size is 3¾x5½ inches, it is neatly bound in flexible, tinted covers, and, most remarkable of all, it is sold for 25cts. We confess our astonishment that it can be made profitable to the publishers at this price.

The "Temple Builders" of the Baptist church will hold a bazaar and supper in the chapel parlors Friday, November 26th.

Miss Libbie Robinson, the chief clerk at the postoffice, is taking a [illegible] Cleveland, Ohio.

At the annual election of the Star Mountain Mining Co., held last week in Ann Arbor, Geo. Heston, of Tecumseh, was chosen a member of the Board of Advisory Directors.

[illegible] coming quite noted as a lecturer. The St. Thomas papers, only blot Gough's successor. His dates are all filled from now until the 27th of next [illegible]

Mrs. A. S. Benjamin, who speaks here next Monday evening has a national reputation as a temperance worker and is a very able and interesting speaker. All who hear her will feel well paid.

Harvard College, at the celebration of their two hundred and fiftieth anniversary, conferred the honorary degree of L. L. D. upon Judge Thomas M. Cooley, of this city. This is a most distinguished honor. Ann Arbor Argus.

We have just issued a new form of record cards for use in country schools. It is the best form we have ever seen for keeping an accurate record of the attendance and class standing of each pupil. They exactly meet a long felt want.

E. J. Smith, who has been seriously ill at Kalamazoo, has partially recovered and has returned to his old home in Deerfield to recuperate for a few days. We sincerely hope he may soon be restored to perfect health. Bro. Smith is needed in the ranks of journalism somewhere.

We are very glad to learn that Miss Clara Hayden has been improving daily since last Sunday, and unless some unforseen relapse should take place, her early recovery seems to be assured. It will be some time, however before she can indulge in equestrian exercise again.

The Re-Union is the title of a new paper just started at Sparta, Michigan, in the interest of the Grand Army organization. It is a neat six col. folio, published monthly and sold for fifty cents a year. Judging from the initial number it will be a very readable paper for the "old soldier boys."

Miss Lula Monaghan started last Friday for Los Angeles, Cal., where she will make an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Pitzer, nee Janie Monaghan. She took the Lake Shore to Chicago, thence by the Rock Island route to Kansas City, from there via the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe to Los Angeles. She expected to arrive in the latter city yesterday afternoon.

Church suppers are becoming decidedly fashionable in this town. The supper at Armory Hall last week Wednesday evening by the ladies of St. Peters church eclipsed their highest expectations. On Thursday evening the Presbyterian ladies gave a supper at their church which was another surprise. It was one of the most numerously attended suppers ever given in the church.

An exchange warns its readers to beware of the following swindle: A young man is traveling about the country selling watches on the installment plan. The single payment of $2 on delivery is bait that is easily swallowed but before the party is for any length of time in possession, a confederate comes along, claims the watch as stolen, proves his assertion by giving the number of the time piece and takes it away.

The whole world has bought and read the "Personal Memoirs" of Gen. Grant, and now following upon this we have the announcement of the publication of the "Personal Memoirs" of Gen. Lee. This is as it should be, for it will bring up for comparison and criticism the individual histories of these two great military chieftains, who, like Greek meeting Greek, led the opposing hosts in the final struggles of the great rebellion. Gen. Lee's Memoirs will be issued in one volume, but it will contain more matter than both volumes of Gen. Grant's memoirs, as the pages are much larger. The price will also be very low, and the indications are that the sales will be the largest ever known for any book published in this country. One house above has contracted for 125,000 copies, and the publishers expect to print 500,000 copies in the first edition. The book is to be issued simultaneously in the United States and Europe, and we learn that the demand in the old country is the greatest ever known for an American book. This is particularly so in France and Germany where the military spirit runs so high, and where Gen. Lee's genius as a soldier was so greatly admired. The book will be sold exclusively by subscription, and firms desiring agencies will find the advertisement in another column of this paper. The work is creating a decided sensation and will no doubt have a large sale.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

[illegible] Brooklyn is being repainted.

The Blissfield Advance favors James McMillan of Detroit, for U. S. Senator.

There will be a masked skating carnival at the Blissfield rink next Saturday evening.

A man was recently arrested down in Texas for ringing a chestnut bell in church.

The local prohibition vote in the state at the last election will [illegible]

Morenci has a street commissioner at last. The streets have been taking care of themselves lately.

[illegible] to accept the position of state missionary.

A Blissfield man wants to buy 2,000 bushels of hickory nuts. But he does not state how many barrels of cider he wants.

What does this mean? The Dundee Reporter says:

There are a squad of young girls hereabouts who had better learn to be young ladies at public gatherings, especially at church meetings.

The annual convention of the Lenawee County W. C. T. U. is in session to day at the Raisin Valley meeting house. The session will continue to morrow.

Robert Gray has lived in Tiffin 60 years, having arrived in the place Oct. 17, 1825. If he isn't one of the pioneers we don't know where to find them.

From the Highway just east of Weitman Thompson's residence, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 9th, a bag containing seven live cats. Owner can have one of the whelps of the lot by applying at this office.—Brooklyn Exponent.

The Congregationalists of Hudson will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the establishment of their church in Hudson on Long Island 24. The semi centennial discourses will be participated in by the former pastors, and an all resting order of exercises is being arranged.—Hudson Post.

The Hudson Gazette claims that a tramp printer recently left the Gazette office, carrying a load of sorrow and the editorial shoes, and that the want of the shoes is felt, although the shoes are not. Another break like that, and out you go, Mr. Gazette.—Adrian Times.

Henry Palmer, of Ridgeway, is 92 years old, but he was able to ride six miles election day to vote. We will wager a trade dollar to a plugged quarter, that he voted the republican ticket. There was no such evidences of life on the part of democrats this fall. Yes, he must have been a republican, sure.—Adrian Press.

Patrick Welch, residing a few miles east of Hudson, was killed at a railroad crossing in the village, his wagon being struck by the engine of a freight train, throwing Mr. Welch out upon the track, breaking his skull. He was a man over 70, and highly respected. A searching investigation by a coroner's jury resulted in a verdict exonerating the company.—Adrian Press.

On Thursday afternoon last, Robert Patterson, of Grosvenor, was hauling straw, on a neighbor's farm, when by a sudden start of the horses, the load, upon which Patterson was riding, tipped over, precipitating him to the ground, and in the descent, was thrown violently against a fence, breaking a rib and sustaining other internal injuries, which placed him under the doctor's care for a week.—Blissfield Advance.

A Morenci young man was one of the invited guests of a Clayton wedding last week, and in preparing to attend it very properly got a present. He made his selection with exacting taste and paid therefor a not insignificant part of his week's income. Just before starting for the scene of wedded bliss, he rushed into the store where he had bought the gift and hastily picked up from a counter a well wrapped package, supposing it was his, that laid in close proximity to his other. Very tenderly upon his bended knee he carry the glassware, and with glowing satisfaction delivered it at his destination. The ceremony is over, congratulations are uttered and now as usual the company commence to inspect the varied presents that had been brought there. After looking around, our young man in an anxious undertone asked the fair one by his side, "Where's mine?" "Don't you see it?" she said, smilingly, "why it's the most conspicuous article here" and with this remark she directed his attention to an old, lately mislaid lamp that had been placed upon one of the tables. "Good heavens, I didn't bring that thing" and then it dawned upon his bewildered mind that in his hurry of departure he had carried off the wrong package. The guests regarded his mistake as an exceedingly good joke, but he felt, like walking home in the dark and having some one "peg" away at him in the rear the entire distance. He'll be more careful next time, eh.—Monitor Morenci Observer.

THE GRAB BAG.

And now the merchant wary
Will deem it necessary
To have an advertisement well
Displayed, played, played.
Within some local paper
For that's the proper caper [illegible] the coming winter trade, trade, trade.

And when he looks them over
To sift the chaff from clover
And select the one which all the people read, read, read,
The old HERALD is the sheet
To all requirements meet
For this is the family paper.

Blessed! Be pumpkin pie, say, Mr. Smith, have you heard the election news from Michigan.

Scrap of conversation between two girls overheard in a village store. "So, Frank is at the Agricultural College now." "Oh yes this is his second year you know, he now belongs to the sycamore class."

Paddy's Experience

BY M. E. S.

Oh, Biddy dear, what is the chase
O'roostin' this way on the place,
An wearin out a feller's clothes
Jist where he oughtent to, I s'pose.
Wisin every b'hoy b'onny proide
Is on the prohibition side?

An, Biddy dear, how very queer
While I have been a preachin here,
I dreamed I saw from Kilkenny
Two cats as fit for mouny a day,
And bumped fornust these posts and rails.
Till nothin' left out jist their tails.

An someway, this I seemed to place
Those two cold parties in the space
They threapt from the same whiskey cask.
Then sittin' down jist their tails to task
They fought away with hearty fame
Till nothin' left but jist their mane.

So down I sajips, me Biddy dear,
The feelin' a bit shtill and queer
I wonder why I staid so long,
While knowin' well the right from wrong,
I think it must be "party ties"
That kept a hangin' fore my eyes.

Jist lorke a board afore a cow
The fince top she can't see, no how;
And so she thinks it is so high
That she will niver jump, nor thry.
She is not blind to eat or sup,
But only when she would look up.

Says one to me, "Oh, Paddy, shure,
You're goin in for 'wather cure.'
Those prohibition folks, d'ye mind,
To all ideas but one are blind.
Says I, "That may be thrue," my son,
But one idea's worth more nor none."

On the 15th day of November 1874 twelve years ago last Monday, the HERALD passed into the control of its present proprietor. These years have been eventful ones with us. We confess to a feeling of satisfaction upon taking a retrospect and reviewing the progress and prosperity of the paper during that time; and, Providence permitting, we look forward to many years more of service with the newspaper fraternity. Journalism is a hard-hearted and jealous task master, but there is something fascinating about the business, after all. The editor is popularly supposed to be an ubiquitous individual who, is every where at once, and hence he is excusable for prying into his neighbors' affairs and for always "happening around" when anything happens. He chronicles the arrival of visitors and notes the advent of new heirs; he eats the choicest cake at wedding receptions and smiles on the prettiest girls at church socials; he talks up his own town and talks down other towns; he takes rotten wood and turnips on subscription and lives on faith and bean soup; he works fifteen hours on week days and sleeps all day Sunday; he dead heads into shows, gets free circus tickets and wipes on dirty towels; he wears his last year's suit and owns a revolver and a dog; in politics he generally sits on the fence or tries to stand on both sides at once; in religion he is rather skeptical but believes there is a Hades for delinquent subscribers; he receives donations of big potatoes and gigantic pumpkins, and huge strawberries and mammoth eggs in their season, and he never was known to decline the gift of a turkey during the holidays. Kind friends, we can dispose of one turkey on Thanksgiving day with perfect ease, and would venture to manage two on a pinch.

Indian Money

MR. EDITOR:—Every one now seems to have the specimen craze, myself included. Not long ago I received from Washington Territory a nice box full of ten Indian money. The lady who sent it to me, some years ago her husband was an Indian trader and while among the Yassar Indians he collected his present currency, and now days no money for gift sent it to me. The Indian suffice of Washington, he explains, all that is a pure sea shell, and such or as much length thereof as a piece of a large sending in odd, tapering, slightly bent and notion. Fine value attached to them was dots. I have spoken a bit more of this Wampum than I care for, and the Editor willing I will say, any one desiring a specimen of Indian money, may have it and welcome by sending a stamp to pay the postage. Mrs. F. A. WARNER, East Saginaw, Mich.

Will Bass, of Lawrence Mich., made C. C. Teft a flying visit yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd of Springville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal Osborn last Sunday.

A big blizzard struck the North this latitude this morning. The black circle was displayed on the weather pole this morning.

The dancing school organized by Prof. Conelling started out very successfully last Friday night with a [illegible] by Bertha Hall on the wagon.

F. R. Stebbins, the leading photo[illegible] dealer of Adrian, speaks to the people of Northern Lenawee through the columns of the Adrian Times.

The ladies' Social of the Universalist church, will meet at the residence of Mr. Chas. Teft, Friday P. M. Nov. 26. All are invited.

L. LOANA STACY, S[illegible]

Our stock of Dry Goods never was so complete. Prices never lower!

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

Parties wanting a loan of Two or Three Thousand Dollars can be accommodated by applying to T. J. Langdraf, Adrian.

Thanksgiving.—The Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist churches will hold union thanksgiving services in the M. E. church at 10:30 A. M. Nov. 25. Rev. W. R. Tate will preach the sermon.

Thanksgiving services at the Universalist church of Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25, 1886, at 10 o'clock. We give a sermon, music and prospects of our Society. A general invitation extended to all to attend.

Yeager is always going ahead with the times. He is making a new style of Photographs specially suitable for Christmas presents.

As I am very busy at the close of the year, I would advise all those who wish good Photographs for Christmas presents to call and sit early, as I can take more pains in retouching the negatives and can deliver the work in time.

F. H. STROUP.

—If you want an overcoat for man, boy or child, come and see us.

Strong & McNair.

—We are prepared to show the largest assortment of overcoats and Suits ever offered in Tecumseh and at lowest prices.

Strong & McNair.

—Now is the time to sit for Holiday Pictures, and the place to get them is at M. P. Brown's Art Gallery.

—The celebrated Chesapeake oysters by the dozen, by the can, by the keg at R. C. VanAntwerp's.

—BUCKWHEAT CAKES. Get a sack of choice new Buckwheat Flour of C. A. Slayton.

—Hough & Hosmer are bound to be at the front in prices and styles of goods.

—Hough & Hosmer are always pleased to show goods, and don't forget prices.

—Just received, one case Ladies' fine Merino underwear worth 25cts. Our price 20cts. each.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Buy your Hosiery and Blankets at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—M. P. Brown, the Phographer, is making finer Photographs than ever, and at Prices that please his patrons.

—No better place to have Photo work done in Lenawee county than at Brown's Art Gallery. Fine work and reasonable prices have always been his motto.

—Important to Young Men. Send your name to Brown's Business University and get your name finely written, and an [illegible] page paper free.

—We are still selling the Gent's White Shirt our competitors advertise as a bargain for 75c, at 49c. Comparison solicited.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

—Everyone using grain bags. Art, save money by buying them at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—Call and get some of those delicious cookies at the Star Bakery.

—FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for wedding and Sunday dinners, get Lily White Patent Flour. It is just the spot exactly.

—Fresh Oysters [illegible] at the Star Bakery.

—Bread only [illegible] a loaf at the Star Bakery.

—If you wish any [illegible] painting or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh. D. HOLMES.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS.

FRED B. WOOD, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Collections and Conveyancing. Office over W. & S. W. Anderson's store, Tecumseh, Mich.

[illegible] Chancery. Office in HERALD Block, Tecumseh, Mich.

PHYSICIANS.

R. [illegible] M.D., Homœopathic Physician and Surgeon. Office over Lindy's Blackwell [illegible] Bank, Chicago St. Residence [illegible]

C. M. WOODWARD, M.D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office & Residence, Tecumseh St.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TECUMSEH FOUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS [illegible]

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

DAVE MACHAM [illegible]

JAMES A. CURRY [illegible]

CHAS. A. WALDRON [illegible]

HOTELS.

BURNELL HOUSE [illegible]

[illegible] HOTEL, ADRIAN, MICH.

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN,

Breeder of High Class Thoroughbred Poultry. Eggs for Hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular Free.

Agric'tural Implement DEPOT.

O. A. SLAYTON

SOUTH BEND. BURCH. WIARD. GALE. OLIVER.

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS. Pinnacle, New Rochelle, Albion, Buckeye.

GRAIN DRILLS

HEMPS MANURE SPREADER.

Schuyler, Jackson, and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Coal Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Victims of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's "DOUBLE CHLORIDE OF GOLD" will cure the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike other so-called "painless remedies," it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and the patient is able to attend to his ordinary business and enjoy life as he has not done since beginning the use of Morphine Habits. Send for Free on the Opium Habit, FREE, or for Dr. Leslie Keeley's new work "Opium: Its Use, Abuse and Cure," sent free on application. It is the most complete and comprehensive work ever published on the subject, and gives full instructions for self cure at home. Address, or call on THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO., DEKONT, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS! Cured in from three to nine days.

W. W. MARSH,

Proprietor of

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

SEXUAL Weakness, Lost Manhood, quickly and positively cured. Send for 300 page book FREE to all afflicted. Address Bowlin Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y., U. S. A.

THE MANEATER.

"I have hunted wild animals in almost every country where they exist," said Capt. Kincardin, "and of course I have had my share of perilous adventures. To be a successful sportsman, in the higher sense of the term, requires perfect [illegible] with. A man who can't tramp for ten or twelve hours on a stretch, fording streams, climbing hills, dodging jungles, and wielding swamps, is no good in the game countries. The most things required are nerve and coolness, although the [illegible] go together. No sportsman [illegible] who lacks nerve. If he solves [illegible] thing, [illegible] comes natural to him. When [illegible] only one shot left, and a [illegible] upon you, or [illegible] for a [illegible] warning [illegible] right [illegible]. It can see the least ruffled [illegible] as much as will write you, [illegible] notice.

[illegible] in Bengal are in the fall [illegible] a party of British officers to [illegible]. We, of course intended to [illegible] anything else in the shape of [illegible] were the main object. We [illegible] railroad for about 100 [illegible] the country, and then scoured [illegible] bullocks and carriers at a village, [illegible] miles to a range of wooded [illegible] which were [illegible] with gullies and [illegible] by several small streams. The nearest village was in a fertile valley [illegible] miles from our camp. The inhabitants were [illegible] to leave it as we approached [illegible]. Two days [illegible] made their [illegible] [illegible] had been [illegible] sitting [illegible] was a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

RED STAR

COUGH CURE

SURE PROMPT 25 Cts.

ST. JACOBS OIL

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY

For Pain

Cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Headache, Toothache, Sciatica, Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites, etc. PRICE, FIFTY CENTS. 50 Cents and $1. DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS IN MEDICINE.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 113. Mail.	No. 115. Express.	No. 49 Accom.
Jackson	6 15 A.M.	2 10 P.M.	1 00 P.M.
Napoleon	6 41 "	2 35 "	1 47 "
Norvell	6 57 "	2 51 "	2 12 "
Vandervoort	7 02 "	2 56 "	2 22 "
Clifford	7 17 "	3 10 "	2 38 "
Lake March	7 25 "	3 20 "	2 52 "
Adrian	8 [illegible] "	4 00 "	3 05 "
Tecumseh	7 50 "	3 40 "	3 35 "
Britton	8 20 "	4 10 "	4 15 "

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 110. Mail.	No. 114. Express.	No. 48. Accom.
Britton	7 45 A.M.	3 40 P.M.	[illegible]
Tecumseh	8 00 "	3 55 "	[illegible]
Adrian	8 [illegible] "	4 [illegible] "	[illegible]
Lake March	11 01 "	6 21 "	7 10 "
Clifford	11 12 "	6 33 "	7 20 "
Vandervoort	11 27 "	6 48 "	7 37 "
Norvell	11 32 "	6 53 "	7 42 "
Napoleon	11 47 "	7 08 "	8 [illegible] "
Jackson	12 20 P.M.	7 50 "	9 05 "

[illegible] New Stanley Parlor Cars on Morning Trains.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Coupon tickets can now be procured at this office for all the principal points in the United States.

N. S. SATTERLEE, Ticket Agent.

H. W. HUMPHRIES, Supt. Detroit Division.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LAKE DIVISION.
Atlantic Express, Limited	4 25 A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8 00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9 21 "
New York Limited Express	10 51 P.M.
Day Freight	[illegible]
TRAINS GOING WEST.
St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 16 P.M.
Adrian Accommodation	6 18 "
Pacific Express, Limited	10 05 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

The Limited express trains stop only for G. R. passing at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. 2 solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Vestibule Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

J. C. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich. Wm. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.

E. CHANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT OCT. 24, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 7 Pass	No. 3 Pass	No. 1 Pass	Central Time. STATIONS.	GOING WEST. No. 2 Pass	No. 4 Pass	No. 8
A.M.	A.M.	P.M.		A.M.	P.M.	A.M.
10 11	10 55	6 20	A. Toledo L.	7 10	3 40	6 00
6 20	10 40	5 20	Dundee	8 30	5 20	9 07
6 30	10 [illegible]	5 [illegible]	Britton	8 20	5 10	9 15
6 50	10 02	4 [illegible]	Ridgeway	8 [illegible]	4 [illegible]	10 30
7 15	9 47	4 10	Tecumseh	8 46	4 25	11 10
7 20	9 32	4 22	Tipton	9 00	4 45	12 10
7 30	9 27	4 07	Onsted	9 17	7 10	1 00
7 35	8 57	4 52	Deerfield	9 23	7 25	1 20
7 55	8 15	3 30	Addison	9 47	7 40	2 55
8 05	8 25	3 21	Jerome	10 02	8 10	3 10
8 10	8 15	3 13	Mosgrove	10 10	8 22	3 15
8 20	8 00	3 00	Hanover	10 20	8 37	3 40
8 30	7 45	2 46	Parshall	10 32	8 52	4 10
8 40	7 30	2 22	Homer	10 53	9 27	5 00
7 [illegible]	7 00	2 08	Eckford	11 08	9 52	5 20
7 [illegible]	6 40	1 [illegible]	Marshall	11 25	10 12	6 00
			Marshall			12 [illegible]
8 [illegible]	6 25	1 [illegible]	Battle Creek	11 35	10 20	12 35
8 [illegible]	6 00	1 10	L. Battle Crk A.	12 00	11 00	7 50
	A.M.			12 20	P.M.
8 [illegible]		8 [illegible]	Augusta	12 41		8 25
8 [illegible]		8 [illegible]	York'ville	12 55		8 [illegible]
8 [illegible]		8 27	Richland	1 02		8 [illegible]
8 [illegible]		8 [illegible]	Vicksburg	1 [illegible]		9 15
9 [illegible]		11 13	Moline	1 [illegible]		10 [illegible]
9 [illegible]		11 [illegible]	Fisk	2 05		10 [illegible]
9 [illegible]		11 27	Kelloggs	2 18		10 [illegible]
9 [illegible]		11 [illegible]	L. Allegan A.	2 25		11 10
		10 10	Holland	3 10
		9 00	Grand Rapids	4 [illegible]
		9 [illegible]	Grand Haven	5 [illegible]
		9 [illegible]	Muskegon	6 [illegible]
		8 40	Muskegon	7 10
		5 20	Pentwater	10 10
		A.M.		P.M.

Train No. 8 has a through Coach daily except Sunday for Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater. Also a through Coach leaves the above points via. C. & W. M. railway each day, except Sunday, arriving in Toledo on Train No. 7 at 6 20 P.M.

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

At Toledo With all Railroads diverging. At Dundee With L. S. & M. S. At Britton With Chicago & N. M. At Britton With L. S. & M. S. and Toledo & Pacific. At Tecumseh With L. S. & M. S. At Jerome With L. S. & M. S. At Hanover With L. S. & M. S. At Horner With L. S. & M. S. Hanover Division, and Air Line Division of the Mich. Central. At Marshall With M. C. R. R. At Battle Creek With Chicago & Grand Trunk and M. C. R. R. At Allegan With Chicago & West Mich. and L. S. & M. S.

Trains daily except Sunday.

G. L. BRADLEY, Roadmaster. H. C. PARKER, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

J. RAY CROWS, Northwestern Agent. Muskegon, Mich.

ADVERTISING

Estimates made for THIS PAPER which is kept on file with LORD & THOMAS, Advertising Agents, Chicago.

THIS PAPER is on file at the Philadelphia office of the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Active, Pushing and Reliable.

Always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best medicines to sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending articles with well established merit and such as are popular, having the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a guarantee to cure any and every affection of throat, lungs, or chest, and in order to prove our claims we ask you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free. Chas. N. Wright & Co.

It has been said that a fascinating miss is the girl that points it out.

The hogs of spring, chickens and women are the most doubtful subjects on this little earth.

Selectest thing in Drexel's Bell Cologne.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

It takes an Irishman to pick his way through the world.

We should economize at all times, but more especially when times are close. Observe the purchases of your thrifty neighbors. More substantial benefits can be obtained from a fifty cent bottle of Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure than a dollar bottle of any other cough remedy. It is a prompt, safe and pleasant cure for all throat and lung troubles. Sold and endorsed by Dr. George Ferguson.

"A is a goodhead letter. You often hear of "A feature of beauty."

When a noted Chicago Medical authority says disease is due to atmospheric germs, and even nothing of the kind, rapid reading when in a perspiration, etc. The important point is that a cold in the head is a genuine rhinitis, an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition, for catarrh is essentially a "cold", which nature is no longer able to "resist" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers from cold in the head should resort to it before the common ailment becomes scared and exists in obstinate catarrh.

"Do the Tudors live here?" "No, they live Tudors below here."

The great sources of the extensive curative range of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic are its great blood purifying qualities and its gentle aperitive action thereby removing all restraint from the secretive organs, curing promptly and thoroughly dyspepsia, costiveness bad breath, piles, pimples, low spirits sick and nervous headache, ague, acid malaria, and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Price, fifty cents.

How to take care of your eyes—keep a civil tongue in your head.

FOR 25 CENTS get Kemp's Liver Pills for Torpid Liver, for Constipation, for the Complexion. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

WE ARE POSITIVE that Kemp's Sarsaparilla will cleanse and purify the blood and tone up the system. We have the confidence to guarantee it. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

I TRIED Everything without relief, but Kemp's Pile Suppositories cured me. So writes A. G. Rose, New London, Conn. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall, druggist.

THE HOMELIEST MAN in Tecumseh as well as the handsomest and others call at our store and get free a trial bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It cures acute and chronic coughs. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall druggist.

Thousands try those triumphed trifles that thoroughly transform the teeth.—Trix.

HALE'S HONEY is the best Cough Cure. 25c., 50c., $1.
GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP for Health and Beautiful Skin, 25c.
GERMAN CORN REMOVER kills Corns & Bunions, 25c.
HILL'S HAIR & WHISKER DYE—Black & Brown, 50c.
PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS cure in 1 Minute, 25c.
DEAN'S RHEUMATIC PILLS are a sure cure. 50c.

For Cholera, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Inflammation of the Bowels or Colic.

Take internally from five to ten drops of Darby's prophylactic Fluid in a tablespoonful of water every hour or two till improvement take place. There is no danger in taking more of it and more frequently if occasion requires. In chronic cases, or when the stomach refuses to retain anything else, use injections of the Fluid and water. We have never known a case that did not readily yield to such treatment, and it saved the lives of many.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.
A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research however has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrh and deafness, and hay-fever, are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and sufferers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

WHOLESALE BUTCHERY.

ANNIHILATION OF THE LARGE GAME ANIMALS OF THE WEST.

Ruthless Slaughter by the Hide Hunters. But Ten Buffalo Left—The Elk and the Antelope of the Great Northwest Nearly Exterminated.

I recollect a few years ago the winter of 18[illegible] and '8[illegible] now, I recall the exact date, accompanying a military expedition across the northern plains and mountains in pursuit of that great Indian general, Sitting Bull. Before we were well into the hostile country we passed and recrossed no less than twelve separate car loads of buffalo hides, destined for the Eastern markets, and we were engaged in their deadly work of slaughtering bison. Take one party, for example, which will be a fair sample of all the rest. This particular outfit numbered seven Britishers, two Americans, and one half breed gallie, and they had been out from Glendive about two weeks. They were well mounted on Cayuse ponies, with Sharps forty five caliber rifles, and had line about forty miles north of the Yellowstone river in the very midst of tens of thousands of buffalo. We struck their trail long before we reached their camp, which was very easily followed by the number of buffalo carcasses lining the route. The first words their spokesman uttered were to the effect that they had thirty six and twenty six day 114 [illegible]

[illegible] another herd of 114 [illegible] "[illegible] Indian scouts" [illegible] were absolutely their level best to drive the buffalo animals, but they were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] than they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The ladies of the Hudson Baptist church will serve a Thanksgiving dinner at the Opera House.

Amos M. Buffalo N. Y., is in town this week taking orders for the Peerless cooker.

Bowles, Singer, Mc Lain and others will be at the Opera house next Monday evening.

Mr. Benjamin who speaks at the Opera House next Monday evening is a very pleasing and forcible speaker. Turn out and give him a full house.

W. Lessom of Hudson, formerly

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

Butter, P. lb
Eggs, P. dozen
Lard, P. lb
Potatoes, P. bushel
Beans, P. bushel
Beans, P. busp
Buckwheat, P. bushel
Buckwheat Flour, P. sacked
Beet Greens, P. bushel
Rock Maple
Cabbages, P. doz
Onions, P. bushel
Carrots, P. bushel
Turnips, P. bushel
Beets, P. bushel
Parsnips, P. bushel
Apples, P. bushel
Pears, P. bushel
Quinces, P. bushel
Plums, P. bushel
Grapes, P. lb
Cranberries, P. qt
Flour, P. cwt
Flour, P. bbl
Middlings, P. cwt
Bran, P. cwt
Hay, P. ton
Hay, P. ton
Wood, P. cord

MARRIED.

LETTER LIST

AGENTS WANTED. PERSONAL MEMOIRS GEN. ROBT. E. LEE.

WORTH 10 WEIGHT IN GOLD

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

CHARLES BURRIDGE
JEROME DAVIDSON
Commissioners

ESTATE OF McCOLLUM MINORS.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

ESTATE OF GARRET

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

COMMISSIONERS NOTICE

COMMISSIONERS NOTICE

THOSE WHO BELIEVE that Nature will work off a Cough or a Cold should understand that it MAY be done but at the expense of the Constitution and we assert that repeating this dangerous practice weakens the Lung Powers and terminates in a Consumptive's Grave. Don't take the chances use DR. BIGELOW'S CURE, which is a safe, pleasant and speedy cure for all Throat and Lung Troubles. In 50 cent and dollar bottles.

DR. JONES' RED CLOVER TONIC

CRIGGS' GLYCERINE SALVE.
Try this Wonder Healer.
PRICE 25 CENTS. GUARANTEED.

F. R. STEBBINS,

FURNITURE!

Carpets, Crockery, &c.

Ever shown in Adrian. Decorated and Real Bronze Table Lamps, Chandeliers and Hanging Lamps in large variety at very low prices.

Some Very Fine Plush Parlor Suits!

Received this week in Mahogany Bedroom Suites a beautiful line of Chamber Suites in Black Walnut, Ash, Oak, English Oak and Walnut.

Dining Room Furniture!

In Oak, Cherry and Walnut. Brussels, Velvet and Ingrain

CARPETS.

Rugs, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains and Window Shades.

Call and SEE OUR LARGE STOCK,

And get our Prices. We want you to see the goods, whether you wish to buy or not.

F. R. STEBBINS, Adrian.

Grand Coffee

FESTIVAL!

Come One Come All!

Free Distribution

For a Few Days Only

OF THE BEST COFFEE IN THE WORLD.

We have inaugurated a Coffee Festival in order to thoroughly introduce our Famous Coffees. Our representative is supplied with an elegant Silver Urn from which he hopes to have the pleasure of serving you with a cup of what Connoisseurs everywhere pronounce to be the Finest Coffee they ever drank.

Very truly yours,
CHASE & SANBORN,
Coffee Importers, Boston, Mass.

IMPORTANT.—Ladies are specially invited and we shall be pleased to serve them from the store of

HENRY ANDERSON

Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 24 and 25.

THE INDEPENDENT.

The Largest,
The Ablest,
The Best,
Religious and Literary Newspaper in the World.

"One of the ablest weeklies in existence."—Pall Mall Gazette, London, England.

"The most influential religious organ in the states."—The Spectator, London, Eng.

"Clearly stands in the forefront as a weekly religious magazine."—Sunday School Times, Philadelphia.

It is a RELIGIOUS,
LITERARY,
EDUCATIONAL,
AND STORY, FINANCIAL,
INSURANCE,
SCIENTIFIC,
POLITICAL,
AGRICULTURAL,
SUNDAY SCHOOL

NEWSPAPER.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One month	$	One year	$
Three months		Two years
Four months		Three years
Six months		Four years
Nine months		Five years

Send postal card for a free sample copy and clubbing list if you wish to subscribe for any magazines or other newspapers at less than publishers prices.

THE INDEPENDENT,
NEW YORK.

$1000

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE
FOR 5 CENTS.

SMOKE THE LEADING 10c CIGAR
Finest BIN-CURED H. B. Goods
130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO

RETAIL AT
R. MORRISON'S.

Better THAN THE Best

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVERBAKER & HALL'S
GAS FOR EXTRACTING.
AT LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH

Is a Balm Relief and Cure for Catarrh and Cold in the Head.

COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
HAY FEVER.

Not a liquid nor a Snuff or Powder. Free from Injurious Drugs. Not Offensive.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.
ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

MASON & HAMLIN

NOW SELL THEIR

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, payments at the rate of $1.25 per month and upwards. Send for Catalogue which gives full information free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on a new method of stringing on similar terms. Send for pamphlet giving full information free.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
Boston, New York, Chicago.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.,
TECUMSEH, MICH

THE POPE MFG. CO.
597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.
12 WARREN ST.
N.Y.

ESTABLISHED 1840 — THE CELEBRATED

Thos. Bradford Co.

PORTABLE MILLS.

Best in the world for grinding small grain. Write for special prices. State amount to be ground per hour. Address plainly

C. L. Gano, Jr., Managr.
27 Glenn Bldg.
P. O. Box 56,
CINCINNATI, O.

NO DOGS ALLOWED HERE

This is the title of A BEAUTIFUL CHROMO, size 14x20 inches—a perfect copy of the original painting by A. W. Ewers, R. A., England, which we will SEND FREE OF CHARGE to each person sending us twenty-five

QUEEN ANNE SOAP WRAPPERS

These are cheap penny affair, but an elegant picture, beautifully colored with handsome bronze frame, fit to hang in any parlor in the land. No advertisement on the picture.

Queen Anne Soap, the Old Reliable, the purest and best Soap made, is known everywhere and sold by all first-class grocers.

THIS PICTURE WILL NOT BE SOLD AT ANY PRICE and cannot be obtained by mailing us 25 Queen Anne Soap Wrappers. Address

DETROIT SOAP CO., DETROIT, MICH.

WE Have ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

McCOLLUM

Has just received received his full Fall and Winter stock, and is selling the same at from $10 to $25.

Ready Made do at $5, $6 50, $8, and $10.
OVERCOATS in every quality, size, price and color.
Men's strong heavy work pants, lined throughout, at 90c.
Heavy all wool pants $2 50.
Also large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, fine flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. McCOLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Citizens of Tecumseh!

Toledo and return for $1.85.

Citizens of Tecumseh, there are, no doubt, many you in need of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps. To you who have been in the habit of buying these goods at home, we wish to call your attention to the fact that you can save fully 25 per cent, perhaps more, by buying your Clothing, Hats and Caps, etc., from us. If such is the case, would it not be to your interest as well as ours, to come to Toledo to buy your outfit? Many of you will probably say to yourself, this is only an advertisement. We admit it, but nevertheless it contains nothing but the simple truth. Would you ask us why we sell so much lower than the dealer in your own town. We will tell you.

BECAUSE We buy in much larger quantities than small dealers can, and paying in large quantities we get the lowest quotations the benefit we divide with our customers. A man buying wheat by the car load buys it lower per bushel than he who buys only a single bushel.

BECAUSE All our purchases being made for cash, we get the benefit of a cash discount of from 2 to 10 per cent. This discount alone adds up in our business to from $6,000 to $10,000 per year. This is an item country dealers cannot get because they do not do business enough to warrant it.

BECAUSE We visit the eastern markets regularly four or five times a year, and being right there many opportunities are offered to buy which, at times, are sacrifice. These opportunities are never offered to country dealers, because they have no facilities in small towns to sell large stocks.

ANOTHER REASON Why you should consider it for trading with us is—You have a stock and variety from which to make your selection fully ten or twenty times as large as you can find at home. This certainly affords you a better chance of getting WITH PLEASURE NOTHING MORE.

ANOTHER REASON is the stock we show you is newer and fresher than you can find at home. Our goods sell rapidly. We are a prospering, thriving business and a brush that comes from our shelves every week, while in a small business they sometimes carry stock for years. You can be sure of getting out shop worn goods when you buy from us.

SATISFY YOURSELVES of the advantages you possess by buying in Toledo. Buy a round trip ticket and come and see us. We can save you money and do ourselves good at the same time. We ask you to take the trouble to examine our stock and learn our prices. WE KNOW IT IS YOUR INTEREST TO DO SO.

MAIL ORDER That every customer buying from us should be satisfied with the goods purchased, we will either exchange or refund the money within 30 days after the purchase. We want to get your trade, and we know if we once get you we will come again.

JOHN N. MOCKETT,

Successor to C. R. MABLEY.

105 and 107 Summit St., TOLEDO, OHIO

A HANDSOME WEDDING, BIRTHDAY OR HOLIDAY PRESENT.

THE WONDERFUL

LUBURG CHAIR

Combining a Parlor Library, Smoking, Reclining or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, or COUCH.

Price $7.00 and up. Send stamp for Catalogue. SHIPPED to all parts of the world.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES

All furnished with the Automatic Coach Brake, and Installed at our Wholesale Prices. Send stamp for Catalogue and mention paper.

THE LUBURG MANF'G CO., 145 N. 8th St., Philada., Pa.

50 Cents EACH OVER

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 25. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 25, 1886. WHOLE NO. 1873

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

OVER 500

To select from. LATEST STYLES.

SHORT WRAPS,
NEWMARKETS.
PLUSH SACQUES.
JACKETS.

Misses and Children. ALL SIZES.

All marked at lowest possible prices.
Any Cloak a Bargain.
We are glad to show them.

The constant throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. Our stock was never so complete. Prices never so low. WE ARE NEVER UNDERSOLD.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Are prepared to make prompt deliveries of best grades of Coal, in lots of $1.00 and upwards.

Hard Coal, all sizes in Stock.

Jackson Hill--Springfield Mine,

Jackson Hill Cannell.

All our coal is carefully screened and we sell at the lowest market price.
Telephone orders promptly delivered.
We solicit your patronage.

Office and Yards Shawnee St., near L. S. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

COME AND SEE OUR

Men's Overcoats,
Boy's Overcoats,
Children's Overcoats,

COME AND SEE OUR

MEN'S SUITS,
BOY'S SUITS,
CHILDREN'S SUITS.

We can show a larger assortment and give lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Underwear, Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods in endless variety of style and quality.

STRONG & McNAIR.

9 NEW STYLES 3 ELEGANT UPRIGHT

Clough and Warren and Estey

ORGANS, PIANOS,

JUST SOLD BY

B. J. COLLER

At his Palace of Music. Purchasers of Organs are

A. B. West, Raisin. F. B. Earl, City. J. H. Morris, Morenci.
Wm. Rexford, Round Lake. Joplin Gill, Hudson. C. M. Lewis, Hudson.
W. C. Moore, Morenci. Geo. Reese, Sand Creek. Mr. Scott, City.

PURCHASERS OF PIANOS.

Abigail Crane, Madison. Mrs. L. W. Miller, Macon.
F. C. Holden, Holloway.

Another carload of Pianos and Organs just received for Holiday trade. Don't fail to see my new prices in the best Pianos and organs made.

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Quite a squaw winter last week.

G. W. Clark is selling off his stock of goods at cost.

The officers in Dist. No 5, are off with the times having put new seats in their school house. They purchased of Thomas Kane & Co. of Racine, Wis. The change is a great improvement and a comfort at least to the scholars.

Wm. Birdsell, who had his shoulder put out of joint and arm broke a few days ago, has improved so as to be out again but it will be a long time before he is able to do much.

Aunt Anna Raymond is failing slowly.

Joseph Pennington of Macon, who is with his daughter, Mrs. Hannah Allen, is suffering very greatly from the effect of a burn on his leg near the ankle, having caught cold in the wound. D. W. Loree is attending the sufferer.

Uncle John Houseman, who has been with his son in Essex county, all summer, has returned and will spend the winter here.

The turntable was used for the first time since it was completed, to turn engine No. 21, on Sunday evening.

Before this reaches the readers of the Herald that orange bud we spoke of some time since, will have blossomed. We extend congratulations and wish for them a happy and prosperous life.

Mrs. L. Cheever and daughter, Mrs. Joe Thackery of Britton, left Tuesday for Muskegon to visit her son Edward Pines.

Chas. M. Conklin of Adrian, called on Harry Smith and family Monday.

G. G. Arner spent Sunday in Milan with friends.

Arthur Gove and wife of North Adrian, were the guests of his brother C. M. Gove and family, during Saturday and Sunday.

Wm. Montgomery went to Battle Creek, Saturday, to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Dan Lowe.

Postmaster Santus was in Detroit on business one day last week.

H. Smith, our tinner, took Cone Station by storm Monday and Tuesday, and done them up with a fine lot of tin deck work. Tink says his work is like bread cast upon the water, it wont leak, but is seen after many days.

Ella Miller took in Detroit last week.

Lou and Ida Arner spent Wednesday with Wm. Underwood's young people.

Misses Persis Rimert and Helen Travis of Pennington's Corners, spent Sunday as the guests of the Smith sisters.

Jennie Gardener spent the Sabbath with Wallie and Ada Linn.

Ella Jackson visited relatives and friends from Friday until Monday.

M. M. Florence and wife went to Addison last week to attend the funeral of her uncle, Western Tinnie.

Jesse Potter has rented the Mary Arner property for a year and is moving this week.

Wesley Littlefield and wife of Flat Rock, are visiting Rev. W. J. Clack and family at present.

Although the attendance was somewhat small at the oyster supper, the society cleared something over $10. The oysters were the best we have eaten there for a long time. The young ladies did themselves great credit in arranging their tables showing their ability as domestics. The society will hold their next social at the home of the Secretary, Mrs. T. H. Temple, next week Friday evening. The hostess will serve doughnuts and hot coffee. The usual collection pays the bill.

It is now definitely settled who is to occupy the new stores. The west one will be opened early next week by Waring Brothers & Co. who will put in a general stock, including dry goods, groceries, hats & caps, boots & shoes etc. The stock will be entirely new, and placed in charge of Jesse Potter who needs no introduction in this locality as a faithful business young man and one who will make prices equal to any.

The other store will be opened about a week later by Daniel Coryell and Charles Gripton who will start the hardware business by putting in a new stock of goods. There is no reason why Ridgeway should not be one of the best trading places in the county. We shall see.

The Thanksgiving Number of Good Housekeeping will be a genuine Thanksgiving issue, full of fine things pertinent to the joyous Thanksgiving season. Good Housekeeping is published every other week at Holyoke, Mass., with a branch office at 239 Broadway, New York.

ONSTED ODDS.

F. A. Parsons is teaching in the Knight District.

Fred Ambler of Brooklyn, is spending a few days with his son in law, G. B. Hines.

Arthur Benor has gone to live with an uncle near North Adams.

R. L. Glenn & Co., have a new sidewalk in front of their store.

Frank Kinney had a bad day for his auction and sold but little stock.

Miss Leo Snow is spending a few days in Franklin, with her sister, Mrs. Charles Hendricks.

A Lodge of Knights of Labor has been organized here and will meet at Grange Hall once in two weeks.

No meeting at the church last Sunday. A new heating apparatus is being put in, which will probably take the chill off on short notice.

The Good Templar Lodge is flourishing nicely, notwithstanding the fact that some of our good temperance people (?) do not look upon it with favor.

Mr. Willy, an old citizen of Rome township died last Saturday. His funeral was held at the North Rome church Sunday. Mr. Wiley was nearly blind and has been quite feeble for a number of years.

A FRANKLIN WEDDING.

Wednesday, Nov. 17th at 1 o'clock, Mr. Harry Lombard, of Addison, and Miss Katie Jenkins of Tipton, were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Rev. O. B. Storms officiating.

It was anything but a pleasant day without, but the bright faces and happy hearts of those within, soon made them forget the inclement weather. Mr. Lombard's frequent visits to Tipton during the past two years had aroused suspicions that he was plotting to rob Tipton society of one of its brightest ornaments, and now that he has accomplished his purpose, our suspicions are proven to have been well founded. The felonious character of the act is aggravated by the evidence that it was done deliberately and with malice prepence. The young lady herself, however, is accused of being accessory to the theft. We are magnanimous however; we bear him him no grudge although we keenly feel our loss. In fact we can not find it in our hearts to blame him in the least. Our loss is his and Addison's gain. Miss Katie was very highly esteemed among all who knew her, for her modest worth and sterling beauty of character. The prayers and best wishes of very many hearts go with her and her husband. We are convinced that her lot is cast with one worthy his prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Lombard will reside at Addison during the winter.

The presents were beautiful and appropriate.

Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. Keeney of Tipton.

After partaking of the wealth of good things provided for the wedding dinner and a very pleasant hour in "a feast of reason and flow of soul," the company dispersed, heartily wishing the young couple many years of happiness and success.

Auction Sales.

H. F. Barnes will sell at the late residence of S. V. Dibble, three miles south of Ridgeway Village, Thursday, Dec. 2d., 1886, at 12 M., sharp, the following property: Two yearling steers, 1 set double harness, lumber wagon, single buggy, standard mower, gale rake, span work mares 6 and 8 years old, with foal; two plows, spring-tooth harrow, single harness, fanning mill, 5 tons good hay, 200 bush. corn in ear, 1000 bundles of cornstalks, 1 cow, 4 spring calves, 40 lambs, etc. Terms of sale, all sums of $5 and less, cash; all sums over $5, 12 months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent interest. Frank Davidson, Auctioneer.

Samuel Underwood, Administrator of the estate of John Underwood, deceased, will sell at Auction on late homestead, 1 mile south and west of Britton village on Tuesday Nov. 30th, 1886, at 12 M., sharp, the following property. One 4 year old colt, 3 fat hogs, 8 shoats, sow and 7 pigs, brood mare with foal, 12 ewes, 12 lambs, a double carriage, 4 two-year old steers, single carriage, single cutter, Fanning mill, grain drill, corn plow, set double harness, single harness, 3 cows, 10 tons hay, 700 bundles of cornstalks, 400 bu. corn, or more; household furniture, undivided half of straw stack, and numerous other articles. Terms of sale, all sums of $5, and less, cash; all sums over $5, 10 months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent. interest. Frank Davidson, Auctioneer.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. Wright & Co.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

By Rev. Jos. B. Brooks, D.D.

Lesson 9. November 28.

JOHN'S VISION OF CHRIST. Rev. 1. 4-18. Golden Text, Rev. 1. 18.

This is the last book in the Bible, and is supposed to have been written about 95 or 96, when John was an old man. It is prophetic in its character. John had been banished to Patmos on account of his religion, and while there he had a vision. It was on the Sabbath day when he was in a devout frame especially, that he witnessed the scene described in our lesson. He commences by invoking grace from the Triune God, his description of the three persons being exceptionally fine and powerful. He then gives praise to Jesus for His love for us, and for cleansing us in His own blood, and for making us kings and priests. He then tells of the coming of Christ, maintaining the same lofty style of description that he commenes with. These words are very familiar to the Christian church, and have been made the subject of many a discourse. John now comes to the vision, telling how he was in Patmos, and being "in the spirit on the Lord's day," he heard a voice which sounded like a trumpet, it was a loud voice which arrested instant attention. The Voice told him to write what he saw to the seven churches in Asia, and declared Himself to be the first and the last, the Alpha and the Omega. These are the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet. John turned to see who was speaking, and he says he saw seven golden candlesticks, representing the seven churches already mentioned. Seven was the symbol of perfectness. In the midst of the candlesticks was one like a man, of human form, having on a garment which reached to the feet. This was the priestly robe, and very different to the seamless tunic worn by Christ while on earth. This long robe typifies His priestly character. Across the breasts was a golden girdle, signifying that He was a sovereign. The worker, the subject, would be girded around the waist, but Christ is girdled with gold, symbol of preciousness, around the breasts, typical of His kingly office. His hair is described as being perfectly white, as being perfectly pure and glorious. White hairs are suggestive of wisdom, experience, judgment. His feet are described as of brass. Beautiful in its polished brilliancy and indicative of His power to tread down His enemies under His feet. His eyes are like flames of fire, in their intense power and beauty, looking through the heart and discovering the innermost thoughts of man. Passing from this magnificent description of the personal appearance of Christ, John proceeds to speak of three things. First, He had in His hand seven stars. These were in His right hand, and were typical of the seven churches. Christ holds the churches in His right hand, and they are under His immediate care. Out of his mouth there came a two-edged sword. This is the simple word of Christ, which is as a two-edged sword (Heb. 4:12.) "And His countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength." Nothing to obscure the view, shining in resplendent brightness and glory. John fell at His feet as though he were dead. Christ laid His right hand upon him and told him he was the first and the last, the one who had been dead and the one who now lived again, and should live for evermore. It was the Christ.

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. Jesus will come again.
2. Christ makes us kings and priests.
3. He lives amongst the churches and cares for them.
4. This glorious Christ is our Saviour.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

S. F. MARSTELLER, Clinton, Mich., Manufacturer and Dealer in Monuments, Tablets, Headstones &c., from every variety of Native and Foreign Marble and Granite.

Having on hand at my works in Clinton and Tecumseh, a very large and superior stock of monuments and tablets both in marbles and granite, and being desirous of reducing my stock, which is as large and complete as may be found in Southern Michigan, I will offer until Jan. 1st 1887, any finished Monument or Head Stone on hand at a price that will not fail to suit the most exacting. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention. Respectfully

S. F. MARSTELLER.

The pesky flies are no more.

The MAGAZINE OF ART for December opens the new volume and we have here a fine performance of the promises held out in the prospectus. In turning over the pages one is astonished by the amount of color that meets the eye and the variety of tints. The printing of colored illustrations in with the text of the magazine is, we believe, as novel as it is effective. On the page that follows these a poem by W. J. Henderson, called "Tantalus," is given with head and tail pieces printed in brown. A page wood engraving of Turner's famous painting, "The Fighting Temeraire," is given with descriptive text. We need not call the attention of the reader to the fullness and freshness of the Art Notes, particularly those touching upon topics of home interest. Cassell & Company, New York, thirty-five cents a number, $3.50 a year in advance.

Michigan State Bee Keeper's Association.

The 20th annual meeting of this association will be held at Ypsilanti, Mich., Dec. 1st and 2nd, 1886. First session Dec. 1st at 10 A. M. Meeting will be held in Grange Hall. Reduced rates have been secured at the Hawkins House.

A progam is being prepared, and from the excellent papers already promised, we expect a very interesting meeting. Only two essays will be read at each meeting, the balance of the time will be devoted to discussions.

It is the desire of the Committee to make this meeting practical and interesting. Several noted bee-keepers from other states and Canada have promised to meet with us. If you have anything of interest to exhibit please bring or send it. Plenty of room for exhibiting.

The question box will be one of the important features. Come prepared to ask and answer questions.

A cordial invitation is extended to all. Please come and bring your bee-keeping friends with you.

H. D. CUTTING, Sec'y.

Interesting to Mechanics.

We are in receipt of the MECHANICAL NEWS, for Nov. 15th, and take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the merits of that Journal. It is among the best papers that come to our editorial table, filled as it is with original and choice illustrations of the important and novel inventions of the times. Its editorial pages are replete with well considered articles on practical subjects, readily understood by any reader, while its miscellaneous and news matter make it attractive to those interested in the industrial prosperity of our country, the whole forming a rich store of useful reading.

The publishers announce that every person who sends one dollar (the subscription price of the paper) will receive the "Mechanical News" for one year, and a valuable premium. The premium alone is worth the price asked for the paper, but will only be given to those subscribing before Jan. 1st, 1887, after which time no premium will be given to subscribers. The offer is most liberal and every mechanic should send for a sample copy of the paper, which will be mailed free of charge. With your own name, give the names of your friends interested in such subjects, and copies will be mailed to them also. Address, The Mechanical News, 110 Liberty street, New York.

Primary School Fund

The following table shows the primary school fund, as apportioned to the various townships and cities in the county.

	No. of children	Amount
Adrian City	2,382	$1,332 92
Adrian	383	214 48
Blissfield	741	414 96
Cambridge	306	171 36
Clinton	422	236 32
Deerfield	607	339 92
Dover	343	192 08
Fairfield	752	421 12
Franklin	426	238 56
Hudson	559	313 04
Hudson City	420	235 20
Macon	347	193 20
Madison	286	160 16
Medina	513	287 28
Ogden	502	281 12
Palmyra	633	354 48
Raisin	487	272 72
Ridgeway	379	212 24
Riga	854	478 24
Rollin	435	243 60
Rome	316	176 96
Seneca	860	481 60
Tecumseh	661	370 16
Woodstock	350	196 00
	14,152	$7,925 12

The Terrible Death

When scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to effectively overcome diseases.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
Issued Every Thursday Morning
BY S. C. STACY.
(Over the New Bank Building, one door
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One year, cash in advance ... $1.00
Six months ... 50
Four months ... 35
Twenty cents will be added to the subscription price for every three months it is delayed beyond the year.
ADVERTISING RATES
One inch (ten lines) one time ... $1.00
Each subsequent insertion ... 50
Business notices, per line ... 5
Yearly advertisements, per inch ... 5.00
Special rates for yearly advertisers.
Entered at the Postoffice at Tecumseh, Michigan, as second class matter.

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. 1, 1883.

DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR

Chester Alan Arthur, ex-President of the United States, died at his home in New York, at 1 o'clock, Thursday morning, Nov. 18th. His illness, which comprised a complete wreck of the most astonishing character, extended over many months, during which Mr. Arthur exhibited more than ordinary patience and fortitude. The cause of his death was Bright's disease of the kidneys, while the immediate cause was a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Arthur was at all times during his illness, as he has been shown a very great deal of personal attention, and every comfort and luxury that could be procured, was his. The news of his death was received with deep sorrow by his friends, and with a feeling of regret by the public at large, who had learned to regard him with a kindly feeling, because of his manly bearing during his long illness, and the patience with which he bore his sufferings.

Mr. Arthur was a native of Vermont, and was born at Fairfield, Franklin county, on the 5th of October, 1830. He was the son of a Baptist clergyman, who had come from Ballymena, County Antrim, Ireland, in 1828, and married a native American lady of Vermont. The family lived in various places in the northern part of the state, wherever the Rev. William Arthur could find a congregation willing to accept his services, and young Chester received his education at the academies of those places, and at Union College, Schenectady, from which he graduated in 1848, when he was 18 years of age. He then became a teacher in the academy at Cohocton, Steuben county, and afterwards at North Pownal, Bennington county, Vermont. While teaching at the latter place he studied law, and in 1851 he went to New York city and entered the law office of Erastus Culver, a cousin of his father, and a member of the firm of Culver, Parker & Livingston, one of the most fashionable and lucrative firms in the city. He was admitted to the bar in New York in 1854, the year when he attained his majority. His original intention was to take Horace Greeley's advice and go west, but after making a tour in search of a desirable locality he determined to begin the practice in New York city, where he opened an office in partnership with his friend and room-mate, Henry R. Gardiner. Mr. Arthur's first important case, in which he was of counsel with William M. Evarts, was the famous Lemmon slave case. In this case it was decided that slaves brought into the State of New York by their masters became free men, notwithstanding the fugitive slave law. The action was brought at the instance of a colored man generally known as Louis Napoleon, who was for many years the janitor in the New York Tribune office. The case helped to bring the young lawyer into prominence but four years later, in 1858, he performed a service in the courts for the colored people of New York that was even more important to the proscribed race in those days of fanaticism and intolerance. In the early days of street railways colored people were not permitted to ride in the cars. A colored woman named Lizzie Jennings was ejected from a car in New York, after paying her fare, in consequence of the objection of a passenger. Also said he would eject the woman with a car ger. Mr. Arthur sued the company in behalf of the woman and obtained a verdict for $500. This put to an end the edict that colored people should be permitted to ride on the street cars in New York on the same terms as white passengers, and the consequence was that New York was soon in advance of most of the cities of the North in granting to the despised blacks.

During the war for the Union Mr. Arthur performed important service to his State and the Union. Like most young men in New York, he was a member of the National Guard, of that state, and at the breaking out of the war was Judge Advocate of the Second Brigade. Governor E. D. Morgan in 1861 appointed him Inspector General, and a few months later Quartermaster General on his staff. General Arthur served in the latter position until near the close of the war, and to his skill and a more efficient service in the organization and equipment of its volunteer forces. When he took office under Governor Morgan he was poor, when retired at the expiration of Governor Morgan's term he was poorer than before. With thousands of opportunities to enrich himself, General Arthur never allowed himself to make a dollar by the means that enabled so many men to amass fortunes. He was tried in the fire of temptation and came out of the ordeal an honest man.

As Arthur had behaved with simple and unaffected dignity throughout the period of Garfield's long illness, secluding himself in the interval from all but his most intimate personal friends, so he assumed his high office, without ostentation, as one who was doing his constitutional duty to his country in the face of circumstances that made it painful. The tragedy of the Presidency cast a gloom over the first weeks of President Arthur's administration, but as time advanced it began to be seen that the new President was a man of tact in dealing with [illegible] and that he had brought to his high position a dignity that held the proprieties of his office [illegible] he would make Long Branch a resort for the lakes and Mount Johnnies and Barnegat of New York and New Jersey. As a whole his administration proved sober, conservative and successful. That he should have sought to succeed himself was [illegible] complained and a political storm started had not the Blaine crisis [illegible] such deep blood upon the Republican party that it was willing to risk defeat in order to defeat Blaine.

The New York Sun says: Chester Alan Arthur, twenty-first president of the United States, died at his house in Lexington avenue at five o'clock yesterday morning, at the age of fifty-six years, one month and thirteen days. This sad event was long expected, but the public loss is none the less on account. He was a man of pleasing manners, of [illegible] and practical wisdom, a way-farer in his own conceptions of right, [illegible] in Pride [illegible] while the thoroughness of his love of [illegible] at times [illegible] shown a very [illegible] [illegible] Mr. Arthur [illegible] than ordinary talent [illegible] The [illegible] while the thoroughness of his love of [illegible] at times [illegible] shown a very [illegible] [illegible] Mr. Arthur [illegible] than ordinary talent [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ale !

RE

22d.

er that time ss, known would omers, me with a ppportunity.

EY

OL

ks of Cloth-assortment fore.

Clothing.

Figures
PLE.

TURE !

ock of Furni-nything in my
Come with a
at my prices,
r 12 yrs. in the

. McCOWEN.

ING !

nd to this imnight. No special orant persons
d immediately
are very reas-

VEN.

& CO.,

Co.,

and Doors.

FERIAL.

g to Order.

epot.

GAN.

REMEDY.

DAATS!

on to trade at

OOD'S
H.

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS ... cessful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf 28 years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st st., New York City.

Are CONSUMPTIVE!

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use PARKER'S TONIC without delay. It has cured cases of the worst class and is the best remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and diseases arising from impure blood and exhaustion. The feeble and sick, struggling against disease, and slowly drifting to the grave, will in most cases recover their health by the timely use of PARKER'S TONIC, but delay is dangerous. Take it now. Cures when all else fails. Gives novelties and vigor to the aged and infirm. $1 at Druggists.

KNABE PIANOFORTES.
UNEQUALLED FOR Tone, Touch, Workmanship, Durability
WILLIAM KNABE & CO.,
Nos. 204 & 206 West Baltimore st., Baltimore.
Nos. 12 Fifth Avenue, New York.

BENSON'S (BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER) POROUS PLASTER

first award of Medals in Europe & America. The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest, and all aches and pains. Endorsed by physicians and druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve, and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments, and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names such as "Capsicum," "Capucin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. ASK FOR BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHER. All druggists. MCKEAN & JOHNSON, Proprietors, N. Y.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 23d day of September, A.D. 1871, Alexander D. Mead and Lucy E. Mead his wife, of Lenawee county and state of Michigan, mortgaged and delivered to Fielder S. Snow, administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith, deceased, certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, Michigan, in Liber 65 of mortgages, on pages 251 and 252. Said mortgage was assigned by said Fielder S. Snow, administrator, to Ira Mattoch, of Clinton, in said county of Lenawee, and state of Michigan, on the 8th day of October A.D. 1877, which assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of the said county of Lenawee, in Liber 113 of mortgages, on page 320. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage at this date the sum of five hundred and forty-five dollars. No suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole or any part of the money secured and intended to be hereby paid, the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall sell at the 4th day of December, A.D., 1886, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Town House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county), the premises in said mortgage described, for the purpose of satisfying the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expenses of this foreclosure and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being all that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street, at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. King, and now occupied by Samuel B. Rose as a dwelling lot, and running thence westerly along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods, thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street, thence east along the line of Brown street three (3) rods, thence south along the west line of land occupied by Samuel B. Rose, twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept. 9, 1886.

MOSES BARTLETT, Assignee of said Mortgage.

Sept.

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE
—OF—
HENRY McCLURE,
The Largest and Best Selected Stock of
Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.
IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

In fact anything in this line can be bought at the Lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great English Prescription.
A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5. by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.
Sold in Tecumseh by DR. GEO. FERGUSON.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

Look for a New Story.

Next Week,

Watch for It!

Wait for It!

MY LADY'S MONEY

By WILKIE COLLINS

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

Mary entered the tent.

"I'll read the names," said Hardyman, "and you find the cards and tear them up. Stop! I'll keep the cards. You're just the sort of woman my father likes. He'll be reconciled to me when he sees you, after we are married. If one of those men ever asks him for a place, I'll take care, if it's years hence, to put an obstacle in his way. Here, take my pencil, and make a mark on the cards to remind me, the same mark I set against a horse in my book when I don't like him—a cross inclosed in a circle." He produced his pocketbook. His hands trembled with anger as he gave the pencil to Isabel and laid the book on the table. He had just read the name of the first false friend, and Isabel had just found the card when a servant appeared with a message. "Mrs. Drumblade has arrived, sir, and wishes to see you on a matter of the greatest importance."

Hardyman left the tent not very willingly. "Wait here," he said to Isabel, "I'll be back directly."

She was standing near her own place at the table. Moody had left one end of the jeweler's case visible above the napkin, to attract her attention. In a minute more the bracelet and the note were in her hands. She dropped on her chair, overwhelmed by

The bracelet and the note were in her hands.

the conflicting emotions that rose in her at the sight of the bracelet, at the reading of the note. Her head drooped, and the tears filled her eyes. "Are all women as blind as I have been to what is good and noble in this man who loves them?" she wondered, sadly. "Better as it is," she thought, with a bitter sigh; "I am not worthy of him."

As she took up the pencil to write her answer to Moody on the back of her dinner card, the servant appeared again at the door of the tent.

"My master wants you at the cottage, miss, immediately."

Isabel rose, putting the bracelet and the note in the silver mounted leather pocketbook a present from Hardyman which hung at her belt. In the hurry of passing round the table to get out, she never noticed that her dress touched Hardyman's pocketbook, placed closed to the edge, and threw it down on the grass below. The book fell into one of the hot cracks which Lady Lydiard had noticed as evidence of the neglected condition of the cottage lawn.

"You ought to hear the pleasant news my sister has just brought me," said Mrs. Drumblade. Isabel joined him in the parlor. "Mrs. Drumblade has been told, on the best authority, that my mother is not coming to the party."

"There must be some reason of course, dear Isabel," added Mrs. Drumblade. "Have you any idea of what it can be? I haven't seen my mother myself, and all my inquiries have failed to find it out."

She looked searchingly at Isabel as she spoke. The mask of sympathy on her face was admirably worn. Nobody who possessed only a superficial acquaintance with Mrs. Drumblade's character would have suspected how thoroughly she was enjoying in secret the position of embarrassment in which her news had placed her brother. Instinctively doubting whether Mrs. Drumblade's friendly behavior was quite so sincere as it appeared to be, Isabel answered, that she was a stranger to Lady Rotherfield, and was therefore quite at a loss to explain the cause of her ladyship's absence. As she spoke, the guests began to arrive, in quick succession, and the subject was dropped, as a matter of course.

It was not a merry party. Hardyman's approaching marriage had been made the topic of much malicious gossip, and Isabel's character had, as usual in such cases, become the object of all the false reports that scandal could invent. Lady Rotherfield's absence confirmed the general conviction that Hardyman was disgracing himself. The men were all more or less uneasy. The women resented the discovery that Isabel was, personally speaking, at least beyond the reach of hostile criticism. Her beauty was viewed as a downright offense; her refined and modest manners were set down as perfect acting. "Really disgusting, my dear, in so young a girl." Only Drumblade—a large and mostly vetegan, in a state of chronic astonishment after his own matrimonial experience at Hardyman's folly in marrying at all—diffused a white circle of gloom wherever he went and wherever he did. His accomplished wife, forcing her high spirits on everybody's attention with a sort of kittenish playfulness intensified the depressing effect of the general dullness by all the force of the strongest contrast. After waiting half an hour for his mother, and waiting in vain, Hardyman led the way to the tent in despair. "The sooner I fill their stomachs and get rid of them," he thought, savagely, "the better I shall be pleased."

The luncheon was attacked by the company with a certain silent ferocity, which the waiters noticed as remarkable, even in their large experience. The men drank deeply, but with wonderfully little effect in raising their spirits; the women, with the exception of amiable Mrs. Drumblade, kept Isabel deliberately out of the conversation that went on among them. Gen. Drumblade, sitting next to her in one of the places of honor, discoursed to Isabel privately on "my brother in law Hardyman's infernal temper." A young marquis, on her other side, a more fad, chosen to make the necessary speech in acknowledgment of his superior rank, rose in a state of nervous trepidation, to propose Isabel's health, as the chosen bride of their host. Pale and troubling conscious of having forgotten the words which he had learned beforehand, this unhappy young nobleman began, "Ladies and gentlemen, I haven't an idea." He stopped, put his hand to his head, stared wildly, and sat down again, having contributed to state his own case with masterly brevity and perfect truth in a speech of seven words.

While the dismay in some cases and the amusement in others was still at its height, Hardyman's valet made his appearance, and approaching his master, said, in a whisper, "Could I speak to you, sir, for a moment outside?"

"What the devil does it want?" the gentleman asked, irritably. "He had a letter in your hand, I saw it land."

The valet was a Frenchman. In other words, he had a sense of what was due to himself. His master had forgotten this. He gave up the letter with a certain dignity of manner, and left the tent. Hardyman opened the letter. He turned pale as he read it, crumpled it in his hand, and threw it down on the table. "By Good, it's a lie!" he exclaimed, furiously. The guests rose in confusion. Mrs. Drumblade, finding the letter within her reach, coolly possessed herself of it, recognized her mother's handwriting, and read these lines:

"I have only now succeeded in persuading your father to let me write to you. For God's sake break off your marriage at any sacrifice. Your father has heard, on unanswerable authority, that Miss Isabel Miller left her situation in Lady Lydiard's house on suspicion of theft".

While his sister was reading this letter, Hardyman had made his way to Isabel's chair. "I must speak to you directly," he whispered. "Come away with me." He turned as he took her arm, and looked at the table. "Where is my letter?" he asked. Mrs. Drumblade handed it to him dextrously crumpled up again as she had found it.

"No bad news, dear Alfred, I hope?" she said, in her most affectionate manner. Hardyman snatched the letter from her, without answering, and led Isabel out of the tent.

"Read that," he said when they were alone, "and tell me at once whether it's true or false."

Isabel read the letter. For a moment the shock of the discovery held her speechless. She recovered herself, and returned the letter.

"It is true," she answered.

Hardyman staggered back as if she had shot him.

"Tell me that you are guilty!" he cried.

"No, I am innocent. Everybody who knows me believes in my innocence. It is true that the appearances were against me. They are against me still." Having said this, she waited, quietly and firmly, for his next words.

He passed his hand over his forehead with a sigh of relief. "It's bad enough as it is," he said, speaking quietly on his side. "But the remedy for it is plain enough. Come back to the tent."

She never moved. "Why?" she asked.

"Do you suppose I don't believe in your innocence, too?" he answered. "[illegible] way of settling [illegible] you, Isabel, to give you up. Come back with me, and I will announce our marriage to my friends."

She took his hand and kissed it. "It is generous and good of you," she said. "But it cannot be."

He took a step nearer to her. "What do you mean?" he asked.

"It was my duty, my duty, she repeated, "that my pride concealed the truth from you. I did wrong to come out to this. I will do my duty to my mother [illegible] is not proved."

The query stung him to the quick. "[illegible] Take care," he said. "Remember in a minute [illegible] drive[illegible] with."

"I am not trying what you," she answered, in low, sad tones.

"Do you really mean what you say?"

"I mean to be your friend, Mr. Hardyman, if you will [illegible] me. I will prove my friendship by keeping your good name [illegible]."

He laid one hand on her arm, and pointed with the other to the guests in the distance, all looking the tent on their way to their carriages.

"Your good name will be restored to you," he said, "on the day when I make you my wife. The worst enemy you have cannot associate my name with a suspicion of theft. Remember that and think a little before you decide. You see those people there? If you don't change your mind by the time I have been to the carriage, it's good by, Isabel, and good by to Brooke. I'll face to what they [illegible] I'm waiting now, you have got some minutes more."

He stood with her, watching the guests as they gradually receded from view. [illegible] had all embarked in a [illegible] that he spoke to Isabel.

"Now, Isabel," he said, "you have had your time to get cool. Will you take my arm and take those people with me, or will you say good-bye forever?"

"Before I answer, let me speak to you," [illegible] entreat in spite of herself [illegible] your name. Is the name of your family [illegible] have a right to expect that you will not [illegible]."

"I will give you an answer," he interrupted, [illegible] "Yes, or No?"

She looked at him with sad compassionate eyes. Her voice was firm as she answered him on the spot where he first met her. "The Yes is with you."

Without speaking to her, without even looking at her, he turned and walked back to the cottage.

Making his way silently through the group of visitors, every one of whom had been informed of what had happened by his sister—with his head down and his lips fast closed, he entered the garden and gained the hall which communicated with his [illegible] and the stables.

"You know that I am going abroad on business," he said, as he [illegible] appeared.

"Yes, sir."

"I am going to-day—going by the night train to Dover. Order the horse to be put to immediately in the dog cart. Is there anything wanted in the house?"

The inexorable necessities of business [illegible] their claims through the one dominant passion of the foreman. Chaffin, at the desk, hardly had time to look up at his desk, signing checks and [illegible] accounts, with the dog cart waiting in the stable yard.

A knock at the door startled him in the middle of his work. "Come in!" he called out, sharply.

He took up expecting to see one of the grooms or one of the servants. It was Moody who entered the room. Hardyman laid down his pen and fixed his eyes sternly on the man who had dared to interrupt him.

"What the devil do you want?" he asked.

"I have seen Miss Isabel, and spoken with her," Moody replied. "Sir, Hardyman, I believe it is in your power to set this matter right. For the young lady's sake, sir, you must not leave England without doing it."

Hardyman turned to his foreman. "Is this fellow drunk or mad?" he asked.

Moody proceeded, calmly and as resolutely as before. "If I have not been spoken, I apologize for my intrusion, sir. I will trouble you with no explanations. I will only ask one question, Have you a memorandum of the number of that bank note which you paid away in France?"

Hardyman lost all control over himself.

"You scoundrel!" he cried, "have you been prying into my private affairs? Is it your business to know what I do in France?"

"Is it your vengeance on a woman to refuse to tell her the number of a bank note?" Moody replied.

That answer forced its way through Hardyman's anger to Hardyman's sense of honor. He rose and advanced to Moody. For a moment the two men faced each other in silence. "You're a bold fellow," said Hardyman, with a sudden change from anger to irony. "I'll do the lady justice. I'll look at my pocketbook."

He put his hand into the breast pocket of his coat, he searched his other pockets, he turned over the objects on his writing table. The book was gone.

Moody watched him with a feeling of despair. "Oh, Mr. Hardyman, don't say you have lost your pocketbook."

He sat down again at his desk, with sullen suburbs silent to the new disaster. "All I can say is you're at liberty to look for it," he replied. "I must have dropped it somewhere." He turned impatiently to the foreman. "Now, then, what is the next check wanted? I shall go mad if I wait in this damned place much longer."

Moody left him, and found his way to the servants' offices. Mr. Hardyman has lost his pocketbook, he said. "Look for it, and offer a reward on the lawn and in the tent. Ten pounds reward for the man who finds it."

Servants and waiters instantly dispersed, eager for the promised reward. The men who pursued the search outside the cottage divided their forces, some of them examined the lawn and the flower beds, others went straight to the empty tent. These last were the superior servants, pursuing the object in view to more purpose, they discovered a lingering stolen march of unknown from the morsels left on the plates. The dog drank away under the canvas when the men came in, and ate to the last until they had gone, then retreated to the tent and went on with his luncheon.

Moody hastened back to the part of the grounds close to the shrubbery, in which Isabel was waiting his return.

She looked at him, while he was telling her of his interview with Hardyman, with an expression in her eyes which he had never seen in them before—an expression which set his heart beating wildly, and made him break off in his narrative before he had reached the end.

"I understand," she said, quietly, as he stopped in confusion. "You have made some more sacrifice to my welfare. Robert, I believe you are the noblest man that ever breathed the breath of life."

His eyes sank before hers, he blushed like a boy. "I have done nothing for your good," he said. "Don't despair of the future if the pocketbook should not be found. I know who the man is who received the bank note, and I have only to find him to decide the question whether it is the stolen note or not."

She smiled at his enthusiasm.

"Are you going back to Mr. Sharon to help you?" she asked. "That trick he played has destroyed my belief in him. He no more knows than I do who the thief really is."

"You are mistaken, Isabel. He knows, and I know. He stopped there, and made a sign to her to be silent as one of the servants was approaching them.

"Is the pocketbook found?" Moody asked.

"No, sir."

"But Mr. Hardyman left the cottage?"

"He has just come, sir. Have you any further instructions to give me?"

"[illegible] Stay! [illegible] on behalf of the pocketbook, do I not [illegible]?"

The servant looked at him with a stupid stare. "Of course, sir, of course."

Moody waited his own time to speak. "I cannot [illegible] Isabel, whether you wish to return to your home."

"Do that, if you please, for an hour or two. I will write a few lines to my mother, and I will [illegible] dropped it somewhere." He turned impatiently to the servant. "Now, then, what is the next check wanted? I shall go mad if I wait in this damned place much longer."

Moody left him, and found his way to the servants' offices. Mr. Hardyman has lost his pocketbook, he said. "Look for it, and offer a reward out

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. [illegible]

THE WHEEL.

By L. C. Bayne.

[illegible] enough at Detroit. Setting the quee[illegible] we mounted and rode off.

[illegible] gallant leader when remarking [illegible] as I suppose to demonstrate the specific gravity of the earth, made most ridiculous somersaults over the handle bar, which drove the lemon [illegible] appetites for breakfast.

[illegible] the other two [illegible] and the other [illegible] and knowing [illegible] mothers had [illegible]

After we had breakfasted up, And[illegible] for the race to Wayne, [illegible] the Jackson. And after and [illegible] number was an amateur photographer. Said photographer was very short and rode a Star bicycle [illegible] with the other wheels in [illegible]. This camera man generally termed Cupid thought it perfectly proper and certainly necessary to take a picture of the hotel and of [illegible] it was a perfectly proper for [illegible] to make the [illegible] [illegible] an hour the boys [illegible] Wayne [illegible] Ann Arbor [illegible] Ann Arbor [illegible] Wayne [illegible] Ann Arbor [illegible] Wayne [illegible] Ann Arbor [illegible] Wayne

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., NOV. 25, 1886

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.—I will be at the office of S. J. Cousin, three doors [illegible] of the HERALD office on the 3d, 10th, 17th, [illegible] of December, for the purpose of receiving taxes.

Farmers Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

S. J. SHUTE,
Township Treasurer.

CABBAGE, CABBAGE.—Premium Flat Dutch and best cabbage grown by [illegible] for sale, cheap as cheap as the cheapest.

ABNER WILSON.

FOR RENT.—A fine brick house [illegible] Tecumseh, which is [illegible] office. Enquire of SUNNYSIDE.

Tecumseh, Mich.

Miss M. A. Freeman is on the sick list.

Dog Show to-morrow night at the Opera House.

There will be a Dog Show at Opera House to-morrow night.

Go and hear the Crown Musicians next Tuesday evening.

Abe Hanford started yesterday for Kansas to be gone several weeks.

Celebrate this evening and go to the readings of Emma D. Lemon.

Walter Merritt of Six Lakes, Mich., was visiting at D. W. Clark's this week.

Richard Bigger, of Listowell, Ont., is visiting at Mrs. Anna Simmons this week.

S. M. Brown, M. & O. agent at Hanover, was visiting at Agent Frank Allen's over Sunday.

Mrs. Eugene Bryan of Dalton, arrived home Tuesday on a visit to her father, Mrs. E. J. Bryan.

Call at Adamson Bros' and examine the largest stock of Diamonds ever [illegible] in Tecumseh.

Mr. Indwin and Mrs. Lawley, of Marshall are visiting old friends in Ridgeway and neighborhood.

Adamson Bros' have just received a large consignment of Diamonds, comprising Lace Pins, Ear Rings and Collar Buttons.

The new township road machine has arrived and will doubtless be of great value in keeping our ways in good order.

Miss Bertha Maitbie of Cattaraugus, N. Y., arrived here last Tuesday evening and will spend the winter here with relatives.

The ladies social of the Universalist church will meet at C. C. Teft's in the village to-morrow (Friday) afternoon.

L. LOANA STACY, Sec.

"Torchie" Thorp is now practicing with Joe Sage, the celebrated door doctor, and is finding many new patients to operate upon.

After a big Thanksgiving dinner, you will need something to settle it. Go and hear the readings of Emma D. Lemon this evening.

Miss Allie Slate arrived home Friday the 19th. She has been visiting her father and friends at Norwalk, O., for the past four months. Her relatives and friends heartily welcome Allie home again.

The hog-ringer business of Heesen Bros. & Co., is booming this fall. They have recently sent out a large number of circulars to Australia. They are working up a fine trade in that country.

Mrs. Burridge received word Tuesday of the death of her father, Mr. S. C. Blinn of Milan, a former resident of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Burridge expected to spend thanksgiving at her father's to-day.

The regular monthly examinations were in progress yesterday in the different departments of the public schools. The usual Thanksgiving recess takes place to-day and to-morrow. School will be resumed next Monday.

Emma D. Lemon will be assisted in her entertainment this evening by Hattie Mason Allen, soprano; Mattie B. Chilson, violinist; and Mary S. Dibell, pianist. They are all fine artists.

Henry Smith is still serving on the Grand Jury in the U. S. Circuit Court at Detroit. There is a large amount of business on hand and over forty indictments have already been found. He speaks in high terms of District Attorney Black.

The inspection of Co. C. by Inspector General Kidd, was held Tuesday forenoon at eleven o'clock and notwithstanding the unseasonable hour there were nearly thirty members present. Both the officers and men acquitted themselves finely. Gen. Kidd expressed himself as highly pleased with the drill of the company and also with the condition of the arms and accouterments. Co. C. still holds its "rep" as one of the best companies in the regiment.

Dr. Hause's Florida party will leave here on Tuesday next, Nov. 30th. The route will be via the C. H. & D. and Louisville & Nashville lines. The party will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Hause, George B. Gray, wife, daughter and son, Dr. F. M. Oakley, wife and daughter, and Chas. White, who will start fro Tecumseh. Also Dr. E. C. Dickinson, wife and daughter, of Hudson, and David Carpenter with three other persons from Blissfield. The entire party will number fifteen. The tickets will be good for the return trip until June 1st.

The turkeys and chickens say

George Jones, of Manchester, was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wingate go to Detroit Monday.

Go and hear the Court Musicians next Tuesday evening.

R. J. Colter and wife, of Adrian, spent last Sunday with friends in Tecumseh.

Mr. R. Goff has a new boarder in a family. It is a girl and arrived last Sunday.

John O'Leary received a telegram last Friday of the death of his mother who lives in Ohio. She was 96 years of age.

We acknowledge a very pleasant call from Inspector-General Kidd during his brief stop in Tecumseh last Tuesday.

Bulletin No. 20, issued by the Agricultural College gives an analysis of commercial fertilizers. It is a very valuable number.

A man is, in general, better pleased when he has a good dinner upon his table than when his wife speaks Greek.—Dr. Johnson.

Tecumseh will indulge in the luxury of a big Christmas dance. It will probably be held in the afternoon and at the Opera House.

The Court Musicians and Mr. Walter Pelham give an entertainment that is well worth attending. They will be here at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, Nov. 30th.

In accordance with orders from Postmaster General Vilas, the Tecumseh postoffice was closed last Monday between the hours of ten A. M. and one P. M., during the service of Ex-President Arthur's funeral.

The Wabash Journal is a neat eight page folio published by the passenger department of the Wabash Railway. It contains full time tables connections and other valuable information pertaining to that popular line. We are indebted to our old friend Charley Crane for a copy of the October number.

We have received from the publishers, M. W. Ellsworth & Co., of Detroit, a copy of their new work entitled, "The Successful Housekeeper." It is one of the best books of that character that has ever fallen under our notice and ought to be in every household.

Macon Grange will meet in regular session Thursday, Dec. 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock, P. M. The Board of Directors for the Association will meet one hour earlier, same date. This will be the last meeting but one this year. A full attendance is requested.

The Young People's Society of the Baptist church elected the following officers last week:

President—C. H. Bramble.
Vice President—Mrs. J. Heeser.
Rec. Secy.—Ellen Fisher.
Fin. Secy.—Kittie Adams.
Treasurer—May Henderson.

The young People's Social of the M. E. church have chosen the following officers:

President—Mrs. Fred Rosacrans.
Vice-President—Mrs. R. B. House.
Secretary—Mrs. I. S. Osborn.
Treasurer—Miss Finney.

The oldest voter in the 2nd ward, if not in the city, was Michael VanSickel, who is in his 97th year.—Adrian Press.

The oldest resident who voted at Hudson on election day was Russell Sturges, aged 96 years.—Hudson Gazette.

Addison discounts the above figures fully ten years according to the best authority. Adam Dutcher is the man, and the Republican ticket was the kind deposited. Next!—Addison Courier.

The "Temple Builders," better known as the Mission Band, will hold a bazaar and festival in the chapel of the Baptist church next Friday evening, Nov. 26th, at 7 o'clock. The entertainment will consist of a short program and refreshments, which will be served for 17c. The young ladies will also have a nice assortment of useful and ornamental articles for sale at that time. A cordial invitation is extended to both young and old. Grace Heck, Sec.

The temperance meeting last Monday evening was a success in every respect except attendance. The threatening rain doubtless kept away a good many. Mrs. M. P. Brown presided, Bro. Burtlett offered prayer, and the Baptist choir furnished some excellent vocal music. Mrs. Benjamin's address was just an hour in length, and was most heartily received by the audience.

Mrs. Benjamin lectured in Blissfield last Sunday. She missed the Jackson train Monday morning and Rev. Lamont brought her over with a horse and buggy that she might fulfill her appointment here on Monday evening. Mr. Lamont enjoys the distinction of being a brother to the Lamont who was elected a member of the Illinois legislature on the Prohibition ticket at the late election.

Don't forget the Show at the Opera House to-morrow night.

Miss May Hunt of Manchester visit the Misses Heesen last Saturday.

[illegible] Dime [illegible] the largest of any Jewelry House in Michigan.

The largest stock of Jewelry ever brought to Lenawee county at Adamson Bros.

Take one dressed and take your roast turkey at the Lilley House [illegible].

More of the teachers who live out of town will spend the Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Fred Glenn, son of postmaster Glenn, of Ousted, was in town Monday [illegible].

The Tecumseh poultry buyers have been putting in some heavy work during the past few days.

Rev. C. E. Conley, wife and son, of Detroit, will spend Thanksgiving with their many friends in Tecumseh.

Our stock of Dry Goods never was so complete. Prices never lower.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

One thing can be said in favor of the ice man. He has any left over he doesn't wand it up for breakfast.

Cabinet Photographs at $2.00 per doz. until 15th of November, at Stager's Photograph Gallery, Tecumseh, Mich.

Chas. Bell was called home to Fowlerville, on Friday last by a telegram announcing his father's death.

Miss Hattie Whittier left home last week for Elgin, Ill., where she will make an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Stacy.

Mrs. M. Spoltzer and her daughter Maggie, of Detroit, who were visiting her son and Mrs. West and other friends in Tecumseh last week, returned home on Monday.

Thomas H. Mosher arrived from the west last Saturday and is spending a few days with friends in Tecumseh and Cambridge.

The children's temperance meeting last Friday afternoon was more largely attended than usual, and several new signers put their names to the pledge.

The W. C. T. U. will meet until further notice in the Reform Club Room on Fridays, at 3 P. M. The Temperance School will also meet in the Reform Club Room on Friday afternoons at 1:15 o'clock until further notice.

Miss Emma Mertz, daughter of Frederick Mertz, proprietor of the Central Hotel, left last week for Portland, Oregon, where she will be married to Dr. Wm. McLane, of that place.

The Myrtle Club will meet at E. A. Hodges residence on Thursday evening of next week, Dec. 2d. This will be a business meeting and a full attendance of the members is desired.

The concert next Tuesday evening, to be given by the Crown Musicians will be one of the finest musical events ever witnessed in Tecumseh. Turn out and fill the house.

Landlord Patterson is making arrangements to serve an elegant Thanksgiving dinner to-day at the Lilley House, of which many of our citizens will doubtless take advantage.

Bert McNair arrived home last Monday for a three days vacation, having procured two days leave of absence. He is getting fairly settled down to the work now and likes his official position very much.

The cleverest of the six short stories in Harper's Magazine for December is "Polly," a Southern Christmas story of ante bellum days, by Thomas Nelson Page, the young Richmond lawyer who is rapidly rising into prominence as a skillful writer. Kemble's five illustrations evince the true Virginian spirit.

Any person sending fifteen cents to the Advertising Department of the Wabash Route, St. Louis, Mo., will receive by return mail a handsome, well bound book, entitled "Social Amusements," containing all the latest and most novel Parlor Games, Charades, etc. The best publication ever issued for anyone giving an evening party.

Remember Thanksgiving Services at the Universalist church at 10:30 A. M. Subject, "The Retrospective and Prospective of our People." Also, services on Sunday, Nov. 28th, at the Universalist church. In the morning at 10:30, a sermon on "The Wisdom of Experience." Text, Philippians IV. XI. At 7 o'clock in the evening a discourse on "Crime and its Remedy." Text, XI Timothy, 2-7.

The mysteries of editorial action concerning volunteer contributions are clearly explained in the Editor's Easy Chair of Harper's Magazine for December. A paragraph in the Boston Herald ascribing the difficulty of gaining an entrance into the great magazines to "the literary gang," brings forth a long and courteous reply from the editor of Harper's Magazine, which the Easy Chair quotes in full. The army of aspiring authors will gain some valuable information there pertaining to the methods of editorial judgement and the reasons why their MSS. are generally returned as "unavailable."

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

The semi-centennial celebration of the Congregational church, in this village, Dec. 1st and 2d, promises to be a [illegible] in the history of the church. Only two of the original charter members are now living—Mr. Beriah Lane, of Adrian, and Deacon Rowley, of Wheatland. All of the former members have been invited. Rev. Dr. Rhodes and Rev. Ross, of Port Huron, one of the ablest divines in the State, are expected to be present. The services will begin Wednesday afternoon and continue Thursday evening.—Hudson Gazette.

A chandelier in the Free Methodist church at Hudson was overturned and in the process of [illegible] commotion. The fire was promptly extinguished without much damage.—Hudson Post.

Scarcely a day goes by that there are not a number of visitors at the electric light works, and it frequently happens that there is quite a crowd of curious sight seers congregated in the generating room. Sometimes an admiring visitor lingers too long in the near vicinity of one of the dynamos and then awakens to the disagreeable fact that his watch will be valuable thereafter mainly as a curiosity in the shape of immovable hands and magnetized springs.—Adrian Record.

Yesterday morning, while a portion of the family was at church, the 5 year old child of Homer F. Decker, of Rome, went to the barn and set fire to the straw stack. When the flames were well under way, the child went to the house and asked for another [illegible]. The stack was consumed, as was the barn adjoining, together with most of the contents. There was an insurance of $500.—Adrian Times.

The W. C. T. U. organized a local union at Hudson last week with thirteen members.

There is talk of building a church near the head of Devil's Lake. Why not have it at one of the landings to convert the Toledo sinners who each Sunday go on an excursion to the lake of the evil name.—Hudson Post.

The Hudson musical union will change the time of meeting from Wednesday until Monday evenings. Wednesday evenings are stormy. It has rained every Wednesday since the first of October.

Rufus Adams, James H. Heck and A. P. Coddington, are the newly elected deacons of the Baptist church at Tecumseh. How they skipped Alf. James and Jehiel Davidson, is one of the mysteries that it shall be our duty to help unravel hereafter.—Adrian Press.

The Clinton cider mill turned out 140 barrels of apple juice in ten hours one day recently.

Macon gained 13 on its prohibition vote over last spring. The supporters of the cold water beverage can see victory in about 15 years hence, if they keep up gains like that all the while.—Adrian Press.

A deacon of a neighboring church has a string of buttons half a yard long taken out of the contribution box within a few years. What business has the deacon with buttons? They were contributed for the heathen, and several scores of heathens have been obliged to hitch their suspenders with a shingle nail because of this embezzling deacon.—Exchange.

The tattler is one of the worst pests of any community. Not unfrequently the long tongued ones are wicked at heart, and they circulate the meanest kind of scandals. They are soon found out and are properly shunned. They are worse than robbers. They seek to destroy reputation in the dark. Like an assassin they stab in the back. Every town has a few such pests.—Brooklyn Exponent.

The Adrian Bicycle Club give a swell dancing party this evening. Tickets only $3.00.

People who have business in Toledo will stop at the new depot, about three-quarters of a mile away from the business portion of the city. For our citizens the old depot was much more convenient and easy of access than the new, and they do not take kindly to the change. It also gives them less time to reach the "center of trade" on the afternoon train, and get back again on the night train.—Bliss field Advance.

A Clayton young man went to see his girl the other night. About midnight he fell asleep holding the girl in his lap. An hour later he awoke fondly clasping—a doll baby; but his sweetheart had disappeared.—Morenci Observer.

Lt. Elliott Gray got home from his hunting trip yesterday morning. There were two others in the party besides himself. They killed eleven deer in all, five of which were bucks that weighed over 1100 pounds. He is prepared to give thanks to-day in old fashioned style.

—BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—From the celebrated Pennsylvania buckwheat, and cheaper than ever before sold in this market, kept on hand at all times, at HECK BROS.

FARMER'S SOCIAL CLUB.

Friday evening Nov. 12th the Farmer's social club met at I. H. Schneider's. The evening was very unpleasant, and there was not the usual attendance.

After the literary part of the program the question of co-operative creameries was taken up and fully discussed.

Mr. A. G. Hall was asked to read a paper upon the question but as he was absent, Mr. G. Wolf introduced the subject, by saying, I think the time has come when the farmers have got to either co-operate and make creamery butter or sell their cream to already established creameries. I see no difference of profit or expense between creamery and dairy butter, and I think the farmers might establish a co-operative creamery and save this profit. I believe the farmers could make butter much more cheaply by the co-operative plan than singly. After this the discussion became very spirited and was very interesting, the ladies as well as gentlemen taking a part. The general opinion was, that butter manufactured by the creamery process is superior to dairy butter, and that it would be advisable for the farmers to establish co-operative creameries.

The next regular meeting coming the evening after Thanksgiving, and as the young people of the Baptist church give an entertainment that evening, it was decided to postpone the meeting until Friday evening, Dec. 10th, when it will be held at I. C. Rector's.

This will be the annual meeting and election of officers. There is no question, but the following program will be given.

PROGRAM.

Inst. solo—Rhoda Benedict.
Essay—Garland Grimes.
Rec.—Lovina Schneider.
Inst. solo—Lizzie Henderson.
Select reading—Lewis Waldron.
Dec.—Arthur Hall.
Song—Kit Griswold and Minnie Rector.
Charade—Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Griswold and Mrs. Fisher.
Chip basket—Ellen Fisher.
Vocal solo—Ora Gillespie.
Election of officers.

MRS. F. C. RECTOR.

THE COURT MUSICIANS.

This distinguished concert troupe will give one of their unrivalled entertainments at the Opera House on Tuesday evening next, Nov. 30th. The entertainment consists of music and recitations with a fair proportion of each. Admission 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats without extra charge.

From a large number of favorable press notices we cull the following:

Miss Annie Taunton has a clear, well-cultivated voice, sweet and delicate rather than powerful, but pure in tone and perfect in enunciation, and accompanied by an unaffected and graceful carriage which charmed the audience. Miss Zetema sang two ballads with archness and gives promise of a good future; she is still but a child. The honors of the evening were, however, with Mr. Leach, basso, and Mr. Abercrombie, tenor, whose rendering of Excelsior, with music by Balfe, has we venture to say, never been equalled in Belleville. This duet and the "Night Watch" by Mr. Leach, and A Simple Maid, by Mr. Abercrombie, with encores, took the house by storm. Mr. H. G. Hopper displayed wonderful executive skill at the piano, while Mr. Walter Pelham in his racy reminiscences and personal and pictorial sketches, convulsed the audience. Mr. Pelham's versatile program alone would have satisfied many. The whole entertainment was one of unqualified excellence.—Belleville Intelligencer.

"Than Mr. Walter Pelham, never assuredly did a clever or more humorous actor stand on a platform. In his reminiscences of rare readers, there is the most genuine character acting provocative of roars of laughter, and wholly gentlemanly and refined. Mr. Pelham does not make up in any way, but his powers of mimicry and facial expression are so wonderful that, the character he personates stands before you most vividly."—London Eng. Court Circular.

"Mr. Pelham shows remarkable qualities in eccentric and mimetic representation. His portraiture is rich in character and his humor abounds in point and truth."—Illustrated London News.

"Mr. Pelham's humorous delineations of character are very successful. The rapid transformations which he produces in voice and feature are really marvelous."—Graphic, London, Eng.

Mr. Pelham's sketches. Mr. Walter Pelham gave his first matinee at the Academy on Tuesday. The science of reminiscences is wonderful, and the rapid transformation of facial expression is marvelous. The selections follow one another so rapidly they are very amusing, and the art department is full of room and fun. The entertainments include Artemus Ward's original panorama and the Mormon lecture.—Boston Post.

Mostly everyone in the large and fashionable audience that gathered in Pavilion last evening will agree that the musical and literary entertainment presented by the Court Musicians and Walter Pelham was one worthy of having royal listeners. The concert was of the highest order, and the managers may consider they have given the public a treat. The songs, with scarcely an exception, were popular ballads, and every number was rendered with the clearness of enunciation so often coveted and so seldom heard.—Toronto News.

WEDDING BELLS.

Another printer's heart has been captured, and another of Tecumseh's fair daughters has been won. On Thursday evening, the 18th inst. at the residence of the groom's parents in this village occurred the marriage of Mr. Levi B. Stevens and Miss Flora Reynolds. Rev. G. D. Perry, an old friend and neighbor of the Reynolds family, performed the ceremony, which was somewhat unexpected to the guests. The weather was dreary enough without but mirth and gaiety reigned within. The guests in attendance (numbers) about [illegible] were the family relatives and a few friends, but it was a very happy home-[illegible]. Congratulations, refreshments followed, and the balance of the evening was spent in [illegible]. The parlor was covered with a beautiful array of bridal gifts, comprising both the useful and ornamental. The groom has lived in Tecumseh from boyhood, and for several years has been one of the most efficient and faithful of the Herald's employes. The bride has always lived in Franklin and Tecumseh, and is a favorite in the social circles in which she has moved. We duly extend the wishes of all their acquaintances, who we presume, will join with the Tecumseh Medley. May happiness [illegible] their home.

[illegible] of Black Oysters at [illegible] last week, [illegible] Rawsons. [illegible] fresh oysters direct from Baltimore [illegible] at Rawsons.

We call special attention to our ad this week. Over 200 garments sold during the past month. Our large sales, and the daily throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. We are never undersold.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co.

—Cocoanut culture along the lower coast of Florida is growing rapidly in volume and importance.

—If you want an overcoat for man, boy or child, come and see us.

Strong & McNair.

—We are prepared to show the largest assortment of overcoats and Suits ever offered in Tecumseh and at lowest prices.

Strong & McNair.

—Now is the time to sit for Holiday Pictures, and the place to get them is at M. P. Brown's Art Gallery.

—The celebrated Chesapeake oysters by the dozen, by the can, by the keg. [illegible]

—BUCKWHEAT CAKES. Get a sack of choice new Buckwheat Flour of C. A. Slayton.

—Hough & Hosmer are bound to be at the front in prices and styles of goods.

—Hough & Hosmer are always pleased to show goods, and don't forget prices.

—Just received, one case Ladies' fine Merino underwear worth 75cts. Our price 50cts. each.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

—Buy your Hosiery and Blankets at

Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

—M. P. Brown, the Phographer, is making finer Photographs than ever and at Prices that please his patrons.

—No better place to have Photo work done in Lenawee county than at Brown's Art Gallery. Fine work and reasonable prices have always been his motto.

—Important to Young Men. Send your name to Brown's Business University and get your name finely written, and an 8 page paper, free.

—We are still selling the Gent's White Shirt our competitors advertise as a bargain for 75c, at 48c. Comparison solicited.

Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturday.

Everyone using grain bags can save money by buying them at Sutton, Fairfield & Co's.

Call and get some of those fresh cookies at the Star Bakery 8c a dozen.

FOR WEDDINGS AND SUNDAY DINNERS. When you want something extra nice and choice for Weddings and Sunday dinners, get Heck Bro's. White Foam flour. It will hit the spot exactly.

Fresh Oysters 25 cents a quart at the Star Bakery.

Bread only 7c a loaf at the Star Bakery.

If you wish any [illegible] painting or paper hanging done call on D. Holmes. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Baker & Hall's or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh.

D. HOLMES.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS.

DR. G. L. WOOD

C. A. STACY,

PHYSICIANS.

C. W. WOODWARD, M. D.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

HOTELS.

M. L. RICE,
UTICA, MICHIGAN,

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

SOUTH BEND.

THE CASSACY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS

CULTIVATORS GRAIN DRILLS

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons

Headquarters for Lime, Cement Salt, Coal, Calf Plaster and Plastering Hair, Grain, Flour, Feed, and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING
OPIUM.

Cures of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Dozing Opium or Gold cure the worst case of this terrible habit in from three to five weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike other so-called "painless cures" it does not use a single opium pill, or any of its preparations, and yet the patient, while rapidly reducing his morphine down to nothing, is able to attend to his ordinary business and in every respect has not done anything that he could do if he had never taken Morphine. Opium Habit. FREE, or for Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's new work, "Opium, Its Use, Abuse and Cure," with full particulars of our treatment. It is the most complete and comprehensive work ever issued on the subject, and gives full information for self cure at home. Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
DEXTER, ILL.

DRUNKENNESS!
Cured in from three to nine days

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

SEXUAL Weakness A few Men heard directly and positively cured. Send for book mailed FREE to all sufferers. Address Hawkins Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y., N. S. A.

HEROINE OF ACADIA.

Although thousands of women in all ages of the world have displayed to the [illegible] courage in private life, the number of those who, by their daring in battle have proved themselves worthy to be teachers of men has been extremely small. This, of course, is largely due to the fact that the [illegible] to women for [illegible] but the [illegible] undoubtedly [illegible] disposition and temperament is more fitted to shine in peace than in war. Yet in some instances [illegible] have [illegible] to command [illegible] and have [illegible] the world [illegible] Lady Latour, whose [illegible] character [illegible]

[illegible] Charnisay, in the meantime, had reached Acadia and was cruising in the Bay of Fundy to intercept his enemy. Latour, half distracted at the delay in his lady's return, had been to Boston seeking further help, only to find himself [illegible] by the threats of Charnissay. The latter, maintaining a close watch in the Bay of Fundy, boarded Lady Latour's ship but she and her party were concealed in the hold, and the master pretended that he was bound direct to Boston. So Charnissay had to let the vessel go, and his prey escaped, but it was no longer possible to reach Fort Latour, and to Boston the vessel went. There Lady Latour brought an action on the charter party for deviation and delay, and recovered a verdict of £2,000. Then hiring three armed ships in Boston to convoy her home, she at length reached Fort Latour, after having been absent for more than a year.

Difficulties, and dangers were now gathering around the doomed fortress. Charnissay had command of the sea, and was able to cut off his supplies. Then Latour, leaving his brave wife in command of the fort, went to Boston early in the winter and sent a small vessel laden with provisions to St. Jean. Charnissay, however, captured it, and Latour found himself unable to return to his fort. So the brave lady was left to face her own and her husband's enemies alone. It was here that the great energy and the heroism of her character were brought into play. Although bothered with the care of a child that was hardly more than an infant, she showed herself in the fullest sense capable of command. Her appeals never rested and she inspired her men with her own courage. But the number, after wrecking out, treachery and desertion, was less than 100, and they were badly supplied with provisions and munitions of war. In February, immediately after the capture of Latour's provision ship, Charnissay attacked the fort. He expected an easy conquest, but found himself sadly mistaken. From one of the [illegible] Lady Latour directed the [illegible] and with such effect that one of them had to be carried away in a [illegible] covered with dead and [illegible]. It took Charnissay nearly ten months to repair the damage [illegible] that he [illegible] with Fort Latour. In April he again returned with a larger force, and this time attacked the fort from the landside. For three days and as many nights the assault proceeded, but Lady Latour conducted the defence with such skill and courage that the besiegers made no progress, and Charnissay was obliged to draw off his forces with loss. With calm eyes that looked upon danger without fear, [illegible] by her example and encouraging the bold. The [illegible] of the former [illegible] would have failed but for the [illegible] means to [illegible] a [illegible] was granted. [illegible] in the dim light of Easter Sunday morning, when the garrison were at prayers, this traitor [illegible] the enemy to approach. They had [illegible] the walls before the alarm was given. Lady Latour in this extremity showed the [illegible] fighting [illegible] the battlement. She placed herself at the head of her little band and made a desperate defence that even took the assailants by surprise. But the fort was lost, and the [illegible] was overpowered. In the [illegible] Lady Latour was [illegible] and the [illegible] was [illegible] and the latter could only go away breathing vengeance, for Latour had four and twenty cannon mounted on the walls of his stronghold. Charnissay returned to France to obtain more royal orders, and disbelieve Latour. The latter in the meantime sought to open up a trade with the people of Massachusetts bay, and to enlist their aid in his cause. In the first he succeeded, and [illegible] in this campaign he made friends in Boston, who proved [illegible] to him in a [illegible] [illegible] to Boston to obtain [illegible] The [illegible] time to the [illegible] [illegible] Latour. In the same ship embarked a man little loved by the men of Massachusetts bay, Roger Williams, the founder of the Providence plantation.

Unfortunately, the master of the ship, instead of proceeding on his voyage with due diligence, loitered on the way to [illegible] Charnissay, in the meantime, had reached Acadia and was cruising in the Bay of Fundy to intercept his enemy. Latour, half distracted at the delay in his lady's return, had been to Boston seeking further help, only to find himself [illegible] by the threats of Charnissay. The latter, maintaining a close watch in the Bay of Fundy, boarded Lady Latour's ship, but she and her party were concealed in the hold, and the master pretended that he was bound direct to Boston. So Charnissay had to let the vessel go, and his prey escaped, but it was no longer possible to reach Fort Latour, and to Boston the vessel went. There Lady Latour brought an action on the charter party for deviation and delay, and recovered a verdict of £2,000. Then hiring three armed ships in Boston to convoy her home, she at length reached Fort Latour, after having been absent for more than a year.

Difficulties, and dangers were now gathering around the doomed fortress. Charnissay had command of the sea, and was able to cut off his supplies. Then Latour, leaving his brave wife in command of the fort, went to Boston early in the winter and sent a small vessel laden with provisions to St. Jean. Charnissay, however, captured it, and Latour found himself unable to return to his fort. So the brave lady was left to face her own and her husband's enemies alone. It was here that the great energy and the heroism of her character were brought into play. Although bothered with the care of a child that was hardly more than an infant, she showed herself in the fullest sense capable of command. Her appeals never rested and she inspired her men with her own courage. But the number, after wrecking out, treachery and desertion, was less than 100, and they were badly supplied with provisions and munitions of war. In February, immediately after the capture of Latour's provision ship, Charnissay attacked the fort. He expected an easy conquest, but found himself sadly mistaken. From one of the [illegible] Lady Latour directed the [illegible] and with such effect that one of them had to be carried away in a [illegible] covered with dead and [illegible]. It took Charnissay nearly ten months to repair the damage [illegible] that he [illegible] with Fort Latour. In April he again returned with a larger force, and this time attacked the fort from the landside. For three days and as many nights the assault proceeded, but Lady Latour conducted the defence with such skill and courage that the besiegers made no progress, and Charnissay was obliged to draw off his forces with loss. With calm eyes that looked upon danger without fear, [illegible] by her example and encouraging the bold. The [illegible] of the former [illegible] would have failed but for the [illegible] means to [illegible] a [illegible] was granted. [illegible] in the dim light of Easter Sunday morning, when the garrison were at prayers, this traitor [illegible] the enemy to approach. They had [illegible] the walls before the alarm was given. Lady Latour in this extremity showed the [illegible] fighting [illegible] the battlement. She placed herself at the head of her little band and made a desperate defence that even took the assailants by surprise. But the fort was lost, and the [illegible] was overpowered. In the [illegible] Lady Latour was [illegible] and the [illegible] was [illegible] on condition that he became the executioner of his comrades in arms. Lady Latour would have shared the same fate but for the fear that the [illegible] of France would resent such an outrage. Charnisay compelled her to be present at the execution [illegible] her neck. Then it appeared [illegible] three weeks later she too had passed from earth, but whether she died of a broken heart or of ill treatment or of poison there is no record. But it may truly be said that, no longer of these [illegible] ever beat in human breast than that which was stilled by her death.

It is not strange that the truth of history [illegible] that took place. Charnissay was drowned in a few years after Lady Latour's death, and Latour obtained a reversal of all the sentences against him and the restoration of all the honors he had lost through his rival's acts. More than that, he married Charnissay's widow and came into possession of his entire property, enjoying his life in a ripe old age and transmitting same to his estates.—Scottish American.

The Millionaires of New York.

[illegible]

Women and Sleeping Car Porters.

I have been on the road for three years and I know of only one lady who ever offered to pay the porter for his trouble. They are from Chicago and are sisters of a young man who travels frequently over my run. The family is all alike, and I have yet to find one of them who ever carried more than a small grip sack, not too large to be carried easily in the hand. There is some pleasure for a porter to meet folks like these, especially when the three of them come in together. I like their free and independent style, as they never want any attendance, and the young ladies, before retiring, hand me their bottles of cologne polish so that I won't spoil their shoes with a cheap blacking. In the morning they stand up to be brushed and the two girls drop me a quarter apiece. They always consider the porter, for I met the sisters when I was on the New York run, or an extra, and they passed out four bits when half the men in the car, who rode through from Chicago only gave the regular one night tipof a quarter. I'll bet they got the habit from their brother, for my way I shan't forget them, as they are the only two women in the United States who ever remembered the poor porter.—Interview with a Porter.

Mrs. Pullman's Journeyings.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Pullman are going on a two months' trip through California in their private car. This sounds like a simple arrangement, but if you knew the [illegible] and [illegible] that attend the journeyings to and fro of Mrs. Pullman, you would be amazed [illegible] this day of luxury. She is [illegible] a long cavalcade of horses [illegible] vans. Her two daughters [illegible] company but, and their [illegible] route are left for royalty, and [illegible] surpass the entourage of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales whenever he takes his walks abroad on the Continent. A [illegible] piece of furniture [illegible] flower vases, easy chairs and [illegible] vases, pictures, invalids' beds and [illegible] all that [illegible] Who would [illegible] the wing [illegible] Mrs. Pullman's daughters [illegible] young folks still very partial [illegible] [illegible] New York [illegible]

Making Fringed Christmas Cards.

Half a dozen young women sat around the table for around a large table in the back room of a little shop on Fifth street making fringed Christmas cards. At one end of the table were piles of uncut card sheets about three feet square. Each sheet contained twelve [illegible] printed prints. Two of the young women armed with immense shears "work boys" cut the big sheets up into cards. The other four, each with a pasteboard and a stack of delicately tinted fringe, swept up the Christmas cards rapidly. The single cards are of two designs, one for each side of the fringed card. Mucilage is applied to the edge of the back of one card, the fringe is then arranged and a card of the other kind with the edges matched is placed upon the fringe. The fringed card is then pressed until the mucilage is dry, and the cards ready for the market. The six young women turn out from 1,000 to 1,500 fringed cards a day.—New York Midland Express.

He Was Acquainted with Grief.

The man with the soft hat, long hair and the weeping willow whiskers was addressing the Sunday school.

Children, said he, trouble and sorrow come to all of us in this life. Probably you do not realize it yet, but sorrow and trouble will come to you too. Now you are happy and joyous but when you get to be a old as I am, the cup and grief will come. Children——

Here the speaker was interrupted by the piercing cries of a little boy on the front seat.

"Well, my son," said he paternally, "what is it?"

"Sir," said the boy, complacently, "my mother died when I was six months old. What do you think of that?"—Somerville Journal.

WHAT WILL CONVINCE YOU

WILL CONVINCE

From the Registrar of Deeds for Middlesex County, Northern District.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all druggists. Price $1 a bottle, or six bottles for $5. C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

DE LAND & CO'S
CAPSHEAF
SALERATUS
SODA
For Baking Purposes.
Best in the World

The BUYERS' GUIDE is issued Sept. and March, each year. 312 pages, 8½x11 inches, with over 3,500 illustrations, a whole Picture Gallery. GIVES Wholesale Prices direct to consumers on all goods for personal or family use. Tells how to order, and gives exact cost of everything you use, eat, drink, wear, or have fun with. These INVALUABLE BOOKS contain information gleaned from the markets of the world. We will mail a copy FREE to any address upon receipt of 10 cts. to defray expense of mailing. Let us hear from you. Respectfully,
MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
227 & 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

DR. TRASK'S MAGNETIC OINTMENT.

The Great Healer of all Inflamed Injuries and Disorders.

WHAT IT CURES.

Over 40 Years.

PIANOS ORGANS

Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Co., NEW YORK, BOSTON, CHICAGO.

THIS PAPER

DR. CLARKE

NO FEE!! UNTIL BETTER | ESTABLISHED 1864. DETROIT, MICH. | Merrill Block.

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON

ALL PRIVATE, NERVOUS & CHRONIC DISEASES

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN

and all persons who by their own acts of Imprudence or Folly at any period of life have caused upon themselves the sad effects following, or who have the seeds of disease in them, should consult the Doctor. Remember! Nervous diseases (or debility) and loss of nerve power treated successfully by new method. Remember! It makes no difference what you have taken or who has failed to cure you. Syphilis and all blood and skin diseases, complete cure guaranteed. Remember! Gleet, the most horrible disease, if neglected or improperly treated, curses the patient and dooms generations. All unnatural discharges cured promptly. Consult confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken. Sufferers from chronic diseases, Doctors and Symptoms [illegible] failed. Consult the celebrated works on Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases, exhaustive symptomatology free. Cures by exposure. Hours 9 to 8, Sundays 10 to 1. All letters answered promptly. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private. Address or call on DR. CLARKE, Merrill Block, Detroit, Mich.

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

WARNER BRO'S
CELEBRATED CORALINE CORSETS
FLEXIBLE HIP NURSING HEALTH ABDOMINAL CORALINE

ARE BY FAR THE MOST POPULAR CORSETS EVER INTRODUCED.

CORALINE is superior to whalebone. Cannot be broken. Is flexible and easy to the wearer. Is used in no goods except those made by Warner Bros.

$10.00 REWARD

For Sale by all Leading Merchants.
WARNER BROS., 111 & 113 Wabash Ave. CHICAGO.

K. B
KING OF THE BLOOD

The Most Thorough Purifier of the Blood Yet Discovered.
Cures the worst scrofula, from a common boil to the worst scrofula.

PATENTS!

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

C. A. SNOW & CO.,
Opposite Patent Office Washington, D.C.

ARKE

ABLISHED 1864. } Morse
ROIT, MICH. } Block.
Regular, Old-Established
YSICIAN & SURGEON with treating with the gravest
Nervous Diseases
MIDDLE-AGED MEN
Nervous diseases
Debility and loss of nerve
Remember confidentially
Age and Delicate
Private
DR. CLARKE
exposure.
ARKE, M. D.
L BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

WER BRO'S
RSETS
MOST POPULAR COR-
INTRODUCED.
superior to whalebone,
annot be broken.
easy to the wearer.
Leading Merchants,
111 & 113 Wabash Ave.
CHICAGO.
B
THE BLOOD
Purifier of the Discovered. common
Scrofula.

ENTS!
Marks and Copyrights
PAT

RED STAR

TRADE MARK.

COUGH CURE

Opium, Morphine And Poison.

SAFE SURE PROMPT

ST JACOBS OIL

TRADE MARK.

GREAT GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain
Rheumatism, Neuralgia,
Backache, Toothache,
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 38 Mail	No. 34 Express	No. 36 Accom.
Suspension Bridge	6 15 A.M.	2 00 P.M.	7 45 A.M.
Buffalo	6 50 "	2 35 "	8 20 "
Dunkirk	7 50 "	3 35 "	9 20 "
Salamanca	8 45 "	4 30 "	10 10 "
Corning	9 25 "	5 10 "	10 50 "
Hornellsville	9 40 "	5 25 "	11 05 "
Arkport	9 57 "	5 42 "	11 22 "
Greenwood	10 12 "	5 57 "	11 37 "
Campbell	10 20 "	6 05 "	11 45 "
Savona	10 28 "	6 13 "	11 53 "
Bath	10 45 "	6 30 "	12 10 P.M.
Kanona	11 00 "	6 45 "	12 25 "
Cameron	11 07 "	6 52 "	12 32 "
Rathbone	11 12 "	6 57 "	12 37 "
Addison	11 20 "	7 05 "	12 45 "
Gang Mills	11 30 "	7 15 "	12 55 "
Painted Post	11 40 "	7 25 "	1 05 "
Chemung	11 50 "	7 35 "	1 15 "
Waverly	12 00 M.	7 45 "	1 25 "
Sayre	12 15 "	8 00 "	1 40 "
Athens	12 25 "	8 10 "	1 50 "
Sharon	12 35 "	8 20 "	2 00 "
Gardner's	12 40 "	8 25 "	2 05 "
Burlington	12 45 "	8 30 "	2 10 "
Burlington Junction	12 50 "	8 35 "	2 15 "
Junction	1 00 "	8 45 "	2 25 "
Trenton	1 15 "	9 00 "	2 40 "
Camden	1 30 "	9 15 "	2 55 "
Camden Junction	1 35 "	9 20 "	3 00 "
Camden Junction	1 40 "	9 25 "	3 05 "
Camden	1 50 "	9 35 "	3 15 "
Camden Junction	1 55 "	9 40 "	3 20 "
Camden Junction	2 00 "	9 45 "	3 25 "
Camden	2 10 "	9 55 "	3 35 "
Camden Junction	2 15 "	10 00 "	3 40 "
Camden Junction	2 20 "	10 05 "	3 45 "
Camden	2 30 "	10 15 "	3 55 "
Camden Junction	2 35 "	10 20 "	4 00 "
Camden Junction	2 40 "	10 25 "	4 05 "
Camden	2 50 "	10 35 "	4 15 "
Camden Junction	2 55 "	10 40 "	4 20 "
Camden Junction	3 00 "	10 45 "	4 25 "
Camden	3 10 "	10 55 "	4 35 "
Camden Junction	3 15 "	11 00 "	4 40 "
Camden Junction	3 20 "	11 05 "	4 45 "
Camden	3 30 "	11 15 "	4 55 "
Camden Junction	3 35 "	11 20 "	5 00 "
Camden Junction	3 40 "	11 25 "	5 05 "
Camden	3 50 "	11 35 "	5 15 "
Camden Junction	3 55 "	11 40 "	5 20 "
Camden Junction	4 00 "	11 45 "	5 25 "
Camden	4 10 "	11 55 "	5 35 "
Camden Junction	4 15 "	12 00 M.	5 40 "
Camden Junction	4 20 "	12 05 "	5 45 "
Camden	4 30 "	12 15 "	5 55 "
Camden Junction	4 35 "	12 20 "	6 00 "
Camden Junction	4 40 "	12 25 "	6 05 "
Camden	4 50 "	12 35 "	6 15 "
Camden Junction	4 55 "	12 40 "	6 20 "
Camden Junction	5 00 "	12 45 "	6 25 "
Camden	5 10 "	12 55 "	6 35 "
Camden Junction	5 15 "	12 60 "	6 40 "
Camden Junction	5 20 "	12 65 "	6 45 "
Camden	5 30 "	12 75 "	6 55 "
Camden Junction	5 35 "	12 80 "	7 00 "
Camden Junction	5 40 "	12 85 "	7 05 "
Camden	5 50 "	12 95 "	7 15 "
Camden Junction	5 55 "	12 100 "	7 20 "
Camden Junction	6 00 "	12 105 "	7 25 "
Camden	6 10 "	12 115 "	7 35 "
Camden Junction	6 15 "	12 120 "	7 40 "
Camden Junction	6 20 "	12 125 "	7 45 "
Camden	6 30 "	12 135 "	7 55 "
Camden Junction	6 35 "	12 140 "	8 00 "
Camden Junction	6 40 "	12 145 "	8 05 "
Camden	6 50 "	12 155 "	8 15 "
Camden Junction	6 55 "	12 160 "	8 20 "
Camden Junction	7 00 "	12 165 "	8 25 "
Camden	7 10 "	12 175 "	8 35 "
Camden Junction	7 15 "	12 180 "	8 40 "
Camden Junction	7 20 "	12 185 "	8 45 "
Camden	7 30 "	12 195 "	8 55 "
Camden Junction	7 35 "	12 200 "	9 00 "
Camden Junction	7 40 "	12 205 "	9 05 "
Camden	7 50 "	12 215 "	9 15 "
Camden Junction	7 55 "	12 220 "	9 20 "
Camden Junction	8 00 "	12 225 "	9 25 "
Camden	8 10 "	12 235 "	9 35 "
Camden Junction	8 15 "	12 240 "	9 40 "
Camden Junction	8 20 "	12 245 "	9 45 "
Camden	8 30 "	12 255 "	9 55 "
Camden Junction	8 35 "	12 260 "	9 60 "
Camden Junction	8 40 "	12 265 "	9 65 "
Camden	8 50 "	12 275 "	9 75 "
Camden Junction	8 55 "	12 280 "	9 80 "
Camden Junction	9 00 "	12 285 "	9 85 "
Camden	9 10 "	12 295 "	9 95 "
Camden Junction	9 15 "	12 300 "	9 100 "
Camden Junction	9 20 "	12 305 "	9 105 "
Camden	9 30 "	12 315 "	9 115 "
Camden Junction	9 35 "	12 320 "	9 120 "
Camden Junction	9 40 "	12 325 "	9 125 "
Camden	9 50 "	12 335 "	9 135 "
Camden Junction	9 55 "	12 340 "	9 140 "
Camden Junction	10 00 "	12 345 "	9 145 "
Camden	10 10 "	12 355 "	9 155 "
Camden Junction	10 15 "	12 360 "	9 160 "
Camden Junction	10 20 "	12 365 "	9 165 "
Camden	10 30 "	12 375 "	9 175 "
Camden Junction	10 35 "	12 380 "	9 180 "
Camden Junction	10 40 "	12 385 "	9 185 "
Camden	10 50 "	12 395 "	9 195 "
Camden Junction	10 55 "	12 400 "	9 200 "
Camden Junction	11 00 "	12 405 "	9 205 "
Camden	11 10 "	12 415 "	9 215 "
Camden Junction	11 15 "	12 420 "	9 220 "
Camden Junction	11 20 "	12 425 "	9 225 "
Camden	11 30 "	12 435 "	9 235 "
Camden Junction	11 35 "	12 440 "	9 240 "
Camden Junction	11 40 "	12 445 "	9 245 "
Camden	11 50 "	12 455 "	9 255 "
Camden Junction	11 55 "	12 460 "	9 260 "
Camden Junction	12 00 "	12 465 "	9 265 "
Camden	12 10 "	12 475 "	9 275 "
Camden Junction	12 15 "	12 480 "	9 280 "
Camden Junction	12 20 "	12 485 "	9 285 "
Camden	12 30 "	12 495 "	9 295 "
Camden Junction	12 35 "	12 500 "	9 300 "
Camden Junction	12 40 "	12 505 "	9 305 "
Camden	12 50 "	12 515 "	9 315 "
Camden Junction	12 55 "	12 520 "	9 320 "
Camden Junction	1 00 "	12 525 "	9 325 "
Camden	1 10 "	12 535 "	9 335 "
Camden Junction	1 15 "	12 540 "	9 340 "
Camden Junction	1 20 "	12 545 "	9 345 "
Camden	1 30 "	12 555 "	9 355 "
Camden Junction	1 35 "	12 560 "	9 360 "
Camden Junction	1 40 "	12 565 "	9 365 "
Camden	1 50 "	12 575 "	9 375 "
Camden Junction	1 55 "	12 580 "	9 380 "
Camden Junction	2 00 "	12 585 "	9 385 "
Camden	2 10 "	12 595 "	9 395 "
Camden Junction	2 15 "	12 600 "	9 400 "
Camden Junction	2 20 "	12 605 "	9 405 "
Camden	2 30 "	12 615 "	9 415 "
Camden Junction	2 35 "	12 620 "	9 420 "
Camden Junction	2 40 "	12 625 "	9 425 "
Camden	2 50 "	12 635 "	9 435 "
Camden Junction	2 55 "	12 640 "	9 440 "
Camden Junction	3 00 "	12 645 "	9 445 "
Camden	3 10 "	12 655 "	9 455 "
Camden Junction	3 15 "	12 660 "	9 460 "
Camden Junction	3 20 "	12 665 "	9 465 "
Camden	3 30 "	12 675 "	9 475 "
Camden Junction	3 35 "	12 680 "	9 480 "
Camden Junction	3 40 "	12 685 "	9 485 "
Camden	3 50 "	12 695 "	9 495 "
Camden Junction	3 55 "	12 700 "	9 500 "
Camden Junction	4 00 "	12 705 "	9 505 "
Camden	4 10 "	12 715 "	9 515 "
Camden Junction	4 15 "	12 720 "	9 520 "
Camden Junction	4 20 "	12 725 "	9 525 "
Camden	4 30 "	12 735 "	9 535 "
Camden Junction	4 35 "	12 740 "	9 540 "
Camden Junction	4 40 "	12 745 "	9 545 "
Camden	4 50 "	12 755 "	9 555 "
Camden Junction	4 55 "	12 760 "	9 560 "
Camden Junction	5 00 "	12 765 "	9 565 "
Camden	5 10 "	12 775 "	9 575 "
Camden Junction	5 15 "	12 780 "	9 580 "
Camden Junction	5 20 "	12 785 "	9 585 "
Camden	5 30 "	12 795 "	9 595 "
Camden Junction	5 35 "	12 800 "	9 600 "
Camden Junction	5 40 "	12 805 "	9 605 "
Camden	5 50 "	12 815 "	9 615 "
Camden Junction	5 55 "	12 820 "	9 620 "
Camden Junction	6 00 "	12 825 "	9 625 "
Camden	6 10 "	12 835 "	9 635 "
Camden Junction	6 15 "	12 840 "	9 640 "
Camden Junction	6 20 "	12 845 "	9 645 "
Camden	6 30 "	12 855 "	9 655 "
Camden Junction	6 35 "	12 860 "	9 660 "
Camden Junction	6 40 "	12 865 "	9 665 "
Camden	6 50 "	12 875 "	9 675 "
Camden Junction	6 55 "	12 880 "	9 680 "
Camden Junction	7 00 "	12 885 "	9 685 "
Camden	7 10 "	12 895 "	9 695 "
Camden Junction	7 15 "	12 900 "	9 700 "
Camden Junction	7 20 "	12 905 "	9 705 "
Camden	7 30 "	12 915 "	9 715 "
Camden Junction	7 35 "	12 920 "	9 720 "
Camden Junction	7 40 "	12 925 "	9 725 "
Camden	7 50 "	12 935 "	9 735 "
Camden Junction	7 55 "	12 940 "	9 740 "
Camden Junction	8 00 "	12 945 "	9 745 "
Camden	8 10 "	12 955 "	9 755 "
Camden Junction	8 15 "	12 960 "	9 760 "
Camden Junction	8 20 "	12 965 "	9 765 "
Camden	8 30 "	12 975 "	9 775 "
Camden Junction	8 35 "	12 980 "	9 780 "
Camden Junction	8 40 "	12 985 "	9 785 "
Camden	8 50 "	12 995 "	9 795 "
Camden Junction	8 55 "	12 100 "	9 800 "
Camden Junction	9 00 "	12 105 "	9 805 "
Camden	9 10 "	12 115 "	9 815 "
Camden Junction	9 15 "	12 120 "	9 820 "
Camden Junction	9 20 "	12 125 "	9 825 "
Camden	9 30 "	12 135 "	9 835 "
Camden Junction	9 35 "	12 140 "	9 840 "
Camden Junction	9 40 "	12 145 "	9 845 "
Camden	9 50 "	12 155 "	9 855 "
Camden Junction	9 55 "	12 160 "	9 860 "
Camden Junction	10 00 "	12 165 "	9 865 "
Camden	10 10 "	12 175 "	9 875 "
Camden Junction	10 15 "	12 180 "	9 880 "
Camden Junction	10 20 "	12 185 "	9 885 "
Camden	10 30 "	12 195 "	9 895 "
Camden Junction	10 35 "	12 200 "	9 900 "
Camden Junction	10 40 "	12 205 "	9 905 "
Camden	10 50 "	12 215 "	9 915 "
Camden Junction	10 55 "	12 220 "	9 920 "
Camden Junction	11 00 "	12 225 "	9 925 "
Camden	11 10 "	12 235 "	9 935 "
Camden Junction	11 15 "	12 240 "	9 940 "
Camden Junction	11 20 "	12 245 "	9 945 "
Camden	11 30 "	12 255 "	9 955 "
Camden Junction	11 35 "	12 260 "	9 960 "
Camden Junction	11 40 "	12 265 "	9 965 "
Camden	11 50 "	12 275 "	9 975 "
Camden Junction	11 55 "	12 280 "	9 980 "
Camden Junction	12 00 "	12 285 "	9 985 "
Camden	12 10 "	12 295 "	9 995 "
Camden Junction	12 15 "	12 300 "	9 100 "
Camden Junction	12 20 "	12 305 "	9 105 "
Camden	12 30 "	12 315 "	9 115 "
Camden Junction	12 35 "	12 320 "	9 120 "
Camden Junction	12 40 "	12 325 "	9 125 "
Camden	12 50 "	12 335 "	9 135 "
Camden Junction	12 55 "	12 340 "	9 140 "
Camden Junction	1 00 "	12 345 "	9 145 "
Camden	1 10 "	12 355 "	9 155 "
Camden Junction	1 15 "	12 360 "	9 160 "
Camden Junction	1 20 "	12 365 "	9 165 "
Camden	1 30 "	12 375 "	9 175 "
Camden Junction	1 35 "	12 380 "	9 180 "
Camden Junction	1 40 "	12 385 "	9 185 "
Camden	1 50 "	12 395 "	9 195 "
Camden Junction	1 55 "	12 400 "	9 200 "
Camden Junction	2 00 "	12 405 "	9 205 "
Camden	2 10 "	12 415 "	9 215 "
Camden Junction	2 15 "	12 420 "	9 220 "
Camden Junction	2 20 "	12 425 "	9 225 "
Camden	2 30 "	12 435 "	9 235 "
Camden Junction	2 35 "	12 440 "	9 240 "
Camden Junction	2 40 "	12 445 "	9 245 "
Camden	2 50 "	12 455 "	9 255 "
Camden Junction	2 55 "	12 460 "	9 260 "
Camden Junction	3 00 "	12 465 "	9 265 "
Camden	3 10 "	12 475 "	9 275 "
Camden Junction	3 15 "	12 480 "	9 280 "
Camden Junction	3 20 "	12 485 "	9 285 "
Camden	3 30 "	12 495 "	9 295 "
Camden Junction	3 35 "	12 500 "	9 300 "
Camden Junction	3 40 "	12 505 "	9 305 "
Camden	3 50 "	12 515 "	9 315 "
Camden Junction	3 55 "	12 520 "	9 320 "
Camden Junction	4 00 "	12 525 "	9 325 "
Camden	4 10 "	12 535 "	9 335 "
Camden Junction	4 15 "	12 540 "	9 340 "
Camden Junction	4 20 "	12 545 "	9 345 "
Camden	4 30 "	12 555 "	9 355 "
Camden Junction	4 35 "	12 560 "	9 360 "
Camden Junction	4 40 "	12 565 "	9 365 "
Camden	4 50 "	12 575 "	9 375 "
Camden Junction	4 55 "	12 580 "	9 380 "
Camden Junction	5 00 "	12 585 "	9 385 "
Camden	5 10 "	12 595 "	9 395 "
Camden Junction	5 15 "	12 600 "	9 400 "
Camden Junction	5 20 "	12 605 "	9 405 "
Camden	5 30 "	12 615 "	9 415 "
Camden Junction	5 35 "	12 620 "	9 420 "
Camden Junction	5 40 "	12 625 "	9 425 "
Camden	5 50 "	12 635 "	9 435 "
Camden Junction	5 55 "	12 640 "	9 440 "
Camden Junction	6 00 "	12 645 "	9 445 "
Camden	6 10 "	12 655 "	9 455 "
Camden Junction	6 15 "	12 660 "	9 460 "
Camden Junction	6 20 "	12 665 "	9 465 "
Camden	6 30 "	12 675 "	9 475 "
Camden Junction	6 35 "	12 680 "	9 480 "
Camden Junction	6 40 "	12 685 "	9 485 "
Camden	6 50 "	12 695 "	9 495 "
Camden Junction	6 55 "	12 700 "	9 500 "
Camden Junction	7 00 "	12 705 "	9 505 "
Camden	7 10 "	12 715 "	9 515 "
Camden Junction	7 15 "	12 720 "	9 520 "
Camden Junction	7 20 "	12 725 "	9 525 "
Camden	7 30 "	12 735 "	9 535 "
Camden Junction	7 35 "	12 740 "	9 540 "
Camden Junction	7 40 "	12 745 "	9 545 "
Camden	7 50 "	12 755 "	9 555 "
Camden Junction	7 55 "	12 760 "	9 560 "
Camden Junction	8 00 "	12 765 "	9 565 "
Camden	8 10 "	12 775 "	9 575 "
Camden Junction	8 15 "	12 780 "	9 580 "
Camden Junction	8 20 "	12 785 "	9 585 "
Camden	8 30 "	12 795 "	9 595 "
Camden Junction	8 35 "	12 800 "	9 600 "
Camden Junction	8 40 "	12 805 "	9 605 "
Camden	8 50 "	12 815 "	9 615 "
Camden Junction	8 55 "	12 820 "	9 620 "
Camden Junction	9 00 "	12 825 "	9 625 "
Camden	9 10 "	12 835 "	9 635 "
Camden Junction	9 15 "	12 840 "	9 640 "
Camden Junction	9 20 "	12 845 "	9 645 "
Camden	9 30 "	12 855 "	9 655 "
Camden Junction	9 35 "	12 860 "	9 660 "
Camden Junction	9 40 "	12 865 "	9 665 "
Camden	9 50 "	12 875 "	9 675 "
Camden Junction	9 55 "	12 880 "	9 680 "
Camden Junction	10 00 "	12 885 "	9 685 "
Camden	10 10 "	12 895 "	9 695 "
Camden Junction	10 15 "	12 900 "	9 700 "
Camden Junction	10 20 "	12 905 "	9 705 "
Camden	10 30 "	12 915 "	9 715 "
Camden Junction	10 35 "	12 920 "	9 720 "
Camden Junction	10 40 "	12 925 "	9 725 "
Camden	10 50 "	12 935 "	9 735 "
Camden Junction	10 55 "	12 940 "	9 740 "
Camden Junction	11 00 "	12 945 "	9 745 "
Camden	11 10 "	12 955 "	9 755 "
Camden Junction	11 15 "	12 960 "	9 760 "
Camden Junction	11 20 "	12 965 "	9 765 "
Camden	11 30 "	12 975 "	9 775 "
Camden Junction	11 35 "	12 980 "	9 780 "
Camden Junction	11 40 "	12 985 "	9 785 "
Camden	11 50 "	12 995 "	9 795 "
Camden Junction	11 55 "	12 100 "	9 800 "
Camden Junction	12 00 "	12 105 "	9 805 "
Camden	12 10 "	12 115 "	9 815 "
Camden Junction	12 15 "	12 120 "	9 820 "
Camden Junction	12 20 "	12 125 "	9 825 "
Camden	12 30 "	12 135 "	9 835 "
Camden Junction	12 35 "	12 140 "	9 840 "
Camden Junction	12 40 "	12 145 "	9 845 "
Camden	12 50 "	12 155 "	9 855 "
Camden Junction	12 55 "	12 160 "	9 860 "
Camden Junction	1 00 "	12 165 "	9 865 "
Camden	1 10 "	12 175 "	9 875 "
Camden Junction	1 15 "	12 180 "	9 880 "
Camden Junction	1 20 "	12 185 "	9 885 "
Camden	1 30 "	12 195 "	9 895 "
Camden Junction	1 35 "	12 200 "	9 900 "
Camden Junction	1 40 "	12 205 "	9 905 "
Camden	1 50 "	12 215 "	9 915 "
Camden Junction	1 55 "	12 220 "	9 920 "
Camden Junction	2 00 "	12 225 "	9 925 "
Camden	2 10 "	12 235 "	9 935 "
Camden Junction	2 15 "	12 240 "	9 940 "
Camden Junction	2 20 "	12 245 "	9 945 "
Camden	2 30 "	12 255 "	9 955 "
Camden Junction	2 35 "	12 260 "	9 960 "
Camden Junction	2 40 "	12 265 "	9 965 "
Camden	2 50 "	12 275 "	9 975 "
Camden Junction	2 55 "	12 280 "	9 980 "
Camden Junction	3 00 "	12 285 "	9 985 "
Camden	3 10 "	12 295 "	9 995 "
Camden Junction	3 15 "	12 300 "	9 100 "
Camden Junction	3 20 "	12 305 "	9 105 "
Camden	3 30 "	12 315 "	9 115 "
Camden Junction	3 35 "	12 320 "	9 120 "
Camden Junction	3 40 "	12 325 "	9 125 "
Camden	3 50 "	12 335 "	9 135 "
Camden Junction	3 55 "	12 340 "	9 140 "
Camden Junction	4 00 "	12 345 "	9 145 "
Camden	4 10 "	12 355 "	9 155 "
Camden Junction	4 15 "	12 360 "	9 160 "
Camden Junction	4 20 "	12 365 "	9 165 "
Camden	4 30 "	12 375 "	9 175 "
Camden Junction	4 35 "	12 380 "	9 180 "
Camden Junction	4 40 "	12 385 "	9 185 "
Camden	4 50 "	12 395 "	9 195 "
Camden Junction	4 55 "	12 400 "	9 200 "
Camden Junction	5 00 "	12 405 "	9 205 "
Camden	5 10 "	12 415 "	9 215 "
Camden Junction	5 15 "	12 420 "	9 220 "
Camden Junction	5 20 "	12 425 "	9 225 "
Camden	5 30 "	12 435 "	9 235 "
Camden Junction	5 35 "	12 440 "	9 240 "
Camden Junction	5 40 "	12 445 "	9 245 "
Camden	5 50 "	12 455 "	9 255 "
Camden Junction	5 55 "	12 460 "	9 260 "
Camden Junction	6 00 "	12 465 "	9 265 "
Camden	6 10 "	12 475 "	9 275 "
Camden Junction	6 15 "	12 480 "	9 280 "
Camden Junction	6 20 "	12 485 "	9 285 "
Camden	6 30 "	12 495 "	9 295 "
Camden Junction	6 35 "	12 500 "	9 300 "
Camden Junction	6 40 "	12 505 "	9 305 "
Camden	6 50 "	12 515 "	9 315 "
Camden Junction	6 55 "	12 520 "	9 320 "
Camden Junction	7 00 "	12 525 "	9 325 "
Camden	7 10 "	12 535 "	9 335 "
Camden Junction	7 15 "	12 540 "	9 340 "
Camden Junction	7 20 "	12 545 "	9 345 "
Camden	7 30 "	12 555 "	9 355 "
Camden Junction	7 35 "	12 560 "	9 360 "
Camden Junction	7 40 "	12 565 "	9 365 "
Camden	7 50 "	12 575 "	9 375 "
Camden Junction	7 55 "	12 580 "	9 380 "
Camden Junction	8 00 "	12 585 "	9 385 "
Camden	8 10 "	12 595 "	9 395 "
Camden Junction	8 15 "	12 600 "	9 400 "
Camden Junction	8 20 "	12 605 "	9 405 "
Camden	8 30 "	12 615 "	9 415 "
Camden Junction	8 35 "	12 620 "	9 420 "
Camden Junction	8 40 "	12 625 "	9 425 "
Camden	8 50 "	12 635 "	9 435 "
Camden Junction	8 55 "	12 640 "	9 440 "
Camden Junction	9 00 "	12 645 "	9 445 "
Camden	9 10 "	12 655 "	9 455 "
Camden Junction	9 15 "	12 660 "	9 460 "
Camden Junction	9 20 "	12 665 "	9 465 "
Camden	9 30 "	12 675 "	9 475 "
Camden Junction	9 35 "	12 680 "	9 480 "
Camden Junction	9 40 "	12 685 "	9 485 "
Camden	9 50 "	12 695 "	9 495 "
Camden Junction	9 55 "	12 700 "	9 500 "
Camden Junction	10 00 "	12 705 "	9 505 "
Camden	10 10 "	12 715 "	9 515 "
Camden Junction	10 15 "	12 720 "	9 520 "
Camden Junction	10 20 "	12 725 "	9 525 "
Camden	10 30 "	12 735 "	9 535 "
Camden Junction	10 35 "	12 740 "	9 540 "
Camden Junction	10 40 "	12 745 "	9 545 "
Camden	10 50 "	12 755 "	9 555 "
Camden Junction	10 55 "	12 760 "	9 560 "
Camden Junction	11 00 "	12 765 "	9 565 "
Camden	11 10 "	12 775 "	9 575 "
Camden Junction	11 15 "	12 780 "	9 580 "
Camden Junction	11 20 "	12 785 "	9 585 "
Camden	11 30 "	12 795 "	9 595 "
Camden Junction	11 35 "	12 800 "	9 600 "
Camden Junction	11 40 "	12 805 "	9 605 "
Camden	11 50 "	12 815 "	9 615 "
Camden Junction	11 55 "	12 820 "	9 620 "
Camden Junction	12 00 "	12 825 "	9 625 "
Camden	12 10 "	12 835 "	9 635 "
Camden Junction	12 15 "	12 840 "	9 640 "
Camden Junction	12 20 "	12 845 "	9 645 "
Camden	12 30 "	12 855 "	9 655 "
Camden Junction	12 35 "	12 860 "	9 660 "
Camden Junction	12 40 "	12 865 "	9 665 "
Camden	12 50 "	12 875 "	9 675 "
Camden Junction	12 55 "	12 880 "	9 680 "
Camden Junction	1 00 "	12 885 "	9 685 "
Camden	1 10 "	12 895 "	9 695 "
Camden Junction	1 15 "	12 900 "	9 700 "
Camden Junction	1 20 "	12 905 "	9 705 "
Camden	1 30 "	12 915 "	9 715 "
Camden Junction	1 35 "	12 920 "	9 720 "
Camden Junction	1 40 "	12 925 "	9 725 "
Camden	1 50 "	12 935 "	9 735 "
Camden Junction	1 55 "	12 940 "	9 740 "
Camden Junction	2 00 "	12 945 "	9 745 "
Camden	2 10 "	12 955 "	9 755 "
Camden Junction	2 15 "	12 960 "	9 760 "
Camden Junction	2 20 "	12 965 "	9 765 "
Camden	2 30 "	12 975 "	9 775 "
Camden Junction	2 35 "	12 980 "	9 780 "
Camden Junction	2 40 "	12 985 "	9 785 "
Camden	2 50 "	12 995 "	9 795 "
Camden Junction	2 55 "	12 100 "	9 800 "
Camden Junction	3 00 "	12 105 "	9 805 "
Camden	3 10 "	12 115 "	9 815 "
Camden Junction	3 15 "	12 120 "	9 820 "
Camden Junction	3 20 "	12 125 "	9 825 "
Camden	3 30 "	12 135 "	9 835 "
Camden Junction	3 35 "	12 140 "	9 840 "
Camden Junction	3 40 "	12 145 "	9 845 "
Camden	3 50 "	12 155 "	9 855 "
Camden Junction	3 55 "	12 160 "	9 860 "
Camden Junction	4 00 "	12 165 "	9 865 "
Camden	4 10 "	12 175 "	9 875 "
Camden Junction	4 15 "	12 180 "	9 880 "
Camden Junction	4 20 "	12 185 "	9 885 "
Camden	4 30 "	12 195 "	9 895 "
Camden Junction	4 35 "	12 200 "	9 900 "
Camden Junction	4 40 "	12 205 "	9 905 "
Camden	4 50 "	12 215 "	9 915 "
Camden Junction	4 55 "	12 220 "	9 920 "
Camden Junction	5 00 "	12 225 "	9 925 "
Camden	5 10 "	12 235 "	9 935 "
Camden Junction	5 15 "	12 240 "	9 940 "
Camden Junction	5 20 "	12 245 "	9 945 "
Camden	5 30 "	12 255 "	9 955 "
Camden Junction	5 35 "	12 260 "	9 960 "
Camden Junction	5 40 "	12 265 "	9 965 "
Camden	5 50 "	12 275 "	9 975 "
Camden Junction	5 55 "	12 280 "	9 980 "
Camden Junction	6 00 "	12 285 "	9 985 "
Camden	6 10 "	12 295 "	9 995 "
Camden Junction	6 15 "	12 300 "	9 100 "
Camden Junction	6 20 "	12 305 "	9 105 "
Camden	6 30 "	12 315 "	9 115 "
Camden Junction	6 35 "	12 320 "	9 120 "
Camden Junction	6 40 "	12 325 "	9 125 "
Camden	6 50 "	12 335 "	9 135 "
Camden Junction	6 55 "	12 340 "	9 140 "
Camden Junction	7 00 "	12 345 "	9 145 "
Camden	7 10 "	12 355 "	9 155 "
Camden Junction	7 15 "	12 360 "	9 160 "
Camden Junction	7 20 "	12 365 "	9 165 "
Camden	7 30 "	12 375 "	9 175 "
Camden Junction	7 35 "	12 380 "	9 180 "
Camden Junction	7 40 "	12 385 "	9 185 "
Camden	7 50 "	12 395 "	9 195 "
Camden Junction	7 55 "	12 400 "	9 200 "
Camden Junction	8 00 "	12 405 "	9 205 "
Camden	8 10 "	12 415 "	9 215 "
Camden Junction	8 15 "	12 420 "	9 220 "
Camden Junction	8 20 "	12 425 "	9 225 "
Camden	8 30 "	12 435 "	9 235 "
Camden Junction	8 35 "	12 440 "	9 240 "
Camden Junction	8 40 "	12 445 "	9 245 "
Camden	8 50 "	12 455 "	9 255 "
Camden Junction	8 55 "	12 460 "	9 260 "
Camden Junction	9 00 "	12 465 "	9 265 "
Camden	9 10 "	12 475 "	9 275 "
Camden Junction	9 15 "	12 480 "	9 280 "
Camden Junction	9 20 "	12 485 "	9 285 "
Camden	9 30 "	12 495 "	9 295 "
Camden Junction	9 35 "	12

TEMPERANCE COLUMN

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. of Lenawee county met Nov. 18 and 19.

The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock p. m. Thursday. Devotional exercises led by the president. Mrs. M. C. Wood. Roll-call showed all of officers except recording secretary and first vice president, and were found the delegates number of members. Delegates present: H. P. Highfield, Mrs. O. M. Allen, Mrs. E. A. Hathaway, Mrs. N. S. Merrill, Mrs. H. E. Wells, Mrs. A. S. Mrs. Andy Jones, Mrs. Stokes.

[illegible] Detroit was invited to take part in the work.

[illegible] Mrs. M. C. Wood.

Mrs. N. H. Merrill was appointed secretary. Mrs. F. Paul Green.

Mrs. F. Hemphill was returned as superintendent of the Flower mission. Mrs. M. N. Allen was appointed superintendent of the temperance [illegible]

Mrs. N. H. Merrill was appointed superintendent of Sabbath observance. Mrs. A. [illegible] superintendent of fairs.

Mrs. N. B. Merrill, Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. E. Hathaway the committee on resolutions presented the following resolutions which were adopted:

Resolved, That in the future, as in the past, we rely on the aid and seek the blessing of our Heavenly Father [illegible] work for the uplifting of humanity, and having full faith that He is ever on the side of right and justice, we therefore renew our zeal in the temperance work and [illegible] our loyalty to the W. C. T. U. and pledge ourselves anew to redouble our efforts as opportunities of work [illegible]

[illegible] of the work accomplished by the W. C. T. U. in the past year, and its entire [illegible] we feel to go onward, we have reason to take courage and carry on the work with the hope of complete success in the future.

[illegible] that instead as our children [illegible] become the future citizens of our country, we especially urge our [illegible] to see that the law provide [illegible] temperance in instruction be enforced in all the different departments of public schools, and first-class teachers, we favor all such laws that tend to create a healthier moral atmosphere in our schools.

4. That we also urge our local unions to earnestly and earnestly follow the plan of work as regards that department of the W. C. T. U. known as the White Cross movement.

5. That we endorse the 10th resolution adopted at the last state meeting of the W. C. T. U. which is as follows:

Whereas, the National Brewers association in convention assembled in [illegible], passed the following resolution: Resolved, That we oppose woman suffrage always and everywhere, for when the women vote they will vote against prohibition, therefore

Resolved, that we reaffirm with emphasis our former resolution in favor of the franchise for women, believing with them that woman's vote is necessary for the abolition of the liquor traffic.

6. That in the death of the martyred Rev. Geo. C. Haddock of Iowa, we [illegible] in the words of his grief stricken wife, as she looked upon her dying husband brought home bleeding from the wounds of the assassin's bullet: "Oh Lord Thou hast said all things shall work together for the good of those who love [illegible]"

That we tender our sympathy and pray that the Comforter may ever be the supporter of the bereaved family.

We call attention of our readers to the [illegible] Woman's Advocate, of which appears to be the only [illegible] paper. The Woman's Press has met with wonderful success throughout the country as well as in foreign countries. It has been in the field now five years, in the [illegible] Denver exposition and many others. This year it was awarded the first prize at the New England fair, the Nebraska state fair, Maine state fair, Grand Gold Medal at the Texas state fair, first prize at the great Texas Fair, also Enterprise, Indiana and Iowa. The manufacturers claim that this Press never has been in competition at any fair exposition or trial where it failed to receive the highest honors. Any one in want of a first class press will do well to send for descriptive circular to the manufacturers at St. Louis.

DIED.

BURNETT. Died at Macon on Monday, Robert Burnett, in the [illegible] year of his age.

The deceased was born in England February 9, 1815. With his parents and others of his family he came to this country in 1830. Soon after he bought 40 acres of land in the center of Macon township and a little later married Elizabeth Hunter. Not having any children, they have lived by themselves in a quiet and simple way, and have won earned a good reputation by their industry and sterling honesty. The deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and died in the faith of the Gospel.

Drunkards for Liquor Habit can be cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker, or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and today believe they quit drinking of their own free will. No harmful effects results from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and testimonials. Address in confidence Dr. Haines' Specific Co., 185 Race st., Cincinnati, Ohio.

MARRIED.

[illegible] HAYWOOD—At the residence of the bride's father, Nov. 15, 1888, by the Rev. [illegible] Stevens and Ford L. [illegible] Haywood, all of Tecumseh.

[illegible] WHEAN—Nov. 23d, 1888, in Franklin, by L. Harry, Esq., McFred L. Bunting and Miss [illegible] of Franklin.

TECUMSEH MARKET.

Corrected Every Thursday Morning.

[illegible]	[illegible]

MONEY

[illegible] and return to us, and we will send you free, something of great value, and will start you in business which will bring you in money right along for the whole time, day or night, all the time. Those who are ambitious can make from 50 cts. to $5 an hour. Some have made over $50 in a single day. Any one can do the work. We have made this offer to show what we can do. To each an expensive sample and all else free. Address DUFF & CO., Augusta, Maine.

WORKING CLASSES' ATTENTION

[illegible] Portland, Maine.

YOU

[illegible] Address TRUE & CO., Augusta, Maine.

"NO DOGS ALLOWED HERE"

This is the title of a BEAUTIFUL CHROMO, size 22x28 inches—a perfect copy of the original painting by A. W. Bayes, A. R. A., England, which we will send FREE OF CHARGE to each person mailing us twenty-five

QUEEN ANNE SOAP WRAPPERS

This is no cheap, penny affair, but an elegant picture, finely colored, with handsome bronze border, fit to adorn any parlor in the land. No advertisement on the picture.

Queen Anne Soap, the Old Reliable, the purest and best Soap made, is known everywhere and sold by all first-class grocers.

THIS PICTURE WILL NOT BE SOLD AT ANY PRICE, and can ONLY BE OBTAINED by mailing us 25 Queen Anne Soap Wrappers. Address

DETROIT SOAP CO., Detroit, Mich.

DETROIT

WE WANT YOUR TRADE.

Our object in advertising is to induce those who are not our REGULAR to give our House a Trial. Our success is largely owing to the [illegible] We hold our trade [illegible] stronger proof of our authority and always reliable quality of our goods. In Dry Goods, Wraps, Flannels, Blankets, Carpets, Bronzes, Art Goods, Toilet Goods, we show a magnificent stock at correct prices.

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS.

ESTATE OF JOSEPH TAYLOR

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee—ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, on Monday, the [illegible] day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Joseph Taylor, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Mary Ann Taylor, praying for the appointment of [illegible] or some other suitable person to administer said estate.

It is ordered that Monday, the [illegible] day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be held at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

(A true copy.)

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A. H. BRAGG, Probate Register.

ESTATE OF PETER S. WALDRON

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee—ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, held at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, on Friday, the [illegible] day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Peter S. Waldron, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Lucius Lee, administrator of the estate of said deceased, alleging that the personal estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay the debts of said deceased and the expenses of administration of said estate, [illegible] and praying for the allowance of the final account and that the time given to pay the debts of said deceased may be extended, and for such other relief as to the court shall seem proper.

It is ordered, That Monday, the [illegible] day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be held at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

(A true copy.)

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A. H. BRAGG, Probate Register.

ESTATE OF GARRETT ALEN.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee—ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, holden at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, on Monday, the [illegible] day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Garrett Alen, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Mary Alen, praying for the probate of an instrument now on file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, and that administration with said will annexed may be granted to Charles Burridge or some other suitable person, Jackson Alen, one of the executors named in said will, being dead, and your petitioner, the other executor, declines taking the trust, and to accept and qualify as such executor.

It is ordered, That Monday, the [illegible] day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be held at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

(A true copy.)

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A. H. BRAGG, Probate Register.

ESTATE OF ROBERT BURNETT

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee—ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee, held at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, on Monday, the 23d day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Present, Norman Geddes, Judge of Probate.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of W. [illegible] Burnett praying for the appointment of [illegible] or some other suitable person, administrator of the estate of said deceased, [illegible] and that administration of said estate may be granted to [illegible] or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, That Monday, the [illegible] day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be held at the Probate office, in the City of Adrian, and show cause why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

(A true copy.)

NORMAN GEDDES, Judge of Probate.

A. H. BRAGG, Probate Register.

Better THAN THE Best

In the Grand Rapids Business College and Practical Penmanship Rooms. Batch 1888. Best for College Journal. Address J. G. SWENSBERG, Grand Rapids, Mich.

$1000 WE

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE FOR 5 CENTS.

SMOKE ELEVEN 10c CIGAR. Address DAGUERRE BROS., Sole Agents, 130 Fifth Avenue, CHICAGO

RETAIL AT R. MORRISON'S, B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

WE LOWER PRICES for THE BEST WORK

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

CATARRH

HAY FEVER.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail, registered, [illegible] ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

MUSIC STORE

NEW SELL THEM

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY HIRE System, payments at the rate of $1.25 per month. [illegible] Send for Catalogue with full information, free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing on similar terms. Send for descriptive catalogue, mailed free.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.

Boston, New York, Chicago.

W. H. HAYDEN, Agt.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

THE POPE MFG. CO.

597 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON, MASS.

12 WARREN ST. NEW YORK. 291 WABASH AVE. CHICAGO.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE

[illegible]

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE

[illegible]

WHITMAN'S NEW PATENT REBOUND PLUNGER PERPETUAL

GUARANTEED SUPERIOR to any LEVER PRESS NOW MADE.

Received First Premium at N. Y. State Fair in 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883 and 1886, including the Grand Gold Medal and two Silver Medals, over Dederick and others, also World's Fair at New Orleans, and California State Fair. The most rapid, powerful and durable press made; puts over ten tons in a bale every three minutes; fully warranted and protected; three bales to ship other presses two. Send for illustrated circulars. Also Horse Powers, Cider Mills, Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, &c.

WHITMAN AGRIC'L CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Have ALL SIZES of Jewel Stoves in Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

McCOLLUM

Has just received received his full Fall and Winter stock, and is selling the [illegible] suits at from $10 to $20.

Ready Made [illegible] $5, $6, $8 and $10.

OVERCOATS in every quality, style, price and color.

Men's strong heavy work pants, lined throughout, at 90c.

Heavy all wool pants $2.50.

Also large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, fine flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. McCOLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

Citizens of Tecumseh!

Toledo and return for $1.85.

Citizens of Tecumseh, there are no doubt many of you in need of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps. To you who have been in the habit of buying these goods at home, we wish to call your attention to the fact that you can save fully 25 per cent, perhaps more, by buying your Clothing, Hats and Caps, etc., from us. If such is the case, would it not be to your interest as well as ours, to come to Toledo to buy your outfit? Many of you will probably say to yourself, this is only an advertisement. We admit it, but nevertheless it contains nothing but the simple truth. Would you ask us why we sell so much lower than the dealer in your own town? We will tell you.

BECAUSE We buy in much larger quantities than small dealers can, and buying in large quantities we get the lowest quotations, the benefit we divide with our customers. A man buying wheat by the car load buys it lower per bushel than he who buys only a single bushel.

BECAUSE All our purchases being made for cash, we get the benefit of a cash discount of from 7 to 10 per cent. This discount alone foots up in our business to from $9,000 to $10,000 per year. This is an item country dealers cannot get because they do not do business enough to warrant it.

BECAUSE We visit the eastern markets regularly four or five times a year, and buying right there many opportunities are offered to buy now and then at a sacrifice. These opportunities are never offered to country dealers, as they have no facilities in small towns to sell large stocks.

ANOTHER REASON Why you should fare better by trading with us is—You have a good and variety from which to make your selection fully 10 times as large as can be had at home. This certainly affords you a better chance of getting WELL PLEASED IN NOTHING MORE.

ANOTHER REASON Is the stock. We show you is newer and fresher in a store for exclusive clothing business, and a house like ours is producing new goods every week, while in a small business they sometimes carry stock for years. You run no chance of getting old shop worn goods when you buy from us.

SATISFY YOURSELVES of the advantages you possess by buying from us. Buy a good ready made ticket and come and see us. We can save you money and do ourselves good at the same time. We ask you to take the trouble to examine our stock, and learn our prices. WE KNOW IT IS TO YOUR INTEREST TO DO SO.

IN ORDER That every customer buying from us shall be unfeignedly satisfied with his purchase we offer to do this: If after buying your goods and inspecting them at home, you have any cause to be dissatisfied with your bargain, we will either exchange your goods or refund the money on goods returned. We want to see your trade, and feel satisfied that if we do this you will be again.

JOHN N. MOCKETT,

Successor to C. R. MABLEY.

105 and 107 Summit St., TOLEDO, OHIO.

A HANDSOME WEDDING, BIRTHDAY OR HOLIDAY PRESENT.

THE WONDERFUL

LUBURG CHAIR

OVER 500 Designs.

Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Reclining or Invalid CHAIR, LOUNGE, BED, or COUCH.

Price $7.00 [illegible] for Catalogue. [illegible] SHIPPED to all parts of the world.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES

All furnished with the Automatic Coach Brake, and Retailed at our Wholesale Prices. Send stamp for catalogue and mention this paper.

THE LUBURG MANF'G CO., 145 N. 8th St., Philada., Pa.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII. NO 26. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING, DEC 2, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1871.

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

OVER 500

To select from. LATEST STYLES.

SHORT WRAPS.
NEWMARKETS.
PLUSH SACQUES.
JACKETS.

Misses and Children. ALL SIZES.

All marked at lowest possible prices.
Any Cloak a Bargain.
We are glad to show them.

The constant throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. Our stock was never so complete. Prices never so low. WE ARE NEVER UNDERSOLD.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Are prepared to make prompt deliveries of best grades of Coal, in lots of $1.00 and upwards.

Hard Coal, all sizes in Stock.

Jackson Hill--Springfield Mine,

Jackson Hill Cannell.

All our coal is carefully screened and we sell at the lowest market price.
Telephone orders promptly delivered.
We solicit your patronage.

Office and Yards Shawnee St., near L. S. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

COME AND SEE OUR

Men's Overcoats,
Boy's Overcoats,
Children's Overcoats,

COME AND SEE OUR

MEN'S SUITS,
BOY'S SUITS,
CHILDREN'S SUITS.

We can show a larger assortment and give lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Underwear, Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods in endless variety of style and quality.

STRONG & McNAIR.

IT WILL COST YOU NOTHING TO

PLEASE THE BOY

--AN ELEGANT SLED--

Presented with each Boys and Children's Suits Sold.

Parents, Make your Boy Happy.

We have a tremendous stock of

Boy's and Caildren's

SUITS AND OVERCOATS!

Look at our goods and prices. If they are not satisfactory, do not buy. We can show you as many STORM OVERCOATS, CHINCHILLA OVERCOATS, MELTON OVERCOATS, and in fact any other kind of an overcoat that you would see in three or four smaller houses.

Elegant Suits in all Styles and Qualities. ONE PRICE.

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S
ADRIAN, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

The roads are in a very fine shape.

The first quarterly meeting for this conference year will be held a week from Sunday, Dec. 5th. The Presiding Elder has specified sermon for the evening.

Don't forget the L. C. S. will be held at the home of Mrs. T. H. Temple, this week Friday evening. Hot coffee and doughnuts for all.

Waring Brothers & Co. received a car load of groceries, etc., Monday.

Fannie Schwab spent Thursday and Friday with friends here.

Wm. Kelley who is in poor health at his sister's, Mrs. W. R. Wilson's, is quite poorly, not able to leave his bed only for a short time each day, for a few days past.

Sammie Arger, operator at Howell, spent a day or two at home last week.

Messrs. Parker & Cranfall of Addison, was in the village Saturday.

The young folks enjoyed a very pleasant hop Thanksgiving night at the home of John Wilson.

B. B. Morley and Mark Baily left for Pratt City, Kansas, last week Wednesday, where they will spend the winter.

Tom McClure of Tecumseh, spent Thursday evening and Friday with friends. He seems to be in harmony with "her ma" which is very pleasant besides being convenient.

All interested in a literary the coming winter are requested to meet at Cottage Hall next week Friday evening, when a short program will be carried out, after which the election of officers will take place.

R. P. Bush of Brooklyn, N. Y., made a flying visit to his friends here last week, arriving Thursday morning and returning Friday morning, accompanied by his mother in-law, Mrs. Hall.

Coryell & Gripton went to Toledo Monday, to purchase a full line of hardware for their store which will be opened soon.

Harry Smith, our tinner, has made arrangements with Coryell and Gripton for a year, and will be found there ready to mend your old tin, etc.

We called to see the Wm. Kelley, Jr. feed mill on the farm of M. M. Florence and found him busy. He grinds Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday of each week, and does good work, giving general satisfaction.

Prof. Martin Palmer of Flat Rock, and Ada Loree of Detroit, spent Thursday and Friday with relatives here returning Saturday.

The ladies showed how well they understand the wire-pulling of an election. At the election of the officers for the W. C. T. W., the President and Secretary each received the entire ballot with the exception of one vote for each.

C. A. Sharp and family were down from Tecumseh, and made their parents a call Sunday.

The ladies of Ridgeway met at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Sutton, Tuesday afternoon of last week for the purpose of organizing a W. C. T. U. Honored by the presence of Mrs. A. S. Benjamin, State Lecturer of that organization, who, beside giving the ladies a very interesting talk, gave lectures Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Cottage Hall, which resulted in the enrollment of twenty-nine regular and ten honorary members. In the lecture of Tuesday evening was given a description of work of the W. C. T. U., not only in this country, but in all parts of the world. All who heard the lecture declared themselves pleased and well paid for attending. The lecture of Wednesday evening was pronounced superior to that of Tuesday evening, and by many the best of the season. The officers elected are as follows:

Pres.—Mrs. Sara Rappley.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Ruth Waring.
Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Frank Pope.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. P. Carlisle.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. J. D. Hurst.

ONSTED ODDS.

Minnie Daniels is visiting friends in Jackson.

Andrew Carson and wife spent their Thanksgiving at Homer.

P. Edwards, a student in the medical department of the Michigan University, has been visiting at William Stevenson's.

Miss Addie Daniels came home from Jackson to spend Thanksgiving.

J. S. Kane was called to Napoleon, on account of the illness of his partner, Frank Curtis. Mr. Curtis was better at the last report.

Rev. Mr. Mowry preached a Thanksgiving sermon, at the close of Sunday. Good judges pronounced it an excellent sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gallup intend to go to housekeeping soon, in the Darling house. This will save Herb a good deal of walking.

BRITTON BUDGET

[illegible] since Thanksgiving day.

It is [illegible] strangers in town [illegible] dinners.

Owen Leadley [illegible] Sylvania, Ohio has old home.

The stave mill is ready to buy bolts, some are coming in.

Mrs. Joseph Thackery and mother have returned from Petoskey, where she has been visiting her brother the past week.

Mr. Beasley has his two new stores inclosed and ready for the roof. The parties that have rented the building are waiting rather impatiently.

Mr. Davkin, has covered up the walls for his two stores, and says he will have to wait until spring as this weather will not permit the laying of brick.

Wm. Prindal is buying hogs for a Monroe party. He says there is lots of them in the country.

There is considerable talk and speculation as to how the Bohemian oat suit will turn out, among a certain class.

Ben Bellows is on the gain under the treatment of Dr. Finney of Winomeg, Ohio. He feels quite encouraged.

Five hundred pounds of live chickens shipped from here Monday morning by express. Express all told that morning nearly 1000 pounds.

Our local telegraph wire is broken at Ridgeway; hope some of the enterprising people of that village will repair the same.

Charles Hoagland's little daughter fell and either broke or dislocated her arm at the elbow, did not hear particulars at this writing.

We are having splendid roads now, but we need rain very much as quite a number of the wells are giving out among the farmers. Will Britton has been digging a new well but does not succeed very well in getting water. Fonce Montonye of Macon, has been boring in his well for several days past but don't seem to meet with very good success, but if Fonce can't get water for him his case is hopeless.

Wm. Taylor started for Florida on Monday, where he expects to spend the winter with his son, John Taylor, who has been there for the past two years.

Our railroads are doing an immense business in freights now, and if the business of the W. St L. & P. keeps increasing in its freight for the next year as it has in the past year, it will be obliged to put in a double track.

Jesse Potter has moved to Ridgeway and is going to take charge of the new store of Waring Bros' & Co., and Labe Babcock takes his place at the store of McClure & Co., at this place.

George Bellows has moved in John Cooper's house.

MEMORIAL.

The early history of Lenawee county shows that a small number are left of the pioneers, as one by one leave for the silent tomb. The number who have left the past year, according to our record, is 125, all over sixty years, or have resided in the county over thirty years; average age seventy-two.

We will add to the list the name of Mrs. William Avery, well known to the citizens of Tecumseh fifty years ago. She died at Hillsdale, Nov. 8th, aged 87 years. The deceased came to Tecumseh with her husband in the year 1829. Their log house was built two miles west of the village on the land now owned by Mr. Tallman, afterwards built the dwelling where Mr. Haynes now lives. At that time Mr. Avery said he had bank bills on hand of the wild cat order, enough to paper one large room.

Mrs. Henry Loucks, late of Cambridge, died while on a visit at her relatives in Charlotte, Oct. 21st, 1886, aged 90 years. This venerable lady, or early settler of Cambridge, was born in Brattleborough, Vermont, July 31st., 1796, and moved with her husband to Niagara Co., N. Y., in 1816, from thence to Cambridge in 1836. Here they bought Government land, and were cordial and very excellent neighbors to the writer for more than thirty years. The husband of this estimable woman, died over twenty years ago, and since then her home has been in the vicinity of the old farm, cheerfully assisted by her children or grand-children in her advanced years of life. Always cheerful, full of kind words and deeds, she was endeared to the hearts of her family and a large circle of friends. The pen of affection would fain sketch some of the scenes of former days. Most of those who were foremost in her social life, have gone before, taken their candle and said good-night. F. A. D.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS.

[illegible] Howe moved into his store in Sanford, Mallard & Co., Thanksgiving day. Peter Stimel to Kansas.

[illegible] Rounds in Saline and Alma, Haight of Ypsilanti were united in matrimonial bonds, Thanksgiving.

Albert Sick moved into A. Easlick's vacant house, Friday.

Fred and Lennie Miller returned from a two weeks visit at Sanford, Saturday.

There was a birth-day anniversary at Robt. Easlick's Thanksgiving.

Geo. Sisson has moved into his new house.

Sarah J. Miller took thanksgiving dinner with friends at Dundee.

Our fall term of school closed Friday. Winter term will commence Monday.

There was a marriage anniversary gathering at Evert Davenport's on Thanksgiving.

Thomas Lee is building a new barn on his ridge lot.

Nelson Davenport and wife drove to Ann Arbor Tuesday. A dog on the street frightened their horse which ran away throwing out the occupants, cutting quite a gash in Mrs. Davenport's head and demolishing the buggy.

Theron Densmore, a boy about 13, while hunting thanksgiving, set his gun on a log, to prospect for game, with both hands over the muzzle. The gun of course slipped off, the hammer struck the log and the index finger and thumb on both hands were quite severely lacerated.

Miss Ella Whiting was the guest of Rose Easlick over Sunday.

Emma Morse is quite sick.

Mrs. A. Easlick wishes us to say that she has a pullet of the white leghorn and game cross variety, hatched about the first of May, that commenced laying the last of August. About the first of Oct. she stole her nest, and came off two weeks ago with 16 chicks, all doing well.

Farmers are complaining of hard times; no money to employ help to close up fall work, fix up buildings for winter or prepare fuel for the coming season, with special tax season approaching. Laborers are looking in vain for work.

What kind of a scheme would it be for the government to issue $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 legal tender silver certificates, and use the silver in paying the national debt; thereby killing one bird with two stones which is the only way the bond vulture will ever be killed and equitably apportion the same among the several states and territories, and from there to counties and authorize the loaning of the same to farmers in limited amounts on real estate security for long time at about [illegible] per cent interest, payable annually whereby farmers could pay off their mortgages and other indebtedness, and improve their surroundings, by way of renewing fences, repairing, renewing and painting farm buildings, improving stock, adding to farm machinery, underdraining, schooling children, etc., etc., thereby giving employment to thousands of laborers who are now idle and destitute and will suffer before spring if there is not a turn in the wheel of fortune. This would start a boom all along the line, for when farmers thrive, general prosperity prevails. There should be a prohibitory law closely following [illegible] the people against such [illegible]. It seems a pity that when the earth produces in average abundance, with the help of machinery to carry on the varied industries, that there should be such wide spread poverty and distress and the wheels of progress blocked through the great business world.

The Perfect Brain.

[illegible] must be [illegible] well [illegible] and vitalizing effects. Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, so completely and entirely overcome disease.

A MERCHANT'S OPINION.

Mr B. F. Nourse, General Western Agent Royal Baking Powder Co., says: "I have never found so great results from physicians' prescriptions and family use as from our children, as I have after a few days use of Papillon extract of flax Skin Cure. I cannot describe to you medically what it has done for us, but can say that years of treatment have not accomplished what Papillon has done after a few applications." Large bottles only $1.00.

"Time flies." Let somebody else time them. We're too busy.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

[illegible] Dec. 5. [illegible] Rev. 5:1-14. Golden Text, Rev. 5:9.

[illegible] are very familiar to the Christian Church. John saw a marvelous book or parchment roll, written on both sides and sealed with seven seals. Such M. S. S. have been found many times by travelers, written on both sides. As you unroll the parchment you can read the first side, and as you roll it up again, you can read the other side. The book was full, and it was complete and it was completely sealed with seven seals. A mighty angel, one of the highest rank, asks: "Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?" It seemed as if there were none in the heaven, or earth, or in the realms of the dead, worthy to undertake so important a task. John had been promised a view of future events, and now, as the book seemed irrevocably closed, his disappointment found expression in tears. But an elder tells him of one who is able to open the book, "the Lion of the tribe of Judah." What a striking description of Christ in his majesty and power! John looks, and, lo, he sees the twenty-four elders and four beasts, and in the midst "a Lamb as it had been slain." It is typical of the same Christ in His innocence, meekness and sacrificial character. The Lamb took the book to open it, whereupon the assembled host of heaven and earth joined in a new song of adoration and praise to Him who was slain and redeemed the world from sin. The magnificent chorus rises from countless multitudes as they cry, "Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever."

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. The crucified Christ is the central attraction of heaven and earth.
2. Heaven will reveal to us the solution of many of the mysteries of earth.
3. An interest in the slain Lamb is necessary for an admission to Heaven.
4. Christ is worthy of everlasting praise.

BROOKLYN BALLAST

From most of places Thanksgiving has been typified, but here the church bells rang too faint a chime to startle reporters who staid at home and thanked fate that diptheria had vanished, and the threatened scourge had been averted by much blamed vigilance.

There is said to be thankfulness in store for a woman whose husband unshipped responsibility.

The children of the Presbyterian sabbath school propose to take money usually spent in furnishing a Christmas Tree and buy coal to keep her and four children warm, and they will probably realize more happiness by doing so than observing what all agree is a pleasant custom.

At this season there is much enforced illness and Supervisor Griswold is distracted by numerous calls for aid. If he don't give, the sympathetic call him heartless and stingy. If he does there are "plenty to swear about his extravagant generosity and their extra taxation. People who habitually ask assistance are always deficient in self reliance, and with ignorance to form a connecting link, poverty and improvidence are as closely allied as the Siamese twins. Such cases are numerous here, charity must spread a mantle over them and the Supervisor wear his laurels anyhow he can.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY C. Wright & Co.

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

Albert Emminger, Covington, K., was afflicted with Catarrh three years. He says: "After trying every known patent medicine which I saw advertised, none of which helped me, I tried Papillon extract of flax Catarrh Cure as a last resort. It has in fact proved a complete cure, and is worth its weight in gold." I will give you references from parties who have been cured. It not only relieves but a positive cure." Large bottles $1.00.

No woman can be contented and happy if her skin is covered with pimples and blotches. These disfiguring eruptions are easily removed by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine is perfectly safe to take, and is a throughly reliable blood purifier.

THE [illegible] RALD

Issued Every Thursday Morning

BY S. C. STACY.

Six months
Four months

TECUMSEH, MICH., [illegible]

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Edited by a Committee of the W. C. T. U.

THE MADDENING RUM-THIRST.

There was a day in which the [illegible] Rum-Fiend, the day gone [illegible] not contain a sober, [illegible] of which Rum is the [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Rum-Power.

A Remarkable Man.

He [illegible] Blakeny, that is, in plain English, he got drunk at inter[illegible] which steadily shortened their duration, and the drunken fits rapidly became more frequent. These [illegible] of considerate and [illegible] the ruins of [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible]

But when the Rum fiend has [illegible] upon a man he does not [illegible] his dominion. Apparently in the very pride of a success[illegible] reinstatement of his life, Dr. Blakeny would [illegible] to the irresistible craving of that damning thirst even while pledging himself to reform and proclaiming his salvation from Rum. Then the treacherous [illegible] from which he could not or could not release himself would drag him down to their [illegible] and in a few the work of months would vanish in a terrible debauch. Home, hope, employment and self respect were swallowed up in the maelstrom of appetite. The intoxicants which were at first an incident, then a time then a necessary notice power to his mind, became his master and he their abject slave. Lower and lower in the scale he sunk until his reeling form on the streets of Brooklyn daily excited the pity of the gentle [illegible]

What days were not spent in Rum [illegible] What nights [illegible] under [illegible] passed [illegible]

[illegible] Rum-Power.

Renews Her Youth.

[illegible] Iowa, tells the following remarkable story. The fruit of which is vouched for by the residents of the town. "I [illegible] troubled [illegible] years [illegible] with kidney complaint and dreadful backache for many years. My [illegible] was [illegible] with all pain and [illegible] able to do all my own housework. I now my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and restored comfortable health. My appetite [illegible]

[illegible] from the system.

[illegible]

Clean and Cure Malaria.

Many cases of fever and ague, chills and fever, chills and fever, prompt[illegible] the [illegible] Liver, Regulator. [illegible] half enough in regard to the efficacy of this valuable medicine in cases of ague, intermittent fever, chills, Everywhere it has been [illegible] immediately. I was a sufferer for years with the liver disease, and only found relief by using the Regulator." Robert L. Weeks, Kane Co., Ill.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

AYER'S Sugar-Coated Cathartic PILLS.

Regulate

The Bowels.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Men Think

Chronic Catarrh

Catarrh in the Head

Hood's Sarsaparilla

100 Doses One Dollar 100 Doses One Dollar

Closing Out Sale!

I Propose to Sell

FURNITURE

Of all kinds AT COST,

UP TO OCTOBER 22d.

In order to save moving, as I shall after that time be found at my new place of business, known as the Agricultural Works, and would be pleased to see all my old customers, And as many new ones as may favor me with a Call.

Come and avail yourself of this opportunity.

J. S. KINNEY

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE!

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stock are invited to the moving. Come with a small amount of money. Look at my prices, and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN.

UNDERTAKING!

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL.

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

HAZELTINE & PERKINS DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Toledo Business College

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

FARMS Colony. House ... Va., in Claremont ... J. F. MANCUA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS Its causes and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was dear 20 years. Treated by almost of the noted specialists without benefit. For these months and since the authorities of London ... application. T. PAGE, No. 11 West 31st st., New York City

Are you CONSUMPTIVE? Use ... Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion! Use PARKER'S TONIC without delay. It has saved ... of the worst cases and is the best remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and diseases arising from impure blood and exhaustion. The feeble and sick ... Tonic, but of a delicate ... Cures when all else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm. $1 at Druggists.

KNABE PIANOFORTES. ESTABLISHED FOR Tone, Touch, Workmanship, Durability. WILLIAM KNABE & CO., Nos. 204 & 206 West Baltimore st., Baltimore. No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. Highest award of Medals in Europe & America. The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest, and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 1,000 physicians and druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments, and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names such as "Capsicum," "Capucin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. ASK FOR BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHER. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, N. Y.

MORTGAGE SALE.

On the 22d day of September, A.D. 1871, Alexander D. Mead and Lyman G. Mead, his brother, of the Lenawee county and state of Michigan, he executed and delivered to Hiedes S. Snow, administrator of the estate of Edwin Smith, deceased, a certain indenture of mortgage, which was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Lenawee county, Michigan, in Liber 65 of mortgages, on pages 250, 251 and 252. Said mortgage was assigned by the said Hiedes S. Snow, administrator, to Moses Bartlett, of Clinton, in said county of Lenawee and state of Michigan on the 8th day of October, A.D. 1877, which assignment was recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of the said county of Lenawee, in Liber 113 of mortgages, on page 379. There is claimed to be due on said mortgage at this date the sum of five hundred and forty-five 20-100 dollars. No suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover the whole said debt or any part thereof, and default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become absolute and operative.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall, on the 4th day of December, A.D., 1886, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the city of Adrian (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in said county) the premises in said mortgage described, for the purpose of satisfying the amount then due on said mortgage, and the costs and expense of this foreclosure and such an attorney fee in relation thereto as is allowed by law.

Said premises are described as follows, to wit: Being all that tract or parcel of land situate in the village of Clinton in the county of Lenawee and state of Michigan bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the north line of Chicago street, at the southwest corner of land formerly owned by James W. Kirg, and now occupied by Samuel R. Rose as a dwelling lot, and running thence westerly along the north line of said Chicago street three (3) rods; thence north twelve (12) rods to Brown street; thence east along the south line of Brown street three (3) rods; thence south along the west line of land occupied by Samuel R. Rose, twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

Dated Sept 9, 1886.

MOSES BARTLETT, Assignee of said Mortgage.

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

Just anything in this line can be bought at the Lowest figures.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold in Tecumseh by DR. GEO. FERGUSON.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City.

THE STORY OF A MINE

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement.]

CHAPTER I.

WHO SOUGHT IT.

It was a steep trail leading over the Monterey coast range, and the mule was very tired. Concho was very dusty. Concho was very much disgusted. To Concho's mind there was but one relief for these insurmountable difficulties, and that lay in a leathern bottle slung over the machilas of his saddle. Concho raised the bottle to his lips, took a long draught, made a wry face, and ejaculated:

"Carajo!"

It appeared that the bottle did not contain aguardiente, but had lately been filled in a tavern near Tres Pinos by an Irishman who sold bad American whisky under that pleasing Castilian title. Nevertheless, Concho had already nearly emptied the bottle, and it fell back against the saddle as yellow and flaccid as his own cheeks. Thus reinforced, Concho turned to look at the valley behind him, from which he had climbed since noon. It was a sterile waste bordered here and there by arable fringes and valdas of meadow land, but in the main dusty, dry and forbidding. His eye rested for a moment on a low, white cloud line on the eastern horizon, but so mocking and unsubstantial that it seemed to come and go as he gazed. Concho struck his forehead and winked his hot eyelids. Was it the Sierras or the cursed American whisky?

Again he recommenced the ascent. At times the half worn, half invisible trail became utterly lost in the bare black outcrop of the ridge, but his sagacious mule scent found it again; until, stepping upon a loose bowlder, she slipped and fell. In vain Concho tried to lift her from out the ruin of camp kettles, prospecting pans and picks; she remained quietly recumbent, occasionally raising her head as if to contemplatively glance over the arid plain below. Then he had recourse to useless blows. Then he essayed profanity of a secular kind, such as "Assassin," "Thief," "Beast with a pig's head," "Food for the Bull's Horns," but with no effect.

Then he had recourse to the curse ecclesiastic: "Ah, Judas Iscariot! is it thus, renegade and traitor, thou leavest me, thy master, a league from camp and supper waiting! Stealer of the Sacrament, get up!"

Still no effect. Concho began to feel uneasy; never before had a mule of pious lineage failed to respond to this kind of exhortation. He made one more desperate attempt:

"Ah, defiler of the altar! lie not there! Look!" he threw his hand into the air, extending the fingers suddenly. "Behold, fiend! I exorcise thee! Ha! tremblest! Look but a little now ... Apostate! I—I—excommunicate thee—Mule!"

"What are you kicking up such a devil of row down there for?" said a gruff voice from the rocks above.

Concho shuddered. Could it be that the devil was really going to fly away with his mule. He dared not look up.

"Come now," continued the voice, "you just lot upon that mule, you d—d old Greaser. Don't you see she's slipped her shoulder?"

Alarmed as Concho was at the information, he could not help feeling to a certain extent relieved. She was lamed, but had not lost her standing as a good Catholic.

He ventured to lift his eyes. A stranger—an Americano from his dress and accent—was descending the rocks toward him. He was a slight-built man with a dark, smooth face, that would have been quite commonplace and inexpressive but for his left eye, in which all that was villainous in him apparently centered. Shut that eye, and you had the features and expression of an ordinary man; cover up these features, and the eye shown out like Eblis' own. Nature had apparently observed this too, and had, by a paralysis of the nerve, ironically dropped the corner of the upper lid over it like a curtain, laughed at her handiwork, and turned him loose to prey upon the credulous world.

"What are you doing here" said the stranger after he had assisted Concho in bringing the mule to her feet, and a helpless halt.

"Prospecting, Señor."

The stranger turned his respectable right eye toward Concho, while his left looked unutterable scorn and wickedness over the landscape.

"Prospecting what for?"

"Prospecting, what for?"

"Gold and silver, Señor—yes, for silver most."

"Alone?"

"Of us there are four."

The stranger looked around.

"In camp—a league beyond," explained the Mexican.

"Found anything?"

"Of this—much." (Concho took from his saddle bags a lump of grayish ironstone, studded here and there with star points of pyrites. The stranger said nothing, but his eye looked a diabolical suggestion.

"You are lucky, I tell thee."

"Eh?"

"It is silver."

"How you know this?"

"I am a metallurgist."

"And you can say what shall be silver and what is not?"

"Yes—see here!" The stranger unslung from his saddle bags a little leather case containing some half dozen phials. One, enwrapped in dark blue paper, he held up to Concho.

Concho's eyes sparkled, but he looked doubtingly at the stranger.

"Get me some water in your pan."

Concho emptied his water bottle into the prospecting pan and handed it to the stranger. He dipped a dried blade of grass in the liquid and then let a drop fall from its tip in the water. The water immediately assumed a milky hue.

"Now throw a handful of the earth," said the stranger.

Concho did so. Instantly a white film appeared on the surface, and presently the whole mass assumed a milky hue.

Concho crossed himself hastily. "Mother of God, it is magic!"

"It is chloride of silver, you darned fool."

Not content with this cheap experiment, the stranger then proceeded to show Concho how easily he could deceive others, by reddening some litmus paper with the nitrate, and then completely knocked over the simple Mexican by restoring its color by dipping it in the salt water.

"You shall try me this," said Concho, offering his iron ore to the stranger, "you shall use the silver and the salt."

"Not so fast my friend," answered the stranger; "in the first place this ore must be melted, and then a chip taken and put in shape like this—and that is worth something, my Greaser cherub. No, sir, a man don't spend all his youth at Freiburg and Heidelburg to throw away his science gratuitously on the first Greaser he meets."

"It will cost—eh—how much?" said the Mexican eagerly.

"Well, I should say it would take about $100 and expenses to—to—find silver in that ore. But once you've got it there—you're all right for tons of it."

"You shall have it," said the now excited Mexican. "You shall have it of us—the four! You shall come to our camp and shall melt it—and show the silver, and—enough! Come!" and in his feverishness he clutched the hand of his companion as if to lead him forth at once.

"What are you going to do with your mule?" said the stranger.

"Drag, holy mother—what, indeed?"

"Look you," said the stranger, with a grim smile, "she won't stray far. I'll be bound. I've an extra pack mule above here; you can ride on her, and lead me into camp, and tomorrow come back for your beast."

Poor honest Concho's heart sickened at the prospect of leaving behind the tired servant he had objurgated so strongly a moment before, but the love of gold was uppermost. "I will come back to thee, little one, to-morrow, a rich man. Meanwhile, wait thou here, patient one—Adios!—thou smallest of mules—Adios!"

And, seizing the stranger's hand, he clambered up the rocky ledge until they reached the summit. Then the stranger turned and gave one sweep of his malevolent eye over the valley.

Wherefore, in after years, when their story was related, with the devotion of true Catholic pioneers, they named the mountain "La Canada de la Visitacion del Diablo," "The Gulch of the Visitation of the Devil," the same being now the boundary lines of one of the famous Mexican land grants.

CHAPTER II.

WHO FOUND IT.

WILES.

CONCHO was so impatient to reach the camp and deliver his good news to his companions that more than once the stranger was obliged to command him to slacken his pace. "Is it not enough, you infernal Greaser, that you lame your own mule, but you must try your hand on mine? Or am I to put Jinny down among the expenses?" he added with a grin and a slight lifting of his baleful eyelid.

When they had ridden a mile along the ridge they began to descend again toward the valley. Vegetation now sparingly bordered the trail, clumps of chemisal, an occasional manzanita bush and one or two dwarfed "blackoaks" rooted their way between the interstices of the black-gray rock. Now and then, in crossing some dry gully, worn by the overflow of winter torrents from above, the grayish rock gloom was relieved by dull red and brown masses of color, and almost every overhanging rock bore the mark of a miner's pick. Presently, as they rounded the curving flank of the mountain, from a rocky bench below them a thin ghost-like stream of smoke seemed to be steadily drawn by invisible hands into the invisible ether. "It is the camp," said Concho; "we ride yet a while myself I want to prepare them for the stranger," and before his companion could detain him he had disappeared at a steep canter around the curve in the trail.

Left to himself, the stranger took a more leisurely pace, which left him ample time for reflection. Surprised he was there was something in the dingy, ordinary of proof Concho had made him doubtful. Nor that his moral consciousness was touched, but he feared that Concho's discovery might, through Concho's ignorance, slightly stagger his credulity in regarding upon it. He rode on in deep study. Was he recovering his past life? A vagabond by birth and education, a swindler by profession, an outcast by reputation, without absolutely turning his back upon respectability, he had trembled on the perilous edge of criminality ever since his boyhood. He did not scruple to cheat these Mexicans—they were a degraded race—and for a moment he felt almost an exultant agent of progress and civilization. We never really understand the meaning of enlightenment until we begin to exert it aggressively.

A few paces further on four figures appeared in the new gathering darkness of the trail. The stranger quickly recognized the beaming smile of Concho, foremost of the party. A quick glance at the faces of the others satisfied him that while they lacked Concho's social humor, they certainly did not surpass him in intellect. One was a stout vaquero, Manuel, whose face was all smiles and excitement. The Mission fleas and the Monterey Undertaker's assistants, I regret that suspicion with which the ignorant regard strangers, died away, and the whole party escorted the stranger—who had given his name as Don Jose Wiles—to their camp. So anxious were they to begin their experiments that even the instincts of hospitality were forgotten, and it was not until Mr. Wiles—now known as "Don Jose"—sharply reminded came to their senses. When the frugal meal of tortillas, frijoles, salt pork, and chocolate was over, an oven was built of the dark red rock brought from the ledge before them, and an earthenware crucible by some process known to Concho, tightly fitted over it, and packed with clay and coals. A fire was soon burning in the wooded ravine below, and in a few moments the furnace was in full blast. Mr. Wiles did not participate in these active preparations, except to give occasional directions between his teeth, which were contemplatively fixed over a clay pipe as he lay comfortably on his back on the ground. Whatever enjoyment the rascal enjoyed in their useless labors, he did not show it, but it was observed that his left eye often followed the broad figure of the vaquero, Pedro, and often dwelt on that worthy's beetling brows and half savage face. Meeting that baleful glance once, Pedro growled out an oath, but could not resist a hideous fascination that caused him again and again to seek it.

The scene was weird enough without Wiles' eye to add to its wild picturesqueness. The mountain towered above—a heavy Rembrandtish mass of black shadow—sharply cut here and there against a sky so inconceivably remote that the world-sick soul must have despaired of ever reaching so far or of climbing its steel blue walls. The stars were large, keen and brilliant, but cold and steadfast. They did not dance nor twinkle in their adamantine setting. The furnace fire painted the faces of the men an Indian red, glanced on brightly colored blanket and scrape, but was eventually caught and absorbed in the waiting shadows of the black mountain, scarcely twenty feet from the furnace door. The low, half-sung, half-whispered foreign speech of the group, the roaring of the furnace and the quick, sharp yelp of the coyote on the plain below were the only sounds that broke the awful silence of the hills.

It was almost dawn when it was announced that the ore had fused. And it was high time, for the pot was slowly sinking into the fast crumbling oven. Concho uttered a jubilant "God and Liberty," but Don Jose Wiles bade him be silent and bring stakes to support the pot. Then Don Jose bent over the seething mass. It was for a moment only. But in that moment this accomplished metallurgist, Mr. Joseph Wiles, had quietly dropped a silver half dollar into the pot!

Then he charged them to keep up the fires and went to sleep—all but one eye.

Dawn came with dull beacon fires on the near hill tops, and, far in the east, roses over the Sierrap snow. Birds twittering in the alder fringes a mile below, and the creaking of wagon wheels—the wagon itself a mere cloud of dust in the distant road—were heard distinctly. Then the melting pot was solemnly broken by Don Jose, and the glowing incandescent mass turned into the road to cool.

And then the metallurgist clipped a small fragment from the mass and pounded it, and chipped another smaller piece and pounded that, and then subjected it to acid, and then treated it to a salt bath which became at once milky—and at last produced a white something—mirabile dictu!—two cents' worth of silver!

Concho shouted with joy; the rest gazed at each other doubtingly and distrustfully; companions in poverty, they began to diverge and suspect each other in prosperity. Wiles' left eye glanced ironically from the one to the other.

"Here is the $100, Don Jose," said Pedro, handing the gold to Wiles with a decidedly brusque intimation that the services and presence of a stranger were no longer required.

Wiles took the money with a gracious smile and a wink that sent Pedro's heart into his boots, and was turning away when a cry from Manuel stopped him:

"The pot—the pot—it has leaked! look! behold! see!"

He had been cleaning away the crumbled fragments of the furnace to get ready for breakfast, and had disclosed a shining pool of quicksilver!

Wiles started, cast a rapid glance around the group, saw in a flash that the metal was unknown to them, and then said, quietly:

"It is not silver."

"Pardon, señor, it is, and still molten."

Wiles stooped and ran his fingers through the shining metal.

"Mother of God—what is it, then?—mercury?"

"No, only base metal." But he was checked, embolded by Wiles' experiment, attempted to possess himself of the glistening mass, but instantly broke through his fingers in a thousand tiny globules, and even with a few gashes on the dirty cheeks, only he danced and sang and mingled foul and foolish pleasantries.

"And it is not worth the taking?" repeated Don Jose Wiles.

Wiles' right eye and blank face were turned toward the speaker, but his malevolent left was glancing at the dull, red brown rock on the hillside.

"No," and turning a coppery away he proceeded to saddle his mule.

Manuel, Miguel and Pedro, left to themselves, began talking earnestly together. Presently Concho, our friend of the supper, rode up and beckoned them to the fire where he had left him. But Concho was long, lank, Constant to her master through business and bullying, she could not stand incivility and mutiny in him. There are certain qualities of the sex that belong to all animated nature.

Inconsiderable food soon and remorseful Concho returned to the camp and turning, threw mule across the rocky ridge. But what was his astonishment on arriving to find the place deserted of man, mule and camp equipage, even the allied object. Only the closing rocks gravely answered him. Was it a trick? Concho [illegible] Alas—yes! Tricked and [illegible] they had deserted him! And then [illegible] his head to the [illegible] of his [illegible] the [illegible] book.

The [illegible] pressed in a moistened [illegible] to suffer long for the [illegible] As he raised his head and [illegible] mate [illegible] Was again the [illegible] fever [illegible] with [illegible] here and there, [illegible] it in his palms and laughing with boyish glee at its elusive freaks and fancies. "Ah, [illegible] come here. This way—now I have thee, little one—come, muchacha—come and kiss me," until he had quite forgotten the defection of his companions. And even when he [illegible] his worry pack, he was fain to carry his paramour away [illegible] empty leathern flask.

And yet I fancy the sun looked kindly on him as he strode cheerily down the black mountain side, and his step was none the less firm nor light that he carried with him neither [illegible] nor [illegible] prospects [illegible]

ZOA-PHORA,

—WOMAN'S FRIEND,

Secures to GIRLS a painless, perfect development and thus prevents lifelong weakness.

Sustains and soothes Over-worked Women, Exhausted Mothers, and prevents prolapsus.

Cures palpitation, sleeplessness, nervous breaking down (often preventing insanity), providing a safe change of life, and a hale and happy old age.

Reader suffering from any complaint peculiar to the female sex, zoa-phora is worth everything to you. Send for our circular of private testimonials and be convinced.

Every woman sickly or healthy should read "Facts for Women." This book will be sent to any lady reader of this paper, and to ladies only, on receipt of 10c. Address,

ZOA-PHORA MEDICINE CO.,
123 Main Street, - - Kalamazoo, Mich.

N. B.—Letters marked "private" are seen only by our Private Secretary and consulting Physician.

H. G. COLMAN, Private Secretary

AGENTS WANTED for DR. SCOTT'S beautiful Electric Corsets. Sample free to those becoming agents. Nor risk, quick sales. Territory ... Satisfaction guaranteed. Address DR. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, NEW YORK.

GOLD fields are scarce, but those who write to Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, full information about work which they can do, and live at home, that will pay them from $5 to $20 per day. Some have earned over $50 to a day. Either sex, young or old. Capital not required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of snug little fortunes. All is new.

JAS. H. POTTER,

Manufacturer of all kinds of

FURNITURE!

Order work a specialty. Turning done to order.

500,000 ACRES CHOICE HARDWOOD FARMING LANDS

In Northern Wisconsin for sale at $5 an acre on long time. The most prosperous and promising field for settlement in the U. S. Full information with good map free. Address LAND COMMISSIONER, Wisconsin Central R. R., Milwaukee, Wis.

POULTRY, GAME, BUTTER, EGGS.

Having leased the new store, 42 Michigan Grand Ave., (Cadillac Square) I am prepared to handle on commission, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc. Quick sales at highest market price, and prompt returns guaranteed.

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, Mich.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS. Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH. Sold in Tecumseh by C. A. WRIGHT & CO.

THE ELDREDGE "B"

THE ELDREDGE "B" is sold with the guarantee of being the BEST that can be MADE.

AGENTS WANTED.

ELDREDGE MANUFACTURING CO.

253 and 355 WASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

ADVERTISING contracts made for THIS PAPER, which is kept on file with LORD & THOMAS, Advertising Agents, Chicago.

THE COCAINE HABIT

The Worst Slavery Known.—New Horrors.

Cincinnati Times Star.

When cocaine was discovered the medical world exclaimed, "thank heaven!" [illegible] dangerous especially when its use is perverted from the dead ling of pain for surgical operations, to the stimulation and destruction of the human body. Its first effects are a thing and captivating, but the habit is the most terrible slavery known to humanity.

[illegible] was interviewed by our reporter yesterday at the Grand Hotel, and during the conversation the doctor said: "The cocaine habit is a thousand times worse than the morphine and opium habits, and you would be astonished," he said, "if you knew how frightfully the habit is increasing."

"What are its effects?"

"It [illegible] known. It ruins the liver and kidneys in half a year, and when this work is done, the strong constitution soon succumbs."

"Do you know of Dr. Underhill's case here in Cincinnati?"

"That leading physician who became a victim of the cocaine habit? Yes. His case was a very sad one, but the habit can be cured. I have rescued many a man from a worse condition."

"What, worse than Dr. Underhill's?"

"Indeed sir, far so. Justin M. Hall, A. M., M.D., President of the State Board of Health of Iowa, and a famed practitioner, and Alexander Neil, M.D., Professor of Surgery in the Columbus Medical College, and President of the Academy of Medicine, a man widely known, Hiram W. Chancey of Indianapolis, Ind., from personal experience in opium eating, etc., can tell you of the kind of success our form of treatment wins, and so can H. C. Wilson, of Cincinnati, who [illegible]

"Would you mind [illegible] readers into the secret [illegible]?

"Well, young man, you surely have a good bit of assurance to ask a man to give his business away to the public. But I won't wholly disappoint you. I have treated over 20,000 patients. In conjunction with many eminent physicians, I [illegible] tested the organs which [illegible] specially attack. Dr. Hall, Dr. Neil and Mr. Wilson, whom I have mentioned and hundreds of others, especially as experts, [illegible] many similar experiments on their own behalf. We each found that these drugs worked most destructively on the kidneys and liver; in fact, finally destroyed them. It was then apparent that no cure could be effected until these organs could be restored to health. We recently exhausted the entire range of medical science, experimenting with all known remedies for these organs, and as the result of these close investigations we all substantially agreed, though following different lines of inquiry, that the most reliable, scientific preparation, was Warner's safe cure. This was the second point in the discovery. The third was our own private form of treatment, which, of course, we do not divulge to the public. Every case that we have treated first with Warner's safe cure, then with our own private treatment, and followed up again with Warner's safe cure for a few weeks, has been successful. These habits can't be cured without using it, because the habit is nourished and sustained in the liver and kidneys. The habit can be kept up in moderation, however, if free use be also made at the same time, of that great remedy.

"Yes, it is a world famed and justly celebrated specific! Like many other physicians, I used to deride the claims made for it, but I know now for a fact that it is the world's greatest blessing having sovereign power over hitherto incurable diseases of the kidneys and liver, and when I have said that, young man, I have said nearly everything for most diseases originate in, or are aggravated by, a depraved condition of the kidneys.

"People do not realize this, because, singular as it may seem, the kidneys may be in a very advanced stage of decomposition, and yet owing to the fact that there are but few nerves of sensation in them, the subject will not experience much pain therein. On this account thousands of people die every year of kidney disease unknowingly. They have so called disorders of the head, of the heart and lungs and stomach, and treat them in vain, for the real cause of their misery is deranged kidneys, and if they were restored to health the other disorders would soon disappear."

Dr. Stephen's experience, that can be confirmed by many thousands whom he has treated, adds only more emphasis to the experience of many hundreds of thousands all over the world, that the remedy he refers to is without any doubt the most beneficent discovery ever given to humanity.

DR. CLARKE

NO FEE!! UNTIL BETTER. ESTABLISHED 1851. DETROIT, MICH. Merrill Block.

The Regular, Old-Established PHYSICIAN & SURGEON is still treating with the greatest SKILL AND SUCCESS ALL PRIVATE, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES

YOUNG MEN, MIDDLE-AGED MEN and all persons who by their own acts of Imprudence or Folly at any period of life have brought upon themselves, the evil effects following ... upon the heels of transgression of the laws of nature, should consult the celebrated Dr. Clarke. Remember! Nervous diseases with or without dreams or debility and loss of nerve power treated scientifically by new methods with never-failing success. ☞ It makes no difference what you have taken or who has failed to cure you. ☞ The terrible poisons of Syphilis and all bad blood and skin diseases, complete eradicated without mercury. Remember that this one horrible disease, if neglected or improperly treated curses the present and coming generations. ☞ All unnatural discharges cured promptly without hindrance to business. No experiments. Both sexes consult confidentially. Age and experience important. A written guarantee of cure given in every case undertaken. ☞ Sufferers from ... Cures ... History and Symptoms ... Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases ... have exhaustive symptomatology by which to study your own case: Consultation, personally or by letter, free. Consult the old Doctor. Thousands cured. Offices & Parlors private. You see no one but the Doctor. During consulting your case consult DR. CLARKE. A friend's letter or call may save future suffering and shame and add golden years to life. Medicines sent everywhere secure from exposure. Hours, 9 to 8, Sundays, 9 to 11. Address,

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
MERRILL BLOCK, DETROIT, Mich.

Thanksgiving Sermon

OUR COUNTRY.

Its Prosperity and Its Perils. Thanksgiving Sermon.

Nov 25th 1886

TEXT—Deut. 11 12 "A land which the Lord thy God careth for: the eyes of the Lord thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year."

Behind the snowy hills the Mill wheel. Behind the mill, the wheat field; on the wheat field falls the sunlight. Above the sunlight God. So say our mythologists. All our blessings from other source. When we get to God we always get all we get back far. Thanksgiving day. The goodness of God demands from us a grateful acknowledgment. Neither were thanksgivings written down by the Christian apostle as one of the reasons why this age is great the best. Let not the reason be written. It would weigh against us. Have we [illegible] against the heathen, [illegible] fathers [illegible] penury and of [illegible] their first [illegible] But our fathers [illegible] as well [illegible]

[illegible] the Lord are [illegible] the states and territories of [illegible] from the eastern coast to the Pacific. They [illegible] Lord. He says what [illegible] Be was [illegible] what [illegible] was to [illegible]

[illegible] the Lord [illegible] the year [illegible] Behold the [illegible] ready to hear as we [illegible] For though in the morning when we were assembled to get ready the heavens were as clear and the sunlight as likely to continue as ever it was yet [illegible] continuing [illegible] the weather was [illegible] gathered together [illegible] the next morning [illegible] sweet and moderate showers of rain [illegible] mixed with [illegible] of our wilted corn or drooping [illegible] were more quickened or revived such was the bounty and good [illegible] of our God. The showers came [illegible] from Bradford without any thunder wind or violence and by degrees, [illegible] in that abundance that the earth was thoroughly soaked, and the [illegible] and other fruits [illegible] as was wonderful to see. The Indians astonished to behold, and gave a joyful prospect of a fruitful harvest.

After this fast day Col. Standish, who had been sent to buy provisions returned in safety and they also learned that the ship bringing them supplies was safe and would soon come to them. "No," says Mr. Winslow, having these many signs of God's favor and acceptance, we thought it would be great ingratitude if secretly we should smother up the sense of content in ourselves with private Thanksgiving for that which by private prayer could not be obtained. And therefore another solemn day was set apart, and appointed for that end wherein we returned glory, honor and praise with all thankfulness to our good God, who deals so graciously with us whose name for these and all other his mercies toward his children and chosen ones, be they be blessed and praised now and ever more. Amen."

"The day of Thanksgiving appointed by the Plymouth pilgrims, was kept out of the fullness of their hearts. For it was a marvelous change which God had wrought for them in answer to prayer. A blessing so public and so great, they would not smother up in mere private acknowledgment. But the whole colony was gathered into their meeting house in the Leiden fort on the hill, where not only their Elder Mr. Brewster discoursed to them concerning God's goodness but the gov. himself, according to his frequent wont, did exhort them, that with sin a faithful covenant keeping God, they should never yield to unbelief or fear.

And blessings so public and so great as we have been receiving for the past year, ought not to be smothered up in mere private acknowledgment. It is fitting that our chief Magistrate should summon us to this public acknowledgement of the divine care and kindness. It is fitting that you should lay aside your usual occupations, and turn hitherward your feet for the express purpose of giving public praise to H[illegible] who has crowned [illegible] year. In [illegible] days that men will come to mind to lay. The eye will moisten and the heart will swell at the thought of the way in which the Lord has led you as his [illegible] thanks be given for the manner in which He will protect the solitary in families has sheltered and fired the home, through twelve mos. more of life.

But the time [illegible] the year of [illegible] the year of the Lord [illegible] heard [illegible] people well [illegible] separate from all the other nations and tribes of the earth. We are to repay for so great things the Lord has done for us in our corporate capacity as citizens of a free government as inhabitants of a land which [illegible]

[illegible] the Lord are [illegible] the peace [illegible] of the Lord [illegible] our government errs in being too [illegible] instead of being too despotic. It is contrary to the genius of our institutions to have any favored aristocracy [illegible] The poor man has as far [illegible] and occupy positions [illegible] of distinction as [illegible] He can profess any religion [illegible] and be protected in [illegible] form of worship. He can [illegible] efforts to educate the children. He is relieved [illegible] burdens of taxation to [illegible] expensive forces of government [illegible] standing armies and [illegible] of which he does [illegible] there on a paradise [illegible] the oppressed, in [illegible]

[illegible] was asked what [illegible] condition of the [illegible] It is very bad [illegible] discouraging [illegible] The man who is honest [illegible] industrious, who is fairly intelligent and [illegible] good health [illegible] hard job of getting up a competence and of rearing up his family in the fear of God [illegible] in a vintage.

There is progress in the world nearly everywhere and in many respects in the present day. Macaulay says that in the 17th century, noblemen of England were destitute of comforts the want of which would be intolerable to a modern footman and farmers and shop keepers breakfasted on leaves, the very sight of which would raise a riot in a modern work-house; and that few Knights had libraries as good as may now be perpetually found in a servant's hall or in the back parlor of a small tradesman's. But the condition of the poor in most countries is still a discouraging one, and that not from fault of their own so much as from oppression of the laws and heartlessness of the higher classes. All incentive to improve their condition is withheld from them. They are forced to live in most cheerless abodes and on incomes that barely keep them from starving. It is said that in Prussia, nearly half the population have to live on an income of $195 to a family. Is it any wonder that people so straitened as this should turn their longing eyes to a country where, a good day laborer, knowing no trade and having no capital but his empty hands, gets at least $1 a day? A member of the German Reichstag recently cried, "The German people have now but one wants money enough to get to America." It is because America is the land of equal rights, and of unprecedented opportunities that what has been called a great gulf stream of humanity is settling with steady flow to its shores. The crowded peasantry of Europe find here room in which to dwell. The farmer's son of the eastern U. S. has but to get a few hundred dollars ahead and go to the far west, and he can buy a splendid farm, larger and more productive than his father ever had. There is a large choice in the country for young men, between various places of settlement, all of which hold out superior attractions. Carlyle is reported to have said to an American, "The reason you laboring folk are so happy is that you have a vast deal of land for a very few people." But no amount of territory and no degree of wealth, and no political privileges however great, will of themselves make a people prosperous and happy. It is uprightness of character alone which can do that. That which exalteth a nation permanently is righteousness on the part of its people, and that which brings upon it reproach and wretchedness, is sin. The key to our nation's greatness is to be found in the character of our nation's founders. That character has come down, weakened somewhat perhaps, but still a precious legacy from generation to generation. Whatever we have to hope for, in regard to the future, lies in the integrity, the intelligence and the God fearing character of our people. Whatever we have to fear, lies in the want of uprightness, the lack of moral principle, the selfishness and the corruption of our people. Dig down beneath the surface and you will at last find the foundation of our greatness to be Plymouth Rock, or rather you will find it to be the Rock of Ages, on which Plymouth Rock itself has rest. The influence of want as 50 years ago could be found in [illegible] the most. We have enough, it is said, to [illegible] Russia, Turkey, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Italy, Australia, southern Africa and southern America [illegible] simply the [illegible] in wealth of some one of our most wealthy men in 1850, was 70 millions. And the aggregate wealth of the country [illegible] and worth nothing [illegible]

Along with this great wealth and [illegible] have the advantage of a form of government and liberty and [illegible] than any that has previously been established [illegible] We have here the minimum amount of governing which is [illegible] to preserve good order and administer justice. Many reflecting persons are of the opinion that [illegible] with disturbers of the peace [illegible] government errs in being too [illegible] instead of being too despotic. It is contrary to the genius of our institutions to have any favored aristocracy [illegible] The poor man has as far [illegible] and occupy positions [illegible] of distinction as [illegible] He can profess any religion [illegible] and be protected in [illegible] form of worship. He can [illegible] efforts to educate the children. He is relieved [illegible] burdens of taxation to [illegible] expensive forces of government [illegible] standing armies and [illegible] of which he does [illegible] there on a paradise [illegible] the oppressed, in [illegible]

[illegible] was asked what [illegible] condition of the [illegible] It is very bad [illegible] discouraging [illegible] The man who is honest [illegible] industrious, who is fairly intelligent and [illegible] good health [illegible] hard job of getting up a competence and of rearing up his family in the fear of God [illegible] in a vintage.

There is progress in the world nearly everywhere and in many respects in the present day. Macaulay says that in the 17th century, noblemen of England were destitute of comforts the want of which would be intolerable to a modern footman and farmers and shop keepers breakfasted on leaves, the very sight of which would raise a riot in a modern work-house; and that few Knights had libraries as good as may now be perpetually found in a servant's hall or in the back parlor of a small tradesman's. But the condition of the poor in most countries is still a discouraging one, and that not from fault of their own so much as from oppression of the laws and heartlessness of the higher classes. All incentive to improve their condition is withheld from them. They are forced to live in most cheerless abodes and on incomes that barely keep them from starving. It is said that in Prussia, nearly half the population have to live on an income of $195 to a family. Is it any wonder that people so straitened as this should turn their longing eyes to a country where, a good day laborer, knowing no trade and having no capital but his empty hands, gets at least $1 a day? A member of the German Reichstag recently cried, "The German people have now but one wants money enough to get to America." It is because America is the land of equal rights, and of unprecedented opportunities that what has been called a great gulf stream of humanity is settling with steady flow to its shores. The crowded peasantry of Europe find here room in which to dwell. The farmer's son of the eastern U. S. has but to get a few hundred dollars ahead and go to the far west, and he can buy a splendid farm, larger and more productive than his father ever had. There is a large choice in the country for young men, between various places of settlement, all of which hold out superior attractions. Carlyle is reported to have said to an American, "The reason you laboring folk are so happy is that you have a vast deal of land for a very few people." But no amount of territory and no degree of wealth, and no political privileges however great, will of themselves make a people prosperous and happy. It is uprightness of character alone which can do that. That which exalteth a nation permanently is righteousness on the part of its people, and that which brings upon it reproach and wretchedness, is sin. The key to our nation's greatness is to be found in the character of our nation's founders. That character has come down, weakened somewhat perhaps, but still a precious legacy from generation to generation. Whatever we have to hope for, in regard to the future, lies in the integrity, the intelligence and the God fearing character of our people. Whatever we have to fear, lies in the want of uprightness, the lack of moral principle, the selfishness and the corruption of our people. Dig down beneath the surface and you will at last find the foundation of our greatness to be Plymouth Rock, or rather you will find it to be the Rock of Ages, on which Plymouth Rock itself has rest. The influence of a Godly ancestry is felt sometimes [illegible] generations. Characters like those noble ones, through whose toils and sacrifices we became a nation, leave an impression which is visible long after their own [illegible] to the perpetuation of the principles with which we began. We are in danger of drifting away from them, and to such an extent that even in an emergency the citizens of our Republic can no longer be relied on to do [illegible]

Dangers threaten us which grow constantly more threatening. They are more planning this year than they were last. And were more alarming to the Christian patriot last year than they were before. Yet we are thankful to-day that a covenant keeping God still presides over our destinies, and that we can depend on his word and his promises. One of the dangers alluded to is immigration. Our country's doors have always been thrown wide open, and a general invitation extended to those of other nations to enter in and share with us our advantages. Many are availing themselves of the invitation and are casting in their lot with us. While we would not have it otherwise, and while we appreciate the help that has been afforded us by worthy adopted citizens from other lands, it cannot be denied that there is a class of immigrants of whom we have reason to be suspicious and afraid. They are poor and ignorant not only, but unprincipled and vicious. They were criminal in their own country and they continue criminal here. There is danger of a national blood poisoning from this cause. There are desperate men coming to us from the over crowded continent of Europe, who are anti-christian in their doctrines in both religion and politics and who are sowing the seeds of discord broadcast among our people. They are taking away from us our Christian Sabbath, getting their ideas of religion from the formalism of the old world and from corrupt forms of Christian faith they are denying the reality of the supernatural altogether, and are preaching Atheism to our young men. They are menacing the home, and menacing the government and menacing the church. They have introduced a corrupt element into our politics. Opposing parties bid for a foreign vote which offers itself to the highest bidder. Against danger from this source of a corrupt immigration we have need to be exceedingly wary and watchful.

A second peril arises from the rapid growth of our city in proportion to our country population. In 1800 only one twentyfifth of our population was found in towns of 8,000 and over. In 1850, one-eighth of it was found there. And in 1880, one-quarter. In our great cities extremes meet. The brightest virtues and the blackest crimes are there. The greatest wealth and extravagance and the deepest poverty and distress; the highest culture and refinement and the densest ignorance and brutality. Riots and revolutions take their rise in cities. The larger a city gets to be, the more of the dangerous element in it. It is in such places as New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Detroit, that our Republican form of government receives its severest strain. The government of these cities is often in corrupt hands. Honest elections are hardly expected in these places. Nearly 40 years ago the French author, De Tocqueville wrote: "I look upon the size of certain American cities, and especially upon the nature of their population, as a real danger which threatens the security of the democratic Republics of the New World." To-day this danger presses with four fold the intensity it did 40 years ago. An inflammatory leader can quickly gather a large crowd in the poorer quarters of a great city, where the vicious ignorant and poverty stricken dwell, and can stir them up to deeds of violence and of blood shed. Whenever serious trouble arises with the established order of things, we look for it, not in the sparsely settled rural districts, but in those crowded city slums where depraved multitudes are massed close together, and are ripe for any mischief.

A third source of danger lies in Romanism. The danger does not lie in the private membership of the Roman Catholic church, but in the [illegible] to which its officials, from the lowest priest to the highest cardinal must all swear allegiance. That system is directly hostile to anything like civil or religious liberty. Says Bishop O'Connor "Religious liberty is never endured only as the opposite can be carried into effect without peril to the Catholic world." Cardinal Manning in a sermon preached when he was Arch Bishop makes the Pope speak for himself in the following language. He represents him as saying "I acknowledge no earthly power. I am the subject of no prince. And I know more than this. I claim to be the supreme judge and director of the sciences of men of the present. I tills the fields, and of the people that sits upon the throne of the house of that sits in the shade of privacy, to the legislator that makes laws for

Continued on next Page

WE INVITE ALL

In search of BARGAINS in

CLOTHING,

To give us a call. We give satisfaction to every purchaser.

Its human nature to want to

GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH.

We will sell you Clothing better in quality, lower in price, than any other dealer in Southern Michigan.

COME AND SEE US.

KIES BROS.,

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

The Utica Palace King

THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.

Steel Radiators,
Sectional Fire Pot,
Estimates Promptly Furnished.
When in want of a heating or cook stove, do not forget THE 'GARLAND.'

They alone have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success.
THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

F. R. STEBBINS,

FURNITURE!

Carpets, Crockery, &c.

The largest Assortment of China, and fine Decorated Dinner and Tea Sets ever shown in Adrian. Decorated and Real Bronze Table Lamps Chandeliers and Hanging Lamps in large variety at very low prices.

Some Very Fine Plush Parlor Suits!

Received this week, in Mahogany finish frames. Slendid line of Chamber Sets in Birch, Oak, Antique Finish, Cherry and Walnut.

Dining Room Furniture!

In Oak, Cherry and Walnut. Brussels, Velvet and Ingrain.

CARPETS.

Rugs, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains and Window Shades.

Call and SEE OUR LARGE STOCK,

And get our Prices. We want you to see the goods, whether you wish to buy or not.

F. R. STEBBINS, Adrian.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. has opened a shop in the rear of James' block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so long established, having such a large circulation, and being ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of this Continent. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who allows no influence of Party or Politics to tamper with its columns. It is the Independent and Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority on AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, APIARY, VETERINARY, &c., and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and rational amusement for old and young. This Journal, which is now about to enter its 22d year of publication, is issued on or about the 1st of each month and consists of 36 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price, $1.00 per annum in advance. Subscribe AT ONCE AND GET THE BALANCE OF 1886 FREE. Active agents wanted in every Township. Sample copy free.

ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

The Tecumseh Herald.

DECEMBER. HOLIDAY SUPPLEMENT. 1886

DO YOU WANT TO

FIND THE PLACE

WHERE THE

Largest Amount of Goods

CAN BE BOUGHT

With the Smallest Amount of Money?

CALL AT

CAINSLEY'S!

A late and advantageous purchase of an entire

NEW STOCK

OF

Dry Goods, Notions, Shawls, and Skirts,

Ladies', Gent's, Boys', Misses' and Children's

UNDERWEAR.

Domestics, Gloves, Hosiery, Mittens, Corsets, Scarfs, Hoods and Gent's Furnishing Goods.

We Can and Will Save You Money

M. E. GAINSLEY.

Tecumseh, Dec. 1, 1886.

WE

Have just received the largest and best selected stock ever offered to the trade.

The Handsomest Stock

Of Haviland and Carlsbad China,

Tea and Dinner Sets, Decorated and Gold Band Cups and Saucers from 10c to $2.00.

FRUIT PLATES DISHES

Camelle, Oxford, Tressed and Pompadour DISHES

Finest Line of Art Glass,

Amberina, Pomona, Wild Rose, And Burmese.

A Large Line of

Cut Glass Oil and Water Bottles!

Headquarters for the Celebrated Rochester Lamp!

A FINE LINE OF

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

H. E. ANDERSON.

OUR HOLIDAY GREETING.

We present to our patrons this week our initial Holiday supplement. It will be found both useful and ornamental. It contains interesting reading matter and business announcements from our leading firms, which should be carefully perused by all who seek to buy good goods for the least money. We feel a justifiable pride in the undertaking for two reasons. It displays the enterprise and capabilities of the HERALD establishment, and likewise the resources and go-ahead-itive ness of Tecumseh's business men. We have issued a good many holiday supplements during the past ten years, but in variety, attractiveness and general make-up, the present effort eclipes them all. Extending to our patrons the compliments of the season in the fullest measure, we present our December offering for 1886.

J. S. Kinney has a new card in this week's issue.

Miss Jennie McClure has taken a position as book-keeper in N. M. Sutton & Co's dry goods store.

Pedestrians in Blissfield are obliged to carry a lantern on dark nights to avoid running into the lamp posts.

Harry Stevens has lost his faithful dog-Gyp. Strayed or stolen. Any information leading to his recovery will be rewarded.

The Gazette says: Let us forget the heathen of China and the Feejee Islands long enough to make sure that no one suffers in Hudson this winter.

C. H. McConnell of Grand Rapids, was in town yesterday and will remain a day or two. He is still at work for a wholesale grocery house there.

The Young People of the M. E. church will hold a Box Social in the basement of the church, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 8th. Supper 20cts. All are invited.

We intended to have a bundle of school items in this week's paper, but as the Roll of Honor for last month could not be prepared in season, we are compelled to defer the same until next week.

The Court Musicians gave a superior entertainment at the Opera House Tuesday evening, but the audience was small. We regret that they were not favored with such a house as the merits of the entertainment deserved.

David Jones and Henry Smith are both serving on the grand jury in the United States Circuit Court at Detroit. They have been there several weeks and are likely to stay a week longer. They seam to enjoy this kind of courting, notwithstanding the fact, that they are both middle aged men with a large family.

A few days ago, Horace Hinsdale died from blood poisoning in Fairfield. Four weeks previous he had injured one of his hands with a piece of rusty iron. First a finger was taken off, then the hand and finally a leg before death. When the finger was amputated a brother, Roland Hinsdale, buried it and he too was poisoned and now lies dangerously ill. Blissfield Advance.

Remember Dr. Bennett will be at the Lilley House, Dec. 6th, and he continues to CURE all those chronics, and he has more experience than any other man in Michigan, in this new work, and what he is doing is convincing could you but see the numbers that go and get well. He does do it. Go and see how. It costs you nothing. C. T. BENNETT.

"A trio of Sunday-breakers, of the masculine gender, from Canandaigua went out upon the quiet bosom of Round lake Sunday evening, with the intention to spear fish, but, being a little too top heavy from the effects of "budge," they were capsized. Their shrieks for help brought aid none too soon to save their unprofitable lives." Morenci Observer.

The first Quarterly meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church of Tecumseh, will be held Dec. 11th and 12th. Services on Saturday, 2:30 P. M. and quarterly conference at 7 P. M., Lovefeast Sunday morning, 9 o'clock, and public services at 10:30. Presiding Elder, T. J. Joslin will conduct the quarterly conference, and the Sunday morning services. A general invitation is extended.

The "gymnasium" of the Morenci high school is a very practical affair, and calculated to develop the right kind of muscle. It consists of an ingenious sort of crane, and with it professor and male students exercise themselves all they want to by drawing no loads of wood to one of the third story windows. This saves carrying the wood up two flights of stairs and also promotes the interests of needed "physical culture." Morenci Observer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19, 1886.

The week has been a very quiet one here. So throughly engrossed is the President in the preparation of his message, that he cannot endure the slightest interruption. He sees only those persons who come to the White House at his request, those whom he wishes to consult on important business. The approaches to him are carefully guarded, and he is left in seclusion with Col. Lamont.

The Capitol presents a busy scene of preparation for the approaching session. It is an immense work to renovate this great marble structive, inside and out, even once a year. Including the recent extension at its base, the marble terrace which surrounds the North, West, and South sides of the Capitol, replacing the grassy earth work previously there, the building covers about five acres, and one will have to walk half a mile to go around it. This improvment adds much to the height of the building and gives it a much better proportion. Formerly, when seen from a distance, it looked too low for its great length and width.

An optimistic Senator says the approaching session will be one of unusual activity. He thinks the house will be in condition for harmonious, energetic action. The defeated members are free from restraint and at liberty to do what they think right, and the re-elected members have the re-assuring knowledge that they have over two years to heal over any trouble they may make for themselves now among constituents. He draws the inference that all the President's recommendations will carry more weight and meet a more ready response that they did a year ago, and that the second session of the Forty-Ninth Congress will accomplish more than the first in one half the the time.

A REQUEST.

REV. WM. H. BABBITT—Dear sir—The undersigned, having listened with interest to your Thanksgiving discourse would respectfully request a copy for publication:

D. A. Hansmond,
A. P. Coddington,
Geo. Griswold,
John Margeson,
P. S. McKinnon,
C. A. Slayton,
J. N. Satterthwaite,
C. W. Williamson,
D. McNair,
Wm. McCowen.

Mr. Babbitt has granted the request asked for and we have the pleasure of printing the sermon this week. It will be good Thanksgiving reading.

Auction Sales.

Abram Harrington will sell at Auction on his farm on the Ridge road four miles north-east of Ridgeway village, in the town of Macon, Thursday Dec. 9th, 1886, at 12 M., sharp, the following property: Two horse colts, 2 years old; 1 horse, 6 years old; horse 9 years old; 1 mare colt, 1 year old; 2 steers, 2 years old; 2 steers, 1 year old; 1 spring horse colt, 4 heifers 2 yrs. old; sow with 8 pigs; wagon; 2-horse cultivator; horse rake; drill; mower; binder; 5 heifers, one year old; fanning mill; pair scales; 2 single buggys; set single harness; 100 sheep; pair of brood mares; plows; drags, cultivators. Terms of sale, all sums of $5 and less, cash; all sums over $5, 11 months credit with good approved joint notes at 7 per cent interest. Ben Reynolds, Auctioneer.

P. B. and D. Chase, administrators, will sell at public Auction on the farm of D. H. Chase, deceased, 2 miles east and ½ mile north of the city of Adrian, in the town of Raisin, on Wednesday, Dec. 8, 1886, at 10 A. M. sharp, the following property: Three good work horses, brood mare with colt by her side, 2 yr. old colt, 3 yr. old colt, yearling colt, Cleveland bay; some young cattle, 85 good breeding ewes, 28 spring lambs, good stud colt, 18 months old, sired by Lenawee Chief, Dam by Mambrino; 5 good bucks, 2 brood sows, 10 shoats, 20 tons hay, lot of cornstalks, 400 bu. corn, Minneapolis Binder, Champanpion mower, hay tedder, farm roller, three good Cows, hay rake, 2 plows, Spring tooth drag, spring tooth cultivator, drag, new lumber wagon, wide tire wagon, double buggy, single buggy, top carriage, 3 set double harness, hay rack, 3 single cutters, pair bobs, cultivators, shovel Plow, fanning mill, corn sheller, and numerous other things. Terms of Sale—All sums of $5 and less, cash; all sums over $5, 12 months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent interest. Reynolds & Wilson, Auctioneers.

The pastor of the Morenci Baptist church was the recipient of a large donation last week.

MARRIED.

DEWEY—SCHREDER.—At the residence of the bride's parents in Tecumseh, Nov. 24th, 1886, by Rev. G. Potter, Nelson Dewey, of Rock Valley, and Miss Josie E. Schreder, of Tecumseh.

McKINNON—McCONNELL.—At the residence of the bride's father, at Tecumseh, Dec. 1st, 1886, by Rev. Wm. H. Babbitt, Peter S. McKinnon Esq., to Miss Margaret L. McConnell, all of Tecumseh.

WAIT

AND SEE OUR LIST OF

HOLIDAY GOODS!

W. & S. W. ANDERSON & CO.

EVERYBODY CALL

AND SEE THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

HOLIDAY GOODS!

Now on Exhibition at the Reliable Store of Hough & Hosmer.

WE HAVE A COMPLETE STOCK OF Diamonds,

Watches,

Jewelry,

Solid and Plated Silverware,

Mirrors, Albums,

Plush Novelties, Etc.

We will meet any competition in Prices and Quality.

HOUGH & HOSMER.

A. L. CODDINGTON

Has a well selected stock of

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

Both useful and ornamental.

An elegant line of

Holiday Gift Books!

At prices ranging from 25c up.

Fancy Box Stationery,
Plush Boxes, Picture Frames,
Oil Paintings, Photograph
And Autograph Albums.

Christmas and New Years Cards

A Nice 75c Book for 30c.

And Remember our Prices

ARE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TIMES.

CALL AND WE WILL CONVINCE YOU.

Adamson's Old Stand. Lilley House Block on the Corner.

C. A. WRIGHT & CO.

HAVE

PERFUME
TOILET SETS
FANCY BOTTLES
CASES
COMBS
BRUSHES
ARTISTS' MATERIALS
TUBE PAINTS
ARTISTS' CANVAS
PLACQUES
ETC.

Look out for Next Week.

J. H. SMITH & CO.,

INSURANCE AGENTS.

DER OAK UND DER VINE.

[illegible]

THE SCHOOL MARM.

[illegible]

A VERY BUSY WOMAN.

She pronounced it a unique platitude
Her universal gratitude
For men of every latitude
[illegible]
She felt a consanguinity,
A sense of affinity
A kind of kith and kinsfolk
For all these foreign souls.

For Caledonian Highlanders,
For regular South Sea Islanders,
For wet and moist, and dry jumpers,
For Gentile, Greek and Jew,
For Turks and for Sybarites,
For Arabs and Algerians,
For Terra del Fuegians,
She was in a constant stew.

Oft worried Miss Sophronia,
Lest the men of Patagonia,
Should die with the pneumonia,
With the phthisis, or chills,
Yes, indeed, she worried daily
Lest a croup or cold should waylay
Some poor Soudanese or Malay
Begging for the help of pills.

And she toiled on without measure,
And with most unstinted pleasure,
For the good of Central Asia
And the Pagan people there,
But meantime her little sister,
Tired of a neglected twister,
Ma's gingham hardly missed her,
Poor dear, had no time to spare.

S. W. Foss in Tid-Bits.

Brevities.

A palindrome reads equally well backward or forward, but the following stanza beats the palindrome in that it reads better backward than forward:

Krab, krab, ehi sgod ol grab,
Ehi sraggeh era ghmoc ot uwo
Lomo ti sgat, emos ti sgat
Ima emos ni tevlev snwog.

— Springfield Union.

"The cat is full of shmurl," whispered Miss Beekonstreet to her friend from the west as they both journeyed Cambridgeward in the horse car. "Yes," said the change girl, "and how it chokes one up when it dies!" "I wonder they do not open the ventilators?" — Boston Commercial Bulletin.

"Waiter, is this an old or a new herring that you brought me?" "Can't you tell?" "No." "Well, then, what difference does it make?" — Fliegende Blatter.

The tenor and the soprano of a Chicago church were married this week. Their acquaintance began in the choir and as the happy pair meandered up the aisle the regular organist struck up, "We notify hearts." — Rambler.

"Papa," said little Jimmy Brerfoss, "what do you wear when you go to the court house?" "Your law suit?" "Oh, no, my son," replied the good barrister, kindly. "That is the suit a man puts on when he goes naked." "Only the clients wear that." — Burdette.

A joint canvass: that which covers a hame. — New Orleans Picayune.

More than 1,000 couplers have been patented in this country, and yet there are hundreds of thousands of men and women yet unhitched. — Lowell Citizen.

There was a gentle ripple of merriment the other day at a certain religious gathering when a peculiarly staid and dignified brother, in referring to the denominational and doctrinal change in the views of the late Adoniram Judson, one of the pioneer missionaries who started for India a Congregationalist and landed there a Baptist, remarked that the change in Judson's views occurred when he was half seas over. — Springfield Union.

Coachman, who has approached Mrs. Brown for more wages: "What would your husband say, mum, if I was to ask him for a raise?" Mrs. B.: "Why, who knows he husband's financial [illegible]? Well, Henry, as I never indulge in profanity, you must excuse me from venturing an expression on that subject." — Wasp.

BILL NYE AS A BOY.

He Recalls the Days of Childhood and Youth.

If I were a boy again I would wait with the same wild passion for pleasure and watermelons in the dark of the moon. I am quite doubtful if I am a victim to that overwhelming passion as I did before. I am looking at the matter [illegible]

Having the mature judgment [illegible] I would say that the experience and the [illegible] that go with it. So it is better that, [illegible] hand, we may be able to get a raw turnip with safety and know something else up in life.

I notice a great change in my self while [illegible] my different conditions with those of previous years. Something to eat [illegible] I had a good digestion. Now I have not even the digestion.

The hurrying years have carried over my many hopes that they have worn it smooth, but they have left a good deal yet for me to learn. I am still engaged in learning during the day and putting a little my experience at night.

Childhood is said to be the most gladsome period in our lives and in some respects this [illegible] I have had cause to reflect in later years as I did in childhood, though the people with whom I have been thrown in contact claim that their experience has been different. I hope they do not mean anything personal by that.

I do sometimes wish that I could be a boy again, but I smother that wish on account of my parents. What they need most is rest and change of scene. They still enjoy children, but they would like a chance to select the children with whom they associate.

My parents were blest with five bright-eyed and beautiful little boys, three of whom grew up and to that means became aunts. I am in that condition now, if I was the eldest of the family with the exception of my parents. I am not that way. My early life was rather tempest-tossed, [illegible] frequently fanned with a [illegible] and more frequently with retribution. I was not a very good roadster when young, and consequently was most always put under a kind of entertaining me. While I engaged more than [illegible] to its work, the other two boys escaped through a small aperture in the fence.

That is the reason why I do not yearn to be a boy again.

When we got away from school to catch [illegible] we would hang them [illegible] and [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] to be a gentleman farmer, which I had a high regard, and I would take out the hire the other two respectful girls have so remained ever since.

At first I did not have any difficulty in overtaking the art of walking up and down over my washboard.

When a party of us had been engaged in gathering Easter eggs on the farm of a gentleman who was away from home at the time, and he returned just as we had filled our pockets with the choicest vintage of his sun kissed hens, the other boys escaped while I was comparing the attention of the dog, and I had to explain out the second story of the barn. It is still fresh in my mind as I write. I wore my father's vest at that time and it was larger than was necessary. My father was larger than I at that time, for I was only 9 years of age and had not arrived at my full stature. In sliding down the batten I discovered that the upper end of it was loose and that my flowing vest had slipped over it, so that when I got down about four feet I hung with the board buttoned inside my bosom and the scrambled eggs oozing out of my knickerbockers.

NYE IN BUSINESS.

The batten had spring back against the barn in such a way as to prevent my unbuttoning my vest, and while I hung there on the side of the barn like a coon skin, the proprietor came around and accused me of prematurely gathering his eggs.

I had heard truth very highly spoken of by people who had dabbled in it more or less and so I resolved to try it in this instance. So I admitted that such was the case and it was the best thing I could have done, for the man said as I had been so frank with him he would take me down as soon as he got his other work done, and he was as good as his word. After he had milked nine cows and fed nine calves he came round with a ladder and took me down. He also spanked me and set the dog on me, but I did not mind that, for I was accustomed to it. To hang on the side of a barn, to waver like an aspen leaf, trying to look into holes in the atmosphere, is disagreeable.

This incident cast a gloom over my whole life. It has now reconciled me to the awful decree that I can never be a boy again. — Bill Nye in Boston Globe.

Facetiæ.

THE COURTEOUS REPLY.

Lady to applicant for cooks place: "And I understand you to say that your name is Brown?"

Applicant: "Yes, mum. Brown was what she."

MAKING SLOW TIME.

"Pretty slow on this road, sir, venture" said the conductor to a weary-looking passenger who complained of the slow time. "Do I know what I'm talking about? Ten years ago," said the passenger. "What station did you get on at?"

STRIKING A SYMPATHETIC CHORD.

Miss Clara (with a sigh): "Do you know, Mr. Feather, I feel so sorry for poor Jenkins, I feel very blue tonight."

Mr. Feather (anxious to say the proper thing but somewhat at a loss): "Well, er, Miss Clara, I'm sorry you have a touch of the [illegible] to your complexion." — Harper's Bazar.

A Mother's Parting Word.

"Angelina, Nellie, my love, were the parting words of a lady to her daughter, as the coal to convey the newly married pair to the station drew up at the door, "above all, Nellie, if you should quarrel—for Reginald is but a man, and life is full of thorns—remember that your first duty is to yourself as a lady and a Knickerbocker. Never let your husband with a rolling pin or a potato masher. You could never forgive yourself if the result of such behavior was to be the appearance of a large [illegible] table in a dish of mashed potatoes [illegible] when you have company at dinner. [illegible] Write every day, and don't forget your poor widow. Bless you!" — Maverick.

T. G. RAWSON,

DEALER IN

Fine Confectionery, Nuts, Candies and Cigars.

FRESH OYSTERS!

Direct from Baltimore, Constantly on Hand.

FINEST CIGARS TO BE HAD,
FINEST CANDIES,
FINEST TEAS AND COFFEES,
FINEST AND FRESHEST OYSTERS,
FINEST CHEWING TOBACCO,
FINEST OF ALL FRUITS IN SEASON,
FINEST ICE CREAM TO ORDER,
FINEST CANNED FRUITS

Warm Meals at all Hours. Call and see Me.

DR. GEO. FERGUSON!

LET IT NOT BE FORGOTTEN.

Dr. Ferguson still Lives in Tecumseh!

He has never been afflicted with that terrible disease, called the BIG HEAD!

But does sell good goods at reasonable prices. His stock consists of Drugs, Paints, Oils, Wall Paper, Perfumery,

GROCERIES, DRUGGIST'S SUNDRIES, ETC.

Purchasers in his line will do well to look over his stock before buying

This block belongs to

JOE WILSON & SON.

They are Selling so Many

BOOTS & SHOES

That they have no time to write an ad. this week.

Small Cutters!

Large Cutters!

Single Cutters!

Double Cutters!

An immense stock of Cutters of all sizes and styles.

Buy Your Cutter before Sleighing comes.

J. R. HIALEY.

STECER'S Prize Puzzle

EASILY SOLVED.

F	H	S	T	E	C	E	R
I	A	M
R	S	I	M	E	T	A	A
S	N	T	E	R	S	M	D
O	W	E	M	P	E	L	T
L	S	V	A	H	S		O
A	C	E	K	O	T	N	P
S	L	R	E	T	P	O	L
S	N	Y	P	O	L	D	E
W	E	B	E	R	G	A	O
O	R	O	I	O	T	N	S
R	Y	D	C	O	E	E	E
K		Y	E	D	S

FOR Holiday Slippers!

AND

Ladies' Warm Shoes

CALL AT

H. NYLAND'S.

FRED HERNING

Dealer in

FRESH MEAT

Poultry,

Sausage of all kinds.

SUGAR CURED HAM,

BACON, PURE LEAF LARD.

Dealer in

Hides and Pelts. WILD GAME of ALL KINDS.

CHRISTMAS

Is Coming.

So is a large stock of

CHRISTMAS - GOODS!

Coffee as good as the best, and as cheap as a year ago.
Teas 25c a lb and upwards.
Handsome new prize goods.
A full line of Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery.

LET US EAT, DRINK, SMOKE AND BE MERRY.

R. MORRISON.

Corner Grocery. Railroad st.

Yarns About Clergymen.

The late Rev. Joel Hawes of Hartford, is remembered by many as a most eloquent and quaint in manner, he preached truth in a most forcible way. On one occasion, after announcing that the usual collection would be taken for foreign missions, he added, in his most impressive manner, "And I would say to those persons who are in the habit of thank them not to hammer down the eyes, for the Lord is not deceived and as buttons they are valueless." It need not be said that there were no buttons that day.

MISTAKE FOR AN IRISHMAN.

A clergyman writes:

"A young man, a plain, good hearted Irishman, wished to get married, and he came to me with the offer of enough money to pay my fees for the office, he thought, connected with the ceremony. I assured him there would be no fees, that I would see him through all right. 'But,' said he, 'what about the ring?' I explained, and then, with a blush, 'Who must I kiss the bride?' I answered that at the close of the ceremony I would offer a prayer, and just as soon as I would say 'Amen' he was to kiss the bride.

The ceremony went through all right; I said Amen, and looked to him in the usual way. He suddenly remembered his duty, made a little jump like a timid trout at a fly, and kissed—not the bride, but me. It was the heartiest kiss I remember ever to have experienced. He had a short cropped black mustache, and I still can feel the warm prickling of it on my lips. I understand since that why my wife has always teased me to raise a mustache.—Harper's Monthly.

The Angel and the Brute.

She was a young woman in Washington for the season, and was very fond of narrating her conquests and speaking of her powers over men.

He was a bachelor with a heart of stone and a check of cast iron.

They were talking of love and matrimony and cognate subjects.

"I've been engaged six weeks, Mr. X.," she said, with refreshing candor in view of the fact that the announcement had appeared in the society news the next day after the proposal.

"Ah!" he said, with a roseland smile wreathed around an interrogation point. "How charming."

"Delightful, Mr. X.," she continued, radiantly. "He was an old friend of our family, and he was so considerate. How long do you think I kept the poor dear fellow waiting for his answer?" and she giggled a real swell giggle.

"Um—um," he cogitated, as if calculating an equation of time between a sun dial and a Waterbury watch. "Um—well, I should say about a minute and a half, possibly two minutes."

There was an abrupt termination to the conversation, and the brute was left alone in the above where they had been talking.—Washington Critic.

Cured of Deafness.

Sir William told us the following delicious tale of simple unreasoning faith in quacks. An elderly man consulted him about stomach complaints, but there was a formidable obstacle to diagnosis in the patient being born deaf. "What do you have for dinner?" roared Sir William into his right lug. "Oh, no!" was the reply, "plenty of that—two miles regularly after breakfast, and two more before dinner." "How long do you lie abed of a morning?" "Well, doctor, I shall be 69 this day three weeks." Without farther pailey the doctor gave him some simple prescription, the form and manuscript of which he seemed much to admire for a little; and then, offering his fee, he retired. But at the door he turned round, and in the loud, rattling tones of one long very deaf, called out, "Doctor, can you cure deafness?" Sir William bowed, shook his head and made his lips express "No." "I thought so! You have been very kind to me, therefore I make you welcome to this prescription," which he pulled from his pocket, adding, "It cured me."—Pall Mall Gazette.

He Knocked the Governor Out.

Governor Porter, of Indiana, is noted for his childlike and bland methods when he goes out to speak during an electioneering tour. He always assumes the familiarity of knowing all people. On one occasion he went down to Franklin, twenty miles below Indianapolis. He arose to speak with his face wreathed in smiles and began:

"Ladies and gentlemen, it affords me great pleasure to meet my old friends whom I have known so long."

At this point some shrill voice in the audience shouted:

"Name 'em; name 'em, governor."

This so disconcerted the governor that he did not recover from it all the evening.—Kansas City Star.

A Suggestion.

Ladies, if you must wear tall hats in the theatre, give us something novel to look at.—Texas Siftings.

Mrs. Friskley's Ingenuity.

Friskley has fallen into the habit of taking a cocktail before his meals. He says his appetite is failing and requires a little gentle stimulus.

The other night when Friskley had arrived at home, and had kissed his wife, the following dialogue ensued:

"Thank you, John. Won't you (affectionately) kiss me again?"

"Kiss you again, my dear?"

"That's what I said. Aren't you willing to, my love? Don't you love me well enough to?"

"Oh, yes; of course." (Kisses her again.)

She (sniffing the air)—Aha! Just as I supposed. You've been drinking again.—Boston Record.

Foolish Corpse.

It was at the morgue. Three ladies, whose dress and bearing showed them to be of the so-called better class, were gazing sadly at the body upon the marble slab. Two of the ladies were certain that they were those of dear George. The third was not wholly convinced. She stepped forward to make another examination. "No, girls," she suddenly exclaimed, "it is not George. George had false teeth." The ladies departed. The attendant gave the corpse a reproachful glance as he muttered: "Ye ould fool, if ye'd kept yer mouth shut ye'd had a fine funeral."—Boston Transcript.

Water That Had Been Scandalized.

An artesian well was recently bored at Columbus, Miss., and the water therefrom is very cold and possesses rare chemical properties.

[illegible] was standing at the well a day or two ago when a brother from the country jumped off his wagon and asked for a drink of the celebrated water.

When the colored gentleman from the [illegible] his lips and said:

"He! that watah's good, sho's yo' bo'n."

The other, with an air of great importance, replied:

"In course, hit's good; hit's been ter be [illegible] ever since hit fum up under [illegible] yearth, but hit wo'ed so scandalized by the hot gyases from de state univer[illegible]

"I dunno, I jes sho."

"Well, he says dere is ten grains of chlorine, ten grains of bromine, six hundred grains of iodine, and seventy grains hydrophuthe in, dat watah. Hit hain't to be good watah, sah."—Youth's Companion.

No Occasion for Mirth.

Professor (describing the chemical balance)—You see, the poise of these instruments is so very delicate that even a small piece of paper as a fan will throw it off its balance.—Visitor (in a crank chemical man had the goggles to give me a fan).—Harper's Bazar.

Colored Freeholders.

"Abraham" Johnson, who is poor enough thrifty, that is, nearly so selfish, prides himself in his race to put back a small "nest" since southern town and run it on his own account.

Harrison Smiler hasn't a very good reputation for paying his bills. The colored grocer is quite familiar with his failings, to his sorrow.

Harrison walked into the store last week and with a very courteous bow remarked:

"Mo' 'ternoon, Jinson dis morning."

"Good day yer self."

"Gut any rale nice bacon?"

"Reckon I hab."

"How much yo' charge fo' dat bacon? I's thinkin' 'bout buyin' bacon to-day."

"Bacon hab jes' gone up fur de las' ten minutes, so dat it's wuf eighty cents a pound, security required if bought on credit."

Harrison was staggered, but after thinking a minute inquired:

"Any discount for cash?"

"Yes, sah."

"How much?"

"'Bout 90 pussent.

"Gimme half a pound," sighed Harrison, as he scraped through his clothes for the necessary four cents.—Merchant Traveler.

How to Keep the Boys at Home.

"How shall I keep my boys at home?" asked a matron of an aged and experienced head of a family.

"How old are they, madam?" interrogated the sage, before committing himself.

"My eldest," she replied, "is 13, and my baby boy will be 6 years old the 30th of September."

"No."

"Of course you would not like to chain them up, would you?"

"And your husband is not able to rent a circus and have it in the house the year round?"

"No, he is in very moderate circumstances."

"Well, then, I would suggest as the most economical, at the same time the most effective plan, to place patches on the boys' trousers, make the patches of different cloth from the rest of the garment, and place them where they will be least seen when the boys are seated. This will keep them at home and may induce sedentary and studious habits. If this fails with the youngest, tie a sunbonnet on his head—tie it tight, so he can't get it off. As long as the sunbonnet lasts he will stay at home. Nothing can coax him into society."—St. Paul Globe.

Queer Wrinkles.

LOCAL PRIDE.

A Boston lady, who with her little boy recently returned from a visit to San Francisco, stopped over night at the Palmer house, Chicago.

"Now, remember, Waldo," she said, as they seated themselves at the dinner table, "you are not to say, 'Pork and beans,' but 'Beans and pork.' Never forget, my son, that you are a Bostonese."

A GREAT BLOWER.

Featherly was blowing his tea to cool it off, while Bobby regarded him with intense interest.

"What is the matter, Robert?" said the old man. "Don't you know that it is very impolite to stare at a person in that way?"

"Huh!" responded Bobby. "You said he was the biggest blower in town. He can't blow any harder'n I can."—New York Sun.

EVERYTHING READY FOR HIM.

Fashionable Mother (to fashionable daughter)—Are you going out, dear?

Fashionable Daughter—Yes, mamma.

Fashionable Mother—And if the hairdresser should come while you are out?

Fashionable Daughter—Oh, I have left full instructions with Jane.—New York Sun.

A Familiar Odor.

A woman was trading in a store on Michigan avenue the other day when the proprietor began sniffing and sniffing the air and excitedly inquired: "Don't you smell smoke?" "Yes." "Lands save us! but I'm afraid the store is on fire, and I'm not insured! It smells like pine wood." "Laws, but you men don't know nothing," said the woman, as she calmly sat down. "That's the smell of meat burning in a kettle back in one of those houses. The woman has let the water bile out. Pine wood! Humph! How much a yard for that factory?"—Detroit Free Press.

A Great Man.

"Does your wife ever pay you any compliment?" asked Frederick Jinson of his friend Benderly.

"Never," replied Benderly.

"Well, mine does. She flatters me."

"Often?"

"Oh, yes, frequently; particularly in winter," replied Frederick.

"Why does she taffy you so much in winter?"

"Whenever the coal fire needs replenishing she points to the fireplace and says, 'Frederick, the grate.'"—Texas Siftings.

N. M. Sutton & Co.,

Successors to Sutton, Fairfield & Co.

Are receiving a Full Line of Holiday Goods.

Useful and Ornamental.

From which you can select a suitable present for your friends and little ones.

CLOAKS

To those wishing anything in the line of Cloaks, we would say our cloak department is very complete, and our prices

Defy Competition.

We take pleasure in showing goods to our customers whether we sell or not.

A LARGE LINE OF BLANKETS & COMFORTERS

JUST RECEIVED.

Underwear, Mittens, Hosiery in great Variety

And Very Cheap.

Don't Fail to look over our Stock before making your purchases. By Fair Dealing we hope to merit a share of your patronage.

N. M. SUTTON & CO.

MRS. N. R. BROWN,

Millinery and Fancy Goods!

A GOOD Assortment

Of Hats and Bonnets, Fancy Feathers, Ostrich Tips, Ornaments and Fancy Trimmings.

A SPECIALTY IN FRENCH FRAMES IN NOVEL SHAPES.

Orders taken and filled on short notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. A complete assortment of patterns for Stamping all kinds of material used for Embroidery and Fancy Work.

DON'T GO HUNGRY

I am now prepared to furnish in large or small quantities everything usually kept in a first-class bakery.

Fresh Bread, Cakes and Pies Baked Every Day.

OYSTERS ALWAYS ON TAP.

Lunch and Warm Meals served at all hours. A full line of Fresh Candies, Cigars and Tobacco. Everything warranted first-class. Call and see me at the City Bakery.

H. L. JONES.

THE MOST COMPLETE LINE OF

LADIES'

Hats and Bonnets

Ever displayed in this market, are on exhibition at

MISS JULIA A. HOUGH'S

Special attention given to the Holiday Trade.

Prices to suit customers.

This space is reserved for

A. ANDERSON & SON'S.

Central ❊ Meat ❊ Market.

A GOOD SUPPLY OF

Fresh-:-Meats

New Lard, Our Own Make.

Poultry and Game for the Holidays.

Contract your TURKEY here for CHRISTMAS.

BATES & WOODEN.

CLEARING Out SALE

BEST GOODS EVER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC

We are now offering special bargains in

Crockery,

Fancy Chinaware,

Fancy Glassware

ALL KINDS

China Mustache and Plain Cups and Saucers for Holiday Presents,

At Less than Cost!

LOWER

Than any other House in town.

H. McCLURE.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER.

Mrs. Bowser's Warning to Young Women

And [illegible] things about Mr. Bowser [illegible] the public ought to know, and which [illegible] set up as another warning [illegible] as may be thought [illegible]

[illegible] I made a great [illegible] over it, and [illegible] little squeal at midnight [illegible] bed, ready to [illegible] having time [illegible]

[illegible] I thought of him, but he [illegible] and shoved me off. The next morning [illegible] baby's feet and tried to lessen the enormity of his crime in our eyes, but we were firm.

I knew just as well as I did he would be when that child was [illegible] old that Bowser would [illegible] because he can run a [illegible] that he can run a house, and the [illegible] to make him see that there was a [illegible] difference between the two, I [illegible] to gain a grudging [illegible] baby under run on [illegible] a rabbit. How did [illegible] Head him up by [illegible]

BOWSER WRINGS THE BABY

since [illegible] and it took two days for [illegible] back to his [illegible] when Bowser [illegible] for death, and because he [illegible] turned to me and said I would probably have an offer from some side show to travel with the monstrosity. When baby was six weeks old Bowser came home one afternoon and insisted on seeing him walk. He said he walked at three weeks, and his father at two, and that if baby didn't begin then he was no good. I tried to pound some sense into his head, but in vain, and he had nothing about my family being low bagged and spineless. One afternoon I left baby asleep and Bowser to watch him. In a few minutes the child opened its eyes, and Bowser remarked:

"The old woman has gone over to Black's to see about a salve to cure your sore toe, and if you make me any trouble I'll warm your jacket good and stout."

The baby began to cry. What baby would [illegible] manner:

"Shut up!" shouted Bowser.

Baby wouldn't.

"Look here," continued Bowser as he [illegible] on his hands, "you'll either dry up or leave my house. I don't intend to have any one around here who won't obey on reasonable commands. If you go out you'll never come back [illegible]"

The baby almost went into convulsions, and all that saved its life was the fact that I returned while Bowser was hunting the cook to ask her to lend arnica to the fact that baby left the house rather than obey the parental command.

The child was barely [illegible] when the old man Bowser wanted to put him into pantaloons and boots, and because I objected he roared out:

"Oh, well, make a fool of him if you will, but I wash my hands of the whole affair."

When the boy was 3 months old Bowser sat down one day and asked him his age, name, etc., and when the dear thing put up its lip and began to cry—as what baby wouldn't when jumped on in that manner—his father shook his great big fist at him and exclaimed:

"Young man, this is the third or fourth time you have impudently defied me in my own house, and I give you notice that it is the last."

Last night I had the minister over talking with Bowser, but I don't suppose that it did him much good, as I suddenly heard him slap his fist into his hand and protest:

"But the idea of a young 'un waking up in the middle of the night to howl! Why, not in the daytime, when there's nothing else on hand!"—Detroit Free Press.

He Had to "Git."

They had the pavement on Park street torn up from curb to curb the other day when a peddler's horse and wagon came rushing along. The repairers shouted to the driver to stop, but he would not, and horse and wagon were rushed over the loose blocks and through the ditch to the solid road beyond.

"You must be in an awful hurry," remarked one of the pavers to the peddler as he was gathering for a fresh start.

"You bet I am."

"Anything special?"

"Well, I sold a woman back here three pecks of potatoes for a bushel, and if there is any go in this hoss, the next ten minutes is the time to show it."—Detroit Free Press.

Another Lookout.

Editor—We need a second story window—You don't go in this house at any such hour of the morning as this.

Editor, morning!—But, my dear, I was necessarily detained at the office. You see we had sent a man off to a tremendous big lookout and—

Wife—Yes, you have got rid of another now, stamping from the window.—Cincinnati Tobogan.

Easy to Digest.

Tramp—[illegible] hill work—Well, I [illegible] up the [illegible] of your paper for a [illegible], sir. I am anxious to see the weather [illegible] is thus.

Gentleman handing him the paper—Certainly. Are you interested in the weather?

Tramp—Yes, sir. I live principally on wind, and I want to find out what I'm to have for dinner to-day.—Life.

KNOCKED OUT.

A Tale of Pure Medium Mercenary Love.

CHAPTER I.

It was evening in the home of Earnestine Morrontain, and it was also evening in the homes of her neighbors for several miles around.

Col. D'Aubigne, who, in the vocabulary of the country, lived, for he owned a horse, was [illegible] that [illegible] gentle reader, [illegible] years old. Indeed, he [illegible] years old and forty-seven weeks past it, but [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the remarks with the [illegible] and I forgive [illegible] The always shall will [illegible] the [illegible] in Pickaway county, Ohio.

I want to have your opinion, [illegible] dispassionately [illegible] and I am [illegible] for [illegible]

[illegible] of a trip hammer dropping on a wall of red-hot iron. "Tell it me," he continued, "tell it me."

"You talk like a three dollar a week Romeo on the variety stage, but I'll let you have it," she said. "It is this: I cannot marry you. You are not wealthy. Your pension is only $4 a month. I am not wealthy, and I have no pension. I am my mother's sole support, and the $10,000 she has in real estate gives us a comfortable living without work. I shall marry a wealthy man, who is twenty years younger than you are and ten years older than I am. He has promised to give my mother a beautiful home and a large income, and we shall be very, very happy."

The colonel sat as one dazed.

Then he got up and groped around for his hat.

"Au revoir," he said as he went out.

"Why did he not say adieu," inquired the girl of herself, without eliciting a satisfactory answer.

CHAPTER II.

Reader, can you guess why the colonel said au revoir?

CHAPTER III.

You shall be told in the last chapter.

CHAPTER IV.

For two long and happy years Earnestine did not see anything of Col. D'Aubigne. It was summer, and her mother had gone to Sewickley beach for the season. One day a letter came from Earnestine's mother. It was brief and to the point. It said simply: "I was married to-day, and my wife and husband will be at home at once. Have my house opened and aired."

CHAPTER V.

Earnestine was rather pleased, because she had noticed that her mother was getting homesick, and she loved her mother so that she couldn't bear the thought of her being unhappy.

CHAPTER VI.

She waited for her mother at the train. She came not with her husband. When Earnestine saw him she fainted. It was Col. D'Aubigne.

As a lawyer he had knocked Earnestine clean out.—W. J. Lampton in Tid-Bits.

Hello! There's a Cat.

NOW FOR SPORT.

SOLD AGAIN.

A Long Head.

Mrs. Greene—Timothy, what have you done with the letter that was lying on the bureau?

Timothy—I put it into the letter box, ma'am.

Mrs. G.—Why, provoking! Didn't you see there was no address on the envelope?

Timothy—Yes, ma'am, but I thought yer didn't want nobody to know who you was writing to.—Life.

Awful Possibility.

New Baby—A lown a lown a lown.

New Mother—Bonny bonny—what can baby mean?

Father—He's going to be a singer, Angeline. Bonny is French for drunk.

New Mother nervously—Oh, wouldn't it be dreadful if Charles should turn out to be a French baby, and we couldn't understand a word he said?—Life.

He Was Hungry.

Angel Child—Say, Mrs. Wiggins, if ma asks you to stay to dinner, you stay. Will you?

Mrs. Wiggins—Why? Would you like to have me stay, my little boy?

Angel Child—You bet I would. Nobody ain't asked to dinner with us this week, an' I'm dyin' for a square meal.—Rambler.

What He Worked at During Summer.

"Say, mister, don't yer want a boy?

"Are you out of work?

"Yes.

"What did you do during the summer?

"I stuck flies onto fly paper in druggists' winders, but fly time's over now."—Philadelphia Call.

She Took No Stock in It.

Omaha Paterfamilias—It is remarkable what a large number of doctors claim that diseases are transferred by kissing, and——

Miss Ethel—What kind of doctors, pa?

—Why, the allopathic doctors.

"But, pa, you know we're homœopaths."—Omaha World.

Just Like a Man.

Little Wife—I don't think this bonnet quite suits my hair, George.

Husband (cheerily)—She'a! thought of that before I gave so much money for it.

She—What, my bonnet?

He—No, your hair, my dear.—Punch.

Overcoats. Overcoats.

Overcoats at $20.
" " $15.
" " $10.
" " $5.
" " $2.50

Men's Suits for $5.00.

All wool suits from $8 to $10.

Fine Cassimere Suits from $12 to $18.

Boy's Suits from $4 to $10. in great variety of style and quality.

Children's Suits at Cost to close.

Buy Something Useful for

CHRISTMAS.

We have the Largest Assortment

In the Market!

In Everything pertaining to Men's apparel, and our prices are below the reach of all competitors.

Come and See Us.

STRONG & McNAIR.

CALL AND SEE

Our Christmas Number

LONDON GRAPHIC!

Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly, and Other Papers and Magazines.

1887. Diaries for 1887.

Fine Stationery,
Cream Candies,
Cigars, Pipes.

A. E. KENNEDY, P. O. Building.

R. C. Van Antwerp's

RESTAURANT

One Door west of Anderson's popular Dry Goods Store.

Warm Meals 25c.

Oysters received direct from Chesapeake Bay. Candies in quantity for the Holidays.

Oysters, Fried and Stewed,

WEEXCEL.

R. C. VAN ANTWERP.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The copartnership heretofore existing under the name and firm of Sutton, Fairfield & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business of the firm will hereafter be conducted under the name of N. M. Sutton & Co., who will settle all claims.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.—I will be at the office of M. E. Conklin, three doors east of the HERALD office on the 2d, 10th, 11th, 30th, 30th, and 31st of December, for the purpose of receiving taxes. Also the assessments of the Farmers Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

S. L. SHUTT,
Township Treasurer.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

One of the largest weddings that ever took place in Macon, occurred on the evening of Nov. 25th, at the residence of Lester Goller, the event being the marriage of Mr. Goller's son, Irving to Miss Susie Anderson, daughter of Samuel Anderson, of Macon. At six o'clock nearly two hundred guests had assembled to witness the ceremony which was performed in a very happy manner by the Rev. E. P. Pierce, of the M. E. church. The newly married couple then received the congratulations of the company, after which refreshments were served.

Both of the contracting parties are well known and highly esteemed, and they have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy life. The presents were numerous and valuable as shown by the following list:

M. V. Hendershot and wife, water pitcher.
Geo. Harmon and wife, glass cake stand.
Will Gibson, water pitcher.
Jas. Noble and wife, glass berry dish.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. and Will Frost, berry dish.
Maggie O'Brien, card basket.
Fred Robinson and Hattie Smith, nut cracker and picks.
J. B. Collier and wife, chamber set, Meriden Mills, silver casket basket.
Ernest Hendershot and May Lewis, silver and glass berry dish.
Frank Thomas and wife, and Garret Ellis, pickle dish.
David Sloan and Ina Siddle, pickle castor.
Dr. Morden and wife, brush broom and holder.
Angeline Camburn, water pitcher.
I. W. Hendershot and wife and Philip and Fred Hendershot, pickle castor.
L. B. Ayers and wife, pickle castor and tidy.
Alonzo Biddle and wife, large lamp.
Bert Day, shaving mug.
Henry Miller and wife and Edward Osgood, oil painting.
Alonzo Turner and wife, scrap bag.
Ralph Mills, paper holder.
Arthur Anderson, half-dozen silver spoons.
Cassius Mills, towel rack.
Isaac Ganoung and wife, silver butter knife.
Geo. Howell, wife and family, an C. E. Triplet and wife, half-dozen silver spoons.
B. S. Scudder and wife, silver sugar spoon and towel.
Alfred Lewis and wife, half dozen silver spoons.
Eugene Burdette and wife, glass set.
M. Sickley and wife, creamer and sugar bowl.
Altie and Ida Hendershot, pair of vases.
John Temple and wife, half-dozen China fruit plates, and a China fruit dish.
Michael Brodwick and wife, pickle castor and bread plate.
Chas. Orsband, 1 pair of napkin rings.
Philip Hornbaker and Martha Biddle, 1 pair of napkin rings.
John Day and wife, bread tray.
Florence Mills and Lena Boyd, glass set.
Bert Pennock, pair vases.
Edwin Howell and wife, large lamp.
Geo. Hendershot and wife, large lamp.
Arthur Camburn and wife, cheese dish.
Sam'l Anderson, half-dozen silver knives and forks.
H. Burgess and wife, linen table cloth.
Mr. Hebron Camburn and wife, Will Morgan and wife, and Isaiah Hendershot and wife, linen table cloth.
Lewis Collier, bed spread.
W. P. Cotton and wife, linen table cloth.
Wm. Perry and wife, bed spread.
Jno. Jackson and wife, linen table cloth.
Helen Travis, towel.
Daisy Burgess, towel.
Mrs. E. Augustus, towel.
Mrs. Thos. Marshal, two glass tumblers.
Mrs. L. L. Hough, towel.
Minnie Day, glass tumbler.
C. F. Avery and wife, towel.
Frank Wolf and wife, large lamp.
Mary and Franc Richart, 1 pair of towels.
Chas. Ellis and wife, towel.
Emma Hendershot, towel.
Mrs. S. Anderson, bed spread.

It is said by good Judges that B. J. Cutler of Adrian, has the largest and most select stock of Pianos, Organs and Sewing Machines between Detroit and Chicago.

Jas. A. H. Bell of Toledo deserted the ranks of bachelorship Wednesday, taking unto himself a wife, Miss Mary Key, an estimable young lady of that city. Mr. Bell's many friends in his Dundee home extend their congratulations. He informed us a few days ago of his intention of removing from Toledo and locating at Nassau City, where in company with another gentleman will establish an extensive soap manufactory.

The above is taken from the last issue of the Dundee Reporter. Mr Bell formerly resided here and has many old acquaintances in Tecumseh who will join in these congratulations. We wish him the best of success both in his matrimonial and in his new business venture.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., DEC. 2, 1886.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

How is this for nice winter weather?

Fred McNair spent Thanksgiving at Battle Creek.

Geo. Tansley, of Addison, was in Tecumseh Tuesday.

Walter Foster, of Ann Arbor, was in town last Thursday.

Joe Crosby has taken a position in H. E. Anderson's grocery store.

Sheriff-elect Ed. Merritt, of Big Rapids, was in town Tuesday.

Elmer S. Beers, of Adrian, was the guest of S. C. Beers last Tuesday.

Jas. Morrison left for Kansas, this afternoon on the Lake Shore.

Wolfe's Orchestra, of Toledo, has been engaged for the dance in this village on Christmas.

Harry Snell was shaking hands with his Tecumseh friends last Sunday and Monday.

A family party numbering about 20 was held at F. A. Dewey's in Cambridge on Thanksgiving Day.

John Mason, of Adrian, was in Tecumseh Sunday. He came to attend the funeral of Miss Ella Chiverall.

Dr. Meeker and J. S. Strong, were last week elected elders of the Presbyterian church for a term of 3 years.

Rev. W. H. Babbitt's Thanksgiving sermon appears in full in this week's paper. Several persons who listened to it requested a copy for publication.

Frank Swick has taken a temporary position in the HERALD office and will help us at odds and ends while not engaged in school.

A. W. Slayton has made contracts with 26 different saw mills in the state to supply him with basswood lumber, or if more mills than he contracted with last year.

Harry Dunn came home from Chicago to eat Thanksgiving turkey and remained until Monday. Harry has a good position with Covil and Rathbone, a heavy lumber firm in Chicago.

We shall publish no special club list this year as the number of papers we deal with has become so large that the list would be cumbersome. We can supply any paper or magazine published at club rates.

Mr. and Mrs. Margeson, Mrs. L. G. North, Mrs. Coddington, Mrs. F. Adkins, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Jas. Heck went to Adrian yesterday as delegates to the Womans Foreign Missionary society, of Lenawee county, which met there.

The proudest man in town this week is Will Rector. Cause: His wife presented him with twin girls last Sunday. This statement however, needs a slight modification. The proudest man, after all, is "Uncle John" Rector, who is now the grandfather of twins.

The young peoples social connected with the M. E. church was held at the residence of Dr. House on Wednesday evening, of last week. The attendance was large, in fact full large enough for comfort, and a very interesting program was presented.

A sumptuous dinner was served at the Lilley House on Thanksgiving Day. The tables were filled. The proprietors of the Lilley House did themselves proud and were rewarded with a large number of home guests who dropped in there to partake of their Thanksgiving turkey.

The Canine Paradox exhibited at the Opera House last Friday evening. Little dogs and big dogs, short dogs and long dogs, black dogs and white dogs, dogs with a shaggy coat and dogs with a fighting cut, displayed their intellectual abilities to the edification of a good sized audience and to the especial delight of the children.

Sunday afternoon, Charles Herning had a serious accident befall his newly purchased mustang. While driving it in the breaking rig, it suddenly stopped and commenced kicking violently, and as it was checked up tightly threw itself, breaking its back.

Last Tuesday afternoon, the south bound train on the Lake Shore was delayed some thirty minutes, or more, at this station, on account of a heated journal on the rear trucks of one of passenger cars. At length, after much work, the passengers were transferred to the rear car, the forward car was detached, sidetracked, and left at this station. The rear car was then coupled onto the baggage car, and the train moved on.

Thanksgiving Day was more generally observed in Tecumseh, this year, than usual. Many of the business houses were closed during the entire day, and nearly all of them in the afternoon. Divine services were held at the Methodist, Episcopal and Universalist churches, all of which were creditably attended. A fine Thanksgiving dinner was served at the Lilley House, which was enjoyed by a large number of our citizens, and family dinner parties were held too numerous to mention.

Now is the time to subscribe.

Ten cents will pay for the HERALD during the present month of Dec.

Read the first two chapters of our new story this week and then keep it up.

Hough & Hosmer have been painting and varnishing the interior of their store.

May, Minnie and Frank Morrison enjoyed their Thanksgiving with the family of J. Curtis, Adrian.

Geo. Manning began the winter term of school last Monday in the McCarbery district of Macon.

Make out a list of the papers you wish to take for the coming year and then call at the HERALD office and order them.

Miss Bessie Church began a four months term of School at Sutton station, in Raisin last Monday. We predict for her a successful term.

Mrs. D. P. Spaulding has the agency for a new medicine called "Electricity in a bottle." It is said to be a sure cure for catarrh, neuralgia, headache and other kindred diseases.

Mrs. W. A. Whitney will go to Hudson on Friday to attend the annual meeting of DeGolyer W. R. C. No. 74, of which she is president. She expects to return on Saturday.

Our holiday supplement sheet which we issue this week, is the most complete of any ever issued from the HERALD office. It will repay a careful examination and perusal from the first word to the last.

We print a large extra edition this week, and send out several hundred sample copies throughout Northern Lenawee. Persons receiving these copies are invited to examine the same carefully and then subscribe.

Fred Landgraf has recently sold to parties here three very fine Domestic Machines. There are people who are bound to have the best, and they can depend on Landgraf furnishing the best every time. We hope to see him often.

C. H. Fairfield has sold out his interest in the dry goods business of Sutton, Fairfield & Co., and gone to Muskegon where he will engage in business. Mr. Fairfield made many friends during his residence among us who will regret to have him leave.

While Goodrich Conklin was putting down some hay from the barn loft for his horse Monday, the horse jumped back as the hay descended and caught its head some way in the manger and was seriously if not fatally injured; a blood vessel was ruptured.

C. F. Patterson, of the Lilley House, and George Field, of the News, went to Toledo last Monday to engage Wolf's Orchestra for the Christmas Dance. While there they took in "Around the World in 80 Days" which was on the boards at Wheeler's Opera House.

The Emma D. Lemon entertainment was given last Thursday evening to a small but appreciative audience. The different selections were well presented, and seemed to give satisfaction as several of them received an encore. The violin solo was considered the "hit" of the evening.

We commence this week the first installment of a new serial story by Bret Harte. It is copyrighted and we have obtained the copyright from Houghton, Mifflin & Co., the owners. It is a story of thrilling interest, which will be entertaining to all, both old and young. Now is the accepted time for new subscriptions to begin.

The entertainment given by the Mission Band at the Baptist church last Friday evening proved a very enjoyable affair. A pleasant and entertaining program was presented by the young people, and the booths presided over by them were a very profitable as well as pleasant feature. The "Band" realized the handsome sum of $39.26 from the affair. The young ladies were very materially assisted by Mrs. I. C. Wolcott and Mrs. F. Adkins.

Dr. Snyder has an elegant new piece of office furniture in his dental rooms. It is one of the improved "Wilkerson Dental chairs" and is the best dental chair now manufactured. It can be raised and lowered at pleasure, has adjustable head and foot rests and an adjustable back. It cost nearly $200. Perhaps sitting in that chair will not render the pulling of a tooth absolutely painless but it will come very near to it. The doctor ought to have a good holiday run of custom now.

That elegant new residence which has been in the course of erection for the past three months on the corner of Pottawatamie and Ottawa streets, will have a tenant the latter part of this week. Mr. Oscar Palmer has taken unto himself a charming wife in the person of Miss Maggie O'Brien, of this village. The ceremony was performed at Clinton last Sunday afternoon, after which the happy pair went to Mr. Palmer's old home in Manchester, returning to Tecumseh Tuesday. They will immediately furnish their new residence and go to housekeeping.

THANKSGIVING SERMON FROM REV. W. H. BABBITT.

"Thus saith the Lord God, Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt the low, and abase the high. I will overturn, overturn, overturn, it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him." Ezekiel 21:26, 27.

Kingdoms. "I am the sole last, supreme judge of what is right and wrong." Could any claim be more arrogant or more blasphemous than this, of a mortal man to be conscience keeper and conscience maker for the world? And yet, this is the Popes claim. "Is not this to sit in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God?" Roman Catholicism is very complaisant and silent and indistinguishable when it is expedient to be so, in order to serve a purpose. But give it once the power, then, "Off goes the velvet, and out comes the claw"—the claw of persecution. Liberty has always been strangled and the people left bound and oppressed, where the Papal power has held sway.

3rd. The shadow of another peril, dark and dismal, falls athwart my vision. What is the cloud so gloomy in hopes, as I think of my country's future? It is a fearful Demon that has entered in and taken possession of the American people, the Demon of drunkenness. As a nation "gets more nervous, its use of intoxicating liquors increases." The American people are growing more and more nervous and excitable, both in their high pressure system of living. And instead of resorting to right methods for soothing their excitability and making them less nervous they try to prop up their exhausted strength with the intoxicating cup. The consumption of liquors in our country, many of them impure and charged with arsenic poisons, is appalling. It increases far more rapidly than does the population. Our poor houses, our penitentiaries, our insane asylums are increasingly full of the victims of this vice of intemperance. A shadow is cast by this fearful evil on almost every household. Few in deed have escaped altogether its blighting effects. You meet the victims of this debasing appetite every day. You sigh as you have the thought forced upon you that they grow more numerous, rather than less so. And in addition to the glass of beer, you feel a sigh of the ravages of drunkenness, your indignation is stirred, in view of the chains that liquor manufacturers and liquor sellers are forging for us as a nation, chains which, like slaves, we have been suffered to be riveted on us without complaint. Our legislatures are many of them in control of the mighty liquor interest. Our laws are shaped by them to suit their purposes. Our statesmen pass with very light references, many of them over this giant evil, this question of questions, in their public speeches and public resorts. Well, gentlemen brewers and distillers, enjoy your triumph while you may. I hear the murmur of a grand uprising. There is the commencement of an awakening on this subject, the result of which I believe will be to sweep you from your seats of power. Drunkard making is not always to be a legally practised art in these U. S. God speed the time when it shall be known only as a lost art! The procession of perils is long, and I am in danger of wearying you if I simply mention them.

There is the peril of Mammonism, the devoting of time and talent and energy, to the mere business of money making, the danger that we shall get to be a nation of idolators, bowing down to a golden God. As our national riches increase, we are in danger of setting our heart upon them. And when a man gets to loving money for its own sake, his manhood shrivels and dries up. Where his heart ought to be he carries a stone. "Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey, Where wealth accumulates and men decay."

Then there rises before my view the perils of Gambling, fit associate of drunkenness, and keeping close company with it ever. We have this evil among us in all shades and grades, from "progressive euchre" in the private parlor to the faro table in the door, watched gaming room, from the miserable little pool room, which poor men frequent, to the splendid stock exchange whither our highest merchants and men of business resort; from the raffle at a saloon on Christmas for a turkey, to the offering for sale of packages of tea, which are said to contain a hidden prize; a scheme for cheating, which respectable papers it seems, do not hesitate to advertise; from the news boy matching pennies with his mate, and the school boy playing marbles for keeps, to the ruined gambler who has staked and lost fortune, and who rushes forth from the gaming table into the darkness, to send a bullet crashing through his brain. A miserable business it all. If men would have money, let them work for it and earn it, as men ought to do!

Then there is the peril from the Anarchists, those grand swelling men who publish treason, and who strive to destroy the foundations of social order, and who when they are in danger of arrest, turn pale with fear, and hasten to hide themselves under beds; who recommend the killing of men to get their money and the firing of cities for the sake of plunder, who preach arson and robbery and murder; who throw bombs with their own hands, destroying valuable lives in the most dastardly way, and then appeal for that mercy for themselves, which they refuse to others. I say it is a false and spurious sympathy that is extended to persons as dangerous and unprincipled as these. Let them be treated as enemies of all that is sacred and good deserve to be treated, and put out of the way. But I forbear. There is reason for us to be on our guard, but not to be despondent. The great battle between truth and error, between liberty and bondage, between the flesh and the spirit is going on in our growing Republic, and the climax of the battle is close at hand.

The welfare of the world is bound up in the issue of this conflict. For "As goes America so goes the world." Our hope is in God. We propose, as did our fathers, to "trust in him and keep our powder dry." Out of peril after peril has the Lord delivered us thus far. He has not ceased to care for us. But in connection with the giving of thanks to day, we have need to gird ourselves for conflict. This no time for us to be idle or indifferent, when so much is depending on the position we take and the course that we pursue. "We are living, we are dwelling, in a grand and awful time, and on us of deeds and days the unfolding of events is hurrying fast and fearfully."

Is sublime. Do the young men of America appreciate the responsibility that is resting on them? The decision of the battle, the fate of our country and of the world must rest largely on those who will see the dawning of the morning. Young men, we want young men who will frown on the dissolute and the depraved of the other sex, who will place a premium on virtue and manly worth, and wise and cautious choice of their associates will place a premium on virtue and learn to feel a brand on vice. Shall we have them? We have no doubting trust that in spite of all temptation we shall.

OBITUARY.

Miss Ella Ray Chiverall was born at Grass Lake, Mich., Aug. 28th, 1866, and departed this life on Saturday, Nov. 27th, at 3 A. M. Her disease was typhoid fever, which finally terminated in paralysis of the heart.

In this village she lived from early babyhood to womanhood. Her genial spirit won her many friends. For some time she had charge of the telephone office in our town, but about three months since she accepted a position in Mabley's Bazar in Detroit, where she was taken ill. Two weeks ago her father and brother went for her and brought her home. Her mother passed over the river about a year and a half ago.

The funeral services were held in the Universalist church last Sunday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. J. M. Getchell, officiating. The text was taken from Job. 14:5. Words fitly spoken and comforting were the words spoken. At different times during the custom of the church flowers were placed upon the altar and pulpit, lovers of rare beauty and perfume, in memory of her mother.

The funeral attendance was large. The young ladies and gentlemen present and their floral offerings indicated an enduring friendship, and the pastor spoke feeling words for this beautiful expression of love and good will. One piece represented Gates Ajar with the name Ella in immortelles on the threshold, sent by Fred Hall of Hudson; a beautiful cross was presented by Mrs. Baker of Hudson; a harp was an offering by the young ladies and gentlemen of Tecumseh; a beautiful piece was sent on Monday from Detroit friends with "sincere sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. Adams and the Misses Mahoneys, Goodrich, Tannihill and Gardner." Wreaths and bouquets were also displayed, the work of friendly hearts and hands.

In closing Rev. Getchell did not rehearse her life. He said: "Those present know her better than I." He informed the audience that Ella was conscious she must go and was going and that those last moments, words and looks were too sacred for funeral display. They were for the home circle, for loving human hearts, like the whisperings of Heaven, to be cherished forever. For his closing words he quoted these lines of Whittier:

"Fold her, O Father, in thine arms
And henceforth let her be A messenger of love between
Our human hearts and thee.
Still let her mild reproachings stand
Between us and the wrong
And her dear memory serve to make
Our faith in goodness strong."

Henry Cole was born in Adrian township, Oct., 6th, 1842, and after an illness of years, died at his residence in Wolf Creek, Thursday, Nov. 18th, at 11.30 A. M. Was married Jan. 4th, '68, to Miss Jane Reynolds. A father, one brother and sister, and a wife and one child mourn his departure. Funeral services were held in the Wolf Creek church, Sunday afternoon Oct. 21st, at half past two o'clock. Sermon by Rev. J. M. Getchell of Tecumseh. Being one who was respected by all the attendance was large. His death had been lingering and the struggle no victory. We miss him from our midst but gain.

CLIPPINGS AND CONDENSATIONS.

Wm. Ames, a leading grain dealer of Hudson has made an assignment to Ira Swaney.

It has been left for A. VanAvery to put forth the weightiest argument of them all in favor of a ping road from Adrian to Addison by way of the M. & O. He says a map made of conveyance for the present transportation of stone, pay on itself in a few years. All congratulate Mr. Addison Hinds in advance.

It is whispered that there is a gang being worked up in Adrian for the widow Lewis case. We want to see the rope that has been twisted for the scalawags who tried to hang young Lewis. Let the law take its course.

Fresh Oysters received every day at Star Bakery.

Gold and Silver Watches, Clocks and Jewelry at Bauer & Hall's. Don't forget the place.

The Hudson Gazette is getting a large extra edition this week with a full report of the 50th anniversary celebration of the Hudson Congregational church.

The W. C. T. U. will meet next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dr. House. The Temperance School will also meet in the Reform Club Room on Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock, until further notice.

Cards of Thanks.

We most heartily thank those friends who assisted us in our recent affliction.

FRED CHIVERALL AND FAMILY.

Steger has just received a box of photo. materials, the finest made in the market, and he is now able to make better Photographs than ever.

Steger's latest style Photographs are the finest. Don't fail to call and see them.

Home cooking by the day or week at Anderson's dry goods store.

Steger is not going to leave town as has been reported, but he is going to stay right at his post and attend to his business the same as ever. He is better prepared than ever to serve his customers with first-class work and ready to please everyone who patronizes him.

Home made bread 5cts., per loaf, biscuits 5cts., per doz. Cookies and old New England fried cakes 5cts. per doz. at Morrison's.

To smokers. If you want a first-class cigar try Morrison's "Island Queen." See a portisement on 8th page.

We are sometimes obliged to put off our patrons on account of unfavorable weather for taking pictures, just as we are ready to take them, disappoint some customers who have paid their sitting fee. In such cases we request our patrons that you better calling again, and thus give us plenty of time. We are more anxious than ever to give you nice pictures and take special pride in returning you real value for your money.

BROWN, the Photographer.

If you want the best cup of coffee you ever drank try Morrison's French Breakfast coffee. N. B. No advance in the price of coffees.

—BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—From the celebrated Pennsylvania buckwheat and cheaper than ever before sold in this market, kept on hand at all times, at HECK BROS.

—A nice lot of finest Oysters, especially for Thanksgiving, just received at Rawson's. Come and get a can and try them and see.

—Fresh Oysters, direct from Baltimore, at Rawson's.

—A nice lot of Malaga Grapes, Florida Oranges and Bananas just received at Rawsons.

—Cocoanut culture along the lower coast of Florida is growing rapidly in volume and importance.

—If you want an overcoat for man, boy or child, come and see us.

Strong & McNair

—We are prepared to show the largest assortment of overcoats and Suits ever offered in Tecumseh, and at lowest prices.

Strong & McNair

—Now is the time to sit for Holiday Pictures, and the place to get them is at M. P. Brown's Art Gallery.

—The celebrated Chesapeake oysters by the dozen, by the can, by the keg, at R. C. VanAntwerp's.

—BUCKWHEAT CAKES. Get a sack of choice new Buckwheat Flour of C. A. Slayton.

—Hough & Hosmer are bound to be at the front in prices and styles of goods.

—Hough & Hosmer are always pleased to show goods, and don't forget prices.

—M. P. Brown, the Photographer, is making finer Photographs than ever and at Prices that please his patrons.

No better place to have Photos work done in Lenawee county than at Brown's Art Gallery. Fine work at reasonable prices have always been his motto.

Important to Young Men. Send your name to Brown's Business University and get your name finely written, and an 8 page paper, free.

Vienna Bread at the Star Bakery Saturdays.

Call and get some of these fresh cookies at the Star Bakery, 8 a dozen.

[illegible] Wallpapers. When you want something exquisite and cheap for parlors, halls and Sunday dampers, go to Hough & Hosmer's. We'll please you, if we can, the right exactly.

[illegible] loaf of the Star Bakery.

If you want a good 2 grain rag or paper hanging done call on D. Hosmer. Good work guaranteed. Terms reasonable. Leave orders at Bauer & Hall's or C. A. Wright's, Tecumseh. D. HOSMER.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS.

FRED H. WOOD ATTORNEY AT LAW

C. A. STACY, Attorney at Law and Solicitor in Chancery, Office in Hasty Block, Tecumseh, Mich.

PHYSICIANS.

R. B. HOUSE, M.D. Homœopathic Physician and Surgeon, Office

C. H. WOODWORTH, M.D. Office and Residence

MISCELLANEOUS.

TECUMSEH FOUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

DAVE MACHAM

JAMES A. CLARKE

CHAS. A. WALDRON

HOTELS.

BENEDICT HOUSE

CENTRAL HOTEL, ADRIAN, MICH.

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Breeder of Pure Bred Poultry. Eggs for hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular Free.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

SOUTH BEND, BURCH, WIARD, GALE, OLIVER.

PLOWS Walking

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow,

CULTIVATORS Elwood, New Robbins, Albion, Buckeye

GRAIN DRILLS

NEMPSON'S MANURE SPREADER.

Studebaker, Jackson and Flint WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Gal. Plaster and Plastering Hair. Grain, Flour, Feed and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Liquid Opium Cure is the most cure of the kind, three to five weeks at home, without suffering. It contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and is not a substitute. Send for Circular.

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.

DRUNKENNESS!

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

SEXUAL.

Hawlin Medical Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE WHITE HARE

The following story was written by the late Santa Louise Clubb, of San Rafael, who was killed in the earthquake some months ago, while [illegible]

I am here now in the instants of a true sportsman.

For a long while, I was at a loss to know [illegible] My father was [illegible] the grizzly king of the mountains.

[illegible] after [illegible] the family [illegible] the Scripture [illegible] for hereditary [illegible] and for I found that my grandfather [illegible] of Mt. Lassen, [illegible] Lassen and Tehamas. While [illegible] I praised my brothers [illegible] the accustomed choke [illegible] breech loading rifles, [illegible] this [illegible] They were very [illegible] and did not relish the [illegible] lady sister who could [illegible] on the wing, or pierce the [illegible] with a revolver at sixty paces. [illegible] they feared, too, that such a [illegible] might seriously endanger my [illegible] life. They remonstrated, [illegible] they brought me the accounts of the dreadful accidents that [illegible] from the use of firearms, and [illegible] from me a promise that I would [illegible] such a gun again. I might [illegible] an unfortunate circumstance [illegible] that made me half [illegible]

[illegible] had heard of my skill, and [illegible] fashioned [illegible] with [illegible] I [illegible] I [illegible] I

S

AL

RACTS

nge, Rose, Almond,
vor deliciously.

RING EXTRACT.

B

THE BLOOD

rough Purifier of the et Discovered.
s from a common
e worst Scrofula.

od.
Liver. bowels.
stomach.
place of lassitude; cheerfu
ness, Disordered Liver, Co Affections, General Debili nerous diseases and disorde pure blood are speedily co ertful corrector, the chief att ent or modern medical dis
THE BLOOD.
t description as it is a royal lessings of health and va n Park in the world.
DISEASES, SALT RHEUM, SCALD
, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES
DISORDERS.
PTION in the early stages, it with which advanced
ORS and CANCERS will yield ts establishes a cure.
general or partial WEAKNESS and DISEASE effectual remedy internal.
Bottles. Further information
ppliers of the Blood
N Tonsed.
Everything in odor of
CATE Remedies.
Druggists recommend it
for you to try it once.
supply of testimonials
SON & CO., Proprietors,
92 & 94 Wall St. N.Y.

ENTS!

e Marks and Copyrights

SNOW & CO.

The BUYERS' GUIDE is issued Sept. and March each year. Big 312 pages
8½ x 11½ inches, with over
3,500 illustrations—a whole Picture Gallery.
GIVES Wholesale Prices
mers on all goods for family use. Tells how to ives exact cost of every se, eat, drink, wear, e
h. These INVALUABLE
ain information sent ickets of the world. We copy FREE to any ad receipt of 10 cts. to defray ailing. Let us hear from respectfully.
MERY WARD & CO.
abash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM

ERCORNS.

RED STAR COUGH CURE

TRADE MARK.

25 Cts.

ST. JACOBS OIL

GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

Express, mail	[illegible] A.M.
Accommodation	[illegible]
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	[illegible]
New York Limited Express	[illegible]
Day Freight	[illegible]

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	12 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Adrian Accommodation	6 18 "
Pacific Express, Limited	10 05 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

☞ Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. 2 solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Cloth, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

D. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.
WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.
J. CHANDLER, North Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

Express, mail	[illegible] P.M.
Accommodation	[illegible]
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	[illegible]
New York Limited Express	[illegible]
Day Freight	[illegible]

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	12 35 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3 10 P.M.
Adrian Accommodation	6 18 "
Pacific Express, Limited	10 05 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

☞ Limited express trains stop only for R. R. crossing at Britton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. 2 solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Cloth, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

D. ARMSTRONG, Mich. Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.
WM. F. BRADLEY, Agent, Adrian.
J. CHANDLER, North Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT Oct. 24, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 1 Pass	STATIONS.	GOING WEST. No. 4 Pass	No. 8 Pass
A.M. P.M.	Central Time.	P.M.	A.M.
10 11 55	6 20 A...Toledo	8 40	1 00
10 10 50	5 20 Dundee	8 20	9 00
10 10 17	4 58 Britton	8 20	8 10
10 02	4 52 Ridgeway	8 17	8 10
9 47	4 40 Tecumseh	8 05	7 50
9 32	4 22 Tipton	8 00	7 40
9 17	4 07 Onsted	7 45	7 20
9 05	3 55 Devils Lake	7 30	7 00
8 45	3 40 Addison	7 15	6 40
8 25	3 20 Jerome	7 00	6 15
8 15	3 13 Moscow	6 50	6 05
8 05	3 00 Hanover	6 35	5 50
7 45	2 40 Pulaski	6 20	5 30
7 40	2 32 Homer	6 15	5 20
7 30	2 08 Albion	6 05	5 05
7 00	1 35 Marshall	5 40	4 35
P.M.		A.M.	P.M.
12 45	1 1 Concert	5 15	4 00
12 35	1 10 L. Eckford	5 05	3 50
	12 41 Augusta	4 50
	12 31 Yorkville	4 40
	12 22 Parkers	4 30
	12 05 Decker	4 15
	11 55 Montgomery	4 05
	11 52 Elsie	4 00
	11 45 Kelloggs	3 55
	11 37 Ionia	3 45
	10 40 Holland	3 00
	9 50 Grand Rapids	2 10
	9 20 Grand Haven	1 40
	8 55 Fruitport	1 20
	8 40 Muskegon	1 05
	5 20 Pentwater	10 45
	A.M.	P.M.

Connections: At Toledo with all Railroads centering there. At Adrian with L. S. & M. S., Wabash St. Louis & Pacific, Wabash, Chicago & St. Louis, Ann Arbor, Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan, Detroit, Lansing & Northern, Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw, Michigan Central, Detroit, Hillsdale & Indiana, Chicago & Canada Southern, Detroit, Lansing & Northern, Toledo, Saginaw & Muskegon, Flint & Pere Marquette, Ann Arbor & Toledo, Toledo, Ann Arbor & Jackson, Detroit, Hillsdale & Southwestern, Michigan Central, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Pennsylvania Lines, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Toledo, Cleveland, Canton & Southern, Cleveland, Akron & Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, Cleveland & Canton, Cleveland, Mt. Vernon & Delaware, Lake Erie & Western, Chicago & Grand Trunk, Grand Rapids & Indiana, Chicago & West Michigan, Grand Rapids & Indiana, Grand Rapids & Indiana, Chicago & West Michigan, Chicago & Grand Trunk

CLINTON PAGE.

DETROIT

WE WANT

YOUR

TRADE.

WRIGHT, KAY AND CO.

140 Woodward Ave.,

1 and 3 CAMPUS MARTIUS

ESTATE OF JOSEPH TAYLOR

Harper's Magazine!

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS

Per Year

ESTATE OF PETER S. WALDRON.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

ESTATE OF GARRETT ATEN.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS.

Per Year

ESTATE OF ROBERT BURNETT

MONEY

WORKING CLASSES

YOU

Better THAN THE Best

$1000 WE

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE

FOUR CENTS

SMOKE EL PESO 10¢ CIGAR

CHICAGO

RETAIL AT

R. MORRISON'S.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

OVER BAKER & HALL'S.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

AT LOWEST PRICES for THE BEST WORK

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Applied into the nostrils, Cleanses the Head, Allays Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. A thorough treatment for Catarrh, 50 cents. Sent by mail, registered, 60 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

NO DOGS ALLOWED HERE"

To get the title of a BEAUTIFUL CHROMO, size 22 x 28, a perfect work of art suitable to grace the best parlor in the land, cut out the picture of a DOG, and send it, postpaid, marked in twenty-five

QUEEN ANNE SOAP WRAPPERS

This is no cheap jewelry affair, but an elegant picture, beautifully colored, with handsome bronze border, worth a place in any parlor in the land. No advertisement on the picture.

Queen Anne Soap, the Old Reliable, the purest and best soap made, is known everywhere and sold by all first-class grocers.

THE PICTURE WILL NOT BE SOLD AT ANY PRICE, and can only be obtained by mailing us 25 Queen Anne Soap Wrappers. Address

DETROIT SOAP CO., DETROIT, MICH.

MASON & HAMLIN

NOW SELL THEIR

UNRIVALED ORGANS

AND EASY HERE Nation.

UPRIGHT PIANOS.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.

Boston, New York, Chicago.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Have

ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves & Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times," "hard times," we never hear that expression in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

MC COLLUM

Has just received received his fall Fall and Winter stock, and is selling fine suits at from $6 to $20

Ready Made do at $5, $6 to $8 and $10

OVERCOATS in every quality, size, price and color.

Men's strong heavy work pants, lined through out, $2

Heavy all wool pants $2 50

Also large stock of underwear, cardigan jackets, gloves and mittens, blue flannel shirts, and in fact everything worn by gentlemen.

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. Mc COLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

9 NEW STYLES

3 ELEGANT UPRIGHT

Clough and Warren and Estey

ORGANS, PIANOS,

JUST SOLD BY

B. J. COLLER

At his Palace of Music. Purchasers of Organs are

A. B. West, Raisin. F. B. Earl, City. J. H. Morris, Morenci.
Wm. Rexford, Round Lake. John Gill, Hudson. C. M. Lewis, Hudson.
W. C. Moore, Morenci. Geo. Rose, Sand Creek. Mr. Scott, C.C.

PURCHASERS OF PIANOS.

Angel Crane, Madison. Mrs. L. W. Miller, Macon.
E. C. Hollen, Holloway.

Another carload of Pianos and Organs just received for Holiday trade. Don't fail to see my Low prices in the best Pianos and Organs made.

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE.

Look out for HOLIDAYS

AT

KINNEY'S

Furniture Establishment.

PARTICULARS NEXT WEEK.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO. 2. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING DEC. 9, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1875

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

OVER 500

To select from: LATEST STYLES.

SHORT WRAPS.
NEWMARKETS.
PLUSH SACQUES.
JACKETS.

Misses and Children. ALL SIZES.

All marked at lowest possible prices.
Any Cloak a Bargain.
We are glad to show them.

Constant throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. Our stock was never so complete. Prices never so low. WE ARE NEVER UNDERSOLD.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

COME AND SEE OUR

Men's Overcoats,
Boy's Overcoats,
Children's Overcoats,

COME AND SEE OUR

MEN'S SUITS,
BOY'S SUITS,
CHILDREN'S SUITS.

We can show a larger assortment and give lower prices than can be found elsewhere. Underwear, Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods in endless variety of styles and quality.

STRONG & McNAIR.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Are prepared to make prompt deliveries of best grades of Coal, in lots of $1.00 and upwards.

Hard Coal, all sizes in Stock.
Jackson Hill--Springfield Mine,
Jackson Hill Cannell.

All our coal is carefully screened and we sell at the lowest market price. Telephone orders promptly delivered. We solicit your patronage.

Office and Yards Shawnee St., near L. S. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

IT WILL COST YOU NOTHING TO

PLEASE THE BOY

--AN ELEGANT SLED--

Presented with each Boys and Children's Suits Sold.

Parents, Make your Boy Happy.

We have a tremendous stock of Boy's and Children's

SUITS AND OVERCOATS!

Look at our goods and prices. If they are not satisfactory do not buy. We can show you as many STORM OVERCOATS, CHINCHILLA OVERCOATS, MELTON OVERCOATS, and in fact any other kind of an overcoat that you would see in three or four smaller houses.

Elegant Suits in all Styles and Qualities. ONE PRICE.

WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S
ADRIAN, MICH.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

Special Mirror correspondent.

There are several complaining with bad colds.

Kittie Clarke is under the Doctor's care with a lung difficulty.

To Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kelly a boy, on Monday, all doing well.

Work on elevator has begun again, thus the roll runs.

Waring Brothers & Co. opened their new store Saturday with a good assortment of general supplies.

Nellie Heesen of Tecumseh, was the guest of Jennie Osgood, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Arney left for Howell Tuesday, where her son is the operator in the T. & A. R'y office. They will make it their future home.

Nellie Freer left for Mason, Ingham county, last week Wednesday, to visit relatives.

Mrs. Ash Smith's mother who has been with her for several weeks returned to her home at Grand Ledge, last week Friday, accompanied by Anna Smith.

Prof. H. C. Wilson of Blissfield came home to attend the funeral of his grandmother, last week.

Mrs. Louise Miller and daughter, Emma, spent Saturday and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. B. J. Colber of Adrian.

Postmaster Santus went to Adrian Saturday on business.

Several of the farmers who invested in Bohemian oats were attending court at Adrian the most of last week.

Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Loree spent Saturday at Tecumseh with G. W. Jackson and family.

Mrs. D. W. Loree went to St. John, Clinton county, Tuesday morning.

W. E. Barrett spent a few days at home last week, and left for Springfield, Mass., Thursday.

There was a very encouraging attendance at the social on Friday evening, held at the home of Mrs. T. H. Temple. The society will give a musical entertainment next week Friday evening at the home of Samuel Rapleye. A cordial invitation is extended to all. By Order of Com.

The W. C. T. U. will give a parlor entertainment at Mrs. A. J. Sutton's, next week Tuesday evening, consisting of declamations, recitations, readings and music. The ladies respectfully desire the attendance of all interested. By Order of President.

Mrs. Raymond, who has been at her daughter's, Mrs. W. R. Wilson, for several weeks very sick, passed away on Wednesday morning. The funeral service was held at the church on Friday afternoon, Rev. W. J. Clack officiating. The remains were interred in the cemetery north of the Presbyterian church in Raisin.

Walter Thomas Mills, "The Little Giant" orator of New York, will deliver a Temperance lecture at Cottage Hall, Ridgeway, Saturday evening of this week. Subject, "The Church and its Relation to the Temperance Cause." Commence at 7:30 P. M. Admission free.

There will be a public meeting at Cottage Hall, Ridgeway, on Monday evening next, for the purpose of considering the Library proposition and soliciting pledges for membership of the proposed Hall Library Association. Everybody is requested to be present.

The Supreme Court rendered the same verdict as the Circuit Court did in the case of Mrs. Miller vs. Peter Sharp. "No cause of action."

Frank Mesler and wife left Monday for Mt. Pleasant, Isabella county, for a few days visit with relatives.

Chas. Gripton is moving into Mrs. Cheever's house, and will be found in the hardware with Coryell, in a few days, ready to attend to the necessaries of life in their line of business.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to all friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted us during our late bereavement, also in paying the last and rites to a dear departed Mother.

Mr. & Mrs. W. R. Wilson.

A LIBRARY HALL.

120 PEARL ST., N.Y. Nov. 1886.

To the inhabitants of Ridgeway and surrounding country.

As the citizens in and about Ridgeway have commenced to wake up to the importance of better educational facilities, and have already constructed a new schoolhouse, I now desire to carry out a plan which I have had under consideration for three years past, waiting for an upward start in your village.

My plan, which is as follows, if successfully carried out, will prove itself an important factor with your school and church, in elevating the tone of society, and act as a great educational, and, particularly to the young generation.

First. I desire to purchase, in the village of Ridgeway, at as low a figure as possible, a piece of ground at least 80 feet front, and running back from the street at least 100 feet.

Second. On this piece of ground I propose to erect a suitable brick building, with high basement for a furnace. The building to contain a large free reading room and library, which I propose to furnish with bookcases, tables, chairs, and, in short, all necessary furniture, and stock the bookcases with not less than 1000 volumes, standard and current, and the tables with a suitable number of daily, weekly and monthly papers and magazines.

Third. The building also to contain a large Member's Parlor adjoining the reading room, and connected with sliding doors, so when opened the parlor and reading room together will make a social hall 40 feet long. This parlor I propose to carpet and furnish suitably with sofas, center tables, window drapery, and whatever other furniture necessary to make the room not only comfortable, but handsome.

Fifth. After the building is completed and furnished, I desire to make a free gift of the building, contents and the lot on which it stands to the inhabitants of the village of Ridgeway and surrounding country.

Sixth. I present this property to you as a suitable and lasting Memorial to the late Jonathan Hall, one of the first settlers in the township of Ridgeway, and a man, during his lifetime always desirous of elevating the tone of society, and this gift I am quite sure is one that he would like to make himself if he were living, and able to do so.

Seventh. In the front of the building I propose to have a granite block set in, which will be cut as follows:

JONATHAN HALL.
MEMORIAL LIBRARY
1887.

and by this name the institution will, of course, be known.

Now, having stated what I desire to do, permit me to say what I would like to have you do.

First. I would like you to organize a LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, with constitution and by laws, and I would suggest your calling it the HALL LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, so that you can have an organization to which I can present the property.

Second. The expenses of maintaining this library and reading room will be small, simply for light, warming and whatever you may pay your Librarian, and a lady could attend to it better and cheaper than most men.

Third. I would suggest the reading room be kept open every afternoon in the year, for two or three hours, and every evening two or three hours, from October to May inclusive. A warm and well lighted reading room will keep many young men away from gin mills and other disreputable places. Opening the Library in the afternoons would be convenient for ladies, and others from a distance who wish to draw books or occupy the rooms.

Fourth. To meet the small necessary expenses, I would suggest Your Association charging a membership, or joining fee of $6 or $7 and thereafter yearly dues of $1, beginning with the January following. If any member wishes to stop all dues, he or she can do so by paying in ten years dues, $10, and become a life member, and be free from all dues during life.

Fifth. The reading room and use of the books and papers, while in the building, I would like to have free to all persons who come there and behave themselves and obey the rules of the Association.

Sixth. The privilege of drawing the books, and taking them away of course, would have to be confined to members of the Association; also use of the parlor to members and invited guests.

Seventh. This small membership fee and small annual dues will meet running expenses, and possibly accumulate a small library fund, even with an Association of 75 or 100 members.

The membership fee and yearly dues I have suggested, may be too little, but I think they better be as small as possible, so that heads of families in the village, and miles around, will take membership for all their children old enough to read. In subscribing for memberships, please bear in mind that no money will have to be paid until the building is completed, furnished and presented.

Permit me to suggest that a membership or life membership would make a nice present for Christmas, 1887, for the building will be completed by Thanksgiving evening, 1887, therefore no memberships would have to be paid for during Thanksgiving of that year, 1887, and the first annual dues not until the year 1888.

I think if you will take this matter earnestly in hand, you will be able to organize a Library Association. For, if I am correctly informed, this will be the least complete, and probably the largest institution of the kind in the State, outside of Detroit. However, if you should not succeed in organizing the society with at least 75 paying members, it would hardly be worth my time, or yours, to go on with it.

Trusting you will go into this work earnestly, heart and hand, I remain, Yours Very Truly. R. F. BUSH.

NOTICE.

There will be a public meeting at Cottage Hall, Ridgeway, on Monday evening, Dec. 13th, for the purpose of considering the above proposition and soliciting pledges for membership.

ONSTED ODDS.

Hines & Son are building an addition to their meat market.

Will Simmonds has moved into one of Stephen Shugart's houses.

Henry Howes is buying hogs for an Adrian firm.

Take your pocket-book to church with you next Sunday, as it is the day for Missionary collection.

Dwight Marion of Napoleon, was in town Monday. He is in the black board business.

A number of Fred Woodens young friends surprised him Saturday evening. All report a pleasant time.

Mrs. Kane of Napoleon, spent last week here with her son, J. S. Kane.

Do not forget to go to the Good Templar's oyster supper Friday evening. Supper tickets 25cts. each.

F. Jenkins of Tipton, is painting William White's new house. Frank knows how to do a good job and does considerable work in this vicinity.

Wilson Lee has rented a portion of his store to a jeweler, who is prepared to repair watches, clocks, jewelry, etc. on short notice.

A feed and picket mill is being built just north of the depot. This is one of the things that has been needed here for some time, and no doubt will be well patronized.

Several loads of poultry were drawn from here to Tecumseh last week, because of the high rate of freight. What is the matter with the M. & O. that they cannot compete with teams?

Fred Winn, Herbert Gallup and Will Simmonds ought to be the three happiest men in town, each having been presented with a brand new girl during the past week. The population always increases fast in railroad towns.

BRITTON BUDGET.

Weather fine and roads very good.

C. D. Rose of Monroe, Mich., is loading a double deck car with hogs today, and Thursday is going to ship two double deck cars, one of hogs and one of sheep.

H. G. Rauch is going to cash bolt orders for the stave mill.

Mrs. Graf, who has been very sick is now declared better, being under the care of Dr. Nelson.

Geo. Hassenpflug has opened another barber shop on the east side of the road.

Our meat market is being improved by having a coat of paint.

Geo. Carter and wife have returned from their visit in Indiana.

A car load of hogs was shipped from here Tuesday.

Dancing school at Tedrick's Hall Thursday evening. Free.

Simon Beavers is visiting friends here.

Not quite enough snow for sleighing.

Rice's mill has run a few days for the village.

Travel [illegible] is just recovering from a severe illness.

The barn on the farm of Lee is finished.

Mr. Skinner from Tecumseh is teaching the Sand ridge school.

There was a lawsuit before Justice Bellows the other day.

A MERCHANT'S OPINION.

Mr. B. F. Norris, General Western Agent Royal Baking Powder Co., writes: "I have never found so great results from physicians' prescriptions and attendance upon my children, as I have after a few days use of Dr. Swaim's Extract of Flax Skin Cure. I cannot describe to you methodically what it has done for us, but can say that years of treatment have not accomplished what Pardon has done after a few applications. Large bottles only $1.00.

MASON MUSIC.

The winter term of school commences Monday.

Helen Cockburn is very sick with typhoid fever.

There will be a literary entertainment at the Poorhouse, Friday eve. Frank Gilbert will wield the rod in the Merritt district, and Mary Richmond in the Gleason district. Tips will pay.

Frank Angell is visiting friends this week.

There will be no services at the M. E. church next Sabbath afternoon, on account of quarterly meeting at Clinton.

The Ladies Mite Society of the Reformed church will meet at the home of Mark Pennington, next Wednesday. Dinner served at 2 o'clock.

E. H. Davis has moved to Milan, where he has been engaged to work in a broom factory.

Augusta Austin has returned to Hillsdale.

Carrie Camburn spent last week in Ypsilanti.

Miss Annie Pennington is still on the sick list.

In the list of presents given at the Colier wedding which appeared last week, the following articles were omitted by mistake, and we give them below:

Thos. Jacobus and wife, berry dish.
Arthur Anderson, one half doz silver knives and forks.
E. Carter and wife, cake stand.
Sam Kridler and wife, pair of towels.
Milan Sage and wife, glass set.
Frank Waif, pair of towels.

LAKE RIDGE LACONICS.

Spl ndid wheeling.

Jas. Small has moved to St. Louis, Mich.

Betsy Barnett is quite sick at her brother's, John Hunter.

Mrs. Fred Miller is at Sanford, prospecting.

There was a birthday social at Wm. Henderschot's last week Tuesday.

A show at Lake Ridge Hotel Saturday night.

Frank Whitney is suffering from neuralgia.

Charley Booth has just returned from visiting friends at Hudson.

There was a surprise birthday gathering at W. A. Easlick's, this week Monday.

Uze Carter is vexed with a felon.

Abe Harrington contemplates going into the dairy business and renting his plow land.

A. Easlick has just purchased the thoroughbred Holstein bull "Bruiser" No. 2916, bred by W. K. Scott of Howell, Mich. Family milk record about 80 lbs per day.

Farmers hereabouts are adopting a new medium of exchange on a wheat basis. A bushel of wheat for a day's work, the same for cutting two cords of stove wood, or one and a half cords of four foot wood, etc. Other produce at the option of the buyer.

We called on Waring Bros. & Co. in their new store at Ridgeway, Saturday, and found them nicely situated in a commodious room with an extensive stock of goods, all arranged in ample order and at bottom prices. The only thing to mar the surroundings was a half dozen or more men and boys smoking around the stove, with the fumes perambulating thro the room, nearly shutting out the light and almost stifling respiration. They of course meant no impropriety but rather courtesy, in social patronage of the new store, but it occurred to us as a very improper place to smoke, in a new store just painted and fitted up, with a full and varied supply of dry goods, groceries, etc., where the ladies of the surrounding country are expected to bestow their patronage, and when we say ladies, we mean all the term implies, wherein Ridgeway will favorably compare with any other community. Merchants keep tobacco and cigars for those who smoke, as well as groceries and provisions for those who eat, but there is a proper place to smoke as well as to eat, and we rather think more.

Drunkenness or Liquor Habit can be cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or ate without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and today believe they quit drinking of their own free will. No [illegible] ever results from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and testimonials. Address [illegible] GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., [illegible] Race, St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Sells like hot cakes." Hoyt's Bell Cologne.

"Prevent trouble by taking Dr. Baile's Baltimore Pills before costiveness becomes constipation.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

BY ~ CONDUCTED

TECUMSEH MICH.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Day and Night

Without Relief,

Cured By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

AND AS A RELIEF FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND COLDS, CONSUMPTION, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is unequaled. It is prepared by the Scott & Bowne in the concentration of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Chronic Catarrh

Catarrh in the Head

Hood's Sarsaparilla

100 Doses One Dollar 100 Doses One Dollar

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH

Special Offer!

F. M. LUPTON, Publisher No. 7 Park Place New York

GREAT

MOVE IN FURNITURE

I have concluded to move my big stock of Furniture. All that are in want of anything in my stoc are invited to the moving. Come with small amount of money. Look at my prices and out goes the furniture. Over 12 yrs. in the business. Do help me out.

WM. McCOWEN

UNDERTAKING

We are thoroughly prepared to attend to this important branch of our business, night or day. NOTICE.---Take no advice from ignorant persons when death takes place, but send immediately for the Undertaker. My prices are very reasonable.

WM. McCOWEN.

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL

Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order

Mill and Yard North of Railroad Depot

TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

Toledo Business College

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.

ROCKFORD

WATCHES

THE BEST

arrh
Head

parilla
es One Dollar

TS EACH

S Sarsaparilla,
Dandelion and Dock

Sarsaparilla, Dandelion and Dock

ITURE

RE & CO.,

h and Doors

ing to Order

HIGAN.

College

H REMEDY.

WATCHES
THE BEST

DAUCHY'S COLUMN.

THE NEW QUININE

Kaskine

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT

Rheumatism.

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, Liver, Lung and Kidney Disease.

[illegible]

Please Don't Forget It,

[illegible]

CURE FOR THE DEAF

[illegible] Restore the Hearing, [illegible] Natural Drum. [illegible] Address F. H. SON, 853 Broadway, [illegible]

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

CORNS

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

[illegible]

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

[illegible] Tecumseh, Mich.

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., DEC. 9, 1886.

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Bret Harte, in the United States, and published by arrangement with Houghton, Mifflin & Co.]

CHAPTER III.

WHO CLIMBED IT.

[illegible] shoe of a bay below him—distant yet many miles. Earlier in the afternoon he had seen the gilt cross on the white church of Mission Tres Pinos in the sunlight, but now all was gone. By the time he reached the highway of the town it was quite dark, and he plunged into the first Fonda at the wayside and endeavored to forget his weariness and his weakness in aguardiente. But Concho's head ached, and his back ached, and he was so generally distressed that he felt thought him of a medico—an American doctor, lately come into town, who had once treated Concho and his mule with apparently the same medicine, and after the same heroic fashion. Concho remembered, not illogically, that if he were to be physicked at all he ought to get the worth of his money. The extraordinary extravagance of life, of fruit and vegetables in California was inconsistent with [illegible]. In Concho's physics the doctor had given him a dozen five-grain quinine powders. The following day the grateful Mexican walked into the doctor's office—cured. The doctor was gratified until, on examination, it appeared that, to save trouble, and because his memory was poor, Concho had taken all the powders in one dose. The doctor shrugged his shoulders and—altered his practice.

"Well," said Dr. Guild, as Concho sank down exhaustedly in one of the doctor's two chairs, "what now? Have you been sleeping again in the tule marshes, or are you upset with commissary whisky? Come, have it out."

But Concho declared that the devil was in his stomach, that Judas Iscariot had possessed himself of his spine, that imps were in his forehead, and that his right hand had been scourged by Pontius Pilate.

"That means 'blue mass,'" said the doctor, and gave it to him—a bolus as large as a musket ball, and as heavy.

Concho took it on the spot, and turned to go.

"I have no money, Senor Medico."

"Never mind. It's only a dollar, the price of the medicine."

Concho looked guilty at having gulled down so much cash. Then he said timidly,

"I have no money, but I have got here what is fine and jolly. It is yours." And he handed over the contents of the precious tin can he had brought with him.

The doctor took it, looked at the shivering, [illegible] and said,

"Why, this is quicksilver!"

"Concho laughed. "Yes, very quick silver, so!" and he snapped his fingers to show its sprightliness.

The doctor's eyes grew earnest. "Where did you get this, Concho?" he finally asked.

"It ran from the pot in the mountains beyond."

The doctor looked resolute. Then Concho related the whole story.

"Can't you feel that spot again?"

"Madre de Dios, yes—I have a mole there, may the devil fly away with her!"

"And you say your comrades saw this?"

"Why, no."

"And you say they afterward left you, [illegible] you?"

"They did, indeed."

"The dolt! [illegible] Look you, Concho, [illegible] you must now [illegible] it was [illegible] clothing because the material of which it was [illegible] was made from the stuff you have on that [illegible] quicksilver or mercury. It is one of the most valuable of metals, especially in a gold mining country. My good fellow, if you know where to find enough of it, your fortune is made."

Concho rose to his feet.

"Tell me, was the rock you built your furnace of red?"

"Si, Senor."

"And brown?"

"Si, Senor."

"And crumbled under the heat?"

"As to nothing."

"And did you see much of this red rock?"

"The mountain mother is in travail with it."

"Are you sure that your comrades have not taken possession of the mountain mother?"

"As how?"

"By claiming it by discovery under the mining laws, or by pre-emption?"

"They shall not."

"But how will you, single handed, fight the four, for I doubt not your scientific friend has a hand in it?"

"I will fight."

"Yes, my Concho, but suppose I take the fight off your hands. Now, here's a proposition—I will get half a dozen Americanos to work the mine—you will not [illegible]. You shall share half with them. They will take the risk, take the money, and pick out your [illegible]."

"I see," said Concho, [illegible] his [illegible] winking his eyes rapidly. "Rosita?"

[illegible] his hair.

He was as good as his word. In two minutes he returned with an original locator and [illegible] a skeleton incorporation of the "Blue Mountain Quicksilver Mining Co." The latter was a [illegible] "Take it," he said, handing it to the new [illegible] "Take it, my boy—it is yours. I take that ride like a [illegible] and hang for it the chalet until we come."

In another moment Concho was in the saddle. Then the mining duo lapsed into the physicians.

"I hardly know," said Dr. Guild, doubtfully, "if, in your present condition, you ought to travel. You have just taken a powerful medicine," and the doctor looked hypocritically concerned.

"Ah, the devil!" laughed Concho, "what is the quicksilver that is to do to that which is out? Hospitalia Malo!" and, with a clatter of hoofs and jingle of spurs, he was presently lost in the darkness.

"You were not to soon, gentlemen," said the American alcalde, as he drew up before the doctor's door. "Another company has just been incorporated for the same location. I recognize—"

"Who are they?"

"Three Mexicans—Pedro, Manuel and Miguel—headed by that d—d cocked revolver, Sydney duck, Wiles."

"Are they here?"

"Manuel and Miguel, only. The others are over at Tres Pinos, lally gaging Rascomon and trying to rope him in to pay off their whisky bills at his grocery."

"If that's so we needn't start before sunrise, for they're sure to get roaring drunk."

And this legitimate successor of the grave Mexican alcaldes having thus delivered his impartial opinion, rode away.

Meanwhile, Concho the redoubtable, Concho the fortunate, spared neither riata nor spur. The way was dark, the trail obscure and at times even dangerous, and Concho, familiar as he was with these mountain fastnesses, often regretted his sure-footed Francisquita. "Cage not, O Concho," he would say to himself, "it is but a little while, only a little while, and then shalt have another Francisquita to bless thee. Eh, shipjack, there was fine music to thy dancing. A dollar for an ounce—'tis as good as silver, and nearier." Yet for all his good spirits he kept a sharp lookout at certain bends of the mountain trail, not for assassins or brigands, for Concho was physically courageous, but for the Evil one, who, in various forms, was said to lurk in the Santa Cruz range, to the great discomfort of all true Catholics. He recalled the incident of Ignacio, a muleteer of the Franciscan friars, who, stopping at the Angelus to repeat the credo, saw Lucifer plainly in the likeness of a monstrous grizzly bear, mocking him by sitting on his haunches and lifting his paws, clasped together, as if in prayer. Nevertheless, with one hand grasping the reins and his rosary and the other clutching his whisky flask and revolver, he fared on so rapidly that he reached the summit as the earliest streaks of dawn were outlining the far off Sierran peaks. Tripping his horse on a strip of table land, he descended cautiously about until he reached the beach, the wall of red rock and the crumbled and dismantled furnace. It was as he had left it that morning; there was no trace of recent human visitation. Revolver in hand, Concho examined every cave, gully and recess, peered behind trees, penetrated copses of buckeye and manzanita, and listened. There was no sound but the faint sighing of the wind on the pines below him. Satisfied, he paced back and forth in front of the furnace, [illegible] to tell upon chance. Excessive in his [illegible] flask only made him the drowsier, until at last he was fain to lie down and roll himself up tightly in his blanket. The next moment he was sound asleep.

His horse sought his own from the summit, but Concho heard him not. Then the brush crackled on the ledge above him, a small fragment of rock rolled near his feet, but he stirred not. And then two black figures were outlined on the crags beyond.

"Sh-s-s," whispered a voice. "There is one lying beside the furnace." The speech was Spanish, but the voice was Wiles.

The other figure crept cautiously to the edge of the cliff, and looked over. "It is Concho, the pinto," said Pedro, contemptuously.

"But if he should not be alone, or if he should wake?"

"I will watch and wait. Go you and affix the notification."

Wiles disappeared. Pedro began to creep down the face of the rocky ledge, supporting himself by chemisal and brushwood.

The next moment Pedro stood beside the unconscious man. Then he looked cautiously around. The figure of his companion was lost in the shadow of the rocks above, only a slight crackle of brush betrayed his whereabouts. Suddenly Pedro flung his serape over the sleeper's head, and then threw his powerful frame and tremendous weight full upon Concho's upturned face, while his strong arms clasped the blanket pinioned limbs of his victim. There was a momentary upheaval, a spasm and a struggle, but the tightly rolled blanket clung to the unfortunate man like cerements.

There was no noise, no outcry, no sound of struggle. There was nothing to be seen but the peaceful, prostrate figures of the two men darkly outlined on the ledge. They might have been sleeping in each other's arms. In the black silence the stealthy tread of Wiles in the brushwood was distinctly audible.

Gradually the struggles grew fainter. Then a whisper from the crags.

"I can't see you. What are you doing?"

"Watching."

"Sleeps he?"

"He sleeps."

"Soundly?"

"Soundly."

"After the manner of the dead?"

"After the fashion of the dead."

The last tremor had ceased. Pedro rose as Wiles disappeared.

"All is ready," said Wiles; "you are a witness of my placing the notifications!"

"I am a witness."

"Shall we leave him here?"

"A drunken rubbish—why not?"

Wiles turned his left eye on the speaker. They changed to be standing nearly in the same attitude they had stood the preceding [illegible]. "Take your devil's eye from me! What see you? Eh—what?"

"Nothing, good Pedro," said Wiles, turning his blank right cheek to Pedro. The intuitive and half frightened Mexican turned the bare knife he had half drawn from its sheath [illegible].

There was a momentary struggle.

"Go on, then. But keep thou on that side, and I will on this." And so, side by side, listening, watching, distrustful of all things, but mainly of each other, they stole back and up into those shadows from which they might, like evil spirits, have been poetically evoked.

A half hour passed, in which the east brightened, flashed and again melted into gold. And then the sun came up laughingly, and a fog that had stolen across the summit in the night arose and fled up the mountain side, tearing its white robes in its guilty haste, and leaving them fluttering from tree and crag and spur. A thousand tiny islades, nestling in the crevices of rocks, nurtured in storms and rocked by the trade winds, stretched their wan and feeble arms toward Hades, but Concho the strong, Concho the brave, Concho the light hearted spake not nor stirred.

CHAPTER IV.

WHO TOOK IT.

DR. GUILD.

THERE was president on neighing on the summit. Concho's horse wanted his breakfast.

This protestation reached the ears of a party ascending the mountain from its western face. To one of the party it was familiar.

"Why, blank it all, that's Chispita. That d— Mexican's lying drunk somewhere," said the president of the B. M. Co.

"I don't like the looks of this, at all," said Dr. Guild, as they rode up beside the indignant animal. "If it had been an American, it might have been carelessness, but no Mexican ever forgets his horse. Prove ahead, boys, we may be too late."

In half an hour they came in sight of the ledge below, the crumbled furnace, and the motionless figure of Concho, wrapped in a blanket, lying prone in the sunlight.

The doctor looked grave, but did not speak. They dismounted and picketed their horses. Then crept on all fours to the ledge above the furnace. There was a cry from Secretary Gibbs. "Look yer. Some feller has been jumping us, boys. See these notices."

There were two notices on canvas affixed to the rock, cumbering the ground, and signed by Pedro, Manuel, Miguel, Wiles and Rascommon.

"This was done, darling, while you were [illegible] worthy Grieser located—n him—lay there drunk. What's to be done, now?"

But the doctor was making his way to the unfortunate cause of their defeat, lying there quite mute to their reproaches. The others followed him.

The doctor knelt beside Concho and rolled him, placed his hand upon his wrist, his ear over his heart, and then said:

"Dead."

"Of course. He got in liquor of you last night. Take excess of your d—d heroic practice."

But the doctor was too much occupied to heed the speaker's raillery. He had peered into Concho's prominent eye, opened his mouth, and felt at the swollen tongue, and then suddenly rose to his feet.

"Tear down these notices, boys, but keep them. Put up your own. Don't be alarmed, you will not be interfered with, for here is murder added to robbery."

"Murder?"

"Yes," said the doctor, excitedly. "I'll take my oath on any inquest that this man was strangled to death. He was surprised while asleep. Look here." He pointed to the revolver still in Concho's stiffening hand, which the murdered man had instantly cocked, but could not use in the struggle.

"That's so," said the president, "no man goes to sleep with a cocked revolver. What's to be done?"

"Bury him," said the doctor. "This blood was coagulated within the last two hours, the body is still warm. The murderer did not come our way, or we should have met him on the trail. He is, if anywhere, between here and Tres Pinos."

"Gentlemen," said the president, with a slight preparatory and half judicial cough, "two of you will stay here and stick. The others will follow me to Tres Pinos. The law has been outraged. You understand the court."

By some sort of influence the little group of half-famished, half drifting and wholly reckless men battle-scarred, suddenly sober, earnest citizens. They [illegible] one another with their heads, and [illegible] to their horses.

"Bad [illegible] will be the inquest and swear [illegible]," said the sheriff, cautiously.

"How [illegible]?"

"Five."

"Then [illegible] Sam, [illegible] the Rose [illegible] Chile [illegible] one strong [illegible] we can [illegible] and no d—d warrigle."

CHAPTER V.

WHO HEAD A HIM ON IT.

THE time was noon [illegible] three pines from which it gained its name, in the dusty road and the air seemed to sit slow [illegible] spires. There was a glare from the road, a glare from the sky, a glare from the [illegible] from the white canvas roofs of the low [illegible] the unusual red and yellow of Rascommon's grocery and tavern, and a tendency of the swaying floor of the veranda to rise and be [illegible] for the interior. A few [illegible] near the entrance trembled and shrunk within the small shadow of the cornice.

"Then we don't want no d—d [illegible]."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

SCIENTIFIC TRUTH

REGARDING THE FUNCTIONS OF AN IMPORTANT ORGAN.

Of Which the Public Knows but Little. Worthy Careful Consideration.

To the Editor of the [illegible]:

We gave permission to [illegible] to the public the facts we have [illegible] during the past 8 years, concerning the [illegible] Kidneys and the [illegible] Kidneys so easily break down. We are conducting a Scientific [illegible] in proof of this. It is needless to say, no medicine [illegible] "Code" standing on a shelf does for so very obvious reason.

H. H. WARNER & CO.,

Proprietors of [illegible] Cure.

[illegible] upon them. We propose [illegible] speaking, to take one from the [illegible] place in the wash-bowl before us, and examine it for the public benefit.

You will doubtless notice that we have [illegible] a body shaped like a [illegible] flattened [illegible] about four inches in length, [illegible] in width, and one-half inch [illegible] weighs in the adult male [illegible] but is somewhat heavier in the female. A small organ, it may say. [illegible] the body of the average size [illegible] through these glands, or [illegible] may be called, nature's [illegible] through the heart making [illegible] but on its [illegible] may operate the [illegible] away steadily [illegible] wakes [illegible] of a [illegible] pitch [illegible] fever or another [illegible] or 9,125 to [illegible] that ten [illegible] water, [illegible] produces [illegible] highest [illegible]

"We shall [illegible] wise [illegible]

"We [illegible] to [illegible] some [illegible] little tubes short and [illegible] from the [illegible] endeavor [illegible] to be [illegible] from the [illegible] causes of [illegible] the [illegible] or [illegible] the [illegible] use of the kidneys [illegible]

[illegible] a moment of work which they [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible]

What is the result? Congestion or very [illegible] of the current [illegible] blood vessels surrounding [illegible] become [illegible] and these [illegible] are irritated, inflammation is set up, the pelvis becomes [illegible], which collects in the pelvis or sac, the tubes are at first partially and soon are totally unable to do their work. The patient goes on [illegible] with this corruption, passing upon [illegible] All the time [illegible] is entering the kidneys to be [illegible] [illegible] it cannot take an other route.

Stop and think of it for a moment. Do you realize the importance [illegible] necessity of having the kidneys [illegible] you are not when they are [illegible] obstructed, no matter [illegible] have pure blood [illegible] It could be [illegible] as reasonable to expect a [illegible] house were set across Broadway and no [illegible] thousands were compelled to go through its [illegible] doors, and [illegible] tagon and [illegible] blood to escape pollution [illegible] running [illegible]

Now, what is the result? When the blood takes up and deposits the poison [illegible] Swooping into every organ and every inch of muscle, tissue, flesh and bone, from your head to your feet. And whenever [illegible] the [illegible] of disease is established, [illegible] work has begun. Despondency, [illegible] insanity, paralysis, death [illegible] in these and have work again.

[illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] to keep them in [illegible] order. It increases its [illegible] and [illegible] to compensate [illegible] the [illegible] and strength wanting, in the [illegible] the impure blood through this [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] kidneys, [illegible] and [illegible] death. [illegible] feel [illegible] weaker and weaker until one day it [illegible] stops.

[illegible] the verdict.

But the medical profession, learned and dignified, [illegible] by high sounding names, treat it [illegible] patients die [illegible] [illegible] death. [illegible] feel [illegible] kidneys which [illegible] are very [illegible] and which should have [illegible]

But this is not all the kidneys have to do, for the most [illegible] over the [illegible] and given [illegible] to waste [illegible] from the blood and [illegible] the blood [illegible] and long life may be your blessing.

H. H. WARNER & CO.

GOLD fields are scarce, but those who write to Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine, will receive free, full information about work which they can do, and live at home, that will pay them from $5 to $25 per day. Some have earned over $5 in a day. Either sex, young or old, capital not required. You are started free. Those who start at once are absolutely sure of snug little fortunes.

JAS. H. POTTER,

Manufacturer of [illegible]

FURNITURE?

Order [illegible] Turning done to order.

[illegible] HARDWOOD FARMING

LANDS

[illegible] Northern Wisconsin [illegible] with good map free. [illegible] Wisconsin Central R. R. [illegible] Wis.

POULTRY, GAME,

BUTTER, EGGS.

Having [illegible] Grand Ave., [illegible] prepared to handle on commission, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, Game, etc. [illegible] and prompt returns guaranteed.

E. C. FITZPATRICK, Detroit, M.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich. Sold in Tecumseh by [illegible]

THE

ELDREDGE

"B"

"B" is sold with the [illegible] FIST [illegible]

AGENTS WANTED.

ELDREDGE MANUFACTURING CO.,

[illegible] WABASH AVE.,

CHICAGO, ILL.

WE INVITE ALL.

In search of BARGAINS in

CLOTHING

To give us a call. We give satisfaction to everybody.

Its human nature to want to

GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH.

We will sell you Clothing better in quality in price, than any other dealer in Southern Michigan.

COME AND SEE US.

[illegible]

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS,

The Utica Palace King

THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.

Steel Radiators, Sectional Fire Pot, Estimates Promptly Furnished.

When in want of a heating or cook stove, do not forget THE GARLAND.

They have all the essential qualities necessary to perfect success. THE ROUND OAK still leads, notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

F. R. STEBBINS,

FURNITURE

Carpets, Crockery, &c.

The largest Assortment of China, and fine Decorated Dinner and Tea Sets ever shown in Adrian. Decorated and Bronze Table Lamps, Chandeliers and Hanging Lamps in large variety at very low prices.

Some Very Fine Plush Parlor Suits

Received this Week, in Mahogany and Walnut frames, Spring Seats.

Chamber Sets in Birch, Oak, Antique Finish, Cherry and Walnut.

Dining Room Furniture

In Oak, Cherry and Walnut. In such Velvet and Leather.

CARPETS.

Rags, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains and Window Shades.

Call and SEE OUR LARGE STOCK

And get our Prices. We want your trade, and we can and will satisfy you.

F. R. STEBBINS, Adrian.

J. S. GILMAN,

The oldest Harness Maker in Lenawee Co. opened a shop in the rear of James' Block, and will mend your harness in the shortest order.

Harnesses Made to Order.

In fact everything pertaining to the Harness sold as cheap as the cheapest. Remember the place.

J. S. GILMAN.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE

The Farmers of Michigan & Western States should subscribe to THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE and HOME MAGAZINE, which from being so long established, having such a large circulation, and being ably edited, is now looked upon as the Farmers' Paper of the West. It is owned and edited by a farmer of long experience, who is in no influence of Party or Politics to tamper with its columns. It is the Independent Reliable Guardian of the Farmers' Rights. THE FARMERS' ADVOCATE is a very high authority on AGRICULTURE, STOCK, DAIRY, GARDEN and ORCHARD, POULTRY, ANIMAL VETERINARY AND SANITARY, and the HOME MAGAZINE is unequalled for its useful information and national amusement for all classes. This Journal, which is now at out to enter its 22nd year of publication, is issued on the 1st of each month, consists of 36 pages of the most valuable reading matter for the Agriculturist. Price 50c. per annum in advance. Subscribe AT ONCE AND GET THE PAPER CHEAP. Sample copy free. AGENTS WANTED. Active agents wanted in every Township.

ADDRESS, FARMERS' ADVOCATE, London, Ont., Canada.

The Tecumseh Herald.

DECEMBER. HOLIDAY SUPPLEMENT. 1886

H. E. ANDERSON.

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

ARTHUR LITZE'S

Celebrated Rochester Lamp!

Headquarters for the

Cut Glass Oil and Water Bottles!

A Large Line of

Ambrotina, Pomona, Wild Rose, And Burmese.

Finest Line of Art Glass,

FRUIT PLATES DISHES

(Amethyst, Opal, Tinted and Iridescent Dishes.)

Tea and Dinner Sets, Decorated and Gold Band Cups and Saucers from 10c to $2.00.

The Handsomest Stock of Haviland and Carlsbad China, to the trade.

Have just received the largest and best selected stock ever offered

H. E.

DO YOU WANT TO

FIND THE PLACE

WHERE THE

Largest Amount of Goods

CAN BE BOUGHT

With the Smallest Amount of Money?

Call AT

CAINSLEY'S!

A late and advantageous purchase of an entire

NEW STOCK

OF

Dry Goods, Notions, Shawls, and Skirts,

Ladies', Gent's, Boys', Misses' and Children's

UNDERWEAR.

Domestics, Gloves, Hosiery, Mittens, Corsets, Scarfs, Hoods and Gent's Furnishing Goods.

We Can and Will Save You Money

M. E. GAINSLEY.

Tecumseh, Dec. 1, 1886.

TECUMSEH AND FRANKLIN FARMER'S CLUB.

for many of the farmers to leave their homes to attend the meeting of the club at Mr. H. Wilson's on the evening of Dec. 1. Those who came had a good social time. In the absence of the President the Vice President called the meeting to order.

Miss Elvira Tallman favored the club with some instrumental music, which added to the regular flow of program.

Mr. A. VanValkenburg led in the discussion of the question—construction and care of the highway—said: I think this is a subject that should interest us all. In making roads on clay soil we should work it so as to get the water off; would not plow within ten feet of each side of the center of the road, and then would turnpike so that the road would be three rods wide from bank to bank, and have a grade or slope of about 1½ foot to the rod. I prefer a Road Machine to the old fashioned scraper, to turnpike with. Where we have to use culverts they should be at least 20 foot wide and large enough and kept open so as to permit the water to pass through freely. After the road is properly graded I would put on gravel 12 foot wide, and after a rain would go over with a common road scraper, keeping the road as smooth as possible.

Wm. Waldron: I cannot agree with Mr. VanValkenburgh, for he could not put the gravel as wide as that with the amount of road work we have, and I do not believe in turnpiking more than we can gravel. I would prefer a road machine to the common road scraper as it will fill up the holes better and would go over the road with it every little while.

Mr. VanValkenburg: I did not mean to say that I would gravel 12 foot wide, but I think it would pay and think we could gravel more if every man would come on the road with side boards 12 inches wide, and go to work as if he intended to do a days work and not merely to kill time.

H. Hoag: I think it a good plan to gravel wide enough for two tracks and that it would be a good plan to pay our road tax in money and hire the work done, that we would have more work done. As it is now we should put in a full day's work on the road the same as at other work.

H. Wilson: I think our road laws are faulty, and that we could have better roads if we had the same laws as Kansas, and that we should use wide tire wagons, as they do not cut up the roads as much as the narrow tire do. I would not put the gravel on only wide enough for one track—7 or 8 foot.

S. Munger: I think that it would be a good plan if we could do our turnpiking early in the season, as soon as the frost is out, and then put the gravel on in the fall, about September. I think the road Machine is a good thing, and that every town should have two or three.

H. Hoag: I think it a good plan to plow in the fall what you want to turnpike the next season.

Charles Mathews: I think it a good plan to plow as soon as the frost is out, as then the dirt is in good shape to turnpike up when we get ready to work the road, and if we would get out as if we were going to do a day's work we would have better roads. If they were worked by tax we would not get the work as evenly distributed as now. I do not agree to any 12 or 10 foot grade, but should have enough to make a good track so that you can drive on it. I cannot agree with Mr. Munger as to putting the gravel on in the fall.

Wm. Waldron: I prefer to turnpike up a piece of road. Keep it smoothed up in good shape through the summer, and the next spring put on gravel enough to make a good track, and that the road will stand better than if we put the gravel on as soon as we turnpike it.

The committee on program reported the following for the next meeting, Dec. 15, at the residence of A. A. Van Valkenburg.

Music.
Dec—Perry VanValkenburg.
Select Reading—Mrs. H. Wilson.
Dec—S. M. Waldron.
Music.
Chip Basket—Wm. Waldron.
Dialogue.
Song—Lena VanValkenburg.
Question—Feeding cows for milk and butter. Lead by Henry Wilson.

T. T. Kneeland arrived home from St. Louis, Mich., last Tuesday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet until further notice in the Reform Club Room on Fridays, at 3 p. m. The Temperance School will also meet in the Reform Club Room on Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock until further notice.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Dec. 4, 1886.

About the time this letter reaches you the two Houses of the fifty-ninth Congress will meet and open in the usual way for the short busy session. The rush of Congressmen to the city, and of the crowd that always follows them, began yesterday and will continue for one week more. The indications are that there will be a pretty full representation present of both senators and congressmen on next Monday, when the gavels fall simultaneously in both ends of the Capitol.

The question which excites the most attention in the minds of the members who are coming in, is whether anything can or will be done with the tariff this winter. The high protectionists are bound that there shall be no reduction of purely protective duties, if it can be prevented. The reform leaders are as anxious that some deference shall be paid to the promises of the party to which the majority belong. One of the things which the President is credited with saying in regard to the tariff, is that it should be arranged with reference to economic interests instead of political conditions; that as a party issue it is distracting, and as experience for several long and fruitless years has shown, leads to no practical results, nor even points out practical methods of reform.

A Pennsylvania member-elect of the fiftieth Congress, who has been here during the week, was talking about the surplus millions and about the probability of the Administration being able to submit a plan for their reduction. He thinks a great deal will depend upon what the President will say and he thinks the President has before him now the greatest opportunity of his life. It amounts to a crime, said he, to heap up needless taxes in the treasury in time of peace, and if the President takes a bold stand against it he will have the country to back him.

Just at this time the President is giving the last polishing strokes to the message with which he has been wrestling for the last few weeks. He has had a very hard time with the figures of those surplus millions, and in trying to solve the problem for reducing those needless taxes—so hard a time, indeed, that he has grown nervous and irritable and explosive over the work, to the great consternation of his household attendants. Secretary Manning's annual report will deal almost exclusively with the surplus and the best method of reducing the taxes, and it will be interesting to see whether he or the President can produce the better financial master.

The report of the Postmaster General was before the public more than a week ago, but the report of Secretary Endicott will not amount to anything this year, nor will that of the Attorney General. Secretary Bayard will make no report, but will represent the State Department by sending to Congress the diplomatic dispatches of the year. He is not discouraged, however, by the indifference shown at the last session of Congress to his recommendations. Secretary Whitney will ask for five more millions this year in addition to what has already been given for a new navy, and Secretary Lamar will reiterate his views on the settlement of the Indian problem.

He advocates a generous policy on the part of the Government towards its wards, and at the same time recommends such measures as will result in their becoming independent of its fostering care. Our Indian policy, he insists, is based on considerations of national honor and philanthropy rather than of trade or self defense. Last year he said the Indians as a race are few, poor and harmless, and they have a just claim for help and protection which should be scrupulously respected.

The well worn argument that it would be cheaper to keep the Indians at a fashionable hotel than as they are now dealt with, is often revived by western people who come here. The argument is strictly true, but the trouble lies in the fact that the United States has no right to save money that way. The Indians enjoy no privileges that are not theirs by right, and these cannot be taken away because the country would make money by the act.

Mr. Lamar's report reflects a breadth of view and force of expression which give the document a literary value not always to be found in a state paper. Last year he was startled by the estimates of pensions for the fiscal year just passed, but said he, it is a tax that is cheerfully borne.

LOOK

LOOK!

LOOK!

AT THE ELEGANT

HOLIDAY GOODS!

Now on Exhibition at the Reliable Store of Hough & Hosmer.

PEEK

Over our list and you will find something useful as well as ornamental for your

CHRISTMAS GIFT.

FANCY BRASS WARE

Easels, Vases, Thermometers, Match Safes, Broom Holders, Crumb Pans, And Brushes.

PLUSH GOODS.

Collar and Cuff Boxes, Hatchets, Glove Boxes, Lamp Mats, Mats.

CHILDREN'S CLOAKS

LADIES' MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

BUY YOUR WIFE A CLOAK FOR XMAS

KID GLOVES.

Silk Hdkfs, Linen Hdkfs, Fancy Hdkfs, Hand Bags.

SILK UMBRELLAS.

Fine Spring, Fake Silks.

CLOAKS

PLUSH WOOL

CLOAKS Blankets.

RUGS!

KNIT GOODS.

LACE GOODS.

Our Stock of Cloaks Complete.

LIST FOR Gentlemen!

Kid Gloves, Kid Mittens, Silk Muffers, Wool Muffers, Silk Hdkfs, Linen Hdkfs, Leather Collar And Cuff Boxes, Plush Collar And Cuff Boxes.

ALL STYLES.

GENT'S TIES.

W. & S. W. ANDERSON & CO.

A. J. CODDINGTON

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

Both useful and ornamental.

An elegant line of

Holiday Gift Books!

At prices ranging from 25c up.

Fancy Box Stationery,
Plush Boxes, Picture Frames,
Oil Paintings, Photograph
And Autograph Albums.

Christmas and New Years Cards

EVER BROUGHT TO TECUMSEH.

A Nice 75c Book for 3pc.

And Remember our Prices

ARE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TIMES.

CALL AND WE WILL CONVINCE YOU.

Adamson's Old Stand. Lilley House Block on the Corner.

C. A. WRIGHT & CO.

HAVE

PERFUME
TOILET SETS
FANCY BOTTLES
CASES
COMBS
BRUSHES
ARTISTS MATERIALS
TUBE PAINTS
ARTISTS CANVAS
PLACQUES
ETC.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance:

At Lowest Rates.

Home, of New York. [illegible]
Phoenix, Hartford. Springfield F. & M., Springfield, Mass.
Hartford. Western, New York.
L. and L. and G., London. Milwaukee Mechanics', Milwaukee.
N. Y. Underwriters, New York. [illegible]
Detroit F. and M., Detroit. Lancashire, Accident, Hartford.
American, Philadelphia. [illegible]
Fire Association. [illegible]
Royal of America, Toronto. [illegible]
Northwestern Nat'l, Milwaukee. [illegible]
Orient, Hartford. [illegible]
German, New York. [illegible]
German, Freeport, Ill. [illegible]

J. H. SMITH & CO.,

AGENTS

Tecumseh, Michigan.

Office over Heesen's clothing store.

THE ANNUAL MESSAGE.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S COMMUNICATION READ TO CONGRESS.

The Country Congratulated on Its Friendly Relations with Foreign Powers.

Chinese Immigration To Be Restricted.

Protected Attention Paid to the Labor Troubles.

Recommendation That the Navy Be Placed in Good Condition—Necessity for Coast Defenses Explained—National Prison for Federal Courts—The Postal Entry Clearing—The Revenues—Taxation Should Be Lightened—Interesting Facts and Figures.

Introductory.

The second annual message of the president was presented to congress shortly after noon on Monday, but the telegraphic report had been distributed throughout the country to the various news centers through the agency of the Associated Press and the Western Union Telegraph company early in the morning, with instructions that the report is not given out for release by wire from Washington until the message shall, [illegible] President Cleveland, from the fact that not a copy of the message was distributed in advance of the delivery, and he prompt [illegible] [illegible] the next morning.

Considerable space is devoted in our foreign relations. Editor Blaine's action in forcing the state to attention, the president forms an aforetime congratulation, and recommends further legislation on the Chinese question. The navy comes in for some recommendations as to improvement, and a revision of the revenue laws is advocated. Arbitration is urged in the settlement of differences arising between capital and labor, and even service in its practical workings is approved. Following is the message in full:

To the Congress of the United States:

In the discharge of a constitutional duty, and following a well established precedent in the Executive office, I herewith transmit to the Congress at the present meeting certain information concerning the state of the Union together with such recommendations for legislative consideration as appear necessary and expedient.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

The Government has consistently maintained its relations of friendship toward all other powers and of neighborly interest toward those whose possessions are contiguous to our own. Few questions have arisen during the past year with other Governments, and none of those are beyond the reach of settlement in a friendly manner.

CLAIMS AGAINST CHILI.

We are as yet without provision for the settlement of claims of citizens of the United States against Chili for injuries during the late war with Peru and Bolivia. The Mixed Commissions organized under claims conventions, concluded with the Chilian government with certain European states, have developed an amount of friction which we trust can be avoided in the convention which our representative at Santiago is authorized to negotiate.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

The cruel treatment of inoffensive Chinese has, I regret to say, been repeated in some of the Pacific Western States, and proposals and acts of violence against these people, beyond the power of the local constituted authorities to prevent and difficult to punish, are reported even in distant Alaska. Much of this violence can be traced to race prejudice and competition of labor, which cannot, however, justify the oppression of strangers whose safety is guaranteed by our treaty with China equally with the most favored nations. In opening our vast domain to their settlement the purpose of our lawgivers was to invite assimilation and not to provide an arena for endless antagonism. The paramount duty of maintaining public order and defending the interests of our people may require the adoption of measures of repression, but they should not tolerate the oppression of individuals of a special race. I am not without assurance that the Government of China, whose friendly disposition toward us I am most happy to recognize, will meet us half way in devising a comprehensive remedy. In which the executive department of our government, in the protection of those Chinese subjects who remain in this country, may be secured. Legislation is needed to execute the provisions of our Chinese convention of November 17, 1880, upon this subject.

INTERCOURSE TRANSIT.

While the good will of the Colombian Government toward the country at large and the interest of American interests on the Isthmus of Panama has at times elicited concern and invited friendly intervention looking to the performance of the engagements of the two nations concerning the territory embraced in the interoceanic transit, with the exception of the Panama disturbances and the erection of the State of Panama into a Federal district under the direct government of the constitutional administration of Bogota, a new order of things has been inaugurated which although as yet somewhat experimental, and afforded scope for arbitrary exercise of power by the delegates of the national authority, promises much improvement.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

The sympathy between the people of the United States and France during the trying period of struggle for independence and constitutional liberty, which culminated in the erection of the colossal statue of Liberty enlightening the World in New York harbor, the gift of France to Americans, [illegible]

SUBMARINE CABLES.

A convention between the United States and certain other powers for the protection of submarine cables was signed at Paris on March 14, last, and has been duly ratified and exchanged. The convention [illegible] the United States, [illegible] the 1st of January, [illegible] the legislation required for its execution in the United States has not yet been adopted. I earnestly recommend its enactment.

[illegible]

Cases have occurred in Germany, giving rise to much correspondence, in relation to the punishment, in the form of forced military service, of German subjects who have resided in the United States for many years, and have returned to their native country, [illegible]

[illegible]

The commercial intercourse between the United States and Germany, [illegible] Steamship lines were formally established, [illegible] of Congress of the last session, and it has since been [illegible] and favorable attention at an early day.

THE FISHERY DISPUTES.

The recommendation contained in my last annual message in relation to a mode of settlement of the fishery rights in the waters of British North America being a subject of anxious difference between the United States and Great Britain, was met by an adverse vote of the senate of the last session [illegible] Her Britannic Majesty's government [illegible] [illegible] of the treaties of 1818 and 1871 [illegible] the fishing waters and shores of the British dominions in North America, [illegible] the United States [illegible] at the same time [illegible] the subject of the fisheries [illegible] to be settled by such a convention.

The questions involved are of long standing and of a character to produce and foment trouble for nearly three-quarters of a century, have [illegible] [illegible] temporary arrangements to treat of them have existed to allay friction, which, however, has arrived as each treaty has terminated.

The last arrangement under the treaty of 1818 was abrogated after [illegible] by the [illegible] I think we may congratulate ourselves on the remarkable fact that [illegible] the full privileges secured by the terminated treaty, the joint commission by which the treaty had been negotiated, although invested with plenary power to make a permanent settlement, were content with a temporary arrangement, after [illegible] treaty of 1818, as to the first article of which no construction [illegible] countries has ever been agreed upon. The [illegible] of civilization and growth of population in this hitherto [illegible] to which the fisheries in question are contiguous, and the [illegible] of commercial intercourse between them and the United States [illegible] [illegible] the fishery [illegible] [illegible] the Dominion of Canada [illegible] [illegible] the Senate.

The negotiations of telegraph [illegible] between these islands and the United States [illegible] [illegible]

JAPAN WITH JAPAN.

The question of a commercial treaty with Japan is again under discussion at Tokio. As the first to open relations with that empire and as the largest in most direct commercial relation with Japan, the United States have had the opportunity to testify their consistent friendship by supporting the just claims of Japan to equality and independence among nations. A treaty of extradition between the United States and Japan, the first concluded by that empire, has recently been proclaimed.

THE WEAKNESS OF LIBERIA

and the difficulty of maintaining effective sovereignty over its outlying districts have exposed that republic to encroachment. It can not be forgotten that this distant community is an offshoot of our own system, owing its origin to the associated benevolence of American citizens, whose praiseworthy efforts to create a nucleus of civilization in the dark continent have commanded respect and sympathy everywhere, especially in this country. Although a formal protectorate over Liberia is contrary to our traditional policy, the moral right and duty of the United States to assist in all proper ways the maintenance of its integrity is obvious, and has been consistently announced during nearly half a century. I recommend that in the reorganization of our navy, a small vessel no longer found adequate to our needs be presented to Liberia, to be employed by it in the protection of its coastwise revenue.

OUR SISTER REPUBLIC.

The encouraging development of beneficial and intimate relations between the United States and Mexico, which has been so marked within the past few years, has once the occasion of congratulation and of friendly solicitude. I urgently renew my former representation of the need of speedy legislation by congress to carry into effect the reciprocity commercial convention of January 20, 1883. Our commercial treaty of 1831 with Mexico was terminated according to its provisions in 1885, upon the notification given by Mexico, in pursuance of her announced policy of repealing all her commercial treaties. Mexico has since concluded with several foreign governments new treaties of commerce and navigation defining rights of trade, property, and regulating treatment of shipping, consular privileges, and the like, but yet unexecuted reciprocity convention of 1883 covers none of these points the settlement of which is so necessary to good relationship, and proposes to initiate with Mexico negotiations for a new and enlarged treaty of commerce and navigation.

THE CUTTING CASE.

In compliance with a resolution of the Senate I communicated to that body on April 4 last, and also to the House of Representatives, the correspondence in the case of A. K. Cutting, an American citizen, then imprisoned in Mexico, charged with the commission of a penal offense in Texas, of which a Mexican citizen was the object. After a demand, and upon proofs for his release, the charge upon which he was arrested so as to induce his arrest in Mexico, which is Mexican territory, [illegible] of his release, the warrant and the other papers relating to Mexico, [illegible] to order a special investigation of the case pending which Mr. Cutting was released. The incident has, however, disclosed a claim of jurisdiction by Mexico, in our history, whereby any offense committed anywhere by a fugitive, penal in the place of its commission, and of which a Mexican is the object, may, if the offender be found in Mexico, be tried and punished in conformity with Mexican laws. Jurisdiction was assumed by the courts of Mexico in the Cutting case, and upon the representation of the Department of State to the authorities of the Mexican capital that the Supreme Court of Texas, in the case of Ex Parte Cutting, had decided that the accused was not liable to be prosecuted for the offense charged against him, [illegible] [illegible] the Mexican authorities, [illegible] [illegible] a protest against the assumption of jurisdiction [illegible] [illegible] as unwarranted by the law and international usage. A [illegible] has [illegible] of offenses which have been committed within its territory, [illegible] [illegible] United States for extradition [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] nd Cigars.

N,

SON!

cumseh!

terrible dis-

D!

Perfumery,

ck before buying

SON.

d this week.

OES

rs!

atters!

s and styles.

comes.

STECER'S Prize Puzzle

EASILY SOLVED.

F	H	S	T	E	G	E	R
I	A	U	I	V	E	N	E
R	O	T	M	E	A	A
S	N	T	E	R	S	M	D
T	E	S	S	Y	E	E	Y
L	S	V	A	H	S	I	O
A	C	E	K	O	T	N	P
S	E	R	E	T	P	U
S	N	Y	P	O	L	O	E
W	E	B	R	G	A	O	A
O	R	O	I	O	T	N	S
R	Y	C	O	B	E	E
K	Y	E	D	S

FOR Holiday Slippers!

AND

Ladies' Warm Shoes

CALL AT

H. NYLAND'S.

FRED HERNING

Dealer in

FRESH MEAT

Poultry,

Sausage of all kinds.

SUGAR CURED HAM,

BACON, PURE LEAF LARD.

Dealer in

Hides and Pelts. WILD GAME of ALL KINDS.

CHRISTMAS

Is Coming.

So is a large stock of

CHRISTMAS GOODS!

Coffee as good as the best, and as cheap as a year ago.
Teas 25c a lb and upwards.
Has some new prize goods.
A full line of Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery.

LET US EAT, DRINK, SMOKE AND BE MERRY.

R. MORRISON.

Corner Grocery. Railroad st.

United States is a potent factor in assisting the development of the resources of Mexico, and in building up the property of both countries. To assist this good work, all grounds of apprehension for the security of person and property should be removed, and trust that, in the interest [illegible] modified so as to eliminate the present possibilities of danger to the peace of the two countries.

THE NETHERLANDS.

The Government of the Netherlands has exhibited concern in relation to certain features of our tariff laws which are supposed by them [illegible] unnecessary, upon the [illegible] legislation appealing to have a special hall and discrimination for the object, which, although unintentional, may give rise to just [illegible] relation.

PERSIA.

The establishment, less than four years ago, of a legation at Teheran is bearing fruit in the interest exhibited by the Shah's government in the industrial activity of the United States and the opportunities of beneficial interchange.

[illegible] Park by the action of a second street [illegible] and a period of rapid inflation is entered upon, but recovery is not [illegible] slow from the extraction caused by the [illegible] disturbances. A convention [illegible] tion for the signature of our citizens has been pronounced and is under consideration.

The naval officer who [illegible] to Siberia the [illegible] of the [illegible] in the Japanese Empire, has [illegible] report will be [illegible] pleasure to know that his [illegible] Government [illegible] the [illegible] friendship of the two countries.

THE SAMOAN ISLANDS.

Civil perturbations in the Samoan Islands have during the past few years been a source of considerable embarrassment to the three governments, Germany, Great Britain and the United States, whose relations [illegible] to be at ease in that important group [illegible] guaranteed by treaties. The weakness of the native administration and [illegible] of opinion in [illegible] the islands have led King Malietoa to make alliance or protection in some [illegible] recent years at the costs [illegible] of Germany [illegible] the [illegible] Malietoa [illegible] Samoan [illegible] protection [illegible] United States [illegible] the [illegible] Germany [illegible] the preceding [illegible] Special agents of the three governments have [illegible] for and [illegible] in the islands [illegible] in the [illegible] [illegible] Malietoa [illegible] the [illegible] Samoan [illegible] the [illegible] United States [illegible] the [illegible] Germany [illegible] the [illegible] United States [illegible] the [illegible] Germany [illegible] the [illegible] United States [illegible] the [illegible] Germany

This space is reserved for

A. ANDERSON & SON'S.

Central Meat Market.

A GOOD SUPPLY OF

Fresh-:-Meats

On hand at all times.

New Lard, Our Own Make.

Biggest Stock in the City.

Poultry and Game for the Holidays.

Contract your TURKEY here for CHRISTMAS.

BATES & WOODEN.

CLEARING Out SALE

BEST CHANCE EVER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.

We are now offering special bargains in

Crockery,

Fancy Chinaware,

Fancy Glassware

OF ALL KINDS.

China Mustache and Plain Cups and Saucers for Holiday Presents,

At Less than Cost!

Come and see and be convinced that we mean what we say.

LOWER

Than any other House in town.

H. MC CLURE.

which distress the American farmer. As every patriotic citizen rejoices in the constantly increasing pride of our people in American citizenship and in the glory of our national achievements and progress, a sentiment prevails that the leading strings use-great effort be disregarded in the present stage of American ingenuity, courage and fearless self-reliance. And for the privilege of indulging this sentiment with true American enthusiasm our citizens are quite willing to forego an idle surplus in the public treasury. And all the people know that the average rate of ordinary and current business of his office, these revenue litigations cannot be considered. In default of the adoption by Congress of a plan for the general reorganization of the Federal courts, as has heretofore been recommended, I urge the propriety of passing a law permitting the appointment of an additional

THE ARMY.

The report of the Secretary of War gives a detailed account of the administration of his department, and contains various recommenda-

The subject of coast defences and fortifications had been fully and carefully treated by the Board on Fortifications, whose report was submitted at the last session of congress; but no construction work of the kind recommended by the Board has been possible during the last year from the lack of appropriation for such purpose. The defenseless condition of our seacoast and lake frontier is perfectly palpable, the examinations made must convince us all that certain of our cities named in the report of the board should be fortified, and that work on the most important of these fortifications should be commenced at once. The work has been thoroughly considered and laid out, the Secretary of War reports, but all is delayed in default of Congressional action. The absolute necessity, judged by all standards of prudence and foresight, of an preparation for an effectual resistance against the armored ships and steel guns and mortars of modern construction, which may threaten the cities on our coasts, is so apparent that I hope effective steps will be taken in that direction immediately. The valuable and suggestive treatment of this question by the Secretary of War is earnestly commended to the consideration of Congress.

THE ARMY.

In September and October last the hostile Apaches who, under the leadership of Geronimo, had for eighteen months been on the war path and during that time had committed many murders and other outrages, surrendered to Gen. Crook, and were transported as prisoners of war to the Eastern States. Subsequently, however, a band of these Indians, under the lead of Geronimo, Nachez and Mangas Coloradas, broke from their reservation in Florida and escaped to Mexico. Their subsequent depredations and murders in Mexico and Arizona, and the fact that they were in the vicinity of the reservations from which they had escaped, rendered it necessary to remove all the Apaches from Arizona to Florida, for safe keeping. This was done, and they have been quiet and peaceable since their arrival at their new homes. Their transportation was effected without the loss of a life, and the Apaches who had been at peace for more than a year before their surrender, and who had given no cause for their removal, were allowed to remain in Arizona. The Apaches who had been guilty of murder, and who had been the most active in the late outbreak, were placed in a safe place of confinement and kept under strict military surveillance. In the judgment of the officers who had the Apaches in charge, they were a savage race, with no capacity for civilization, and who could never be induced to settle down on the farm. It was considered best to disperse them in such manner as to prevent the formation of such outrages as marked their career in Arizona. Some of the Apaches have been employed as scouts in the army, and have proved faithful and useful in that service.

Overcoats. Overcoats

Overcoats at $20

" " $15.

" " $10.

" " $5.

" " $2.50

Men's Suits for $5.00.

All wool suits from $8 to $10.

Fine Cassimere Suits from $12 to $18.

Boy's Suits from $4 to $10. in great variety of style and quality.

Children's Suits at Cost to close.

Buy Something Useful for

CHRISTMAS.

We have the Largest Assortment

In the Market!

Everything pertaining to Men's apparel, and our prices are below the reach of all competitors.

Come and See Us.

STRONG & McNAIR.

CALL AND SEE

Our Christmas Number

LONDON GRAPHIC!

Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly, and Other Papers and Magazines.

1887. Diaries for 1887.

Fine Stationery,

Cream Candies,

Cigars, Pipes

A. E. KENNEDY, P. O. Building.

R. C. Van Antwerp's

RESTAURANT

One Door west of Anderson's popular Dry Goods Store.

Warm Meals 25c.

Oysters received direct from Chesapeake Bay. Candies in quantity for the Holidays.

Oysters, Fried and Stewed,

WE EXCEL.

R. C. VAN ANTWERP.

AMUSEMENTS.

OPERA HOUSE, TECUMSEH.

The Original and World Famed

Duprez & Benedict

MINSTRELS !

Royal Brass Band and Orchestra.

And a regiment of eminent artists, including the celebrated favorite comedian,

Archie White.

In a program of refined fun, teeming with originality, satirical sayings and everything free from dross.

ADMISSION 25 and 15 cents. Reserved seats at Athonsale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The copartnership heretofore existing under the name and firm of Sutton, Fairfield & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business of the late firm will hereafter be conducted under the name of N. M. Sutton & Co., who will settle all accounts of the late firm.

SUTTON, FAIRFIELD & CO.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.—I will be at the office of M. L. Conklin, three doors east of the HERALD Office on the 3d, 10th, 14th, 17th, 20th and 31st of December, for the purpose of receiving taxes. Also the assessments of the Farmers Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

S. J. SHUTT,
Township Treasurer.

Look out for the Minstrels next Wednesday evening. Get there.

Remember the interest show next week Wednesday. Go early if you wish a good seat.

E. and Tod Zellars, with their families, spent thanksgiving with their parents in Tecumseh.

"Shibboleth" Subject Course for Sunday morning at 10:30, at the Universalist church. Text—Judges XII. 5 & 6. In the evening at 7 o'clock, "The Hell I Dread or Fear." Texts—Matt. 22 and XVIII 8-9.

C. E. Clayton, advance agent for Duprez & Benedict's Minstrels was in town to day, making arrangements for the appearance of that company at the Opera House, Wednesday evening, Dec. 15th. Reserved seats should be secured early to avoid the rush.

Walter Thomas Mills will speak next Sunday evening in the Congregational church at Clinton, on the "Relation of the Church to the Temperance Work." This will be a Union Meeting of the churches, and we think our Clinton friends will enjoy the address.

The next regular meeting of the Myrtle Club, will be held at the residence of Mr. Homer Bickford, in Raisin, on Thursday evening, December 16th, 1886. An Art Gallery will be the entertainment of the evening. All are cordially invited.

BELLE M. WOODEN, Secretary.

The following are the pupils of the Sand Lake school who have been neither absent nor tardy during the month ending Dec. 3d, 1886.

Susie Nichols,	Eddie Egan.
Eddie Brighton,	Patty Egan,
Zula Brighton,	Edna Furgason.
Susie Brighton,	Jno. Pennefather,
Lizzie Brighton,	Eva Ayres,
Walter Furgason.

A CARD.

Having steared clear of Marine and Political Blunders, we are now prepared to show the finest line of goods, both Imported and Domestic, in our line ever offered to the good people of Tecumseh and vicinity, and all we ask is for the people to come and examine the same and we will stand by the verdict.

N. B.—We have the Only Christmas Stock purchased at Prices that got to win.

ADAMSON BROS.

JOYOUS WEDDING BELLS.

Cupid has again been raising havoc in Tecumseh. On Wednesday evening, the first inst., at the residence of the bride's father, the venerable John McConnell, P. S. McKinnon, Esq., and Miss Maggie McConnell took the mutual pledge of nuptial fidelity and crossed the threshold from single blessedness into matrimonial bliss. The party was a large one, although confined mostly to relatives and near friends.

Both almanac and the thermometer registered a rigorous winter night, but within the cosy old homestead feasting and merriment reigned supreme. Cupid never danced with a lighter heart and his victory was never more complete. Rev. Babbitt performed the ministerial office with his wonted adroitness. A substantial repast followed and a season of social converse. The bridal gifts betokened the love and esteem entertained for the bride by all who know her. Neither the bride nor the groom need any introduction to our citizens. Tecumseh has been their home for many years and both are held in high esteem.

It only remains for us to add our heartiest congratulations to those of their friends, with the wish that their pathway through life may be strewn with roses and that their happiest anticipations may be fully realized.

"Sweets to the sweet."

And I as rich in having such a jewel,
As twenty seas if all their sand were pearl,
The water nectar and the rocks pure gold."

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

TECUMSEH, MICH., DEC 9 1886

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Ettie Thole is on the sick list.

Miss Mattie Colgate visited Adrian last Monday.

V. P. Cash, of Manchester, was in town yesterday.

Jno. F. Murray, of Detroit, was in town this week.

Our next issue will be dated two weeks after this.

The dancing school was rather sparsely attended last Friday evening.

Harry Lee is setting type in the NEWS office in the absence of Tip Deuel.

Mr. & Mrs. [illegible] are visiting their daughter at Angelica, N. Y., this week.

The roads are now in splendid condition and our streets present a lively appearance every day.

Williamson took in 25,000 pounds of poultry last Friday, the largest amount ever taken in one day.

A. W. Mansell, of the HERALD composing rooms, was mustered in as a member of Co. C. last Tuesday evening.

The Ladies Social of the Universalist church will meet at Albert Hyde Sr's, Friday evening Dec. 10th. All are invited.

Mrs. M. A. Freeman was called to Belleville by telephone last Tuesday on account of the serious illness of Mr. Freeman.

The selection from our farmer readers is called to an article on the fourth page, giving some valuable hints on sub-soiling.

About ten couples of young people from Tecumseh, expect to attend the dancing club party, at Clinton, to-morrow evening.

Herb Reed, of Manchester, arrived in town Wednesday for the purpose of fitting up the rink preparatory to skating. It will be ready next week.

The Young People's Lecture Course, of Leper, was opened last week with a lecture by our townsman John R. Clarke, on the "Rose, Shamrock and Thistle."

Dr. B. F. Steinhoff doesn't propose to take a back seat, and has put an elegant new dental chair in his office. It is a daisy. It almost tempts a man to have a tooth pulled just for fun.

The advance agent of Duprez and Benedicts Minstrels was in town this morning. The troupe will appear at the Opera House, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 15th.

The farmers are improving the present condition of the roads to bring their surplus products to market. Our merchants are in a happy mood for it makes business lively.

The Presidents message appears in full in this week's HERALD. It occupies ten columns. The first six columns are placed on the supplement pages, and the last four on the 6th page of the regular sheet.

The next regular of Tecumseh Lodge F. & A. M. will be held tomorrow evening, at which time the election of officers will take place. A full attendance of the members is desired.

As the Hollidays are drawing near and the weather is not favorable for printing at this season of the year, I would request customers to call early and give me a chance to give them good work.

F. H. STEGER.

Deacon Richard Smith is his name. For the information of the farmers, we would state in explanation that this refers to a fine thoroughbred Jersey bull, recently purchased by James W. Patterson and now domiciled on his Dairy farm.

The casket used at Grandma Satterthwaite's funeral was procured by Mr. Kinney from Detroit. It was a "mole skin," with oxydized iron handles, and was the first one of that material ever used in this village. It makes a very neat and plain casket for an aged person.

The bachelor brigade of Tecumseh is disconsolate. The defection of P. S. McKinnon and Oscar Palmer fell upon them like a clap of thunder from a cloudless sky. When two such incorrigibles fall from grace, the members may well ask each other, with bated breath, "What man among us is safe?"

Mrs. Finley Deuel died yesterday, after a critical illness of several days. It will be a sad blow to her husband. She was a most amiable young wife and was beloved by all. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at one o'clock at the residence of her father, M. L. N. Avery.

A Christmas party will be given at Excelsior Hall, in Britton, on Friday evening Dec. 24th. Good music will be in attendance and the bill, including an oyster supper, will be only $1. Floor managers: Joe Mellon, Fred Kolkloesch. Invitation Com. Chas. McCarbray, Wm. Daykin, S. Branagan. A first class party may be expected.

D. P. Spaulding went to Dundee Tuesday.

Diamonds and fine goods arriving [illegible]

Miss Nora Martin is clerking in Adams' Novelty store.

Geo. Waldron, of Chicago, is here on a four weeks' vacation.

Miss Mattie Colgate, of Adrian, is the guest of Miss Jennie Root, this week.

O. B. DeWolf is in Minneapolis this week looking after his real estate interests there.

Thomas Mills next Sunday afternoon and Monday evening.

The largest line of Silver and Silver Plated Ware ever brought to Tecumseh at Adamson Bros.

If the Adrian people want a branch of the M. & O. why don't they run the old road to Jackson? That's the question.

Make out a list of the papers you wish to take for the coming year and then call at the HERALD office and order them.

The C. T. Co. have made an assessment of $1.50 on a share. They contemplate extending their line to Sand Lake in the spring.

Everyone says Will Anderson has the best stock of china, crockery and glassware ever brought to Tecumseh. Its hard to beat in fancy goods.

Hugh Richards, of Jackson, was in town the forepart of the week visiting his old acquaintances in Tecumseh and Raisin. He favored the HERALD with a call on Tuesday.

R. L. McConnell, of Hancock, Wis., who came out to attend the McKinnon-McConnell wedding, has been spending the past week very pleasantly among Tecumseh friends. Richard has not changed a portion since he left here.

Walter Thomas Mills, who will speak here next Sunday, will go to Europe in January to write up the Industrial and Temperance question for his paper, "The Voice."

Orrin Terry and wife, of Waterville, N. Y., spent Monday and Tuesday in town as the guests of P. J. Welling and Judge Stacy. They have been making an extended visit with friends at Toledo, Detroit and Pontiac.

Adamson Bros. having made great preparations for the Holiday trade would respectfully invite everyone in Lenawee county to call and see goods and get prices before buying elsewhere.

E. H. Merritt, sheriff-elect of Mecosta Co., who has been spending the past ten days around his old stamping ground in Tecumseh and Adrian, returned to Big Rapids yesterday. He will be on hand to enter upon his official duties the first of January.

The Tecumseh Cornet Band have secured the services of Mr. Skinner, the leader of the Palmyra band, and he has moved his family here to reside. He will occupy one of Geo. Tiffany's houses. Mr. Skinner himself plays the B flat cornet and his son blows the baritone. The band will be increased at once to sixteen pieces. The boys had their first rehearsal under the new leader last Monday evening, and they called it the best rehearsal the band ever had.

We clip the following from the Ionia Standard. It seems that Laverne Wheeler is at his old tricks up there: "The entertainment by the kid band on Monday evening was a great success. The opera house was filled with an appreciative audience and the boys all did themselves proud in their various parts in the show. The only fault that could be found was that the program was too long, and it was still further lengthened by repeated encores. We have not space to make any detailed or special mention, though we must speak of one feature. This was the "music" of Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Hosford. This was an amusing burlesque in which the singer, Wheeler, insisted that the accompanist, Hosford, should play the piece with one beat in a measure, while Hosford insisted there were three. The argument got warm. Ed. Bailey put in an appearance and the trio got hotter and hotter. Wheeler tore up his music and for a few minutes it was worse than a church choir rehearsal. Many of the audience got up to leave, thinking there would be a fight. Bailey insisted nobody ever saw a measure with only one beat in it. The matter was amicably settled by the production of a peck measure with only one beet in it. The house tumbled and roared and the show went on.

"The Little Giant."

Walter Thomas Mills, of the editorial staff of the "Voice," has been engaged by the W. C. T. U. for an address on Sunday P. M., Dec. 12th, at 3 o'clock, in the Opera House. Subject, "The Purity of the Home." He will also speak in the Opera House on Monday evening, Dec. 13th, at 7:45 for the Tecumseh Temperance Club. Subject, "The Work Shop, vs. The Grog Shop." A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come out and hear this interesting speaker. Mr. Mills will be remembered by all who had the pleasure of hearing him when here this fall.

THE SCHOOL SCRAP BOOK

The total enrollment in the schools of the village for the year, to date, is [illegible] in the High School.

The per cent of attendance for year to date, in all departments, is 97+.

Number of cases of tardiness in all [illegible]

A new book shelf has been placed in Miss Irish's room, which is a decided convenience.

Two additional globes have been placed in Miss White's room to add [illegible]

Two more foreign pupils were enrolled last week in the eighth grade, Miss Keeler's room.

The advanced class in Cæsar have completed their work, and have commenced reading Cicero's orations against Catiline.

The primary teachers have each provided a [illegible] blocks of card board, inch square, with the characters for addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. They will be used to aid beginners in the study of arithmetic, and will doubtless be a valuable assistance. The teachers using them are Misses Nyland and Allen of the East Branch, Misses McCall and Taylor of the West Branch and Miss Jones in the Brownville school.

[illegible]

Names of pupils in the Tecumseh Public Schools who were neither absent nor tardy during the month ending the Nov. 26, as Twice Told Tales, are standing at super excellent, are given in their orders.

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

ATTORNEYS.

F. ... ATTORNEY AT LAW. Collections and Conveyancing. Office over A. & W. Anderson's store, Tecumseh, Mich.

A. STACY, ATTORNEY AT LAW and Solicitor in Chancery. Office in Herald Block.

PHYSICIANS.

R. D. HOUSE, M.D., Homœopathic Physician and Surgeon. Office over Tiffany Bros. & Co.'s Store, Chicago st. Residence corner Pearl and Logan sts.

C. M. WOODWARD, M.D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TECUMSEH LAUNDRY AND STEAM ENGINE WORKS. ... Sewing and General Repairing. ... Shirts Ironed. ...

BANK OF TECUMSEH.

DAVID MACHAM, President.

JAMES A. COREY, Vice President.

CHAS. A. WALDRON, Cashier.

HOTELS.

BURNELL HOUSE, ...

CENTRAL HOTEL, ADRIAN, MICH. ...

M. L. RICE,

UTICA, MICHIGAN.

Dealer in High Class Thoroughbred Poultry. Eggs for hatching. Send for Illustrated Circular, Free.

Agricultural Implement DEPOT.

C. A. SLAYTON

SOLE AGENT FOR THE BUCKEYE, WIARD, GALL, OLIVER

PLOWS.

THE CASSADY AND SOLID COMFORT SULKY PLOWS.

Kalamazoo Spring Tooth Harrow.

CULTIVATORS.

GRAIN DRILLS.

WAGONS.

GREAT BARGAINS IN Carriages and Platform Spring Wagons.

Headquarters for Lime, Cement, Salt, Coal, Oil, Plaster and Plastering Hair. Grain, Flour, Feed and Field Seeds.

WITHOUT SUFFERING

OPIUM.

Users of Opium, are you aware that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Opiumin Cures the worst case of this terrible habit in three weeks at home, without suffering. Unlike others, it contains not one particle of opium, or any of its preparations, and per the patient write rapidly reducing his morphine down to nothing while able to attend to his ordinary business and answer letters as he has not done since heretofore. ... Address, or call on

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.,
Dwight, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS!

Cured in from three to nine days.

W. W. MARSH,

Railroad Street Meat Market!

Fresh and Salt Meats constantly on hand.

GIVE ME A CALL.

LADIES TREATMENT FREE.

SEXUAL ...

WORKS FREE ... Hewlin Medical Institute, ...

...erally adequate to the needs of our intercourse. ... Petitions have however been presented to the department by numerous merchants and manufacturers ...

...monthly dispatches to the empire of Brazil, and the subject is commended to your consideration. It is ... to provide the means of ...

...strumental in obtaining to those already established ... of the Indians. It was deemed desirable ... proper agent and capable persons ...

...the Indians and to relieve the Treasury as far as possible from the support of an idle and independent population. I recommend ... previous annual messages ...

...for some reason or other can not be justly dealt with through general laws. These conditions ... justify appeals to the Congress and special enactments but resort to the Congress for special pensions ...

...charge almost ... other things be practically ...

...

...

RED STAR
TRADE MARK.
COUGH CURE
SAFE SURE 25 Cts.
Wright & Co.

ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK

GERMAN REMEDY
For Pain
Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Headache, Toothache, Backache, Pleurisy, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Stings of Insects, Etc.
Price, Fifty Cents.
THE CHAS. A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Active, Pushing and Reliable.

[illegible] to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active, pushing and reliable, by recommending tickets with well established merit and [illegible] ing the money for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and every affection of throat, lungs, or chest, and in order to prove our claim, we ask you to call and get a Trial Bottle Free. [illegible]

C. A. Wright & Co.

A methodist hymn commends those who, it says: "fought to win the prize." Does this hold the truly good to the annoyance of the contemptuous prize fighter of the ring?

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure, safe and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetter and all skin eruption. Try this wonder healer. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25cts. Sold by Dr. George Ferguson.

Schulze—And how do you like the parrot I sent you? Muller—It was a bit tough. S.—What! Have you eaten it, then? Why, the creature could talk? M.—Well, why didn't it say so, then?

Careful attention to diet is the best guard against disease. It is a fact which all should know, that over eating not only corrupts the blood but destroys nerve force, and induces dyspepsia, jaundice, bad breath, pimples, low spirits, headache, and malaria, and all stomach and liver troubles. Dr. King's Red Clover Tonic quickly cures all above diseases. Can be taken by the most delicate. Price, fifty cents.

Everybody is busy and the goods being sold, [illegible] by the Dr. Jacobs Oil maiden into all things are just as we would wish them to be and the fowl is suspended at an altitude that dwarfs all our previous experience.

Judge of a government by the men it produces. Judge of a man by his deeds, a tree by its fruits, a medicine by its results. Time tried and true is Dr. Bigelow's Cough Cure, which contains the good qualities of all the best cough remedies without the defects of any of them. Safe and speedy remedy for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. Sold in fifty cent and dollar bottles. Heading to the lungs. Safe and pleasant for children.

In the United States, Senate during a recent debate, Senator Vest of Missouri, paid a high tribute to the merits of St. Jacobs Oil. Other prominent men have also found it prompt in its cure of rheumatism and neuralgia. Price, fifty cents a bottle.

Throat troubles yield promptly to Red Star Cough Cure, as vouched for by U. S. Architect Clark. Its ingredients are, purely vegetable and free from opiates. Price 25 cents.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT? We are daily guaranteeing Kemp's Sarsaparilla to the people for cleansing the blood and giving a new lease of life. Price $1.00. Sold by Baker & Hall.

TO NIGHT AND tomorrow night, and at all times call on us for Kemp's Pile Suppositories. The new treatment for Piles. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by Baker & Hall.

TO ALL MEMBERS of society: Kemp's Balsam will cure your distressing cough. We guarantee it. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

THE GUARANTEED remedy, Kemp's Balsam, for the Throat and Lungs. It never fails to cure Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial size free. Sold by Baker & Hall.

"Why do you not look me in the face?" "Because your breath is bad." "If you would use Trix you would be much more companionable."

[illegible] 25c, 50c, $1.
[illegible] 25c.
[illegible] 50c.
[illegible] PILLS [illegible] 50c.

For Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Inflammation of the Bowels or Colic.

Take internally from five to ten drops of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid in a tablespoonful of water every hour or two till improvement take place. There is no danger in taking more of it and more frequently if occasion requires. In chronic cases, or when the stomach refuses to retain anything else, use injections of the fluid and water. We have never known a case that did not readily yield to such treatment, and it saved the lives of many.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A New Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the mucus membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research however has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated, whereby catarrhal catarrh, deafness, and hay fever, are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fifty cases per cent have been cured. This is some the cases starting when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and those advertised cure never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and suffers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific American.

HOW LONDON PEOPLE LIVE.

Their Yearly Allowance [illegible]

[illegible] Sparrow Asylum [illegible]

Rome has not so many Roman Catholics as London; Dublin has fewer Irishmen than London; Edinburgh less Scotchmen; and Jerusalem, why all Judea has not [illegible]

[illegible] Every four minutes makes a birth—even while I spend two hours in writing this, thirty babies will have been born and twenty deaths will have taken place. You think of it; the evening paper that records the births and the deaths of the preceding four and twenty hours must [illegible]

It is 3,300 miles journey from New York to San Francisco. You can walk, say twenty miles a day; a hundred days, 2,000 miles. Well, to walk into you 175 days at the rate to make the tour from London has 1,000 miles of streets, and if you took them for a morning walk at the rate of twenty miles a day you would have to walk longer [illegible] and there [illegible] pass a street or stop—don't the aliens—the 7,000 [illegible] miles of dingles, shop—[illegible] call them. So you need not think of thirst.

How do these people live?—[illegible] by eating. They eat a lot. I can't go into figures, but you can take up [illegible] and figure up how much [illegible] every day, for in a year [illegible] talks swallow down [illegible] 600 sheep, 200,000 calves, [illegible] 5,000,000 head of [illegible] pounds of fish, [illegible] tons of potatoes [illegible] and other [illegible] gallons of beans and peas and [illegible] of cheese [illegible] well I declare. But how do [illegible] this [illegible] bottle of [illegible] the size of the Wrapper [illegible] to quench the [illegible] than this the drink [illegible] gin and [illegible] the rum [illegible]

Also [illegible]

Take [illegible] cooking [illegible] drink [illegible] it—Enough [illegible] saying a word. Any [illegible] Yes, plenty of them, but [illegible] to make more drink [illegible] hard. The supply is [illegible] has to be consumed. [illegible] ment says there is a [illegible] in spirit revenues; but it is difficult to see where. You see more drunkenness in an hour in London than on the entire continent of Europe—all Asia thrown in and Africa, too—in a year. But London is a great city—and very thirsty. You go to Liverpool or Glasgow—go to lovely Edinburgh, or up to Hull, or Leeds, Manchester, or Inverness, and it is just as bad—deep drunkenness and deeper damning sins than drunkenness, rampage in the streets. What can you say? This! On Sabbath day. No such abstemiousness is found in all the world as in these cities I have named—that is from midnight Saturday night, when all the dens and boozing kens are closed in front, till Sunday afternoon at 6. Sunday—you can't get a cup of coffee Sunday morning in any coffee place.—London Letter.

A Rajah from Singapore.

A swarthy man with the general appearance of a Turk is to be seen about the Fifth Avenue hotel, where he has been a guest for several days. He is a short and heavy man with a big jaw covered with a jet black mustache and a head adorned by a red fez. His companion, a slender man of medium height, is Mr. Allameda. He is an interpreter. The Turkish looking man passes for a Parsee merchant and it is given out that he is traveling around the world for pleasure. He is in fact, a chief or rajah of Singapore, an island which lies off the southern extremity of the Malay peninsula in Asia. He is a Mahomedan and carries with him around the world the reputation of having fifty wives in harem, an accusation which his interpreter vigorously denies, but which was published in the newspapers of San Francisco on his arrival there.

Mr. Allameda, the interpreter, said that his "patron" was on a mission from the Singapore authorities to increase the trade and commerce of that country. He said further: "Our exports are spices, pepper, sago, tapioca, gutta percha, Malacca sticks and rare woods. We have tramways in the city of Singapore and are gradually getting modern improvements of all kinds. One object of our visit to New York has been to investigate electricity as a motor and as a light. We do not expect New Yorkers to have the improvements of Singapore, they are too much bound up in their own ways. In Europe we shall find better people for our purpose. The French, the Germans and the English are investing capital in Singapore and we expect to get them to do something with us."—New York Herald.

An Inspired Oriental Poet.

The most interesting feature of the Orientalists' congress held at Vienna recently was the recitation of an Arabic poem by Sheik Hamza Fatallah, who had composed the nefarious rhymes in honor of the hospitable city of Vienna. The sheik, who was dressed in flowing robes of yellow, purple, blue and white, and wore a belt formed of the folds of a cashmere, was enthusiastically cheered when he arose to the speaker's chair. With many bows and half closed eyes his hands spread before him, he spoke in rhythmic cadences, raising his voice to full power and rapidly stopping for breath. The last verse forms a chronogram of the Christian era. Mohammedan dates [illegible] The sheik was applauded enthusiastically. The audience, which was gratified to have witnessed the rare spectacle of an inspired poet of the east.—Frank Leslie's.

Atlanta's Negro Schools and Colleges.

The negroes' schools and colleges at Atlanta are much more costly and considerable than the schools for the whites. It is true that perhaps the most of the money invested in these colleges comes from the North, but the fact that Atlanta has been selected as the site and center of these schools, which for the enterprise and best people of the leading sections of Atlanta. Their educational institutions are not only very imposing structures, but they are fully equipped and conveniently endowed, and, to all outward appearances are doing a good work.—Atlanta Constitution.

Very few newspaper funny men can use a typewriter. The bell ringing at the end of each line throws them into fits of remorse.

RAILROAD TIME TABLES.

L. S. & M. S. RAILROAD.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	No. 6 Mail.	No. 12 Express.	No. 4 Express.	No. 2 Express.
Jackson	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Napoleon	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Norvell	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Manchester	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Clinton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tecumseh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Adrian	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Detroit	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	No. 1 Mail.	No. 3 Express.	No. 5 Express.	No. 7 Mich. Express.
Detroit	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Adrian	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hudson	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Jackson	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Lowest rates to all points in the Northwest, Southwest and Pacific States.

N. S. SALTER, T. M. BWAYNE, Ticket Agent.
Jackson, Mich.

TAKE THE WABASH ROUTE.

TRAINS GOING EAST.

LEAVE BUFFALO:
Atlantic Express, limited	[illegible] A.M.
Detroit Accommodation	8.00 "
Niagara Falls and Boston Express	9.23 "
New York Limited Express	10.04 P.M.
Day Freight	8.45 "

TRAINS GOING WEST.

St. Louis, Indianapolis & Louisville	10.55 A.M.
Chicago & St. Louis Limited Express	3.16 P.M.
Adrian Accommodation	6.48 "
Pacific Express, Limited	10.05 "

Trains marked * are daily, all others daily except Sunday.

Limited express trains stop only for R.R. crossing at Brutton.

Tecumseh passengers desiring to travel by the popular Wabash make excellent connections at Adrian, and from there can secure through Pullman sleepers to Boston. Through solid train to New York. Solid through trains to Chicago, making direct connections for all points west and northwest. Through coaches and sleepers to St. Louis, making direct connections for all points in Kansas and the great southwest.

Fast Time, Magnificent Equipment, Latest Designs of Chair, Parlor, Sleeping and Dining Cars on all through trains.

H. H. ARMSTRONG, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Wm. F. BEADLEY, Asst. Gen'l Pass. Agt., Jackson, Mich.
F. CHANDLER, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

MICHIGAN & OHIO RAILROAD.

Passenger Time Table.

IN EFFECT OCT. 24, 1886.

Short Line and Through Coaches to Grand Rapids, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Pentwater, Mich.

GOING EAST. No. 7 Pass.	No. 3 Pass.	No. 1 Pass.	Central Time. STATIONS.	GOING WEST. No. 2 Pass.	No. 4 Pass.	No. 6 Pass.
P.M.	A.M.	P.M.		A.M.	P.M.	A.M.
7 10	11 55	6 20	A. Toledo L.	7 10	2 50	6 00
5 20	10 10	5 20	Dundee	8 [illegible]	3 20	9 00
4 30	10 15	4 38	Britton	8 [illegible]	3 40	10 15
3 30	10 02	4 52	Ridgeway	8 [illegible]	4 [illegible]	10 30
2 15	9 47	4 10	Tecumseh	8 [illegible]	4 [illegible]	11 30
1 30	9 32	4 22	Tipton	9 [illegible]	5 15	12 30
1 00	9 17	4 07	Onsted	9 17	5 [illegible]	1 00
12 05	8 57	3 52	Devils Lake	9 37	7 25	1 30
11 55	8 45	3 40	Addison	9 45	7 40	1 55
11 10	8 27	3 21	Jonesville	10 02	8 [illegible]	2 40
11 50	8 15	3 15	Moscow	10 10	8 [illegible]	3 [illegible]
10 35	8 00	3 00	Hillsdale	10 20	8 [illegible]	3 [illegible]
[illegible]	7 45	2 45	Pulaski	10 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	4 10
10 [illegible]	7 39	2 22	Homer	10 [illegible]	9 [illegible]	4 [illegible]
[illegible]	7 01	2 05	Litchfield	11 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	5 [illegible]
9 30	6 40	1 50	Marshall	11 [illegible]	10 [illegible]	6 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

CLINTON PAGE

DETROIT

WE WANT

YOUR TRADE.

WRIGHT, KAY & CO.

140 Woodward Ave.,

$1000

Forfeit if not Havana Filler.

5¢ CLAM CIGAR

A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE

FOR 5 CENTS.

RETAIL AT

R. MORRISON'S.

B. F. STEINHOFF'S

Dental Rooms.

GAS FOR EXTRACTING.

CATARRH

HAY-FEVER

ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

NO DOGS ALLOWED HERE

QUEEN ANNE SOAP WRAPPERS

UNRIVALED ORGANS

UPRIGHT PIANOS.

MERON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.

Boston, New York, Chicago.

MONEY

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION

YOU

Better THE Best

WE

Have

ALL SIZES of

Jewel Stoves & Stock

FOR BURNING

Soft Coal, Hard Coal or Wood, in Either

HEATING or COOKS.

Call and get our Prices before buying.

WHITENACK, BORDINE & CO.

Hurrah for CLINTON.

Let other towns cry "hard times,"
hard times, we never hear that expression
in CLINTON.

Always plenty to eat and plenty to wear, especially the latter, which is sold so cheap as to astonish the natives.

MC COLLUM

Don't Fail to Call on

J. E. Mc COLLUM,

THE CLOTHIER, CLINTON, MICHIGAN.

9 3

NEW STYLES ELEGANT UPRIGHT

Clough and Warren and Estey

ORGANS, PIANOS,

JUST SOLD BY

B. J. COLLER

At his Palace of Music. Purchasers of Organs are

PURCHASERS OF PIANOS.

B. J. COLLER, Adrian, Mich.

OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE.

Father, Mother, Brother, and Sister.

MAKE THEM HAPPY.

Our Stock of HOLIDAY Goods is Received.

Call and See how Cheap you can Buy a beautiful

CHRISTMAS PRESENT

AT

KINNEY'S

Furniture Store.

The Tecumseh Herald.

VOL. XXXVII.—NO 28. TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, THURSDAY MORNING DEC 16, 1886 WHOLE NO. 1875

CLOAKS! CLOAKS!

OVER 500

To select from. LATEST STYLES.

SHORT WRAPS.
NEWMARKETS.
PLUSH SACQUES.
JACKETS.

Misses and Children. ALL SIZES.

All marked at lowest possible prices.
Any Cloak a Bargain.
We are glad to show them.

A constant throng of customers in our store is positive evidence that our goods and prices are right. Our stock was never so complete. Prices never so low. WE ARE NEARLY SOLD OUT.

W. & S. W. Anderson & Co's.

COME AND SEE OUR

Men's Overcoats,
Boy's Overcoats,
Children's Overcoats,

COME AND SEE OUR

MEN'S SUITS,
BOY'S SUITS,
CHILDREN'S SUITS.

We can show a larger assortment and give lower prices than can be found anywhere. Underwear, Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods in endless variety, style and quality.

STRONG & McNAIR.

NEW BEDROOM SUITS PARLOR SUITS!

Patent Rockers, Reed Rockers, New Couches,

And a big stock of Fine and Medium

FURNITURE!

Come all who are in want of good Furniture to look through my rooms and examine goods and notice the low prices. Remember, I have not moved back, but still occupy the largest store on the street for the last 13 years. You are told I don't enjoy the business for want of room. THAT IS SO.

Undertaking a Specialty!

Best Coffs, Best Cards, and all kinds of coffs promptly attended to. New styles of Caskets in stock, and something entirely new for the times. They are covered with sheep skin, sand-papered and polished. Are very appropriate for old men who went in business after wood and went out shorn.

WM. McCOWEN.

THE OHIO & MICH. COAL & MFG. CO.,

TECUMSEH, MICH.

Are prepared to make prompt deliveries of best grades of Coal, in lots of $1.00 and upwards.

Hard Coal, all sizes in Stock.

Jackson Hill--Springfield Mine,
Jackson Hill Cannell.

All our coal is carefully screened and we sell at the lowest market price. Give us our orders promptly delivered. Solicit your patronage.

Office and Yards Shawnee St., near L. S. Depot.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

RIDGEWAY RAMBLES.

The late rain is very acceptable, as some wells were getting quite low.

The scales have been repaired and placed in position, Tuesday.

Kurt Nichol's roller feed mill is in running order. The grinder is one of the best in use, and does superior work. He grinds for 10c. per bag, for clear grain or sets, for mixed grain, and guarantees satisfaction.

Ed. Harrison has purchased half in Geo. W. Smith's meat market. Ed. please accept our best wishes for we are onto your scheme.

Dr. D. W. Loree went to Toledo on business, Tuesday.

Will Howe of Jackson spent Monday evening with W. H. Arner and family.

Will Afton is with agent Allen, his brother, at Tecumseh, assisting him at present.

As the attendance was rather small at the meeting called Friday evening, at Cottage Hall, for the purpose of electing officers for the Literary, they adjourned sine die.

The L. C. S. will give a musical entertainment at the home of Samuel Rappleye on Friday evening of this week, and respectfully invite all to be present.

The Hall was filled on Saturday evening to hear Walter Thomas Mills, the little giant. Without a doubt Mr. Mills is one of the ablest speakers before the American people to day and his heart and soul are in his work.

Augustus Miller, who lives east of Britton a mile and a half, went home from the village of Britton Monday evening apparently in good health and after eating supper died within a short time. He was a son of Oliver Miller, one of the early settlers of our village. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the Christian church at Britton, Rev. James Wright, officiating. The remains were interred in the cemetery near our village.

Notwithstanding the stormy night, the attendance was very encouraging at the Parlor entertainment given at Mrs. A. J. Sutton's on Tuesday night by the W. C. T. U. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Sarah Rappleye, and opened by singing America, by the society, followed by devotional exercises.

Recitation—Leola Sutton.

Reading—Mrs. Sarah Pocklington.

Declamation—Master Elmer Pocklington.

Recitation—"Only a Bartender" Belle Barlow.

Reading of the minutes and singing, after which the society adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. D. W. Loree next week Tuesday afternoon.

At a public meeting held in Cottage Hall, Ridgeway, Dec. 11th to consider the proposition of Mr. Rufus T. Bush of Brooklyn, N. Y., to build and completely equip a reading room and library at his own expense and present as a free gift to the people of Ridgeway and surrounding country, to be known as the Jonathan Hall Memorial Library Hall.

Chairman—Samuel Rappleye.
Secretary—R. H. Nelson.

Com. on Resolutions—D. W. Loree, G. P. Waring, Justus Lowe, T. H. Temple.

Com. to receive sealed proposals for site—Warren Jones, W. F. Wilson, Frank Tenipe.

Soliciting Com. for Membership—Frank Davidson, Warren Holdridge, Mary Osgood, Joe Osborn, Albert Palmer, Mrs. Frank Clarkson, Leonidas Palmer, Mark Mills, R. H. Nelson, D. W. Loree, G. P. Waring, John VanVoorhis, S. P. Smith, C. L. Lowe, H. J. Williams, J. D. Arner, H. C. Wilson, Miss Minnie Morrell, A. E. Faslick, F. J. Temple, Samuel Knifin, Rev. James Wright, Justus Lowe.

120 persons gave their names for membership.

The committee reported the following resolutions which were adopted.

WHEREAS, Mr. Rufus T. Bush having disclosed to us a plan which he has had under consideration for three years or more, and which if carried out, will be sure prove itself an important factor, together with our church and school, in elevating the tone of society and act as a great educational aid, particularly to the rising generation, therefore RESOLVED, That we, the citizens of Ridgeway and surrounding country here assembled, do concur with Mr. Bush in his opinion as to the result of so important an undertaking which he has in mind to carry out for the benefit of this present and future generations.

RESOLVED, That we do the more HEARTILY concur in this movement, since Mr. Bush proposes so generously to carry out this work entirely at his own expense, and at so trifling an effort on our part.

RESOLVED, That we proceed to place ourselves on record as being fully alive to the importance of securing so valuable an institution in our midst which will not only greatly increase the material wealth and property of our town, but which in its wider influence will reach out to every heart and sphere in every home in all the region for many generations and probably through all coming time.

RESOLVED, That a committee be appointed whose duty it shall be to draw up a constitution, organize by laws, and who attend to good faith to become members of an association to be known as the "Hall Library Association," and to which the proposed valuable property, when completed, may be presented by Mr. Bush.

RESOLVED, That we give a vote of thanks to Mr. Bush for his public generous proposition to confer upon us so lasting and important a benefit, which must prove not only a mental and moral educator, but which under the combined and sanctified influence of the home and church will no doubt be the means of helping many immortal souls onto the blessed experience of a Christian life.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to Mr. Bush as an assurance from the people that they are in hearty accord with him in this movement, that they highly appreciate the honor and lasting benefits he would confer upon them, and that they do most earnestly and devoutly pray for the fulfilment of his desire.

RESOLVED, That we adjourn until This day evening, Dec. 28th, at which time we will meet for permanent organization in the M. E. church at Ridgeway.

BROOKLYN BALLAST.

"Good, a getting up stairs" was reversed by Henry Cash Friday afternoon. He dropped down the elevator steps at a bounce, and as the distance is twenty feet, is considered lucky to be back on hand yet awhile tumbling to rackets have been far too numerous here this fall, and results serious. Mr. Langford's sudden death at the Cosmopolitan, and Herbert Blair's of Napoleon will not soon be forgotten.

Runaway horses, trees and Saturday matinees, have contributed a fair assortment of bites, bruises and breaks, and now the loss venturesome are having a quiet game of scarlet fever. Among minor calamities may be reckoned prolonged weddings and Toboggan slides, due the former, Manchester and other villages hold surplus tickets.

The trouble with the domestic wine that has supplanted whiskey in Atlanta is its procrastination. It puts off until to-morrow the drunk it should bring to-day. Few things were quicker on the trigger than the whiskey with which Atlanta was wont to whoop herself up. It had you drunk with promptness and exactness. The domestic wine, on the other hand, is uncertain. "You don't know when to take it on," said a moderate drinker "if you had up on Saturday it's just as apt as not to tangle you up in church on Sunday. I comprehended a bottle the other day, and went to dine with my wife's mother the next day. Don't you think the bad thing took hold of me right there, and I had to prop myself to keep from sliding under the table. When a man loads up with this domestic wine he ought not to make an engagement until it has had its drunk out. It may want a week, but it is dead sure to trip you before it gives up."—Atlanta Constitution.

Auction Sales.

The undersigned will sell at Auction at Grange Hall, Onsted, on Thursday, Dec. 23, 1886, at 12 M. sharp, the following property: Six secretary book cases, ash and walnut, four Secretaries with 2 book shelves on top, ash and walnut; 3 small desks with one book shelf on top, ash and walnut; wind mills, two bureaus, extension and center tables, book racks, wall brackets, comb cases, etc. The above is all new and made of thoroughly seasoned material, finished only finished with French walnut and butternut burr veneer, and latest styles of handles. Splendid chance to secure good furniture on easy terms. Terms of sale—All sums of $5 and less, cash, all sums over $5, 10 months credit without interest on good endorsed notes. Interest will be charged on all notes after maturity. A liberal discount for cash on all sums over $5.00. R. Caldwell, Ben Reynolds, Auctioneer. Frank D. Avery, Clerk.

The undersigned, executor of the estate of Ira Rogers, deceased, will sell at Auction on the old homestead, farm three miles south of Springville, on Tuesday, Dec. 21st, 1886, at 12 M. sharp, the following property: bay horse 8 years old, two mares, one 2 yr. old colt, two 2 yr. old heifers, 2 calves, 20 sheep, 1½ tons of hay, mower and reaper, Lumber wagon, fanning mill, three cows, sulky hay rake, 2 horse buggy, single buggy, 225 bushels corn in the ear, cutter, Single harness, set of light double harness, horse hay fork, rope and pulleys 3 yearling steers, two set double harness, set bobsleighs, 4 plows, 2 cultivators, road scraper, land roller, two square drags, ash lumber, platform scales, 20 chickens, barrel cider, 40 gallons of vinegar, barrel cider, two pork barrels, wheat on the ground. Terms of sale—All sums of $5 and less, cash; all sums over $5 10 months credit with good approved notes at 7 per cent. interest. Robert L. Rogers, Executor. Ben Reynolds, auctioneer.

A man recently backed pay a round sum for a square meal.

THE LONE STAR STATE

Bacon Tex., Dec. 9, 1886.

Editor Herald: Sunday morning I left Highsaw for Austin, where Bonney Frank Mills, Sheridan Crawford and myself intend to locate. Austin is the latest in Texas, we have great hopes of it, which may be or Quarry to ponder, if you think it worth a place in your paper. I will give you a few items of my travels.

Leaving Austin on the morning train, I soon found myself in Lockhart, a town of about 1500 inhabitants, and a very pretty place. Here I changed cars for San Marcos, a town of about 2000 inhabitants, and a very pretty place. Here I changed cars for San Antonio. Leaving San Marcos we passed over a very fine country, mostly prairie, with a few groves of timber, and a very fertile soil. The farmers are just beginning to plow for wheat, which they sow in the fall, and it is now about two inches high. Cotton is the principal crop, and is now being picked. The yield is very heavy, some fields will average a bale to the acre. Corn is also a heavy crop. Stock of all kinds do well here, the cattle feeding on the prairie grass the year round. Sheep are also a profitable investment, as they need no care except a herder to keep them from straying. Land can be purchased in Medina county (this county) for from $1 to $5 per acre, the latter price being for land within 3 miles of a town. Land in Atascosa county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Frio county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Uvalde county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Medina county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Bexar county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Kerr county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Gillespie county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Kimble county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Mason county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Llano county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Burnet county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Williamson county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Bell county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Coryell county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in McLennan county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Bosque county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Hamilton county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Coleman county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Brown county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Callahan county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Eastland county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Erath county can be purchased for from 50c to $1 per acre. Land in Comanche

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
Issued Every Thursday Morning
BY N. C. STACY.

THE MARSH QUESTION.

The Verdict Unanimous.

Chronic Catarrh
Catarrh in the Head

Hood's Sarsaparilla
100 Doses One Dollar 100 Doses One Dollar.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

Special Offer!

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

IT WILL COST YOU NOTHING TO
PLEASE THE BOY
--AN ELEGANT SLED--
Presented with each Boys and Children's Suits Sold.

SCOTT'S
EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
THE ONLY PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL that can be taken easily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.
AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.
Prepared and for sale by all Druggists in the Universe of the World.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Parents, Make your Boy Happy.
We have a tremendous stock of Boy's and Children's SUITS AND OVERCOATS!
Elegant Suits in all Styles and Qualities. ONE PRICE.
WOOD, CRANE & WOOD'S
ADRIAN, MICH.

SCROFULA

Humors.

Erysipelas.

Canker and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

TEMPLE, McCLURE & CO.,

Wolcott, Temple & Co.,
Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash and Doors
AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL
Planing, Sawing, Matching to Order.
Mill and Yard North of Depot and Depot
TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN.

WARNER BRO'S
CORSETS
THE MOST POPULAR CORSETS EVER INTRODUCED.
$10.00 REWARD
For Sale by all Leading Merchants.
WARNER BROS. CHICAGO.

Toledo Business College.

ROCKFORD WATCHES THE BEST

WEATHERLY'S MICHIGAN CATARRH REMEDY.
HAZELTINE & PERKINS DRUG CO., Sole Props., Grand Rapids, Mich.

arrh
Head arilla
One Dollar.
S EACH.
NG TO BOY
D-- dren's Suits
y Happy. k of DATS!
CHINA HALL
NE PRICE.
OD'S
I.
& CO.,
Co.,
and Doors
to Order.
ct
AN.
ollege.
ATCHES
THE REMEDY.

Tecumseh Herald

TECUMSEH, MICH., DEC. 9, 1886.

DAUGHY'S COLUMN.

THE NEW QUININE

Kaskine

WHAT THE

PHYSICIANS

Rheumatism

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY,

Liver, Lung and Kidney Disease.

DEAFNESS

Please Don't Forget It,

Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility,

CURE FOR THE DEAF

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

HINDERCORNS

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Va.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Grand Central.

You can always find at the

Grand Central Supply

STORE

HENRY McCLURE,

The Largest and Best Selected Stock of

Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, etc.

IN TECUMSEH.

Teas a Specialty!

Canned Fruits of all Kinds.

HENRY McCLURE, Chicago st. Tecumseh, Mich.

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted 1886 by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

The grocery business of Mr. Rossommon, although it adjoined and sold liquor to the village saloon, was not a flourishing or even existent feature of the profession. The refilling of the pork and flour barrels of the average miners was the work of a brief hour on Saturday nights, but the daily replenishment of the average miner was a matter of some moments and pennies. Less than a quarter, more than a dime, was the average expenditure. Add to this the fact that a long shed-like extension or wing, across the legend, "Cosmopolitan Hotel, Board by the Day or Week," Mr. Rossommon, and you get an idea of the variety of the proprietor's functions. The "hotel," however, was more directly under the charge of Mrs. Rossommon, a lady of thirty years, strong, truculent and good-looking.

Mr. Rossommon had early adapted the theory that most of his customers were in some, and most of them in any, trouble, disabled or pleasured to excess might be. Nothing that occurred, no extravagance of speech nor act, ever ruffled his equilibrium, which was as dogged and stubborn as it was outwardly calm. When not serving liquor, or in the interval while it was being drunk, he was always wiping his counter with an exceedingly dirty towel—or indeed anything that came handy. Miners, noticing this purely perfunctory habit, occasionally supplied him with articles inconsistent with their service—fragments of their shirts and underclothing, flour sacking, tow, and even with a flounced petticoat of his wife's stolen from the line in the back yard. Rossommon would continue his wiping without taking any of the proffered rags, or the presence of such customer. "And it's not another drop yer'll get, Jack Brown, until yer've wiped out the black—some that stands agin ye." "And it's there yer are, darlint, and it's here's the bottle that's been taken for ye this Saturday." "And fwhat her yer done with the last I sent ye, ye divil? of a Mt. Gosey, and there's me ta kitchen busy entirely and dipping in the pork barl to give ye the best sides, and ye spending yer hard cint on a lage into Gilroy. Wha?" and it's for forgetting ye are, boys, there's yer elegant bit of Sal lies yet the cupboard, and it may be made up and cooked with a speck and be social?"

On the particular day, however, Mr. Rossommon was not in the mood for any such jests. The clatter of horses' hoofs in front of the door announced the approach of strangers, he solemnly ceased wiping his counter and looked up as Dr. Guild, the president and secretary of the new company strode into the shop.

"We are looking," said the president, "for a man by the name of Wiles, and three Mexicans known as Pedro, Manuel and Miguel."

"Ye are."

"We are."

"Fury, and I hope ye'll find 'em. And if ye'll git from em the same I've got agin 'em, darlint, I'll add a blessing to it."

There was a laugh at this from the bystanders, who, somehow, resented the intrusion of these strangers.

"I hear you will find it a laughing matter, gentlemen," said Dr. Guild, a little stiffly, "when I tell you that a murder has been committed, and the men I am seeking within an hour of the murder put up that notice signed by their names," and Dr. Guild displayed the paper.

The smile was extinguished even among the drowsy loafers who lounged around the door. Even Rossommon ceased to wipe his counter.

"You [illegible] that the name of Pete appears [illegible] on the paper as one of the men?"

"And I do, darlint," said the Irishwoman with a sudden [illegible] "if you've no better reason agin them than that, sure you have to arrest me, for I'm a-willing to be riding to wance. For it's meself as hasn't stirred but out of the store the day and night—more betoken as the boy Pete can testify."

"That's so. Rose's right," chuckled the crowd. "We've been running the old man all night."

"Then how comes your name on this paper?"

"O murther! will ye listen to him, boys? As if every feller that owed me a whisky bill didn't come to me and say: 'An, Mather Rossommon,' or 'Moike,' as the case might be, 'sure it's an illighant strike I've made this day, and it's meself that has put down your name as an original locater, and yer fortune's made Mr. Rossommon, and will yer fill me up another quart for the good luck before you and me. Ah, but ask Jack Brown over yan if it isn't sick that I am of his original locations."

The laugh that followed this speech, and its good-humored application, convinced the party that they had blundered. Had they sought out any clew to the real culprits here, and that any attempt by threats would meet violent opposition. Nevertheless the doctor was persistent:

"When did you see these men last?"

"When did I see them last, Jack, or when [illegible]

[illegible] to whom the whole proceeding [illegible]

[illegible] that they were in Monterey, but [illegible] that they had passed through this morning, and that they had passed through here at daylight."

With these words [illegible] the door, and [illegible] the door, [illegible] the door, [illegible] the door,

TEMPERANCE COLUMN

LINE FLASHES

SELF-CONTROL REQUIRED.

MARRIED

Harper's Magazine!

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS.

$1.50 WILL BUY $4.00

A Dollar Paper, and a Three Dollar Book, for One Dollar and a Half.

The Toledo Bee

AND THIS BOOK
FOR ONLY $1.50
Without the Book $1.00

THE WEEKLY BEE is a large eight page newspaper filled with the choicest reading matter, the latest news, reliable market, every department is filled with the cream of the day. The paper is improving with age and is the best general Weekly newspaper published in Northern Ohio. It does not claim to be the largest paper, but that should always be taken as supplanting the home news paper and keeping the farmer and non-resident family paper which will be interesting and useful. Send for a sample copy. Agents wanted in every township at lowest. Special inducements offered. Better than any other paper.

The Bee's Premium Book contains 544 pages, [illegible] a valuable library, and is a [illegible] remedy in [illegible] Price $1.50. Every family should have it.

Write for particulars. Address

THE WEEKLY BEE
Toledo Ohio

MOST PERFECT MADE

Dollar Best

Buy Useful Christmas
PRESENTS.

Holiday Goods!

Gent's Neckwear, Suspenders, Hosiery, Silk and Linen Handkerchiefs, Mufflers, Underwear, Gloves and Mittens.

Gent's Fur Caps, Kid Gloves and Mittens.

KIES BROS.

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS.

The Utica Palace King

THE SUPERIOR OF ALL FURNACES.

Steel Radiators, Enameled Fire Pots.

Estimates Promptly Furnished.

When in want of a heating or cook stove, do not forget THE GARLAND.

They also have ALL the essential qualities necessary to perfect success. THE ROUND OAK still leads notwithstanding the numberless inferior imitations.

SATTERTHWAITE BROS. & BOYD.

F. R. STEBBINS,
FURNITURE!
Carpets, Crockery, &c.

The largest Assortment of Cook and Stoves, Dining and Parlor Stoves ever shown in Adrian. Decorated Tea Sets, Bronze Tables, Large Chamber Sets and Hanging Lamps in large variety at very low prices.

Some Very Fine Plush Parlor Suits!

Bedroom Suits in Birch, Oak, Antique Finish, Cherry and Walnut.

Dining Room Furniture!

In Oak, Cherry and Walnut. Bureaus, Wardrobes and Dressing

CARPETS.

Rugs, Oil Cloths, Lace Curtains and Window Shades.

Call and SEE OUR LARGE STOCK.

Affix our Prices. We want you to see the goods, whether you wish to buy or not.

F. R. STEBBINS, Adrian.

Our Latest
GREAT REDUCTIONS
For the Holidays.

ESTEY

CLOCKS & WATCHES REPAIRED
AT THE ADRIAN BOOK STORE
F. J. COLLER.
ADRIAN, MICH.

The Tecumseh Herald.

DECEMBER. HOLIDAY SUPPLEMENT. 1886

DO YOU WANT TO

FIND THE PLACE

WHERE THE

Largest Amount of Goods

CAN BE BOUGHT

With the Smallest Amount of Money?

Call AT

CAINSLEY'S!

A late and advantageous purchase of an entire

NEW STOCK

OF

Dry Goods, Notions, Shawls, and Skirts,

Ladies', Gent's Boys', Misses' and Children's UNDERWEAR.

